Winter Formal. Couples dance to the music of the Bennie Watson Trio at the annual Winter Formal.

By LEROY J. FOX

A "December Fantasy" with glittering Christmas decorations and the soft glow of candlelight set the mood for the annual Winter Formal Dec. 2.

The Art Club, under the sponsorship of Miss Mary Ann Robinson, assistant professor of art, and Bob Smith, instructor in art, decorated the Student Union simply but effectively.

The Bennie Watson Trio provided the music for the enchanting evening.

The trio was versatile in its repertoire and excellent in its execution.

Punch, cookies and canapes provided a pleasant refreshment for the formally-attired guests. The fare was provided by the McPherson College Dining Service.

Appearances indicated that all were pleased with the atmosphere of the evening.

Social Committee Chairman, Cliff Gates, sr, Alexandria, Va., said, "I feel this was one of the most successful formals I have attended. I would also like to thank the members of the Social Committee and the Art Club for their fine cooperation."

Dorms to give Xmas parties

As Christmas approaches, residence halls are making plans for their holiday festivities.

Kline Hall women are doing something different this year. Rather than exchanging gifts, the women are going to give a Christmas party for the Geriatrics Ward at the McPherson Hospital.

"This will be done sometime before finals. We will also have a small party in our dorm," Jean Keith, sr, Chicago, Ill., dorm president, stated.

Fahnestock Hall is having its Christmas party Dec. 11. The men plan to sing carols to the women in Dotzour and Kline Halls. Cliff Gates, sr, Alexandria, Va., is dorm president.

Gary Sacks, jr, Altoona, Pa., said that Bittering Hall will hold its Christmas party Dec. 20 in the main hall where refreshments will be served.

Linda Moore, sr, Preston, Minn., Dotzour Hall president, said that each floor in Dotzour will have a private party.

Metzler Hall's Christmas party is Dec. 10. "Mrs. Westfall, resident director, really looks forward to this time of the year," Dennis Heisey, jr, Hershey, Pa., Metzler Hall president, stated.

After eating candy which Mrs. Westfall has made the men plan to serenade the women in Dotzour and Kline halls by singing Christmas carols.

Dramatic production opens tonight in Brown Auditorium

By LUCILE PETRE

The three-act dramatic production, "The Little Foxes," will be presented in Brown Auditorium tonight and tomorrow night at 8 p.m.

A classic of American drama, this play is the best and most famous of Lillian Hellman's plays.

"The play concentrates on showing us the graceless behavior of a society in which the more ambitious become scoundrels and the more decent stand by and let them get away with exploiting the poor," stated a recent article in the "Saturday Review."

"In this case the scoundrels are newly rich Southerners who are planning to make a fortune by using cheap Negro labor."

"The Little Foxes" opened in New York City at the Repertory Theater of Lincoln Center Oct. 26 and will be on Broadway Dec. 21. Through special arrangements with the Dramatist Play Service, N. Y., the McPherson College Drama Department secured exclusive rights to produce the show.

Cast at the turn of the century, this masterpiece of realistic theater takes place in a small town in the South.

Offered an opportunity to make big money and share in the costs of putting up a cotton mill, the wily Regina Giddens and her two brothers, Ben and Oscar Hubbard, turn to Regina's estranged and ill-band.

Hoping to make up for his past, Horace stubbornly refuses to give the trio the needed money, stating that they must find "a better way of getting rich than cheating niggers on a pound of bacon."

"The tension and surge of energy and power become overwhelming," stated Charles Fisher, director of "The Little Foxes" and assistant professor of English and theater.

He stated that the cast had progressed well against difficult circumstances.

In order of their appearance, the cast is as follows: A quietly serene Negro servant, Addie (Sue Duncanson, jr, Lewiston, Minn.); the brashly humble Cal (Tom Nee, soph, McPherson);

Despairing and pitiful Birdie Hubbard (Marilyn Smith jr, Cedaredge, Colo.); her wavering husband, Oscar (Alex Rygas, sr, McPherson); Birdie's cowardly son, Leo (Nick Moshier, fr, Bellevue, Neb.);

Regina, a woman driven by the lust for power (Kerry Givens, soph, Nickerson); William Marshall, a Northern businessman (Jody Serensits, jr, Washington, D. C.); Shrewd Benjamin Hubbard (John Smith, sr, McPherson); Regina's daughter, Alexandra (Christine Lippy, jr, Littleton, Colo.); and the conscience-stricken Horace (Mike Loveless, soph, Mt. Rainier, Md.).

Crews for the production include: Donna Winegardner, fr, Des Moines; Theresa Albini, fr, Brackenridge, Pa.; Christine Smith, soph, McPherson; and Rodney Rife, jr, Lyons, on costume and props.

Tom Nee and Lucile Petre, Jr, Dayton, Va., on lighting.

Dan Snyder, fr, Wichita; Rockie Regula, jr, Leesport, Pa.; Phil Grove, sr, Laurens, Iowa; Jean Weatherbie, soph, Salt Lake City, Utah; and Marilyn Hoover, jr, McPherson, on seting.

Lynne Brutsman, fr, Ely, Iowa, and Ann Linville, fr, Gustine, Calif., on make-up.

Mary Nell Hoover, jr, McPherson; Carole Gerber, fr, Portage, Ind.; Jean Weatherbie; Jay Durepo, fr, Avon, Conn.; Susan Sell, jr, Conway; and Lucile Petre on publicity.

Susan Sell was assistant manager and Dan Snyder worked as stage manager.

Special guests at the Friday night performance will be debaters from 28 Kansas high schools who will be in McPherson attending the McPherson High School Invitational Debate Tournament.

McPherson College students will be admitted on their identification cards.

SNEA will discuss teachers' salaries

The December meeting of the Maurice A. Hess Chapter of the Student National Education Association will be an experiment in group dynamics on teachers' salaries.

The meeting, Dec. 13 at 7 p.m. will be held in Mohler, 212. Kathy Shank, sr, Fayetteville, W. V. is coordinator of the meeting.

The meeting is centered around salaries because the Student Kansas Teachers Association is planning to present a recommendation at their state convention in March for higher salaries for beginning teachers.

Members of SNEA are urged to "attend the meeting. Any member who has not received his "NEA Journal" or "Kansas Teacher" may pick up the September, October and November issues in Mohler 212.

Should we accept smoking?

Smoking has become an accepted social habit, and a large per cent of the students of McPherson College smoke.

True, smoking is considered a bad health problem, but it still exists, so why not accept it?

Many students state that smoking is offensive to them. But, isn't it just as offensive, for a student to walk around with a toothpick in his mouth, or crack chewing gum in class? I think that smoking is the lesser of the three "evils."

With the seeming increase in the number of smokers, no provisions by the College are being made to compensate for this increase, with the exception of curbs and parking lots, where smoking is allowed. What happens when the weather turns cold? Where can the students who smoke go? They certainly do not want to stand outside in freezing weather and smoke.

The "Mac Shack" is always a possibility. But, unfortunately, it is not open in the afternoons or late at night when students are studying.

Certainly, smoking on campus is against the rules, but the College is open for new suggestions, and I would like to offer one.

Instead of students smoking in freezing weather, why can't facilities be provided so that the smokers won't have to thaw out everytime they have a cigarette outside? By facilities, I mean a smoking lounge in each dormitory or each floor, so that students can smoke while studying, or a smoking lounge in the Student Union.

This would prevent the possibility of breaking the existing smoking rules.

Still the questions remain in the minds of many students. Why is smoking prohibited in a progressive college? Is it a moral or financial factor, or what?

Students interview government personnel

Interviews with such persons as a chief of police, a state representative, and a mayor were a part of the projects done by students in the United States Government class.

Leland Lengel, assistant professor of history and political science, stated that each student was required to examine a certain area of government by doing outside reading, interviewing a government employee, and writing the results of the investigation.

Some of the government employees in McPherson interviewed by students were the chief of police, postmaster, city attorney, fire chief, county attorney, and mayor. State representatives of Kansas, Ohio, and New York were also interviewed, as were a probation officer in Seattle and the superintendent of schools in Wichita.

Prof. Lengel thinks there were two definite values in this project. First, students became acquainted with government work, and this experience may lead to vocational work in the field.

Second, students were able to compare what social scientists write about government work and what actually takes place.

Christmas theme will highlight Advent Sunday

In keeping with the Advent season the McPherson Church of the Brethren's worship service will follow Christmas themes.

Sunday, Dec. 10, Dr. Harold Z. Bomberger, pastor of the Church of the Brethren, will present the morning sermon, "The Not-Too-Wise-Men in the Middle East."

The McPherson College A Cappella Choir will sing an anthem and a response at this service under the direction of Donald R. Frederick, director of choral organizations.

That evening, the senior and youth choirs of the church and the A Cappella Choir will present the Christmas service. Each of the choirs will perform separately and as part of a combined choir.

"On Praying for Peace" is the topic of Dr. Bomberger's sermon for the morning service Dec. 17.

The Children's Department is in charge of the evening service at 5 p.m. Children in the kindergarten through junior classes will present a traditional Christmas program of singing, depicting a nativity scene and decorating a Christmas tree.

A fellowship period with refreshments will follow the program.

Westfall makes candy for 130 men in Metzler

Mrs. Marguerite Westfall, resident director of Metzler Hall, has become famous through the years as one of the best candy-makers around.

Known as "Mom" to her 130 "boys," she has made over 50 pounds of assorted candies as a Christmas present to them.

Mrs. Westfall can make the candy only when she does not have to watch the desk at Metzler. She began making the "goodies" soon after Nov. 1. The last batch was finished Nov. 29.

She started this tradition seven years ago, and the candy has been in great demand ever since.

"Mom" Westfall makes four different types of candy including chocolate fudge, white fudge, Rice Krispy candy with salted peanuts and "potato" candy.

The recipe she uses for fudge calls for 5 pounds of sugar. Mrs. Westfall estimates that she uses 30 pounds of sugar to make all of the candy.

Most of the candy will be consumed at the dorm Christmas party and the remaining candy will be placed on four large trays in various spots throughout the dorm halls.

Mrs. Westfall says that the candy usually lasts about 15 minutes.

Melhorn attends KACU meeting

Progressive healing of the "breach" between public and private higher educational institutions became evident Monday, Nov. 27, at the annual meeting of the Kansas Association of Colleges and Universities in Lawrence.

It became apparent as Dr. J. Jack Melhorn, president of McPherson College, was named president-elect of the statewide association.

Following the November meeting of KACU, all post-high school Kansas institutions announced that they were interested in developing an up-to-date higher education "master plan" which would define relationships between private and public schools.

According to Dr. A. H. Elland, president of Hutchinson Junior College and new president of KACU, the plan will update enrollment projection, estimate building needs, and make legislative recommendations.

Now, rather than one annual meeting, the association will hold four meetings a year.

Through the united effort of Kansas institutions of higher learning, one voice will represent higher education in the state legislature.

Previously, Dr. Elland said, three plans from public, private, and junior colleges had been presented to the legislature.

Projected estimates of higher education population set forth in the 1960 "Dornian Report" a comprehensive report on Kansas colleges and their needs, is already out-of-date.

An increase of 80 per cent over the estimate of students in junior colleges in 1970 is apparent today. There are now 25 per cent more students in the state's 4-year colleges than was estimated for 1970.

A major project to update the 1960 Dornian report has been undertaken by appointed members of KACU.

Referring to the tabling of plans for private college tuition grants from state funds, Dr. Melhorn, stated, "We agreed that in the interest of over-all planning for higher education in Kansas at this time, we would not support any particular bill for tuition grants until we've had an opportunity to work together."

Student Council accepts two recommendations

Two recommendations of the Academic Affairs Committee were accepted by the Student Council Nov. 29.

The recommendations presented were as follows:

1. That the Educational Policies Committee suggest to the professors that student assistants not be present at the time a professor is counseling with a student.

2. That the Educational Policies Committee look into including a math requirement in the general distribution requirements with the purpose of acting favorably toward adopting this recommendation.

Cindy Eisenbise, sr, Elizabethtown, Pa., chairman of the Coffeehouse Committee, announced that applications for the position of manager of the Mac Shack for the second semester were being accepted.

Applications for the salaried position will be accepted until Dec. 11 by Miss Eisenbise and Dennis Heisey, jr, Hershey, Pa., assistant chairman.

The Coffeehouse Committee will name a new manager Dec. 12 and will then present the name to the Student Council Dec. 13 for approval.

The Mac Shack has a gross profit of $439.

Ed Department to revamp program

An inductive experiential approach to the teaching of education has been proposed by the Education Department to begin the fall of 1968.

The changes in the present department will be an attempt to eliminate apathy, boredom, repetition and lack of commitment which are too often found in the field. To do this, the Education Department is proposing the following:

Pre - Professional Laboratory Experiences — Students may receive credit for experiences related to the teaching profession. Activities during the summer or school year may qualify.

A proposal for the experience, readings and an evaluation will be required. Enrollment must be made prior to the activity.

All work must be approved by the Education Department. The one or two hours of credit may be taken either semester or during the summer.

History and Philosophy of Education — The course, Secondary School, will be dropped and the three-hour History and Philosophy of Education will be required of all secondary education students. This course and Introduction to Education, three hours, will provide the six hours for certification standards in this area.

Change in Block Semester — The teaching block will be offered both semesters starting the fall semester of 1968.

The Education Department recommends that English, history, biology, music, industrial arts, home economics and Spanish majors take the teaching block during the first semester.

Mathematics, chemistry, physics, commerce, physical education and German majors are advised to take the block during the second semester.

Elementary education majors may select either semester.

Introduction to Education — This course will be revamped into an inductive pattern. A teaching aide program will be part of the course.

Student teacher helps plan school Thanksgiving festivities

As part of her student teaching activities, Deanna Lahman, sr, Quinter, helped plan the Thanksgiving festivities of Mrs. Harold Bomberger's second grade class at Wickersham Elementary school.

Turkeys, a cornucopia, songs, and a special breakfast were part of the occasion.

A Thanksgiving breakfast is a traditional event for second graders at the school. Deanna thinks that the students appreciate the meaning of the holiday after they re-enact the first Thanksgiving.

Preparations for the event began several weeks before Thanksgiving. Deanna stated that in spelling class the children were given words dealing with Thanksgiving. In their social studies class they made a chart of things which they were thankful.

A great deal of art work was involved in the program. Students made placemats and decorated napkins. They also wove cornucopias and made three-dimensional turkeys from construction paper. Deanna made a mobile that was decorated with Thanksgiving figures.

A large turkey was made for one bulletin board, and students' papers were displayed on this. The bulletin board was titled "Our Papers Are Worth Gobbling About." A mural decorated another board.

Students dressed in costumes they had made. Part of the class were dressed as Pilgrims, and the rest wore Indian costumes. The outfits were made with napkins, construction paper, and paper bags.

The program began with a breakfast served by the room mothers. The menu included fruit, oatmeal, milk, and toast. The students had made the bread the day before the program.

Stories were read to the class about the first Thanksgiving, and then two students read the story that the class had written about this. Thanksgiving songs are also sung.

Deanna stated, "The children thoroughly enjoyed this program. Each one of them had a special job to do. I feel the results were worth the efforts." Deanna describes student teaching as "quite a challenge." She hopes to teach second grade after she graduates. She also wants to teach private lessons in piano and organ.

Peru State wins JayCee tournament; McPherson finishes in fourth place

Outscoring Kansas Wesleyan University 55-39 in the second half, defending champion Peru State of Nebraska captured the championship of the 15th annual McPherson JayCee Invitational Tournament by defeating the Coyotes 97-87.

In the battle for third place, St. Mary of the Plains defeated an improved McPherson team 74-70 in an overtime.

In the game deciding the fifth place winner, Bethany College of Lindsborg defeated Sterling College 79-61.

In the Peru-KWU game, Wesleyan was charged with 32 fouls, plus a technical on the coach. Peru made 43 of the 51 attempts from the charity line, while Wesleyan only made 13.

KWU led throughout most of the first half and held a 48-42 lead at halftime. The Peru Bulldogs did not gain the lead in the last half until 6:36 minutes remained when they went ahead 76-74. Peru led the rest of the game.

Wayne Heine, was high scorer for Peru with 28 points and John Pickett was high scorer for KWU with 22.

Peru hit 55 per cent from the field, compared to Wesleyan's 43 per cent.

Early in the McPherson-St. Mary game, McPherson held leads of 5-4 and 10-8, then St. Mary jumped to a 17-10 lead. Late in the first half St. Mary pulled away 31-23 but the Bulldogs rallied to cut the margin to three points at halftime 31-28.

Early in the second half McPherson surged ahead 36-35, but the Dodge City team rallied again to go ahead 49-41.

A field goal by McPherson's Hal Wright tied the score at 66-66 with 1:31 minutes remaining in the game.

Because of a bad pass by one of the St. Mary players, the Dodge City team failed to try for a last second shot. So at the end of the regular game period, the score remained 66-66.

St. Mary was first to score in the overtime but the Bulldogs bounced back to even the score 68-68 with 2:11 minutes remaining.

A field goal and two free throws put St. Mary back into the lead 72-68. Guard Don Woodcock cut the margin to two points, 72-70, with 1:35 left. Two free throws by St. Mary were the final two points of the game.

Jim Rakes was high scorer for McPherson with 22 points and Don Dee was high scorer for St. Mary with 30.

The Bethany College Swedes captured fifth place with a 79-61 victory over Sterling College. Sterling held a 30-29 lead at halftime but the Swedes outscored the Warriors 50-31 in the second half.

Kent Oleen of Bethany and Lonnie Kruse of Sterling each scored 16 points to take individual scoring honors.

Teamwork wins championship for Fahnestock

Why did third floor Fahnestock win the intramural volleyball championship?

"Because we had a lot of teamwork," Keith Hummel, sr., New Paris, Ind., answered.

Hummel, one of the third floor "spikers," assisted the team to a 23-1 season. The team's only loss was to the first floor Bittinger team.

In that clash the Bittinger team won two games by scores of 15-13, and the "Fanny" team won one 16-14.

In winning the championship of the volleyball tournament, "Fanny" -3 defeated Metzler -1 by forfeit; Fahnestock -2, 15-7 and 15-11; and the College Courts, 15-4 and 15-8.

Members of the championship team are Hank Keller, soph, New Tripoli, Pa.; Ellis Yoder, fr, Conway; Stan Bucher, soph, Lebanon, Pa.; Calvin Moffitt, soph, Washington; Larry Walton, soph, Litzitz, Pa.;

Tabor defeats Bulldogs on freethrow line

McPherson College outshot their opponents from the field Tuesday at the Roundhouse in a non-conference game, but Tabor cashed in at the free throw line to beat the Bulldogs 69 to 61.

Tabor is a new member of the Kansas Conference but this first year does not play all conference teams so is not competing for the basketball championship. Tabor is now 3-1 for the season and McPherson 1-3.

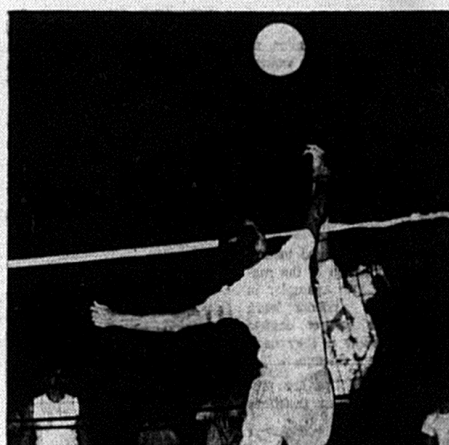

The Bulldogs made 26 field goals and Tabor 24, but 23 fouls were charged against McPherson and only 15 against the team from Hillsboro. Tabor made 21 out of 29 free throws while McPherson made nine out of 16. One Tabor player, Bob Wall, made 13 out of 15 free throws.

Tabor took an early lead and maintained it all the way, leading 34-24 at halftime. Early in the second half McPherson started cutting into Tabor's margin and finally tying the score at 39-all with 15:15 left to play. They tied the count again at 41-all, 43-all and then went ahead 46-43. The Bulldogs led again at 48-47 and that was the last time with 9:30 minutes left in the game. From then on McPherson started fouling freely and Tabor took advantage of the free throw line to pull away to a rather comfortable lead.

Tabor hit 41 per cent of its shots from the field and McPherson 34 per cent. McPherson made 56 per cent of its free throws and Tabor 72 per cent.

Jay Penner with 19 points for Tabor was the high scorer of the game. His teammate, Bob Wall, made 17 points. Three McPherson players hit in the double figures, Larry DeTour and Jim Mowry each with 16 and Don Woodcock with 15. It was Woodcock who led McPherson's last half rally, getting 12 of his 15 points in this period.

Volleyball Championship. Jim Rakes, sr., Bloom, of the College Courts and Jim Mowry, (F-3) soph., Pekin, Ill., of the champion third floor Fahnestock team battle for an important point as other members of Fahnestock-3 watch.

Intramural basketball begins next semester

Men's intramural basketball will be organized second semester.

Each floor of each of the men's dormitories may have an organized team, as in volleyball this semester.

These teams will compete against each other.

Volunteer work in special education during afternoons this semester has helped two coeds decide on their future careers. Sandy Fisher, soph, Lakn, and Linda Fleischacker, soph, Rocky Ford, Colo., work two hours each schoolday afternoon with educable mentally retarded students. Mrs. Lloyd Zook, McPherson, teaches the 13 students, aged eight to twelve at Park School. The women applied for the work because they wanted experience to know whether they wanted to pursue a career in special education. They have decided that they do. Miss Fleischacker said, "Working with these children demands patience because they can not grasp as many ideas at one time as normal children. I find it worthwhile work because they need the attention and love more than normal children." "Knowing I can help someone learn," is a satisfying thought for Miss Fisher.

The students have studies, as in a normal school. The women give each student the special attention he requires in doing his studies.

The coeds also help when the class works on art projects or goes swimming or hiking. They help the girls in the class with cooking and the boys with wood projects.

The classes are aimed toward practical application of the material taught. For example, in arithmetic the students learn how to make correct change and how to know if they have received correct change.

Good grooming tips are presented, and the class practices applying the tips to their appearances.

In cooking class, the girls learn how to prepare basic meals.

Boys and girls both enjoy craft projects.

Miss Fleischacker and Miss Fisher think this schooling is valuable for these students because it gives them the importance of going to school. This is a type of school where they are not failures as they might be in a normal school.

Mrs. Zook grades each according to his own ability, not in comparison with other members of this class. The students look forward to receiving their grades.

Both coeds plan to do post-graduate work which is required for teaching special education. Both agree that their volunteer work has been a major factor in their decision to continue in special education.

It is difficult to say which of the characterizations is most amusing: the scurrying White Rabbit, the puckish Cheshire cat, the surly pipe-smoking Caterpillar, the March Hare, or the Mad Hatter.

Admission will be a donation of 50 cents, upon request of the Social Committee.
