

Schedule may see changes

The McPherson College faculty will soon be discussing a proposal by the Educational Policies Committee of Associated Colleges of Central Kansas to change the McPherson daily class schedule. This recommendation has been submitted to all other ACCK school faculties also.

The Committee hopes that all six ACCK schools will have a common class schedule next year so that exchange of either students or faculty can be facilitated.

At present McPherson College has a three-unit pattern in its courses, and its schedule is set up to accommodate this. Three hour courses meet either three times a week for fifty-minute periods on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday or two times a week for seventy-five minute periods on Tuesday and Thursday.

Some ACCK schools presently operate on four-unit or five-unit patterns.

If the McPherson faculty would decide to adopt the recommended changes, all class periods, including Tuesday and Thursday classes, would be fifty minutes in length. Three hour MWF classes would continue as usual. Three hour TTH classes would meet each week for fifty minutes each on Tuesday and Thursday and for one fifty minute period on some designated afternoon.

This afternoon period would be called a "floating period."

Four-hour MWF courses would include one designated floating period a week. Four-hour TTH classes would meet for two periods straight on Tuesday and Thursday.

The aforementioned changes would involve all classes until 12:30 p.m. The 12:30-1:30 period would be the floating period for all classes. The 1:30, and 2:30 classes would not have floating periods; four-hour courses would meet for double periods on TTH or possibly for four days a week.

Snell to lead spring hikers

Fifteen to 20 students will leave McPherson for Arches National Monument in Moab, Utah for the spring hike with Dr. Galen Snell, dean of men, April 3.

The group will camp outside and do their own cooking. There will be some overnight trips when they will carry their own food and bedding.

For the most part, the hike will be unstructured, giving the students freedom to explore on their own.

Arches National Monument is a site where eighty different arches have been created in a sandstone area. This is surrounded by beautiful desert country above the Colorado River. Besides the arches, many ancient Indian rock-paintings have been found here.

This is McPherson's second annual spring hike. Next year a trip to the Grand Canyon is being planned.

An opportunity such as this trip provides a situation in which students become involved and come to know each other better.

English exam given May 3

The English Proficiency Exam will be given at 8 a.m. on Saturday, May 3.

Sophomores who have 50 hours credit may take the exam and then if they fail it they may retake the test on Sept. 2 before enrollment.

Transfer juniors will be able to take the test before enrollment. If they should fail it, the test will be given again before second semester. Transfer seniors and second semester juniors will have an opportunity to take the test in the fall and if they should fail it, a course in Basic English Communications must be taken that semester.

The reason for requiring the passing of the English proficiency exam is to help the student attain an acceptable level of English competency.

FS of ACCK elects officers, plans remainder of activities

Federated Students of the Associated Colleges of Central Kansas for the 1968-1969 year held a meeting March 15 at Tabor. Esther Bower, soph, Dover, Pa., and Hal Hayes, sr, Kings, Ill., met with representatives from the other five colleges to elect officers and complete planning for the remaining activities for this year.

Bill Berg, junior Tabor College Student Body President, was unanimously elected 1968-70 FS of ACCK president, replacing Richard Friesen of Bethel.

Dean Samuelson of Bethany was elected to replace Dennis Black of Sterling College as treasurer. Elections for secretary will be held later in the year. Starlyn Gipson of Bethel served as 1968-69 secretary.

McPherson will host a computer dance on April 19. Each participant will fill out a questionnaire and be matched with members of the opposite sex from any of the six campuses.

A leadership conference will be held May 10 on the Bethel College campus. Old and new officers from the six colleges will discover new ideas and share techniques for efficient student government programming.

Action was taken on a suggested interterm course that would feed information to student body leaders and other interested students. Attempts will be made to organize a course around the topic "Student Involvement in Higher Education" for the 1970 interterm.

Looking several years into the future, FS of ACCK discussed the desirability of a full-time person hired by and responsible to the FS of ACCK. Such a per-

Vandellas cancel money refunded

Martha Reeves and the Vandellas and The Jerns Concert scheduled for Saturday, March 22, has been cancelled.

According to Bud Taylor, Jr., St. John, chairman of the big name group committee, the Vandellas are making a film with Tom Jones in London, England, and will not be able to return to the States for the concert.

Money for tickets is being returned this week.

The Jerns, who were to appear in the Martha and the Vandellas Concert, will play for a dance Saturday, March 22, from nine to 12 p.m.

The Jerns are a popular Kansas band featuring a female vocalist. Admission will be $1 per person.

Students file petitions for upcoming elections

The petitions of persons seeking positions in student government for the 1969-70 school year have been filed with the Student Council and will be voted on March 28 by the student body.

A president, vice-president, treasurer, secretary, eight representatives-at-large, two senior representatives, two junior representatives, and two sophomore representatives will be selected for the Student Council.

A chairman and five senior representatives, four junior representatives, and three sophomore representatives will be selected for the Student Court. The class representatives were scheduled to be nominated following Convocation this morning.

The candidates for the positions are:

Student Council President

Larry Banks, Michael Thompson

Student Court Chairman

Stephen Laprad, Mike Lovelless, David Smith

Student Council Vice-President

Glenn Davis, Thomas Keane, Bud Taylor

Student Council Treasurer

Dave Gentry, Robert Smith

Student Council Secretary

Marsha Adkins, Kathy Rogers

Representatives-At-Large

Senior Representatives

Roma Ralston, Bud Reed

Junior Representatives

Joan Enns, Vincette Goerl,

Lowell Monke, Carolyn Runyan

Sophomore Representatives

Gwen Brubaker, Esther Ebey, Jerry Schrock, Debby Strahm, Jean Winegarden.

College shares in $5,000 gift

McPherson College will share a $5,000 gift to the Kansas Foundation for Private Colleges, Inc., presented March 6 by the International Harvester Foundation.

This marks the 14th consecutive year the foundation's colleges have benefited from International Harvester Company gifts.

The donation is an unrestricted fund made to serve the best interests of the private colleges, said J. W. Garner, Kansas City, district manager of the company.

Students participate in unusual program

Several McPherson students will be participating in an unusual language program entitled, "Introduction to Speaking Housa," during the current semester. Participants include Maurice Bosserman, Judy Lunkey, Jo Ellen Morlan, Beth Snider, Kathy Green and Carlos Green.

Dr. Jan van Asselt, associate professor of German and linguistics, contacted Dr. Kraft of UCLA about the possibilities of beginning an independent study of the language. As a result, texts and tapes of Housa are being sent to McPherson College from UCLA's Critical Language Program.

Each student enrolls in the course through McPherson College at the regular tuition rates.

He will receive two hours of credit for the semester's work.

The students will be expected to spend from six to nine hours a week working on the tapes in the Language Lab. Dr. Kraft is responsible for having had the tapes of Housa made, but the dialogues and conversations are done by native speakers. Dr. Kraft wrote the text they are using.

Students will work independently on the language; however, at intervals the students will get together to make tapes in Housa to send back to Dr. Kraft. He will then be able to assess their progress and make suggestions for improvement.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Green plan to spend the summer at UCLA in the Critical Language Program. Carlos will be studying more advanced Housa because of his present knowledge of the language. He spent his two years of Brethren Volunteer Service in Nigeria, and during that time learned to speak Housa.

Housa is the major language spoken in Western Africa. It is spoken by twenty-five million people, many of whom live in Nigeria. They use our alphabet in writing but there the similarities end. Housa is a tonal language and it has no verb tense. Tense is shown through the use of various pronouns.

Positions open on Spec, Quad

The Board of Publications is seeking applications for next year for the positions of campus editor of the Spectator, assistant editor of the Quad, and assistant business managers for both publications.

Interested students should apply to Charles Jones, Jr., Cannon, chairman of the Board of Publications, before March 21.

Housing open for summer

The Committee on Student Life has announced its decision on housing for summer school students.

Men who attend summer school will reside on second floor of Bittinger Hall and women will reside on first floor of Bittinger Hall.

No food service will be provided, but a canteen will be operated in Bittinger Hall and students may buy such food items as fruit, cereal and milk at cost.

If students work and go to school during the summer, they may live off campus if their housing is approved by either the dean of women or the dean of men.

If a student is under 21 years of age, he must have permission to live off campus from his parent or guardian.

Mac to host teachers

McPherson College will host the 43rd annual meeting of the Kansas History Teachers Association on March 21 and 22.

Raymond L. Flory, professor of history and political science, is president of the 1969 association.

There will be registration during the 7 p.m. hour after which the evening session in Brown Auditorium begins. The executive and nominating committee will meet after the session.

Saturday sessions will begin in Mohler Hall at 10 a.m. and continue to noon with the inclusion of reports from six speakers.

The business meeting will be held at the annual luncheon of the association at Starlite Restaurant. The concluding three topics will be presented after the 2 p.m. resumption in Mohler Hall.

KU actors to present Broadway musical

"Destry Rides Again," the Broadway musical offering of the University of Kansas Experimental Theater, will be presented at 8:15 p.m., Saturday, March 22, in Brown Auditorium.

The play's subject matter is the wild, wild West, in the musical tradition of "Oklahoma," "Calamity Jane," and "Annie Get Your Gun." It is the first musical to be put on tour of the state by the KU Theater.

The musical is being sponsored in McPherson by the McPherson County Alumni Association as part of its annual meeting. The net proceeds from the play will go to the scholarship fund established at KU for deserving students from McPherson County.

The play, a spoof of Western cliches, came from a story by Max Brand.

The KU alumni, KU students, and parents and friends will begin their "Fun Theater Party" at 5:30 p.m. at the McPherson Elks Club with dinner.

Tickets for "Destry" will be available in advance or at the door. Tickets are $2 for adults and $1 for students (college and below). The McPherson Chapter of Distributive Education, McPherson Center from the Central Kansas Area Vocation Technical School, will be in charge of advance ticket sales. Linda Eickbush is chapter president, and Fred Officer, sponsor.

Students hold opportunity

ATTENTION: Students who feel a need to improve McPherson College.

Those of you who feel that McPherson College is not perfect in all ways, has problems which need to be solved, programs which need to be altered, policies which need to be changed and an image which needs to be improved may do something about correcting the situation during the next week.

On March 28 students will elect their representatives to the student government of McPherson College for the coming school year.

Students who feel a need for improvement may do their part by investigating the candidates' platforms, experience, ability and willingness to work for improvement.

By campaigning and voting for the persons the students feel best represent them and would best bring about the improvements they feel are important, the students can bring about the following — a student government which would more nearly be a true representation of the student body of McPherson College.

New doctors are initiated

Sixteen faculty and administration members holding earned doctorate degrees met Friday, March 14, at the President's home for the initiation of three faculty members who have been conferred with doctorate degrees.

Dr. Galen Snell, assistant professor in psychology and dean of men, Dr. David Eiler, associate professor of philosophy and religion and Dr. Leland Lengel, associate professor of history and political science, gave summaries of the major findings of their doctoral research projects to the group.

Chapter goes to convention

Members of the McPherson College Home Economics Chapter will attend the Kansas Home Economics Association Spring Convention in Topeka April 11-12.

Sherry Walker, jr, Norton, will be installed as the 1969-70 state chairman. Miss Walker is presently the chairman of the campus chapter.

Lilli Ann Wivell, jr, Columbia, Penn. announces that student registration cost is $1.50. Miss Wivell is the 1968-69 state treasurer for the college KHEA.

Kansas Campuses

Tonight, tomorrow and Saturday night two off-Broadway one-act plays will be given at Fort Hays Kansas State College, Hays.

"The American Dream" by Edward Albee and "The Lover" by Harold Pinter will be presented at 8 p.m. each evening in Felten-Start Theater.

Moliere's "The Imaginary Invalid" is being presented in the University Theater at the University of Kansas, Lawrence, tonight through Saturday night at 8:20 p.m.

The comedy tells the story of a wealthy hypochondriac who wants his daughter to marry a doctor she doesn't love.

The Colby Community College began broadcasting on their own television channel this month through Colby Multi-View TV. Programming is from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The daily calendar of events, complemented by background music, will be broadcast continuously. Periodically specials featuring different areas of instruction and activities will be televised.

The College of Emporia Chorale has been asked by composer Frank Salisbury of Tucson, Ariz., to present the world premiere of his setting of "The Beatitude" for stage band and choir.

The work will be first presented in March, 1970, and will be recorded, televised and covered by leading newspapers and musical journals.

Professors are to turn mid-term grades in to the registrar's office by April 1.

Students may receive their grades from their faculty advisor after spring break.

Art," a three week summer workshop, is being offered June 10-30 at Marymount College, Salina.

The course is for three hours credit or may be taken for non-credit. Enrollment is limited to 125.

The workshop will apply techniques of composition to the criticism and analysis of motion pictures by American and foreign film makers.

"Molly Brown" will be shown

"The Unsinkable Molly Brown" will be shown in Brown Auditorium Sunday, March 23, at 2 p.m.

"The Unsinkable Molly Brown" is a massive song-and-dance derived from Meredith Wilson's Broadway musical of 1960. Defying the laws of levity, it follows an ebullient, moneygrubbing Irish lass who marries a miner and gets rich so she can sashay in Denver's high society.

When the bluebloods snub her, she flounces off to Europe to bring home some dukes and duchesses, finally earns her place among the snobs and saves her marriage — for reasons clear only to musical comedy authors — by surviving the Titanic disaster.

Cartoons will also be shown with this feature.

Class to attend play on Whitman

"A Whitman Portrait," written and directed by Paul Shyre, will be presented by a New York company at Marymount College, Salina, on Sunday, March 23 at 8:30 p.m.

The creative writing class is planning to attend. Those desiring more information should contact Sarah May Brunk, associate professor of English and journalism.

Fite relates social change

Gilbert C. Fite, George Lynn Cross Research Professor at the University of Oklahoma, was the scheduled Convocation speaker this morning.

Fite on campus for the Kansas History's Teacher's Association's annual meeting. He will speak at their evening session tomorrow night.

Fite received his A.B. and A.M. in 1941 from South Dakota and his Ph.D. from Missouri in 1945. He has studied farm movements, farm leaders and general recent agricultural history.

His topic this morning was "Social Change and the American Dream."

We get letters

Fox sends greetings from Bolivia, gives aspects of Peace Corps

Dear Editor:

I am directing this as a letter of greeting to my many friends among the students, faculty and administration of McPherson College. More specifically, I am addressing myself to you senior students in particular and others who may be undecided about your immediate future.

As most of you know, I am now serving a two-year (God and the draft willing) mission in the Peace Corps in Bolivia. I would then like to comment on Peace Corps as an alternative for your immediate future.

It would first be said that I am working in a university helping teach physics and also playing first trombone in the national symphony in the capital city of Bolivia, a city of some 600,000 people.

My comments on Peace Corps will, of course, be slightly different from those of a volunteer working on the altiplano in an Indian culture shearing sheep and planting potatoes and living in an adobe house.

Why choose Peace Corps? The draft? Yes, one good reason to think of it, but certainly not justifiable on those grounds alone. For science and math majors the opportunities for advancement in your field are dependent only upon you personally.

After two years of Peace Corps teaching experience, your preparedness for graduate school is infinitely better. Peace Corps is phasing out university programs however, so the probability is that you will be working with campesinos in a rather isolated area.

What, then, are the positive aspects of Peace Corps service? First, it is a chance to get away from a rather soft and luxurious life in the United States and live the way much of the rest of the world lives.

You may be shocked. You get the opportunity to see the United States from an outsider's point of view and become much more aware of her faults and good points. I think it gives you a much more balanced sense of the U.S. and her relation to the rest of the world.

You will get to know a different culture and language that will put your own in a much different perspective. People in other parts of the world think and feel in a manner that may seem strange and at times very frustrating but one thing this world certainly needs is a better sense and understanding of the thought processes of other cultures.

Another advantage of Peace Corps is the great opportunity for travel. During two years of Peace Corps service you get 48 days of vacation with extra pay, which permits you to travel in your host country and others.

Also many volunteers do extensive traveling after they terminate.

You, hopefully, will also make many close friends that you will keep for the rest of your life. Incidentally, in addition to what you learn from other people, they also learn a great deal about Americans from you. It will really thrill you the first time one of your friends says, "Gee, are other Americans like you?"

You can do the American image a lot of good, and it certainly needs it.

Certainly not the least and perhaps the most that you will gain from Peace Corps service is learning about yourself, learning to know you. You will soon discover any serious hang-ups that you have and learn to deal with them. You will find your weaknesses and strengths and find out how personally motivated you are without that familiar shove from behind by parents, teachers, and friends.

Most of what you will or will not accomplish will rest squarely on your shoulders. You will also discover how much of a culturally-trained creature you are and may change ideas and morals when you examine them in the perspective of another culture.

I have been writing about how the Peace Corps will benefit you as a person, but I suspect that few people who have entered Peace Corps with only this in mind have stayed long. You must have an idealism tempered with pragmatism, a desire to help people and to do things.

You may not know what your "thing" is now but Peace Corps gives you the chance to find out and do it. You may find you cannot move the world but you might move your corner of it.

And isn't that, after all, what life is all about? There are people who do need your help and you may make the lives of a few people better for your having touched them. At least you must have the desire to try before you seriously consider Peace Corps.

Before closing, I must say that Peace Corps can be a bad experience. Some people find that the U.S. is just too comfortable and they don't want to leave it, the result being Peace Corps dropouts. Or they may find that they cannot take the isolation that many volunteers face.

There are Peace Corps volunteers who have left their countries escorted by doctors after having had nervous breakdowns. These are extreme cases, of course, but it can happen.

You may find that Peace Corps is not what it is cracked up to be; if not, change it. If Peace Corps is to remain a viable organization, it must be amenable to change from within.

If some of you are interested in Peace Corps service, I would strongly urge you to apply. Dr. Leland Lengel has application forms, I believe, and if not, the post office should. Time is short, however, if you are thinking of a training program for this summer.

In closing, let me say, that I would appreciate letters from any of you and I promise to answer them.

My address is: Cuerpo de Paz, Casilla 670, La Paz, Bolivia, South America.

Hughes eats 18 pancakes

Steve Hughes, fr., Tonganoxie, is full of pancakes. Steve won the pancake-eating contest Friday evening, March 7, by eating eighteen pancakes. First prize was $5 and steak dinners for all the men on his floor in first floor Bittering.

Hughes went on to the contest in Hutchinson and tied for second place with the contestant from Ottawa by eating nineteen pancakes. From this contest he won $15. Ron Patton, food manager at McPherson, stated that the pancake-eating contest will be an annual event.

Monday evening, March 17, an Irish Buffet was served in the cafeteria. "Dave Grove and his Irish Grovers" provided the entertainment for the evening.

Coming events sponsored by McPherson College Dining Service are a kite-flying contest, a wild-west cookout, and a special dinner on Palm Sunday.

An Easter sunrise service is being planned by MCY for Sunday, March 30. Merrin Godfrey, soph., York, Penn., is in charge of the program. The time and place will be announced later.

On Monday the MCY met at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Galen Snell to view movies of the Olympic Games presented by Dr. Doris Coppock, professor of physical education.

A weekend camp is being planned for sometime this spring. Also, a work project, to be determined by a committee headed by Pat Hayes, sr., Geneseo, will be scheduled.

Graduate school accepts Ketcham

Judy Ketcham, sr, Glendale, Ariz. has been accepted for graduate study at Arizona State University, Tempe, Ariz. At present she has provisional status in the Graduate School of English at the university.

Miss Ketcham will graduate from the College this spring with a Bachelor of Arts degree in English. She plans to enter into the master's program in the fall of 1969.

Judy is considering going on and obtaining her doctorate in English. She then plans to teach at the college level.

Athletes win contest, prepare for more victories

Baseball

Nineteen men, including six lettermen, comprise McPherson's baseball team this spring. The season opens on March 29 with a double header here against Bethany.

The returning lettermen are Jerry Grant, Bob Knechtel and Wait Pankewich, sophomores; Jim Stauffer, junior; and Stanley Borowski and Joe Lacovara, seniors.

Freshmen on the team are Jerry Flabane, Ken Fuls, Gareth Harshman, Chuck Kelsinger, David O'Dell, Arn Olson, Jerry Polk and Jack Signor.

Coach Dwight McSpadden said that this year the team as a whole has better athletes. However, only one experienced pitcher is returning.

It is hard to predict at this point how McPherson will do in the conference. "We'll have to wait and see how the pitchers work out," McSpadden stated.

Coach McSpadden is pleased with the attitude and desire expressed by the players. "They approach the game in a positive manner and with this attitude will make a positive contribution to the team."

Last year College of Emporia, Kansas—Wesleyan University and Friends University led the conference. "This year we'll try to be right up in the middle of it," McSpadden concluded.

The schedule is: Saturday, March 29 — Bethany, here, 1:30 p.m., (doubleheader), KCAC

Tuesday, April 1 — Dana College, here, 1:30 p.m., (doubleheader), non-KCAC

Saturday, April 5 — Friends, there, 1 p.m., (doubleheader), KCAC

Tuesday, April 15 — Ottawa, here, 5:30 p.m., (doubleheader), KCAC

Saturday, April 19 — Kansas Wesleyan, there, 5:30 p.m., (doubleheader), KCAC

Tuesday, April 22 — Kansas Wesleyan, here, 6 p.m., (doubleheader), non-KCAC

Saturday, April 26 — College of Emporia, here, 1:30 p.m., (doubleheader), KCAC

Wednesday, April 30 — Bethany, there, 7 p.m., (single game), non-KCAC

Saturday, May 3 — Sterling, here, 1:30, (doubleheader), KCAC

Friday, May 9 — Baker, there, 1 p.m., (doubleheader), KCAC

Students spend weekend skiing

A group of 42 persons left McPherson College campus by chartered bus at 9 p.m. on Friday, March 7, to travel to Winter Park, Colorado, for a weekend of skiing.

The ski trip was sponsored through the Associated Colleges of Central Kansas, with Bethany College, Sterling College, Kansas Wesleyan University, Tabor College, and McPherson College represented.

Track

The McPherson College track team won 10 first places last Saturday, March 15 to win their first meet of the season.

The score of the three team meet was McPherson 106, Kansas Wesleyan University 75, and Bethany College 11.

McPherson excelled with a sweep of the high jump and a 1-2-3 finish in the 120 yard high hurdles and the 440 yard intermediate hurdles.

Mike Butsch broke the school record in the pole vault with a vault of 14'5 1/2".

High point men for McPherson were Bud Taylor with 16 1/2, Dean Holloway with 14 1/2, and Dave Smith with 14.

Times of the meet were not up to par because of a very soft track.

The placings of the meet was:

Pole vault—1. Mike Butsch, MC; 2. Dean Holloway, MC; 3. Bieber, KWU. Height 14-5 1/2, new school record, old record by Butsch at 14-4.

High jump—1. John Smith, MC; 2. Carl Cook, MC; 3. Bill Chenoweth, MC; 4. Dean Holloway, MC. Height 5'11 feet.
