Tom Worthing, sr., Wamego, was elected by the student body as a representative-at-large to the Student Council. Five other students were in the race.

Four freshmen and a sophomore were elected B-Team cheerleaders. They are Janell Brown, fr, Beloit; Sherry Dirks, fr, Wichita; Linda Lee, soph, LaVerne, Calif.; Paula Jo Sis-sel, fr, Davenport, Neb.; and Lesa Snyder, fr, Liberty, Neb.

The student body selected these coeds from a field of 10

BMOC to Move Into Final Week

Final solicitation for the "Bloodmobile on Campus" drive began on Oct. 1, and will continue until the arrival of the Red Cross Bloodmobile on Oct. 11.

Circle K members, under the direction of Ron Cassidente, sr., Denver, president, have been contacting individuals and scheduling donation times in an all-out effort to surpass their 180 pint quota.

Circle K hopes to regain the Red Cross Bloodmobile trophy, which was twice won by McPherson, but is now held by Kansas Wesleyan University.

The Home Economics chapter will assist on Oct. 11 by serving a meal to each donor, and the Bloodmobile is expected to process 10 donors every 15 minutes.

Other cooperating organizations are the women's dorm council, which assisted in solicitation, and the local Red Cross chapter, which provides all literature and materials.

Musical Plays At Brown

Church-in modern society was the theme of "For Heaven's Sake," an hour-long musical production scheduled for convocations today.

Presented in two acts, the presentation was "really just a group of scenes," according to Dr. Doris Coppock, professor of physical education, who directed the play, assisted by Marlin Hoover.

Dr. Coppock pointed out that the play was really a satire on modern religion, with a musical background.

Numbers included "Use Me, Oh Lord, But Not Just Now," the "Gimme God Blues," and "I'd Rather Be Dead."

Written by Frederick Silver and Helen Kromer, the musical was designed to "...express the freshness and decision of 'how things are' with us in the world and the Church," and was to "be the making of the Gospel with the world," according to the script.

hopefuls.

The freshman class elected two students as their representatives to Student Council. Sue Arneson, Oak Park, Ill., and Galen Kopp, Middletown, Pa., defeated five other freshmen for the Stuco positions.

Only 55.2 per cent of the student body voted in the election. This included 68 seniors, 83 juniors, 117 sophomores, and 149 freshmen.

Red Cross Hosts Meet At K-State

McPherson College has been invited to send two students and a faculty member to the Second Annual Collegiate Blood Program Conference, Saturday, Oct. 22, at Kansas State University, Manhattan.

The American National Red Cross and Kansas State University are hosts for the conference. Transportation and conference expenses will be paid by the Red Cross.

Any student who is interested in representing the College may obtain further information from Mrs. Homer Brunk, college representative on the McPherson County Chapter Board of the American National Red Cross.

Bill Duryea, jr., Changewater, N. J.; Ron Cassidente, sr., Denver; and Mrs. Brunk, represented McPherson College at the First Collegiate Blood Program Conference at Wichita State last Feb. 12-13, at which 30 colleges and universities were represented.

The purpose of the conference is to promote bloodmobile visits to college and university campuses, like the visit McPherson College is hosting Oct. 11.

Auditions for the play were held last spring and this fall, Dr. Coppock said, but actual rehearsal did not begin until Sept. 12.

Cast members with singing parts included Marlin Hoover, soph, Rocky Ford, Colo.; Susan Frederick, soph, McPherson; Larry Banks, fr, Culver, Ind.; Mary Ann Miller, fr, Waterloo, Iowa;

Other cast members included Russ Merrifield, soph, Champaign, Ill.; Mervin Penner, jr, Olathe; Jane Funk, sr, Arvada, Colo.; Ron Cassidente, sr, Denver; and Mary Nell Albright, soph, Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Accompanist was Mrs. William Nelsen, McPherson.

Memorial Fund Reaches $89

The Greg Hoberock Memorial Fund has reached a total of $89, according to George Snaveley, sr., Lebanon, Pa., president of Student Council. Greg died from injuries received in an auto accident on Sept. 17.

A committee has been set up to decide what the memorial will be. Students on the committee are Chris Levi, Frank D'Augustino, Frank Falcioia, Bill Davidson, Peg Slater, Terry Bouse, and George Snaveley.

Included also are the dormitory presidents, Jane Funk, Carol Radatz, Tom Worthing, Ed Shapley, Craig Miller, and Tom Crago. Dr. Lewis Young, acting dean of men, is adviser to the committee.

People to People Promotes International Hospitality

People to People, an international organization to promote a better understanding between international and state-side students, had its origin at Kansas University.

KU, the current center of People to People, took the idea to former President Dwight Eisenhower, during his administration for development purposes.

At McPherson College, People to People is designed to create a better relationship between the international and state-side students, according to Robert Keim, assistant professor of sociology and foreign student advisor on campus.

Prof. Keim stated that the program benefits state-side persons also because tours will be conducted for travelers traveling abroad.

There is actually no People to People chapter on McPherson campus, but there is a local chapter in downtown McPherson with Dr. Walter Jones, president.

When holidays arise or when students are on vacation for the summer, the local People to People chapter finds homes for the international students to stay until college reconvenes.

For those who travel abroad, the same benefits are awarded to them if they are in the People to People program. Contacts

Candidates Voice Ideas, Opinions

Robert Londerholm, incumbent Republican candidate for attorney general of Kansas; Terrence Muth of Wichita, Democratic candidate opposing Londerholm; and Bill Moore, Republican candidate for the state legislature from McPherson, will appear in a panel discussion this evening in Brown Auditorium at 7:30.

Sponsored by the McPherson City Teachers and McPherson College, the political forum will feature a four person panel moderated by Dr. Raymond Flory, professor of history and political science.

Leland Lengel, assistant professor of history and political science, will be a member of the panel, to which the audience will direct questions.

are made with the residents of the countries so that the state-side people on tour can have the opportunity to live with them.

As for present plans, Professor Keim stated, "there will be various dinners and an international dinner in January in conjunction with the downtown chapter."

Keim also asserted, "There is to be an International Convention of People to People held in Kansas City with members coming from all over the world."

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower will attend the convention.

Grading Ends Incompetence

"He made me feel only the brightest ones were worth educating."

"On Friday she assigned a paper that was to be done on Monday."

"He made me feel I was interrupting whenever I asked a question."

Remarks like these are becoming more widely circulated on campuses throughout the United States as college students engage in a new intellectual activity—grading their professors.

An article appearing in the May 6 issue of "Time" points out the growing concern of students to upgrade the quality of the classroom atmosphere.

"Student critiques of professors and their courses are sweeping the campuses. Some 400 are either in operation or planned."

Currently on the McPherson College campus, a movement is stirring to incorporate a course critique as part of student participation in the academic community.

The project is monolithic. To treat with equity a critique on a campus the size of McPherson and to prevent it from becoming a devastating personal attack on professors is going to require maturity on the parts of the general student body, the committee formulating the questionnaire and the members of the faculty.

If the three factions involved treat the idea of a course-professor critique with open minds, it could become an affirmation of the educational ideals to which McPherson College is surely dedicated.

As Harold G. Shane, university professor of education at Indiana University, Bloomington, states the case for professor grading in an article in the NEA Journal, November, 1965, and quoted by Dr. J. Jack Melhorn, President of the College, in his inaugural address:

"Nothing will do more to mediate the much-publicized unrest on the campus . . . than to have as professors the kind of men who—to paraphrase criteria established in the 13th century by Roger Bacon—can stand free of the dead hand of unexamined tradition . . . and who have become too mature to conceal ignorance by the ostentatious display of seeming wisdom." ldk

Snaveley Cites Dress Rules

"McPherson College students should be reminded of the dress code," reports George Snaveley, sr., Lebanon, Pa., president of Student Council, "especially of the dress on Sundays."

The dress code is effective in all campus buildings, with the exception of residence halls and gymnasium.

Footwear must be worn at all times, states the code.

Men shall wear closed shirts with slacks, dress bermudas, levis or cut-offs of a reasonable length and finish, the code continues.

Women shall wear dresses or shifts, skirts, bermuda shorts, slacks or cut-offs of a reasonable length and finish, or levis with blouses, sweaters, or sweatshirts.

Every Sunday noon and all dress-up occasions men shall wear shirt, tie, dress or sport coat and/or sweater; slacks or dress bermudas.

Women shall wear suits, skirts and sweaters, or dresses; heels and hose.

Classroom wear is under the jurisdiction of each individual faculty member in his respective classroom.

Marcellus Continues 'Sounding Board'

The "Faculty Sounding Board," a weekly newspaper of announcements for the faculty and staff members, this year is being continued by Larry Marcellus, director of publicity and promotion.

Schrag Instructs Class In Grain Judging, Grading

Grain Judging and Grading, a new course offered this semester, is being taught by Delbert Schrag, a part-time instructor at McPherson College.

Schrag is teaching in the absence of Dr. John K. Ward, professor of agriculture and rural life.

After attending Bethel College at Newton and McPherson College, Schrag transferred to Kansas State University at Manhattan. He received his BS in Agriculture in 1961.

Schrag taught two years at Wilson High School after his graduation.

In 1963 he went to Dodge City where he was activities director for the Dodge City Boys' Ranch. The next year Schrag taught agriculture at Goessel High School. He is now in his second year of teaching at McPherson High School.

Schrag is teaching animal Science, Crops and Soils and two sections of Agriculture Mechanics at the high school. He is also advisor of Future Farmers of America.

The six members of the Grain Grading and Judging class will go to Hutchinson soon to observe members of the United States Department of Agriculture.

The USDA grading team samples and grades all wheat coming to Hutchinson for resale on the open market. Observation of this process will give the students a better understanding of government grading.

The Grain Grading and Judging class will not compete in intercollegiate contests this year since this is their first year of learning judging techniques.

Mr. and Mrs. Schrag are the parents of two small daughters. Mrs. Schrag is a Philosophy and Religion major at McPherson College.

Artists Express Fervor, Emotion In Paintings

"Three Eyes Art Society-Group A" paintings are on display in Friendship Hall until Oct. 21.

The Three Eyes Art Society is composed of artists who are dedicated to the ideal of inner-directed, intuitive expression and sensitivity in color, space and form.

This particular way of feeling and thinking has been a source of inspiration for the ten artists who are exhibiting twenty paintings in casein, polymer and oil.

Artists include David Friend, Honora Beeton, Eva Candia, Candy Cook, Delores Ellner, Gloria Griffin, Sarah H. Harry, E. A. Korchony, Dee Perner and Liz Walker.

Prices of the twenty paintings range from $300 to $600.

This exhibition is circulated by Old Bergen Art Guild of Bayonne, N. J., on national tour of museums, art centers, colleges and libraries.

Critics Laud Play

'Love in Pool' Satirizes American Foreign Policy

By MRS. GEORGE NOYES

Reincarnated, politics and the American lend-lease policy were the subjects of the delightful comedy-satire, "Love in a Public Pool," which was presented Friday and Saturday nights in Brown Auditorium under the sponsorship of the McPherson County Hospital Auxiliary.

Star of the three-act play was its playwright and director, Loren Reyher, assistant professor of English and theater at McPherson College. Other members of the cast were from the community of McPherson.

Outstanding was the setting, the office of the vice-president of the United States, as designed by Mr. Reyher. Also notable were the strong "curtains" of each act.

Finished performances were given by each of the five actors who made up the cast. Rollyn Wall, with proper sophistication, appeared during a short prologue to inform the audience of what was to follow.

Mrs. Kenneth Dyar, appearing as Desdemona, a re-incarnated spirit trying to work off demerits so she could enter paradise at long last, gave an outstanding interpretation of the not-too-nice "Miss Jones."

Dante Smith, another re-incarnated spirit seeking Elysium, was excellently played by Prof. Reyher.

Bubbles, secretary to the vice-president, was extremely well done by Mrs. Loren Matson, although the audience experienced some difficulty in hearing her lines.

However, her expressive hands and bodily posturing

Reyher Enlists Community Aid In Productions

The recent benefit play, "Love in a Public Pool," written and directed by Loren D. Reyher, assistant professor of English and theater, was the second in a series of productions sponsored by the McPherson County Hospital Auxiliary Foundation as a community project for hospital improvement.

Robert Wise, president of the Chamber of Commerce, expressed community interest in these productions. He stated: "Our community is indeed fortunate that the Auxiliary and the talented Mr. Reyher have made these productions possible. Their quality and successfulness are a credit to the community."

Actors are drawn from community talent, and last year 71 advertisers and 76 businesses and individuals provided nearly $4,000, for this project.

Mrs. M. Clair Miller, president of the Auxiliary, added, "Members of the Auxiliary are very grateful to Prof. Reyher and his talents as playwright, director and actor. Many of us hope that we may continue our success in this field."

Net profit on last year's production was $2,866, which was used for hospital improvement. Figures are not yet available for this production.

never failed to convey her meanings to her audience, who will long remember her delightful interpretation of the slightly tipsy, non-drinking Bubbles.

Kenneth Dyar as vice-president "Herbert" clearly portrayed a man who did not know what was going on in Washington, but was an expert at attending funerals of little-known chiefs of obscure countries.

Laughter Marks Reyher's Skill

By NORMA TUCKER

The laughter from Brown Auditorium on Friday and Saturday nights testified repeatedly to the cleverness and ability of Loren Reyher, assistant professor of English and theater, as a writer of comedy.

"Love in a Public Pool" was an ingenious mixture. A spoof on the man-woman relationship was combined by the playwright with the universal theme of the search of imperfect man for individual immortality.

This was seasoned with attacks on topical follies of society and government. The result? Fun for the audience.

Dell Ann Dyar, as leading lady, played the part of the sexually-oriented Desdemona with a charming innocence, and the giggles and giddiness of Wilma Matson, as Bubbles, were delightful.

Prof. Reyher showed his usual mastery of performance as Dante Smith, while Ken Dyar and Rollyn Wall were competent and enthusiastic in their roles.

Attention to small details in all areas of production gave "Love—" the high quality that we have come to expect from a Reyher-directed play.

Falcons Bring 1-2 Record

On the rise by having defeated the Bethel Threshers Saturday Oct. 1, Friends University will invade the home grounds of the Bulldogs Saturday Oct. 8.

As the scouting reports indicate, the Falcons have an extremely stout defense. In their 27-13 rout over Bethel last week, the defense scored four touchdowns.

Coach Sid Smith asserted, "It should be a real even contest, if the boys are mentally up for the game as in the Southwestern game, we should win."

Smith said that Friends is a well balanced ball club. Their offense is run with a slot-back and a split end, also they come out in an "11" formation and then shift into a pro set.

Their defense is a basic 5-4 composed of a pair of good linebackers, Henry Jackson and Chuck Bates.

In the offensive backfield are a pair of good hard running backs, Mike McKay and Jim Brown, coupled with the fine passing quarterback, Fred Boles.

Coach Smith stated that he is going to smooth out the offense game in order to give some of the first string a rest during the game.

Forecaster Cheers Team On Win over Builders

Perhaps the introduction to this column should be "Welcome to the string-em-up corner."

At any rate, now that our neck has recovered, we wish to present three basic conclusions about last week's stirring victory over highly-rated Southwestern.

1. Hats off to the McPherson defense which was underrated before the game, yet was the real culprit in all the doing last Friday night.
2. Southwestern was overrated on offense. The Builders did not have the line for the Bulldogs nor the backs. Southwestern's defense, however, was even better than predicted.
3. The game was a tremendous source of confidence for the Bulldogs and should help them

B Team Bows To KW 21-12

Trying to avenge the previous defeat handed to them by the Kansas Wesleyan B team, the Bulldogs' B team lost again 21-12 Monday, Oct. 3.

The objective of the B team is to let everyone play in order that they might gain experience. The Coyotes opened the first quarter by throwing a touchdown pass in their first series of downs.

In the second period, KWU scored two more touchdowns, one on a pass and the other on a drive.

The Bulldogs scored in the second period on a pass from quarterback Jim Beachall to end Charles Jones. The extra point attempt failed.

The Bulldogs had numerous opportunities to set up a scoring strike but were foiled by fumbles and pass interceptions.

The Bulldogs scored again in the fourth quarter on a reverse to halfback Carl Cook. This ended the game at 21-12.

Defensive Tackles Win Player of Week Award

Two defensive tackles have been named player of the week for their performances in the Southwestern and Kansas Wesleyan University grid clashes.

Roy Parsons

For his performance in the Friday, Sept. 30, Roy Parsons, jr, McPherson, was named player of the week by his teammates.

Roy was one of the fearsome foursome that foiled many attempts by the Southwestern backfield to penetrate the defensive wall of the Bulldogs.

While he attended McPherson High School, Parsons lettered four years in football and was captain in his senior year. He also lettered four years in track.

Roy, a physical education and industrial arts major, asserted, "The team was fired up and the defense was the major factor in setting up all the scoring and stopping the running plays."

When asked about the upcoming game with the Falcons of Friends University, Roy said, "The team and I want revenge from the 14-13 defeat handed to us last year."

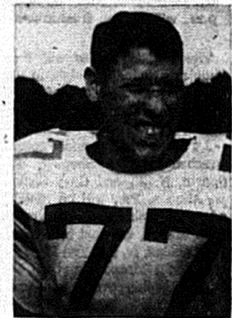

When Roy graduates he plans to be a coach at Marion High School.

For his outstanding performance in the McPherson-KWU game Sept. 24, tackle Tom Brubaker, jr, Rocky Ford, Colo., was voted player of the week for his great defensive play following the running and passing attempts of the Coyotes.

Concerning the first win of the season, Tom asserts, "The team played well. With continued support from the student body, we will do as well or better in the future."

While in high school, Brubaker played center position and was used sparingly at tackle. He also lettered in baseball and wrestling.

Tom chose McPherson College because he wanted to play football. "something I would not have been able to do at a larger school."

Tom Brubaker

Brubaker, a business administration major, stated, "With the spirit and desire of the team this season, we should finish way up in the standings."

Stout Defense Stops Builders

The McPherson College Bulldogs captured their second win of the season Friday, Sept. 30, when they defeated the Southwestern Moundbuilders 15-0.

Southwestern was tied for first place with College of Emporia, Baker and Ottawa. Currently, Southwestern, McPherson and Bethany are in a three-way tie for second place.

A stout defense, coupled with a running game stopped the Builders, who are now 3-1 for the season and 2-1 in KCAC play.

Bob DeTour, sr, McPherson, fullback, scored both TD's for McPherson, one on a pass from quarterback Junior Smith and the other on a pass interception.

McPherson's defensive game stopped the running game of Southwestern before it got started.

The Moundbuilders had a net rushing yardage of -13 yards, while the Bulldogs had a 94 net yards rushing.

In the first quarter Southwestern had started three drives, but were thrown for losses. Later in the first period, Mac punted and the Builders recovered it on their own one-yard line. On the first play the defense, led by Fred Teeter, jr, Oakley, threw the quarterback into the end zone for a two-point safety.

Throughout the second quarter, both teams exchanged punts. Toward the end of the first half, Southwestern's quarterback, Blackwell fumbled and DeTour recovered on the Builder's five. It took four plays to score with Smith throwing to DeTour. John Sumenski, jr, Milwaukee, Wis., kicked the extra point.

In the third period defense was the key word for both teams. Southwestern and McPherson exchanged punts, numerous times.

In the fourth period DeTour intercepted a Blackwell pass and raced 35 yards to score the second touchdown of the game. Sumenski failed to kick the extra point.

The stalwart defense that the Bulldogs used against the Moundbuilders kept them from threatening McPherson's goal line at any time.

immensely in future games.

We have a story from "Sports Illustrated" which should shed some light on the racial crisis in professional sports.

Reggie Harding, Negro basketball player said after he signed with the Detroit Pistons for a $15,000 contract, "They can talk all about black power and white power, but I believe in green power — money, man, money."

Oh well.

On with the selections for this week.

Friends at Mac-Mac has a big one under its belt. Friends scored three times against Southwestern's tough defense. Get ready, Bulldogs. McPherson 14, Friends 13.

Baker at KWU-Baker got smacked 36-0 by C of E last week when KWU got their from Bethany. We'll go with pride and experience. Baker 21, KWU 13.

Bethany at Southwestern. Southwestern is 'hopping mad at the upset incurred; and this, coupled with home-field inspiration, should squeeze it by the Swedes. Southwestern 13, Bethany 6.

C of E at Ottawa.

Ottawa's fabulous Braves are even more outstanding on their home field. C of E will give them a test, but score-wise, not game-wise. Ottawa 30, C of E 14.

Sterling at Bethel.

The Threshers are begging for a win, but so are Sterling's Warriors. Sterling 20-Bethel 0.

Career Days Begins Oct. 3

Guy Hayes, director of admissions, will be representing McPherson College at many high school Career Days within the next few months.

Hayes attended Career days—or nights — at Wichita South-east, Wichita North and Wichita East Oct. 3-5. "Close to 50 colleges were represented," stated Hayes.

During the Career Days, high school students, juniors and seniors, meet with the college representatives to discuss scholarships, loans, regulations, pupil-teacher-ratio and other questions which the students might have.

"This is an effort to sell McPherson College to high school seniors and parents," said Hayes.

"Parents are encouraged to attend the meetings with the students," stated Hayes.

Hayes will travel to Syracuse, Russell, and Great Bend where he will talk with students from at least 30 schools in western Kansas, Oct. 18.

Meetings at Marquette, Minneapolis, Lincoln, Bellville, Concordia, Beloit and Osborne will accommodate most of the high schools in north central Kansas.

Other schools will be visited November-February, but direct visits to high schools to contact on personal basis will be the general pattern during the next three months," stated Hayes.

President Plans Tour In Chicago

Dr. J. Jack Melhorn, president of the College, has just finished two days solicitation work in Wichita for the Kansas Foundation for Private Colleges, Inc., and leaves today for Chicago with the annual Chamber of Commerce tour.

Last week's activities included the Sept. 26 Associated Colleges of Central Kansas meeting at Kansas Wesleyan University. Selection of a full-time ACKC director was discussed there, and reports were heard on the library project, data processing and a communications system.

A reception for members of the cast of the Hospital Auxiliary production of "Love in a Public Pool" was held Sept. 30, by Dr. and Mrs. Melhorn.

Dr. Melhorn held a dinner meeting Sept. 27 with newly-hired, full-time faculty members to present and discuss the Development Program, and on Sept. 28, he met for luncheon with McPherson Community Campaign workers.

Weight Machine In Use at Gym

McPherson College students, men and women, may use the Universal Gym Machine which is located in the back room of the gymnasium, said Phil Grove, jr. Laurens, Iowa, secretary of M Club.

The $2500 machine was purchased by the M Club, with some help from the Women's Athletic Association in the spring of 1966.

Seven exercise stations compose the movable machine, which exercise all muscles of the body.

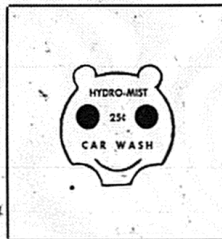

The seven stations are chest press, shoulder press, leg press, pulley station — high pulley chins, pulley station — arm curls, abdominal board attachment and a thigh and knee machine.

There are many variations possible on the machine which is used for building and developing muscles.
