

Adhoc governance committee to plan community council

The first meeting of the new committee on student governance was held Monday, Dec. 7. Students met with the consultant at this time. The committee will be working to try to prepare the new form of governance to be operational by spring term.

The consultant has outlined some possibilities for the committee to consider in planning this new form of community government. It will consist of faculty, administration, and students on an equal voting basis. The ratio of students to faculty-administration is to be kept equal.

Members of all campus committees would supposedly have members on this council. The council — possibly named the McPherson College Community Council — would be a policy making body.

This type of council would hopefully allow all members of the college community to communicate on a more equal basis than do separate bodies like Administrative Committee, Student Court, and Student Council. The council would be responsible to the president of the college, who in turn is responsible to the Board.

Within the next month, committee members hope to plan the organization of such a council. The model of the consultant need not necessarily be followed, the committee is free to offer any suggestions that might facilitate campus government.

Students asked to participate on the committee are as follows: Alan Berndt, Al Pitts, Bittinger Hall; Terri Albini, Sandra Blough, Karen Woody, Dotzour Hall; Stewart Hoover, Jerry Schrock, Fahnestock Hall; Rita DeCoursey, Colleen Paige, Kline Hall; Royce Kurtz, Phil Stover, Metzler; Linda Harris, Marcia Sellberg, Susan Taylor, Off-campus.

The committee's second meeting is set for Dec. 12, 7 p.m., room 235.

Faculty and administration members will be asked to serve on this planning committee also.

Highlights of Holiday scene

Saturday, Dec. 12, is the date for this year's winter formal. Students will enjoy a steak dinner Saturday evening before the dance. They must sign up in the Student Union for the time they wish to eat.

The meal will be served continually from 6 p.m. till 6:45 p.m. and then again from 7:30 p.m. till 8 p.m. The dinner is free for those on food service and costs $2.35 for others.

Students who normally work on food service will serve this dinner and faculty women will serve punch while students are waiting to be seated. A brass ensemble, composed of Stewart Hoover, Bruce Kitzel, Eldred Kingery, Dennis Stackhouse, Ward Nippert, John Hoover, Larry Kitzel, and Stan Clark will provide dinner entertainment.

Headed by Jacqueline Troutman, the social committee is preparing decorations to carry out the theme, "All Through the House." Barb Skaggs is co-heading this committee.

The formal dance, from 9 p.m. till 12 p.m., will feature The Jades. Admission is $2.50 per couple.

Capitalism Not at Fault: Attitudes Must Change

What is responsible for all the problems the U.S. faces today? Is our economic system, capitalism, to blame? Would we have fewer social problems, more justice, and less pollution if we changed to socialism? Last week Dr. Leftwich, chairman of the economics department at Oklahoma State, gave a negative answer to these questions.

Speaking at Bethany College to economics students from McPherson and Bethany (the sponsors of the lecture), Leftwich argued that the social, environmental, and economic problems we have today are not the fault of the free enterprise system, since societies with different systems have the same problems. Rather, the cause and the solutions lie in the people's values and attitudes, which Leftwich believes to be independent of the economic system.

If the American people wanted to do it, they could eliminate the worst of the poverty problem by instituting a negative income tax program. This might actually cost less than a third as much as our present social security and welfare programs.

If the people valued a clean environment, it would not be so difficult to cut down on pollution. And if the government were concerned about the economy as a whole rather than the interests of high-pressure groups, it could use its fiscal and monetary powers to lessen our economic problems of instability and slow growth.

The U.S. economic system is good, says Leftwich. It's the most efficient and highly productive system in the world. Where the problems come from is the operating of the public sector, that is, the government.

Now, in a democracy, the voters determine what kind of officials will have the responsibility of sharing government goals and policies. So the problems that result ultimately stem from the voters' attitudes and wishes.

Getting rid of capitalism and adopting socialism would mean that the government would have several times as much power and responsibility as now, but with the same people running it and with the same wisdom, or lack of it.

This is because, Leftwich believes, the people's attitudes would not be changed by changing the economic system, so that they would elect the same kind of officials under democratic socialism as they do now.

The answer to our problems, then, is in changing the values of the people through such things as education.

Reach Out and Touch

Has a new song hit the Top Ten? No — it's the title for the Regional Youth Conference of the Church of the Brethren, to be held on March 12, 13, and 14.

High school students (grades 10, 11, 12) from ten states are invited to participate in the activities to be held here on the MAC campus. The main goal of this meeting is to further the students' personal expression in love and concern for others.

High points of the conference include: general assemblies and buzz groups, dances, folksinging, a banquet, and a Communion service.

Special guests will include Bentley Peters of Elgin, Illinois — Celebration Team Student Activities; Sydney Adams of Denver, Colorado — gospel and spiritual singer; Harold Bombardier — pastor of McPherson Church of the Brethren; and hopefully Tom Page of "Dust and Ashes" and Glenn Cunningham — the Cunningham mile.

The ten states that will be represented at the conference include North Dakota, Iowa, Minnesota, Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Texas, Colorado, Louisiana, and Arkansas.

The students will be staying in the dormitories on campus and will be eating in the cafeteria.

And it came to pass that . . . More, better communications suggested by off-campus coed

And it came to pass that early in the morning of the last day of the semester there arose a multitude smiting their books and wailing. And there was much weeping and gnashing of teeth for the day of judgment was at hand and they were sore afraid. For they had left undone those things that they ought to have done and had done things which they ought not to have done. And there was no help for it.

And there were many abiding in the dorms who had kept watch over their books all night, but it naught avail us. And some there were who arose smiling for they had prepared for themselves the way, and made straight the path of knowledge.

And these wise ones were known to some as the burners of midnight oil. But by others they were called the curve-lousers. And the multitude arose and ate a hearty breakfast.

And they came unto their appointed place, and their hearts were heavy within them. And they came to pass, but some passed not, but only passed out. And some of them repented of their riotous living, and bemoaned their fate, but they had not a prayer.

And at the last hour, there came among them one known as the instructor, he of the diabolical smile, and passed papers among them and went his way.

And many and varied were the questions asked by the instructor, but still more varied were the answers which were given, for some of his teachings had fallen fallow among the fellows, while still others had fallen flat. And some there were who wrote for an hour, others wrote for two, and some turned away sorrowful.

And when they had finished, they gathered up their belongings and went away quietly, each in his own direction. And each one vowing to himself in his manner, I shall not pass this way again. But it is a long road that has no turning. Daily Tar Heel, North Carolina University school paper

After having lived in the dorm for two years, this term I regretfully find as an off-campus student that I'm out-of touch with what's happening in the college community.

I have discussed this with others living off-campus, and many feel as I do. Especially the McPherson city students who live at home find it hard to feel a part of the college community.

While living in the dorm, I was continually confronted with non-academic areas that added greatly to my total college experience. Dorm life, student government, rap sessions, social activities — all these enabled me to learn more about others and myself.

Yet the typical commuter barely knows what's going on in terms of activities and events, to say nothing of ideas, concerns, and attitudes.

I feel that both the off-campus student and the college community would benefit from a better relationship, and therefore make the two following suggestions which would, I believe, be steps in the right direction.

First, all off-campus students should have mail boxes on campus. In addition to the usual college correspondence presently mailed to them, they could receive all kinds of campus mail that now only dorm residents get. Also, if the boxes were located in the Student Union, commuters would use this building a great deal more, and hence come into contact with more announcements and, more importantly, other students.

A second suggestion is having an off-campus representative to Student Council. He would be elected by off-campus students only, and it would be his responsibility to communicate the needs and feelings of both groups to each other.

Our college community is now failing to gain the interests and talents of many off-campus students, and likewise these students are not profiting fully from their college experience.

I believe these suggestions could improve the present situation.

Food crusade gives help: CARE this Christmas

A medical study in Lahore, Pakistan, shows that 9 of 10 babies who reach their first birthday have already started a lifetime of undernourishment, the Associated Press reported recently.

Other studies have shown that malnutrition afflicts half the children in underdeveloped countries, and may cause permanent mental and physical damage in the young.

These poignant facts underscore the holiday-season CARE Food Crusade appeal, which asks Americans to help the world's hungry children grow into healthy, educated, self-supporting adults.

Under Care's plan, during the coming year some 23.4 million infants, young children and school children will be fed regularly at institutions — including schools and nutrition centers CARE helped build, and hospitals where CARE - MEDICO teams are working. They form the vast majority of a total 25 million people CARE will help feed in 35 countries, from Latin America to Africa and Asia.

To complete the plan, funds were needed to deliver 6,700,000 food packages, at $1 per package. U. S. donations of farm foods and operating support contributed by host governments will multiply our gift dollars.

For example every dollar can help feed a child for three months; $10 serves a full lunch to 900 children. Somewhere, the young will thrive and have a brighter future if you mail a check to: CARE Food Crusade, Traders National Bank Building, Kansas City, Mo. 64106.

On-the-job veteran's training

The past year saw an 18 per cent hike in the number of Kansas veterans taking on-the-job training under the G. I. Bill.

George B. Lappin, Director of the Wichita VA Center, said there were 345 veterans engaged in such programs in the State as of Oct. 31 compared with 291 at the same time last year.

Nationally, there were 83,725 veterans enrolled in the job training at the end of October.

Occupations being trained for include technical, managerial, firemen, policemen, electrical worker, carpenter, plumber, steamfitter and brick and stone mason.

The Santa Fe Railway Company of Topeka has the largest number of G. I. Bill on-the-job trainees in the State with 31.

Veterans engaged in on-the-job training receive monthly allowances from the VA to supplement regular wages while learning a trade or other skill. The allowances decrease each six months.

VA requires that the employer's beginning salary to the veteran must be at least one-half of the salary paid on completion of training. The beginning wages must be increased on a regular schedule until the veteran is receiving 8 per cent of the full wage in the last full months of his training period.

Would you like to try out for a part in this classic?

Mark Twain's immortal classic The Adventures of Tom Sawyer will come to life on the McPherson College stage during the final week of interterm. The play, done with music, is an adoption from Twain's work, written for the stage by Sara Spencer.

The play calls for two women, six men, and twelve children actors. The children should be approximately ages 9-13; adult actors will not be limited to students; faculty and administration are also invited to try out.

In addition, a pianist will be needed for both rehearsals and performances. Also crews involved with costumes, make-up, set construction, publicity and lighting will be needed.

Selection, direction, and set design will be done by us in connection with our independent study in Children's Theatre Workshop. Anyone interested should contact us as soon as possible.

Library hour increase meets student demand

The Library Committee of McPherson College, meeting last week to consider student concerns expressed in the petitions regarding hours at Miller Library, attempted to respond to the spirit of student requests insofar as limited budget and other necessities would permit.

Because students did clearly feel a need for more opportunities to use the library on Sundays, beginning at the start of the Spring Term it will open at 2 p.m. Sunday afternoon, remaining open until 10 p.m.

To try to cut costs as much as possible and still provide essential services, regular weekday opening hours will be changed from 7:30 a.m. to 8 a.m. Monday through Friday.

As a special convenience to students the library will also be open from 2 p.m. to 10 p.m. next Sunday, Dec. 13, just prior to the beginning of the week of final examination.

We hope that students will find the new schedule convenient and useful.

Bulldogs bolt away, Redskins sneak by Six special awards given football players

The Bulldogs bolted away to a six point lead early in the first half, but found the tables reversed when the second half got under way. The tall Oklahoma team put in 45 second half points and spoiled the Bulldogs basketball opener.

Early in the game, the 'Dogs could do no wrong. They stopped Bethany's tip-off fast break and then jumped ahead to an 8-2 lead on Lowell Monke's field goal and three fast breaks.

After a hurried time out, Bethany started to move. Freshman center Jeff Jantz made good use of his two inch height advantage and counted for 12 points in the first half. Dennis Cotton had his hands full and had two fouls by the ten minute mark.

The Bulldogs put together a strong, balanced scoring attack throughout the game. John Pyle came off the bench and was good for nine points to lead the first half scoring for the Bulldogs.

Dennis Cotton, Jerry Grant, Lowell Monke, and Dick Thompson rang up four points each during the first period. The halftime score was Bethany Nazarine 35, McPherson 33.

The second half was over almost as soon as it started. Bethany put in seven points before the 'Dogs could get down two. The Redskin's Jeff Jantz seemed to always have the ball underneath the basket.

Once the Bulldogs closed the gap to seven, but Jantz, aided by Junior guard Mike Clinton's outside shooting, pulled away to a 12 point lead with about 8 minutes to go.

Seniors Jerry Grant and Dick Thompson added 20 of the Bulldog's 34 second half points. Dennis Cotton got around Jantz seven more to his total.

Even the full-court press wouldn't work. Coach Widrig put it on the 'Skins with less than four minutes to go, but Bethany finished the game with an 11 point lead. The final score was Bethany Nazarine 80, Mac 69.

Football awards for this year's Battling Bulldogs were released last Thursday. Thirty players received letters for their 1970 gridiron play. Over in passes to average 94.5 yards per game. He also had the team's longest run of the season: 89 yard touchdown run against Tabor.

Co-captain Dick Stalcup won the award for being the Bulldog's most inspirational player. The 5'8" senior was a big defensive stalwart for the club.

In the line, tight-end Steve Smith was voted Most Improved Lineman. Steve pulled down 44 passes for a total of 462 yards. The 6'2" sophomore scored three touchdowns and averaged 51-3 yards per game.

Five foot-seven inch Dale Burkholder grabbed the Most Improved Back Award. Dale had a 4 yard rushing average (per carry). Short as he is, Burkholder also caught 14 passes for a 19.1 per game average.

Freshman Joe Greenhalgh was pronounced the Dogs' official Head Hunter. His 5'8" frame was no handicap as Joe intercepted three passes and came up with one fumble recovery during the season.

Also released along with the awards was a recap of the Bulldogs best moments. Ed Rogers teamed with Hector Morales for the longest pass play of the season. Ed threw the 59 yard play against the tough Baker defense.

Don Craft was credited for his long kickoff return at the Colorado. Don pulled down the kickoff and then ran the ball back 94 yards and six points for the Bulldogs.

Senior co-captain, end, and place kicker Steve Layton boot-ed the Bulldogs' longest field goal. He kicked the 26-yard three pointer against Sterling. Steve kicked one other field goal plus twelve extra points for a total of 18 points.

The Sterling game also brought another long kick. Mike Butsch boosted his average with a 54 yard punt. Mike, a junior, finished the season with a 28.7 yard average.

Hooker's previously mentioned 89 yard run was this season's best rushing play. Mike's big run came in the fourth quarter of the Bulldogs' win against Tabor.

The Dogs will lose only two men through graduation this year. If the underclassmen stay, and the Bulldogs can get some good breaks, next year stands to be a good one for Coach Knuckles and his team.

These five were chosen by a vote of the entire squad to receive the special football awards of the 1970 season. They are Steve Smith, Most Improved Lineman who led the KCAAC conference in number of pass receptions; Dale Burkholder, Most Improved Back; Mike Hooker, Most Valuable Player; Dick Stalcup, Most Inspirational Player and co-captain; and Joe Greenhalgh, Head Hunter.

Steve Layton was one of the six football players given a special award. He received recognition for leadership as a co-captain of the Battling Bulldogs who out of 12 teams finished third in pass offense, fifth in pass defense and fifth in total offense.

half of the letters were given to freshmen and sophomore players.

Six special awards were handed out. Co-captains Steve Layton and Dick Stalcup received awards for their captaincy of the Bulldog squad. Both graduate this spring.

Junior halfback Mike Hooker gets this year's Most Valuable Player Award. Mike rushed for 707 yards and caught 145 yards

Wizard of Oz entertains Children, impresses adults

by Ellen Gill

Seeing a play like THE WIZARD OF OZ from a child's point of view was part of the fun of seeing it performed Saturday, Dec. 5. Some of the children involved were from the Hutchinson-Salina welfare offices and orphanages. Others were from the McPherson area.

These "special" people were sponsored by McPherson College students. (I have heard from one of the people involved that one student had volunteered for a whole family — of seven!) This treat was co-ordinated by Mrs. Ann Price, director of Student Activities.

The performance, directed by Charles Fischer, professor of English and theater, starred Mary Ann Brown, as Dorothy; Rick Tyler, as the scarecrow; Steve Beaver as the Tin Man; and Mark Snider as the Cowardly Lion. These people had a hard time playing up to Mark Snider's hilarious take off of Bert Lahr's famous role.

The other characters are as follows: Cathy Kahler as the Munchkin Mayor; Brenda Welch, Ardeth Wine, Colleen Appel, Steve Brooks, and Sue Cook, Munchkin people; Pam Smith, the Good Sorceress of the North; Linda Head, Oz lady; Donna Yorkston; Gloria; Tom Tucker, Tibia, a Private, and accompanist; Jim Iori, Wizard's manservant and Joe, the hired hand; Iris Jackson, Aunt Em; Gene Lightner, Uncle Henry; Ken Smith, Wizard; and Bev Byer and Angel Wall, Wicked Witch of the West.

Behind scenes, lighting and sets magnificent! were manipulated by the cast and Jerri Wall, Joy Hutchins, Anita Redmon, Frank McKinney and Paul Scofield. Those who did the visual effects are to be commended for a great job. Costumes were under the supervision of Mrs. Christina Fischer.

The Frank Baum story line is well known. In this case, it was updated with satiric lines showing the basic troubles of today. Even the young children hadn't any problem identifying with the well known characters.

Mary Ann Brown, as Dorothy was truly convincing. (Any resemblance to a flower child is purely coincidental.) Rick Tyler acted like another Ray Bolger and Steve Beaver had some truly great lines about happiness.

The children loved all the characters especially when they were able to speak to the actors at a special party given for them. Hot chocolate and candy canes were gifts from the sponsors and actors. The children sang, danced and pulled the Lion's tail having plenty of fun. Many who were there wished that the day would not end.

Tuttle family dorm: Proposal's beginning

Through the thought and concentration of a few people the following plans are being proposed to Student Council, Metzler Hall, Dean of Students and Men and Women, Student Life, President Melhorn, and the Board of Trustees.

The proposal is entitled Metzler (or Tuttle) Family Dorm. The purpose is to better acquaint students on McPherson campus with each other and themselves.

We feel that all people on campus could benefit from the few living in the dorm.

Indicated by many studies done on co-ed dorm living, brother sister patterns or relationships developed between the students involved and it could possibly develop between

Adjustments change staff

Due to budgetary deficit and a high teacher-student ratio several faculty members will not be teaching at McPherson College next year. These teachers had originally been hired with a plan for an increasing student body.

No departments, however, will be dropped and all students will be able to complete their major fields. Faculty would again be increased with an increase in the student body.

friends visiting. The end result hoped for would be a freer method of communication between students.

The rules and-or regulations were specifically defined at student Council Wed. Dec. 9. There will be restrictions subject to change by a majority of the students living under the system, but they are not yet clear as of Dec. 7.

The living arrangement will take place in Metzler Hall involving the movement of 45-50 girls from Dotzour Hall to Metzler. The girls will live on one floor of Metzler and the guys on the other two floors.

This program is set-up for the second semester of the 1970-1971 academic school year only.

There may be other systems set-up later for similar dorm arrangements during the academic year of 1971-1972.

Mr. and Mrs. Tuttle are basically in charge of interviewing female students who wish to move into Metzler Hall second semester.
