FRULA will appear in final Cultural Series

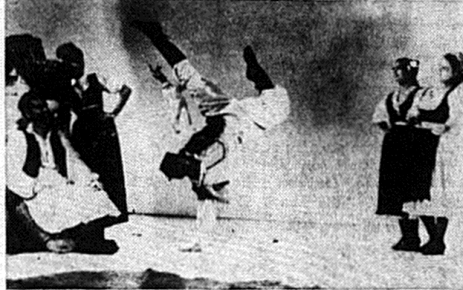

BY LINDA DEAN

FRULA, the breathtaking Yugoslavian folk ensemble, will appear on the stage of Brown Auditorium on Sunday, March 24 at 3 p.m., as the final feature in the current McPherson Cultural Series.

FRULA is the youngest of the four existing Yugoslavian folk ensembles, having been founded under the direction of Dragoslav Dzadzvic. In order to form a folk ballet that would be representative of all the Yugoslavian peoples, the director traveled throughout all the republics in search of the best dancers and musicians. He took the group he chose into the mountains to restrain them in his own style.

The folk dance evokes the emotions and intellectual concepts of a people. Thus, FRULA reflects Yugoslavian heritage, in regard to religion, war, occupation, love, death and other phases of life. The program will include songs and dances of five Eastern European countries.

FRULA now features thirty-five dancers, singers, and musicians, whose ages range from 19 to 25 years. The group offers flashing color, pageantry, high-spirited and ingenious choreography, and dazzling costumes, all of which accent the stirring and rhythmic music.

Now ranking as one of the three greatest folk attractions performing in Europe today, FRULA has toured throughout the world. They are now in the course of a five month coast-to-coast tour which will encompass nearly 150 cities in the United States and Canada.

Students will be admitted to the program by their identification cards. McPherson College faculty admission is $1.75. General adult admission is $2.50. Student tickets for other than McPherson College students are $1.75.

Teaching block to be offered both semesters

Student teaching "block" will be offered both semesters beginning with the 1968-69 academic year.

Secondary education majors whose field of major concentration is either English, history, biology, music, industrial arts, home economics or Spanish may teach during fall semesters.

Mathematics, chemistry, physics, commerce, physical education and German majors who intend to teach in secondary schools may do their student teaching during spring semesters.

Elementary Education majors may teach in either semester.

Those planning to teach next fall will need to apply to and be accepted by the Teacher Education Committee. Applications should be submitted to the Education Department before the end of this semester.

Monroe Hughbanks, assistant professor in education, hopes to receive applications from all concerned before the spring recess.

Skate Club sponsors outing to Salina

The Skate Club will be going skating on Saturday, March 23, at the Starlight Roller Rink in Salina.

Cost for skating is 90 cents, which includes admission and skates, plus a 20 cent donation to the driver. Anyone wishing to go skating with the group should meet in front of Dotzour Hall at 6:30 p.m.

Financial aids are important

BY JANE DADISMAN

Financial aids of various kinds are an important facet in the planning by students for their continuing college. This is involved specifically for more than 75 per cent of the McPherson College students.

Just as surely as the price spiral in our economy seems upward, so is the cost of education increasing. The estimated but realistic increase for McPherson College for 1968-69 will be approximately $100 per year. This includes the two regular terms, fall and spring, as well as the inter-term.

The administration and faculty of the College are committed to the sincere task of increasing the availability of scholarships, grants, loans, and employment to meet the increased need for funds.

Hourly wages have already been increased and will be going up again next February. New scholarships being granted by the college are being increased by $25 to $50 per year.

We have tentative commitment of more funds for the National Defense Student Loans, Educational Opportunity Grants and Work Study than was allotted to us for the current year. We hope these funds become available in time for firm early commitments to students.

The new Federally Insured Loans through banks and lending agencies have been very well accepted, and we have received especially cooperative response from the McPherson banks and in other outlying areas from which we draw students.

Many banks still loan under the United Student Aid Fund agency. Each of these carries similar insurance benefits as the NSDL.

The student aid program is attempting to keep up with the inflating economy, according to Guy Hayes, director of financial aids.

Most State programs ask that students begin to complete their loan applications about one month before the end of school. We ask that applications for the NDSL and other financial aids and general planning be started now, just as you are planning your class schedules.

Also, students who graduate or will not be returning next fall should contact the Business Office to arrange for their specific repayment schedule on NDSL or other obligations.

Bomberger talks on commitment

"A Biblical 'Pueblo' Incident" will be Dr. Harold Bomberger's sermon topic at the McPherson Church of the Brethren on the fourth Sunday of Lent, March 24.

By paralleling a spy incident from the Old Testament with the current United States situation in Korea, Dr. Bomberger will discuss a reexamination of individual commitments.

Sunday evening a 35-minute film is scheduled, "Address on the International Situation by CBS Correspondent, David Schoenbrum." Mr. Schoenbrum was the only American correspondent at Dien Bien Phu when the French were defeated and is currently a critic of American foreign policy.

The film consists of an address evaluating and criticizing the American position in Vietnam and is followed by a discussion.

'The Fantasticks' receives favorable review of 'delightful'

BY JOAN STEVENS

The unorthodox initial scene of "The Fantasticks" presented by the McPherson College Players on the evenings of March 15 and 16 set the pace that established this musical as the epitome of "something else."

The players immersed themselves totally into the bizarre demands of their respective roles. Each portrayed convincingly the current mania of the character he reflected. The results were a coup de maître individually and collectively. El Gallo, The Narrator, (so "swashbucklingly" played by Don McMurray) said at the outset that there were no heroes or heroines; but each actor became a star in turn.

Nancy Brown, as the multi-talented Mute, unobtrusively and gracefully fulfilled the varying demands of her part. She alternated adeptly from among such roles as property girl, stage hand, a wall (?), a tree, and a modern dancer creating mood background for a vocal solo.

The inverse psychology applied by the Girl's mother, Susan Sell, plotting in league with the Boy's father, Ken Dilling, accomplished its end briefly. The two were well-cast and captured the essence of satire in their situations.

A tribute to the sheer physical endurance of Mike Lovelace and Tom Nee who spent a lot of time in a cramped wardrobe trunk, would be forthcoming even if they hadn't accomplished any acting feats. But they did. They were hilarious in their burlesqued roles.

Carolyn Runyan, playing the romantic female lead as Luisa, The Girl, found the role a fine vehicle for her dulcet voice. In solo and duet, Miss Runyan established herself as an accomplished vocalist, adding the aura of poise and gestures which so enhanced her study in naivete.

As the other half of the love interest, Jody Serensits, The Boy sang the tender love ballads as convincingly as he did the exciting, stimulating, "I Can See It," heralding his ill-fated sojourn into the "world."

The social comment engendered in this play is as old as the original series of parables and based upon the theme that their Author was fond of—love.

Since the play abounded with the metaphor, allow this one truth: "Love is the anaesthetic which makes life less painful."

Futuristic dimensions of set design and stage lighting were reached with the performance of this fine musical. Appropriate color slides were projected on the very walls surrounding the audience, enveloping the spectators within the action and giving them a stereoptical participation in the plot.

When the actors left the stage to greet the audience personally, as they did often, the same end was accomplished. The actors trooped out to the lobby and formed a reception line as the audience departed, as a final departure from orthodox theatrical protocol — and it was delightful!

The five-piece orchestra, performing on stage, and even speaking lines in reaction to cues, were highly professional. The wide variety in the musical score presented a challenge well met by this group as well as the entire cast of this tremendous production. It was indeed "fantastick!"

Students will elect official governing body

BY CAROLYN DELL

Tomorrow is a special day for the 67 candidates involved in this year's Student Council elections.

The polls will open tomorrow at 9 a.m. and close at 6 p.m. Students may vote in Friendship Hall.

In addition to encouraging everyone to vote, the Student Council is asking persons to answer a questionnaire about smoking on campus.

Election results will be announced tomorrow night at 9:30 in the Student Lounge by Dean Sheller, sr, Eldora, Iowa, Student Council president.

Tomorrow students will elect a Student Council president, vice president, secretary and treasurer. A Student Court chairman will also be elected. The Student body will choose eight Student Council representatives-at-large and two seniors, two junior and two sophomore representatives to Student Council.

Five senior, four junior and three sophomore representatives to Student Court will be elected. Five girls will be selected as varsity cheerleaders.

Executive officers of Student Council and Student Court chairman are elected by a majority vote. All other positions are elected on a plurality basis.

If a run-off election is needed, it will be held Monday, March 25.

Today in Convocation all candidates in the election were introduced. Five minute speeches were given by candidates for Student Council Executive offices and for Student Court Chairman.

Speaking as presidential candidates were Marilyn Hoover, Jr, McPherson; Bruce MacPherson, Jr, Winsted, Conn.; and Larry Vernon, Jr, Big Pine, Calif.

Candidates for vice president giving speeches included Jim Carlson, Jr, Glen Ellyn, Ill.; itel Hayes, Jr, Kings, Ill.; and Brian Summerhays, soph, Brockport, N. Y.

Speaking as candidates for secretary were Pat Drury, Jr, Marshalltown, Iowa, and Donna Winegarden, fr, Des Moines, Iowa.

Charles Jones, soph, Canton, spoke as a candidate for treasurer, and Gary Blackwell, jr, McPherson, spoke as a candidate for Student Court Chairman.

Tonight at 9 p.m. in the Student Union Lounge will be the last evening activity of "Speak Week."

Candidates will have the opportunity to learn about the responsibilities of their positions as they meet with the present Student Council and Student Court members.

Discussion groups will be divided according to the different positions on Student Council and Student Court.

"Speak Week" began last Monday evening with Walter Spitz, speech instructor at Hutchinson Junior Community College, as leader. Spitz spoke on "Start Your Own Riot" and led in a discussion period.

The session on Tuesday night was led by Dr. Merlin Frantz, dean of academic affairs, and Dr. Galen Snell, assistant dean of student affairs and dean of men.

On Wednesday night the three presidential candidates presented their platforms. Students were given the opportunity to ask these candidates questions.

Tomorrow's elections will end "Speak Week" and five days of campaigning by the candidates.

Zook addresses Home Ec Club

The McPherson College Home Economics Chapter met March 5. Discussion included the state Home Economics Association meeting in Wichita from Friday morning through Saturday noon March 22 and 23.

It was reported that the card sale is progressing well. The cards will be sold for a few more weeks. Also, the club decided to donate $10 to a fund for a foreign student studying home economics.

The speaker was Mr. Lloyd Zook who works with juvenile delinquents. In his talk on "Preventing of Juvenile Delinquency" he explained that once a person has a felony on his record, he has to give up his rights as an American citizen and, therefore, cannot vote or hold office.

Mr. Zook brought out three reasons for juvenile delinquency: parents, peers, and the individual himself. He stated that the four basic needs of a delinquent individual are friends pride, membership, and security.

Three give platforms

Larry Vernon

To provide for campus growth intellectually, socially and with respect to general improvements, I propose the following:

1. Student activities — I believe that the formation of the ACCK will provide McPherson College with unlimited possibilities for student activity next year if we are willing to take advantage of them.

a. The big name group may become a reality.

b. The possible formation of a tournament between intramural teams of ACCK schools.

c. The possible formation of educational and social activities planned through ACCK departments.

2. Academic Affairs — Students seem extremely interested in quality of education, therefore, I propose the following:

a. Academic affairs committee work at verifying the validity of certain policies on campus.

b. Academic Affairs committee spend time on problems of communication between faculty, administration, and students.

3. Council Organization — I propose the following:

a. Campus Improvements committee be dissolved and that their duties become a function of the special projects committee.

b. Membership of the special projects committee be raised to twelve so that it will have the personnel to undertake its added responsibilities.

c. Committee be created to rewrite parts of the constitution which need to be better defined or made more explicit.

Larry Vernon

Bethany, McPherson compete for girls ask boys dance

The McPherson College Social Committee, along with the Women's Council, has set up a girls ask boys dance Friday, March 22.

At the same time, Bethany College will be having a similar event to see which college will have the greatest amount of participation at the respective dances.

There will be a plaque offered to the school with the most female participation at the dances.

MCY plans fun night at lagoon March 24

A fun night for the MCY will be held at the lagoon Sunday, March 24, at 7 p.m.

The main activity for the evening will be making home made ice cream—and eating it. Carlos Green, Jr. Cascade Locks, Ore., will be in charge of recreation.

All members of MCY are invited to come and have some fun.

Docking to speak on higher education

Robert Docking, governor of Kansas, is scheduled to be the speaker at the March 23, 9 a.m. Convocation.

He will base his talk on the future of higher education in the state of Kansas.

Before his election as governor, he was a banker at Arkansas City.

His father, George Docking, was the only Democratic governor of Kansas to serve two terms.

Marlin Hoover Bruce MacPherson

There are many problems and several outstanding problems at McPherson College that we as students must work to overcome.

First is the problem of unnecessary student body division: 1) this affects our social life initially; 2) as we are divided this affects the attractiveness of our campus to prospective students, while it makes our college experience primarily less meaningful.

We must remember that in our education-oriented society, the diploma we still receive from this college will mean something or we would not be here. The propagation of McPherson College insures that our diplomas will mean something, and more in the future. This is why I mention our college's draw of future students as important to us.

Because the student body is so divided it is difficult to find unity enough to do those things that would benefit the student in the area of policy. We must be united in our efforts if we are to keep pace with self-government in the society to which we belong. United, our suggestions can mean much more than spurious complaints.

The second great problem is the "loser" or "second-class" image which we hold. 1) This image affects our day-to-day enjoyment of our own activities. 2) This again tends to discourage prospective students, and by this we are discouraged.

We must, if the college is to succeed, make McPherson College the type of place we would want our friends and brothers and sisters to go. This can happen only if we begin acknowledging our strong points and strengthening our weak ones, instead of attacking our weak points and forgetting our strong points.

If I am elected president of the Student Council, or if I am not elected, I will do my best to close the gaps in the student body. I will implement to the best of my ability the wishes of the student body, and try to find out what those wishes are.

Marlin Hoover

NCT will perform March 29 in Brown

"King Midas and the Golden Touch" will be presented March 29 at 4 p.m. in Brown Auditorium.

It is the last of the three plays that the National Children's Theater was to perform this school year.

My major objective is to help keep students at McPherson College. If I am elected as Student Council president, I propose:

(1) That Student Council be established as an action instead of a discussion council.

(2) To take an objective view of McPherson College and its student government while taking problems and prospective answers into full consideration.

(3) That students must become involved in student government, affairs and activities. Let's dissolve apathy.

(4) That effective student polls should and must be taken in order to express student opinion and ideas to faculty with just action taken on the students' behalf.

(5) That students in Student Council should represent people and their ideas.

(6) That students should be informed on Student Council's decisions and faculty's opinions. Minutes of Student Council meetings should be read to the students.

(7) That students' opinions should be expressed in the Spectator.

(8) That we should make McPherson proud of McPherson College by promoting better relations through campus activities.

Bruce MacPherson

Students hold silent vigil to show sorrow and protest

The second silent vigil for peace in Vietnam was held along the walk in front of the Student Union March 20. The hour-long vigil was to express sorrow and protest over Americans killing and being killed in Vietnam.

The vigil was organized by the McPherson Peace Action Council and the participants were college students and faculty who wished to openly express their concern in the hope of increasing discussion about the war. Anyone who shared this concern was free to join the group.

As in the first vigil, the protesters did not interfere with the free movement of passers-by and were silent throughout the vigil. If a non-participant had any questions, he was invited to talk with anyone in the group after the vigil.

Reactions to the second vigil were varied. One observer stated, "I am in sympathy with their point of view, but don't see what they hope to accomplish by just standing there."

Other responses ranged from, "I think they made fools of themselves," "I wish I'd have had some eggs to throw," to

"It really made me think. I might like to participate in the next one."

Plans are being made by community members to organize a weekly vigil for downtown McPherson.

Student radicals are given a chance to voice opinions

BY DEAN SHELTER

For student radicals these days, the menu has been sparse. Vilified by the press and Congress for their noisy activism, scorned by the majority of their moderate classmates more concerned with campus affairs, and lambasted from the pulpit for their flowing locks and sundry other hygienic offenses, they seem to have nowhere to go.

CHOICE 68, the National Collegiate Presidential Primary, will probably either solidify the skepticism of the campus radicals or cause them to re-evaluate their thinking as to the actual political power of the vote.

If a sizeable percentage of college students do care enough to participate in the election, and, indeed, do succeed in exerting some appreciable pressure over the policymakers of the country, then the radicals may well channel their considerable energies into the drive to lower the voting age to eighteen.

If the Primary fails, however, to stir the long silent student moderates or to influence American policy, then leftists will probably remain convinced that only forceful and, if need be, violent action will produce acceptable political ends.

But of more immediate concern is whether the radicals will participate at all in CHOICE 68. The ballot, certainly, is well stocked with leftists and moderate-liberals, and the Vietnam referendum questions should satisfy the most extreme of the radicals. The current anti-administration feeling among students would also seem to indicate that a leftist vote is a distinct possibility.

Unfortunately, it's too soon to begin forecasting whether the radicals will respond to or boycott the primary. The one fact that is certain is that they do have a chance to mobilize and express themselves meaningfully and effectively in CHOICE 68.

The decision is theirs, as James Reston wrote, whether they "want to dream of work." CHOICE 68 may well tell us which avenue they choose.

Track squad goes to meet

BY MIKE THOMPSON

The 1968 McPherson track squad had five returning lettermen. We would like to acquaint the rest of the school with them, and with the rest of the squad members in later articles. (First of a series).

Bob DeTour is a graduate of McPherson High School. He is a javelin thrower with a best throw of 208'5 1/2". This is a record on McPherson College that DeTour set in 1967. Last year DeTour won the Doane Relays, Ottawa Relays and took second in the Kansas Conference meet. He is a senior, majoring in social science.

Jim Beachell is a graduate of Princeton High School, Princeton, N. J. He is the defending conference champion in the javelin. His best throw to date is 200'8". Last year he was second at the Doane Relays, Ottawa Relays, and first at the conference meet. He is a senior majoring in industrial arts.

Rod Westergaard is a graduate of Oak Park High School, near Chicago. He is a sprinter with a best time of 9.9 in the 100, and 21.9 in the 220 yard dash. He will handle the sprinting duties and help in the relays this year. Westergaard is a business major, living in the College Courts with his wife, Martha, and son, Sean.

Dave Smith graduated from St. John High School. He is a sophomore quarter miler. Last year he was the leading point getter on the team. This should be a really fine year for Smith.

Dave Shepherd is our returning distance runner. He graduated from Fort Scott High School. Shepherd, a sophomore, undergoes a strenuous year round training schedule, and a really fine year is expected of him.

Three of these boys and eight other squad members will compete in the Kansas State Indoor track meet this Saturday.

SNEA elects 1968-69 officers

A meeting of the McPherson College SNEA was held on March 13. The major reason for the meeting was the election of new officers for the 1968-69 school year.

The new officers are: President-Susan Sell, Jr. Conway; Vice-President-Judy Rego, soph, New Bedford, Mass.; Secretary-Pat Drury, jr, Marshalltown, Iowa; Treasurer-Mike Traetto, jr, Rockaway, N. J.; Historian-Joyce Shellenberger, jr, Buhler; and Publicity-Jody Duffy, jr, Abilene.

One of the coming activities for the SNEA is the annual Student Education Association banquet to be held at Bethany College on April 4.

M Club to hold annual banquet

The annual McPherson College M Club banquet will be held March 27, at the Colonial House in Hesston. The banquet is for the M Club members and their guests.

The guest speaker at the banquet will be Vince Gibson, head football coach at Kansas State University.

3 chosen as unanimous KCAC choices for team

Three players were unanimous choices for the 1967-68 Kansas College Athletic Conference, all-star basketball team. None of the McPherson players was chosen. The selections are made by the basketball coaches in the conference and included 11 players this year, as there was a tie in the voting.

Friends University, the second-place team in the conference with a 14-4 record, led the voting with three selections. The championship team, Kansas Wesleyan, had two selections, as did the College of Emporia, which finished third in the final standings.

Other conference schools represented by one player each were Southwestern, Bethany, Baker and Bethel.

Unanimous selections of the coaches were Bill Linhart, 5-10 senior guard from C. of E.; LeRoy Johnson, 6-2 junior forward from Friends; and Larry Williams, 6-6 senior center from Kansas Wesleyan.

Missing the unanimous list by only one vote were Bob Bruns, 6-3 junior forward from C. of E., and Loren Evans, 6-4 senior forward from Southwestern.

The 1967-68 all-conference team includes Bill Linhart, sr, 5-10, with a 20.3 average, and Bob Bruns, jr, 6-3, with a 19.2 average. Both men are students at C. of E.

Players from Kansas Wesleyan include Larry Williams, sr, 6-6, with a 16.7 average, and Manfred Sasser, jr, 6-0, with an average of 14.1.

Friends has three players on the team. The men are LeRoy Johnson, jr, 6-2, with an average of 18.4; Jim Jemmerson, jr, 5-11, with a 15.8 average; and Robin Stauffer, jr, 6-6, with an average of 17.5.

Other members of the all-conference team are Loren Evans, sr, Southwestern, 6-4, with a 22.2 average; Kent Olepn, sr, Bethany, 6-3, with an average of 13.6; Dave Struby, jr, Baker, 6-6, with a 15.6 average; and Chet Roberts, jr, Bethel, 6-0, with an average of 12.3.

'The American Dream' to be directed by Givens

BY SANDY KUSSART
"The American Dream," the second of the lab theaters, will be presented in the round in Brown Auditorium at 7 p.m., Tuesday, March 26.

The play was written by Edward Albee, the author of "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" Kerry Givens, soph., Nickerson, will direct the play under the supervision of Charles W. Fischer, assistant professor in English and theater. Donna Winegarden, fr, Des Moines, is stage manager.

In the author's own words, "The play is an examination of the American Scene, an attack on the substitution of artificial for real values in our society, a cruelty, emasculation and vacuity; it is a stand against the fiction that everything in this slipping land of ours is penchy-keen. I hope that "The American Dream" transcends the personal and the private and has something to do with the anguish of us all."

Miss Givens interprets the characters as follows: Daddy, portrayed by Nick Mosher, fr, Bellevue, Neb., is the "American Dream" after Mommy, Marilyn Smith, jr, Cedaredge, Colo., has changed him like she wants him. Daddy and the "American Dream," Manfred Cripe, sr, Tucson, Ariz., are twins in a "before-after" type situation.

Grandma, Jean Keith, sr, Chicago, behaves the way society (Mommy) dictates. Mrs. Barker, Sandy Kussart, fr, Cerro Gordo, Ill., is the control agent between society and the individual. Taking off her skirt is symbolic of the dictates of society.

Wright's brother is on tournament team

BY MIKE THOMPSON

It seems that Hal Wright isn't the only ball player in his family. Hal's brother Stewart was recently named to the State BB all-tournament team and is almost a sho-in to make the all-state team.

Louis (Red) Klatz probably has the worst coaching record in the United States. In the past 17 years his teams have won only three games, while suffering 3,492 losses.

His team is the one that plays exhibitions against the Harlem Globetrotters.

A student organization at Kansas State that calls itself the "Grid Setters" has a lot of penalties. One prospective football player reported receiving 2,200 letters encouraging him to become a K-Stater.

As a high school freshman, Elvin Hayes couldn't even make the basketball team. Eight years later he has become the best college roundballer in the nation and is leading his team (37.4 points — 18.8 rebounds per game) towards the NCAA championship. Shows what a little determination and work can do.

And the Big E Hayes is not going to boycott the Olympics as some Negro athletes are. A boycott in some areas might accomplish some good for the Negro, but not in athletics.

Once an athletic contest has begun, the competitors are judged on their ability, not on the color of their skin.

It is too bad that the UCLA-Houston clash will have to be in the semi-finals of the NCAA Championship instead of the finals. These two teams are definitely the number one and two teams in the nation.

How will their game come out? UCLA has Alcindor, and Houston has Hayes. Hayes is the better of the two and will lead his team to a NCAA championship and a 33-0 season's record.

Rogers finishes first in meet

Kathy Rogers, soph, Brooklyn, Iowa, running under cold weather conditions, won the 440 yard dash at the Texas Southern Relays last Friday night.

She also anchored the 800 medley relay team to a third place finish, and also ran on the 880 relay and 440 relay teams which placed 2nd and 4th respectively.

Miss Rogers ran the 440 in 62.4 seconds and will receive a watch for her effort.

People to People will hold banquet in Brethren Church

A banquet by People to People in cooperation with McPherson College home economics majors is to be held Monday, March 25, at 6:30 p.m. in the basement of the Church of the Brethren.

Jean Kwok, sr, Kowloon, Hong Kong, plans to cook a menu with Hawaiian flavor for the banquet, assisted by eleven women in the Quantity Cookery class of the department of Home Economics.

Red Cross Bloodmobile to be at Central College

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at Central College April 1 from 9:30 a.m.-2:30 p.m. Students wishing to donate blood may call the Red Cross office, CH 1-2386, to make an appointment.

Students must be 18 years old and weigh at least 110 pounds to donate blood. Those between the ages of 18 and 21 must have permission from a parent or guardian to give blood.

Cards to be sent to parents for their signature may be obtained from Sarah May Brunk, associate professor of English and journalism.

Blood donations may be designated to go to persons needing donations to replenish the supply they have used.

Mrs. Fred Mathes, whose daughter Karen, a former McPherson College student, will need to replenish 15 pints of blood she will need for open heart surgery in April.

Students wishing to help Mrs. Mathes replenish the supply of blood she will use may designate their donations for her.

Students are advised to cut down on the amount of fatty foods they eat the day of the donation. Boiled or baked foods are recommended.

Donations may not be accepted from persons having a history of malaria or hepatitis.
