CAROLYN RUNYAN, fr, Nickerson, and Don McMurray, soph, Canton, rehearse their parts in the upcoming production of "The Fantasticks", to be presented March 15 and 16.

Fischer directs, designs first major production

"The Fantasticks", to be presented in Brown Auditorium at 8 p.m. on March 15 and 16, first opened in New York in 1950 and is still playing to sold-out houses.

It is the story of a boy, a girl, their parents, a trunk, and a wall; of how the children fall in and out of love. All of the play is imaginatively put together by a narrator and a mute with songs, dance, and comedy-like "a glued-paste necklace upon a simple platform.

The play is directed and designed by Charles W. Fischer, assistant professor in English and theater. This is the third time that Fischer has designed "The Fantasticks". He first worked with it at Southern Illinois University, then at Bethel Summer Theater (where he also performed in it), and now at McPherson.

The musical direction and supervision is under Donald R. Frederick, professor of voice and director of choral organizations, and Paul Sollenberger, associate professor of music theory and string instruments.

Prospective teachers to be interviewed by administrators

McPherson College Placement Office urges prospective teachers to sign for interviews with school administrators, who will be on campus next week.

A representative from the Montezuma-Cortez School District in Colorado, will be on campus on Wednesday March 6. He will arrive at 8:30 a.m. and continue interviewing throughout the day.

On Thursday, March 7 a representative, from the Bakersfield, Calif., City School District, will be holding interviews. He will be on campus from 2 p.m. until 4.

Both of these representatives will be interviewing for all elementary and secondary teaching positions.

Students may sign for interviews on the placement office bulletin board, located outside of Mohler 209.

ACCK to install IBM 1401

Plans continue to be made for the installation of an ACCK data processing system at McPherson College.

The installation of the IBM 1401 data processing system should be completed in July.

The input, processing and output of data can be handled by the system, which is much faster than punch card systems.

This system is unique in that it stores its own program and can operate from that information.

All of the ACCK colleges will use the data processing system and students will have the opportunity to use the equipment through courses in computer science.

Dialogue Day features communication, films

By LINDA DEAN

McPherson College is what we make it. "We" includes all students, as well as the faculty and administration. Students, faculty, and administration must interact and communicate with each other in order to accomplish anything worthwhile. Project Communication is an attempt to remedy the lack of communication presently existing on our campus.

Last night was the first scheduled event of Project Communication. Mr. George Emery, a Methodist minister from Chicago and member of the Inner Peace Movement, spoke on the topic "ESP, LSD, and Thee."

A film entitled "A Day in the Life" was shown. This was produced by students of students and the college. A student-faculty panel discussion was to follow.

Today's 9 a.m. Convocation included an address by Mr. Emery entitled "Is McPherson campus a valley of the dolls?" A film "A Day in the Life" was shown also.

After Convocation, persons who wished to go to a discussion group went according to the number on their bulletin. Groups throughout the day are informal. So that all persons who wish to participate may do so, today's classes have been dismissed. Night classes will be held as usual.

Beginning at 10:30 a.m. films will be available for groups to go see if they wish. These films will be shown in Brown Auditorium and will run every half hour. At 1 p.m. the films will be repeated in the same manner.

Films to be shown are: "Hangman," "Frontiers of the Mind," "Poverty," "Have I Told You Lately that I Love You?," "Interview with Bruce Gordon."

At 4 p.m. the original film "A Day in the Life" will be shown and Mr. Emery will give an evaluation of the day. A buffet dinner will be served in the cafeteria beginning at 4:30 p.m.

It is hoped that communication and understanding will be developed in a manner that will bring optimism to the campus, rather than apathy. Appreciation of individuals is an important step toward this goal and is one of the focal points of Project Communication.

Representatives present to interview students

Career Day, held on Saturday, Feb. 24, was attended by 150 students from McPherson, Kansas Wesleyan, Sterling, Tabor, and Bethany colleges. McPherson College was the host location for the event.

Sponsored through Associated Colleges of Central Kansas, Career Day was an opportunity for juniors and seniors to acquaint themselves with the process of being interviewed and with jobs that may be available.

After a coffee hour and general assembly, students were free to choose one or several places at which to be interviewed.

A total of twenty-seven representatives from companies and agencies were spaced throughout Friendship Hall and Mohler Hall for students to talk with. To show the wide range of job opportunities offered by companies represented at Career Day, some of the companies present were Hallmark Cards, Inc, I.B.M., Roche Labs, Phillips Petroleum Co., and Farmland Industries.

Persons from graduate schools of Kansas State University, University of Kansas, and Wichita State University were here to interview interested students. Public school superintendents from Kansas City and Wichita were also available for interviews.

Agencies such as Bureau of Indian Affairs, Veterans Administration, and Prairie View Community Mental Health Center were also represented.

An evaluation will be made soon to determine exactly how many persons did secure positions in companies for which they were interviewed.

YWCA-YMCA plans several major educational conferences

BY SANDY KUSSART

Opportunities for education and new experiences will be provided in several major conferences being planned by the YWCA-YMCA.

The YWCA Regional Assembly will be held in Kansas City, March 1-3. This conference will be open to both sexes. The YMCA hopes to send at least one person as a representative to the Regional Council but anyone may attend the Regional Assembly.

Kansas City will be used as a laboratory to search out program resources. It is hoped that some of the methods used and the program techniques discussed will be helpful in the local associations.

A program workshop will be held in Wichita on March 9. It will begin at 9:30 and end by 4, with no cost to participants.

The YWCA-YMCA Estes Student Conference has been moved to Denver this year to become an action-oriented city conference. Encounter '68, as it has been re-named, will be held June 4-10.

Before the conference, students will sign up for the areas of their interest pertaining to Denver. Encounter groups of 8-10 with shared student-staff leadership will be set up as "in depth study groups". The E-Groups will function as discussion groups and field trip units for exploration of the city.

Encounter groups will face many of today's relevant urban issues: Politics, business and industry, poverty, religious institutions, race education, extremist groups, and the arts.

The cost of the conference will be approximately $65.

An opportunity to travel and serve abroad is provided in the Asia '68 program.

Participants in this program will visit Japan, Korea, Taiwan, and Hong Kong, meet students and young adults, and discuss with a cross-section of government, business education, religious and other leaders the problems facing Asia and the world today.

They will also serve thirty days as a volunteer leader with the YMCA of Hong Kong.

The program is open to all upperclass and graduate students and is co-sponsored by the National Student Council of YMCAs and the West Central Area YMCA Student Council.

Asia '68 will last from July 1-Sept. 1 and the cost is approximately $1450.00. There are funds available to help defray part of the experience.

Anyone who would be interested in applying for any of these programs or would like more information is asked to contact Pat Hayes, Jr., Geneseo, or Paul Roth, Jr., Boiling Springs, Pa., co-chairmen of the MCY, as soon as possible.

Melhorn will attend Chicago conference

Centering around "Stress and Campus Response," the twenty third National Conference on Higher Education will meet in Chicago March 3-6. Dr. J. Jack Melhorn president of McPherson College, will represent the College.

Following each general session, sectional meetings will be held to discuss such items as: Self-renewal of Professors; Student Sub-cultures; Student Protest.

Physical Emotional Stress Among Students; New and Emerging Patterns of Financing Education; and Changing Patterns of Teacher Education.

Mac plays final game

BY MIKE THOMPSON

And it's gone again. It's time to put the roundballs up and put on the spiked shoes. Tonight marks the last basketball game of the season for McPherson.

Tonight the Bulldogs journey to Tabor for a non-league contest, although Tabor will be a full-pledged league member in the 1968-69 season.

Tabor defeated McPherson in the previous meeting and has been having a pretty successful season. In action last weekend, Tabor was defeated by a Nebraska team 90-81 in overtime. Earlier this year they knocked off St. Mary's, one of the top small college teams in Kansas.

Tabor has been going with Regier, Bower, Penner, Wall and Gahl. Regier has been the big gun this year, averaging around 24 points per game and will be the man to stop.

McPherson will continue to go with its line-up of DeTour, Wright, Woodcock, Rakes and Smith. Jim Mowry, if his ankle comes around, will also see much action.

This will be the final game for Don Woodcock, Jim Rakes and Don Stockstill. These boys have devoted a lot of time to the school by playing basketball.

Bittering Hall to open doors to visitors

Bittering Hall men will welcome visitors at an open house Sunday, March 3, from 2-5 p.m.

Mrs. Mabel Markham, resident director in Bittering Hall, and Gary Sacks, sr., Altoona, Pa., president of Bittering Hall dorm council will welcome guests.

Other members of the council are Don Woodcock, sr., Charles Lamb, sr., Rocky Ford, Colo., secretary; and Pete Saracusa, jr., Elizabeth, N.J.

Cookery class to have Swedish Smorgasbord

Karin Fredrickson, sr., Essex, Iowa is in charge of the Swedish Smorgasbord on Tuesday, March 5. This is the third, tea-room held by the Quantity Cookery class this semester.

Miss Fredrickson chose the Swedish Smorgasbord because she is Swedish and enjoys Swedish foods.

She said that there will be more different types of foods than a regular menu, because Swedish custom is small servings of many dishes.

The menu includes many foods prepared with a Swedish touch: sausage, meatballs, breads and vegetables. A variety of Swedish cheeses including Bondost is planned.

Guests will be served the fruit soup appetizer at their tables, then will file along the smorgasbord for the main course and be served their Swedish crumcake dessert.

Reservations are $1 and may be obtained through Miss Fredrickson or Miss Siek, professor of home economics.

College of Emporia defeats McPherson in old-fashioned 'barnburner' Feb. 24

BY PHIL GROVE

College of Emporia slipped past the victory-hungry Bulldogs 100-96 in an old-fashioned "barnburner" Feb. 24.

The game, played in the McPherson Roundhouse, saw the lead change hands 23 times and the score tied 14 times.

Hal Wright, John Smith and Larry DeTour led the McPherson scoring attack with a combined total of 70 points.

Wright was high-point man with 7 points and Smith and DeTour followed with 22 and 21. Jim Mowry and Dan Stockstill each added ten points for the losers.

Bob Bruns, 6-3 jr forward from Emporia, topped all scorers with 30 points, while teammate Bill Linhart added 25.

The score was tied 16-16 early in the first half and then the Presbies jumped into a 32-24 lead, the largest of the night.

By converting several charity shots and by pumping several field shots through the hoop the Bulldogs jumped back into a tie for the lead, 32-32, with 5:37 minutes remaining.

Two last-second free throws by Smith lifted McPherson into a 50-50 tie with C of E at halftime.

The Bulldogs jumped to a 54-50 lead in the opening minutes of the second half.

The Presbies bounced back and built a five point lead four times, but each time the Dogs fought back and closed the gap.

C of E ripped the net with four points during the final 56 seconds to end the McPherson threat.

The victory gave C of E a 12-5 Kansas conference record.

In the preliminary game, the McPherson junior varsity team rolled over the C of E reserves 97-68 after leading 44-25 at halftime.

Ottawa, led by Tony Judenis'

19 points, ran its record to 10-10 with a 104-79 victory over the Bulldogs, Feb. 20 at Ottawa.

Jim Rakes tallied 19 for McPherson, followed by Smith's 16 and Don Woodcock's 11.

All 14 of the Ottawa players scored in the game which ended the University's six-game losing streak.

Sportscope

Short shots

BY MIKE THOMPSON

Track season is here, but before we get into that, let's take a last look at our basketball team for next year. Of the top seven, four will return. Hal Wright, Larry DeTour, Jim Mowry and John Smith are the four.

But, don't shed tears yet! Mowry turned in a fine performance against College of Emporia before leaving the game with a badly sprained ankle. He is a hard worker and should come along well next year.

And there is Larry DeTour. He will return to add speed, aggressiveness and playmaking to the line-up. The 6' junior is a good hustler and clutch performer.

Teaming up with DeTour as the other guard will be Hal Wright. After being all-conference as a freshman, Wright has had trouble getting started this year, but he came on strong toward the end of this season.

John Smith, the big 6'5" senior, adds rebounding and scoring to the lineup.

Graduating will be Dan Stockstill, Jim Rakes and Don Woodcock.

Rakes, a starter all year, will be missed especially in the rebounding department.

Dan Stockstill, coming off the bench to keep a drive going will also be missed.

The most improved player on the Bulldog team has to be Don Woodcock. Although only 6'1", he has played forward where he did a creditable job by grabbing five rebounds and making 10 points per game. Woodcock, a fine defensive player, was usually assigned to cover the opposing team's high scorer.

Field trips give students experience in seeing textbook concepts at work

BY DONNA WINEGARDEN

Field trips are included in the schedules of courses in a variety of fields this semester. The main purpose of a field trip is to give the student an understanding of where and how the concepts from a textbook can be relevant in real life experience.

John K. Ward, professor of agriculture and rural life, has three classes which will soon be spending time outside the classroom. Several field trips are on schedule for the poultry class to visit hatcheries and other poultry related facilities.

The dairy management class will be touring local dairies to observe aspects of dairy management.

Students in landscaping, an evening class, will be taking field trips starting the first of April to homes in the McPherson area to observe plantings and different landscaping styles.

Unannounced field trips are in line for the non-vascular plants class members. Larry A. Welsh, professor of biology, said that these students study moss, liverworts, algae and fungi, and the class must collect them right after a rain.

In the spring, the ecology class under John Burkholder, professor of biology, will be visiting various communities around streams, ponds and grasslands as part of regular laboratory work.

Scheduled field trips are set up for eight other courses.

Robert E. Keim, professor of sociology, feels that field trips are extremely important in the study of the interaction of people and groups.

The members of his juvenile delinquency class will be visiting either the Girls Industrial School at Beloit, March 5, or the Topeka Boys School, March 20. Each student is expected to visit one.

The plant physiology students under Larry Welch, will visit a unique greenhouse situation in McPherson in which tomatoes are grown in nutrient solution, a process called hydroponics. The class will study aspects of growth without soil.

Inorganic chemistry students under Wesley DeCoursey, professor of chemistry, will be taking two field trips this semester. They will visit Frontier Chemical Company in Wichita which manufactures both organic and inorganic.

Then, to observe how carbon compounds are taken from petroleum and made into chemicals, they will tour the petroleum refinery in McPherson.

Also planning to tour the refinery is the general mechanics class taught by Arlie Regier, professor of industrial arts. This class will concentrate on the fuels rating and carbonation process. Prof. Regier said that other trips are planned to Consolidated Rebuilders in Hutchinson and to a Church Furniture Manufacturing Company in Garnet.

Dennis Dirksen, professor of industrial arts, will be taking his general metals class on several local trips to the Hesston Corporation, manufacturers of swathers, and the Hartman Foundry in Hutchinson.

After Easter vacation the seniors majoring in industrial arts, will travel to Kansas City with a full schedule of tours: Trans World Airlines overhaul base for jets, the Armeo Steel Company, Gustin-Bacon Fiberglass Company and the assembly plant for General Motors. For his introduction to education class, Dwight McSpadden, professor of education, plans three class periods for the students to visit schools in town. Then each student is responsible for three other visits to any schools on his own.

Shorthand students, taught by Mrs. Oscar Olson, will take several field trips locally during class periods. They will tour Farmers Alliance and a McPherson bank to note the use of IBM machines in the bookkeeping department.

The non-typical child class, taught by Lewis Young, professor of education and psychology, is planning to attend the convention for the Council of Exceptional Children, March 8 and 9.

Also, 50 per cent of the class are regularly observing the special classes in McPherson and Hutchinson schools to note the importance of the individual teacher in the classroom.

Hedrick to attend counselor dinner

Jerry Hedrick, Jr., admissions counselor, will be in Omaha, March 4 for an Associated Colleges of Central Kansas dinner for the high school counselors in that area.

He will attend a similar ACCK dinner in Des Moines, Iowa March 5.

This week he has visited schools in Bushton, Clafin, Hoisington, Chase, Ellinwood, and Great Bend.

Gene Myers, director of admissions, was in Kingsley, Iowa, Feb. 27.

Articulation Conference highlights ACCK activities

ACCCK activities for March will be highlighted by the Junior College-Senior College Articulation Conference on Friday, March 1.

The conference will be held at the Hutchinson Community Junior College Student Union.

Hutchinson Community Junior College and the ACCCK are sponsoring this conference with the hope of increasing communication between junior colleges and four year colleges.

The groups sponsoring the conference hope that this increased communication will result in a junior college student being able to transfer to a senior college without much difficulty.

The conference will begin with registration at 9:30 a.m. and continue until 3:30 p.m.

Included on the program will be a presentation on the history and future of ACCCK by Dr. V. R. Easterling, president of ACCCK.

A panel discussion entitled, "Guidelines for Improving Articulation Between Junior and Senior Colleges" will also be presented in the morning.

Robert Green, assistant professor in English at McPherson College, will be a member of the panel.

In the afternoon, professors from the ACCCK colleges will present a program, "Practical Application of Guidelines to Junior Colleges and ACCCK."

Dr. Raymond Flory, dean of student affairs and professor of history and political science at McPherson College, will take part in the program.

The program will close with comments by junior college students in ACCCK colleges.

All junior colleges in Kansas have been invited to send representatives to the conference.

SNEA will hold March conferences

BY JANE DADISMAN

The McPherson College SNEA has two major activities that need to be called to the attention of the students.

The first Annual Student National Education Association Central States Regional meeting is planned in Wichita, March 8 and 9. The meeting is to be held in Wichita because of its central location.

The conference is to convene at the Broadview Hotel in Wichita, on Friday, March 8, at 6 P.M. and will close the following evening between 6 and 9 P.M.

The idea of who should come centered around the following: (1) active seniors with valuable experiences in the student education associations; (2) present and future state leaders; (3) interested chapter advisors; and (4) state student consultants.

Also in March is the Fourteenth Annual Student KSTA Convention which will convene at the Kansas State Teachers Association Headquarters in Topeka March 29 and 30.

This meeting is the major annual event of the Student KSTA where the state's formal legislature is passed and where the election of next year's state administration board takes place.

Dr. Ruth Stout Wright, former state Student KSTA consultant and former National Education Association president, was selected as the keynote speaker.

All local chapters are urged to attend and to nominate officer candidates. Local chapters are also encouraged to prepare resolutions to be submitted before the delegate assembly to be voted upon.

Any McPherson College students interested in attending either or both of these conventions should contact the SNEA president, Kathy Shank, sr, Fayetteville, W. Va., or the vice president, Susan Sell, jr, Conway.

Hudson to star in Comedy
