DeCourseys Return from Pakistan With Tales of Blackouts, New Friends

Dr. Wesley DeCoursey, professor of chemistry, has returned to the McPherson College staff again this year after a year's sabbatical leave.

Dr. DeCoursey was granted a Fulbright Lectureship to Jinnah College, Karachi, Pakistan. His family—wife Verda and three children, Rita, Tom and Dora—accompanied him.

Departing from San Francisco by plane, the DeCoursey family traveled west around the world, stopping in Hawaii, Tokyo and Kyoto, Japan; Hong Kong; Bangkok, Thailand; and New Delhi and Agra, India.

Dr. DeCoursey taught a few days in Pakistan before the war between India and Pakistan made it impossible to teach.

They spent several nights in Karachi in blackouts. Anyone leaving a house light on might have it broken by stones, thrown by someone in the neighborhood. They could stand on a hill and look across the city without seeing a light.

DeCourseys were forced to leave Karachi due to war and were transferred to Tehran University in Tehran, Iran.

In Tehran, Dr. DeCoursey was sent to the various universities in Iran by the United States Information Service to give special lectures in petrochemistry, atomic structure and non-aqueous solvents.

Upon leaving Tehran, they traveled by air to the Holy Land where they visited Jerusalem in Jordan, and Israel. From Israel they traveled to Athens, Greece; Naples and Rome in Italy; and finally to Frankfurt in Germany, where they purchased a Volkswagen 1300 fast-back.

Mrs. DeCoursey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Grove of Sigourney, Iowa, joined the DeCourseys at Frankfurt and drove with them through France, Italy, Switzerland, Germany, Denmark and Holland.

Together, they flew to London and then to New York where they got the VW which they had had shipped to the United States.

The three children were able to attend excellent schools in Karachi and in Tehran, said Dr. DeCoursey. He also stated that the opportunity to know students of other nationalities and learn about other cultures was invaluable.

College Uses IBM Cards First Time

Enrollment of McPherson College students was done by IBM this year, for the first time in the college's history.

Enrollment began August 30 in the gym, where students filled out housing, identification and schedule cards.

After all students had enrolled, the IBM cards, which students had filled out, were sent to Kansas Wesleyan University where they were sent through an IBM machine.

Cards were fed through the machines Wednesday evening and were sorted and ready for professors the next morning.

The I.B.M. machines sort the student cards by the student's identification number, course number and according to the course professor.

Kansas Wesleyan University also has a printing calculator. This calculator is used for making grade point, class roster and student record cards.

The I.B.M. setup will speed up enrollment before each semester and will also decrease the time it usually takes for students to receive their grade reports.

Students dragging out of bed at 6:30 every morning to attend 7:30 a.m. classes, hurriedly writing term papers before Dec. 21 while frantically cramming for tests and completing projects will be the fare of students facing the new class schedule this fall.

Not only will students attend classes continuously until the semester break Dec. 21, but class hours are also different from last year.

Classes begin at 7:30 a.m. Monday through Friday with 50 minutes sessions on Monday, Wednesday and Friday and 75 minutes sessions on Tuesday and Thursday.

Bell Telephone Sponsors State Talent Show

Tryouts for a McPherson College talent television show are to be held Thursday, Sept. 22, at Brown Auditorium, from 3:30-5:30 p.m.

This will be a statewide entertainment special featuring variety artists and groups on the state collegiate scene produced on location against the college's own campus background and sponsored by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

In addition to singers, dancers, musicians or groups, the program is also looking for specialty acts such as monologists, comics or magicians.

Students are asked to provide their own accompaniment at the audition. A public address with turntable will be available for dancers or others who need a record player.

Performers who are selected for the show will be paid a professional fee. Anyone wishing to audition should notify Larry Marcellus in room 104, Mohler Hall.

Several students had varying opinions on the new fall schedule. When asked how he liked going to school with only one day off until Dec. 21, Bob Klockars, jr., Glen Ellyn, Ill., replied, "It's great! We'll get three weeks off at Christmas, and I'll have plenty of time to go skiing."

Jean Yoder, sr., McPherson, had still another opinion. She said, "I think it will be a long hard draw until Christmas, but then everyone will enjoy the vacation more."

Jean also added, "Three weeks is too long for a vacation; two is plenty."

Craig Pearsall, so, Denville, N. J., expressed his disapproval of the new schedule and also commented, "We should have at least two days off for Thanksgiving."

Connie Kitzel, jr., Omaha, Neb., remarked, "I really like the new schedule, but I don't think many others do."

Expressing the opinion of many, Pat Greenway, jr., Indianapolis, Ind., said, "I wish we had a few days off for Thanksgiving. By the semester break, everyone will really be ready to enjoy their vacation."

Tests Free Students Of Various Courses

Advanced placement tests were given this year, for the first time, to McPherson College students who had a strong high school background in mathematics, biology, chemistry, foreign language and/or speech.

Students who passed the examinations were excused from taking certain beginning courses in these areas, and were allowed to take more advanced courses.

Anyone who felt qualified in any of these areas was urged to take the test.

Also the English proficiency test was given to all juniors and to some seniors.

Ambitious Undertakings Await Drama Dept.

"Julius Caesar" and "Bye Bye Birdie" will headline the 1966-67 theatre season at McPherson College, according to Loren D. Reyher, assistant professor of English and drama.

"We want to try a few things this season that we haven't attempted prior to this time," Prof. Reyher said. "Julius Caesar" is certainly an ambitious undertaking for this department, because it requires such a large cast.

To be produced in the spring, "Bye Bye Birdie" will be a departure from the two-year-old custom of a major production in the round. Prof. Reyher said. The musical will be staged in a proscenium setting, he said.

In addition to the two major plays, Prof. Reyher plans to direct a dramatic recital in October, "Ballads, Baubles and Bombs," a potpourri of light poetry.

Laboratory theatre, student directed productions in the round, will get underway in October. Directors will be drawn from members of Alpha Psi Omega, national dramatics fraternity, and of the play production class.

784 Students Reach Record Enrollment

As of Sept. 2, the fall enrollment stands at 784 students. This includes 496 men and 288 women. At the same time last year, 461 men and 236 women were enrolled, for a total of 697 full time students.

The final number of full time students will be tabulated within the next few days. The total fall enrollment may exceed eight hundred students after night classes are included in the enrollment figures.

Circle K Starts Year With Sale

Finishing up the first week of school with the end of the Used Book Sale, McPherson College's Circle K International Club started its initial year of service activities for campus and community.

Chartered only last May, Circle K is headed this year by Ron Cassidente, sr., Denver, president; Pete Koiser, sr., Kenosha, Wis., vice-president; Tim Granger, sr., Munster, Ind.; secretary and Tom McAdams, sr., Tipp City, Ohio, Treasurer.

Collecting a five per cent service charge to be used for future projects, the club sold over $1,300 worth of used books and re-distributed over $1,200 to students.

Future projects include attendance at meetings of the sponsoring local McPherson Kiwanis club; sponsoring the annual Bloodmobile, coming Oct. 11; educating members and the campus on the meaning and purpose of Circle K; and starting a projected two semester membership drive.

Following the International Administrative Circle K Theme for 1966-67, the MacCollege Circle K plans to initiate an active program to "Serve With Purpose," said Cassidente.

Library Receives Chinese Newspaper

The largest Chinese language newspaper in Free China, The Central Daily News, will be mailed to the College Library for the first time this year, announced Miss Virginia Harris, librarian.

Bittinger Hall To Be Dedicated

Dedication for the new men's dorm will take place on October 22 after the homecoming football game with Baker. It will be named Bittinger Hall after McPherson College's previous president, Desmond W. Bittinger.

Community Sing To Be In Brown

McPherson Church of the Brethren is organizing a College Community Sing to be held in Brown Auditorium, Sunday, Sept. 11, at 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Doris Coppock, instructor in music, will lead the group of students and other interested people in the community in about 45 minutes of singing. Mrs. J. Jack Melhorn will be organist.

After the singing session, students will be divided into groups which will then visit in the homes of community church people.

All churches are invited to participate in the community sing. Purpose of the college community sing is to create good feelings between college students and the people of McPherson.

Workers Earn Extra Credit

Evening Courses Begin This Fall

Saturday, late afternoon and evening courses are being offered at McPherson College during the fall semester of the 1966-67 school year.

Music in the elementary school is a Thursday class which meets from 3-5:30 p.m.

As a course designed for the non-music major who is completing the elementary teacher's certificate, it is the study of music methods and materials for the elementary grades as related to the responsibilities of the classroom teacher.

Shakespeare class meets on Thursday from 4:50-7:15 p.m. This deals with the life and times of Shakespeare with a study of selected plays.

Astronomy meets on Thursday from 7:25-9:50. This is a study of constellations, planets, meteors, and comets; size, composition, and motion of the sun and stars.

This history of Kansas is another course that is offered at the same time as Shakespeare. It is a study of the formative years of the history of the state and the contributions her people made to the total stream of American development.

It is designed with special relevance for public school teachers.

Administration and Supervision of student teaching is offered on Saturdays from 10-12:40 a.m. This course is sponsored jointly by McPherson College and Kansas University.

Students may receive graduate credit. Dr. Karl Edwards, Director of Student teaching at Kansas University, will be the instructor assisted by several McPherson College faculty members.

Monroe Hughbanks, assistant professor in education and Spanish, is conducting a Monday 7-9 p.m. ground training aviation course.

Another Monday evening class is instruction methods: the teaching of reading, which meets from 7-9:30 p.m.

Monday and Thursday classes are: principles of arithmetic and farm organization.

Principles of arithmetic deals with the understanding and applying the properties of arithmetic.

Application of economic principles to organization and management of the farm; use and analysis of farm records, budgeting, size of operation, choice of enterprises, types of farming, leases, and farm credit are studied in the farm organization class which meets from 7:25-9:50 p.m.

Introduction to ceramics and advanced ceramics are being offered on Tuesday evenings from 7-9:30 p.m.

Introduction to ceramics is an introductory applied study of the making, decorating, and firing of pottery and other clay forms. Advanced sculpture is continued work with ceramic sculpture and wood carving.

These evening classes run parallel to the daytime classes and are taught by qualified professors. The use of the evening school program has made it possible for adults to complete their college education while at the same time carrying on their regular daytime jobs.

Quiet Revolt Wages Here

McPherson College is in the initial stages of what promises to be a quietly exciting revolution. As in bloodier, more bitter revolutions throughout history, this revolution is a struggle against the oppression of too much tradition, of too little willingness to accept change.

With a fierce determination to quash unneeded tradition the College since last spring has:

Joined with five other church-related colleges in an organized effort to provide better facilities for all students involved;

Revised the organization of faculty committees for more efficient operation;

Inaugurated a development program with an over-all goal of $5 million and a student participation goal of $10,000;

Switched enrollment procedures to IBM processing.

A sense of anticipation pervading the campus indicates the revolution may not yet have come to full fruition. But the pace has been set.

Mental Adjustments

Difficult for Seniors

By RON CASSIDENTE
Changing times mean changing faces as the few lone seniors left, after marriage and the draft have taken their toll, can testify. Anyone can identify the seniors by the questioning looks they give each freshman when surprised by new faces as the freshmen themselves are.

It is very debatable who has the hardest time adjusting at the beginning of each year. The freshmen expect it as a matter of fact, but the seniors are caught up in adjustments as a matter of surprise.

Freshmen must adjust to the fact that this might be their home for four years. Alas, the sad senior can only look forward to one more year of embryonic comfort—followed by many more years in a cold cruel world. This definitely calls for mental adjustments.

Or consider the new enrollment procedure. It's a matter for the record that the seniors took twice as long adjusting to a "new-fangled" system, that didn't even phase the freshman who accepted it as required adjustment and took it in their stride.

Like the old conservative Republican who doesn't see a need for change, the seniors seemed to balk at the many modern attempts to speed up their enrollment process with protests of, "the old way was better and faster," and "Why do I have to keep going back to my seat, when I can write just as well here."

One senior was even seen bending his class cards on the 'do not fold here' line, just as a means of registering his protest.

Then again, it is possible that the seniors were as satisfied with enrollment as the freshmen. That is if anyone could be satisfied with anything after standing in line for four hours.

The final adjusting test came for the seniors as an epidemic of oddly positioned blisters were reported after the 75 minute class sessions on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Although this epidemic wasn't confined to the senior class, they seemed to suffer more due to the longer convalescent period for aging bodies.

All in all, the face of changing education will be rough on every one for a while until the old gives way completely to the new.

At that time, the maladjusted seniors will go underground, hoping for a new hero who will lead a reactionary force, armed with heart shaped paper punches, in a raid against the progressive IBM elements in the registrar's office.

Back with progress—forward with brotherly love.

What Is Man?

Social Rules Pressure Man, Create Tension

By JERRY LASATER
Man is not a domestic animal. The selective breeding necessary for domestication has never been applied to him, while in recent centuries his own social actions have changed the impingement of natural selection.

Perhaps we are really wild animals tamed by our own social processes we encounter during our infancy and childhood. Because of this a wide variety of humans survive, and this variety, while helping our creativity, results in increased social pressures.

It is because we differ so much in temperament and endowment that the social restraints necessary for our survival seem so burdensome.

Men and women are caught between the millstones of their temperament and the customs of the society in which they live and which they must accept in order to survive.

When two forces conflict, people become anxious, resentful, guilty or fearful, depending partly on their personal makeup and partly on the emotional expression which their society allows.

Some cultures seem to have fewer deviant people than others. This may be due to greater tolerance or to their not allowing deviants to survive.

America is allowing deviant groups to exist—or is it?

Announcements to Be Submitted on Tuesdays

Convocation programs with announcements will be printed on Wednesday of each week. Announcements must be handed to either Dr. Wayne Miller, associate professor of speech, in Mohler 105, or Mrs. Dell in the president's office, by Tuesday of each week.

Freshman Initiation Features Hobbled Feet, Cold Showers

By PHIL GROVE
Freshman initiation activities begin Monday, Sept. 12, with small steps and will conclude the following Friday with the thunder of freshman feet running onto the football field during the half time ceremonies of the McPherson - College of Emporia football game.

All freshmen will be hobbled by a rope or string—no longer than 18 inches on Monday, Sept. 12. They must also be able to recite the names of 10 professors and what they teach, upon request of an upperclassman.

Freshmen must wear proper Sunday apparel on Tuesday. For men, dress shirt, tie, jacket, and dress slacks must be worn.

Correct attire for women will be heels, hose, dress suit or good dress.

All freshmen must eat while standing up Wednesday. Tray must be held in hands. These two orders must be followed during each meal.

No women shall wear make-up nor will they be allowed to comb their hair Thursday. Colored anklets and unmatched shoes must be worn.

Men must wear girls jewelry, hose and shorts.

Each freshman must wear a sack over his head, and shall assist upperclassmen whenever the need arises on Friday. Carrying trays to and from the dining tables for upperclassmen will also be required.

All of these rules must be obeyed or punishment will be in order.

Upon the first offense, a large M shall be placed on the forehead of the offender. The second offense results in a cold shower or dip in a tub of cold water at midnight and again at 6 a.m. the following morning.

The annual freshman-sophomore tug-of-war will take place Friday, Sept. 16, at 6:30 p.m. on the banks of the lagoon.

Final initiation ceremonies will take place Friday night at the football game's half time ceremonies. The student court is in charge of the ceremonies which will officially welcome the freshman students into McPherson College.

Volunteers Test for Corps

There will be a Peace Corps placement test given to volunteers Sept. 10, at 9 a.m., at the main post office at Salina or Hutchinson.

Any citizen of the United States, 18 or older and has no dependents under 18 is eligible.

28 Coeds Call Kline Hall 'Home'

There is no place like home unless it's a home away from home. Twenty-eight coeds will call Kline Hall "home" this year.

Cooking and sewing are on the agenda for the women of Kline Hall. Not only do all the coeds share kitchens, but they also are making cafe curtains for their rooms.

When asked how she likes living in Kline Hall, Peg Slater, soph., Denver, replied, "I really like it here. Kline has a homey, warm atmosphere that a new building just doesn't have."

Living in Kline is like staying at a girl's summer camp because all of us have bunk beds." Connie Zimbleman, soph., McPherson, also added, "I especially like the location of Kline, and it's so convenient to be able to cook right here."

The residents of Kline recently elected their new dorm council. President is Carol Radatz, jr., Galva; vice president, Jean Kwok, jr., Korea; secretary-treasurer, June Ware, jr., Ottumwa, Iowa; proctor, Donna Nikodim, soph. Ely, Iowa.

Mrs. Almira Shuler, Ottawa, is the housemother of Kline Hall.

ACCK Receives $24,000 Grant

A one year federal grant of $24,000 has been received by the Associated Colleges of Central Kansas, of which McPherson College is a member.

The grant will be used by the ACCK to hire a full time director and secretary for the organization and to provide office space for them.

Appointment to these positions will be considered along with other business at the September 26 meeting of the association.

This is but one indication of the rapid growth of the ACCK, which was organized on May 6, 1966. Rental of the IBM equipment from Kansas Wesleyan University, which helped speed fall registration at McPherson, shows that cooperation between colleges, an ACCK goal, is now a reality.

Other purposes of the ACCK include assistance to member institutions in developing additional sources of revenue and improvement of efficiency of operations of member colleges.

Cooperation in the use of library resources and development of a telephone communication system to facilitate cooperation are among future ACCK plans.

Other members in the association are Bethany College, Kansas Wesleyan University, Sterling College and Tabor College.

Football Season Swings into Action

The 1966 football season is getting set to swing into action this fall.

Head coach Sid Smith and his assistants, Don Widrig and Art Ray are molding together the 66 Bulldogs.

Practice started for the team Sept. 1 with approximately 63 players showing up for the first practice.

The Bulldog's coaches are putting in an entirely new set of offensive and defensive plays. "This year's games will be football in motion; instead of hiding the football, we're showing it to the fans," stated Coach Smith.

"The Bulldogs are expecting to give a full 100 per cent and go on the field only to win," said the Bulldog's mentor.

Smith praised the work of Ralph Barr, Ed Shapley, Roy Parsons, and Tom Brubaker on defense.

He liked the ends, both offensively and defensively. The pass defense described by Smith was quite good. The punting and kicking game should be a strong point.

Smith expects additional aid from the offensive line.

The Bulldogs lack some bench strength and need more blocking and tackling practice.

The 1966 football schedule is as follows:

- Sept. 16 C. of E. here
- Sept. 24 K.W.U. there
- Sept. 30 Southwestern here
- Oct. 8 Friends here
- Oct. 15 Bethany there
- Oct. 22 Baker (homecoming) here
- Oct. 29 Ottawa there
- Nov. 4 Bethel here
- Nov. 12 Sterling there

The show is being sponsored by the McPherson County Hospital Auxiliary as a benefit for the county hospital.

Prof. Reyher, in addition to directing the show, will play the major role of Dante, sophisticated reincarnation from another world.

Other cast members are Dell Ann Dyar, Wilma Matson, Ken Dyar and Rollyn Wall.

The play is designed as a satiric comedy concerning politics, society and government, Prof. Reyher said.

Inexperience Marks Team

By GENE CZAPLINSKI
The name of the game is football and observers of the 1966-67 KCAC football race predict a real run for the title.

Southwestern, with 24 regulars back; C. of E. with its tremendous pride and steady influx of fine talent; and Ottawa, with the returnees from last year's conference champs. All shape up as potential champions.

McPherson College fits into the picture of a second division club. Hard hit by graduation losses of key personnel, the Bulldogs would do well to match last year's 2-8 mark. Experience is the rule in the KCAC and this is a rebuilding year for us.

McPherson has one distinct advantage this year which it has not had in a long time—another coach.

Dropping by the field during practice, one can see the change and its effectiveness on the players. It is certainly a step one can commend the administration for taking—a step long overdue.

A football team with untrained personnel is as effective as a submarine with a screen door and sinks about as fast. The addition of another pair of eyes and guiding voice is certainly a solid step in the right direction.

Next week we will preview our choice in the conference race and begin our quest to beat the .773 forecasting mark of last year.

This will be a study program for students, and these students will receive full accreditation.

Enrollment will be at the University of the Andes, and applications for the first semester must be made before October 1, 1966. Participating students will begin the semester in Colombia in January of 1967.
