

International Yule Inspires Programs

A German Christmas program, an evening of choral music and children's presentation of Christmas customs from other lands precede the traditional Carols and Candles service in the Christmas series planned by McPherson Church of the Brethren.

The Department of Foreign Languages at McPherson College sponsors the special program in German on the evening of Dec. 4. All German-speaking people in the county have been invited.

After a welcome by Dr. J. Jack Melhorn, president of the College, the congregation will sing several carols in German, and Hannelore Vecek, assistant professor in language, will present two poems.

A group of children, aged 5-13, who study German, will sing carols and recite poetry. This class, conducted by Dr. Jan van Asselt, associate professor of German and linguistics, will appear on television on Dec. 16, in a special Christmas program.

The Christmas story from Luke will be read in German and after a solo by Sigrid Wagner, fr. Wiley, Colo., a tree brought from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, by the parents of Don Schultz, jr. Ely, Iowa, will be decorated.

The second program in the 'Hour of Christmas' Marks Bethany Yule

The annual "Hour of Christmas" will be presented by the choral department of Bethany College Sunday, Dec. 11, at 8 p.m.

Presser Hall will be the scene of this program, under the direction of Prof. Elmer Copley. A 15-minute organ prelude beginning at 7:45 p.m. will be played by Mrs. Copley, who will also accompany the various singing ensembles.

Choral groups participating will be the College Choir, Chapel Choir and the Bethany Chorals.

75 Attend Senior Day

Students representing 25 cities in four states appeared on campus Friday, Nov. 25, to participate in Senior Day, and 25 tried out for scholarships to McPherson College. Response was even greater than had been expected, according to Guy Hayes, director of admissions.

After registering and being welcomed the 75 visiting seniors explored classrooms, labs, dormitories and the museum. They were luncheon guests at the Student Union and stopped at Friendship Hall to see the International Fair.

Throughout the day, the faculty was available for interviews, but Hayes pointed out that seeing the College in a normal work day was probably most important in acquainting the visitors with the school.

The main objective of the series will feature choral music directed by Donald R. Frederick, professor of voice. The senior choir of the Church will sing Christmas anthems and incidental solos.

The third program of the series Dec. 18 will feature Christmas customs of Holland, Sweden and Mexico, portrayed by children of the Church.

"We plan to include what Jewish people are doing at this time, although, of course, they would not call it Christmas," said E. Dean Reynolds, registrar, who is in charge of the program.

Songs that are native to those countries will be included, and narrations about the countries will be acted out by the children.

The final program of the series will be the traditional Carols and Candles service on Christmas Eve.

day was to interest highly qualified seniors in the academic program at McPherson College.

"The continued effort is to upgrade the quality of incoming students, both academically and in citizenship," said Hayes.

"The granting of earned academic scholarships in the greatest number this year coupled with the increasing number of rejects who did not qualify for McPherson College is evidence of serious intent to comply with our goals," he continued.

He pointed out that 76 freshmen and 11 transfer students this semester hold academic scholarships. Of the visiting seniors, 26 tried, through interviews and testing, to obtain scholarships which range from $600 to $2000.

Applicants will be rated on four points: high school grade and rank, American College

Class Changes To Be Decided

Departmental revisions and additions for a new McPherson College Catalog have been submitted to divisions and will soon go to the Educational Policies Committee.

Every other year, major revisions are made in the catalog. Such revisions, including addition of new courses, begin in the various departments and are submitted to the proper division of Humanities, Natural Sciences, Social Sciences, or Practical Arts.

This year, all revisions were cleared by departments by Nov. 4 and are now in their proper divisions. They will be submitted to the Educational Policies Committee on Dec. 2, and then on to the Office of Development by Dec. 16.

In that office, under the supervision of Larry Marcellus, director of publicity and promotion, the format will be worked out. Copy will be submitted to the printer by Jan. 1, and copies should be available to students by April 1.

Oboist to Perform In Solo at Concert

The McPherson College-Community Orchestra, conducted by Robert G. Jones, assistant professor in music and director of bands and orchestra, will present a concert Sunday, Dec. 4, at 3 p.m. in Brown Auditorium. No admission will be charged.

Featured soloist on the concert will be Mrs. Stephanie Jones, first oboist with the orchestra. She will be performing the "Concerto in C Major" by Johann Christian Fischer.

The orchestra will open the concert with Rimsky-Korsakov's "Polonaise" from the "Christmas Night" opera. This will be followed by Joseph Haydn's "Symphony No. 61 in D Major." After intermission the "Roumanian Folk Dances" by Bela Bartok will be performed, and the concert will conclude with Fischer's "Concerto in C Major for oboe and orchestra."

Membership of the orchestra includes students of McPherson College, faculty members of McPherson College and of the public schools, housewives in the community and students of the music program in the city school system.

Students and faculty who perform in the orchestra are Cathy Weimer, oboe; Kandy Regier and Jerry Persons, clarinet; Glee Hoover and Andrea Siple, bassoon; Dave Weimer, Winona Achilles; Art McAuley and Jean Lichty, horns; Randy Graber, trumpet; Wayne Bowman and Paul Tice, trombone; Mary Nell Albright, violin; Paul Sollenberger, associate professor of music theory and string instruments viola; Letitia Brown, cello; and Tim Mathael, bass.

Those from the McPherson community who participate include Jan Luty and Gail Hayes, flute; Stephanie Jones, oboe; Jayne Miller, clarinet; Bryce Luty, trumpet; Venona Bomberger, Marlene Edgell, Jane Wagener and Lucia Green, violin; Lynne Frantz, viola; Frank Kline, cello, and Bryce Luty, bass.

Mental Health Cited in Talks At Joint Meet

McPherson College faculty held a joint meeting with the staff of Prairie View Clinic Nov. 29 at the McPherson Church of the Brethren.

Dr. Mitchell Jones, medical director at Prairie View, was speaker and discussion leader at the conference. Wives and husbands of faculty members were present.

Joint interest of College and Clinic in the area of mental health was the basis of the cooperative meeting. Dr. Merlin L. Frantz, dean of academic affairs, said, "Their point of view is that the best approach to mental health is preventative."

For the past two years, Dr. Vernon Kilewer, psychiatrist from Prairie View, has been available once each week to counsel McPherson College students.

The Prairie View Clinic earlier this fall sponsored a conference in Newton on campus mental health.

Ottawa Meet To Feature Dean Agee

A number of McPherson College students are planning to attend Ottawa University's Publication Day tomorrow.

The day will be devoted to studying campus publications—their position on campus, their function, responsibility and how they are produced.

Dr. Warren Agee, Dean of the William Allen White School of Journalism and Public Information at the University of Kansas, will speak at 10 a.m. in Ottawa's chapel on "The Role of the College Newspaper."

Following the morning assembly will be special workshops in areas of financing, photography, yearbooks, editing and make-up, editorial responsibility and the reporter's job.

Opposing Political Factions Create Campaign Interest

Two prominent on-campus organizations that strive to inform the student of the world of politics are the Young Democrats Club and the Young Republicans Club.

Bill Duryea, jr., Changewater, N. J., is president; Carol Radatz, jr., Galva, is currently serving as program chairman; and Lise Mauer, soph., Red Bank, N. J. is publicity chairman. Dr. Raymond Flory, vice president and dean of student affairs, is adviser of the CYR.

During election the Young Republicans were active in taking voter polls. They conducted the poll on three different days, and the data which was collected revealed that the majority of the individuals interviewed had not bothered to register.

The members also went to the various precincts and supervised the counting of ballots. Permission was acquired from the various Republican candidates before the club members were de-

Cast of 11 Heads Prep Class Play

The junior class of McPherson High School will present "The Sign of Jonah" at the auditorium at Junior High School this evening at 8. Proceeds from the play will be used for financing the annual junior-senior banquet.

Directed by Ralph Earles, the cast of the play includes Rodney Peer, Dale Beals, Larry Davis, Joe Seoby, Jerry Juhnke, Ernest Pease, Bion Beebe, Monte Giddings, Sandy Peppiatt, Carmel Colyn and Venita Johnson.

Written by a German theologian, Guenter Rutenborn, "The Sign of Jonah" is a modern morality play related to the myth of Jonah swallowed by the whale, or the myth of World War II.

signed as official watchers.

The CYR has a number of activities planned for the future, and information will be released when the plans are finalized.

The president of the CYD is Barrie Borger, soph., McPherson. Other officers are Stanley Borowski, soph., Newark, Del., vice president; Ulderic Racine, fr., Hennicker, N. H., secretary-treasurer; Frank D'Agostino, jr., Liverpool, N. J., membership chairman; and Thomas Dericco, soph., Pa. Grove, N. J., publicity chairman. Mr. Leland Lengel, assistant professor of history and political science, is the advisor.

The goal of the CYD is to foster political understanding among the students at McPherson College.

The CYD has been experiencing problems—particularly in the area of membership. Barrie Borger's main goal for this school term is to get the Democrats organized and to boost the Foundation to Distribute To 20 Kansas Colleges

The Kansas Foundation for Private Colleges has announced a $30,000 grant from the Santa Fe Foundation to be distributed among 20 privately supported colleges in the state.

This is the eleventh consecutive year that Santa Fe has made a financial grant to the privately supported colleges and universities in Kansas.

L. M. Olson, General Manager for the Santa Fe Railway, Topeka, presented the check to Aleene G. Heberling, Executive Secretary of the private college association.

"As in the past," he said, "the contribution is made with no restrictions as to its use." "The reason we do this," he continued, "is because we believe that educators and administrators affiliated with these schools know better than anyone else how the money should be spent."

Colleges and universities which will share in the distribution of this year's grant are: Baker University, Bethany College, Bethel College, Central College, College of Emporia, Donnelly College, Friends University, Hesston College, Kansas Wesleyan University, Marymount College;

McPherson College, St. Benedict's College, Mt. St. Scholastica College, Ottawa University, Sacred Heart College, Saint Mary College, St. Mary of the Plains College, Southwestern College, Sterling College and Tabor College.

'Caverns' Recalls Cavelike Fantasia

Couples danced to the music of the Norm Estes Sextet in Crystal Caverns Nov. 25 at the annual winter formal held in the Student Union.

Decorations featured a tunnel entrance, pink stalagmites and stalactites, open pools, hurricane lamps, white net around the dance floor and a suspended rotating glass ball.

Refreshments consisting of punch and tea cookies were served to the approximately two hundred guests from 9-12 p.m.

Lonnie Howell, jr., Cordell, Okla., was general chairman of the event. Working with her were Jim Guenther, soph, Piqua, Ohio, on decorations; Marian Snaveley, fr., Lebanon, Pa., refreshments; June Vinchattle, soph, Gowrie, Iowa, publicity; and Rockford Regula, soph, Leesport, Pa., clean-up.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"OKEY CRESWELL, I THINK WE'LL START YOU OUT ON DEFENSE"

Student Involvement at Ebb

What is happening to student interest in extra-curricular activities on the McPherson College campus?

Enthusiasm has flagged in dramatics, in music and in political activities, which all traditionally have been vital significant outlets for students here.

McPherson students seem restive, yet many of them make no attempt to involve themselves in creative, constructive effort.

However frightening this creeping apathy is, the other side may be that students are making better grades. But will their education be complete without the added stimulation of activities outside the pale of pure academic endeavor?

Educators agree that students need leisure moments in which to develop their personalities to the fullest; in which to discover how creative they can be; in which to test their abilities in areas besides learning from books.

Too many McPherson College students seem to be avoiding this kind of creative leisure. Without it they may ultimately become the kind of person poet John Ciardi describes in one of his essays: The person who keeps vowing "Someday I'll write poetry", or "Sometime, when I have time, I'll pursue my interest in oil painting"—and wonders, when "someday" has come and gone, why his interests have stagnated, why his life seems unfulfilled and why a part of him feels unexplainably cheated. Students Speak Out

Iconoclasts Don't Last In American Society

Editor:

I'm sure at one time or another you have read or heard about the youths who wear dirty jeans, filthy sweatshirts, ultracolored and long hair and black leather jackets with select names written on the back, such as "Hell's Angels," or "Misfits."

These groups in reality are known as "Conformists."

"Conformists" think that they are doing what every other red-blooded American boy wants to do—in other words, what every Johnny Jones, Bobby Smith or John Doe has secretly dreamed of doing but doesn't quite have the courage to do.

I wonder, does it really take courage to make Americans a point of world-wide ridicule? Is this the dream of tomorrow's adults?

Let me assure you, nobody says "Thank you, Mr. Conformist, for showing Americans, and all other people in the world, what freedom can do."

No, that isn't said unless it can be seen in the way people look at the nut as he proudly walks down the street.

He's saying, "Look, world. Look at me. I'm different. I'm ready to give up everything in your 'pride and proper' society to live my way."

Does a true conformist say this? Ask one and see. He might say, "I'm just tired of these so-called civilized ways..." or "I don't live to please society..."

Yes, I'll admit our country still has room for improvement, but will the way to betterment lie in the minority group of dirty long-haired youths?

No! It does and will lie in the many adults and teen-agers of our colleges and universities who know that the only way to improve is not by overthrowing standards, but by changing them to fit into changing times.

Only one way will last for the tomorrows of the coming years. Only one way can be the American way. Which would you like to be in, the majority or the minority?

Yes, you must decide what you want to be: American or Conformist.

Creativity, Art Appreciation Core of Department Activity

By NORMA TUCKER

Seasonal activities of the Art Department include decorating for the winter formal, designing of the Christmas cover for the Alumni Bulletin and executing the background for the community Christmas Fair.

"Crystal Caverns" decorations were done by the Art Club, new on campus since last spring. This 16 member club, of which James Guenther, soph, Piqua, Ohio, is president, is but one facet of an active Art Department.

An almost completed sleigh for Santa to use at the Christmas Fair, and an Alumni Bulletin cover designed by David Switzer, fr, Wichita, give evidence of the many services performed by the department.

"We spend many hours doing all kinds of things for community and College," commented Miss Mary Ann Robinson, assistant professor of art.

Planning and assembling decorations for College social events, Homecoming floats, and hundreds of posters are handled by the department. For the past three years, it has also provided the backdrops for the annual May Fete.

Perhaps the most important and time consuming task of the department is management of exhibits in Friendship Hall. This includes correspondence, unpacking, inventorying, checking for damage and repacking of exhibits. Extreme care in handling is required and only once has damage occurred to art work displayed there.

Because exhibits are expensive and funds for the project limited, the department must constantly search for good art work which can be obtained on loan.

But these are only "extras" in the department. The real purpose, according to Miss Robinson, is to develop knowledge and appreciation of art for the individual.

"As man strives for maturity and meaningful relationships with other, he must have some experiences in the realm of creativity," she said.

She believes that the art education class for elementary school teachers is especially important. "Art education for children is one of the most misunderstood areas and one of the weakest spots in Kansas because so few teachers understand the philosophy of teaching art to children."

In addition to Miss Robinson, the art department has two part-time instructors: Robert R. Smith, art, and Gordon Zahradnik, ceramics.

Art for the individual, the prospective teacher, and the artist are offered by the department.

Senior Day

Test scores, personal interviews and other test scores. The number of scholarships is not limited, but is determined solely by the qualification of the applicant.

Decisions on scholarships will not be made until high school transcripts are studied, and other students will have a chance to apply later in the academic year. "Many (of those invited) indicated by letter that they planned to come to later Senior and Scholarship Days," said Hayes.

Other visitation days are scheduled on Dec. 10 and Feb. 18, when ACT tests are given. McPherson College is a testing center for the ACT program and gives the tests on their national testing days.

As was done last year, interviewing teams will travel to outlying districts, including Colorado, Minnesota and Iowa, to reach more students.

Out-of-state seniors visiting the college on Nov. 25 represented high schools at Omaha, Neb., Laurens, Centerville, and Dallas Center, Iowa, and Indianapolis, Ind.

Kansas high schools represented were Buhler, Canton, Chapman, Chase, Concordia, Derby, Florence, Galva, Geneseo, Great Bend and Hanston.

Also represented were Inman, Lindsay, Little River, Lyons, McPherson, Moundridge, Nickerson, Solomon and Wichita.

What Is Man?

Lover, Lunatic Both Have Imagination

By JERRY LASATER

Shakespeare said "the lunatic, the lover, and the poet are imagination all compact." Since then people in love have often been compared with psychotics because of their abundant imagination. Yet to some, a man in love resembles an idiot, even more than one born with an I.Q. of 25.

As long as one compares a lover to a person with delusions or likens him to a poet all mankind loves a lover.

But when he seems to be acting like an idiot, he is more to be pitied than envied.

What does it matter that he is happy? Insane asylums are full of idiots who are deliriously and radiantly happy. The whole world is inhabited with idiots who profess sane logical love so we are even.

Housemom Ushers In Christmas Spirit

Although there has not been a measurable snowfall on the McPherson College campus this year, Mrs. Marquerite Westfall, housemother in Metzler Hall, has been busy making "snowballs."

The "snowballs," which are small balls of fudge that have been rolled in sugar, are only a few of the 50 pounds of candy that she will be making for the annual Metzler Hall Christmas party to be held December 8.

Other candy that the "mother of 158 boys" will be making include fudge squares, rice krispy squares and potato candy.

If Mrs. Westfall seems to be "floating" around in the Christmas spirit already, it might be due to the fact that she could be carrying the ten pounds of marshmallows which she will use to make the krispy squares.

This candy-making project is nothing new for the housemother. She used to make candy for her family every year, and since becoming housemother, she has carried on the tradition.

When asked why she does this every year, Mom Westfall replied, "I thoroughly enjoy doing it," and added, "It's part of Christmas for my boys."

December Yields Music, Tests, Basketball, Recess

Although Christmas vacation is less than three weeks away, a number of activities are scheduled to round out the semester.

The McPherson College-Community Orchestra conducted by Robert G. Jones, assistant professor in music and director of bands and orchestra, will present a concert on Sunday, Dec. 4 at 3:00 p.m. in Brown Auditorium. Mrs. Stephanie Jones, first oboist with the orchestra, will be the featured soloist at the concert.

Two basketball games conclude the year: Baker University will be here on Wednesday, Dec. 7, and McPherson will journey to Bethel on Monday, Dec. 13.

Enrollment Dates

Students must enroll on the following dates. Those whose last names begin with A-G must enroll Tuesday, Jan. 17, 8 a.m. Those whose last names begin H-O must enroll Jan. 17 at 1 p.m., and students whose last names begin P-Z must enroll Wednesday, Jan. 18, 8 a.m.

Light Satire To Conclude Lab Theater

"The Marriage Proposal," a one-act play by Anton Chekhov, will be presented Dec. 13 in Brown Auditorium as the last of the laboratory theater series.

"This play is very, very beautifully written," said Eugene Czaplinski, sr, McPherson, director, "and I think we have the cast to make this a success. It is a very appealing classic—a light satire on the institution of marriage."

Tschubuvov, the father, will be played by Marlin Hoover, soph, Rocky Ford, Colo.—Julie Standafer, sr, Worthington, Minn., will portray his daughter, Natalia.

When Lomov, played by Clark Ratliffe, soph, Park Ridge, Ill., comes to court, the marriage proposal turns into a lovers' argument and even the father becomes embroiled in it.

On Tuesday, Dec. 13, lab theaters directed by Marilyn Smith, soph, Cedaridge, Colo., and Gene Czaplinski, sr, McPherson, will be staged in Brown Auditorium at 7 p.m. A Players Club meeting follows.

All library books are due at the library on Thursday, Dec. 15. The library will observe the regular hours.

Semester examinations begin at 7:30 a.m. on Friday, Dec. 16 and will conclude on Wednesday, Dec. 21. Anyone desiring a copy of the examination schedule may inquire at the registrar office.

Christmas vacation begins after the last examination and extends until the first day of enrollment.

Basketball Season Blasts into Roundhouse

Cagers Open New Season

McPherson College Bulldog basketball team will open its regular conference play against the Baker Wildcats Wednesday, Dec. 7 at 7:30 p.m. at the McPherson High School Roundhouse, with a B-team game starting at 5:45.

The Bulldogs finished in a tie with the Ottawa Braves for fifth place last year in the Kansas Collegiate Athletic Conference. Each team compiled a record of nine wins and nine losses.

The Wildcats finished in ninth position in the KGAC with a 6-12 record. They had a total record of 8-15; McPherson's total win loss record was 20-13. The last time these two teams played, the Bulldogs proved to be the better team in a 75-63 battle at the Roundhouse.

Baker is not expected to be a powerhouse this year, and McPherson, although losing key players, should come back with a victory, according to coach Don Widrig.

"We should finish in the top division this year if we continue to work hard and long in developing ourselves," stated head basketball coach Don Widrig.

Last year the Bulldogs tied Ottawa for fifth place in the Kansas Collegiate Athletic Conference with nine wins and nine defeats in conference play.

Widrig indicated that the team has a lot of spirit and drive and could surprise many teams in the conference this year.

Coach Widrig predicts that College of Emporia, Kansas Wesleyan University, Southwestern and Ottawa will be the teams to beat for the conference championship.

Cagers Drop Peru Clash After 68-67 Sterling Win

By JOHN COOK

The Bulldogs dropped their semi-final match with the Peru State Bobcats, 65-60, Tuesday night in McPherson Invitational Tournament action.

The Bulldogs were cold throughout the first half, hitting only 7 of 34 from the field for a meager 20.5 per cent and 5 of 8 free throws. The Bobcats were slightly warmer, sinking 12 of 38 for 31 per cent and dropping in 10 of 13 from the line. At the half, Peru State held a 34-19 edge.

The Bulldogs came to life in the second half, cutting the deficit to five, but superior Bobcat height proved to be the decisive factor as McPherson was beaten in the rebound department 47-29. Led by Gene Phillips and reserve Gene Czaplinski, the Bulldogs outscored Peru 41-32 in the second half.

Phillips led McPherson scoring with 16 points and gathered in 12 rebounds. Three other Bulldogs scored in double figures; Gene Czaplinski with 13, Gene Nilson with 11, and Hal Wright with 10 points.

Ron Snodgrass led Bobcat scoring with 16 points. McPherson shot 29.7 per cent from the field for the game compared to 37.9 per cent for Peru State.

Monday night, the Bulldogs gained the semi-finals in squeezing by the Sterling College Warriors 68-67. McPherson led throughout the first half, going into the half with a 10 point lead. Sterling tied the score 48-48 with 13:10 remaining in the second half.

McPherson then regained the advantage and held it until 1:18 remained in the game and Sterling again tied the score 66-66.

Stewart of Sterling sank a free throw with nine seconds on the clock to put Sterling in front 67-66. McPherson's Jeff Lambert then connected with a 25 foot jumper as the buzzer sounded to end the game.

Lambert led Bulldog scoring with 18 points. Hal Wright and Don Woodcock each added 10 points. Gene Phillips pulled in 12 rebounds to lead the Bulldogs in that department.

Tournament Pairings Set For Moundridge Clashes

Pairings have been announced for the 16th annual Central Kansas Collegiate Basketball Tournament to be held at Moundridge today and Saturday, Dec. 3.

Tonight, the opening game at 7 p.m. will feature the Bethany College Swedes and the Bethel College Threshers. At 8:45 p.m. McPherson College Bulldogs will clash with the Tabor College team. Bethany is the defending champion and has won the tournament the last two years. Should Bethany win this year it would obtain permanent possession of the challenge trophy.

The trophy of the tournament must be won three years in a row to become the permanent possession of a team.

During the 16 consecutive years of the tournament the trophy has only been retired twice. Trophy No. 1 went to Bethel in 1956 and Trophy No. 2 to Bethany in 1959.

Varsity cheerleaders are selling tickets at $1.25 for both nights. They will be sold at the door at Moundridge for $2.25 for each night.

The Tabor College Pep Band will serve as the official tournament band this year.

Bowling Townies Tie For First With Bonnets

There is a tight race for first place in intramural bowling, as the Townies and Red Bonnets have identical records of 25 wins and 11 losses, according to results of the games bowled Nov. 22.

The Townies have a slight edge in total pins, however, with 16316 compared to the 15551 pins of the Red Bonnets.

Following the top two teams are the Superballs, who have a record of 21 wins and 15 losses; the Turn Onns, 20 and 16; the Jokers, 15 and 21; and the No Shows, 2 and 34.

The high team three-game series went to the Townies, who had a total of 1766 pins. Following were the Red Bonnets with 1715 and the Superballs with 1677.

High individual three game series went to Pete Kaiser, who rolled a 506. Steve Riner and Terry Wokoty followed with a 495 and 479, respectively.

Volleyball

Teams Bid For Trophy

The intramural volleyball season will come to a close next week as the nine teams meet head-on in the final tournament which will determine who is to carry the trophy home until next year.

Pairings for the tournament are to be announced sometime this week, according to Don Widrig, associate professor in physical education and head basketball coach.

The final volleyball standings as of Nov. 27 are as follows: M-Metzler Hall, B-Bittinger Hall, F-Fahnestock Hall, A - Arnold Hall, C-College Courts and numbers-floors.

Team	Won	Lost
M-3	21	1
A-1	16	7
F-3	16	7
B-3	14	9
C	14	10
M-1	12	11
M-2	8	15
B-2	4	19
F-1	4	17

Coach Widrig said that intramural basketball would start next semester and that the teams would be divided as in volleyball—according to dorm and floor.

Quad Editor to Send More to Publisher

Included in the next deadline of the Quadrangle, which will be in the middle of December, will be the students who made Who's Who, pictures of buildings, football and spring sports, homecoming pictures and class officers, according to Jean Yoder, sr, McPherson, editor.

Club to Discuss German Singing

The German Club will meet in the home of Dr. van Asselt, associate professor of German and linguistics, tonight at 7:45. Interest will be directed towards the German Christmas singing and organization.

NASA Photographs On Display at Brown

An exhibit of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, "Photography from Five Years of Space," will be on public display at Friendship Hall, McPherson College from Dec. 1 to Dec. 22 during the hours of 8 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Over 100 photographs, mostly in color, depict highlights from the Government Space Agency's four major program fields — manned space flight, space sciences, applications, and advanced research and technology. Prints of the moon probe are included.

This photographic exhibit presents unforgettable persons and events recorded for posterity by the camera. The prints in the exhibit provide visual information to assist the understanding of U.S. space science and technology, as reflected in NASA activities in the peaceful exploration of outer space.

To those who use the camera professionally, or as an avocation, the exhibition is an exciting collection of outstanding photographs by NASA, "Life," "National Geographic," and "New York Times" cameramen.

"Photography From Five Years of Space" is being distributed by NASA throughout the U.S. and Canada by the Photographic Society of America, the world's largest photographic organization.

The exhibit is being displayed in museums, art centers, educational institutions and public libraries, and at state fairs.

Many of the photographs that are on display were made with 35mm cameras and film similar to equipment in general use by the public today.

Also on display in Friendship Hall from Dec. 1 through Dec. 22, will be approximately 35 examples of graphic art with a religious theme... from pages of early Bibles and missals to interpretations by our contemporary masters... both American and European included:

Chagall, Fuchs, Goerg, Tama-yo, Rouault, Denis, Redon, Clarke, Albert, Donovan, Merrick, Spruance and others.

This exhibit is loaned by de Cinque Graphic Art, Philadelphia, Pa. All of the works are for sale.

Dolls from the collection of Mrs. Forrest Morris, McPherson, will be on display in the showcases in Friendship Hall from Dec. 1 to Dec. 22.

'Anne Frank' Reconstructs Pain in Film

The movie, "Diary of Anne Frank," will be shown in Brown Auditorium, Friday, Dec. 2, at 9 p.m.

The 170 minute film is taken from the Pulitzer Prize-winning play by Frances Goodrich and Albert Hackett, which was taken from the book "Anne Frank: The Diary of a Young Girl," by Anne Frank.

One of the most affecting human documents of our time, based on the diary of a young Jewish girl before she was killed in a Nazi concentration camp.

Written during the two years of hiding in an Amsterdam attic, her diary faithfully records the daily routine, alarms, quarrels, reconciliations and mutual comfort of eight frightened people.

"A masterpiece... the movie shines with a fundamental conviction that, even under the most abysmal conditions, man will find a way to pass on what he has learned and to perpetuate himself." — "Time Magazine."

Ottawa, C of E Dominate All-Conference Standings

The two teams that shared the Kansas Conference football championship for 1966, Ottawa University and the College of Emporia, also dominated the All-Conference offensive and defensive teams for the past season.

C. of E. had three players named to the offensive unit, as did Ottawa, and had three more named to the defensive team.

Ottawa had two on the defensive unit, plus another who tied for a linebacker spot and thus put 3 players on the defensive all-star club.

Southwestern College, which finished third with a 7-2 mark behind the co-champions 8-1 records, placed two men on each unit.

Bethany had one on each unit, plus the other tie for the linebacker spot with Ottawa, and Baker had one player named to each unit.

The one Baker player was the only one to make both units this year. He is Mike Philpot, a 220-pound senior lineman from Fredonia.

Other schools represented on the teams were McPherson College and Friends University.

Four players on the offensive unit were unanimous selections of the coaches, as were two players on the defensive team.

The offensive choices were Leonard Schuefler, Ottawa; Terry Skinner, C. of E.; Ronnie Swartz, C. of E.; and Dennis Brown, C. of E.

Unanimous choices on the defensive team were Martin Waller, Ottawa; and Dennis Cavalier, Southwestern. The two teams were made up of 13 seniors, six juniors and four sophomores.

Only two players are repeaters from last year's team. Schuefler is a repeat selection on the offensive club, and Richard Bannon, Ottawa quarterback, made the offensive club this year and was picked as a defensive back a year ago as a sophomore.

The offensive unit: Leonard Schuefler, Ottawa and Tom Worthing, McPherson, ends; Terry Skinner, C. of E., center; and Richard Bannon, Ottawa, quarterback.

Offensive linemen are Mike Farrell, Southwestern; Jesse Randall, Ottawa; Mike Philpot, Baker; and Ron Swartz, C. of E.

Defensive backs are Dennis Brown, C. of E.; Leroy Blackwell, Southwestern; and Larry Harjess, Bethany.

The defensive team has 12 members, due to a tie in the voting.

All-conference defensive ends are Wendell Derritt, C. of E. and Mike Philpot, Baker.

Defensive linemen are Martin Waller, Ottawa; Joseph Potucek, Friends; Bruce Bruce C. of E.; and Gary Lesnivich, Bethany.

Defensive linebackers are Chuck Brass, Southwestern; Brad O'Dea, Ottawa; and Louis Wotman, Bethany.

Safeties on the team are Dennis Cavalier, Southwestern; Darrell Cowens, Ottawa; and Rex Crane, C. of E.

College Y Sponsors Tutoring Service for High Schoolers

By BOB ALBIN

The McPherson College Y this year is sponsoring several projects enabling students from the campus to perform various services in the community. Within these services are work projects at the YMCA and a tutoring program.

The tutoring program was developed during the second semester last year under the leadership of Dave Sovchen, soph, Pittsburgh, Pa.

It involved several students from the campus who tutored only high school students and turned out to be successful enough to sanction its use again this year.

The MCY committee decided to try the program for the entire year this year, and also, see if it could not expand its use over the rest of the grade levels and to a greater number of students.

June Ware, jr. Ottumwa, Iowa; Lethia Brown, jr. Hutchinson; and Robert Albin, jr. Dallas Center, Iowa, have been working together with the MCY in further development of the tutoring program.

June and Lethia are working with the elementary level and Bob is working with the high school level. Their duties are to find students on campus who are capable of and willing to help weak or otherwise deficient students on the various grade levels.

They have been working with the full cooperation of the faculty and have also received numerous volunteers expressing a desire to help.

After these three students find an area in which a student is best suited to tutor, the individual consults with the teacher, counselor and parents.

The tutor then sets up a time schedule with the student and meets with him during certain periods in the week to help him with whatever scholastic problems he may be having.

Meeting place and time are determined by the student and tutor according to convenience, and the amount of time spent is determined by the tutor in his observation of the student's needs.

So far MCY has received numerous calls from the schools for help and presently have six tutors working with the students.

Students working as tutors are Roh Cassidente, sr. Denver; Art McAuley, sr. Warrensburg, Mo.; Marcella Sherfy, jr. McPherson; Lorene Pauls, jr. Inman; Janet Knackstedt, jr. McPherson; and Ron Meck, fr. Omaha.

Dell, Guenther
