Campers discuss Vietnam questions

Can the U. S. pull out of Vietnam? Are we really committed to fight in Vietnam? Is Vietnam morally wrong?

These were some of the questions asked and discussed at All-School Camp Oct. 17-18.

Almost 50 students and faculty members were present for at least part of the weekend activities at Camp Webster near Salina.

Refreshments were served and two films — "Why — Vietnam?" on the government policy and "The Time of the Locust," a moralistic film by the American Friends Service Committee — were shown Friday night.

Dr. Boyer, head of the Political Science Department at Kansas State University, Manhattan, and Dr. Raymond L. Flory, professor of history and political science, presented pro and con material on our involvement in Vietnam Saturday.

Later they discussed conflicting points in their two presentations and answered questions from the audience. Students and faculty members were divided into groups to discuss Vietnam and to work on group collages about the meaning of the war.

To construct the collages each group used string, glue, and two American flags, in addition to personal and nature objects.

Afternoon recreation included a volleyball tournament and individual activities.

After supper, the group evaluated the camp, discussed the collages and sang camp songs around a fireplace before they were dismissed.

Martip Hoover, jr., McPherson, was chairman of the All-School Camp Committee.

NCTA play to be given

"Hansel and Gretel," the first in the National Children's Theater Association series will be presented this afternoon at 4 p. m. in Brown Auditorium.

Admission for the production, sponsored by the McPherson Chapter of the American Association of University Women is 75 cents.

Tickets may be purchased at the door. Tickets for the three performance season may be purchased for $1.50.

Bright colors and bold style will highlight the action by adult professional actors.

Blood donors commended

Once again the proud and charitable students of McPherson College turned out in full force to donate blood to the Red Cross Bloodmobile which was on campus Oct. 31.

Approximately one year ago today, students donated a total of 130 pints of blood to win the Red Cross Blood Plaque from our ardent adversary, Kansas Wesleyan University of Salina.

The plaque, which shows the abundant college spirit, matters little in comparison with lives that this blood will save and the countless sick and wounded it will help.

There is nothing as great as giving blood; as it is the giving of a part of one's self.

Free and Easy Publishing voting record offers many advantages

By DAVE SOVCHEN
Each Sunday, in many daily newspapers, an effort is made to keep the voting population aware of bills voted upon by the United States Congress.

Included with the publication of these various acts is the voting record of the district's elected representatives and senators. The column usually appears under the heading "How They Voted."

Each week the Student Council secretary posts the results of Council action. Unfortunately, this does not include recording the vote of each representative, but only the action of the Council as a unit.

Students who cannot attend Council meetings do not know how their elected delegate is voting, and Council members wonder if their vote is in line with the students' thought.

Besides helping to solve the problems stated above, a "How They Voted" column in the Spectator each week could have other advantages.

First, students could become better acquainted with the affairs of Student Council.

Second, elected representatives, knowing that their vote will be published, may give more consideration to an act before voting upon it. Finally, a record of a representative's past voting may give the student body a criteria to judge if the representative should run for re-election or a prominent position.

RC Bloodmobile visits campus

The Red Cross Bloodmobile was on campus Oct. 31, in the basement of the Church of the Brethren. At least 200 donors were needed to obtain the total of 151 pints of blood.

Last year the College won the blood plaque from Kansas Wesleyan University, Salina, by receiving 130 pints. When the totals are added, the school with the most blood will receive the plaque.

Circle K was in charge of the Bloodmobile this year, with Denny Dahlquist, sr, Alexandria, Va., as chairman.

Under the co-chairmanship of Sharon Hartman, sr, Pine Ridge, S.D. and Paula Sisel, soph, Davenport, Neb., the Home Economics Chapter served Huntington chicken, celery, carrots, pickles, cake, french bread, coffee, milk and coke to all donors.

Teaching art in high school is goal of Spectator cartoonist Mark Krogh

By PHIL GROVE

Mark Krogh, who once got into trouble in high school for drawing a picture of a teacher, is cartoonist for the Spectator.

Krogh's drawing career dates back to about third grade when he used to make sketches on notebook and tablet paper.

Since then, the junior who is from Matawan, N. J., has become so interested in art that he plans to do graduate study in art after graduating from McPherson in May of 1969.

Following graduate school, Krogh plans to teach high school art. He is majoring in education and plans minors in art and history.

"I took a Creative Art course at Matawan Regional High school," Krogh says, "but the teacher discouraged my idea of drawing cartoons for the class."

Krogh did not give up his abilities, however, for when he enrolled at Tusculum College in East Tennessee, he drew cartoons for the Pioneer, the school paper.

CARTOONIST AT WORK. — Spectator cartoonist Mark Krogh sits at drawing board as he adds final touches to this week's cartoon.

Krogh transferred to McPherson in the fall of 1966. Since then he has drawn many cartoons for the Spectator.

"I get a lot of personal satisfaction when I see my cartoons in print," Krogh said.

The cartoonist has sold one cartoon to a magazine and is waiting for replies about cartoons which he sent to other magazines.

Krogh works with Tom Nee, soph, McPherson. "Tom is the caption man," Krogh explained.

Slater relates experiences of BCA group at Marburg

Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of letters which will be written by Peggy Slater. Miss Slater is spending her junior year at Marburg, West Germany, under the Brethren Colleges Abroad program. BCA is designed to broaden the experiences and education of its participants.

Other McPherson BCA students at Marburg are Carolyn Dadisman, Rick Racine, Dong Yingst and Bill Marcellus. Also at Marburg, is Dr. Jan van Asselt (on leave), associate professor of German and linguistics, who is serving as director of the 1967-68 BCA program. Dear People,

I must apologize for taking such a long time to get my first letter about Marburg back to you. Our BCA group has been very busy. Seventeen of us began our Marburg experience in a six-week language institute from Sept. 4-Oct. 13.

During this time we concentrated on German grammar and conversation, and heard lectures giving us an "Uberblick" of German history and literature. Whenever we had free time during those six weeks, and since then, we set off on our own to discover Marburg, the fascinating city in which we are spending our junior years abroad.

Marburg lies between Frankfurt and Kassel, approximately in the center of Western Germany. The history of Marburg dates back to about 1150, when the first inhabitants settled here permanently.

In the 13th century Count Heinrich I began the construction of the Marburger castle, which still stands at the peak of the mountain on which the oldest part of Marburg is built.

In the year 1527-ten years after the Reformation began Count Philipps, a Luther sympathizer, founded here in Marburg what is now the oldest Protestant university in Germany.

This is Philipps University, where we are now studying. The semester has just begun, and we are slowly becoming accustomed to the German atti-

Faculty plans entertainment

Ten faculty members will open their homes to fellow faculty Friday evening, Nov. 3.

Groups of about ten faculty will gather in each of the homes for dinner and an evening of entertainment.

Each guest faculty member will bring food and entertainment.

Host and hostesses are Professor and Mrs. Monroe Hughbanks; Dr. and Mrs. Merlin L. Frantz; Dr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Flory; Professor and Mrs. Paul V. Sollenberger; Mr. and Mrs. R. Gordon Yoder;

Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth C. Bechtel; Mr. and Mrs. Guy Hayes; Professor and Mrs. David Eller; and Miss Mary Ann Robinson and Mr. Robert Smith.

tude towards higher education. We are beginning to make some exciting comparisons of the differences — and common points — of our system of education in contrast to the German system. I will write of these soon.

Sincerely,
Peggy Slater

Stuco hears Fox's report on FS of ACCK

A report on the Oct. 21 meeting of the Federated Students of the Associated Colleges of Central Kansas was given at the Oct. 25 Student Council meeting.

Mike Fox, sr, Valley Center, official McPherson representative, reported the four issues which were discussed or acted upon. They are as follows:

1. Student government. There was discussion about how each school elected its Student Council and how much power each council has.

2. Finances. Student work projects were discussed. These work projects are a source of income for many of the schools. Tabor College, for example, dismisses classes for one or two days each year so students can participate in the work projects.

3. Library hours. A motion to recommend to ACCK that library hours on the six campuses be standardized was passed.

4. Identification cards. A motion to recommend to ACCK that ID cards be standardized was passed.

The next meeting of FS of ACCK will be Dec. 2 at Bethel. Discussion at that meeting will center around inter-term trips and activities and a big-name group, which would be supported by all ACCK colleges.

Paul Roth, jr, Boiling Springs, Pa., was the other McPherson representative at the meeting. The Student Council decided to loan $100 to the McPherson College YMCA-YWCA for the All-School Retreat.

"We think of ideas for the cartoons, and then I draw them while he thinks of a caption."

Krogh also draws and designs posters. He has made posters for students running for student government positions. He also draws for organizations such as the Circle K, of which he is chairman of public relations.

Krogh's drawing talents are not limited to cartoons. He also works with paints and makes pencil sketches.

In addition to his artistic talents, Krogh enjoys horseback riding and surfing. Having a summer home, which his father built on the Jersey coast, he spends much time riding the waves.

"The last thing I did before coming back to school this fall, Krogh said, "was surf a few waves."

Women's Club hears Madrigals

Thirty minutes of song were presented by the McPherson College Madrigals at the Business and Profession Women's Club Oct. 26.

Future plans for the group include acquiring burgandy blazers for the men and pink dresses for the women.

The group is also acquiring a large repertoire of contemporary and classical sacred and secular numbers.

Fair exhibits to be sold in Friendship

A set of 40 unusual stamps, Indian brass bells and hand-carved wooden statues are just a few of the items to be sold at the International Fair Friday and Saturday, Nov. 17-18, in Friendship Hall.

The merchandise began arriving last week. The International Fair Committee has ordered goods from Church World Service. These items were made by native refugees from such places as Hong Kong and Algeria.

Slides will be shown in the exhibit booths by foreign students and McPherson students who have visited foreign countries.

Displays of foreign articles from persons in McPherson will be in the showcases in Friendship Hall until the booths are set up.

Bulldogs, Bethel both seek first victory

Bethel College Threshers will meet the McPherson College Bulldogs Saturday, Nov. 4, at 2 p.m.

Excluding a tie, this gridiron clash will determine which team will move out of last place in the Kansas College Athletic Conference.

Both the Threshers and Bulldogs are winless in seven games.

Bethel, which has not won a game since the 1964 season, will be trying to avenge a 31-12 loss to McPherson last season.

The Threshers have lost to Baker, Ottawa, Sterling, Kansas Wesleyan University, Southwestern, College of Emporia and Friends.

Bethel lost to Southwestern last week 40-6. The Moundbuilders defeated McPherson 47-7

A representative from KWU presented the plaque to Dean Sheller, sr, Eldora, Iowa, president of Student Council, Oct. 26.

All-stater from Dwight to join basketball team

Editors note: This is the first of a series of articles on the McPherson College basketball players.

Most valuable player in the State Double B Basketball Tournament in his senior year, 6' 5" center, Skip Van Dervort led Dwight High School to the state championship.

Van Dervort, a freshman, made all-state in the Double B League in his junior and senior year at Dwight.

In his senior year, he averaged 18 points per game and pulled down an average of 13 rebounds.

"He shoots and rebounds well;

earlier this season.

The Bulldogs lost to C of E, KWU, Bethany, Ottawa, Southwestern, Friends and Baker.

"Despite their record, the Threshers have a good balanced attack, both offensively and defensively," Bulldog Coach Dwight McSpadden said. "We must be mentally prepared to play good football and win."

WAA members earn points in four divisions

Members of the Women's Athletic Association may earn points by participating in tennis, team sports, outings and individual sports.

Dates for participating in the four divisions will be decided by the sport heads.

Heading the activities are Neva McNicholas, soph, McPherson, tennis; Barbara Westray, sr, Key West, Fla., team sports; Jean Lemmon, jr, Lucerne, Ind., outings; and Kathy Rogers, soph, Brooklyn, Iowa, individual sports.

Under the WAA point system, a coed must earn a total of 750 points to receive a letter "M," 1,500 points for an ARFCV pin and 3,000 for a blazer or blanket.

In the KCAC statistics, Bethel does not appear in the first five places in any category.

The Bulldogs' two punters, Bob DeTour and Manford Brown, are second and third in the conference with averages of 40.3 and 37.9 yards respectively.

Defensive rushing and passing are the other categories in which the Bulldogs place in the top five.

McPherson is third in defensive rushing, yielding an average of 121 yards per game; and fifth in pass defense, yielding an average of 114.7 yards in its first six games.

Harriers finish third in cross-country meet

Coeds to treat men during Flirt Week

The males will be the pursued, the females the pursuers, as the campus readjusts its code of etiquette during the annual observance of Flirt Week, Nov. 13-18.

Flirt Week, the name for WPA Week, is sponsored by the Women's Council and the Social Committee.

This will be the only opportunity for the women to arrange dates, and pay the bill.

Women's Council, under president Annette Burkholder, sr, Preston, Minn., is considering contests as activities for dates.

Other suggestions for prospective dates include Coke dates; the movie, "V.I.P.'s" Friday night; and a dance Saturday night, Nov. 18.

Ottawa totals 628 offensive yards in its 52-0 shutout over McPherson

The vaunted Ottawa Brave offense scored 52 points in their shutout of the McPherson College Bulldogs, Friday at the College stadium.

The Bulldog offense, which was in trouble most of the night, could only obtain 158 total offensive yardage.

McPherson completed 9 of 33 attempted passes for 99 yards and gained 59 yards rushing. Bob DeTour averaged 42 yards punting.

In the first period, Lester Guest ran around left end for the Braves first score. Benbaha-

Graduates in 1969 will need 3.40 GPA for Cum Laude honor

Grant begins B-ball practice

Jerry Grant, fr, McPherson, began regular practice with the 1967-68 McPherson College basketball squad Wednesday.

The six-foot three-inch freshman played on the McPherson High School basketball team which won second place at the State AA Tournament last year. His average points per game last year were 8.5. He played basketball for McPherson High School three years.

Donald Widrig, head basketball coach, considers Grant a player "... with good potential." Prof. Widrig also said that Grant will push other players to do their best.

"I think we will have overall strength this year. Not only do we have a strong starting team, but we have some good substitutes," Grant stated.

Metzler writes on Jesus' Sermon

Dr. Burton Metzler, professor emeritus of philosophy and religion, has written an interpretation of the Sermon on the Mount.

The book, "As We Listen to Jesus: The Message of the Sermon on the Mount," will be released in the spring. Published by the Brethren Press in Elgin, Ill., the paperback will have approximately 125 pages.

Dr. Metzler's book will be in the resource library of the Commission on Christian Education of the Church of the Brethren. Although it was written primarily for adult Sunday school classes, it will be available for group and individual study.

The book grew out of his Life and Teachings course at McPherson, which he taught from 1937 to 1964. Since retirement, Dr. Metzler has done occasional teaching at the College.

Metzler Hall, men's residence dormitory, is named for him.

Currently he resides at 1222 Euclid Street with his wife, the former Norma Stump.

SNEA members to have buzz groups at meeting

Members of the Maurice A. Hess Chapter of the Student National Education Association may choose one of three buzz groups at the October meeting.

All members will meet in 212 Mohler at 7 p.m. Nov. 8. The three topics to be covered will be explained and members will be directed to the meeting places.

Grading and testing, the role of the teacher in the community and contracts are the three topics.

Vernon Pauls, counselor at McPherson Junior High will direct the group that chooses grading and testing.

Consideration will be given to how much importance tests should have in final grades and what other methods of evaluation are effective.

Glenn Pyle, principal of Park Elementary school, will consider the role of the teacher in the community.

The teacher's public conduct and his participation in civic events are two areas many students do not regard as a part of the teaching profession. Pyle will discuss what the community expects of a teacher in these two areas.

Retirement benefits, salary scales and insurance will be discussed in the buzz group on contracts.

The reasons for and results from breaking contracts will be discussed as well as the "fine print" that should be read.

Stuco distributes '67-'68 edition of directory

Student - Faculty directories were distributed Wednesday, Oct. 25, by Student Council members. Class, college address and home address are given for every enrolled student.

A new addition to the directory lists addresses and phone numbers of faculty, administration and staff.

A cover designed by Robert Smith, instructor in art, is also a new feature.

Last year the directories were put out by the Registrar's Office, but this year they were compiled by the office of the Dean of Academic Affairs.

Information for the directories was obtained from the student IMB cards in the Registrar's Office.

It is possible that a supplement will be made for changes in enrollment second semester.

The directories are paid for by Student Council.

Students living off campus or anyone else who did not obtain a copy may ask for one in the Information Office.

Religion to be discussed by panel Nov. 8

Is religion relevant anymore?

A panel of faculty and students will question the relevancy of religion in Brown Auditorium Wednesday, Nov. 8, at 7:30 p.m.

Faculty members on the panel, which is sponsored by McPherson College YM-YWCA Project Concerns Committee, will include Dr. Harley Stump, professor of English; Thomas W. Deal, assistant professor of philosophy and religion; and Leland L. Lengel, assistant professor of history and political science.

Student moderator Stephen Rogers, soph, Brooklyn, Iowa, stated that the purpose of the panel discussion is "to help students take an objective look at religion and its place in our world today."

The Registrar's Office hopes to have the grades compiled by this time. Grades from professors were due Oct. 31. The time limit for picking up grades will be left to the discretion of the student's adviser.

The last day a student can drop a course is Saturday, Nov. 11, which is the end of the first 11 weeks of the semester.
