

Elections are tomorrow, vote in Student Union

This is Speak Week, and students at McPherson College have had opportunities to voice their opinions on student government.

Tomorrow is election day for Student Council, when students will have the opportunity to finalize their decision as they choose their leaders for next year.

On Tuesday evening a panel discussed "What Value in Student Government?" Dr. Raymond Flory, dean of students, Dr. Galen Snell, dean of men, Dr. Leland Lengel, associate professor of history and political science, and Mary Ann Robinson, dean of women, as well as Student Council members and candidates participated.

The presidential candidates presented their platforms and answered questions in the Student Union on Wednesday night.

This morning the candidates for president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer and student court judge spoke in convocations.

Faculty to present play in Convocations

IN CONVO — Mrs. Una Yoder and Dr. Wesley DeCoursey rehearse lines from a scene in "The Bald Soprano."

'Collage' prints literary works

"Collage" is the name of the literary magazine to be published in May. This effort at compiling materials from student contributors is hoped to result in an annual publication.

Included will be poetry, short stories, and other pertinent reading. To finance the publication a Saturday sale of submarine sandwiches will tentatively be held in the middle of April. More details will be available later.

"The Bald Soprano" by Eugene Ionesco, produced and directed by Peggy Slater, sr., Denver, will be presented during Convocations, April 3.

"The Bald Soprano" is a one-act play in the tradition of the theater of the absurd.

Miss Slater has chosen to cast her play with faculty members. Faculty members involved are Mrs. Una Yoder, assistant professor in English, speech, and theater; Mrs. Anne Shalaby, wife of Professor Farouk M. Shalaby;

Dr. Wesley DeCoursey, professor of chemistry; James Weaver, assistant in the library; Guy Hayes, director of financial aids; Jean McLane, assistant professor of German; and Ed Mohler, director of publicity and promotion.

The play involves what is not said by two married couples who are visiting each other. These people are not apathetic, but instead involved to the point that they do not know what they are involved in.

In the play, each character loses his identity and they are all stereotypes of each other. The play ends where it begins, only the characters are interchanged.

"The Bald Soprano" is a parody on human communications and this is the main reason Miss Slater chose this play to produce. It is a take-off on tradition. People function, but they do not know why. It is funny, absurd, and has a lot of meaning.

Miss Slater explained, "What it is saying is that there is nothing to say. It is an exaggeration of an exaggeration."

Bethany plans Messiah Festival Week March 30-April 6 with guest soloists

By Pat Hayes

Bethany College's 68 year old Messiah Festival Week will be March 30 through April 6.

Handel's "The Messiah" has been sung annually by the Bethany College Oratorio since 1882. The 228th and 229th performances will be given in Presser Hall on Palm Sunday and Easter Sunday with guest soloists.

Nadja Witkowska, a soprano from New York City, is returning for her second appearance in the Messiah Festival. Miss Witkowska is a frequent performer with many of this country's finest opera companies and has starred in musical comedy.

She is known in New York for her roles in "Marriage of Figaro," "Barber of Seville," "Merry Widow," and "Gitoletto."

Jan Kraft, a mezzo-soprano from New York City, is also making her second appearance in the Messiah Festival. Miss Kraft has explored many facets of the music profession. She has appeared in Grand Opera on numerous occasions. Her superb vocal mastery and acting ability have won her high acclaim.

Thomas Palmer, also from New York City, is returning for his second appearance as baritone soloist. Palmer has performed with some of America's finest operatic and symphonic organizations.

In November 1967 he made his European debut at the Geneva Opera in a new production of "La Boheme." In the summer of 1968 he appeared at the Aix-en-Provence Festival as the Count in "Marriage of Figaro."

Tenor soloist, Robert White, New York City, is performing for the first time at Bethany. In his three year association with the New York Pro Musica, White appeared in 175 concerts in the United States and Europe and recorded six albums.

He recently distinguished himself as soloist in the world premiere of Milton Babbitt's "Composition for Tenor and Six Instruments."

Also featured in the Holy Week activities is the 44th presentation of J. S. Bach's "Passion According to St. Matthew," on Good Friday.

Robert Mesrobian will sing one of the bass roles in this performance. Mesrobian is a visiting lecturer in fine arts for the Associated Colleges of Central Kansas. He has been opera director at Wichita State University and assistant conductor of the Wichita Symphony Orchestra. Also, he has taught at UCLA and has appeared in many opera and summer stock companies.

The Bethany College Choir will also be featured in Bach's "Passion According to St. Matthew." They will perform several of the famed chorales.

Conducting these performances for his eighth year is Elmer Coply, Oratorio Society Leader. Coply is associate professor of voice at Bethany and director of the Bethany College Choir.

Tickets for the Messiah Festival may be obtained by writing the Messiah Festival Manager, Bethany College, Lindsborg, Kansas.

Stuco hopefuls offer platforms

Banks Platform

ACCK

1. To cooperate with other student councils in the ACCK and to solve like problems by sharing ideas and solutions.

2. The possibility of developing more ACCK activities (if the "big name group" were shared with another college, there would be more money, less competition, and a bigger name group.)

STUDENT COURT

1. I support the proposal that would take the dean of men, women, and students off the list of prospective Court faculty representatives; taking the vote away from the faculty representative; and, having the Court chairman vote only in case of a tie. Student Court should be a student court.

2. I should like to reiterate the Student Court as an interpretative body of the Constitution.

3. Student Court should look into freshman initiation to see if some new ideas could be brought about to make it more worthwhile and amalgamating.

BOARD OF PUBLICATIONS

1. I propose that the McPherson College literary magazine be made an official organ of the college, coming out yearly in proportion to the number of magazines ordered by students, faculty, alumni and interested persons in general.

2. The editors of the literary magazine should be selected by the Board of Publications after interviews, etc. etc. The editors should receive no pay, and a profit getting the literary magazine to the most students, etc., at the least possible cost.

3. After talking to many students and after the emergence of Common Sense, it is clear that the Spectator needs to be re-evaluated to make it much more relevant to us as college students. After all, it is our campus paper.

4. The Campus Editor position (which leads to the Editor-in-Chief position in two semester's time) should be given only after a personal interview to find out the candidates' viewpoints and qualifications.

COMMITTEE OF COMMUNICATION

1. This committee would take regular polls to determine the campus mood at McPherson College on issues such as dorm hours, smoking, value of the present Spectator, placing students on certain administrative committees, etc. These polls would be published in the Spectator as they come about.

2. This committee would set up faculty - student dialogues at intervals (i.e. once a month) to get more communication between the faculty and students and administration and students, even though we are welcome in faculty homes, etc. Student government should do all it can do to cause more understanding among the above-mentioned people. Of course most of the initiative must come from the students and faculty to participate in these and much other private conversation and understanding.

3. This committee would see that Project Communication was started either within a committee or get it going as just a student project outside of Stuco, depending on the Council as it would for assistance.

4. This committee would

counsel with Miss Harris on certain matters that pertain to student periodicals and interests in reading materials. If students wish more varied periodicals it would be beneficial to let the library staff know. (This could be an issue for the above-mentioned poll.) This committee would generally work with the library and help advise as to student wishes.

If campus organizations decided to spend a few dollars a year to buy a magazine subscription for the student body to be placed in the library, this would be a valuable service. (And publicity for the organization.)

5. Along with point two above, a faculty night at the coffee house could be started where one or two different faculty come each week for an informal evening with students where students can relax and be themselves too.

STUDENT COUNCIL COMMITTEES

1. I feel that everything that occurs on campus does not have to be placed in a Stuco committee, or on the other hand, have to start within Stuco.

2. Capable people should be placed on these committees and not just friends of those making the decisions.

3. Committees should make known their results and be kept running efficiently. (Perhaps someone should investigate the investigation by the foods committee to see what ever happened to it as far as we are concerned!)

4. I believe the President of Stuco should briefly inform the student body of issues being discussed by Stuco and the committees at the beginning of each Convocation, and he should then ask for questions that could take no longer than approximately 10 minutes; in this time much information and many ideas could be brought forth. (Too few students really get much out of the posted minutes.)

5. The appropriate committee of Stuco should look at the question of entertainment at McPherson College and see if it is adequate, and if the funds are being spent wisely.

MCPHERSON SIGNS

1. McPherson College should have signs leading to the campus for the convenience of new students, our friends, and interested persons in general.

2. Stuco should encourage the administration to place these signs.

3. Perhaps McPherson merchants would help here.

DORMITORIES

1. Again I believe that the student government should look into the question of girls' dorm hours and what problems have come up, and the possibility of working on no hours for juniors too.

2. Also, I think it would be beneficial to look into the question of open dormitories on Sunday afternoons between 1-5 p.m. and perhaps after looking into the problems and advantages that other colleges have experienced try it at least on a trial basis if the interest is present to get it passed.

3. Why not let each dormitory control its own vending machines and earn that money for its own projects and activities, but letting Slater keep the ones in the SU. Perhaps if the students knew the machines were earning them money, there would be more respect for the machines. In many halls machines are absent completely.

BILL OF RIGHTS AND FREEDOMS

1. I support the idea of this bill of rights and freedoms and I am pleased to see them being discussed by the committee of students and faculty.

2. This committee is looking into the areas that are most urgently needing in clarity as far as policy goes, at McPherson College. As the talks progress, I think it would be well to publish the areas being discussed so that more ideas can come from the student body to aid in this important work.

STUDENT COUNCIL PRESIDENT

1. I believe it is the President's duty to work firmly through the channels of student government to bring the student's wishes to the appropriate authorities in the administration and to not let these wishes die there. Likewise, he must carry the ideas of the administration back to the students for discussion and student action.

2. Only by knowing the student wishes and aims and having the student's backing is the President and student government going to get action. If the President and student government do not know what you want, how can the administration and faculty?

STUDENT COUNCIL

1. Student Council must not become a coterie of students who are not in touch with the student body. The council is elected to speak for the student body, but what good does it do to speak and act when students don't really feel that student government is relevant to them? This could be a cause of the apathy that candidates proclaim each spring - the student government-student body lack of communication.

2. Student Council meetings are open to all students.

3. Through a firm student government and an informed united student body, we can make 1969-1970 a great school year.

Let's have a year of growth, understanding, and communication!

Thompson Platform

The student of today is wanting to be alive. By alive, I mean to be himself. He wants to have a say in policies that concern him. In this matter, he realizes that the administration consists of men who are devoting their lives to this work, and are also wanting the best for the student.

The student does not want to be programmed. The student wants more freedom, but in gaining it he must remember that real freedom is won through self-government, not through self-expression alone.

STUDENT TO STUDENT RELATIONS

A. I propose that a Human Relations Panel be installed on campus. We now come from highly diversified backgrounds, and with each new year the diversity will become greater. This panel could foresee potential problems and negotiate an early solution to them.

B. The Pep Council should be re-activated. Its purpose would be to work with the cheerleaders in providing the nucleus for organized cheering at athletic events. Student support would be essential.

C. The current method of voting for cheerleaders should be replaced with an up-to-date method. A panel of judges should observe the cheerleader tryouts and professionally select the winners. This would provide us with the best cheerleaders and also make the activity more prestigious.

D. I would ask that we make communications day an annual project. This is a time when student, faculty and administration all have a chance to express their views. This could also be enlarged to include interested town people.

STUDENT - FACULTY - ADMINISTRATION RELATIONS

A. I feel that a Student Bill of Rights should be examined jointly by the students, professors, administration and Board of Trustees. In such, the rights of students would be clearly defined.

B. The administrators do not always have time to know the student feelings of all problems. Therefore, I would ask that we be allowed a student representative to the Administrative Committee and to the Athletic Committee. The student's purpose would not be to vote, but to inform.

C. I would propose that a change be made in the policy regarding Convocations. Convocations could give us the opportunity to hear outstanding speakers, if the program had sufficient financial support. This could be effected in one of several ways:

1. Reduce the number of Convocations.
2. Partial integrations of Convocations and the Cultural Series.
3. An additional fee at registration.

STUDENT COUNCIL

A. We must start formulating our policies around the ACCK. Looking to the future, the ACCK will be a major force.

B. A second vice-president is needed to work with the president and the vice-president in coordinating the increased activities of the student body and student council. His presence would leave the president most needed time to work in other important areas.

C. I propose that an Evaluation Committee (to be composed of students not involved in student government) be formed. The function of it would be to evaluate all areas of student government.

D. Once again we have failed to successfully book and present a big name group to the McPherson College community. However, I feel that we can accomplish this next year. The guidelines have been prepared by this year's council. With their set of files left for reference, with an early start, and with the support of the student body, the big name group can become a reality.

New course in economics

"The Economic Development of the Less Developed Countries," a three hour, upper division course, will be offered in the department of economics and business administration this fall.

The course will deal with characteristics of underdeveloped countries, evaluation of the meaning of "underdevelopment," causes of underdevelopment, the effect of population of underdevelopment, efforts of underdeveloped countries to promote development and the mutual effect of developed and underdeveloped countries on each other.

Special attention will be given to the relationship of the United States with these countries.

Students vote on changes in organization of Court

Included on the election ballot Friday will be a proposal to change Student Court.

The new proposal would allow the court chairman to vote only in case of tie, and the faculty adviser would not have a vote.

This was felt necessary because the chairman as the fact-finder may be biased, and, because it is a Student Court, students alone should vote.

Also, the faculty representative would not be the dean of men, women or students. This change was proposed because these persons are often on the appeals committee.

Section four B three of the present constitution reads: "The Student Court shall have 14 members - the chairman, five seniors, four juniors, three sophomores and one faculty representative. Each member shall have the right of one vote."

The proposal reads: "Resolved, the Student Court shall have fourteen members including the chairman, five seniors, four juniors, three sophomores, and one faculty representative who is not to be dean of men, women or students. Each student member shall have the right of one vote. The chairman shall vote only in case of a tie, and the faculty adviser shall not have a vote."

The resolution must be passed by a two-thirds majority to be ratified.

Davis Platform

Objective of running for vice president: to make this a student's campus with more activities and broader policies by striving to gain support and involvement using ideas stated herein. In as much as individual freedoms are earned, not given, it is necessary that we not only desire and support, but work toward that end by using the means which we have. Positive attitudes and increased activity reinforce each other.

COMMUNICATION

Communication, the compelling influence of students, guides us, through understanding, to the ends we want to achieve. We have already on our campus the basic foundation to communication, but it is not nearly adequate enough to handle our needs. I support the following ideas toward communication.

A. Student Council seminars involve chances of direct verbal discussions of activities, and policies of council members with students in convocations and forums.

B. Clubs and committees need to have their work coordinated into a central collecting agency so that goals can be achieved most efficiently. Committee chairmen and club secretaries will submit a short resume of meetings to be evaluated and filed.

From this an accurate calendar of events could be compiled and the council could do a better job of informing the students of what is happening.

C. Officer handbooks need to be written by each outgoing officer for each newly elected officer. These handbooks would describe the new officers' duties and how to go about them. "Learning the ropes" would be facilitated and not as haphazard.

HOMECOMING
Homecoming is the most important duty of a vice president and he is the one responsible for successful organization. This is paramount in importance. If only for the want to oil the machinery and make it run smoothly. There is little reason or success in making homecoming larger when we have not even reached an efficiently organized homecoming.

One stylebook is possibility

The question of whether or not McPherson College should adopt one stylebook for the whole school is being examined by Miss Virginia Harris, librarian.

The possibility of having just one stylebook is also being considered by the Educational Policies Committee and the English department.

ACTIVITIES AND SOCIAL LIFE

The activities and social life on a college campus break the heyday of intellectual servitude. They provide a better understanding of people which is necessary in achieving successful inter-relations that are necessary in today's society.

A. We need at least one day in the spring semester much like the day for the All-School Picnic during the fall semester, possibly an All-School Games Day.

B. Better bands are needed for dances and better films must be shown in Brown Auditorium.

C. Each and all activities on our campus need to seek total involvement. Involvement is the motivating force that gets things done. We must seek involvement.

ASSOCIATED COLLEGES OF CENTRAL KANSAS

The Associated Colleges of Central Kansas, in its idea, is fantastic and necessary. It provides opportunity for the masses that is not available in a small entity such as McPherson College.

A. The ACCK must be approached carefully. Compromise is involved in holding events on one campus and supported by others. Diplomacy must be used in working with other campuses.

B. ACCK needs strong leadership from this campus. Without that much we cannot benefit from it.

OFFICE OF VICE PRESIDENT

The office of vice president is the second highest position obtainable in representing the student body. The office needs a person that will fairly represent the students' will. Discussions must take place between students and candidates and students and council members after elections. A candidate for any office must desire to hear the voice of the students and be open minded and unbiased toward their ideas.

Council joins national group

Women's Council voted to join a national organization, the Intercollegiate Association of Women Students March 10. One of the reasons for joining this organization is that it provides the opportunity to receive more information about planning activities for women on campus.

In April, the Women's Council plans to sponsor Friendship Week, which will be similar to Heart Sister Week. During this week the women on campus will draw names and plan little surprises for each other.

Keane Platform

My platform is as follows:

To improve communication between the student publication and the students. I feel that the Spectator has become a white-washed gossip column which is forced to meet a deadline every Thursday.

Make later dorm hours for junior girls by giving them cards like those the seniors have now.

Improve communications between students. I propose to do this by holding a monthly, or whenever the need arises, forum in order to allow the students to discuss timely issues. The moderator of these discussions would be the vice-president of the student council.

To integrate student related faculty committees with students.

To secure backing from the other ACCK schools in obtaining two big name groups in order to prevent another embarrassing situation like those of the past two years.

To eliminate faculty opinion from the student court.

To form a committee of Student Court members, which would be rotated periodically, to investigate matters brought before the court.

In general, I feel the duty of the vice-president of the Student Council is to establish constant and worthwhile communication between, first, the students themselves; second, between the students and the faculty; and third, between the college and the town.

These are the things I would like to see accomplished by next year's Stuco vice-president.

Suggestions give ways to improve convocations

McPherson students were invited to attend a meeting concerning the quality of convocation programs March 16.

Approximately 70 students came to the meeting and many suggestions were given to improve the quality of convocations.

The suggestions included the following ideas:

Have unscheduled convocation programs. Have them only when there is a good speaker available.

Give a list of suggested programs a semester ahead and ask the students to check the list of ones that they would like most.

Consolidate the cultural series and convocations, having only one program.

Have the regular 14 convocation programs but fund extra money to put into half of these. Let the students select the seven that they want to attend.

In addition to whatever convocation programs there are, add some one-day seminars with outstanding speakers at least once per semester.

As well as making a lesser number of programs, introduce some controversial figures for a more interesting schedule.

Have six or seven convocation programs and require attendance at all of these.

Abolish convocations and use the money among the departments of the college.

Taylor Platform

The importance of being involved in the laboratory situation of student government lies in the potential use of that government as a mode of expression for the promotion of the students well being.

Student government should be looked upon not so much as a fixed form of government, but rather as an ongoing process by which the rights of individuals and groups and the rights of society of readjustment and accommodation.

Believing this is true, I propose in running for vice president to help the students express their relevance to the college community through the political organization of student government. My platform contains the following resolutions and planks.

STUDENT BILL OF RIGHTS

It is my feeling that the adoption of a Student Bill of Rights would be a guideline for the definition of student rights at McPherson College. The Student Bill of Rights is based on the Joint Statement on Rights and Freedoms of Students.

This statement was drafted by ten national educational organizations to provide the essential provisions needed to guarantee the students freedom to learn. McPherson College should examine her present policies and procedures and begin to actually draw up this Bill to protect inherent student rights and freedoms.

NATIONAL STUDENTS ASSOCIATION

McPherson College would benefit from membership in the NSA through its many opportunities. This organization gives ideas, examples, and proposals concerning the problems and concerns of the college community.

This national association would bring other ideas from other colleges in the United States. By reflecting on the work of the NSA our college can observe the problems in other college and the solutions to these differences. The NSA information can be applied then at McPherson College.

ACCK

In the future the ACCK will be a unifying force for the six colleges involved through the pooling of their resources financially and socially. More interaction and exchange among the schools is needed to stimulate better cooperation.

An exchange of academic involvement and cultural offerings would help bring about unity among the ACCK. The FSACCK (federated students) is the open channel which we should use to create unity in the ACCK.

SPECIAL PROJECTS

Along with Homecoming, I would like for Special Projects to be involved in a spring festival which would be similar to homecoming in promoting the college and the different projects.

A bus service for the college is a definite need for the athletic, music, and academic exchange programs of the school. A definite concern and need for change in convocations is present and a representative committee should be appointed to review the situation. Channels of communication must be kept open to enable the students, faculty, and administration to communicate in intelligent dialogue.

Students must become involved in McPherson College to make it a better institution socially and academically. Student government is a channel for student involvement and a media capable of effecting changes that would bring unity and pride to our campus.

Student information evaluates interterm

An evaluation of the 1969 interterm is being made by a subcommittee of the Educational Policies Committee. To fulfill this purpose the committee designed a questionnaire to obtain information and student evaluation.

The pilot questionnaire was constructed by Dr. Lewis C. Young, professor of psychology and chairman of the committee. After meeting the committee's approval it was administered to the students of the general psychology and abnormal psychology classes on a trial basis.

The results were tabulated and criticized and then incorporated into the final draft. This final questionnaire was presented to the student body on March 20 in Convocation.

Tabulated results from these questionnaires were presented to the Educational Policies Committee of McPherson College. The material is relative to the Associated Colleges of Central Kansas.

Kansas Campuses

A Committee for Students' Rights has been formed at Kansas Wesleyan University, Salina.

The objectives of the committee include student-administrative communication and respect for the university in the Salina community.

Daily events vary from art displays to the annual Feast of Nations to soccer games which will be sponsored by the international students.

A new system of faculty-student government at the University of Kansas will give students a larger voice in operation of the university.

This new university senate, ranked as one of the most progressive in the nation, consists of a faculty senate and a student senate.

The student senate will deal with issues such as student rights, off-campus housing and student publications.

Together as a university senate the faculty and students will consider matters like human relations, convocations and financial aid.

Also, three university boards and a university council now contain student members.

George Orwell's satire, "Animal Farm," will be presented by Central College at 8 p.m., Saturday, March 29, in the Central College auditorium.

Tickets for the performance may be purchased at the door for 50 cents and one dollar.

The faculty senate at Kansas State University is working on a modified interim semester for the 1970-71 school year.

Tentative plans schedule finals before Christmas and, following a two-week vacation, a two-week interim semester.

The interim would be established ideally to offer courses dealing with contemporary social issues and providing opportunities for cultural and recreational enrichment.

Hardships and disappointments overwhelm him, but after a strange voyage, he does return again and is made Lord Mayor of London.

Truly one of the great success stories of all time, it is sure to delight imaginative young people.

The play is an hour and 15 minutes long, and has no intermission. Admission price is 75 cents.

Deal issues invitation

Dear Editor:

There has been some discussion on campus of student-planned courses for the interterm of 1970. Some students feel that in the existing context of education, for example, professor-planned courses, they cannot sufficiently pursue their vital interests.

At a recent meeting which I attended, it was suggested that one way to meet this problem would be for a professor to issue an invitation to all students interested in studying with him for interterm 1970 in a student-planned course.

I am open to this concept and hence am issuing such an invitation. I invite all students interested in studying with me for interterm 1970 - in an area of my competence - to meet with me in the Student Union quiet room at 8 p.m., Sunday, March 30.

I am willing to try this if a number of students are interested. "Student-planned" means that the content of the course, grading criteria and procedure, the definition of the professor's role in the course and the students' role, will be the students' responsibility.

Prof. Tom Deal

Mac to host journalists

McPherson College will host the Kansas Organization of Publications and Advisers spring convention Saturday, March 29. It will hold its meetings in Mohler Hall.

The main address will be given by Tom Engleman, acting director, The Newspaper Fund, Princeton, N. J. There will also be time for informal discussions and group meetings with Engleman.

A panel will discuss the theme "Role-ing Along in 1969" with emphasis on cementing relations and establishing more specific and communicative guidelines between the administrator's office and the journalism room.

There will be a principal present on the panel who feels that journalism does not belong in the secondary school curriculum and another principal with the opposing viewpoint. Don Granger of the Wichita Eagle-Beacon, Malcolm Applegate of the University of Kansas, Mrs. Paula Simons, representing KOPA, and Engleman will join the two high school principals on the panel.

The executive committee will hold its meeting Friday evening at the Country Club. Mrs. Homer Brunk, associate professor of English and journalism, will meet with them as an adviser.

Mrs. Jackie Raymond, adviser to the McPherson High School paper, is secretary-treasurer of the organization.

versity students from the Kansas 4th district.

The students will be selected upon recommendation of a 4th district faculty screening and recommendations panel.

Dr. Raymond Flory, professor of history and political science, is a member of the faculty screening panel.

Rep. Shriver said that students who are interested in the program may obtain application forms from Dr. Flory.

A scholastic record and statement outlining reasons for the applicant's interest in the program will be required by the panel.

Students who have completed their sophomore year and are legal residents of the seven county congressional district are eligible for consideration.

Church to hold Love Feast

The traditional love feast and communion service will be held by the church at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, April 3. The observance will include the feet washing around the table and the bread and broth meal.

Good Friday, April 4, community services will be held at the Presbyterian Church from noon until 2 p.m.

The theme of the services will be "From Darkness to Light."

During the two hour period five men will speak. They are: O. T. Meador, Bill Miller, Bailey Cantrell, Jim Johnson and Roy Olund.

The Church of the Brethren will observe a baptism service April 6.

Seminary offers aid

Each year Bethany Theological Seminary in Oak Brook, Ill. offers a one year scholarship for $1,000 to a graduating McPherson College senior.

The scholarship, the president's Council Scholarship Award, is awarded by a McPherson College faculty committee. The award is given to a person whose academic achievement and promise merit recognition and one who has at least a tentative interest in Christian ministry or service.

Any senior who would like to be considered should contact Dr. David L. Eiler, associate professor of philosophy and religion, or Thomas W. Deal, assistant professor of philosophy and religion before Easter recess begins.

Lupri presents paper at science meeting

By Jo Ann Mowry
Dr. Eugen Lupri, associate professor of sociology at Kansas State University, presented his paper "The Social Bases of the Neo-Nazi Movement in West Germany" December 28, 1968, in Dallas at the annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

In it he warns that, unless the ideological claims of the West German National Democratic Party are taken seriously, history might repeat itself.

Lupri travels to McPherson every Monday afternoon to teach Juvenile Delinquency and Contemporary Social Issues.

Dr. Lupri graduated from McPherson College in 1963 with his B.S. in sociology and history. In 1969, he received his M.A. in anthropology and sociology, and in 1967, he received his Ph.D. in sociology from the University of Wisconsin.

From 1962 through 1967, he was head of the Department of Social Research at the DIVO Institute, Frankfurt, West Germany. While holding this position, Dr. Lupri supervised all sociological and political studies at the institute.

In 1965, he predicted the outcome of the West German elections so accurately that his prediction was televised nationally after the polls were closed.

His wife, Anneliese Koch Lupri, is also a graduate of McPherson College. Both Dr. and Mrs. Lupri were Fulbright exchange students from Germany to McPherson. They have three children, Claudia, 11; Barbara, 7; and Mathias, 5.

When asked for a comment on McPherson College today and yesterday, Dr. Lupri replied, "Today's students all over the world are making demands about education, are alive in class, self-conscious of the political, moral, and spiritual portions of the world in which they live."

"McPherson College, I feel, is an educational institution of higher learning that has been very conducive to the development of questions bearing on the moral and spiritual concerns in the world in which we live. One of the biggest changes that has taken place on all campuses is that the young generation is not accepting old ideas of the world, but is challenging the ideas of education and the world."

Court tells room rule

Dear Editor:

In an attempt to clarify the unwritten rule against having a person of the opposite sex in one's dormitory room, the Student Court has arrived at the following outline of necessary steps to gain permission for taking a person of the opposite sex to one's room.

Before taking any person of the opposite sex to one's room, a person must be granted permission by one of the following qualified authorities: head resident (housemother) or dormitory president.

No other person, specifically a student desk assistant or resident assistant, is qualified to give this permission.

Any student taking a member of the opposite sex to his (or her) room without proper permission is liable to action by the Student Court.

Fite relates concepts, ideas on role of history today

By Roberta Strickler
Gilbert C. Fite, George Lynn Cross Research Professor at the University of Oklahoma, spoke to interested history majors of McPherson and other Associated Colleges of Central Kansas at a History Guild meeting Thursday, March 20.

Fite, who has done extensive research and writing in the agricultural American West, spoke on the study, writing and teaching of history and carried on a discussion following the address.

"The American Dream and Social Change" was Fite's address in Convocations Thursday morning, and he spoke to Trans - Mississippi West, 20th Century Europe and U.S. History classes.

Friday evening, March 21, Dr. Fite gave the opening address of the annual meeting of the Kansas History Teachers Association on "America in Crisis, the 1890's."

At the poorly-attended Guild meeting, Dr. Fite discussed the role of history in the U.S. today. There has been an attempt to popularize history, as seen in the extremely popular American Heritage.

There is still a resistance to history, Fite noted, especially when it is a required subject in high schools and colleges, because most students find difficulty in relating history to what they already know and the problems that concern them.

Many agree with Henry Ford that "History is bunk."

Henry Ford used history, however, when he kept files and records, Fite said.

Professor Fite saw as the most important function of history that of giving a perspective from which to view more realistically and handle more ably current problems.

"Except for race, the same problems as today were faced by the people of the 1890's," Fite commented.

Other fields of study cannot provide this perspective.

History is not written to make money, because rarely are many copies sold. On the average it is read in libraries by students.

Why then do historians write? Fite cited the joy and satisfaction of the accomplishment as one reason for writing.

More graduate students find it easier to use original sources in their study and writing as it becomes available through microfilm and Xerox.

Fite emphasized that history teachers are faced with the responsibility of instilling within the student an interest in history.

Discussion was provoked by Fite's statement that the New Left has no sense of history, that it is concerned with everything immediate, and based on emotion and not reason.

Discussion was also focused on the nature of graduate school in history.

Students apply for research

Delbert Nye's appearance at McPherson College last week initiated much interest. Twelve students applied to take part in medical research in Bethesda, Md.

Members of the Associated Colleges of Central Kansas chapters and the Marymount College, Salina, chapter, are being invited.

The banquet, which will be at 7:30 p.m. in the cafeteria of the Student Union, will feature a Kansas State Teachers Association speaker and special music will be provided by an ensemble of McPherson College A Cappella Choir members. An initiation of cabinet members for the 1969-70 school year is being planned.

Telethon adds benefits

Beginning as a plan to raise funds to equip McPherson College's new Miller Library, a telethon to contact the school's 4,000 alumni is bringing fringe benefits not imagined by the College.

During the first week of the program, some 80 volunteer, primarily alumni from McPherson and adjoining counties, contacted half the college's alumni and secured a total of $35,000 in gifts and pledges for the project.

"We set out to raise money, and we are doing that, but for the callers it has been more than just a money-raising project," said Gerald Holman, director of development.

"Many talked to friends they had not seen since graduation from college, and perhaps these renewed friendships were the real value in the project," he said.

Callers, operating in the Peoples Center of the Peoples State Bank, contacted college graduates from coast to coast, Alaska and Hawaii.

Working with school officials in directing the telethon were Grover Dotzour, Wichita; Milton Dell, Eddie Ball, Julius Steele and Delbert Kelly, all of McPherson; George Jones and Cal Jones, both of Canton.

Funds raised by the callers will be used to equip an $32,000 language and audio-visual laboratory in the library.

A second phase of the telethon will be conducted in mid-April as volunteers complete the contacting of alumni.

Chapel features singers, dancers

The April 1 Chapel will feature Macollege Madrigals and the Modern Dance group.

The dancers, Sally Arnesen, fr, Oak Park, Ill., Shirley Miller, fr, Conestoga, Pa., Estelle Masse, fr, Falls Church, Va., and Carolyn Dadisman, sr, Springfield, Ill. will present an interpretation of the Parable of Seeds, a hymn, and the Psalm of Job.
