

Homecoming Activity To Stir Up Campus

Bonfire Sparks "Spirit"

By Ron Cassidente

With the revival of an old and lost tradition, the "All-School Bonfire," sponsored by the Freshman class, school spirit in anticipation of Homecoming weekend has been given a new direction.

The Bonfire, set for 7 p.m. Friday night was proposed by the Freshman class in hopes of starting a "new spirit" on the campus that would spread to all the students.

All the students at Mac will be invited to meet at Brown Auditorium at 7 p.m. where the festivities will begin. Cheers will be directed by the Mac Cheerleaders and then the entire procession, including a Pep Band, will proceed to the site of the main event.

At the Bonfire site, student yells will boost the Bulldogs team spirit on to victory. Plans are also being made to have Sid Smith, coach of the Bulldogs, and two players give short talks on the team and the spirit for the game.

The Freshman class hopes that with their revival of this tradition a new spirit will develop that will lead to annual Bonfires and a new "Homecoming Tradition."

The Freshman zeal and spirit is not the only evidence that "The Spirit" has come to Mac.

Signs have appeared all over the campus showing a determined student desire to "Beat Bethany."

Organizations across the campus are busy preparing displays to coincide with the theme "Swedes in the Doghouse."

pus the feeling that something different is in the air, prevails.

Queens Ball Heads Traditional School Events

Long before the campus is customarily up and stirring on a Saturday morning, the activity and anticipation of Homecoming Day, October 16, 1965, will have begun.

Making visible the Homecoming theme, "Swedes in the Doghouse," many students will be hard at work Saturday morning helping their classes, dorms, and organizations put up floats and displays at designated spots on the campus.

To be finished by 10:00 a.m., the displays will then be judged by people from the community. Prize money of eighty-five dollars awaits the various winners of this contest.

After a few hours of unorganized confusion, 1:45 p.m. will herald the beginning of the Queen's Coronation. Master of Ceremonies Loren Reyher, Assistant Professor of English and Theatre, will begin the festivities by announcing the winners of the campus display contest.

With a musical background provided by the band, Retiring Queen Karen Andes Miller, sr., Waterloo, Iowa, will be escorted onto the field followed by the nominees for freshman and sophomore attendants and the nominees for Queen. Each girl will be presented to the crowd as she steps from the car and then escorted to the throne area.

Dr. J. Jack Melhorn, President of the College, will announce the Queen and her court. After being escorted to her throne on a red carpet, the 1965 Homecoming Queen will be crowned by Karen Miller and presented with mums by Student Council President Junior Hendricks, sr., Kingsley, Iowa.

The business of the afternoon, the playing the Bethany College Swedes, will then proceed. A halftime program will be presented by the Moline, Kansas High School Band. Composed of sixty-one members, the band is under the direction of Macollege graduate Marvin Weddle '60.

A variety program entitled "On Stage" will be presented at 7:30 p.m. on Homecoming evening in Brown Auditorium. With Professor Reyher again acting as Master of Ceremonies, the Brass Quintet, A Cappella Choir, College - Community Orchestra, and a speech choir will give a program of music and drama.

The day will not end, however, until the stroke of midnight as the Queen's Ball comes to a close. The dance, a semi-formal occasion, will begin at 9 p.m. Highlighting the evening will be the autumn decorations, music by the Bill Strout Orchestra, and a grand march led by the Queen.

Homecoming 1965 gives promise of being a BIG DAY.

Buffet After Game

A buffet type meal will be served after the homecoming football game with Bethany this Saturday evening in the McPherson cafeteria.

The meal will begin at 4:30 instead of the 5:00 regular eating time.

Central College Present Wildlife Film Series

Central College and the National Audubon Society will present a series of five wildlife films during the academic year. Students may purchase a season ticket for $3.00 at Central College, Peoples State Bank, McPherson & Citizens State Bank, Home State Bank, or Graves Drug Store. Single admission will cost $1.25.

Each film will be presented by an eminent personality in the field of wildlife and conservation. The first film, "New England Saga," dealing with how wildlife has responded to changes wrought by man through the years, will be presented on Oct. 21, by Dr. John D. Bulger.

Royalty To Be Elected From Field Of Twelve

With reactions ranging from "Pink!" to "I was so surprised" and "I think it's an honor just to be nominated," the twelve candidates for Homecoming Royalty express their anticipation of the coming Saturday.

During the previous week, the freshman, sophomore, and junior classes each nominated four girls for attendants and queen respectively. The entire student body will vote tomorrow morning during assembly to choose the final court of royalty.

Breaking with past tradition, the entire group of nominees will be presented prior to the Saturday afternoon football game. The Queen and her court will then be announced. In past years the royalty has been announced before Homecoming weekend, and only the Queen's Court has been presented to the football crowd.

In commenting on this change of custom, the members of the Social Committee emphasized that the new procedure was being tried in an effort to make Homecoming a more meaningful and exciting experience for both the girls involved and the student body. They will welcome the comments and reactions of the students following Homecoming.

Freshman nominees for attendant are Connie Dale, an elementary education major from Federal Way, Wash., Jan Eshelman, an elementary education major from Raytown, Mo., DiAnn Rousselow, major undecided, from Waterloo, Iowa, and Priscilla Ziegler, a music major from Brookville, Ohio.

Annette Burkholder, Preston, Minn., Mary Holderreed, Twin Falls, Id., Nelda Schrock, Harmony, Minn., and Kathy Shank, Fayetteville, W. Va., are the nominees for sophomore class attendant. Annette, Nelda, and Kathy are planning elementary education majors; history is Mary's major field.

Macollege's choices for Queen from the junior class are Pearl Fruth, an English major from Sabetha, Jeannette Hall, an elementary education major from New Enterprise, Pa., Modena Hoover, a biology major from Rocky Ford, Colo., and Carol Klotz, a home economics major from Fredericksburg, Iowa.

Homecoming Queen attendant candidates from the sophomore class, Mary Holderreed, Twin Falls, Idaho; Jeanie Schrock, Harmony, Minn.; Kathy Shank, Fayetteville, W. Va.; and Annette Burkholder, Preston, Minn., begin comparing the dresses each will choose to wear for the Homecoming ceremonies.

Alumni Return Gives Homecoming Meaning

Behind the newness and completeness of Brown Auditorium, the red beanies that freshmen must wear each fall, and the musical groups and athletic teams that are now active on our campus lie the energy and interest of many former Macollege students. True to its title, Homecoming 65 represents a special occasion to these alumni of McPherson College.

Organized into an Alumni association, the former students of Macollege handle many of their activities through a sixteen member, representative Alumni Board. In turn, this board sends non-voting representatives to the Trustee Board.

Working to establish the general activities, giving programs and areas of emphasis for the coming year, the Alumni Board will meet both as a total body and in committees Saturday morning, October 16.

Meeting with the board and helping to implement its program throughout the year is Paul Wagoner, Director of Public Relations and Alumni Affairs.

The Alumni Association will begin its Homecoming activities by presenting the assembly program tomorrow. Bob Wise, Chairman of the Alumni Association, will preside as three former Macollege students, a medical doctor, a high school principal, and a news reporter, relate the satisfactions and challenges that their professions have given them.

Following the game on Saturday afternoon, part of the alumni will sample Slater food for their evening meal while the classes of 1960, 1955, and 1960 will hold class reunion dinners.

The day will be brought to a close for the alumni with an informal coffee hour in the Student Union dining hall following the dramatic and musical program, "On Stage," which will be given in Brown Auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

Preparing each other's hair is one of the many preparations the freshman Homecoming Queen attendant candidates have to make. Here Connie Dale, Federal Way, Wash., and Jan Eshelman, Kansas City, Mo. watch as DiAnn Rousselow, Waterloo, Iowa, combs the hair of Priscilla Ziegler, Brookville, Ohio.

Forum Offers Answers Maccollege Students Demand

"How can we help Macampus?"

"How does Mac play the game?"

"What is my purpose as a member of the community called McPherson College?"

All college students ask questions. But today, students at McPherson have begun to demand answers to their questions; they are dissatisfied with flimsy "paper excuses."

An atmosphere charged with unrest and discontent is not indigenous to the McPherson College campus. For example students at the University of California, Berkeley, express their disapproval of the status quo by staging sit-ins and riots.

However, a report from the Collegiate Press Service Oct. 1, indicates other, more peaceful means are being discovered and used by students. The release, dated Boulder, Colo., states in part:

"A 'Bitch-In on the Multiversity,' a vocal referendum on the problems of student life, has been scheduled early in October at the University of Colorado.

"... Aimed at attacking what the student thinks is wrong with the university, why and what can be done about it... the bitch-in (will consist of) comments and criticism (coming) directly from the students themselves."

FORUM, currently meeting each Sunday afternoon at the Student Union, is McPherson College's answer to the University of Colorado's bitch-in. And, as in the bitch-in, participation is open to every member of the academic community.

Discussion at the October 10 FORUM centered about the seeming unwillingness of students to become involved in life on campus—in unlocking school spirit, in working in campus organizations, in supporting class functions.

Although the athletic department was singled out as an example of the lack of participation, it was pointed out that the blame cannot be placed upon one organization.

Suggestions to improve attitude and spirit ranged from locating a "central core of spirit," to unification and refurbishing of the numerous similar organizations on campus.

Dr. Merlin Frantz, dean of academic affairs, suggested that the college is presently in a "transitional stage between small college and large college," and that to meet the transition smoothly will mean developing new attitudes toward and concepts of the term "organization."

Students participating in FORUM recognized the validity in Dr. Frantz's remarks. The consensus was that greater unification of the college could be achieved by establishing purpose and meaning in each extra-curricular activity.

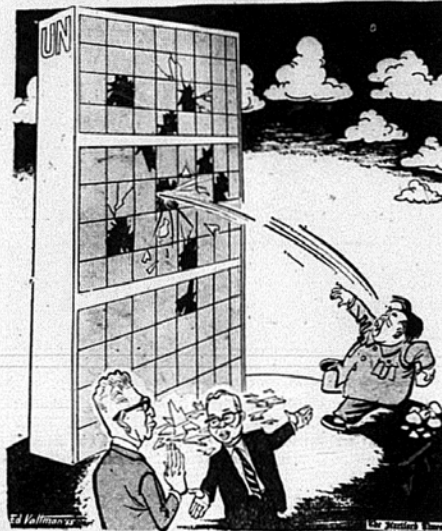

FORUM recommended that Student Council make a survey of campus organizations and propose consolidation where it seems necessary.

Ironically, the students who have so far participated in FORUM are not the recognized—elected—student leaders. Only two members of Student Council bothered to make an appearance at the October 10 meeting. One was a non-voting member.

But when an afternoon's discussion comes to a close, students leave in small groups, carrying points of the discussion away with them. And comments like "It's one of the most exciting things to happen on this campus," are not uncommon.

All college students ask questions. In FORUM McPherson College students are demanding—and getting—answers.

"Why Do You Oppose Him? What Difference Does It Make Whether He Does It From Without Or From Within?"

Trustee Board To Hold Annual Fall Meeting

The McPherson College Board of Trustees will hold their annual fall meeting this weekend, October 15-16, on the college campus.

At 7:30 p.m. Friday evening and again at 8:30 a.m. Saturday morning, a group of 30 men, including district representatives, representatives at-large, the District Executive Secretaries of the Church of the Brethren, representatives from the Alumni Board, and a member of the McPherson business community will meet with Dr. J. Jack Melhorn, President of the College, to discuss the present and future goals of the college.

These items include the hiring of a consulting psychiatrist who is to work with faculty, staff, and students on the campus, the relocation of an approach street near the campus that is to be built in connection with Interstate Highway 35, and Dr. Melhorn's recent work with the Kansas Foundation for Private Colleges in Kansas City.

In addition, the Board of Trustees will look at development needs in regard to housing and

Foods Comm. Makes Plans

Recently appointed chairman of the Foods Committee Arthur Ulbricht, fr., Wantagh, N. Y., hopes that the committee can become a mediator between students and Slater Food Service. Improving the grade of food and the service, as well as encouraging a pleasant environment are Ulbricht's objectives. Dress-up nights provide a way to meet this hope.

Ulbricht went on to state the lighter side of the committee's plans, by explaining the annual pumpkin carving contest to be held during the week preceding Halloween.

Pumpkins will be provided by Slater Foods at no cost to students, and first prize is a steak dinner for four and tickets to a show downtown.

Following the contest, the pumpkins will be distributed to local senior citizens' homes, the county hospital, and the welfare office.

educational facilities for the students. Evaluation of the size college McPherson should be, particularly in considering the 1966-67 academic year, will also take place.

The Trustees will also hear a number of administrative reports keeping them informed on the current activities and future plans of the school. A final part of the discussion will center around plans for the Nov. 14 inauguration of Dr. Melhorn.

its relationship to the McPherson College Football team.

The players have been condemned because of so called lack of will to play, and even the coaching of Sid Smith and Don Widrig has come under fire.

The day after tomorrow, McPherson will play host to the Swedes of Bethany College, in our traditional homecoming game, and I would like to take this opportunity to wish Coach Smith luck, and tell the members of the squad that I, for one, shall stand behind them as they tackle their opponents.

We must realize that it is easy to back a team that is continually winning, and of course we would always like to win, but in football, as in all our endeavors, there must always be a loser.

No one likes to lose, and I do not either, nor, I am sure, does Coach Smith or the members of the football squad, but we must not lose sight of the fact that even in defeat, it is possible to learn and to better ourselves.

This week lets show our boys that we still have faith in them by going out and watching them prove to Bethany just how much fight there is left in a Bulldog. Let's all get out and cheer them on as the Bulldogs bounce back and swallow the Swedes!

Editors Relate Letter Policy

In order to assure that all students on the Maccollege has ample opportunity to voice opinions in the "Spectator," the editorial staff has compiled a list of suggestions for future letter writers.

1. All letters must bear a signature when submitted to the Editor-in-Chief. This is to protect both the Spectator and future contributors. In some instances the editor may see fit to withhold the name of a contributor, or print only initials upon request. The signature should include a student's class and home address.

2. Letters should be kept between a minimum of twenty-five words, and a maximum of three hundred words. This is between one to ten inches of copy in the paper.

3. All letters should be submitted to the Editor-in-Chief or any member of the editorial staff by 9 p.m. on the Sunday prior to the Thursday the contributor would like the letter to appear in the "Spectator."

Music Fans Propose Folk Group

Dear Editor:

Will Folk Music survive on the McPherson Campus? Could we not bring together those on campus who do play Folk Music with the idea of exchanging songs and ideas?

Every campus has its "off-beat" individuals who stay in their rooms singing and strumming guitars while entertaining their roommates. Why not bring these people together and show the student body what live folk music sounds like?

Why not have a folk group play at Homecoming and participate in some of the activities or possibly perform in short programs before or after the movies presented by the Social Committee?

We are planning a get-together or "hootenanny" to be held in the Student Union Quiet Room on Sunday Oct. 17, at 7:30. This get-together is for anyone interested in Folk Music. Those who play are invited to bring their instruments.

A performance of classical numbers by the Wichita string quartet will signal the opening of the McPherson College 1965-66 Cultural Series in Brown Auditorium Friday, Nov. 5, at 8 p.m.

This year, the college plans to bring four varied feature attractions to the campus that will appeal to members of the community of McPherson as well as the college community.

Since its founding in 1956, the Wichita String Quartet, in residence at Wichita State University, has built an enviable reputation in the Southwest as a leading musical organization. It is comprised of all the first chair players of the Wichita Symphony string section, all of whom are on the faculty of the university.

The quartet not only has presented regular series of concerts on its home campus, but has appeared in concert and in workshops at colleges, universities, and for music clubs and professional musical organizations throughout the Southwest. Since 1956 the quartet has performed some 150 concerts especially designed for public schools, elementary through secondary.

Pianist, Marvin Blickenstaff, former McPherson faculty member, will give the second Cultural Series program on Sunday, Dec. 5, 1965 at 3 p.m. in the Brown Auditorium.

Marvin Blickenstaff has distinguished himself with an impressive record of musical achievements. Following his first full-length recital at 12, the press review dubbed him a child prodigy.

At Oberlin Conservatory of Music, 1956-1959, he studied piano under Emil Danenberg. In 1959 he received his Bachelor of Music degree; he was selected by the Conservatory faculty as soloist with the Oberlin Orchestra (Beethoven's "Emperor" Concerto.)

He is the recipient of the Robertson Award granted to the outstanding Bachelor of Music Candidate; he is also the recipient of the Hurlbutt Award granted to the outstanding performer in the graduating class. In 1959 he received a German government grant to study piano in Frankfurt.

Last February he won an audition and played as guest soloist with the Amarillo Texas Symphony.

He reached the semifinals before being eliminated in the Portuguese International Piano Competition in Lisbon this past summer.

Prior to his current appointment at Fort Hays Kansas State College, he was a member of the McPherson College faculty. He was assistant Professor of Music and Head of the Piano Department here at McPherson College in 1961-63.

Taking a leave of absence from Fort Hays next February and March, Mr. Blickenstaff will go overseas touring in Greece, Holland, Spain, Switzerland, and Austria, giving 17 concerts.

In April, 1966, he will give five performances in Canada.

The Norman Luboff Choir will be performing in Brown Auditorium for the third Cultural Series, Sunday, Jan. 30, 1966, at 3 p.m.

Although the unique artistry of Norman Luboff and his choir is well known to music lovers around the world on record, the fall of 1963 marked his first "live tour."

The popularity of the dynamic conductor - arranger and his group was achieved primarily through the many recordings for which the group was originally created.

All of the choir's thirty-odd records have the distinction of being best sellers. The touring choir consists of thirty professional singers and four versatile instrumentalists.

The repertoire is virtually unlimited with the choir equally at home in the Bach Cantata or the hit tunes of Broadway. Except for the classical selections, Mr. Luboff has arranged most of the material himself.

Pulitzer prize winning correspondent, Eddie Gilmore, will be the main attraction Saturday, Feb. 26, 1966 at 8 p.m. in Brown Auditorium, for the final series program.

Mr. Gilmore is acclaimed as the newsman "Who knows most about the human element in the Soviet Union." As an Associated Press correspondent he spent 12 years in Russia as Moscow Bureau Chief.

After a ten year absence he revisited Russia in 1963 and again in recent months.

Married to a Russian ballerina, he is on friendly terms with scores of Russian citizens in the privacy of their homes.

He has also had meetings with most of those who have risen to power in the Kremlin.

Season tickets for the Cultural Series are $7 for adults and $5 for students or children. There will be no reserve seats for the 1965-66 season. Tickets will be on sale until Nov. 5, 1965.

Single program admission for the Luboff concert is adults or students $3 each, children under 12 $2 each. The remaining features will be adult or student $2 and children under 12 $1.

Ticket orders may be sent to: Cultural Series, McPherson College, McPherson, Kansas 67460.

Bulldogs Meet Rival Swedes

Saturday afternoon, October 16, at approximately 2 o'clock an oblong sphere will fly through the air to be followed by the sound of loud pops and the 1965 homecoming football game between McPherson and Bethany will be underway.

The two teams enter the affair a picture of opposites. The Bethany Swedes have an unblemished 4-0 mark. Their victims include Sterling, 43-7, C of E 20-13, Kansas Wesleyan 28-13, and last week in a meeting of unbeaten, the Swedes downed Southwestern 14-13.

The Bulldogs are in the league cellar at the moment with an 0-4 mark. Their losses include C of E 20-6, KWU 28-13, Southwestern 31-13 and Friends 14-13. Bethany's strength this year has been in its defensive play. Their line averages about 220 and is anchored by two 250-pound plus linemen. On the defensive squad, the ends include Charles Wanamaker, 210, and Robert Miller 180.

The two tackles are Larry Hartup 268, and Steven Hegge 200. The guards in the starting defensive unit are Mike Caviness 250 and Gary Lesnivich 200.

The three linebackers are Robert Gould 170, Don Hutchinson 170, and James Lindholm 170. One of the safeties is 160-pound Robert Brax and the other is the free safety, 190-pound All-Conference Jan Oleen.

The offensive unit for Bethany will include Oleen at one end, Hartup at one tackle, Lesnivich at the other tackle and Wanamaker at the other end.

The starting quarterback will be Ed Biggs, 175. At one half-back will be Merlin Burch, a dynamic 155-pounder. Roy Crumbaker, the only freshman in the starting lineup, will alternate with Larry Harless, 165, at the other halfback. Harless was the conference's leading rusher two years ago as a freshman.

Coach Keith Rasmussen is in his first year as head of Bethany's football fortunes. His immediate success is not anything new to him. He coached at Geneseo and Colby before taking over Bethany's reins.

In six seasons, his teams finished first four times and second twice.

Of his team, Rasmussen is still quite apprehensive. "They still make a lot of mistakes and we've been lucky to make the big plays so far." An example of a big play occurred last week when Don Hutchinson intercepted a Southwestern pass on the five yardline to thwart the Builders final drive at the Swedes' goal.

Rasmussen attributes his teams early success to desire. "The kids have really put a lot of effort into practice. They have really shown a lot of desire."

The main offensive weapon for the Swedes this season has been the straight ahead dive plays and belly series. They operate off the Wing-T offense.

Biggs has been the leading rusher followed closely by the speed halfback Burch. The Swedes can also attack by air. The main target here is Oleen, who took a 27-yard paydirt toss against Southwestern last week. He also accounted for Bethany's other score in the game with a 37-yard runback of an intercepted pass.

It was one of three interceptions Oleen had in the game. Rasmussen had one word to describe Oleen's contribution against Southwestern: "tremendous."

Of McPherson, Rasmussen had this to say: "I saw them play C of E and Friends and was impressed by both their speed and their play execution. Steidle is a fine halfback and we will have to contain him as well as the rest of the team if we are to win."

I have a lot of respect for Coach Smith. He is both a fine coach and a gentleman. We are looking forward to renewing our traditional rivalry, this Saturday."

On the other side of the field, Coach Sid Smith of McPherson was quite emphatic about the Bethany squad. "They are really a good sound, ball team. They don't have many cute plays. They rely on good, straight ahead, blocking to advance the ball."

Of his own team, Smith had this to say: "I was very disappointed in our effort in the Friends game. We were very careless and our mistakes in the

Falcons Down Bulldogs In Close 14-13 Game

In a hard-fought, closely-contested, game, Friends University defeated the McPherson Bulldogs 14-13. The defeat was the first time the Bulldogs had lost to Friends in 36 years.

Friends scored first in the opening period when Mike Nieman plunged over from the one-yard line and Harold Rush kicked the extra point. In the second period McPherson countered when Buddy Taylor, sr., Thomas, Okla., tossed a 13 yard scoring aerial to Jim Steidle, sr., McPherson, Wiggins kicked the extra point to tie the score at 7-7.

In the third period McPherson took the lead when John Chance plunged over from the one-yard line. The kick for the extra point was wide to make the score 13-7.

Friends scored early in the fourth period with Nieman hurling for 13 yards to Wayne Whitcomb. Rush kicked the point for the final difference.

clutch really hurt. Against Bethany, we expect a real hard-nosed football game. We think that we have a team that is still learning and one of these games we are going to break out on someone. We are hoping for a good ballgame out of the entire squad Saturday."

In other action around the league this weekend, Ottawa, entertains KWU, Friends plays at Sterling. Baker travels to Southwestern and C of E takes on the Threshers of Bethel at Newton.

McPherson drove down to the one-foot line before giving up the ball. Friends stalled to the finish.

Practice Starts For Golf Team

McPherson College's golf team has begun practice. Team members are anticipating a good season.

Members of the team are George Jones, jr., Canton; Gene Czaplinski, soph., McPherson; Walter Miller, jr., Scott City; Don Woodcock, soph., McPherson; Phil Grove, soph., Laurens, Iowa; and Dave Ikenberry, fr., Jacksonville, Fla.

Last year the team finished fourth in the KCAC conference behind Baker, College of Emporia and Kansas Wesleyan. The season's record was eight wins and one loss.

The team is coached by "Dutch" Uhlraab. Uhlraab is a retired McPherson school official and an outstanding senior golfer. This is his second year as golf-team coach.

Sportscope

By Gene Czaplinski

After viewing a practice session preceding the Friends game, this writer observed a glaring weakness in the manner in which the practice was conducted — a weakness which understandably cannot be corrected in a moment's time.

One of the coaches had taken part of the team to Salina for a B team game with KWU, and the rest of the team was involved in a scrimmage — type session.

On the field that day were 30 football players. To watch and correct their intricate football executions and procedures was one coach.

Winning football can be taught, but one or two men however capable cannot be expected to produce the kind of class outfit we all like to see.

Coach Smith can point out the boys' mistakes, but he doesn't have the 21 eyes necessary to watch each of the others.

Big-time college football has not set requirements on number of coaches. Some teams have as many as eight or nine assistants to back up their head coach. On the small college level, C of E, McPherson's first opponent, has three assistants to back up their head man.

One can readily see the advantage assistant coaches provide. They can watch their units move and give them the personalized attention they need. For example, while the defensive line coach concentrates on watching the line and pointing out their mistakes, a defensive back coach can devote his time to the defensive backs.

The shortage of coaches is a situation which is being remedied in many small colleges. Schools that want solid athletic programs are hiring more men to augment the coaching staffs.

Last week Sportscope picked four out of five games correctly.

This week Sportscope spots—Bethany at McPherson... The Swedes are all set to dampen the Bulldogs' homecoming. They're undefeated — which says they have the team to do it. No upsies here, but we hope we're wrong!

Baker at Southwestern... A real toughie. But don't think the Moundbuilders are giving in. They have the line to handle Baker's Pickett, and their offense generates just enough to get the winning points across. We're riding on the Mounds.

C of E at Bethel... The Presbians are just a little better than the Threshers. They should take it running away.

Friends at Sterling... Friends has a poor ground attack, making their passing less effective. Sterling is not really too tough either. But we'll go with the Warriors.

KWU at Ottawa... There's a simple word for the situation of the Coyote secondary in this one—they're going to be Buzzled.

New Library Plans Start

Plans for a new campus library to meet the growing needs of McPherson College are still in the embryonic stages. A faculty and administrative committee is initially gathering data before projecting definite plans.

Given the green light by the trustees last February the fact-finding committee including Dr. J. Melhorn, president; Dr. Merlin L. Frantz, dean of academic affairs; Dr. Dayton Rothrock, professor of education and psychology; Miss Virginia Harris, librarian; Mr. R. Gordon Yoder, business manager and treasurer; and Mr. Leland L. Lengel, assistant professor of history and political science set to work.

The essential question that the committee is grappling with is: How can we plan a library that students and faculty can use now and 25 years from now? Or as Miss Harris succinctly states, "We have to decide what we need."

To be able to make informed decisions the study force is collecting material; investigating the new trends in library building design; and studying excellent libraries of colleges of comparable size.

The study force will sound out faculty suggestions for a functional and efficient library. In addition the student body will be able to offer suggestions. At least, that is a possibility.

Miss Harris hopes to have

Six Receive Scholarships

This year six students at McPherson were given State of Kansas Scholarships. This entitled each student to $250 or tuition and fees, depending on which is the smaller.

The recipients were Gary Blackwell, fr., Pawnee Rock; Bonnie Harwick, fr., McPherson; Lila Matile, fr., Madison; Christina Flory, soph., McPherson; Lorene Pauls, soph., Inman; and Glenn Thalkir, soph., Brookville.

These students applied through the State Board of Education. The board took into consideration ACT scores, rank in the high school graduating class, character references and financial need.

some of the following aspects in the library;

- (a) stacks enmeshed with study areas
- (b) an adequate number of individual study desks
- (c) large room for technical work
- (d) direct access to bound periodicals by students

The proposed library for Macollege is a feature of a larger masterplan of growth set up by trustees.

Looking toward a more excellent educational institution foresighted trustees are planning to improve the residence halls and expand the dorms, and increase the scholarship aid to students. $4,000,000 will be needed to undergird this program.

Questions facing the committee in the future are: Where will the library be located? What will be the total cost? Will the audio-visual facilities be expanded? And the eternal query, how will it be financed?

Blood Donors Receive Timely Special Message

All Red Cross blood donors, now hear this:

1. Eat a hearty breakfast before reporting to the Bloodmobile. But DO NOT — we repeat — DO NOT eat eggs, butter, milk, or any other fatty foods.
2. If one is under 18 and unmarried, he must present himself and his parental-consent card to the Bloodmobile headquarters in the basement of the Brethren Church Oct. 19, between the hours of 9 and 5.
3. If the donor desires, he may stop at the desk and indicate any hospital or individual to whom he wishes the blood credited.
4. Proceed to the medical desk where blood type will be taken, and orange juice and candy will be given the donor. (The food will prevent turning green or falling flat on one's face later.)
5. Go next to the donor room, where a doctor and registered nurses are on hand at all times. Climb up on table, close eyes, and try to act nonchalant, like you've done this a dozen times

Volleyball Team Results Out

The ratings of the intramural volleyball teams up to Oct. 11:

League I	W	L
Athletics	7	1
Mates	7	3
Indians	4	2
Bats	4	4
Broncos	4	6
Bulldogs	3	7
Bears	1	7
League II	W	L
Tigers	4	2
Dodgers	5	3
Yankees	5	5
Nationals	2	4
Nationals	3	7
Doubles	3	7
Cowboys	1	5

Ratings are based individually upon the percentage of games won as opposed to the total number of games played.

The reason for the differences in the number of games played is primarily due to the fact that in some instances there have been double forfeitures. These forfeited games nullified both teams and did not enter the records as a loss.

Students participating in intramural volleyball are asked to be responsible for being at the gym when their games are scheduled. The success of the intramural program is based upon the ability of students to carry out their responsibilities.

Hootenanny Plans Set

Sunday, Oct. 17, at 7:30 p.m. McPherson College's first informal Hootenanny will be held in the Student Union Quiet Room. Interested students are invited to come to either play or listen.

Forum Gains Momentum

Forum, student discussion group, gathered momentum this week as nearly 35 students gathered to discuss "How Mac Played the Game." This topic was introduced by students concerned about the Mac Football Team's won-lost record and the students' apparent lack of school spirit.

Sidney L. Smith, Associate Professor and Director of Athletics, Head Football Coach, zealously propounded his coaching philosophy for the attendees. Although the topic was thoroughly discussed, few conclusions were drawn.

Next week's topic will be "Homecoming 1966." The discussion will take place in the Student Union Lounge on Sunday Oct. 17, at 3 p.m.

Debate Team To Attend Meet

Dr. Wayne L. Miller, assistant professor of speech and philosophy, and a carload of Macollege students will attend the debate conference at Nebraska Wesleyan in Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 15.

There will be many schools competing, and said Dr. Miller "It's a little, too early to say how our team looks. Of course, we always hope for the best."

The topic under debate: "What are the Freedoms of the Law Enforcement Groups?" The team should gain much experience on this "trial-run" conference.

Passion Play Portrays Christ's Last Seven Days

"The Oberammergau Passion Play," a play dealing with the last seven days of Christ's life, is to be sponsored here by the McPherson Lions Club. The performances are scheduled for Oct. 18, 19, and 20 in Brown Auditorium.

This Passion Play has just come to the U.S. on tour from Germany. It was originally performed at Oberammergau, Germany some 331 years ago. It has been traditionally presented there every ten years since then.

The show, which originally ran eight hours, has been cut down to 2 1/2 hours for the American performance. Even so, the essence and beauty of the play has remained the same.

The part of Christ is portrayed by Val Balfour Mr. Balfour is the fourth generation in his family to make biblical plays his life work. He has been widely praised for the part which he portrays.

Mr. Balfour's wife, Ann, travels with the cast and portrays the part of Mary Magdalene. She too is descended from a long line of Passion Players dating back to her great-grandfather.

Tickets may be purchased at the Passion Play Headquarters at 109 W. Kansas Ave.

The performances will be given on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. and 8:15 p.m. All seats for the evening shows will be reserved.

A special student ticket may be purchased for the matinees for $75. An adult ticket for the matinees will be $1.50.

The prices for the evening performance are $1.75, $2.75, and $3.50 depending on the seat one desires.

721 Students Enroll; Show Increase Of 167

Enrollment has moved up to 721 students this semester which is an increase of 169 over last semester. Enrollment statistics released from the Registrar's Office show 282 of the students are Kansans.

Iowa follows Kansas as the state sending the next largest number of students with 67 persons enrolled. Pennsylvania is represented by 46 students, 20 more than last year.

For the first time at Macollege New Jersey appears fourth place state in the number of students represented with a rounding 42 on campus. Illinois is close behind with 41.

Eight students from Canada, East Africa, Nigeria, Libya, Greece, Germany, and Syria in addition to five students from Latin America are studying at McPherson.

Enrollment information shows a decrease in the number of Kansas students on campus.

"Flick," To Continue

The series of films presented by the Social Committee will continue on Oct. 22, with "The Mouse that Roared," a bright comedy featuring Peter Sellers and Jean Seberg. "Anatomy of a Murder" with Susan Hayward will follow on Oct. 30.

"Forty Pounds of Trouble" will be shown on Nov. 6. On Nov. 13, "On the Water Front" with Marlon Brando and Eva Marie Saint will be presented. This excellent movie was the winner of eight Academy Awards. There is a tremendous emotional appeal and realism in this story of crime investigation on the waterfront.
