Singing, recreation, fellowship and getting acquainted are in store for freshmen participating in Camp 70 Sept. 23-24.

Centering around the theme "So What," Camp 70 will also feature a film, "The Eye of the Beholder," and several discussion groups.

Dr. J. Jack Melhorn, president of McPherson College and Leland Lengel, assistant professor of history and political science will be adult discussion leaders.

Other discussion leaders will be Dr. Wayne Miller, associate professor of speech, philosophy and religion; and Harold Bomberger, pastor of the Church of the Brethren.

In addition to these leaders, student leaders will also participate.

The location of Camp 70 this year is Camp Webster near Salina. Campers will leave the campus Friday afternoon and will return Saturday evening.

On the return trip, they will stop at Salina for the McPherson-Kansas Wesleyan University football game.

Sponsored by the McPherson College YM-YWCA, the purpose of Camp 70 is to take freshmen away from campus and into an atmosphere where they can search for and find mental, intellectual and spiritual growth.

Enrollment Tops 800

Enrollment topped 800 last week for the highest number of total students in McPherson College history.

Dean Reynolds, registrar, released statistics Sept. 9, pegging the number of enrollees at 808, including special students.

Women students number 300, and the men stand at 508.

Break-down of individual class totals showed 88 women in the freshman class and 185 men. Sophomores include 67 women and 136 men.

In the junior class are 63 women and 104 men, while the seniors account for 37 women and 58 men.

Full time students, excluding specials, number 738. Special students take up the slack with 70 enrolled.

At the same time last year, figures showed 468 men, 240 women and 40 special students, for a total enrollment of 708—100 less than current totals.

Reynolds called this year's 808 students an unsurpassed total for any first semester enrollment.

Library Uses Federal Grant For New Books

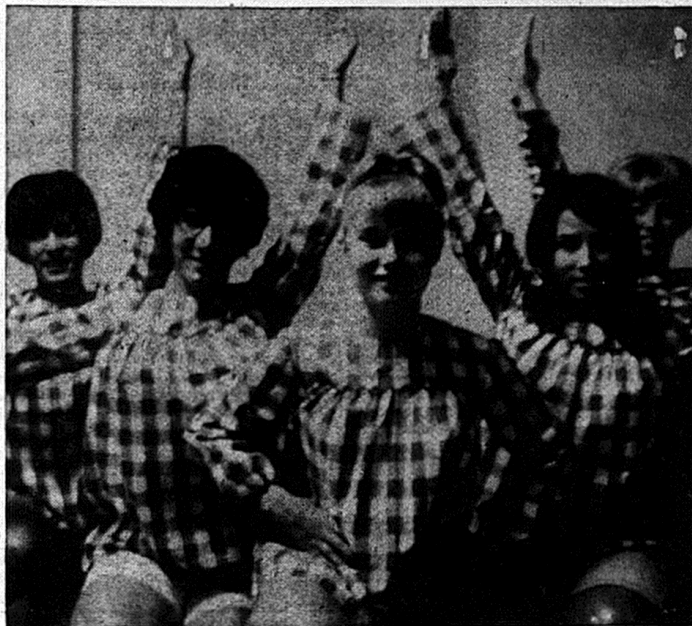

The McPherson College library has received a federal grant from the Higher Education Act of 1965, said Virginia Harris, librarian.

The money was granted for basic library materials such as books, periodicals and films. This was done through an application to the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare after the Higher Education Act was passed last spring.

The agreement was that the college would match the grant and then use the entire sum for purchasing library materials. The maximum amount was $5000, which McPherson College applied for and received, making a total of $10,000.

The back files of the periodicals are restocked with $3,802.50 worth of microfilm, Miss Harris, said, and the rest of the money was used for books.

PJ Snake Dance Recalls Tradition Initiated in 1921

Running down the middle of Main Street tonight at 6:30 will be many enthusiastic collegians attired in their pajamas for the 46th annual Pajama Parade.

Marchers will proceed to the parade area from Dotzour Hall.

Ever since the first parade, then called the "nightshirt parade," was staged in the fall of 1921, the Pajama Parade has been traditionally a spirit rouser for McPherson College's first football game.

The following account appeared in the Oct. 1921, issue of The Spectator:

"The boys of McPherson College staged a rather unique nightshirt parade last Thursday evening in order to arouse interest among the business men of the city for the game with Fairmont which was staged last Saturday afternoon.

"150 students, garbed in 'ghostly apparel' departed from the dorm about 8:30 and wended their way, single file, to Main Street, where a snake dance was soon in its height of glory.

"After numerous rousing college yells, the line of march was directed to the Tourney Theater which surrendered to the invaders after a short siege.

"The long, winding train then proceeded northward to the corner of Euclid and Main where halt was made.

"Again a great crowd of curious onlookers was favored by several band selections sandwiched with plenty of college yells."

Faculty Considers Library Building Plans

The building program for McPherson College Library received attention at a spring faculty meeting.

Dayton Rothrock, professor of education and psychology, summarized findings of a 1965-66 faculty study of library needs. Virginia Harris, librarian, presented general trends in new library buildings.

Prof. Rothrock is chairman of the Library Building Committee. Other members are Miss Virginia Harris, Dr. J. Jack Melhorn, Dr. Merlin L. Frantz, Dr. G. J. Ikenberry, Prof. Leland L. Lengel and R. Gordon Yoder. Edmon Low, librarian at Oklahoma State University is consulting with the committee in an effort to determine such items as size of collection, size and type of building and other particular McPherson College library requirements.

Building plans will not be drawn until planning is complete and funds are available.

Cheerleaders Rally Teams For Victory

Encouraging the varsity football and basketball teams to victory and leading the College spectators in songs and yells will be five A team cheerleaders.

They are Connie Dale, Seattle, Wash., Linda Smith, Concordia, Jody Duffy, Abilene, Linda Beavers, Carleton, Neb., and Priscilla Zigler, Brookville, Ohio. All are majoring in elementary education except Priscilla, who is a music major.

The new uniforms will be red sweaters and white skirts with red insets. Red vests and white blouses may replace the sweaters during the warmer weather.

The girls are looking forward to the coming year and are expecting enthusiastic support from the students.

Intern Pastor Takes Position With Brethren

The new intern pastor at the McPherson Church of the Brethren is Philip Shankster, a student from Bethany Theological Seminary in Chicago.

Shankster is one of only four students from that seminary who will serve in the "intern pastor" program this year.

A native of Pioneer, Ohio, Shankster received his B.A. degree from Findlay College in Findlay, Ohio, and has completed his first two years at Bethany.

While in McPherson, Shankster will work closely with Reverend Harold Bomberger in all areas of the life of the McPherson Church of the Brethren, and he will study Greek at McPherson College.

Shankster will reside at 324 North Olivette with his wife, Phyllis, and three-year-old daughter, Malinda Sue.

Aviation Offers Ground Training For Students

Ground training in aviation will be offered at McPherson College for the first time this year if a minimum of 25 students will enroll, said Dr. Merlin Frantz, dean of academic affairs.

Taught by Monroe Hughbanks, assistant professor in education, the course will familiarize the student with the fundamentals of flying.

If taken as a non-credit course, aviation will cost $35. If the student opts for two credits, the course will cost $50.

Dr. Frantz is optimistic more persons will enroll in the course, which will meet regularly on Monday evenings from 7-9.

Snack Menu To Feature Rolls, Fries

According to Glenn Lindsey, McPherson College's new food manager, the snack bar will be open this fall.

The snack bar will be open from 9-10:30 a.m. weekdays, and will serve coffee and rolls. It will open from 2-3:30 p.m. with coffee, rolls, candy, hamburgers and french fries being served.

Week nights the snack bar will be open from 8-9:30 p.m. Violet Hanson will be the snack bar attendant.

New Manager Makes Changes

"In my job, I'm all for the students. I want their suggestions so I can improve dining room service."

This is how Glenn Lindsey, new manager of ARA Food Service, sums up his goals for his first year at McPherson College.

As food service manager, Lindsey commands a force of nine fulltime, non-student employees and 75 student workers, who check identification cards, serve food and wash dishes.

Some aspects of the food service this year have already been changed, said Lindsey. Salad tables are now standard at all noon and evening meals.

A third milk dispenser and a second juice dispenser have increased efficiency of serving increasing numbers of on-campus students.

Saturday and Sunday luncheon hours have been changed from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Prior to the change, lunch on the weekend days began at 11 a.m.

Chapel Services Are Completely Voluntary

Compulsory chapel is a tradition of the past at McPherson College.

Chapel services are being conducted on a voluntary basis this year, Tuesdays at 9 a.m. Thursday convocations remain compulsory, but they are of a secular nature.

4 Programs Set in Series

McPherson College will host four Cultural Series programs to be held in Brown Auditorium, this year.

Opening the series on Sunday, Nov. 6 at 3 p.m. is the Orchestra Michelangelo di Firenze. The orchestra, which is composed of the most gifted musicians of Central Italy, will present a number of classical, baroque and rare nineteenth century compositions.

Appearing in recital on Feb. 28 will be David Burge, associate professor of music at the University of Colorado.

The Augustana Choir, which is comprised of over 70 voices, will appear on March 12.

Bennet Cerf will complete the season on April 17 by speaking on "An Evening with Bennet Cerf."

"In late September or early October a ticket sale will be conducted," stated Larry Marcullus director of publicity and promotion.

The prices are: student and children season tickets—$5.00; adult season tickets—$7.00. Adult tickets bought at the door will be $2.50 except for the Feb. 29 performance which will be $2.00. Activity tickets will allow a person to attend at student rates.

The McPherson College season ticket will enable the purchaser to attend programs at Bethany and Central Colleges in addition to those presented at the College.

Bethany College will host on Feb. 9 a group producing "John Brown's Body," and Central College will present one of the Audubon Series on March 2.

Caricaturist Illustrates Campus Life

Dave Switzer

Drawing 15 cartoons for The Spectator this year will be David Switzer, Jr., Wichita.

As an artist, Switzer works in all kinds of mediums but prefers to do portraits. Presently Switzer is taking the Famous Artist Course by correspondence to gain experience.

"Who's the Sharp New Girl?"

Hazing Sparks Resentment

With the furor, infamy and ferocity of freshman hazing drawing to a close, it is time to evaluate the practice of these yearly initiation rites.

Certain primitive tribes conduct initiation rituals for the purpose of drawing the initiate into a feeling of unity with his peers.

Numerous present-day organizations—including some at McPherson College—warn prospective members that initiations are a final requirement for membership.

Young Females Think Little of Conscription

By RON CASSIDENTE

Why in the world do the modern young women of today's America feel it unnecessary to stay in touch with something that is so vital to every young male—namely the draft??

Here is the poor specimen of masculine flesh, a veritable youngster, fresh out of high school (anyone who attended high school during the past ten years is still considered fresh) spending half of his waking hours worrying about his draft status and his ultimate duty to Uncle Sam.

And what does little Miss Unconcerned come up with? "No, the draft doesn't bother me," "Why here is a window open down this?" Now our Miss Unconcerned might not be a typical case, but it would do well to look into the average young female's attitudes toward the draft.

At present it seems the only way you could get a young lady to think seriously about Uncle Sam's conscription program is to threaten to draft her latest flame—and future breadwinner—before the wedding.

As one young thing piped up during a recent draft discussion, "Well, why should we be worried about the draft, we're not eligible. Besides, women are supposed to stay home and have the babies."

Although it is not too related to the present discussion, I'm afraid that last statement is what most guys are worried about.

But since it seems that most young women are completely out of touch with the subject that is constantly bothering their male counter parts, I've wondered just how they would feel if the tables were turned on them.

What would they think if a plan for Universal Conscription was started for both sexes.

Considering that Israel, China and Cuba do it, plus the fact that for countless centuries they have won a great percentage of battles on the domestic front.

I see no reason why women couldn't serve some constructive duty for one or two years of their young life.

If that time ever came, I'm sure you would see every Miss Unconcerned in this great nation take notice of the problems presented when dealing with the draft.

It's doubtful if anything that drastic will ever take place in our lifetime, so you women can relax. And so can the nations great military planners and the local draft boards across the nation.

Could you imagine draft notices on pink embossed stationery—and lipstick in the K rations — Shades of female domination!

Brando, Ford Star In Saturday Cinema

"Teahouse of the August Moon," will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 17, in Brown Auditorium.

Marlon Brando and Glen Ford star in the color movie. A donation of 25 cents will be asked.

But where is the purpose in forcing the freshman class to indignities of wearing paper bag masks, hobbling string, and eating meals standing up?

Freshmen are already members of their class, whether or not they submit to hazing activities.

Instead of creating resentment and vengeful attitudes—"Just wait 'til next year!"—initiation should encourage freshmen in their first attempts to find their place in the campus community.

Initiation could include informal chats with upperclassmen, a campus clean-up day or a Saturday spent performing constructive chores for upperclassmen—making beds, washing cars or dusting desks.

Freshman week should be a spirit booster, not an attempted spirit breaker. ldk

Service Is Key To Stuco Success

By GEORGE SNAVELY
Student Council President

What is student government on McPherson College Campus?

Each student enrolled at McPherson College is an integral part of the student government on campus.

One way most of you have taken part was when you elected eighteen students to serve as leaders and representatives to the whole student body—the Student Council.

The Student Council is a body of students that are chosen to implement a conscious concern for ideas within the whole realm of education on Mac Campus.

To implement ideas, the student should realize his roll by participating in school government and not self government.

A school government where by each student can function as a participant in the democratic process by practicing the openness of honest dialogue.

It is only as students continue to demonstrate through the council that they have a valuable and distinctive contribution to make in the determination of the character of student life whereby, new and constructive functions will appear and become an integral part of the council's program.

Therefore, these should be some of the aims of the Student Council: To provide an opportunity for the training of student leaders. To develop student initiative and responsibility.

To provide a forum for the expression of student opinion. To assist in the management of the school. To develop harmonious relations between students and faculty. To promote student activities.

Serving in the leadership position of the school government on campus, Stuco must seek to make these aims a reality, to fulfill the ideas of a student in the realization that no man can go far if he checks the side walk before him at each step.

Listen! If we, each Mac student, are to play any role at all on the campus, we must serve as an agency for constructive changes.

We must begin the work of creating contemporary institutions, institutions which will meet the needs of our generation.

We, all of us together—students, faculty and administration—must do this.

To become involved, we, the Student Council, welcome your comments and suggestions in all areas—religious, social, intellectual, or athletic—and even criticism.

At any rate, it will be an honest reflection of the campus and extra campus life of you as students.

Let's go!!

Zinn, McAuley Sight-See, Study In Europe on Brethren Year Abroad

By PHIL GROVE

Two McPherson College students have returned to campus this year after spending a year studying abroad.

The students are Art McAuley, sr., Elizabethtown, Pa., who studied at Marburg, Germany and Dan Zinn, sr., Houston, who studied at Strasbourg, France.

Both, McAuley and Zinn, were under the Brethren Colleges Abroad program. The six American Brethren colleges and four Mennonite colleges participate in this program.

Leaving New York City Aug. 19 on a boat chartered by the Council on Student Travel—2nd smallest passenger ship that crosses the Atlantic—the students arrived in Europe the 28th.

Zinn and McAuley joined a group of students and toured through northern France, Belgium, Brussels, Holland, Amsterdam and then down the Rhine River to Frankfurt, Germany, where they spent a night in a youth hostel.

The hostel is a hotel like structure where 15-25 students can sleep for 50 cents a night.

The group traveled on to Marburg, where Art and other students who were planning to study there were dropped off. Zinn and the rest of the group traveled to Strasbourg from Marburg.

McAuley attended a language institute for two weeks before making a trip to Italy, France and Switzerland. He returned to Marburg where he attended school from Nov. 1 - Feb. 29.

The six weeks between semesters was spent traveling around the northern Mediterranean, the Near East and across northern Africa. Later, he spent time hitchhiking through Scandinavia.

McAuley lived in a dorm which was supported by the Baptist church and was the only American student in the dorm which housed about 30 students.

Scheduling his own classes he took European history, Islam, fundamentals of religion and history of law.

Of the 8,000 students at Marburg, only about 100 were Americans, which is a very low percentage compared with most German schools.

"The experience was very much worth while," reported McAuley. "It was a good opportunity to meet other students, and I got to do a lot of traveling," he added.

Zinn, who attended the university at Strasbourg, France lived in a 6th floor private room.

About 300 other Americans attended the French University of 15,000 students.

An institute was set up for foreign students which placed an emphasis on French art, civilization, music and the language itself.

Zinn believes that the program could be improved if the institute was dropped. Classes were set up for foreigners so that they did not have a choice of subjects they wanted to take.

"For this reason there was less contact with the French students," replied Zinn. In June, about 30 students in the Brethren College Abroad group traveled to Berlin where they visited museums and other interesting places.

One night the group visited a German theater where they saw "War and Peace" produced on stage.

They also went to Gosner mission and talked to the minister and then divided up into small groups and went into the homes of the German people.

Zinn and McAuley returned Aug. 19 and are presently going to and from classes on the McPherson College campus.

KCAC Includes 10 College Teams

McPherson College, along with nine other church-affiliated colleges, is a member of the Kansas College Athletic Conference.

Members of the KCAC are College of Emporia, Sterling, Ottawa, Bethel College, Kansas Wesleyan University, Baker University, Bethany College, Friends University, Southwestern College and McPherson.

College of Emporia, nicknamed the Presbies because of its Presbyterian affiliation, is located in Emporia. Red and white are the Presbies' school colors.

The Warriors of Sterling College are located in Sterling. This United Presbyterian Church college wears red and blue as their colors.

The colors of the Ottawa University Braves, located at Ottawa, are black and yellow. Ottawa is the only conference college of Baptist denomination.

Bethel College, located at Newton, is a member of the Mennonite Church of North America. The Threshers' school colors are gray and maroon.

The Kansas Wesleyan University Coyotes at Salina, with a Methodist affiliation, have purple and gold for their colors.

Baldwin is the location of the Baker University Wildcats. Methodist affiliated, the Baker Wildcat colors are black and white.

Lindsborg, hosts Bethany College, sponsored by the Lutheran Church of America. The Swedes' colors are blue and gold.

The Falcons of Friends University carry red and gray as their colors. Friends is located in Wichita and is a member of the Society of Friends.

Blue and white are the colors of the Moundbuilders of Southwestern College. Located in Winfield, Southwestern is connected with the Methodist Church.

All of the teams in the Kansas College Athletic Conference participate in different athletic programs such as football, basketball, track, tennis, golf and cross-country.

Ottawa and College of Emporia seem to be strong in football and track. Bethany shows a strong potential in basketball and tennis.

Baker and McPherson are contenders for the title in golf and KWU shows ability in cross-country.

Given each year to the college that shows the greatest amount of sportsmanship during the athletic year is the sportsmanship trophy, awarded to McPherson in 1966.

Proceeds of Sale To Help Children

Retarded children will be guests of honor this Christmas at a party as a result of the proceeds of the used book sale sponsored by Circle K.

Circle K collected 450 used texts and sold 300. The total amount of money brought in was $1,328.80; the Circle K profit, at 5 percent, was $66.44. This left $1,262.36 to be redistributed to students.

Fifteen Circle K members worked at the sale. Books were sold at an average of $4 apiece.

Starlite Lanes Hosts Bowlers

Intramural bowling for both men and women will swing into action Sept. 20, according to Don Widrig, assistant football coach and coordinator of the bowling program.

Starlite Lanes, 900 W. Kansas, will host College teams at a cost of $1 per session which includes three lines of bowling and shoe rental.

End of the season bowling activities include a tournament, during which best teams will be awarded trophies.

Coach Widrig is accepting names of interested persons.

Ray Issues Calls For Cross Country

Arthur Ray, head cross country coach at McPherson College, is issuing calls for all men to try out for the cross country team this fall.

As of now, Coach Ray has six men training for the three mile distance races. The first scheduled meet is Oct. 8.

Football Preview Ranks Teams of Conference

By GENE CZAPLINSKI

Zip! Bap! Sock! Pow! The 1966-67 football season is almost here, and sounds like these will evidence the violent contact of the sport.

Southwestern, with 24 lettermen returning, will dominate the scene. Last year the Moundbuilders folded after pre-season raves, but in a Buzzell-less conference, they appear to be the best.

In the second spot we place C of E, due mainly to the Presbies' experience and strong finish last year. Dennis Brown gets our nod as a match for Baker's Walter Pickett as back of the year.

Baker is consistently a threat, be it a good or bad year. Ask Bethany, Southwestern or Ottawa, who they nearly upset last season. We place the Wildcats third.

Ottawa is the target for revenge this year. Games like the 8-0 annihilation of a good Sterling team and 47-7 bombing of Bethany are wounds not easily forgotten. They may finish higher than

College vs. C of E For First Kickoff

By CHRIS LEVI

This Friday marks the beginning of the 1966 football season with McPherson hosting College of Emporia.

According to head coach Sid

Smith, C of E has a strong running and passing game as well as experienced players and superior bench strength.

Smith said, "If the student body participates fully and the boys give 100 per cent of their ability, then we have a good chance of knocking them off."

He also stated, "It's up to the quarterback to call the right plays and to initiate logical thinking."

The coaching staff is going to work mainly this week on the polishing and the execution of the new offensive and defensive plays. The Bulldogs' mentor is also going to strengthen blocking and tackling.

The new offensive and defensive formations should prove to be exciting to the fans. As coach Smith says, "It is football in motion."

Coach Smith released names of possible starters in tomorrow's clash, although he has not yet decided on final choices.

Starting at guard will be either Gene Nelson or Tom Worthing. At tackle, Ralph Barr, Tom Brubaker, Jeff Lambert, Don Stockstill or Ed Shapley are tentative choices.

Dale Prochaska, Denny Miller or Roy Parsons are possible starters at guard, and Dwight Ediger or Bill Harper may get the nod for center.

Junior Smith, Don Crosby, Hal Wright or Jim Beachell are choices for quarterback, while fullback may be either Bob DeTour or John Suminski.

Downtown YMCA Extends Invitation to Membership

McPherson College men and women are invited to join the McPherson Young Mens Christian Association; said Andy Melan, general secretary.

The local YMCA has recently moved into a new and modern building which is located north of the city library.

Swimming in the Olympic size pool will be made possible to members on a scheduled basis. McPherson College swimming courses are conducted in the YMCA pool.

Basketball and volleyball are being scheduled in the large gymnasium.

Pool, billiards and ping-pong tables, located in the main lobby and recreation room, may be used at most any time.

The basement will be devoted to arts and crafts. There will also be an archery range set up in the basement for those who are interested.

"We would like to extend a warm welcome to all college students," said Melan.

College men can purchase a membership for $10. Membership fees for college women are $7.50. Fees, though they do not include towel or basket rental fees, enable the member to use all facilities in the YMCA building.

Hours at the YMCA are from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m.

A tentative schedule of activities can be obtained in the lobby of the YMCA building.

fourth, but are going to have to find a replacement at quarterback to do it.

Friends, with a vastly improved line, rounds out our prediction for the upper division. The Falcons lost top QB Mike Niemann, and the only question remaining is a capable replacement for him.

Sterling was an up-and-down club last season, but enough maturity may have set in to make them a formidable club this year. Pick here is for sixth.

Bethany has a highly successful season last year, but heavy grad losses will move the Swedes clear down from second to seventh this season.

We think the Bulldogs are potentially a fine KCAC ball club, but until we see the improvement on the grid, we pick them eighth.

KWU and Bethel are in a tossup for the cellar. The key for tenth place is if the Coyotes lost too much, or Bethel improved too little. We think KWU will wrestle ninth from the Threshers. Some reward!

Talent Show Features Songs, Skits

A mixed variety of entertainment was provided for students and professors and other town-folk who attended the McPherson College All-School Talent Show.

Vocal numbers, piano solos and duets, skits, jokes and laughs made up most of the program. Stan Hoffert, soprano, Des Moines, Iowa, emceed the show, with a few interruptions from his roommate, Ron Cassidente, sr. from Denver.

Following the talent show, a coffee house was held in the basement of the Student Union.

Larry Couch, fr. Rochester, N.Y.; Janet Wiggins, fr., McPherson; Bill Wesson, jr., Washington D.C.; and Mary Atwill, soprano, San Marino, Calif., and Sally Warrick, sr., Wray, Colo., provided entertainment.

The Grannies, a group of three McPherson College women who sing folk songs, also contributed to the entertainment program.

The three women in the Grannies are Priscilla Zigler, soprano, Brookville, Ohio; Lonnie Howell, jr., Cordell, Okla.; and Susan Frederick, soprano, McPherson. Flavored coffee, lemonade and chip 'n' dip were served to the sing-along groups of students who were seated at small tables.

Transmigrated Souls Cause Havoc in Play

"Love in a Public Pool," a new comedy by Loren D. Reyher, assistant professor in English and theater, moved into Brown Auditorium for rehearsals this week.

The story of "Love in a Public Pool" concerns two all-too-human beings who must earn their right to eternity by successfully completing one assignment from the "home office."

In numerous previous lives, they have failed each assignment, and when they bring all their imperfect skills together in an attempt to solve today's social and political problems pandemonium results.

Dell Ann Dyar portrays Desdemona Jones, while Prof. Reyher plays Dante Smith. Supporting roles feature Wilma Matson, Ken Dyar and Rollyn Wall. Sets are under construction and all portions of the play are in the final stages of preparation.

"Love in a Public Pool" will be presented in Brown Auditorium Sept. 30 and Oct. 1 at 8:15 p.m. as a community theater production of the McPherson Hospital Auxiliary.

A Cappella Schedules Reunion Celebration

Selection of members of McPherson College A Cappella Choir and special plans for its 35th anniversary celebration were announced by Donald R. Frederick, professor of voice and director of choral organizations, last week.

The 35th anniversary celebration will be held at Homecoming Oct. 22, and former choir members are being invited to return for the occasion to participate in a short musical on Saturday evening.

Anniversary year officers include Galen Neber, sr., Quinter-president with Jeanne Schrock, jr. Harmony, Minn and Steve Nettleton, jr. Albert Lea, Minn., council member.

Plans for the choir include regular monthly performances at the Church of the Brethren and occasional chapel and assembly appearances. A December Christmas program and May 5-Spring concert are planned, and April 26-May 1 is the tentative date for the annual tour.

The choir, which meets each Monday, Wednesday and Thursday at 3:30 p.m., performs from a varied repertory, including works from such composers as Verdi, Ravel, Bach, Handel and Randall Thompson.

First sopranos in the McPherson A Cappella Choir are Winona Achilles, Gwendolyn Dimars, Carol Klotz, Mary Ann Miller, Delores Taylor and Priscilla Zigler.

Second sopranos are Markita Blough, Regina Fillmore, Carolyn Leighnor, Gloria Lewallen and Andrea Siple.

Kathy Andrews and Donna Brubaker are second sopranos as well as being accompanists for the group.

First altos are Mary Nell Albright, Linda Andes, Susan Frederick, Marty Hale, Nelda Jeanne Schrock and Sylvia Wine.

Second altos are Annette Burkholder, Meredith Haun, Janet Livengood, Susan Sell, Rose Ann Sink and June Ware.

First tenors are Kenneth Dilling, Keith Ferguson, Martin Hoover and Ray Medley.

Appointments Are Set For Quadrangle Pictures

Picture taking for The Quadrangle, campus annual, will conclude this afternoon and evening from 4:30 p.m. with senior pictures, said Jean Yoder, sr., McPherson, editor.

Don Witlock of Don's-Camera Shop, began shooting individual pictures Tuesday. Underclassmen have been allowed two poses, while seniors will have three or four poses.

A charge of 25 cents is being made for retouching senior pictures, and all seniors will be able to choose proofs, said Jean.

Individual picture taking has been scheduled earlier this year than last, according to Jean, although the three-day time period is not new.

Scheduling student pictures, coordinating appointments and being sure no student is left out is the first big step in assembling the annual, said Jean.

Other details include choosing the end pages to carry out the theme of the yearbook. Jean indicated she has already selected her end pages. The theme is traditionally a surprise.

Other members of The Quadrangle staff are Peggy Kuehl, soph, Wauke, Iowa, assistant editor; Ken VanBaricum, sr, Meade, business manager; Stan Wollard, jr, McPherson, assistant business manager; and Kathie Kilhefner, sr, Elizabethtown, Pa., copy editor.

A July wedding is being planned.
