

4 students attend Republican meeting

Kansas Collegiate Young Republicans met at the state capitol in Topeka last weekend to record their views on current issues at their first state-wide Resolutions Convention.

Fourteen resolutions were adopted by the 150 delegates from fourteen schools. McPherson College students who attended the convention were Harriet Krueger, soph, Bagley, Iowa; Jim Furnas, jr, Troy, Ohio; Phil McNish, fr, LeRox, N. Y.; and Brian Summerhays, soph, Brockport, N. Y.

Governor John Love of Colorado, Kansas Lieutenant Govern-nor John Crutcher and Kansas' First District Congressman Bob Dole spoke at the meeting.

The assembly criticized Governor Docking for "flouting the laws of Kansas" by not appointing the recommended nominee for state livestock sanitary commissioner.

New state legislation for riot control was recommended in one resolution. Another called for the sale of cigarettes on state college campuses with profits going to the student union funds.

The Collegiate Young Republicans opposed the admission of Red China to the United Nations and asked the 1968 Republican presidential nominee to "promise to the American people that he will earnestly attempt to end the conflict in Vietnam as quickly as possible."

"The convention was very educational. We learned a lot about current events," Miss Krueger said.

German classes plan Christmas program Dec. 3

An evergreen with lighted candles will set the mood for the annual German Christmas program at the Church of the Brethren Sunday, Dec. 3, at 7:30 p.m.

The authentic program, planned by Jean McLane, Jr., assistant professor of German, and Mike Ziemann, sr, Berlin, Germany, will feature the German classes and volunteers.

Familiar carols will be sung in both English and German.

The remaining program, all in German, will include songs by the German classes and a quartet, Bible readings and poems and a short meditation called an "Andacht."

Don McMurray, soph, Canton, and Donna Winegardner, fr, Des Moines, Iowa, will sing a duet. The program, which is open to the public, will give the German students a chance to put the language to practical use.

The Mennonite groups around McPherson were especially receptive to the first program last year, because many of them speak German.

Formal set for Dec. 2

The traditional Winter Formal will be held Saturday, Dec. 2, at 8 p.m. in the cafeteria of the Student Union.

Decorations will be made by the Art Club. In keeping with the atmosphere that will be created, men are encouraged to wear tuxedos and girls to wear long evening gowns.

Admission will be $1 per couple.

College coed is wheat queen runner-up

Marcia Bryan, fr, Canton, was chosen runner-up in the Kansas Wheat Queen Competition at Great Bend Nov. 21.

The contest, sponsored by the Kansas Association of Wheat Growers and the Kansas Wheat Commission, was won by Miss Donna Lee Schippers, a freshman at Fort Hays State College.

Miss Bryan first competed in the County Wheat Queen Contest at the McPherson County Fair in July of 1967. By winning over five other contestants, she received $25 and the chance to represent the district in the state contest.

Six girls competed for the title of Kansas Wheat Queen in the Great Bend contest.

They were judged on appearance, public speaking experience, poise, personality, and their knowledge of wheat and wheat production.

Marcia attended a governor's luncheon with her parents and a tea to meet the judges Nov. 20. Individual interviews, dinners, and the crowning of the queen filled Nov. 21.

Miss Bryan's major is undecided. She is a member of the Home Economics Chapter and band.

Revell to direct orchestra tonight, 7:30

Brown Auditorium will ring with music tonight at 7:30.

Those making the music will be the members of the College-Community Orchestra. Directing the group will be Robert E. Revell, assistant professor in music.

"Symphony No. 40," by Mozart; "The Pearl Fishers," by Bizet; "Prelude" and "Fugue in D Minor" by Handel; and "Menuetto from the 5th Symphony" by Schubert are the compositions to be performed.

The orchestra is composed of students from McPherson College, Tabor College, and Central College and interested adults from town.

There is no admission charge.

'The Little Foxes' to be staged Dec. 7-8

By LUCILE PETRE

Two performances of the dramatic production, "The Little Foxes," will be presented Dec. 7 and 8, Thursday and Friday at 8 p.m. in Brown Auditorium.

Under the direction of Charles Fischer, assistant professor in English and theater, the drama concerns the racial question in the South and modern economics.

"The Little Foxes" opened in New York City at the Repertory Theatre of Lincoln Center Oct. 26, and will be on Broadway Dec. 21. The Drama Department, through the efforts of Professor Fischer, was fortunate in securing exclusive rights to produce the show.

Usually a show running in New York or on Broadway is restricted nationwide so no other organization or school can produce it, but Professor Fischer made special arrangements with the producers of the show.

A classic of American drama, this play is the best and most famous of Lillian Hellman's plays.

Concerning the racial question raised, New York reviewers have stated that "The Little Foxes" is probably more meaningful to today's audiences than those of 1933.

HS counselors meet with college officials

Fourteen high school counselors from area schools visited the McPherson campus Nov. 17. They met with College officials in the Private Dining Room in the Student Union for a special dinner-meeting.

They discussed the problem of transition from high school to college.

John Lane, jr, Piqua, Ohio, entertained the counselors and College officials with guitar music.

with which to build a cotton mill, Regina Giddens and her two brothers, Ben and Oscar Hubbard, turn to Horace, Regina's husband.

Horace dramatically refuses to aid them, stating that they must find "a better way of getting rich than cheating niggers on a pound of bacon."

Attempts are made to stop Regina and her two brothers from trying "to pound the bones of their town to make dividends for them to spend."

Included in the cast of characters are Horace Giddens, Mike Loveless, soph, Mt. Rainier, Md.; Regina Giddens, Kerry Givens, soph, Nickerson;

Her two brothers, Ben Hubbard, John Smith, sr., McPherson, and Oscar, Alex Rygas, sr., McPherson; Oscar's frightened wife, Birdie, Marilyn Smith, jr., Cedaredge, Colo.;

Birdie's cowardly son, Leo, Nick Mosher, fr, Bellevue, Neb.; Regina's daughter, Alexandra, Christine Lippy, jr, Littleton, Colo.; William Marshall, Jody Serebits, jr, Washington, D. C.;

Addie, Sue Duncanson, jr, Lewiston, Minn.; and Cal, Tom Nee, soph, McPherson.

McPherson College students will be admitted on their identification cards.

Hunters, get your guns!

Do you like to get away from college pressures and hunt?

The 1967 Kansas state hunting seasons are as follows:

Closed season game includes all varieties of quail, prairie chickens, mourning and turtle doves, Wilson's snipe, otter and prairie fox and ducks. Duck season will re-open Dec. 9 and will run through Dec. 23.

Quail will be in a statewide range until Dec. 31. A daily bag limit of eight birds has been set.

Pheasants may be taken Dec. 16 to Dec. 31. The area open is zone two, west of U.S. Highway 81. Three birds daily is the limit.

Geese of all varieties will be in season until Dec. 10. The daily limit is five birds.

Woodcock season will remain open until Dec. 24. The limit is five birds.

Raccoon and skunk seasons never close provided there is no trapping of the animals, except between Dec. 1 and Jan. 31.

Squirrel season is open until Dec. 31 with a daily limit of five animals.

Beaver may be taken Jan. 1 through Feb. 28. Red and gray fox, badger and bobcat season is open all year.

All other fur-bearing animals are open from Dec. 1 through Jan. 31.

Shooting hours for all game birds will be from one half hour before sunrise until sunset.

For more information on Kansas hunting contact: Kansas Forestry, Fish and Game Commission, Box 1028, Pratt, Kansas 67124.

Federal service exam to be given at KSU

A special walk-in Federal Service Entrance Examination will be given at Kansas State University Saturday, Dec. 2, in Denison 113 at 8:30 a.m.

This examination will be given because applications for federal employment have been lower than the needs of the agencies.

Students do not have to apply to take the examination; they just have to be present.

ACCK Education Department plans Chicago seminar Jan. 5-14

Chicago will be the setting for "Teaching in the Inner City," a seminar initiated by the Education Department of Associated Colleges of Central Kansas and directed by the Education Department of McPherson College.

Under the direction of Dr. Dayton G. Rothrock, professor of education and psychology, the participants will meet the "Seminar in Urban Life" group for physical arrangements and parts of the program.

Meeting during the inter-term period Jan. 5-14, the seminar will be housed for several days at the Ecumenical Institute in the western Chicago deprived area. After this, they will stay at the YMCA.

The leaders of the "Inner City" students hope to have the group observe in Chicago schools, listen to lectures at Chicago University, visit inner school projects, and tour juvenile court, city hall, and the Museum of Science and Industry.

Enrollment will be limited to two participants from each of the other ACCK colleges and five from McPherson. A college's quota may be increased if additional funds become available or if colleges do not pick up their number.

Those interested should turn in an application by Dec. 1 with $25. This money will not be refunded after Dec. 15, unless unusual circumstances occur.

Requirements for the seminar are:

1. Whole-hearted cooperation in participating in meetings and activities of the seminar.

2. Personal conduct compatible with the aims and goals of our colleges and the teaching profession. The directors have the right to ask members to leave the seminar with no refund for activities which are not for the good of the seminar.

3. Prior to the workshop, readings which will prepare the student for the experience will be mailed with the notification of acceptance for the program.

4. Any additional assignments as developed by the directors are required. A satisfactory of fail grade only will be given.

5. Payment of all expenses not covered by ACCK will be required. At this time the Education Department believes that sufficient money is available to pay up to $30 per person toward transportation.

Other expenses, not including incidentals and two hours tuition credit, will be $74 for room, board and inner-city transportation.

Show your initiative now

Do businesses frown on initiative? They most certainly do not! Most management personnel seek people with initiative and mark them for rapid advancement.

Nothing is more important to the vitality of a business than the system by which able people are encouraged and moved into positions where they can make their contribution.

But why should they wait until they enter the business world to show everyone that they have initiative, (if they really do have it).

If a person has not shown any initiative by the time he graduates from college, he usually does not have it. And as the old saying reads: "You can't teach an old dog new tricks."

While in college there are many ways in which a student can prove to himself and others that he has initiative. By participating in sports, social groups, student government and music groups, a student shows a little initiative. But when he does go one step further by taking an "active" part in these organizations and activities, that is when his real initiative is seen.

The "extra step students" are the ones who businesses look for to fill vacancies. They are also the young people who make rapid advancements in the business world.

So I challenge you to show your initiative to yourself and the rest of the world—NOW.

Ziemann tells of German observance of Advent, Xmas

By SUSAN SELL
Advent, which heralds the coming of Christmas, will begin Sunday, Dec. 3.

Soon after Christmas was established as a special celebration, a time for prayer and fasting was introduced for preparation for the celebration.

Advent became universal in the ninth century and is still widely observed. Advent begins on the fourth Sunday before Christmas. The services and rituals stress preparation for the coming of Christ.

In Germany, Advent is observed prior to Christmas. It is a time of spiritual preparation as well as material preparation.

An Advent wreath holds candles which are lighted each day of Advent. The candles usually burn during the dinner hour to remind the family of the coming of Christ.

For children, Christmas calendars are hung which have windows under the dates which open to tell the story of the first Christmas.

Although trees do not appear in the homes until Christmas Eve, churches decorate trees for the last three weeks of Advent.

Michael Ziemann, sr, Berlin, Germany, said that in Berlin a large Christmas tree, usually about 90 feet high, is placed in the center of the city and decorated.

Commercial Christmas does not start until the second Sunday of Advent. Ziemann feels Christmas in the United States is much more commercial than it is in Germany.

Christmas baking takes place during Advent. Gingerbread and honeycake are two traditional festive foods.

December 6 is Nicolas Day, a day when children put out their shoes, much as American children hang up their stockings. St. Nicolas then, supposedly, fills the shoes with candies and other sweets.

Christmas Eve, one room of the house is closed, and one parent decorates the tree which no one else has seen. German trees must be thick enough that one can not see through them. The trees are decorated with candles, presents and lighted candles.

Under the tree are presents for the family which are opened on Christmas Eve. If the family has small children, they may want to hire a Santa Claus from a local organization. The Santas cost only a small amount for the pleasure they bring the children.

After gifts, the family enjoys a festive dinner. Small children are sent to bed, and the rest of the family attends midnight church services. Tickets may be obtained from the church of-

College hosts 50 seniors; 33 try for scholarships

Over 50 high school seniors attended Senior Day on the McPherson campus Nov. 24.

Thirty-three of the seniors tried out for scholarships. Of the 32 students who tried out for academic scholarships, 30 were from Kansas, one was from Illinois and one was from Colorado.

One senior from Nebraska tried out for a music scholarship.

Music scholarships awarded by the College range from $400-

$1200 and academic scholarships range from $600-$2500.

Several teams of faculty interviewers interviewed the seniors from 10:30 a.m. — 1:30 p.m.

Guy Hayes, director of financial aids, said that the next scholarship tryouts are scheduled for Saturday, Dec. 9, and that about the same number of students are expected.

The interviewees and other seniors who were on campus also visited classes, had personal interviews with professors and toured campus buildings.

They were also given a free noon meal in the student cafeteria.

"It was a very successful day," concluded Hayes.

New editors will practice with next issue

Chris Levi, sr, Berryville, Va., and Susan Pierson, jr, McPherson, will assume positions of editor-in-chief and managing editor, respectively, for the next issue of the Spectator, Dec. 7.

If the Board of Publications and Student Council have named the second semester campus editor in time for the Dec. 7 issue's deadlines, that person will assume the campus editor duties.

The purpose of the practice issue is to give the new editors experience with duties which they will be responsible for second semester.

Class conducts Wind Ensemble

The Student Conductors' Concert was the first of its kind for McPherson College.

The eight members of the conducting class, taught by Robert E. Reveil, assistant professor in music, conducted the McPherson College Wind Ensemble in concert.

The concert, part of the class assignments, was Monday, Nov. 27 at 4:30 p.m. in Brown Auditorium.

Each student of the class selected the composition he conducted. They each practiced their selections with the Ensemble during its regular practices at 4:30 p.m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

Following are the selections and the conductors who conducted them: "Music for a Ceremony" by Morrissey, Winona office for seats at the service. The tickets do not cost money, but they are necessary because so many people attend the services they cannot be accommodated.

Achilles, jr, McPherson; "Sara-bande and Bourree," by Handel, Donna Brubaker, jr, Lyons; "Purcell Portraits," by Jenkins, Ken Dilling; "Spiritual from Symphonie No. 5," by Gillis Gwendolyn Dittmars, fr, Grundy Center, Iowa; "Overture Eroica," by Beethoven, Roger Ditzler, Polo, Ill.; "Suite Ancienne," by Frescobaldi, Ray Landis, jr, Dayton, Ohio;

"Salvation Is Created" by Tschernokoff and "Awake from Acts III Die Meistersinger," by Wagner, Ray Medley, soph, Barrington, B. I.; "Variation Overture," by Williams, Mary Anne Miller, soph, Waterloo, Iowa.

On nights of heavy snowfall, rural families come to the church services in sleighs.

Another church service is held Christmas morning. A family reunion and celebration usually follow with another festive dinner. Families then attend sports events in the afternoon.

New Year's Day is celebrated with fireworks and more festive foods.

The Christmas tree remains decorated until Jan. 6, the Day of the Three Holy Kings. The children then take the candy and presents from the tree.

Schaalman speaks at Convocation

Rabbi Herman E. Schaalman, spiritual leader of Temple Emanuel in Chicago, was scheduled to speak at today's Convocation.

His topic was to be "The Contributions of Prophetic Religion to Democracy."

Presently, he teaches a JCS Resident Lectureship at Garrett Biblical Institute in Evanston, Ill.

He lectures on college campuses under the auspices of the Jewish Chautauqua Society, an organization which creates better understanding of Jews and Judaism through education.

Rabbi Schaalman came to the United States in 1935, on a scholarship to Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion.

He is also director of the Chicago Federation of Union of American Hebrew Congregations.

Observations

By JAN FYLE

On Trees And People

Pine people there are who stand alone
On self-made hills, whose shade is home
To nothing living. Changeless, content, confined,
Each to himself, the pine pines away.

The willow ones who cannot look
Their fellows in the eye, whose little nooks,
No one can occupy, cry for pity with Outstretched arms. Nothing's as lonely as wet willows.

Maple men stand attentive to duty
But not too wrapped up in themselves
To give crunching leaves to the children
And syrup to pancake-eaters.

The fragile, flexible, friendly birch sways
And dares winds to ruffle his serenity
And still stands pure, white and laughing.
I have met but one birch.

'Who's Who' lists Yoder in 1968-69 book

Mrs. Una Yoder, assistant professor in English, speech and theater, is listed in "Who's Who of American Women," for 1968-69.

The biographical dictionary of notable living women of the United States and other countries, lists Mrs. Yoder as an educator and entertainer, a one-woman show in play cuttings and book reviews.

From the preface of the book: "This biographical dictionary seeks to foster—as well as recognize—a mutual respect for the women who have carved unaccustomed niches in the occupational and civic world."

Mrs. Yoder's present accomplishments include: president of the McPherson County Women's Club; member of the board for the McPherson Public Library;

Member of the board for the South Central Kansas Library System, a group comprising libraries of 12 counties, and vice-chairman of the Executive committee of that board;

Merit badge counselor for Boy Scouts for reading and drama; and Republican precinct committeewoman.

"Who's Who of American Women" is published by the A. N. Marquis Company, publishers of "Who's Who in America."

Appreciation dinner given for supervisors

Student teachers, supervisors, and faculty members attended the annual appreciation dinner for supervisors Tuesday, Nov. 28, in the Social Room of the Church of the Brethren.

Served by the Home Economics Club, the informal Italian cafe-style dinner was in honor of teachers responsible for supervising student teachers this fall.

Toastmaster for the evening was Tom Crago, sr, LaVerne, Calif. The program centered around "New Developments in Evaluating Teaching."

Delores Taylor, sr, Bronx, N. Y., accompanied by Lorene Pauls, sr, Imman, sang "Summertime" and "Be My Love."

Under the direction of Dr. Doris Coppock, professor of physical education for women, the Madrigals sang a variety of musical numbers.

Three programs to be presented in Convocation

The final Convocation of the semester, Dec. 7, at 9 a.m. will be comprised of three separate programs.

A Cappella Choir, under the direction of Donald Frederick, professor of voice and director of choral organizations, will sing Christmas selections.

Dr. Doris Coppock will lead the Madrigals in other Christmas musical arrangements.

Charles Fischer, assistant professor in English and theater, is scheduled to give the third program.

KWU, Peru State play for championship

HIGH SCORER. Larry DeTour (white jersey), junior transfer from Chanute Junior College, led McPherson's scoring attack with 32 points in the Bulldogs' 77-70 victory over Sterling College Monday night in the first round of the JayCee tournament.

Kansas Wesleyan University and Peru State advanced to the championship finals of the McPherson JayCee Tournament which were to be played Wednesday evening in the McPherson High School Roundhouse.

Preceding the championship game, McPherson and St. Mary of the Plains, semi-final losers, were to play for second and third places in the tournament.

Bethany and Sterling, first-round losers, were to play for fifth and sixth places in the first game of the evening.

The talent-packed KWU Coyotes won their berth in the finals by defeating a balanced St. Mary of the Plains team 81-72.

Peru State from Nebraska defeated the inexperienced McPherson Bulldog team 92-62 in its semi-final victory Tuesday night.

Hal Wright was high score for the Bulldogs with 16 points and was followed by Jerry Grant with 9 and Larry DeTour with 8. All of the 11 McPherson players scored.

The Peru Bobcats jumped to an early lead in the first couple minutes of the game but McPherson bounced back to take a 10-9 edge.

The Bulldogs were a constant threat during the first half. A shot by DeTour swished the net just as the buzzer ending the first half of play sounded, making the score 46-36.

In the opening game of the tournament Monday night, the Bulldogs out-played the Sterling Warriors 77-70.

McPherson led all the way but the lead was cut to two points, 15-13, midway in the first half. At halftime the Bulldogs were in the lead 35-27.

Sterling was a constant threat in the second half but the Bulldogs managed to hold an eight-point lead most of the time.

DeTour led McPherson's scoring with 11 field goals and 10 free throws for a total of 32 points.

McPherson hit 45 per cent of its shots from the field while Sterling hit 49 per cent. At the free throw line, McPherson hit 68 per cent and Sterling 73 per cent.

In the second game Monday night, KWU whipped the Bethany Swedes 100-62. Wesleyan was ahead 54-30 at halftime and in the last half outscored the Swedes 46-32.

Freshman guard is all-stater from Delavan

Mark Falen, fr, Delavan, 6-3" guard on the McPherson basketball squad, was an all-stater during his senior year at Wisley High School.

Falen played four years in high school and won a sportsmanship trophy his senior year.

Also, during his senior year he averaged 25.6 points and 15.5 rebounds per game.

Falen said that the team should do well this season since there are a lot of good players on the team.

"Mark is a good outside shooter. He's a fine prospect and will add strength to the ball club," head basketball coach Don Widrig stated.

Basketball squad to open season against Tabor

McPherson College basketball team will begin its 1967-68 Kansas College Athletic Conference season Tuesday, Dec. 5 at 7:30 p.m., when the Bulldogs play Tabor College Bluejays in McPherson High School Roundhouse.

The "B" game is scheduled to begin at 5:30.

This is Tabor's first year in KCAC competition.

The Bulldogs lost to the Bluejays last year in the first game of the Moundridge Tournament.

A total of 35 fouls and the technical foul were recorded. Tabor out-rebounded McPherson 42-28 and hit 43 per cent from the floor, while McPherson only hit 31 per cent.

The Bluejays lost their opening game of the season to Kansas Wesleyan University, 77-63. High scorer for Tabor was Ron Regier with 26 points.

Head Bulldog coach, Don Widrig indicated that the biggest handicap will be the lack of experience of those on the bench.

Coach Widrig has two returning starters this season, guards Don Woodcock, sr, Washington and Hal Wright, soph, Dwight.

In the 1966-67 season, Wright was chosen as a member of the Kansas Conference all-star basketball team for his seasonal performance at the guard position.

African teacher talks to classes

Former African teacher, Miss Karen Oltman, Enders, Neb., '66, spoke to the Written Communications classes 1D and 1A, Nov. 22.

Miss Oltman has just returned from Nigeria, where she taught English at a teacher-training school in Wake.

She taught two years under the Teachers for West Africa sponsored by the Hershey Foundation.

Speaking on the differences between British and American English Miss Oltman told of the problems of an American in a British English school and of a need for more teachers from America to teach in the developing countries of Africa.

Because students at the school spoke 20 different languages or dialects, English was used for teaching.

Miss Oltman said that only 96 out of 1000 students were accepted at Waka last year because of limited facilities.

Rogers was unable to finish 2-mile race

The Topeka Cosmo Girls Track Club's hopes for high individual and team honors were shattered Nov. 24 at the women's national two-mile cross-country championship race when their No. 1 runner, Kathy Rogers, soph, Brooklyn, Iowa, fell and was unable to finish the race.

Miss Rogers was in seventh place at the end of one mile when she stumbled. There were 112 entered in the race.

Pacing the Cosmo team was Diane Burns, Fort Hays student from Wilson, who finished 17th; Deanna Duffey, Colby High School junior, 31st; and Jan Pappas, a University of Kansas sophomore, 40th.

Seven attend Home Ec Chapter meeting

Seven women recently attended the Fifteenth Annual Fall Meeting of Kansas Home Economics College Chapters at Kansas State College of Pittsburg.

The theme for the conference was "Home Economics at Home in the World." Groups discussed the role of home economists in working with families in countries other than the United States.

The seven women from McPherson College who attended the conference were Christina Flory, sr, McPherson; Janice Howell, sr, St. John; Jean Kwok, sr, Kowloon, Hong Kong; Glenice Miller, sr, McPherson; Paula Sissell, soph, Davenport, Neb.; Lilli Ann Wivell, jr, Columbia, Pa.; and Miss Mildred Siek, professor of home economics.

Twinkling lights, Xmas trees will decorate campus

Christmas trees and twinkling lights will soon be appearing on campus to remind students that Christmas is almost here.

The Student Union and all the dorms will be decorated with Christmas trees. There will also be a tree in Mohler Hall that has Christmas cards attached to it from current and former faculty members, alumni and friends.

The display case in the Student Union will be decorated, and the case in Friendship Hall will contain a nativity scene. A wreath will be placed on one of the outside panels of Friendship Hall.

Kline Hall will have colored lights and a wreath on the door. The lounge will contain a tree formed by Christmas cards that the women have received.

Metzler and Fahnestock Halls will also be decorated with colored lights.

A festive atmosphere will also be created by decorations in each dorm, including those that students place in their rooms and windows.

IVS representative will visit campus

John R. Esser, a representative of International Voluntary Services, Inc. (IVS), will visit the campus Jan. 24, 1968, to discuss overseas opportunities.

IVS, a private, non-profit organization, has been working on a "people-to-people" level in developing countries since 1953.

Over 200 volunteers are now working in agriculture, community development, education and youth activities in Southeast Asia with new teams developing in the Middle East.

Esser has recently returned from a two-year tour of duty in Laos where he worked as an agricultural adviser to Lao Government extension agents and as a provincial representative for an agricultural credit organization.

Esser has slides illustrating the work being carried out by IVS, which he will show to interested groups on campus.

ADDING CHRISTMAS TRIMS. Mrs. Marguerite Westfall, Metzler Hall resident director, and Dale Lengel, sr., Burlington, Colo., hang ornamental balls on the Metzler Hall Christmas tree while John Drinen, sr., Coffeyville, (back) places a spire on the top limb.

Pre-Christmas activities, work keep students busy

Although there are only 20 days of school remaining until Christmas vacation, this will be a very hectic time for most students.

Tests, term papers, and semester exams will keep students busy, but activities are scheduled which will help to relieve this tension.

A concert is being given tonight, the Winter Formal is Saturday night and a play will be given Dec. 7-8. Movies and basketball games will also provide enjoyment.

In addition, Christmas activities are being planned for all the dorms. Each floor of Dotzour Hall will have a Christmas party, and all the women will go caroling.

Kline Hall residents are planning to give a party in the geriatrics ward of the hospital. They will also have their own party and go caroling.

The men of Fahnestock Hall will have a Christmas party and go caroling. Mrs. Elizabeth Russell, residence director, is already busy making cookies and candy for the party.

Residents of Bittering Hall will also have a party, and refreshments will include cookies baked by their residence director, Mrs. Mabel Markham.

Mrs. Marquerite Westfall, Metzler Hall residence director, is making 50 pounds of candy for the Metzler Christmas party.

Smith is in charge of Chapel Tuesday

Marilyn Smith, jr., Cedaredge, Colo., will be in charge of the Dec. 5 Chapel.

The Nov. 28 Chapel was centered around an Advent theme. Chapel Choir, under the direction of Dr. Doris Coppock, presented special music.

The McPherson College YW-YWCA Worship Committee is in charge of Chapel each fourth Tuesday in the month. Members are Carolyn Dell, jr., Enid, Okla.; Sally Gibson, soph, Ottawa; Steve Laprad, soph, Frankfort, Ind.; Gwendolyn Dilmars, fr, Grundy Center, Iowa; Jane Dadisman, fr, Astoria, Ill.

Harvey Leighnor, sr., Perryton, Tex.; Lynn Dee Standifer, soph, Worthington, Minn.; Rick Gingrich, soph, Lebanon, Pa.; and Lowell Dell, soph, Beatrice, Neb.

Courtroom drama to be shown Dec. 1

"The Anatomy of a Murder," courtroom drama starring James Stewart, Lee Remick, and Ben Gazzara, will be shown Friday, Dec. 1, at 8 p.m. in Brown Auditorium.

Centered around the prosecution of rape and murder, the dignity of the courtroom protects it from any indelicacy. Each character speaks what the court demands he must, not what he wishes to speak.

Admission will be a donation of 50 cents, as requested by the Social Committee.

Railroad offers transportation for holidays

Do you need transportation home for Christmas?

Rock Island Railroad has a train, the "Golden State," leaving once a day.

The train leaves McPherson at 8:03 a.m. and arrives in Kansas City, Mo., at 11:30 a.m. and Chicago at 9:40 p.m.

The train makes several stops enroute to Chicago — Davenport, Iowa, and Rock Island, Ill.

On return trip, the train leaves Chicago at 11:25 a.m., reaching Kansas City, Mo. at 9:40 p.m. and arriving in McPherson at 1:25 a.m.

Transportation outlook for vacation, as of Dec. 1, is that the fare rates will go up five per cent due to Christmas holidays.

East bound travel does not require any reservations, but west bound travel reservations will be needed.

The railroad station employee stated that at the present time east bound travel reservations are not required, but that this may change.

All interested students may contact Rock Island Depot, 1610 E. Kansas, for further information on travel.

ACCK personnel to meet with high school officials

Admissions personnel from each of the Associated Colleges of Central Kansas are planning to meet with high school counselors in St. Louis Dec. 12 to tell about the programs of the six ACCK schools.

Flying to St. Louis to represent McPherson College at the meeting will be Jerry Hedrick, Jr., admissions counselor, and Eugene Myers, director of admissions.

The two men will also attend a meeting of ACCK admissions and development personnel Dec. 14 at Bethel College in Newton.

Admissions policies of the ACCK schools, including the possibility of a common admissions blank, will be discussed.

High school College Day programs have been and will be keeping Myers and Hedrick busy.

Myers, who has been in Nebraska since Tuesday and plans to leave today, has been representing the College at College Days for Carleton, Davenport, Bruning and Shickley High Schools.

Myers will go to Iowa Dec. 3. His stops will include Panther Creek, the Panorama area, Dallas Center and Des Moines.

Hedrick represented McPherson Nov. 28 at the LaCrosse College Day.

This morning, he and Dwight McSpadden, head football and baseball coach, planned to be at Wellington H.S. This evening Hedrick plans to attend College Day at Abilene.

Hedrick is scheduled to be at the College Admissions Center in Chicago Dec. 4-8.

Mrs. Hughbanks to give program on KTVH Dec. 8

Mrs. Monroe Hughbanks, assistant professor of languages, will appear Friday, Dec. 8, at 7 a.m. on the KTVH television program, "Good Morning, Kansas."

She will emphasize the importance of languages and the Brethren College Abroad Program.

"Good Morning, Kansas," a 10 minute program appears every second Friday. It is taped on the Thursday night before the Friday it is shown.

In March, the Music Department will be featured. Dr. Galen Snell, assistant dean of student affairs and dean of men, will tell of his experiences on, and Indian Reservation for the April program.
