

Nye to Represent Clinical Center During Visit on College Campus

Delbert Nye, of the Clinical Center, National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, Md., will be on campus Wednesday and Thursday, March 8 and 9.

Nye will explain how students may spend next summer taking part in medical research.

He will invite students to go to Bethesda, where they will receive free room and board, laundry and will be paid a daily stipend.

Dental and medical services are also available, if needed, and a variety of free recreational activities are offered.

Nye stated that they will be healthy patients living in a research hospital, and that the physicians need to study healthy persons to compare and contrast them with ill ones.

Those students who are accepted will undergo certain tests, some of them involving minor physical discomforts.

Nye indicated that none of the test will be dangerous because each test is studied by teams of physicians before it is approved. However, a volunteer may withdraw from the program at any time if he wishes.

Nearly all students at Bethesda have chosen to take part in the Career Development Program for Volunteers.

They work under the direction of scientists or others in various specialties, four or more hours a day.

Nye will lead a group discussion Wednesday March 8 in room 304 Mohler Hall. He will interview students individually the following day.

McPherson, Sterling Hold Exchange

McPherson College and Sterling College are currently participating in the Student Council exchange program set up by the Kansas Conference Student Association.

In the Feb. 22 meeting of the Student Council, 12 members of the Sterling council visited and participated in McPherson's council meeting.

Comedy Cast Readies For Stage Production

Six weeks of rehearsal will culminate March 8-11 for the seven members of the cast for this semester's first major production, Neil Simon's comedy "Come Blow Your Horn."

Curtain time at 8:15 p.m. for the four-night run will see veterans as well as new-comers to the McPherson College stage.

Peggy Slater, soph, Denver; Merv Penner, jr, McPherson; Marlin Hoover, soph, Denver; and Linda Kurtz, sr, McLouth, have appeared in previous major productions, while new faces are Clark Ratliffe, soph, Park Ridge, Ill.; Marilyn Smith, soph, Cedaredge, Colo.; and Floralyn Flory, soph, McPherson.

"One difficulty which both cast and director have faced has been that of creating entirely new characters, different characters from those the actors have previously portrayed," commented director Loren D. Reyher, assistant professor in English and theater.

"With this in mind," he continued, "I feel the cast as a whole have done an admirable job in divorcing themselves from previous roles and assuming new identities."

Tickets for the comedy, which was Simon's first Broadway hit and which is still in production on the theater circuit, will be available in the Student Union during the lunch and supper hours beginning Monday, March 6.

Student admission will be by activity ticket, but reserved section tickets must be secured for admission.

"I am certain that on opening night, the freshness of the play and cast will lead to one of the most appealing and successful productions seen here," said Prof. Reyher.

Quiring Hopes to Fill Vacancy

Mrs. Robert Quiring, instructor in English, is a candidate for one of the three vacancies on the Board of Education of Unified District 418.

Mrs. Quiring is a McPherson College graduate and is currently working toward her M. A. in English and education at Wichita State University.

She has done research work on the school dropout problem, intelligence testing procedures, and other problems in educational research.

"I feel that through my study, work and experience, I am at least aware of some of the concerns and problems that beset parents, students, teachers and administrators in the realm of education. I would like to serve the community as a school board member."

English Department Sponsors Award

By MARGE KECK

The English Department at McPherson College is locally sponsoring the Sixth Annual Amy Loveman National Award. Any personal library collected by an undergraduate student attending a four-year college or university in the United States may be entered.

There will be three national awards — $1000 as the first award, plus two additional honorable mention awards of $200 each. The awards at the local level will be announced later.

Each contestant must present an annotated bibliography of not less and not more than 35 books, describing each volume and its special value or interest to him.

No limit has been placed on the quantity of books, date of publication, physical format or list price of books in the student's library.

Each contestant must include a commentary on his library covering the following: a) "How, why, and when I became interested in building a personal library," b) "My ideals for a complete home library," and c) "Ten books I hope to add to my library."

Entries may consist of a general library, a collection centered on a subject, or a collection of a single author or group of authors.

Each entry will be judged on the basis of knowledge, scope, interest, value, and imagination, as shown in creating the collection.

The commentary written by the applicant on his or her collection is an important factor in judging the entry and selecting the winner, and must be included.

For the local contest, applicants may pick up entry blanks from Harley Stump, professor of English. Dr. Stump says applications must be returned by 5 p.m. Friday, March 31.

By returning their blanks after spring recess, many applicants will have a chance to bring from home some of their personal libraries.

A committee made up of members of the Department of English, Speech and Drama and the library staff will judge the local contestants. The local winner will be announced in the April 13 "Spectator."

The name of the local winner will be sent to the national contest.

Trustees to Convene: Will Hear Reports, Discuss Budget, Leaves

By MARGE KECK
McPherson College Trustees will be on campus this weekend to consider and evaluate academic proceedings for the past year and consider the future of McPherson College.

The meetings will convene tonight as members of the Education Committee meet in the Multi-purpose Room of the Church of the Brethren Education Building.

Tomorrow, meetings will begin at 8 a.m. for the whole board. They will continue until the annual Faculty-Trustee dinner, which will be held in the Student Union.

Trustees will also be in session Saturday morning until about noon.

On the agenda for the trustees are reports from Dr. J. Jack Melhorn, president, of the College; Dr. Merlin Franz, dean of academic affairs; Dr. Raymond Flory, dean of student affairs; Kenneth Yingst, director of development; and R. Gordon Yoder, business manager.

New and renominated trustees will also be seated during the meetings.

Items to be discussed include anticipated personnel needs, sabbatical leaves and leaves of absence, faculty salary schedules and salaries, the proposed budget for the 1967-68 academic year;

Recommendations on academic freedom and tenure, a review of the tenure projection of development, and election of officers to the board and committee assignments.

At the dinner tomorrow evening, personnel hired during the past year will be introduced as will the new and renominated trustees. President Melhorn will give his annual report for the 1965-66 academic year at this time.

Institute Plans March Seminar

The Ecumenical Institute of Chicago has announced plans to hold a seminar during Holy Week, March 20-23. A cost of $25 covers registration, room and board but not transportation. Persons interested in attending may contact Dr. Wayne Miller, associate professor of speech, philosophy and religion.

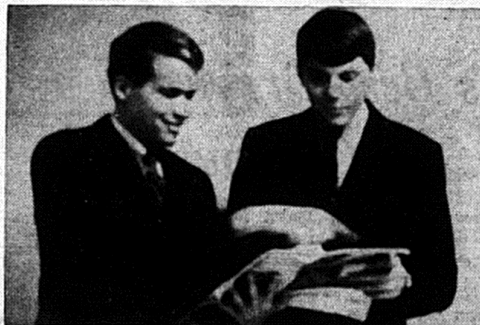

The Ecumenical Institute was created by the World Council of Churches in 1954. Its purpose is the exploration of Christian faith in the contemporary world. The program is geared specifically to the student, faculty and administration concerned with the form and function of the church on the campus.

Last year, two representatives from the Institute visited McPherson College to hold a weekend retreat which fifty students and faculty members attended.

This year, however, classes will be held in Chicago.

Leslie Fraley, Jr., assistant professor of physics, gave the following comments about the Institute course: "They fill out some of the basic ideas of Christianity. Four themes were covered: God, the Holy Spirit, Christ, and the Church. Interpretations were presented on a basis without underlying principles."

"I think it was very exciting," said Art Campbell, jr, Green Mountain, Iowa. "We studied, read, listened to lectures and discussed various issues. It showed us how Christ is relevant to the present and how Christian living is applied to daily living. Also, we tried to understand what it means to be alive in a constantly changing world."

Debaters Plan Trips

Two debate teams from McPherson College will participate in March 4 speech tournament at Ottawa University and three debaters will attend the National Convention March 27-31 at Wisconsin State University. Five debaters have joined the National Pi Kappa Delta.

In the experienced division at the Ottawa tournament will be Gary Flory, jr, McPherson; and Ken Van Blaricum, sr, Meade.

Debating for the first time in the unexperienced division will be Mike Loveless, jr, Hyattsville, Md.; and Jack Hamm, jr, Rocky Ford, Colo.

The National Convention will be held at Wisconsin State University, Whitewater, Wis. Loren D. Reyher, assistant professor in English and theater will accompany Fred Hines, jr, Warnego; Van Blaricum and Flory.

Flory, entering the discussion debate, will be the official voting delegate from McPherson College.

Debaters who have qualified and joined the National Pi Kappa Delta are Alma Moore, assistant professor in speech and English; Bonnie Harris, jr, McPherson; Pat Greenway, jr, Indianapolis, Ind.; Hines and Van Blaricum.

To join Pi Kappa Delta one must have been in five decision debates to meet Kansas Omicron qualifications.

High School Students Attend Senior Day

The third Senior Day was held on campus Saturday, Feb. 15. High school seniors from various parts of the state were present to participate in the college testing program.

Among these students, 12 took a scholarship test and 26 took the ACT. Those who took the scholarship test as well as three others were interviewed for administrative and scholastic purposes.

The first two Senior Days were held on Nov. 5 and Dec. 10 of last year. Of those who applied for a scholarship after taking the required test 53 have been approved by the Scholarship Committee.

The next Senior Day will be held on Saturday, April 1. At that time the college will be hosting the Minnesota, Iowa and Northern Missouri Youth Conference.

IBM Shows Superiority

Although IBM has been in use at McPherson College only this academic year, his personality is already apparent.

IBM objects to long names. He will allot only 18 letters to any student. He has already changed Georgette Tomlinson to Georgette and Jacqueline McIntyre to Jacqueline, proving his superiority over birth certificates.

Nor does he have any patience with telephone-book-types of alphabetizing. He is of the distinct opinion that "a" and "b" always precede "c" and firmly lists McAdams after Mauer, May and Mbaliri. No separate "Mc" departments for him!

However, it is the marriage institution that really brings out IBM's spirit. He promptly places the name of any woman student who marries on his list of students who did not return to College at semester end.

But his heart is evident when he happily enrolls that woman as a new person at the College.

He has Personality, this new employee, but his tragic flaw is that he considers each student to be a number, adding the name only as an afterthought.

With that attitude, he'll never be popular.

Sprague, Nagori Speak at International Dinner

People-to-People hit its social peak Saturday evening at the Church of the Brethren where the International Dinner was held.

About 110 people attended to sample the native dishes prepared by the foreign students of McPherson College. Speakers for the evening were Dale Sprague and Parahush Nagori of Kansas University.

Sprague, President of Collegiate International, stressed, "People-to-People in a two-way street. It is a method of international understanding."

People-to-People is an attempt to establish International programming. It is an attempt to bridge cultures and compare countries upon an international basis.

Nagori, a native of India, presented himself as a westernized foreigner. "Ask me a commercial and I can tell it to you."

"A foreign student," continued Nagori, "is branded. After being nice to him, try to understand him. The more personal contact the better the understanding."

Some of the delicacies were African bread, shrimp contained in seaweed, Nigerian fruit, and dishes native to Iraq and Finland.

Acts Audition for CT '67

A variety of entertainment was seen Feb. 21, when six acts auditioned for Campus Talent '67.

Pianist Gwendolyn Diltmars, fr. Grundy Center, Iowa, played "Tone Clusters" by Wallingford Reiger. "Lady Mary" was the title of the guitar solo given by Janet Wiggins, fr. McPherson.

Jean Weatherbie, fr. Salt Lake City, gave a dramatics reading entitled "No Black on Me." Weatherbie is a speech and drama major.

A trio composed of Harriet Helman, fr. North Manchester, Ind.; Susan Frederick, soph. McPherson and Lavonna Howell, jr. Cordell, Okla. sang "Riverboat," an original number in B flat. Delores Taylor, jr. Bronx N. Y. sang "O Mio Babbino Caro," an operatic aria.

The McPherson College Singers under the direction of Dr. Doris Coppock, professor of phy-

Two Attend People-to-People Conference

Lise Mauer and George Jones attended the People-to-People Conference in Kansas City, for the primary purpose of deciding when and where the National Conference is to be held.

Mauer, soph, Red Bank, N. J., and George Jones, sr, Canton, represented McPherson College at the conference at the People-to-People National Headquarters Building on Feb. 10-11.

The council voted to hold the April conference in St. Louis, Mo., and that the name be changed from the National Council of Collegiate Chapters to the Collegiate International Corporate Chapter.

Policies and procedures of the National Council were established and reports concerning students abroad programs, donations, finances and gifts were discussed.

In order for local chapters to belong to the National Council, they must participate in the Student Abroad Program which is the largest promotion of the National Council.

sical education for women, sang "Laura."

This mixed group of 13 members was accompanied by Mrs. Jack Melhorn.

"Campus Talent '67," an hour-long television show featuring Kansas' outstanding student performers, will be televised during the last week in May.

Good Performance Lacks Attendance

MARY NELL ALBRIGHT Friday evening's college Band Concert was not nearly as well attended as it was performed.

The Band and Robert Jones, assistant professor in music, are to be highly commended for their tasteful, precisely executed performance.

A few rare introduction and ensemble difficulties were offset by polished showmanship and Jones' careful direction of his extremely well-chosen and well-prepared program.

The evening's two major works were fascinating. Most of the movements of William Byrd's vivid portrayal of "The Battell" consisted of a simple theme which was repeated and echoed by various instruments throughout the band.

"Miniature Set" by Donald White was contemporary experience in bright, sharp music.

The fourth movement, "Dialogue," was outstanding in the evening's program. It was dramatic and stormy, with a force that seemed to pull the listener up toward the ceiling spotlights.

Here were fine solos by Mike Stuart, McPherson High School, trumpet; Winona Achilles, soph. McPherson, French horn; and Mrs. Robert Jones, oboe.

Variations on "Goin' Home On A Cloud" ended the evening with the audience feeling that they must step down off the cloud to leave the auditorium.

The program included selections of interest to everyone.

The Band as a whole has improved, but certain sections, such as the French horns, show marked improvement over their last showing.

Vocal Ensemble Will Present Devotional

A small vocal ensemble, under the direction of Dr. Doris Coppock, director of the chapel choir, will perform in chapel Tuesday, March 7.

The ensemble, all members of A Capella choir, will present a devotional under the theme of Lent.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Alarms Awaken Sleepers

The night is quiet. Everyone is asleep. Suddenly the fire alarm sounds. In a matter of minutes confused people fill the halls wondering "Who's calling at this hour?"

Some people less awake turn over to shut off their alarm clocks. Others sitting confounded on the edge of their beds wonder whether the alarm is telling of a real fire or just a prank.

Still others do not rouse from their deep sleep. Finally the alarm is quieted. Luckily there was no fire this time, nor was this a drill. It was someone's idea of a joke.

Such an incident has happened twice during this academic year. (Both incidents have happened in the same residence hall.) The first time was at Halloween and the second was the morning of Feb. 22.

Page 35 of "The Growl" states in the last paragraph: "Tamporing with fire safety equipment is against fire regulations and is prohibited."

Yet neither time has resulted in any corrective or disciplinary action. (At least, that was the case at the time of this writing.)

A scene as described above reveals several startling facts about fire prevention on this campus.

One, no fire evacuation drills have been employed. (At least not in the year and a half this writer has been on campus.) As far as is known, no one called the fire department in either case.

Two, some buildings on campus have no fire escapes other than the entrance (Harnly Hall and Fahnestock Hall). Others have inoperable fire alarms (Kline Hall).

And finally, some individuals have the mistaken idea that fire alarms are sources of entertainment.

Art Campbell.

We Get Letters

Ag Club States Goal

Editor:

On behalf of the Ag Club, I would like to clarify the article that was printed last week in the "Spectator." The article stated that the purpose of the Ag Club was to find out if there was sufficient interest in the students and faculty to continue the Ag program at McPherson College.

This is one of our purposes, but we feel our most important purpose is to make the agriculture program attractive and useful enough to attract new students and to hold the ones presently in agriculture.

We, as Ag majors, have been concerned about the growing number of men who have transferred to other schools because of lacking Ag program and men who have remained here at McPherson, but have changed their majors because of this lack.

We now have quite a few interested and hard working men in the Ag Department and the purpose of our committee is to see that there is a place for them next year, and in the following years, to continue their studies in agriculture here at McPherson College.

As chairman of the committee which is conducting this study, I felt this clarification was necessary. We feel this is very important and will produce the results which we desire. Thank you.

Richard Burger.

Wivell Wins Best-Dressed Girl Contest on Campus

Winner of the best-dressed girl contest on campus is Lilli Ann Wivell, fr. Columbia, Pa. She was chosen by a committee of campus heads to be entered in "Glamour Magazine's" nationwide contest.

"I was really surprised when I was chosen. I had heard of the contest in Pennsylvania so I knew what it was about, but I didn't think I was even qualified to vote," was Miss Wivell's reaction to her nomination.

Lilli Ann, a home economics major, decided to attend McPherson College because she had heard of the outstanding Home Economics Department. She plans to graduate from McPherson College and continue in her major; however, plans are uncertain.

Presently, Lilli Ann is a member of MCY and the Home Economics Club. When she has time she enjoys horseback riding, reading and cooking.

Miss Wivell graduated from Donegal High School. During the following summer she worked eight weeks with Project Head Start in her home area.

Lilli Ann has been a member of the 4-H Club for ten years where she first learned sewing. She has won awards at the district level through competition in the "dress review" category. She now makes many of her clothes for her own enjoyment.

Goal of Art Club: Develop Appreciation

The Art Club attempts to develop in its members a greater appreciation of art.

Approximately 15 members attend the meetings held every second and fourth Thursday of the month at 9 p.m. in the Student Union. It is anticipated that future meetings will be held in the coffeehouse.

Officers of the club are Dave Switzer, fr. Wichita, president; Patti Allen, jr. Scott City, vice-president; and Karen Mathes, soph. McPherson, secretary.

Wildcat Stops Bulldogs Bid

McPherson College's Bulldogs closed the 1966-67 basketball season with a 79-67 defeat at the hands of the Baker University Wildcats.

The Wildcats' Don Sharbutt canned seven fielders in the second half to wash out a Bulldog bid for a win, building a twelve point lead that the Bulldogs were never able to wipe out. The lead changed hands ten times in the course of the game with neither team able to gain a substantial lead until Sharbutt broke loose.

Don Woodcock led McPherson scoring as he dropped in 17 points. The defeat gives the Bulldogs a season record of seven wins and sixteen defeats.

Final Statistics (Individual)	PG	FT	Sc. Av.
Flaver	83	66	10.1
Lambert	112	81	11.9
Phillips	112	79	13.2
Woodcock	100	55	12.7
Worthing	38	47	5.0

McPherson	456	385	74.8
Opponent	668	385	74.8

Leading in the field goal percentage bracket, on the basis of 35 or more field goals, was Eugene Nilson with 50 per cent. Following Nilson were Gene Phillips, 46.3; Tom Worthing, 44.7; and Jeff Lambert, 40.5. Phillips had a total of 201 rebounds in 23 games to lead the Bulldogs in this department. Lambert had 130, followed by Worthing with 92 and Woodcock with 83.

As a team, the Bulldogs were overpowered in rebounds taking 746 compared to the opponents 536.

'Foul Play' Tactics Enter Clay-Terrell Controversy

By GENE CZAPLINSKI
A flagrant controversy is currently raging about the foul tactics of both parties involved in the recent Cassius Clay-Ernie Terrell fight.

One side of the argument says that Terrell was guilty of low blows and excessive brawling tactics, but the other side seems to be dominating the main controversy.

This side, fostered by Terrell's recent eye operation, says that Clay was guilty of rubbing Terrell's eyes in the ropes and poking his thumb into Ernie's pupils.

A film taken of the fight in Houston reveals the first side of the case very clearly—Terrell

JV's Downed: Mowry Hits 34

The Bulldog junior varsity went down 81-80 to the Baker University j-v's Friday night on the Baker court in their last appearance of the season.

Jim Mowry recorded 34 points in his best scoring performance of the season to lead the Bulldog reserves. Jim Paul dropped in 16 and Daryl Miller 14 to aid the cause.

The loss gives the junior varsity squad a 7 wins, 11 losses record for the season.

outhit Clay below the belt by a total count of 90 punches to two.

The second part of the controversy is hidden both by the referees back to the movie camera and by Clay's broad back itself. However, these distinct points stand out from the film:

1. The foul sequence when Terrell claims Clay "fouled" began when Terrell grabbed Clay and shoved him into a corner.

2. The entire sequence lasted about 5 seconds, hardly enough time for him to "rub my eyes in the ropes again and again and finally pokes his thumb and rubs it in my eye."

3. Clay is a boxer, not a super wrestler. He would have had to be the latter to even "begin to think" about rubbing and poking a person's eyes, especially a guy 6'6" and 215, and much less, actually accomplish it.

4. Clay has no previous history of being called a "dirty" pugilist, though he has been called just about everything else.

The summation can be stated as such: Terrell was a beaten man and his outlet was an excuse, not reality, which in this case was too painful to bear. He will have to drum up something better than this next time, if there is one.

Native Kansan Coach Expects Good Conference Track Record

By ROBERTA STRICKLER
Arthur L. Ray, track coach for the McPherson College Bulldogs' 1967 season, expects a good conference record this spring.

Ray is in his first year with the McPherson College faculty, coming from Oakley High School where he spent six years as cross country, basketball, and track coach.

A native Kansan, Ray was born and grew up in Sterling. In high school he played trombone in the band and lettered in football, basketball, track and baseball.

Focusing all his extra-curricular time on sports at Fort Hays Kansas State College, where he earned both his B.S. and M.S. degrees, Ray lettered in track, football, and golf.

Ray supported his football team in halfback and fullback positions and played guard in basketball.

After his junior year at Fort Hays, Ray enlisted in the army and spent 15 months in Germany.

Ray is assistant professor in

physical education and instructs such courses as recreational leadership, school health education, weight training, golf, archery, bowling and general physical education.

He is a faculty member of the Student Union Board, and a member of the Faculty Social Committee.

Ray also coaches cross country in the fall, and is assistant football and basketball coach.

Ray met his wife, Sharon, at Sterling when she attended college there. She is attending a class at McPherson College now, and plans to increase the number of classes as her children enter school.

The Rays have two children—Laurie, 6, and Gerry, 4.

Returning trackmen strong in javelin are Jim Beachell, soph, Princeton, N. J., and Bob De-Tour, jr, McPherson; and in hurdles is John Coleman, soph, Haven.

"I am anticipating some new, unknown boys to do well," Coach Ray said.

Mentioned were Don Westergard, fr, Oak Park, Ill., John Lane, fr, Piqua, Ohio, Dave Smith, fr, McCune, Wayne Nes-kett, soph, Oakley, and Dave Shepherd, fr, Ft. Scott.

Three returning seniors are Tom Worthing, Warnego, intermediate hurdles; Ralph Barr, McPherson, discuss; and Arnold Groff, Sacramento, Calif., shot put.

Ray expects to better the ninth place conference position held by last year's team. "We can compete with our conference in our strong events, but we won't be able to compete with the bigger schools because we lack in numbers," he said.

Tabor Swamps Women's Team

Tabor College swamped the McPherson women's basketball team Tuesday 38-24 at Tabor.

Even high scores by Kathy Rogers, fr, Brooklyn, Iowa, with 9, and Janet Rhinehart, sr, Brooklyn, Iowa, with 7, could not offset the Tabor offense.

The next game will be a Sports Day here.

Girl's Choice Dance to Follow 'Tiger Boy'

A girl's-choice dance is scheduled to follow the regular Saturday night movie on March 4.

"Tiger Boy," the movie, will star Hayley Mills and John Mills. Admission is 25 cents.

A live band is planned for the dance, which will also cost 25 cents.

Graceland, Sterling, McPherson to Play in Round Robin

A Round Robin among three schools will be held on campus March 12. The girls' basketball team from Graceland College; Lamoni, Iowa, along with their instructor, Miss Betty Welch, will arrive on March 11 and spend the night with the McPherson team.

The first game will be played on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, with McPherson playing Graceland. At 10:45 a.m. McPherson meets Sterling, and at 1:30 Sterling plays Graceland.

Miss Welch and Dr. Doris Coppock, professor of physical education for women, are good friends. The idea for this meeting came when they were together last summer.

Final Session Features Baugher, Church Banquet

Dr. Norman J. Baugher, General Secretary of the General Brotherhood Board of the Church of the Brethren, Elgin, Ill., will be the guest speaker at the final session of the school of Stewardship series.

This banquet meeting will be held in the Church of the Brethren, beginning at 5:30 p.m., March 5, and will have the theme "Our Church Beyond Our Community."

Robert E. Keim, assistant professor in sociology, said that students who wish to attend the banquet should sign their names to a sheet located in the Student Union, so cooks will know approximately how many to expect for the meal.

Keim also stated that a donation would be asked of the students attending to cover the cost of the meal.

The School of Stewardship is a series of meetings held at the McPherson Church of the Brethren in an attempt to relate stewardship of time, talent, and money to the people of the church.

Peace Corps Recruiters Plan Visit to McPherson Campus

By PHIL GROVE
"As of now, two Peace Corps recruiters will arrive at the College campus on the evening of March 6 and will continue their stay through March 8," stated Leland L. Lehgel, assistant professor of history and political science, the campus Peace Corps representative.

The two recruiters, Larry Keith Crandall and Patricia D. Worthy, will be manning a booth in the Student Union by the entrance to the cafeteria, where they will pass out information concerning the Peace Corps.

Lengel also stated that the recruiters would meet, hopefully, with classes in every department, where they might give entrance exams, show pictures, or discuss facts about the Peace Corps.

Larry Crandall, age 24, attended the University of Colorado and the City University of New York and has a B.A. in International Affairs.

During Crandall's Peace Corps assignment in Guinea, West Africa, he worked closely with the Agency for International Development (A.I.D.) and the Food and Agricultural Organization (F.A.O.) of the United Nations in a combined reclamation and rehabilitation project.

This included small drainage canal digging, hand dike building and construction of salt water dams. In addition, Crandall supervised the introduction of improved varieties of rice and did fertilizer demonstration plots.

Crandall was also active in developing various community development projects such as well digging, road building and school construction.

Patricia Worthy, age 21, received her B.S. in Education at Knoxville College, Knoxville, Tenn.

During her assignment in a Public Health Community Development program, Miss Worthy taught health and sanitation while working with mothers' clubs.

She worked mainly in rural areas and also taught English and Spanish in the rural schools.

Student Variety Revealed By Semester Enrollment

McPherson College has an enrollment of 762 students this semester, according to E. Dean Reynolds, registrar.

This figure is 14 less than at this same time last year when the enrollment was 776.

Reynolds stated that there are 238 freshmen, 194 sophomores, 158 juniors, 120 seniors and 52 special students.

In the spring of 1966 there were 318 freshmen, 170 sophomores, 129 juniors, 84 seniors and 75 special students.

Students attending McPherson College were graduated from 40 different states. Kansas contributed the largest number with 297 and Colorado is second with 39. New York and New Jersey follow with 34 and 33 respectively.

Nineteen students now enrolled were graduated from schools in foreign countries.

On campus this semester are Moslem, Buddhist, Jewish and Christian students. Of the 22 Christian denominations represented, Church of the Brethren sends 285 students; Methodist Church, 121 students; Roman Catholic 67, students; and Lutheran Church, 48 students.

Other denominations are represented by 40 or fewer. "No religious preference" was indicated by nine students, while 13 gave no indication of their religion.

Due Date Set for March 10

Mid-Semester due date for all library books is March 10, announced Miss Virginia Harris, librarian.

Beginning on that date, books will be checked out on a new system which will conform with the circulation systems in the other libraries of the Associated Colleges of Central Kansas.

Books will be loaned for four weeks with Friday as the day of the week on which books will be due. A date due card will be placed in the pocket of each book as it is loaned to a student.

Fines for overdue books will be 10 cents a day for each day overdue to the amount of $3. If the book is not returned the student will be sent a bill which will include the $3 fine, the replacement value of the book, plus a $1.50 processing charge.

Reserve books, periodicals, and reference books will continue to be charged as at the present.
