

Circle K Club to solicit for Campus Bloodmobile

Solicitation for donors for the "Bloodmobile on Campus" will begin Oct. 13 and continue until the Red Cross Bloodmobile arrives on campus Oct. 31.

Circle K members will begin contacting students and faculty and scheduling donation times, hoping to surpass the 130 pints donated last year.

Denny Dahlquist, sr, Alexandria, Va., chairman of the Circle K Special Projects Committee, stated that the club hopes to get 200 pints this year. Townspeople as well as students and faculty are urged to donate.

Students who are between 18 and 21 years of age and single must have permission from a parent or guardian if they wish to donate. Circle K will send the requests for permission for the students.

The local Red Cross chapter is cooperating with the Circle K in making arrangements with the Bloodmobile headquarters in Wichita. The local chapter provides all literature and materials for the campaign.

The Bloodmobile, to be held in the Church of the Brethren basement, is expected to process 10 donors each 15 minutes. The Home Economics Chapter will serve a meal to each donor. McPherson hopes to regain the Red Cross Bloodmobile trophy which Kansas Wesleyan University has had for the past two years.

If any student is not asked to donate, he may contact Dahlquist who will assign him a donation time.

Earl Dehemy, fr, Middletown, Pa., is the class president. He is planning to major in agriculture.

Tom Ness, fr, York, Pa., is vice-president. Religion and philosophy or industrial arts will be his major. He was in the Brethren Volunteer Service for two years.

Homecoming features The Four Freshmen

The Four Freshmen will appear in concert at Brown Auditorium as a part of McPherson College's annual Homecoming events, Saturday, Oct. 14, 9:30 p.m.

The "Four Freshmen Story," is more like the traditional success story, filled with the struggles and frustrations on the way to the eventual happy ending.

It was in 1948 that four young Hoosiers organized a singing quartet at the Arthur Jordan Conservatory of Music, in Indianapolis, Ind.

They called themselves The Toppers, but soon changed their name to The Four Freshmen.

During their first couple of years, they managed to keep from setting the world on fire. As Frosh Ross Barbour put it, "We made a lot of music and very little money." Then fortune smiled at last. In this case it was ushered in by Stan Kenton.

So impressed was Kenton that he phoned Capital Records in Hollywood and convinced them to sign the Freshmen to a contract.

The Four Freshmen are composed of Bob Flanigan, Bill Comstock, Ross Barbour and Ken Albers.

Flanigan with the familiar high voice has been a member of the group from its very beginning.

The junior member of the Four Freshmen is Bill Comstock. Bill sings the second part with the group, plays guitar and is a composer.

He has written more than half a dozen songs which the group has recorded thus far.

It all began in Columbus, Ind.

That's where Ross Barbour, a charter member of the Four Freshmen, is from.

Ross was 19 years old when he voiced his first harmony part with the quartet.

Ken Albers, who joined the Frosh in 1956, does a little bit of everything. He is the bass voice of the group, plays trumpet, mellophone, and bass, arranges, writes songs and serves as "captain" of all Four Freshmen rehearsals.

Quad pictures to be taken in Quiet Room

"Make-up pictures will be taken Wednesday, Oct. 4, from 7 to 8:30 p.m. in the Quiet Room," stated Peggy Kuehl, jr, Wauke, Iowa, editor of the Quadrangle.

Anyone who missed his scheduled picture or who was not listed on the regular picture schedule may come at this time.

Graphic works to be displayed in Friendship

A collection of 40 original graphic art works will be displayed in Friendship Hall Oct. 1-25.

The display, loaned by de Cinque Graphic Art, Miramar, Fla., usually includes works by Friedlaender, Kao-Wou-Ki, Jansem, Picasso, Miro, Chagall, Swift and others. Nearly all items are handsigned and numbered.

The display will show a "round - the - world" view of graphic art trends within the past few years to the present time.

Also included will be eight watercolors from Mrs. W. A. Ragon, Clarksville, Ark., formerly head of the art department of College of the Ozarks, Clarksville. Mrs. Ragon is the mother of Mrs. C. E. Winger, assistant in the McPherson College Business Office.

Persons interested in purchasing works from the display may contact Miss Mary Ann Robinson, assistant professor of art.

Charges of books are delinquent after Nov. 1

The last day to charge books at the College Bookstore is Saturday, Sept. 30, according to Mrs. Marcia Cotterill, manager of the bookstore. After Nov. 1 charges at the bookstore will be considered delinquent.

Charges through Sept. 30, however, may not include stamps, clothing, cards, stationery or jewelry. Bookstore hours are 9 a.m. to 12 noon and 1-4 p.m. Monday - Friday, Saturday the bookstore is open from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

Three students study Spanish, observe culture in Mexico

By SUSAN PIERSON
"South of the border down Mexico way . . ." For three McPherson College students this is more than just an idle tune jiggling about in the brain. For them it is what's happening.

Asa McFadden, soph, Baudette, Minn.; Lydia Garza, jr, Falfurrias, Tex.; and Janet Smith, jr, Lyons, are in Mexico City studying Spanish.

The coeds are Spanish majors completing the ten hours of study abroad required for graduation in foreign language, and Asa is studying for sheer love of the country and its language.

While studying at the University of the Americas, Mexico City, they are required to take one grammar course.

The rest may be anything. As long as it is in Spanish, that is. Lessons are read in Spanish, written in Spanish, recited in Spanish and quite probably dreamed in Spanish.

Homelife also is in Spanish. The students live in residential Mexican homes and have their meals with their Mexican families.

In preparation for their semester abroad, both Miss Smith and Miss Garza studied two years of college Spanish. McFadden received one year of college Spanish and has traveled considerably in Central America.

All three will return to the McPherson College campus for the inter-term period. They left McPherson in late August.

Mrs. Corinne Hughbanks, assistant professor of languages, explained that the University of the Americas is not under the Brethren Colleges Abroad program, but many colleges and

Disguise to test fidelity is plot of comedy

"The more we work on it, the funnier it gets," was Mrs. Una Yoder's reaction to "The Guardsman," a three-act comedy to be presented in Brown Auditorium Oct. 12 at 8 p.m., and Oct. 14 at 7 p.m.

Mrs. Yoder, assistant professor in English, speech and theater, is director of the play.

"The Guardsman," a comedy written by Ferenc Molnar in 1911 will be the first presentation of this year's McPherson College Players.

The plot is a Viennese actor who disguises himself as a guardsman to test his wife's fidelity.

The audience is then left to decide whether or not the Actress knows that The Actor and the guardsman are the same person.

The Actor is played by Terry Johnson, fr, Wilmington, Del., and The Actress is played by Jean Weatherbie, soph, Salt Lake City.

The Critic, played by Mike Loveless, soph, Mt. Ranier, Md., is a longtime friend of the family.

Mama, played by Neva Rhinehart McNichols, soph, McPherson, is hired as a professional chaperon.

Nee, soph, Atlantic City, N. J., tries to collect a bill from The Actor.

The other two characters, Liesl and Usher, are played by Kerry Givens, soph, Nickerson and Dixie Blubaugh, jr, Burrton, respectively.

Mrs. Yoder stated that the cast was working on the double meanings - it is full of them - in the play.

"Two fancy settings will be used," Mrs. Yoder added. She described one as being the sitting room of a home which will be brightened by pretty pinks, blues and lavenders.

The second set is an opera box which will be decorated in red and gold.

Charles Fischer, assistant professor in speech and theater, is in charge of technical production.

When the play was first presented in the 1920's, Alfred Lund and Miss Lynn Fontanne played the parts as a husband-wife team.

The author, Molnar, is better known for "Liliom." The musical "Carousel" was based on it.

REHEARSING FOR PERFORMANCES in "The Guardsman," Terry Johnson, The Actor, has just entered disguised as the Guardsman and hopes his wife, The Actress, Jean Weatherbie, does not recognize him.

Graduating seniors must fill applications

Attention Seniors! Applications for graduation must be submitted at the registrar's office now.

These applications must be filled out and turned in to the registrar if you wish to graduate in the spring.

Concert Band kept busy

Preparing for a concert later in the semester and providing music for football games keeps the McPherson College Concert Band busy during its three practices each week.

Under the direction of Robert E. Revell, assistant professor in music, the band will strive to present a new image to the campus. New music and increased enthusiasm are what Prof. Revell hopes will bring about the change.

Prof. Revell extends an invitation to "any and all who would be interested in joining." At present 24 students make up the band personnel. Playing flute are Marcia Sell-berg and Jane Dadisman. Lynn Dee Standafer plays bass clarinet. Roger Ditzler, Cliff Gates and Mary Kay Brown are the other clarinet players.

Winona Achilles plays the french horn, Christine Grove the baritone saxophone and Ray Landis the alto saxophone.

Trombone players are Paul Tice, Ken Dilling and Lynn Coulter. Robert Smith and Art Foxall play tuba.

Ramon Zook, Pam Burns, Wayne Shoemaker, P. J. Stucky and Eddy Burr are in the trumpet section.

On instruments in the percussion section are Carole Gerber, Ray Medley, Ed Myers and Bob Knechtel.

Sandwich line is suggested

There it is — the line up!

Some have faces of determination as they stand straight and proud. Others are hunched over with hands in their pockets as though they have just been convicted. Still others lean against what seems to be prison walls, with hungry "hate-the-world" expressions on their faces.

This is not the description of a group of convicts just sentenced to Death Row, but is simply a description of college students standing in the lunch line.

How long these hungry students stand in line may vary from one second to 25 minutes, according to a recent survey.

On an average day, approximately 460 students eat lunch within a two hour period, and an average of 450 students eat dinner each day within a one hour period.

A second line has been added for serving the evening meals and one has been added to the noon service on Tuesday's and Thursdays.

If a third line was added, specializing only in sandwiches, hot and cold, such as hamburgers and wieners and cold cuts, there would be fewer persons standing in line with empty stomachs for 25 minutes.

This would also cut down on the number of students late for class, and it might even assure students that there would be one plate with their favorite quick lunch.

Students will elect frosh representatives

Freshman Student Council representatives and B - team cheerleaders will be elected today.

Voting booths located in the Student Union will be open from 10:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Registrar gives down slips to warn students

Down slips will be issued by the registrar's office to any student who is averaging either a D or an F in any of his subjects.

This warning to the students is to indicate the need for more studying in the future.

German Club elects Ziemann

Election of officers was the main feature of the first German Club meeting. Joining him in their capacities as secretary and program chairman, respectively, will be Donna Winegardner, fr, Des Moines, Iowa, and Sigrid Wagner, soph, Wiley, Colo.

Students are invited to participate in the German Club meeting scheduled for Tuesday, Oct. 3, at 7 p.m. in the Student Union quiet room.

Observations

by JAN PYLE

On Psychology Class

I had delusions of sanity
When I enrolled in the class.
I didn't have nightmares,
So I thought I might pass
As reasonable, normal, even well-adjusted
Until on page sixty-three
I read the traumatic case history
And identified with poor Molly B.
How had I ever existed
With pent-up hostility
In a personality permanently twisted
With repressed reality?
Was I expressing what I should be repressing?
Was I regressing because I was suppressing?
And why has the Jolly Green
Giant always been so obsessing?
I knew that back in my childhood
I had a mild little neurosis,
But I fear it may soon be a full-blown psychosis.
(My best friend said I had halitosis.)
And I wonder if my libido,
Might somehow be on the wane;
And what might it mean, that last night in my dream
My psych book washed down the drain?

Karate expert gives lessons to men, women; has highest degree of black belt, 15 trophies

By DIANNE WARNEK

"The knowledge of karate is something that will remain with you the rest of your life." This statement was made by Larry Martin, soph, Rome, New York, McPherson's black belt karate expert.

Martin has been giving karate lessons since he entered McPherson. During this time he has taught 70 men the elements of karate.

Because he has always been interested in sports and was looking for an unusual one, Martin began karate lessons at the age of 17 at an Air Force base near his home.

In three years he had his black belt, which is the highest belt one can achieve in karate. Martin has been in five tournaments and has won 15 trophies.

There are two divisions in a tournament. The first is in form, and it is called kata. The second division is in sparring and is called kumite. Martin received trophies in both classes.

Karate means empty handed, according to Martin. It is the ultimate in self-defense. Hard parts of the body, such as the elbow and knee, are used as weapons.

Karate originated in India by Buddhist monks. They were attacked by neighboring tribes, but because of their religion, they could use no weapons. They developed karate as a means of self-defense.

Martin stated that there are various degrees, or kus, to go through to achieve a black belt.

There are three kus of white, one kus of green, two of purple, three of brown and eight of black.

Dan is the name given to degrees of black. Martin has the highest dan. Two of his students have green belts. They are Gary Warden, jr, Rochester, N. Y. and John Leary, jr, Hartford, Conn.

Every two or three months karate students are given tests to determine their ku. If they receive a score of 70, they pass. They gain two kus if they receive an 80, and three kus for a 90.

Karate students have a regular gi, or uniform, which consists of pants, a robe, and a belt. The gis are usually white, but they also come in blue or black.

In order to be an assistant instructor, the student must have a green belt. Martin acted as an assistant while he worked for his black belt.

A full time instructor must have at least a brown belt, and he usually has a black one. Instructors must be accredited by a karate organization. Martin is accredited by the Japan Karate Association.

According to Martin, there are many reasons for learning karate. It can be taken for excitement, self-defense and physical fitness.

Speed, not strength, in addition to good technique is stressed. For this reason, women as well as men can learn it. Women find it especially useful for self-defense and physical fitness.

Karate students, Martin states, build their self confidence, in addition to their physical abilities. This leads, he feels, to self-restraint.

Classes are open to both women and men. Four women are currently enrolled. Women classes meet every Saturday and Sunday for two hours. Price is $5 per month.

Men's classes meet with the women on Saturdays and Sundays and also on Wednesdays. Price is $15 per month.

Interested students may contact Martin or any of the karate students. There are currently openings in the class, and new classes will begin every two months.

Bulldogs will invade strong Southwestern

"Southwestern Moundbuilders are a fine football club. They have good speed, they are big and mobile and like to play football. They also have 26 returning lettermen this season," Head Coach Dwight McSpadden stated.

The Moundbuilders will host the Bulldogs Saturday, Sept. 30,

Methods, issues to be discussed at ACKK meet

Controversial methods and issues being proposed for improving the English curriculum will be examined at a one-day conference sponsored by the Associated Colleges of Central Kansas, Saturday, Sept. 30, on the Kansas Wesleyan University campus.

New materials and exhibits will also be introduced at the meeting, open to students interested in English.

Dr. Frank Rice, University of Nebraska; Professor Don Eulert, University of New Mexico; and Dr. Heien Throckmorton, Wichita State University, will address conference participants.

This will be the first opportunity provided by ACKK for students to hear distinguished leaders at a minimal cost.

Providing college students take advantage of this conference, others may be arranged in various fields. Dr. Dayton Rothrock, professor of education and psychology, explained.

This is the first conference to be sponsored by ACKK for college students, as well as elementary, secondary and college teachers.

Faculty members of the six member colleges of ACKK will serve as group leaders and panel members.

Registration fee for students is $2, which includes lunch, or $1 without lunch included.

7:30 p.m. at Winfield.

Currently, Southwestern is tied for the Kansas College Athletic Conference lead with a record of two wins and no defeats, with College of Emporia, Ottawa and Baker, while McPherson is tied for last place.

The Moundbuilders posted victories over Friends Falcons and Kansas Wesleyan Coyotes, while the Bulldogs remain winless losing to College of Emporia Presbites and KWU.

Last season the Bulldogs knocked Southwestern from the unbeaten ranks, 15-0, in the Bulldogs' best game of the season.

Coach McSpadden said that the Moundbuilders have a superior amount of depth — one of the strongest in the conference.

"They run out of a pro-set with a split end and flanker and are capable anytime of getting a touchdown with the speed they have," McSpadden asserted.

He was referring to Southwestern's split end, Dave Jubin, who can run the 100 yard dash in 9.8 seconds.

Also in Southwestern's vaunted attack are quarterback, Melvin Chasteen, flanker Tom Petty, halfback Dennis Kuder and fullback Mike Simons, "who are big and fast," McSpadden stated.

He also said that the Bulldogs have got to try to keep the Moundbuilders off balance and not let them get into scoring position.

"They are a first half ball team. The Moundbuilders scored three touchdowns on Friends in the first quarter, and scored 23 points in the first half against KWU," McSpadden continued.

Coach McSpadden added, "This is our toughest game to date; it just depends on whether we want it or not. If we get the philosophy that we are a team of 11 men in our minds, it is going to take 11 other men to beat us, not ourselves."

Powder Puff game features crowning of king

By DANA BOWER
A candidate will be crowned King during half-time of the second annual women's Powder-Puff football game, Monday, Oct. 9, 6:15 p.m. at the College stadium.

Practices have already begun in preparation for the game which will pit the junior and senior women against the freshman and sophomore women.

Barbara Westray, sr, Key West, Fla., coordinator of the event, said that the women would be playing flag football. Instead of tackling the "woman with the ball," the defense must pull a flag from the pocket of the woman carrying the ball.

"It is not so much who wins the game," Miss Westray stated, "We just play for the fun and entertainment."

During half-time four male candidates, one from each class, will be escorted onto the field in old jalopies. One of the candidates will then be crowned King of the Powder-Puff game.

Male cheerleaders will lead spectators in yells and cheers throughout the game.

"The main object of this game is to promote a better understanding of football and to have a lot of fun," Miss Westray said.

Last year the junior and senior women defeated the freshman and sophomore women, 14-12.

The cafeteria will open at 4:30 p.m. so students may eat before going to the game.

Coed Rodgers takes first in cross-country

Running for the Topeka Cosmos Girls Track Club, Kathy Rodgers, soph, Waterloo, Iowa, placed first in the girls one and one-half mile cross-country race held at Wichita's Echo Hills Golf Club Sept. 22.

With six girls running in the race, Kathy's winning time was 9:10:0 with Marjorie Kresge, Wichita East High School senior, placing second in 9:15:0. Also running for the Cosmos Club, Deanna Duffey, Coky High School junior, finishing third.

Her first meet since injuring her leg in a meet at Ottawa last May, Kathy has spent much of her non-class time getting back into condition for her fall racing events.

This was the first time she has run in a cross country event and commented, "I really like it."

Coached by Art Ray, assistant professor in physical education and head track coach, Kathy runs several miles a day and does wind sprints while in training.

Her next meet will not be for another two, or three weeks.

KWU Coyotes defeat cross-country team

In their second meet of the season, the McPherson College Cross-Country team suffered their first defeat.

In meet at Kansas Wesleyan University, McPherson's team total of 29 points was bettered by Kansas Wesleyan's 37.

Appell, KWU, led the individual standings with a time of 15:58. Dave Shepherd of McPherson placed second, finishing in 16:32.

Fifth, sixth, and seventh places were taken by Ron Smith, 17:16; Wayne Heskett, 17:21; and Prentiss Porter, 17:23, all from McPherson.

McPherson runners also finished ninth and tenth. Dave Smith and Steve Rogers took these places with times of 17:31 and 18:08, respectively.

The next meet will be with Sterling College on the Rolling Acres Golf Course, McPherson, Sept. 29, at 3 p.m.

Grid players win awards

For his excellent defensive play, Ron Picklesimer, fr, Columbia City, Ind., was voted player of the week by his teammates for his outstanding performance in the McPherson-Kansas Wesleyan clash last Friday.

Also, the Monday morning Quarterback Club of McPherson (any interested people in McPherson) chose Dick Stalcup, fr, Topeka, for his performance in the season opener against College of Emporia, and Bob DeTour, sr, McPherson, and Picklesimer for their performance in the KWU game as players of the week.

At his position as outside linebacker, Picklesimer made seven unassisted tackles, 14 assisted and intercepted a Coyote pass and ran 17 yards for a Bulldog score.

Little Dick Stalcup gained prominence in the C of E game, where he made three unassisted tackles, eight assisted and intercepted a pass from his linebacker position.

"We will improve throughout the season if we get used to playing together," Stalcup stated.

Bob DeTour the Bulldogs' big fullback, was the offensive punch against KWU. He averaged 4.3 yards per carry on 18 carries.

DeTour commented, "We just did not play to our capacity."

Coyotes nip Bulldogs

In a Kansas Conference game held at the College stadium Friday evening, Sept. 22, the McPherson Bulldogs were defeated by Kansas Wesleyan's Coyotes, 20-14.

The first quarter was marked with fumbles by both teams; however, Kansas Wesleyan recovered and scored with 9:14 left in the first quarter. The score was then 7-0.

Early in the second quarter, the Bulldogs put on a drive, and through passing and running, Bob DeTour scored the first Bulldog touchdown. Manfred Brown kicked the extra point to tie the score at 7-7.

McPherson scored again in the second quarter when Ron Picklesimer intercepted a Coyote pass and covered 17 yards to score. Brown again kicked the extra point which widened the margin to 14-7.

Starting with the third quarter kickoff, K.W.U. started a drive that almost tied the game again. The Coyotes returned the kickoff to the 43, got a first down to the McPherson 47, covered eight yards in four plays, and scored on a 39 yard run by Bob Tripp who also scored in the first quarter.

The extra point attempt was ruled no good, the score remained 14-13.

The Coyotes drove hard for the remainder of the third quarter and all of the fourth. Bulldog defensive work foiled several scoring attempts, but K.W.U. gained yardage steadily on pass plays.

This steady gain was climaxed by a 34 yard scoring run and a successful extra point attempt by the Coyotes.

Bob DeTour was McPherson's top ground gainer, averaging 4.3 yards per carry on 18 carries.

Hedrick, Myers represent College for future students

Two administrative assistants of McPherson College lead lives similar to that of a traveling salesman. It is the responsibility of these two men to sell McPherson College to future college prospects.

Jerry Hedrick, Jr., admissions counselor, and Eugene Myers, director of admissions, are continually traveling throughout the state of Kansas representing McPherson College.

Myers traveled to western Kansas earlier this week to visit several cities. Among his stops were Garden City, Dodge City and Syracuse.

A trip to south-central Kansas was scheduled for Jerry Hedrick this week. He was to visit high schools in Wellington, Ark City, Winfield and El Dorado.

During the first week in Oct. Myers will attend college nights in Wichita. This includes all Wichita city high schools.

Minneapolis, Minn., will be Hedrick's destination. While in Minneapolis, Jerry will be attending a conference held by the Association of College Admissions Councils.

Myers also served as a representative for ACCO during the Kansas State Fair.

These various trips are taken for several reasons. First, it gives high school seniors a chance to speak with a representative from McPherson College.

Secondly, the two representatives from McPherson find it quite helpful in their business to become acquainted with all counselors and administrative staff members in all Kansas high schools.

The name of McPherson College is also placed in the minds of many high school graduates who may never have thought about attending McPherson College until talking with one of the representatives.

As busy as they are Myers and Hedrick find it much easier to fulfill their tasks if they have some idea of who may be interested in attending McPherson College.

For this reason the admissions assistants would welcome any suggestions from students for prospective applicants to McPherson College.

Three coeds will be selected as queen, court

Three campus women will be chosen to reign as the 1967 Homecoming queen and attendants.

Freshman and sophomore classes will each nominate four coeds to represent their classes as attendants.

Juniors will nominate four coeds as queen candidates. Seniors will not nominate candidates.

Nominations for queen and attendants must be made before Oct. 5 during class meetings. On Friday, Oct. 13, the student body will vote for the queen and two attendants.

The coronation will be held that night in Brown Auditorium. The queen will be crowned by the 1966 queen, Judy Monke, sr, Pierson, Iowa.

Deadline for dropping courses is Sept. 30

The last day a student may drop a course without any grade being recorded for that course is Saturday Sept. 30.

A course may be dropped later than this date, but either a withdrawn passing or withdrawn failing will be added to the student's transcript.

Committee gives suggestions about classes

Students who have suggestions for improving academic affairs at McPherson College should be aware of the Academic Affairs Committee of Student Council.

This committee evaluates and makes constructive criticism of academic affairs on campus and gives suggestions to the administration in areas it feels need improvement.

Some of the areas already discussed by the committee are the possibilities of combining classes, requirements for class attendance and raising amounts of upperclassmen's scholarships.

The committee met Sept. 20 with Dr. Merlin Frantz dean of academic affairs to discuss requirements for various courses.

Student interest is welcomed. Any student who has suggestions or constructive criticism of academic affairs on campus may contact a member of the committee.

Committee chairman is Marcella Sherly sr, McPherson. Other members are Gary Flory, sr, McPherson; Jan Howell, sr, St. John; Steve Nettleton, sr, Albert Lea, Minn.;

Elaine Sales, sr, E. Peoria, Ill.; and Dianne Warnke, soph, Elgin, Ill. Faculty advisor is Leland Lengel, assistant professor of history and political science.

Iron bars do not a prison as their prime target of interest, make."

To find out just exactly what does, Criminology students will visit the Kansas State Industrial Reformatory, Hutchinson, Oct. 5, and Lansing and Leavenworth prison complexes Oct. 10. Robert E. Keim, assistant professor in sociology, will accompany his students on the trips, both of which are standard parts of the course every fall. With rehabilitation programs students will observe prison education and recreation facilities, and training programs. "Ninety per cent of the prison population are returning to our communities," Keim said indicating the reason for concern with rehabilitation.

Keim and 34 students will travel as a group, spending an afternoon at KSIR and a full day on the Lansing - Leavenworth tour.

At Lansing, because of the security risk, women will be allowed to visit only the women's prison while male students are visiting the men's prison.

While at Leavenworth the group will go inside the gates to see the cell block.

Both Lansing and Leavenworth are maximum security prisons. Leavenworth, a federal penitentiary, has 3,000 inmates. Lansing is a state prison with 1,400 inmates.

Bourgeois' talk will highlight Convocations

A. Donald Bourgeois will highlight the Thursday, Oct. 5 Convocations. Working out of the mayor's office in St. Louis, he is the director of the Model City Agency.

Bourgeois, a lecturer in the area of human relations, especially on the contemporary racial revolution, has worked in the poverty programs.

He will be on campus for the day and will be meeting with some of the sociology classes.

Student Council was in charge of today's Convocations. Candidates for freshman Student Council representatives and B-team cheerleaders were introduced.

Gary Flory, president of Student Court, spoke briefly about the Student Court. Tom Brubaker spoke about Student Council.

Frosh students will visit Camp Webster for intellectual aspects

Tomorrow afternoon Freshman students will be loading, bedding and clothing for a two-day visit at Camp Webster near Salina.

Dr. Snell assistant dean of student affairs and dean of men will speak to the freshmen. Saturday evening after many get together and talk the freshman will return to the campus.

Stuco appoints Duncanson as Foods Chairman

Sue Duncanson, jr, Lewiston, Minn., was appointed chairman of the Foods Committee by the Student Council in the Sept. 20 Stuco meeting.

Miss Duncanson, a transfer student from Wilona State College, Minn., has scheduled the first meeting of the 1967-68 Foods Committee for today, 6 p.m., in the Student Union.

The Student Council also decided to support the student directory again this year. Added to the directory will be the names of faculty members.

Nancy Brown, jr, Concord, Mass., was appointed member of the Campus Improvements Committee after a recommendation from Jean Keith, sr, Chicago, chairman of the committee.

Cliff Gates, sr, Alexandria, Va., chairman of the Social Committee, reported that the contract with the Four Freshmen had been signed and returned.

It was also announced that "It's a Novel Homecoming" will be the theme for this year's Homecoming.
