

Students Join Drive As Tempo Quickens

Student participation in the current McPherson College Development Program will be kicked off tomorrow at 9:35 a.m. in Brown Auditorium during convocations through an official explanation of the program by Bob Thielmann, Jr., Champaign, Ill., student chairman, Dr. J. Jack Melhorn, president, and Mr. Frank Henwood, head of the development campaign.

Explanation will center around procedure and necessity for attaining the $10,000 student goal set last November by the student planning committee.

After the program tomorrow, the briefing and kickoff dinner for senior volunteers and workers will be held Tuesday, March 1, in the private dining room at 6 p.m., with Bob Thielmann and Mr. Henwood in charge.

March 8 at 6 p.m. will be the time for the kickoff of the Junior class campaign with student workers meeting for dinner with Bob and Mr. Henwood in the private dining room.

Sophomores will start their drive with a dinner meeting for all workers, March 15 at 6 p.m. in the private dining room.

Student workers will be contacted after the meeting in convocations tomorrow.

After the spring break, the freshman drive will begin on April 28. A special indoctrinational program will be held for freshmen prior to spring break on March 30 to further acquaint them with the development program.

With this organizational pattern, the student body hopes to reach its projected goal of $10,000 for the college.

To initiate the Kansas sector of the total National Alumni Phase of MacCollege's long range financial campaign, 13 alumni met with campus and campaign administrators last weekend, Feb. 18-19.

Purpose of the meeting was to inform the alumni of the total campaign plans and to determine the additional leadership needed in each person's representative geographical area.

These men and the additional people who will be helping them will seek to secure three-year pledges. The total National Alumni Phase has a goal of $375,000.

Local alumni will hold two meetings for briefing on their portion of the development drive. March 2 and 9 will be the dates for alumni leaders, with the kickoff date for the local drive being March 16.

Kenneth Yingst, Director of Development will visit 16 counties in Southeast Kansas contacting alumni, on March 7.

Dr. Melhorn will leave March 7 for a week or more trip to southern and northern California, Nampa, Idaho, Denver and Colorado Springs, Colo.

Visitation to areas in Missouri and Idaho will be initiated by Paul Wagoner, alumni representative, continuing March 29-April 4.

Further campaign plans and results from the student campaign will be reported as soon as they are available.

Enrollment Rises To 776 Students

Second semester enrollment at McPherson College has risen to a total of 776 students, including 101 new and returning students.

Dean Reynolds, registrar, said the enrollment contains 210 more men than women students, with respective totals of 493 and 283.

Enrollment figures are 17 per cent above statistics second semester of the 1964-65 academic year. Full time students number 693, with 71 part-time students. At the same time last year, there were 592 full time students and 63 specials, for a total of 655.

These statistics correct those appearing in the Feb. 10 issue of the Spectator.

Les Wilson to Work With Wichita Company

Les Wilson, assistant in buildings and grounds, is leaving McPherson College to work with Delta Electric, a firm in Wichita.

Wilson, a 1963 graduate of McPherson College, has been working here on campus since his graduation.

Russia Expert To Lecture

With a background of contact with Russian people from Josef Stalin to collective farm workers, Eddy Gilmore, Associated Press correspondent, will present the final Cultural Series program Feb. 26, at 8:00 p.m. in Brown Auditorium.

World traveler and lecturer Gilmore has handled assignments throughout the continent of Europe from his London base. Gilmore, native of Alabama, began work with the Associated Press in 1935. His coverage of world news events has taken him to the crisis-ridden settings of Geneva conferences and the splendor of Grace Kelly and Prince Rainier's wedding in Monaco.

Having spent twelve years in Russia as a Moscow Bureau chief, Gilmore has pursued his interest of the country in subsequent visits. He is married to a Russian ballerina.

Also an author, Gilmore deals with life in Russia in his latest book "After the Cossacks Burned Down the 'Y'."

Gilmore's receipt of the Pulitzer Prize in 1947 occurred because of his interview with Josef Stalin during the Big Four talks that followed World War II.

A noon luncheon Saturday, Feb. 26, is being planned with Gilmore in the east end of the cafeteria in the Student Union. Students interested in hearing him are invited to eat there.

Board to Talk Development Policy Shifts

McPherson College Trustees will meet with the faculty for a dinner Thursday, March 3, at 7:15 p.m. After the meal, J. Jack Melhorn, McPherson College president, will deliver the President's Annual Report.

In his speech, Dr. Melhorn will report on and point out future development plans for McPherson College. The 21 trustees will continue their meeting on Friday and hope to conclude Saturday noon.

Junior Hendricks, sr., Kingsley, Iowa, student body president, will report to the trustees on what the student council has accomplished during the past year.

Hendricks will also recommend that a student-operated snack bar be opened and that the student council allotment be raised from the present $5.50 to $6.50, which would be included in the tuition.

Out of this extra dollar, 25 cents would go directly to the social committee and 75 cents would go into a student reserve fund, to get more social life on the MacCollege campus.

Other topics to be discussed by the trustees will be items about the development of the college, a revision of faculty salaries and schedules and general aims and goals of MacCollege during the next 15 years.

Several new trustees will be seated during the meeting and consideration will be given to persons worthy of recognition by the college for outstanding service.

Churches to Observe World Day of Prayer

Services commemorating World Day of Prayer will feature a program prepared by the United Church Women of Scotland tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. in the McPherson Church of the Brethren.

In communities all over the world similar services sponsored by the United Church Women, an interdenominational lay organization, will take place Friday.

Combined offerings received from Friday's services will be given to the Indian-migrant ministry and to 12 colleges in Asia and Africa to be used in training religious and professional leaders on those continents.

Petitions to Be Available March 1 at Stuco Office

Petitions for students interested in running for elected student government positions for the 1966-67 school year will be available Tuesday, March 1 in the Student Council office or from president Junior Hendricks, sr., Kingsley, Iowa.

The office will be open from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m. weekdays and from 5-6 p.m. Thursday and Friday.

Petitions containing 50 valid signatures of members of the student body are required to nominate candidates for Student Council president, vice-president, treasurer, secretary and Student Court Chairman.

Student Council members at large, cheerleaders and student court members not previously nominated by their respective classes will also need 50 signatures.

Petitions containing 25 valid signatures of members of the appropriate class are required to nominate candidates for Stuco class representatives.

The person running for office must obtain his own petition and return the signed petition to Junior Hendricks Monday, March 7, by 6 p.m.

Each student body member may sign only one petition for president, vice-president, treasurer, secretary and student court chairman. They may sign two petitions for class representative, four for student council representative at large and five for cheerleader.

Further campaign information will be given each potential candidate as they are issued their petitions.

President Hendricks urges the student body to comply with the above procedures in order not to invalidate a candidate.

"We hope that by beginning the campaign earlier than usual we will instill more involved student body interest in student government. The campaign will be lengthened by one week to include reforms in election procedure and the addition of an elected vice president and secretary."

Tentative election date is March 25.

Mac Grad, Staats, Is U.S. Comptroller General

Elmer B. Staats, McPherson College graduate, class of '35, was selected by President Johnson to be comptroller general of the United States during appointments made Feb. 10.

As comptroller general, Staats will run the general accounting office, the watchdog of Congress on all government expenditures. Staats, 51, joined the budget bureau in 1939 and has moved steadily upward through several positions. Before joining the Federal Government, he was with the Kansas legislative council in Topeka.

Staats is married and has 3 children.

After attending McPherson, Staats went to the University of Kansas for his M.A. in political science and economics. In 1939 he received his doctorate from the University of Minnesota in political science.

A recent article in the "Washington Post" states, "Elmer B. Staats, because of his long and distinguished career in the Budget Bureau, probably knows

Rural Life Classes Serve Community While Learning

Wichita's Terminal Market and Meat Packing Plant Feb. 18 was the site of the annual Barrow show, where members of the Judging and Selection of Livestock class represented McPherson College.

Fifteen members of the livestock judging class attended the fifteenth annual Wichita Barrow Show last Friday, Feb. 18. Students participated in the producers grading contest which consists of placing animals on the basis of USDA slaughter grade.

Eight places were awarded prizes in the producers grading contest with four of the eight prizes going to McPherson College.

Jerry McReynolds, fr., Woodston, was first; Harvey Leightner, soph., Perryton, Texas, was fourth.

Richard Martin, soph., Sterling, Ohio, Keith Hummel, soph., New Paris, Indiana, and Jon Warner, sr., McPherson, tied for sixth place and received sixth, eighth and ninth places respectively when the tie was broken on the basis of estimated weight of contest animals.

Dr. John Ward, professor of agriculture and rural life and dean of men, heads the Agriculture Department, which plays an important role in McPherson County.

Besides participating in educational field trips, agriculture classes assist in the testing of all McPherson County soils. Each sample of soil is given four tests, one each for organic matter, phosphorus, potassium and acidity.

Enrolled in agriculture classes this semester are 88 students. Five are seniors who will graduate this spring with majors in agriculture.

They are Stan Hoover, Plattsburg, Mo.; Jon Warner, McPherson; Larry Andrews, McPherson; Lee Miller, Waterloo, Iowa; and Bob Shank, Fayetteville, W. Va.

Involvement Shows Concern

Student election procedure starts next Tuesday, and the initial phase of student participation in the development program begins tomorrow, and in these two ways, the students of McPherson College will be able to demonstrate what type of school they want to attend.

If the student body feels they want McPherson College to become an institution known for its excellence in both academic and extra-curricular affairs, they will give their time and actively support a working student government in the upcoming elections.

Likewise, monetary support toward the physical development of the college and an increase and improvement in faculty and staff, will show that the McPherson College student body is concerned about the future of this college.

Sincere student involvement in these two areas this coming month can provide the needed impetus to insure that all students in the future will be attending a college noted for its excellence in all areas.

The rate of student participation now can determine the rate of achievement, growth and excellence this college attains in the future.

Social Committee Grapples With Scheduling Functions

Chosen by the Student Council from the student body every spring the Social Committee yearly grapples with the rewarding and frustrating task of initiating, planning and assisting with campus social functions.

Financed by an allotment from Stuco the Social Committee sponsors the Homecoming Dance and the winter and spring Formals, and subsidizes most informal dances on campus. In addition, it schedules and shows the weekend movies.

One of its present duties is choosing committees to plan the Spring Formal to be held March 19. Judy Harris, jr., McPherson, has been selected general chairman.

Currently the Social Committee is sponsoring the snooker tournament, and recently installed the campus bulletin board in the Student Union lounge which lists coming student activities.

To the members of the Social Committee budgeting presents a difficult problem in how to finance interesting and varied social activities for 776 students on $600 per semester.

Even though a dollar donation was required to attend the Winter Formal, in an effort to subsidize the dance's expenses, the committee started second semester with a $50 deficit.

Student discontent with the limited scope of the social events on campus has been expressed in recent letters to the Spectator, but the majority remains unvoiced except in griping sessions.

Aware of student criticism of the Social Committee Bob Snider, sr., St. Louis, Mo., chairman, comments, "Any organization that does something for the student body is going to be criticized. That is one of the things we have to expect."

"But when students have a complaint they should write to Social Committee, explain their complaint and offer constructive suggestions."

Snider emphasizes strongly the need for greater student participation in bringing creative ideas for social events to the committee.

"Students have to be involved in this. A committee of eight can't be expected to do it without help from the student body," he states.

Members who were chosen by Stuco last spring are Lynn Christy, sr., McPherson; Beth Brumbaugh, sr., Fruita, Colo.; Jerry Barrows, sr., Waterloo, Iowa; Sylvia Albright, sr., Dallas Center, Iowa; and Snider.

Jody Duffy, fr., Abilene; Jeanette Hall, jr., New Enterprise, Pa.; and David Hiebert, fr., McPherson were selected last Student opinion expressed through letters to the editor is necessary and good for any college newspaper. Without opinions from students, there would be very little controversial food for intellectual stimulation outside the classroom.

Recently the editor was asked to withhold a letter criticizing Slater Food service, because it was felt by the manager of Slater Food service, that the opinion expressed in this letter would be detrimental to the student attitude toward the food service, and thus make it more difficult to maintain a smooth running program.

As an alternative to running this letter, it was suggested that this student, and all students in the future who have complaints about the food service,

NIH To Interview March 2 For Volunteer Controls

Mr. Delbert Nye, chief, Normal Volunteer patient program, National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, Md., will be on campus March 1 and 2 to address and interview candidates for the NIH Normal Volunteer Control Patient program.

On Tuesday, March 1, at 7 p.m. the film, "Serving By the Pools of Bethesda" will be shown to acquaint students with the NIH Normal Volunteer program. Mr. Nye will be present that evening to answer students' questions.

Interested students should arrange for an interview appointment with Mr Nye on Tuesday, March 2, through Mrs. Barchesky, at the office of the Dean of Academic Affairs.

The Normal Volunteer Program is an important part of clinical research into chronic illnesses at the institutes of health where it is necessary many times to determine what happens in a normal functioning body, before one can determine the effects of disease on the body.

NIH Volunteer Control patients in the summer program live at the hospital in Bethesda, just outside Washington, D. C., for a 90-day period. They are treated as normal hospital patients during their stay while they take part in medical experiments.

The volunteer's welfare is considered at all times and no dangerous drugs or bacteria are used, and no dangerous operations are performed on the patient.

Student study patients volunteer for a 90 day period between June and September. Volunteers between the ages of 18 and 30 may apply for an interview with Nye Tuesday.

If accepted, the volunteer would receive transportation to and from Washington, $4 per day while on the program, plus room, board, medical care and miscellaneous items.

The Brethren Service Commission, Church of the Brethren, sponsors this program on Brethren College campuses.

Many McPherson College students have participated in this program in the past including Bob Slater, sr. Denver, and Dave Heffley, sr., Texarkana, Texas.

Catalog Faces Partial Revision

Offices of the Dean, President and Registrar, as well as the faculty Curriculum Committee, are beginning work on a revision of the McPherson College Catalog.

The new catalog, to be available by Sept. 1, will carry general updating and correction. Changes such as those brought about by the college's transfer from a three-point system to a four-point system will be included.

This revision, however, will not constitute a complete rewriting of the publication.

follow the normal channels through the Foods Committee, or report directly to Mr. Ross Woodard.

This procedure is commendable if it will bring satisfactory results and answers to student problems.

If there seem to be no immediate answers or a problem cannot be resolved, a well-written letter in good taste, with suggestions, belongs in the Spectator to air the problem and bring it to the attention of those who can solve it. r.b.c.

Red Tape, Criticism Foil Social Committee Plans

Dear Editor: I have attended several meetings of the campus Social Committee and I have been amazed at some of the wonderful attempts that have been made to improve the social life on this campus.

This committee is spending a tremendous amount of time to provide McPherson College students with social activities but the committee has become discouraged by the students' attitudes toward this effort.

I have also noticed how much "red tape" one must go through in order to organize any campus activity, and I can understand why one would become discouraged.

Seldom does anyone thank the committee for the hours of work that are put in. There seem to be many people on this campus, students and faculty alike, who do not share any enthusiasm in organizing any campus activities.

Some students and faculty have the initiative and zeal to organize activities, but they have been hindered by the ignorance of a few.

The Social Committee has many splendid ideas and would like to make the campus "come alive," but the committee has been opposed in every attempt.

We cannot have McPherson High School students attend what few activities we have because the administration is afraid to have these students on campus, fearing the "damage" which may occur.

I hate to think of the damage that could be done to the McPherson College Museum which is open to the community. The Cat Canyon Singers were scheduled to perform at McPherson College, but the Social Committee was notified by the singers that the performance date could not be met.

The Social Committee was also notified by the administration that only McPherson College students would be permitted to attend the performance. If the singers had not changed their plans and if the performance had been open to the whole community, it would have created better relations between the town and college.

The Social Committee has attempted for the last three years to bring a "big name" group to our campus. When the committee locates a group to hire, so much red tape with the administration and criticism by the students has caused the committee to be literally exhausted.

Why must we remain so close-minded and uninterested on our campus? Why can't the Social Committee be given more liberty to create more and better activities on this campus?

If we expect to make some changes on this campus, we need more support, not just verbally, but the support of people who are willing to go out and do a little work!

Children Prompt Narrative Magic Of 007 Author

Ian Fleming, "Chitty-Chitty Bang Bang"

From Bond to children and Aston Martins to magical cars that fly and float the late Ian Fleming has turned out several books and this (for children) is just as imaginative and well written as the 007 series.

When Commander Caractacour Pott rescues a racing car from a junk heap, off starts the fun and illustrative lives of the Potts family.

Here is all the Fleming narrative magic, brilliant imagination and quick trips into the fields of salvaging, aeolian harps, gellignite (the insides of cars) which somehow do not interrupt so much as they illuminate the story.

This would be an ideal book for the younger set of children from about six to ten years. I even got a kick out of it.

Coaches Plan Spring Meets

Conference golf, tennis, track and baseball coaches and other athletic officials will meet Monday, Feb. 28 at Emporia.

Purpose of the meeting is to set up schedules for spring sports in the Kansas College Athletic Conference. Only three of the sports are offered at McPherson College: track, tennis and golf.

Don Widrig, assistant professor in physical education and head basketball coach, is also the head coach of the track team which placed seventh in the conference last year.

Sid Smith, director of athletics and head football coach, will coach the tennis team which placed third in the conference last year. Larry Evans, jr., Lincoln, Neb., is the only returning letterman.

Fourth in the conference last year, behfild Baker, College of Emporia, and Kansas Wesleyan University, the MacCollege golf team has a good possibility of being one of the top contenders for the conference title this year.

The team, with three returning lettermen — Gene Czaplinski, soph., McPherson; George Jones, jr., Canton; and Phil Grove, soph., Laurens, Iowa — will be coached by "Dutch" Uhrlaub, a retired McPherson school official and an outstanding senior golfer.

Spring sports will begin as soon as basketball season is over.

Women Cagers Compile Impressive 8-4 Record

In women's intercollegiate basketball competition this year the McPherson College women's varsity team has compiled an impressive record of 8 wins and 4 losses.

Varsity team members sparred Feb. 19 with Fort Hays State Teachers College, Hays in two games at MacCollege gym.

Barbara Westray, jr., Toms River, N. J., and Janet Rhinehart, jr., Brooklyn, Iowa, contributed 14 and 12 points respectively, to bring the final score of the first game to 40-36, a victory for MacCollege. Fort Hays won the second match 31-22.

At Emporia the varsity participated Feb. 12 in a Sportsday with 12 other Kansas colleges at Kansas State Teachers College.

Each school was placed in one of two leagues and matched with two different opponents in their league.

In the first round MacCollege defeated College of Emporia, 61-17 with Rhinehart scoring 25 points and Westray 10, and finished 3 points ahead of Sterling College in the second game.

Although Mac women emerged undefeated, University of Kansas, Lawrence, carried a higher point differential in combined scores and defeated Bethel College, Newton, in the final game to become the Sportsday champion.

The ten members of the team include Sally Shetler, fr., Marshalltown, Iowa; Lela Weddle, soph.; Bloom; Mary Johnson, soph.; Quinter; Delores Taylor, soph.; Bronx, N. Y.; Regina Fillmore, fr., Cushing, Okla.; Carolyn Dadisman, fr., Astoria, Ill.; and Sue Groff, fr., Salunga, Pa., in addition to Janet and Barbara.

"LLLaazzz — AAA — nia" and the game was on, and for the Bulldogs, it might just as well have been "Surr - end-errr"

The Swedes were ready to reverse the verdict they had suffered at Mac, and though the early lull in shooting kept the Bulldogs in the game, one got the feeling the Swedes could explode any time and turn the mastiffs into meatballs.

And what a turn they made — from a slim 39-34 lead at half, the Swedes burned through the hapless Bulldog defense for 54 points in the final stanza and a sweet victory.

We realized it was not going to be Mac's night, when in the hallway during the B-game, a conversation with Bethany mentor John Hickman, showed him to be more concerned with finding extra tickets than with the upcoming game.

He looked confident and cool — too cool for any coach to look before a McPherson - Bethany struggle. His wry grin epitomized confidence, almost to the point of cockiness and as we were to find later, confidence based on substantial reason.

His Swedes played a smart, heady, well-calculated ballgame, choosing to move the ball around the Bulldog zone early until they got hot, waiting for a chance to break the game open.

Harvey Daniels began to find the mark and slowly the Swedes built their lead, never allowing McPherson a chance to breathe, keeping pressure on at both ends of the court.

One of the key turning points in the ballgame came with the score 54-47, when McPherson sent in a "platoon" of five new men, all cold off the bench. By the time the starters returned, a bit cooled off, the score was 58-48 and Bethany had the momentum it needed to sew up the victory.

All was not dark for the Bulldog five, however.

John Smith, so, Independence, Calif., is slowly becoming a consistent threat on offense and in the Bethany game, he showed he could wheel and deal with the best of them.

KCAC Play Ends

Mac Scalps Friends In Overtime, 85-78

After leading most of the game against Friends Monday, McPherson had to catch the Falcons in the last minute to tie the game in regulation time, and then scored 11 points in the overtime, compared to 4 for the Falcons to win the game 85-78.

The Bulldogs built up a 4 point lead at halftime, mainly behind the 16 point first half performance of George Czaplinski. After the intermission the Bulldogs quickly widened the margin to 50-39. The Falcons then caught fire and tied the score at 61-61 with 8:57 remaining in the game.

Friends went on to take the lead at 69-67 with 4:16 remaining, and built that to a 4 point margin at 73-69 with 1:20 left. The Bulldogs then outscored the Falcons 5-1 from that point to tie the score at 74-74.

In the overtime period Czaplinski scored 4 and Dick Welch 3 to put the game on ice for the Bulldogs. Wayne Whitcomb scored all 4 of the Falcon points in the overtime period.

Bulldogs Drop 93-77 Match At Bethany

McPherson dropped its eighth conference game to the Bethany Swedes 93-77 on the home court of the Swedes, Saturday, Feb. 19.

Bethany came out with a press in the second half to break up a close game. The Swedes led by five 40-35 at halftime.

This game wrapped up second place in the KCAC for the Swedes and gave them a berth in the district 10 NAIA playoffs, along with conference champion College of Emporia, the champion of the CIC and St. Benedicts, the top independent of this district.

John Smith led the Bulldog scorers with 17 points, despite fouling out midway through the second half. George Czaplinski contributed 15 with Dick Welch adding 14 and Tom Worthing scoring 11. Gene Nilson came off the bench in the second half to score 8.

Leading all scorers was Harvey Daniels of Bethany with 30. His teammate Gary Harder also added 18.

George Czaplinski, no. 40, sr., McPherson, eludes Falcon defenders for two points to lead Mac scorers to victory last Monday.

George Czaplinski put on an excellent shooting performance to lead the Bulldog scorers with 26 points. In the well-balanced Bulldog attack, John Smith scored 17, Tom Worthing 16, Dick Welch 14 and Art Clark 9.

Keith Rucas, the leading scorer in the conference, also took scoring honors in this game with 27 points.

This game left the Bulldogs with a record of 8 wins and 9 losses in the conference with one game left to play.

Symphony Sets First Concert

The McPherson College Community orchestra will present its first concert Sunday, Feb. 27, at 3 p.m. in Brown Auditorium. Re-organized after several years of inactivity, the orchestra is conducted by Robert Jones, assistant professor of music.

Featured soloist in the Mozart Concerto No. 23 in A major for piano and orchestra will be Robert Edwards, assistant professor of piano and organ.

Prof. Edwards completed his undergraduate and Master's degree at Wichita State University. He was a scholarship recipient at Yale University Summer School of Music and Art during the summer of 1962.

He did doctoral study with Lillian Stueber at the University of Southern California during the summer of 1963.

In the first portion of the concert the orchestra will perform Bach's "Overture in B flat"; Liadov's "Russian Folk Songs"; and two movements of the "La Sultane Suite," written by Couperin and orchestrated by Darius Milhaud.

Mozart's Concerto No. 23 will conclude the concert following intermission.

Membership of the orchestra includes Macollege instructors, public school teachers, housewives, college students and public school students.

Although this is the first concert of the year for the orchestra, they have played with other groups.

'Kwai' Offers War Drama

Winner of 27 international awards and seven Academy Awards, "The Bridge on the River Kwai" will be shown tomorrow night in Brown Auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

Filmed in color in the jungles of Ceylon, "The Bridge on the River Kwai" concerns the inmates of a Japanese prison camp during the early days of World War II.

The prisoners, mostly British and American, are being forced to build a railway bridge over the Kwai. Because of the ruggedness of the surrounding terrain, the bridge is destined to be one of the most vital links in the Japanese supply lines.

Alec Guinness, named best actor of the year for his performance, portrays a captured British Army colonel whose stubborn courage and inner conflicts are highlights of the film. Sessue Hayakawa is terrifyingly realistic as the camp commandant, accustomed to always having his own way. Although both Guinness and Hayakawa possess dogmatic military minds, each has his own idea of surrender and defeat.

But, in spite of the bitter antagonism that is natural between mortal enemies, each soldier fosters a somewhat grudging mutual respect for the principles of the other.

William Holden, an American seaman who intends to survive the war one way or another, can neither understand nor accept this relationship between victor and vanquished. Fearing Guinness' definition of honor as much as Hayakawa's ruthlessness, he manages a desperate escape.

Because of his personal knowledge of the River Kwai situation, however, Holden is "drafted" to lead a squad of British commandoes in an attempt to destroy the vital span.

Projected Dorm Nears End of Preliminary Plans

Another step has been taken toward the beginning of the new men's residence hall. Last week, the house which sat in the southeast corner of the lot where Metzler Hall is located was moved.

This week, R. L. Archer, superintendent of the O'Mera-Chandler-Benson Corp., will be on campus to make arrangements for telephone lines and other facilities for the new hall. Final plans for the new dorm are expected to arrive sometime during this week.

Each floor of the new dorm will have its own lounge which will be divided into sections. Tables and chairs will be placed by the east and west windows of the lounge for those who like to play cards.

Other lounge furniture will be placed around the television. Vending machines will also be placed in the lounge on each floor.

Second and third floors will host typing rooms and every floor will accommodate a wash room, to contain two washing machines and a dryer.

Carpeted corridors and rooms will add to the quiet of the three-floor, 164 student capacity dorm. Two living compartments will be separated by a shower and a toilet.

Each room will contain a lavatory set into a walnut cabinet which will be placed in front of a mirror. Each 18' x 12' room will be living quarters for two students.

Different from the buzzer system which is used in the dorms now, will be the two-way intercom system allowing one to speak directly to the person working at the desk on the first floor.

This system will be more convenient, as it will not tie up telephone lines.

The air conditioned dorm of block construction will be financed with private funds in order that construction may begin as soon as possible.

Brass Quartet Heads for Iowa On Deputation

Leaving McPherson College March 6 for a week of touring in Iowa will be a brass quartet, composed of Dave Weimer, sr., Haxton, Colo., French horn; Tim Matthaal, jr., Wichita, trombone; Ed Robinson, soph., Garfield, tuba; and Ronald Achilles, sr., McPherson, trumpet.

Iowa Church of the Brethren congregations which will be visited are Council Bluffs, Mt. Etna, Panora, Stover Memorial (Des Moines), Maxwell, Iowa River (Marshalltown), Union Ridge, Garrison, and Cedar Rapids.

Presenting one-hour programs for several Iowa high schools will also occupy part of the brass quartet's time. Sacred music will be played for church services but more popular music will be played for high school programs.

McPherson College A Cappella Choir, led by Donald Frederick, professor of voice, will tour Colorado and western Kansas in April.

KCSA to Sponsor Local Talent Show

The local Kansas College Student Association talent contest will be held Monday, Feb. 23, in Brown Auditorium at 6:30 p.m.

Contestants performing in the show will be local talent, including individual and group performers. McPherson College faculty members will judge the contest.

First and second place winners of the local KCSA talent contest will compete at Friends University, Wichita, at the regional contest.

Students wishing further information should contact Junior Hendricks, sr., Kingsley, Iowa; Mike Fox, soph., Garfield; or Stan Hoffert, fr., Des Moines, Iowa.

Frazier, Miller

Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Frazier, Denver, announce the engagement of their daughter, Glenice to Craig Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Miller, Waterloo, Iowa.

Glenice is a home economics major and Craig is majoring in biology. Both are sophomores and plan to teach.

Bowling

according to Merlin L. Frantz, dean of academic affairs.

The NCA, a regional accrediting organization, asks that two primary reports be completed prior to their campus visit.

The first of these, an institutional profile, is a compilation of two page reports prepared by each department head and administrator.

These reports include the strengths and weaknesses of each person's particular interest as well as projected plans for overcoming present limitations.

Comprised of twenty-seven reports, the profile will be sent to NCA's central office in Chicago and to the visitation team and final reviewing commission.

A report on basic institutional data is also being prepared. Covering the areas of purposes, control and administration, students, faculty, instructional program, library, physical plant and financial resources, this report will also be sent to several NCA groups.

The primary NCA study committee is composed of Dr. J. Jack Melhorn, president of the college; Dr. Merlin Franz, dean of academic affairs; and Dr. Raymond Flory, vice president and dean of student affairs.

Miss Virginia Harris, librarian, will also participate with Gordon Yoder, business manager and treasurer; Mrs. Sarah May Brunk, associate professor of English and journalism; and Dr. Doris Coppock, professor and director of physical education for children.

First accredited by NCA in 1921, McPherson College was one of the first Brethren institutions to receive regional accreditation. The college held continuous accreditation until the early 1930's.

Approval was regained in 1939 and has been held ever since. This visit is a periodic membership review.
