Campus editor applications due Tuesday, Nov. 14

Applications for campus editor for next semester will be accepted by the Board of Publications until Tuesday, Nov. 14.

Tom Brybaker, sr., Rocky Ford, Colo., chairman of the Board, and Dean Sheller, sr., Eldora, Iowa, president of Student Council, will collect the applications.

The Board of Publications has set three qualifications (as stated in the Stuco sotry in this issue) for the campus editor.

College to observe annual Parents Day

By SUSAN SELL

Parents of McPherson College Students have been invited to Parents Day, Saturday, Nov. 11.

Parents arriving early will be given complimentary admission to the football game with Sterling Nov. 10 at 7:30 p.m. in the College stadium.

After registering in Friendship Hall Saturday morning, parents will be welcomed by Dr. J. Jack Melhorn, president of the College, in Brown Auditorium. Interesting facts and general information will be presented by Dr. Merlin L. Frantz, dean of academic affairs.

Parents are invited to join their students at lunch at the cafeteria in the Student Union.

Charles W. Fischer, assistant professor in English and theater will present "Everyman," a drama done with puppets at 1:30 p.m. in Brown Auditorium.

The remainder of the afternoon may be spent touring the campus or the town. The College museum and other campus facilities will be open for visitors.

A program by the music department will highlight Saturday evening. "Song of Democracy," by Hanson will be presented by the McPherson College A Cappella Choir.

The A Cappella Choir will join with the Chapel Choir to present selections from "Gloria" by Vivaldi and "The Beatitudes" by Van Hulse.

Gwendolyn Ditmars, fr. Grundy Center, Iowa, will play "Variations Sericuses" for the piano by Mendelssohn. Winona Achilles, jr., McPherson, will play a French horn solo, "Air de Chasse" by L. Piatoni, a contemporary French composer.

A social hour in the Student Union following the program will give parents and their students a chance to become acquainted with other parents and students.

Larry W. Marcellus, director of publicity and promotion, is the coordinator of the day. Members of the committee are Miss Mary Ann Robinson, dean of women; Dr. Galen R. Snell, dean of men; Eugene Myers, director of admissions; and Paul Wagoner, associate director of development.

30 graduates will return to attend conference

By SUSAN SELL

A group of alumni will serve as a sounding board for alumni relations when they meet Saturday, Nov. 11.

About 30 persons are expected to return to McPherson College for the second Alumni Campus Conference. Nineteen alumni came to the first conference Sept. 23.

The day will begin with registration and coffee in Friendship Hall at 9:30 a.m., followed by a general session in 125 Mohler led by Dr. J. Jack Melhorn, president of the College and Paul Wagoner, associate director of development.

The group will be divided into two sections for discussion of the alumni program following the opening assembly.

Each group will be given a prepared list of questions about the College alumni program which will prompt further questions and solutions.

Questions will cover how the alumni can help procure students and funds for the College; how alumni can best be informed; and how students can best be prepared for society.

The role of the private church related college will be discussed.

Delegates to this conference were selected and invited by the office of alumni affairs. The idea is a takeoff from the Planning Conference on campus in the fall of 1965.

The conference is part of a projected program which will invite groups of parents, pastors, businessmen and other groups to discuss their relationships with the College.

Seniors may choose pose for Quadrangle

Seniors who had their pictures taken for the Quadrangle during the make-up sessions may watch the bulletin boards in Mohler Hall and in the Student Union for times when they can choose a pose for the annual and order individual prints.

The yearbook staff is currently working out layouts for the class section. The first 40 facing pages are due Nov. 13. Yearbook copy should be in before this date.

Melhorn attends ACE meeting in Washington

President J. Jack Melhorn attended the 50th annual meeting of the American Council on Education Oct. 11-13 at the Shoreham Hotel in Washington, D.C.

The theme of the conference was "Whose Goals for American Higher Education?"

Philip R. Werdel, former editor of "Moderator" and present consultant to the Commission of Academic Affairs of the American Council on Education, discussed "Teaching and Learning: the Basic Function."

Werdel stated, "It is clear that higher education can best be an effective critic of society by acting upon major criticism it has been making of itself."

In higher education, Werdel described three models: the Reference Group, the Experimental College and the Individual Growth Program.

Each model could become fully operational without revisions or reforms in the traditional curriculum, but with minimum financial commitment on the part of the college.

The Reference Group helps a student focus on his own learning process. He is encouraged to work deliberately and reinforced in his primary task of education.

The Experimental College teaches a student to learn what he wants to learn, by integrating learning and living.

The Individual Growth Program facilitates communication by placing the computer at the service of the individual student.

For the first time, the computer would categorize information for the student rather than make him a category of information.

Museum is open

The McPherson College Museum, located on the fourth floor of Harnly Hall, is open to the public every day except Sunday. The hours that the museum is open vary from day to day, however.

Visiting hours are 8-11:30 a.m. and 3-5 p.m. on Mondays; 8-11:30 a.m. and 1:30-5 p.m. on Wednesdays and Fridays; 1:30-5 p.m. on Thursdays; and 9 a.m.-12 noon on Saturdays.

S. M. Dell, director of the museum, invites students to visit the museum. He also invites interested persons to view the large bell collection now being assembled.

This collection includes over 300 bells of all shapes, sizes and descriptions. The bells once belonged to a former student of McPherson College.

Flirt Week is Nov. 13-18

Beware men! As George Bernard Shaw once said, "The whole world is strewn with snares, traps, and pitfalls for the capture of men by women."

The males will be pursued, the females, the pursuers, as the campus observes its annual Flirt Week, Nov. 13-18.

Women, this will be your long-awaited opportunity to see if you would like to have been born a male.

Roles will be reversed as women adjust to opening doors for men, arranging dates with them, picking them up, paying the bill, and carrying books.

Suggestions offered by Women's Council for prospective dates are the Friday night movie, "VIP's," the dance Saturday night; and Coke or study dates. Or why not be original?

Flirt Week is sponsored by the Women's Council and the Social Committee.

Saturday is deadline for dropping classes

The deadline for dropping a class is Saturday, Nov. 11, at noon.

A student may drop a class by having his faculty adviser fill out a drop slip. The drop slip should be turned in to the Registrar's Office.

No money will be refunded for the class dropped.

The dropped class will be recorded as either withdrawn passing or withdrawn failing.

BELLS, BELLS, BELLS. S. M. Dell, left, curator of the museum, wears collar of sleigh bells and listens to the tone of a small bell while Donna Nikodim, soph., Ely, Iowa, prepares to hit the Chinese gong. These and the bells on the shelves in the background are a few of the bells included in the museum's collection of over 300 bells.

International Fair to represent 25 countries

Seven booths will represent twenty-five countries at the International Fair in Friendship Hall from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. Friday and Saturday, Nov. 17-18.

Booths and booth chairmen are Central Europe, Larry Vernon, jr., Big Pine, Calif.; Far East, Cindy Eisenbise, sr., Elizabethtown, Pa.; Britain, Jo Ann Mowry, jr., Pekin, Ill.;

Scandinavia, Tom Ness, fr. Seven Valleys, Pa.; Latin America, Allan Flory, soph., Marion, Iowa; Africa, Carlos Green, jr., Cascade Locks, Ore.; India, Calvin Moffit, soph., Washington.

A new booth this year is one in which slides of foreign countries will be shown. Slides will be provided by students who have visited foreign countries. Bob Smith, soph., Fredericksburg, Iowa, is chairman.

Members of the International Fair Planning Committee are Ron Adkins, sr., Long Beach, Calif., chairman; Gary Haster, fr. Cedar Rapids, Iowa, assistant chairman; Carolyn Dell, jr., Enid, Okla., secretary; Bruce MacPherson, jr., Winsted, Conn., treasurer; Jim Mowry, soph., Pekin, Ill., booths chairman; Bev Horner, jr., Carleton, Neb., and Stan Booker, soph., Lebanon, Pa., in charge of publicity.

Yearbook company asks for copyright of Quad end sheets

The American Yearbook Company has asked to buy the copyright for the color end sheets of the 1967 Quadrangle.

The end sheets picture a Kansas sunrise over a wheat field near McPherson. Don's Studio took the picture for the Quadrangle.

Frank Wright, American Yearbook representative, said "This scene typifies our great Kansas."

Miss Jean Yoder, '67, was last year's yearbook editor, Miss Yoder is now a social worker in Wichita.

Designated areas reserved for cars

By DIANNE WARNKE
To avoid a traffic ticket, students owning cars should know where they are permitted to park.

Dr. Galen Snell, assistant dean of student affairs and dean of men, stated that cars may be parked on streets where parking spaces have been designated or in any of the college parking lots.

A car does not necessarily have to be parked in areas nearest the owner's dorm. For instance, Bittering Hall residents may use the parking lot east of Arnold Hall.

Motorcycles are considered cars and may be parked in any of the areas mentioned. However, space has been provided especially for them east of Arnold Hall and west of Dotzour Hall.

Dr. Snell observed that motorcycle owners do not need to take up an entire parking space since there is a limited amount of space available.

Designated lines or in any area restricted by the city may be ticketed by the city police.

Parking is prohibited on any College property that has not been designated for this purpose.

These areas include the field north of Bittering Hall, the alley behind Dotzour Hall and areas around the College Courts.

Owners of cars illegally parked in these areas will be given tickets by College personnel. The first ticket is a warning and requires the student to see Dr. Snell.

Additional tickets will be dealt with more severely.

Dr. Snell remarked, "I am very pleased with the cooperation of the students in this matter. The college has not found it necessary yet to give anything more than a warning to students."

Dr. Snell encouraged students to present complaints and suggestions on the parking situation to the College administration.

Cars not parked between des-

"Good" words are scarce

It is apparent that something is lacking on the McPherson College campus, for it seems that no one has a "good" word to say about anyone or anything. This year, more than ever before, complaints or "bad" words have been aimed at students, faculty, food, publications, the football team and campus activities (or the lack of activities).

Maybe this absence of "good" words stems from the lack of communication. For example, there seems to be a lack of communication among students from different areas of the continental United States. There is also a lack of communication between students and faculty, and between students and social activities.

Is it this lack of communication that causes these "bad" words and the lack of "good" words? Or could it be that the fault lies within each individual because he does not have a good word to say about himself?

Whatever the cause, I think that we should all examine ourselves before we do any more complaining. There is surely a "little good" on this campus somewhere, isn't there?

"I think there is a tendency of the students... Hello there Professor Blockbush... to carry the rules of 'Flirt Week' too far!"

Observations

By JAN PYLE

Observations on Lights

Lights at Night
From the hill above my town,
I wonder at the lights, one by one appearing,
Competing with the twilight now,
And later with the stars above.
I sit on my hill and ponder the stories
Of the lights in my town.

The tavern lights hide the stories
Of the shadows within,
Here all is known but nothing is said,
Except, of course, about that which Helps them forget.

And over there are the hospital lights that protect.
The light on the left is the first light
A baby saw a while ago.
(The baby is fine, but he misses comfort.)
The light on the right is the last light
An old man saw a while ago.
(The old man is fine and has found his comfort.)

The building with the colored windows
Is the town church.
Its inner light is now comforting a little girl,
Called a teenager.
But she's still not sure of the father.

The lights in that school
Watch over the janitor working late.
There was a lot of bubble gum on the floor tonight.
He loves the children who walk his halls;
Strange, that the children don't even know
That he exists.

And I see the lights of cars criss-crossing across
The town, with and without a pattern,
Like the lives of the riders,
Who cannot even guess the stories of
The other lights.

'Poet Grower' will speak at Convocation

Mr. Paul Engle, often called the "Poet Grower," is scheduled for the Nov. 16 Convocations at 9 a.m.

Because of his unique poetry workshop at the University of Iowa in Iowa City which has trained poets from every state and from foreign countries, Engle has earned the title of "Poet Grower."

In 1931, he received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Coe College, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and his Master of Arts from the University of Iowa in 1932.

"Worn Earth," his original book of poems used as his thesis, won the Yale Series of Younger Poets prize in 1932.

Since 1937, he has been on the faculty of the University of Iowa. Presently he is the Colston lecturer for the W. Colston Lehigh Bureau, New York.

Students tell of NIH program

A program explaining the purpose, activities and benefits of participating in the National Institute of Health Program was presented Sunday, Nov. 5, at the Church of the Brethren.

Three McPherson College students told of their experiences while working at NIH this past summer. These students were Mary Atwill, jr., San Marino, Calif.; Glee Hoover, sr., Plattsburg, Mo.; and Marcella Sherry, sr., McPherson.

Blood donors give 149 pints to Red Cross

Blood donors gave 149 pints of blood when the Red Cross Bloodmobile was on campus Oct. 31 in the basement of the Church of the Brethren.

Although there were 178 donors, 28 were rejected. Cancellations were made by 45 persons, but other persons were "drop ins," (those who did not have appointments.)

Last year the College contributed 130 pints of blood. This year the College needed 160 pints of blood to meet the quota.

Circle K sponsored the Bloodmobile this year with Denny Dahlquist, sr., Alexandria, Va., as chairman.

Supervised by Sharon Hartman, sr., Pine Ridge, S.D. and Paula Sissel, soph., Davenport, Neb., the Home Economics Chapter served a meal to all who gave blood and helped with the program.

Builders must stop C of E to be first

By MIKE THOMPSON

Southwestern assured itself of at least a tie for first by soundly thrashing Sterling last Saturday. A victory over C of E will win it all for them.

Ottawa remains in second position, but Baker dropped to third after being upset by Friends.

It looks like the top five teams in the league this year were Southwestern, Ottawa, Baker, KWU and C of E.

Cross-Country is another sport rounding out its season this week, and it looks like McPherson will be in the running for the Conference title.

By looking at this season's record, and counting on some fine efforts, I'll pick McPherson to win by one point.

They will be followed closely by KWU and Ottawa, with Southwestern, Tabor, Baker, Sterling and C of E.

Student teachers meet for convention

To become better acquainted with the teaching profession, 61 student teachers attended the 104th Kansas State Teachers Association Convention Nov. 1-3.

Norman R. Babcock, president of KSTA, stated that the purpose of this convention was to provide better answers to problems confronting teachers in Kansas.

One question posed at the convention was whether teachers are ready yet to have teaching legally recognized as a profession.

Eight cities were used as convention meeting places: Dodge City, Hays, Hutchinson, Lawrence, Pittsburg, Salina, Topeka and Wichita.

Intramural bowling begins 2nd semester

No intramural bowling teams will be formed until second semester. Don Widrig, associate professor in physical education, stated.

Walker presents pantomime

Jewell Walker was scheduled to present a pantomime in this morning's Convocation. He has had eight and one-half years of theater training.

Since 1963, Walker has been an assistant professor in Carnegie-Mellon Drama department where he teaches stage movement.

Team members chosen players-of-week by football squad, Quarterback Club

By DANA BOWER

Ten McPherson College football players have received recognition from the Bulldog team and the Monday Morning Quarterback Club as players-of-the-week.

These honored players are D. Moore, Dan Stockstill, Hal Wright, Mike Thompson, Denny Miller, Tom Brubaker, Jr. Smith, Steve Korrasik, Jim Beachell and Ron Picklesimer.

Linebacker D. Moore, soph., Council Grove, made 10 assisted tackles in the Southwestern game.

In the Friends University game, Dan Stockstill, sr., Geneseo, made one tackle and seven assists at defensive end.

Halfback Hal Wright, soph., Dwight, made 25 yards rushing and 149 yards on 5 passes received totaling 174 offensive yards in the Bethany game.

Mike Thompson, soph., Beloit made seven tackles and eight assists in the University game.

Denny Miller, sr., Lanark, Ill., offensive left guard, blocked well, especially on pass protection in the Ottawa game.

The Monday Morning Quarterback Club of McPherson chose the following for their outstanding performance in each game.

In the Southwestern game, Wright and Tom Brubaker, sr., Rocky Ford, Colo., were selected Quarterback Club players of the week.

Wright made 13 yards rushing and 60 yards on passes received.

Brubaker made 2 tackles and 12 assists.

Dan Stockstill and Junior Smith, soph., Chase, were selected for the Friends University game.

Smith made three tackles and seven assists 40 yards rushing and 17 yards on two kickoff returns.

In the Bethany College game, Steve Korrasik, soph., Brooklyn, N. Y., and Jim Beachell, soph.

Princeton, N. J., won players of the week.

Korrasik made one tackle and five assists, and Beachell had two tackles and twenty assists.

Thompson and Ron Picklesimer, fr., Lima, Ohio, were selected in the Baker University game.

Picklesimer had 6 tackles and 23 assists and knocked down one pass.

In the Ottawa game, Wright and Brubaker were chosen for their performances.

Wright had 48 yards rushing, 18 yards on one pass reception, 97 yards on 5 kickoff returns, totaling 163 yards for the game.

Brubaker had five tackles and six assists.

Seniors will play final game against Sterling tomorrow

By CHRIS LEVI

Seven seniors will be playing their final football game tomorrow, 7:30 p.m. against Sterling in the College stadium.

They are: Denny Miller, Lanark, Ill.; Dan Stockstill, Geneseo; Tom Brubaker, Rocky Ford, Colo.; Don Woodcock, Washington; Bob DeTour, McPherson; Lance Morgan, Barrington, Ill.; and Glen Walker.

"Stub" Miller a 5-6, 195 lb. offensive left guard is majoring in math. After graduation he plans to teach high school math.

Concerning the Bulldogs' performance this season, Miller stated, "We are not as experienced as we have been in previous years. Our defense is good, but we don't seem to have that extra bit on offense to make us click."

He indicated that his best game was against Southwestern because, "I like to play against good, clean hard-hitting teams."

Dan Stockstill, 6-5, 220 lb. defensive end is an elementary education major. After graduation he plans to teach junior high school science in New Mexico.

Rogers paces track club to cross-country win in Wahoo, Neb.

Kathy Rogers, soph, Brooklyn, Iowa, paced the Topeka Cosmos Girls Track Club to a cross-country win in Wahoo, Neb., Oct. 29.

The Cosmos beat John F. Kennedy College, 25-39.

A veteran Cosmos winner in track and cross country competition, Miss Rogers won first place with a time of 12:18 followed by Peggy Grinviaesky from Kansas University with 12:56. A Cosmos newcomer, Jan Pappas from K.U. finished third with 13:00.

"We have a better team than we've shown. The lack of experience and bad breaks hurt us throughout the season," Stockstill commented.

He said that the Friends game was his best, because he received the player of the week award for his defensive performance, making one tackle and seven assists.

"I wish I could play for the Bulldogs next season. This year we had to adjust to the new coach, especially the offensive unit, because offense is the most difficult to learn," asserted business major Tom Brubaker.

The 6-0, 218 lb. linebacker anchors the defensive unit.

His best game was also Southwestern. There Brubaker played havoc with the Moundbuilders' running backs, making 2 tackles and 12 assists.

Industrial arts major Don Woodcock plans to teach engineering graphics and coach basketball after graduation.

The 6-1, 180 lb. end said that his best game of the season was against College of Emporia, where he made three pass receptions and blocked opposing linemen.

"Injuries hurt us throughout the season, and we had to try to adjust accordingly," Woodcock stated.

The Bulldogs' 6-1, 220 lb. fullback, Bob DeTour said that the Bethany game was his outstanding one. He ran for a 40-yard touchdown and punted for a 51-yard average.

DeTour commented about the team's performance: "We made too many mistakes at the wrong time for us and the right time for our opponents. We usually beat ourselves."

He plans to teach social sciences after graduation.

History major, Lance Morgan, 5-10, 200 lb. defensive end, stated that the Bulldog offense and defense seemed sporadic at times. "We just couldn't adjust."

Morgan made two tackles and four assists against Bethel for his best game.

"Our inexperience as a team was evident this season," Glen Walker, 5-11, 180 lb. halfback said.

The history major indicated that the game with arch-rival, Bethany was his best. Walker, on the kick-off team, made one tackle and one assist.

Bulldogs to face strong Warriors in final game

Sterling Warriors will meet the McPherson College Bulldogs in the final grid contest for both teams tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in the College stadium.

Sterling brings a 2-5-1 record, while the Bulldogs are winless in 8 attempts.

The Warriors have defeated Bethany and Bethel, tied Friends and lost to Ottawa, Southwestern, College of Emporia, Kansas Wesleyan and Baker.

McPherson has suffered losses from C of E, KWU, Friends, Bethany, Southwestern, Ottawa, Baker and Bethel.

In the Kansas College Athletic Conference, Sterling quarterback, Woodbury is fourth in total offense with an average of 141.4 yards per game.

Halfback Thompson is fifth in rushing with a 72.6 yard average. Woodbury is third in passing, averaging 104 yards a game.

The Warriors are fifth in rushing and fourth in passing, averaging 152.9 and 115.7 yards.

Sterling's punter, Spotts, is leading the conference with a 43.1 yard average. He is followed by the Bulldogs' Bob DeTour and Manfred Brown, with averages of 40.5 and 37.9.

In pass defense, Sterling is fourth, yielding 115.1 yards per game.

"We have an excellent chance of beating Sterling this week for our final game. If we can execute the blocks satisfactorily and if each man does his job, then we will be all right," Head Coach Dwight McSpadden stated.

Eight teams will participate in cross-country

The Kansas College Athletic Conference cross-country meet will be run Nov. 14 on the three-mile course laid out on the Rolling Acres Golf Course.

The eight teams planning to compete are Sterling College, Kansas Wesleyan University, Ottawa University, Southwestern College, College of Emporia, Friends University, Tabor College and McPherson College.

In an invitational cross-country meet at KWU Nov. 3, the McPherson harriers finished in third place.

Doane College, Neb., finished in first place with 26 points; KWU second with 53; and McPherson third with 65.

Tabor College was fourth with 87, Baker University fifth with 120 and Sterling College sixth with 131 over the four-mile course.

First place winner among the individuals was Glenn Appell, KWU, in 20:26 minutes.

McPherson's top runner was Shepherd who placed 13th with a time of 22:33. Ron Smith was 14th in 22:34.

Ag Club improvements Women's Council assists are result of publicity College adjustments, graces

By DIANNE WARNEK
More personnel, additional facilities, improvement of present equipment, and a greater interest in the department were goals set up last year by the McPherson College Agricultural Club.

Already improvements in several of these areas have taken place. Richard Burger, Jr., Perryton, Texas, president of the club, feels that these changes have occurred because of increased publicity.

An Agricultural Improvements Committee was set up by the club. One of its present activities is working with the Administration in compiling a departmental brochure.

The purpose of this pamphlet is to promote both the agricultural department and the MCAC. It will be sent sometime this semester to the Admissions Office, and copies will be sent to prospective students.

Other items the Improvements Committee is concerned with are determining what improvements are necessary in the department and reporting its findings to the Administration and Academic Affairs Committee.

MCAC currently has 25 active members. Other students are encouraged to attend club meetings. Burger stated that it is not necessary to be a member in order to attend club meetings.

Meetings are held monthly in designated buildings. Information about dates and times for meetings is displayed on posters in the Student Union, Harny Hall, and the agriculture department.

Burger, president of the club, is assisted by the other officers, who are Dick Martin, sr., Sterling, Ohio, vice-president; and Dennis Heisey, jr., Hershey, Pa., secretary-treasurer.

Faculty sponsor is Dr. John Ward, professor of agriculture and rural life.

Activities of the MCAC include field trips, special programs, and the exchange of ideas on agricultural methods.

A picnic was scheduled for club members and their guests Sunday, Oct. 29, at the Old Mill in Lindsborg.

A one-day field trip for this semester is being planned to a fertilizer plant in Lawrence. Dr. Ward will sponsor the trip, and members of the agricultural classes and MCAC may attend.

By LUCILE PETRE
To assist women in their college adjustments and to promote social graces are two major purposes of Women's Council.

Composed of nineteen members, the Council is headed by Annette Burkholder, sr., Preston, Minn.

Other officers include Jean Lichty Hendricks, jr., McPherson, vice-president; Jean Kwok, sr., Kowloon, Hong Kong, publicity and corresponding secretary; and Janet Bruce, soph., McPherson, treasurer and recording secretary.

Miss Mary Ann Robinson, dean of women, sponsors the Council and appoints members.

The group, which meets the first and third Monday of each month, represents the various living arrangements on and off campus, and the campus organizations for women.

Senior Women's Council members are Janice Howell, St. John; Judy Monke, Pierson, Iowa; Marcella Sherly, McPherson; Annette Burkholder; Carol Cobb, Galva; and Jean Kwok.

Representatives for the junior women include Jean Lichty Hendricks; Lynda Beavers, Carleton, Neb.; Donna Brubaker, Lyons; Pat Drury, Marshalltown, Iowa; Wanda McDonough, Grinnell, Iowa; Mary Nell Hoover, Fort Wayne, Ind.; and Mary Atwill, San Marino, Calif.

Sherry Walker, Norton; Margaret Holderreed, Twin Falls, Idaho; Lilli Ann Wivell, Columbia, Pa.; and Janet Bruce are the sophomore appointees.

The two newly appointed freshman representatives are Marcia Sellberg, McPherson, and Sue Steffen, Goshen, Ind.

Annually the Council sponsors the Big-Sister Plan to help freshman women become acquainted and adjusted to college early in the year. Another social activity is the Women's Tea for students and faculty wives and members.

"Cues for Coeds," a booklet describing Dotzour Hall, extra-curricular activities, grooming, etiquette, and campus organizations, is distributed to freshman women.

Board of Publications adopts standards for Spec editors

Committee reports were given at the Nov. 1 meeting of the Student Council. They were as follows:

Board of Publications. Tom Brubaker, sr., Rocky Ford, Colo., chairman, reported that the Board of Publications adopted the following standards for editors of the Spectator:

1. Anyone applying for campus editor must maintain at least a 2.0 grade average.

2. If the applicant is a junior or senior, he must have already passed the Junior Proficiency Test, preferably the first time.

3. Freshman and sophomore applicants must have ranked above the 50th percentile on the ACT test; and they must have made a "C" or better in Written Communications.

4. No one who is on academic or social probation can be hired. The Board of Publications also hired Jan Pyle, soph., Denver, as assistant copy reader for the Spectator for the remainder of the semester.

Salaries for next year's editors and business manager were also determined. The salary for the editor-in-chief will be $200 per semester; the managing editor will receive $175 per semester. The possibility of a bonus for the editor-in-chief has been eliminated.

The business manager will receive $300 per year plus 30 per cent of the profits up to a $75 maximum bonus.

Coffeehouse Committee. Cindy Eisenbise, sr., Elizabethtown, Pa., president, reported that the committee is attempting to make additions to the Mac Shack menu. The committee is also planning "speak-outs" to promote better faculty-student relations.

Stan Borowski, jr., Newark, Del., treasurer, gave the Mac Shack financial report. Bills for the month of October amounted to $1049, while income for the month was $920, which results in a deficit of $129. The Mac Shack has an overall deficit of $140.

Food Committee. The Food Committee suggested that the Council enforce the dress code. A motion was passed to have the Student Court look into the problems which have developed from the controversy of having a dress code and to come up with some type of penalty for infraction of the code.

Campus Improvements Committee. Jean Keith sr., Chicago, chairman, reported that the committee is looking into the possibility of placing more benches around the campus.

Academic Affairs Committee. Marcella Sherly, sr., McPherson, chairman, told of discussions on including a math requirement in the general distribution requirements.

Other Stucco action: Stucco President Dean Sheller, sr., Eldora, Iowa, told of the Prayer Breakfast at Kansas State University, Manhattan, Nov. 18.

The Council gave Sheller the permission to organize a committee to check into the cost and work involved in getting signs posted on the highways to advertise the College.

Peace Corps to give tests

"In order that I respect a man, I require that he have in some way participated in the passions of his time," Oliver Wendell Holmes once said.

Several of the passions of our time are the struggles against such problems as disease, war, poverty, ignorance and apathy. By enlisting in the Peace Corps, it is possible to personally fight these problems and help people to find a better way of life.

Tests will be given at the post offices in Hutchinson and Salina on Saturday, Nov. 18, at 1:30 p.m. and on Monday, Dec. 4, at 3 p.m.

For more information, students may contact Leland Lengel, assistant professor of history and political science, in Mohler 217.

The purpose of these tests is to discover in what way the applicant can best serve the Peace Corps.

Art Club gives school party

A psychedelic atmosphere produced by burning incense, peppermints, fresh daisies, chrysanthemums and carnations highlighted the All-School Party.

Entertainment consisted of two films: "The Snow Was Black," and the Laurel and Hardy comedy, "Double Whoopee."

Colored posters, Hippie phrases glowing from a newspaper covered wall and life-size posters of thugs surrounded the room.

Each guest was able to test his artistic ability by melting crayons and drawing on newspaper covered tables or cups.

Taylor, Burton star in 'VIP's' Nov. 17

Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton star in the "VIP's," which will be shown during Flirt Week, Friday, Nov. 17, at 8 p.m. in Brown Auditorium.

A delayed airplane flight from London to New York throws a group of people into the midst of crises. Twenty-four hours of tension have important meanings for each of them.

Elizabeth Taylor, the glamorous wife of millionaire Richard Burton, is running away with an international playboy.

A tycoon must be in New York to arrange for a loan; a film businessman is faced with an income tax payment if not out of the country by midnight; and a scatter-brained duchess is off to Miami to save her family estate.

The Social Committee will request a donation of 50 cents.
