BULLDOG BASKETEERS BOW BEFORE BATES' BATTLING BUILDERS

Superior Goal Shooting Results In
27-20 Victory For Winfield
Basket Tossers

FIRST HALF ENDS 13-13

Excellent Guarding And Fast Floor
Work Displayed By Both Teams

By superior goal shooting the Southwestern Moundbuilders won a hotly contested basketball game from the McPherson College Bulldogs last Wednesday evening by a 27 to 20 count. The entire game was featured by the dazzling offense and defense displayed by both teams. Excellent guarding coupled with fast floor work was the outstanding feature of the Canines' play while quick goal shooting as well as good guard and offensive work did the work for the visitors.

Builders Score First
Southwestern started the scoring when Kahler dropped in a long one from center; a foul with this gave them a three point lead. A moment later Ellwood of McPherson caged a field goal after which the Builders for a time were completely swept off their feet. Near the close of the half, however, the Batemen hit their stride and when the period closed the score stood 13 all.

Floor Work About Equal
In the second period the floor work of both teams was about equal but the veteran Moundbuilders took the lead because of more accurate basket shooting. At no time in the second period were the Bulldogs able to seriously threaten their opponents' lead, scoring only seven points to fourteen for the visitors.

Hill Shows Up Well
Hill playing his first game of college basketball and Crumpacker the veteran M. C. captain played a whirlwind game at forward each scoring two field baskets. Sargent at center played a good game, leading his team mates in field goals. Strickler and Ellwood at guard, however, were the outstanding players and besides Ellwood's two field goals they held the Southwestern stars to only two more goals than the McPherson quintet.

The game drew a record crowd, over a thousand persons being packed into the gym.

Y. W. C. A. "GOODIE SHOP" PROVES A GREAT SUCCESS

The "Goodie Shop" held in the gymnasium Saturday evening by the Y. W. C. A. for the purpose of raising funds for decorating and furnishing the new Y. W. reception room proved to be a grand affair. The gymnasium was beautifully decorated in red and white. A pleasing effect was produced by the artistic arrangement of yellow roses in the lattice work on the north side of the building. A host of waitresses dressed in red and white served the delicious goodies to the hungry customers as they seated themselves around the quartet tables. The shop was a great success, not only in a financial way, but also in the pleasant social time afforded.

ENJOYABLE CONCERT IS GIVEN BY M. C. TALENT

CHORAL SOCIETY AND MUSIC
CLUB PRESENT NUMBERS OF MUCH MERIT

One of the most impressive and enjoyable programs given at M. C. this year was the concert rendered in the chapel Tuesday evening by the McPherson College Choral Society. Almost a hundred voices took part in the program and under the direction of Professor Gaw, the conductor, each number was presented in a manner that showed a great deal of careful training. Miss Elate Klinkerman, the accompanist, performed her part in a very creditable manner.

Solo Parts Are Well Given
The solo parts by Mrs. Forrest Gaw and Marie Cullen in the Opera Choruses were very well given. "Hiawatha's Wedding Feast" by Cole-ridge-Taylor rendered by the Music Club received much favorable comment. Harry Bowers was accompanist for this number. To Professor Gaw belongs much praise for his work in building up such strong musical organizations as were heard Tuesday evening. The program follows:

ENROLLMENT FOR SECOND SEMESTER IS NEAR 450

The enrollment for the second semester took place last Monday afternoon and all day Tuesday. It was characterized by the usual confusion of the freshmen and some of the upper classmen because of the frequently termed "red tape." Quite a number of the students failed on the last lap which consisted of presenting their enrollment cards at the President's office. Consequently there is still considerable indefiniteness as to the number of students enrolled in the different departments of the institution and in the various classes. The week was indeed a very strenuous one for those persons conducting the enrollment. It is estimated that the total number of students is approximately 450. Quite a number of new students enrolled, some of whom have taken work here before. It is hoped that the exact figures of enrollment can be obtained soon.

EXPRESSION STUDENTS GIVE FINE PRODUCTION OF 3 ONE-ACT PLAYS

"Makers Of Men," "Hyacinths,"
And "The Hour Glass" Are Presented

CASTS ARE WELL CHOSEN

Moral Lessons Of Great Worth Are Revealed As Each Play Is Developed

The Expression Department, under the direction of Miss Anderson, presented three one-act plays: Makers of Men, by Alfred Sutro, Hyacinths by Tacie Mae Hanna, and The Hour Glass by William Butler Yeats in the chapel last Monday evening. The attentiveness of the audience, the entire forgetfulness of everything except the performance on the stage and the tenseness which penetrated to all showed that the actors were successful in infusing the spirit of the plays into those who saw them.

"Makers Of Men"
Makers of Men, played by Eunice Almen, Jay Eller, and Maude Gish portrayed a scene in an ideal home where love reigned supreme, where the head of the house was a failure measured in terms of dollars and cents, but whose success as a husband and father was the thing most prized. The message of Makers of Men was that love is the only thing that counts in this great foolish world.

"Hyacinths"
In Hyacinths, given by Winona McGaffey, Fannie Stover, and Marie Cullen there is the conflict between the love for the material and the appreciation of the beautiful. Hyacinths teaches that one must have a little art, a few good books, and music; that if one has but two loaves he should sell one and buy white hyacinths to feed his soul.

"The Hour Glass"
The Hour Glass in which the principal roles were taken by David Brubaker and Harry Bowers, and the minor parts by Maxine Hoover, Eunice Almen, Dale Strickler, Rufus Daggett, Harold Barnes, Helen Hartell, and Geraldine Crill, was medieval in setting. The Wise Man who denied God to his pupils was told by the angel that he would die within the hour and would not be saved unless he could find in that time one soul who believed in God. The Wise Man appealed to his students, his wife, his children, to no avail. In desperation he entreated the Fool who gave him his desire. Dying, the Wise Man realized that he must have the faith of a little child, and that the eternal things of life are the invisible. Those who participated are to be praised for the successful production of these plays. Much talent was shown as a result of the careful and detailed coaching by Miss Anderson.

CONCERT SERIES CLOSES WITH PLEASING PROGRAM

The program of Indian stories and songs, given by Thurlow Lieurance at the Opera House Friday evening as the last number of the McPherson Concert Series, was enjoyed by a large and appreciative audience. Mr. Lieurance, pianist and composer, played a great many interesting songs which he had collected from Indians in various parts of North America. These were made still more interesting by George B. Tack, flutist, who accompanied Mr. Lieurance and by Mrs. Lieurance, soprano and interpreter, who dramatized them in a very characteristic and picturesque Indian manner. Of particular interest were the harmonies played by Mr. Tack on the different Indian flutes.

STOCK JUDGING TEAM PLACES FIRST AGAIN

HARVEY LEHMAN LEADS ALL
CONTESTANTS WITH
327 POINTS

For the third time within the last four years the McPherson Academy stock judging team won highest honors at the Kansas National Livestock Show which was held at Wichita last Monday. Harvey and Harry Lehman and Theodore Baker who represented the academy led the thirty-five other teams of Kansas and Oklahoma with a total of 869 points. Argonia High School with 799 points and Stafford with 788 placed second and third. McPherson High School won seventh place with a score of 755 points.

Medals Presented Wednesday

In individual honors Harvey Lehman ranked first with 327 points to his credit. Harry Lehman received fifth place with a score of 303. Gold medals were presented by Dr. Kurtz to the members of the team in chapel Wednesday morning. It was through the kindness of Ida Johnson, a student in M. C. the past two years, who was secretary of the Stock Exchange, that the medals were procured at such an early time.

Prof. Mohler Coached Team

Very high praise is due to Prof. Mohler who coached the team. For his teams to win three first places and one second place in four consecutive years is an honor of which Prof. Mohler can justly be proud. Milton Dell, who won third place in individual points last year assisted Prof. Mohler in training the team this year.

BIG MUSICAL ATTRACTION TO BE HERE FEBRUARY 3

Little Symphony Orchestra Of Kansas City Is To Give Afternoon
And Evening Program

The Little Symphony Orchestra of Kansas City will bring a real treat to the music lovers of McPherson and vicinity on February 3 when it will render an afternoon and evening concert at the McPherson Opera House. It is indeed a great opportunity to hear this unique organization of musicians in our own city, and at the extremely low admission fee which the committee is able to make only because of securing them at a much lower rate than is customary.

Miss Anna Millar is manager of the Little Symphony. Years ago when the Thomas orchestra of Chicago was heavily in debt, downhearted, and ready to quit, Miss Millar was selected to make a final effort to put the organization on its feet. She succeeded and in less time than was anticipated the orchestra was a sound and prosperous organization. N. De Rubertis is the very efficient conductor of the Little Symphony Orchestra. He not only is a conductor but a scholar and composer.

The Little Symphony is an organization consisting of a group of ar-

ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL BIBLE INSTITUTE NOW RECORDED AS HISTORY

Dr. Ezra Flory, Dr. S. Z. Sharp, And
Rev. E. E. Eshelman Are
Principal Speakers

INTERESTING COURSES GIVEN

M. C. Faculty Members Constitute Larger Part Of Teaching
Force

Another successful Bible Institute has gone down in the history of McPherson College. The Institute this year was a decided success, not only from the standpoint of attendance but also because of the type of speakers who have appeared on the program.

Dr. Ezra Flory, secretary of the General Sunday School Board of the Church of the Brethren and a recognized authority in Sunday-school work, conducted three periods each day on various phases of Sunday-school work and Religious Education. That his lectures were greatly appreciated was clearly shown by the large audiences that heard him daily.

Rural Church Discussed

Rev. E. E. Eshelman of Red Cloud, Nebraska, delivered four lectures during the week on different phases of "The Rural Church." Rev. Eshelman is a man of considerable experience in this particular work and his message was one that was heard with much interest.

Dr. S. Z. Sharp, first president of McPherson College, was another outstanding speaker. On Friday he delivered a lecture on "The Bible and Science Harmonized" and on Saturday the subject of his lecture was "Evolution and the Bible." Both of these lectures were exceedingly interesting. Sunday morning Dr. Sharp delivered a timely sermon on the nature of God and the way His Kingdom manifests itself.

Faculty Members Give Lectures

A number of the faculty members conducted courses during the week. Prof. Studebaker devoted six hours to courses in Bible and Prof. Deeter four hours to various Pauline subjects. Prof. Mohler gave several lectures on Agriculture and Miss Walters several on Domestic Art. Prof. Ebel spoke on "Missions Among the Mexicans" last Monday afternoon at 1:30 and Prof. Patterson on Vocational Guidance at 3:30. Three hours during the latter part of the week were taken up by Dr. Craik who spoke on "The Reformation." The Mission Band gave a program Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

Evening Programs Are Interesting

The evening programs also proved quite interesting and beneficial. Three one-act plays were presented by the Expression Department on Monday evening, a concert by the Choral Society was given Tuesday evening, on Wednesday evening Dr. Kurtz gave a lecture on "The Ideals and Early History of the Brethren Church," on Thursday evening Prof. P. C. Hiesbert of Tabor College lectured on "Russia," on Friday evening Prof. Yoder gave an illustrated lecture on his tour around the world, and on Saturday evening Dr. Harnly gave an illustrated lecture on "The Religious Temples of the World." The Institute was brought to a close Sunday evening by Prof. Yoder who delivered a missionary sermon on "Among Our Missionaries."

Alumnae Takes County Office

Christian L. Ikenberry, a graduate of the academy, has been teaching in the public schools of Quinter, Kansas, until lately but at the last election was elected county treasurer of Gove county. He has already assumed office and his wife will take his position in the schools.

STUDENT CONDUCT

The conduct of some of the members of the "M" Club at the same last week has been the subject of considerable adverse criticism and justly so. If the student body agrees that more pep and school spirit can be secured at athletic games by having the couples separated let the decision be enforced in a polite and courteous way. But for an organization to go farther than that and use force in separating married people is not only a mark of rudeness but the violation of a sacred law of society.

DINING HALL CONDUCT

The week just past has seen a number of visitors from far and near on our campus, watching us live and conduct this little democracy proudly called McPherson College. If they had a boy or girl here, we hope they were glad their boy or girl was in such an institution and if they knew of prospective students we hope that we have made such an impression that they will solicit new students for our Alma Mater.

A large number of these same visitors were in our college dining hall at least once during their stay. As they saw us enter the hall, eat our food and leave, I wonder what sort of an impression they received? Did they take kindly to the fact that for fully five minutes after the bell rang a few of the Fahnstock Hall inmates came straggling in? And probably not the same few but that a similar squad, not all Fahnstock Hall residents either, straggled out from three to five minutes before we were dismissed? Our visitors of course thought that there was a legitimate reason in each case but that was far from the facts in the matter. Imagine the greater impression we would have made on those people if we had been the letter of punctuality.

From what has been said before it is not meant that there is no time at which a student may legitimately come into the dining hall late or leave early, for there are times when any student may have to do either, but upon us rests the honor and the reputation of the institution so let us all do our part in maintaining a good reputation by coming to the dining hall as soon as the bell rings and not leave until we are dismissed.

An Observer.

ARE YOU INDIFFERENT

Indifference, it is agreed by leading psychologists of today, is both the primary and secondary reason for the astonishingly increasing percent of illiteracy, degeneracy and inefficiency along with those other qualities which tend to lower the plane of civilization and bring the number of successful men and women down to a very small minimum. Indifference may be fittingly called, a lack of ambition, that very necessary element to the attainment of any position of consequence or to the realization of any ideal of worth.

It seems that in college is the proper place to gain control of this mental disease and take hold of it with the idea in mind of setting a definite goal and, with the eye constantly upon the target, to shoot straight and true. It does not matter so much if we have been indifferent in the past, although the fact may not be denied. "Now," with all possible emphasis upon the Now, is the time to stop the disease before it reaches the critical stage.

Old age without friends or means of sustenance is only one of the many uninviting ends, on which to look forward to, as a result of chronic indifference. And we must stop to consider for ourselves, for a moment, the causes of such indifference. If we have no desire to help our fellows by making an effort to choose a profession for which we are suited, or have some special talent which if exercised might benefit humanity, and then striving to accomplish that which we have decided upon, keeping in mind the fact that nothing may be accomplished without the view that service should be first and foremost among our business axioms, then and only then, success will become ours.

Don't be indifferent. If you have an ambition don't let it lag. Foster it if it is worth while, throw it away if it is not, but have one. If you are without one, you are an object of public pity, a craft without a rudder as it were, in which event, get one so that you will be in the obligation of no man. But whatever your ambition be, make yourself felt in the world, a state of affairs which only a live-wire can bring about. Be a live-wire!

THE "SOCIETY" REPORTER

The story is told of a new reporter on a daily paper who was assigned to gather police news and was given the customary warning as to the importance of accuracy and the danger of libel suits if his statements were not properly qualified. He was told that until facts were fully proved, it was always safer to make use of such terms as "alleged." "It is said," and others similar.

It happened to be the vacation season and the newspaper office was short handed. In an emergency the new police reporter had to be called on to write up a society item and this is the way it read when he turned it in:

"A woman giving the name of Mrs. J. C. Jones, who is said to be one of the social leaders of the city and claims to reside at 1749 Capitol Hill Avenue, is said to have given what purported to be a reception yesterday afternoon. It is understood that a considerable number of so-called guests, alleged to be ladies notorious in society circles, were present and some of them are quoted as saying that they enjoyed the occasion. It is charged that Bower furnished the alleged refreshments and Stringem the purported music. The hostess is said to have worn a necklace of alleged pearls which she claims were given to her by her reputed husband.

AN APPRECIATION

We want to take this opportunity to thank the members of the "M" Club for their splendid co-operation in an attempt to instill the greatest amount of pep possible at the basketball games. They are to be thanked, not only for their effectual group yelling under their cheer leader, but also for the clever stunts taking up the interval between halves. We now hope that their enthusiasm will not abate and that their example will be a pattern for many.

COLLEGE SPIRIT

The success of a business enterprise of any sort depends on the spirit, or the dependability, of those who are connected with the institution. The great stores of the large cities realize the importance of the proper spirit and so maintain places of recreation, and competitive sports for their employees.

The college is an institution, just as great as we make it, just as live as the loyalty of the student body will permit. The student should be loyal to the institution of which he is a member. If, however, a student feels that he can be more loyal to the institution by bringing his wife out to see the game and does not care to leave her to herself in the crowd, is it the proper school spirit for a half dozen husky self-appointed balliffs with clubs to take the man by superior force from his wife? In larger institutions do they station bums around with clubs to tell you where to sit? Do they prescribe whom you may and whom you may not accompany to a basketball game? Was not the act referred to above, in the Southwestern game, the greatest dampener to the spirit of M. C. this year?

College spirit is great; it is what we want but college spirit by force will never create the true spirit and sense of loyalty to an institution. If you care to talk up the other side please tell where you get your authority to tell which persons the students may and which ones they may not accompany to basketball games. Granted you have the authority do you create college spirit by so doing?

Contributed.

THE "M" CLUB

The "M" Club is composed of all men who have been awarded the letter "M" for participating in some form of athletics at McPherson College and the school thinks he has brought sufficient honor upon the college to give him his insignia. The purpose of the club is to make a better college at McPherson, especially by aiding at all athletic contests with the one purpose and that is to instill more pep into the student body.

We have asked the boys and girls to sit in different sections at the contests not that we are jealous or that we cannot find a lady friend to sit with but it is our conviction that by the separation more pep will be displayed and if school spirit and verbal persuasion will not compel a student to leave his lady friend for the duration of the game, main force is relied upon as our last resort to convince the said parties that we intend to carry out our threats but a real loyal student will need no coaxing if he thinks more pep is possible by such an act.

We were justly criticized at the Southwestern game for two reasons, first that we did not have enough room for the students but we will profit by our mistake and supply ample room at future contests. The second criticism was that pep did not prevail even after the sexes were separated but was it our fault? Do we not have two yell leaders whose duty it is to keep pep going and let the team know that the students are back of them?

The "M" Club possesses a yell leader and at the next game let it be understood that if the college cheer leaders do not attempt to arouse the student body and make them put forth their best efforts, the members of the club will take it upon their shoulders to use their own yell leader and thereby show that we have pep and that at least part of it can be displayed.

An "M" Club Member.

ARE YOU SUPERSTITIOUS?

If you break a mirror or kill a cat do you immediately begin to prepare for the seven years' bad luck? Do you carry a rabbit's foot around, believe in dreams, always make a wish on the new moon, and do you invariably pick up a pin to insure good fortune? Well, you poor dear. Maybe you would like some new foolish superstitions—something else to fill up your empty life and to worry about. So we've copied down some things here just for your benefit, but if they don't work the right way don't blame us. Let us warn you they are nice to read but nicer to forget.

Name the corners of the room for four different people. The one you dream about you will marry.

Count a hundred white horses and two white mules and the first person you shake hands with you will marry.

Pull the petals from a flower counting: He loves, she loves, hate her, have her, this year, next year, some time, never.

People in Massachusetts believe that if you walk with a gentleman for the first time and have on new shoes and go over a bridge, you will marry him.

Put a looking glass under your pillow and you will dream of your sweetheart.

If you want to sneeze and can't it is a sign that some one loves you and doesn't dare tell it.

If you burn a lover's letters he will never marry you.

Take up your Bible and wish. If it opens at "and it came to pass," you will get your wish.

To dream of clear water means good luck; of muddy water, misfortune.

If the palm of your left hand itches you will receive money before the end of the week.

If you forget anything on your departure from a visit, you will go there again.

If you make a rhyme involuntarily you will get a present.

If your right ear burns, a lady is speaking of you; if the left, a man.

If your right eye itches, you'll cry; if your left eye, you'll laugh. What you do on your birthday you will do the whole year.

Study on Sunday, forget it through the week.

If while eating you drop food on the floor, it is a sign someone is telling lies about you.

To sit on a table is a sign of coming disappointment.

Say to the new moon over your right shoulder:

New moon, true moon and bright, if I have a lover let me dream of him tonight.

If I'm to marry far, let me hear a bird cry:

If I'm to marry near, let me hear a cow low:

If I'm never to marry let me hear a hammer knock.

One of these sounds is always heard.

Sneeze on Monday, sneeze for danger, Sneeze on Tuesday, kiss a stranger, Sneeze on Wednesday, receive a letter.

Sneeze on Thursday, something better.

Sneeze on Friday, sneeze for sorrow, Sneeze on Saturday, see your true love tomorrow.

Sneeze on Sunday, the devil will haunt you the rest of the week.

When eating an apple, name it and then count the seeds:

One I love,

Two I love,

Three I love, I say,

Four I love with all my heart,

And five I cast away.

Six he loves,

Seven she loves,

Eight they both love,

Nine he comes,

Ten he carries,

Eleven he courts,

Twelve he marries,

Thirteen they quarrel,

Fourteen they part,

Fifteen they die of a broken heart.

DR. KURTZ LECTURES ON IDEALS OF EARLY CHURCH

Evangelism, Christian Education, And Missions Is Threefold Task Of The Church

Dr. Kurtz gave a lecture in the chapel Wednesday night upon "The Ideals and Early History of the Brethren Church" in which he pointed out the interesting historical conditions which led up to the organization of the Brethren Church and explained the ideals for which it has always stood.

Dr. Kurtz stated that after the Thirty Year's War from 1618 to 1648 there was more freedom for the Lutherans, Reformed (Calvinists), and Catholics. Bibles were very scarce in those days. Only one minister in twenty-nine had a Bible. A Pietistic Movement arose with the purpose of spiritualizing the dead formal churches or where this was impossible several withdrew from the former churches and new religious bodies were organized. This same movement was known as the Puritanistic Movement in England and the Hugenotistic Movement in France. All of these movements protested against the barrenness of the churches which had grown corrupt at that time.

The Brethren Church was organized by Alexander Mack in 1708 at Schwarzenau, Germany. The great fundamental principles of this body were: no force in religion, the doctrine of brotherhood, the Bible as God's Word to be read with an open mind, the New Testament to be taken as the rule of faith and practice, the high standards of morality, anti-slavery, democracy, woman's voice in church government, and the spiritual life.

According to Dr. Kurtz, with so much of paganism in churches, amusements, literature, and in common life the task of the church is threefold: evangelism, Christian education, and missions. A new race of prophets is needed to exemplify the truth. The Brethren Church has the historical background and spiritual heritage to supply this need if it will only take advantage of the opportunities of training the young people for Christian service.

PROF. P. C. HIEBERT GIVES VIVID PICTURE OF RUSSIA

Prof. P. C. Hiebert of Tabor College who spent some time doing relief work in Russia gave a very vivid account of existing conditions in that hunger-stricken country in a lecture in the chapel Thursday evening.

Russia once the granary of Europe is now begging for food. The countless revolutions that have been carried on have so devastated the country that the Russians who have survived are unable to better conditions without the aid of other countries.

When the great peasant class, so long subdued by the aristocrats, once came into power a program of destruction was inaugurated. Wealth and education were sufficient reasons for death and consequently the outstanding leaders were put out of the way, leaving only the ignorant and uneducated peasants to direct the vast Russian country. Naturally with such leaders in charge of the government affairs soon were in a deplorable condition.

The situation in Russia affords a challenge that cannot be overlooked. It is the duty of Christendom to come to the rescue and befriend the needy people of that devastated and ruined country. Not only is there a pleading call coming for food but also for intellectual training and the Gospel as well. Will America, the recognized leader among Christian nations, stand by heedless of the calls for help?

Ignorance never settles a question.—Disraeli.

Exchanges

Students and faculty at Southwestern College have pledged $5,000 toward a new gymnasium which will cost $225,000.

Three thousand costumes will be used in the presentation of the pageant, "Kansas," to be given at Ottawa next week by the city and college.

The Kansas City "Little Symphony," which comes to McPherson Feb. 3rd will appear at the Bethany College Chapel the following day.

The famous soprano, Galli Curci, will give a concert at Pittsburg Normal March 16th. Efforts to secure the popular artist began a year ago.

The Baker University Debate team plans to make an inter-state tour next month, meeting teams from Nebraska, Iowa, Oklahoma, and Texas.

Four days were given to final examinations in several of the colleges over the state. The advantage is—more time to study. The opponents may also argue—more time to worry.

Eleven state agricultural associations will hold their annual meeting at the Kansas State Agricultural College during Farm and Home Week, Feb. 5-10. A number of noted speakers are scheduled to appear.

Surprise Dinner

That things happen quite mysteriously is the conclusion that Ralph Garman reached last Sunday when he was completely surprised by a number of his friends at the Adamson home on East Euclid. Those who enjoyed the hospitality of the Adamson's were Rachel Dunham, Ruth Ullom, Grace Teeter, Marathon High, Ralph Garman, and Jacob Yoder.

Ruth Greene Entertains

Miss Ruth Greene was the charming hostess at a seven o'clock dinner party given at her home on South Main Street last Tuesday evening. When dinner partners had been found the guests were seated at six quartet tables daintily decorated with yellow snapdragons and white daisies. The delicious three course dinner which carried out the yellow and white color scheme was served by Mrs. J. Lawrence, Mrs. Forest Morris and Mrs. Loren Lawson. Games and music on the Edison furnished the evening's entertainment. Miss Rozella White and Mr. Milo Nice won the first prizes, plates of home made candy, while consolation prize, a stick of candy, was awarded to Mr. Gordon Heaston. Those who enjoyed Miss Greene's hospitality were the Misses Eunice Almen, Cordelia Anderson, Selma Engstrom, Maude Gish, Aenid Gray, Helen Hartell, Julia Jones, Phyllis Toews, Elberta Vaniman, Margaret Wall, Rozella White, and the Messrs. Earl Morris, Aubrey Hale, Russell Jones, Haddon Hsley, Gordon Heaston, Lloyd Hawley, Harvey Anderson, Silas Miller, Cleo Hill, Milo Nice, David Barnes, and Earl Linholm.

THAT HUMAN EDITOR

My son, the editor is a tender-hearted soul. He wears his skin on the outside. He gentle with him. Give him credit for doing the best he knows. Of course he knows that you could edit a magazine better than he can, but it hurts him to have you tell him so. Of course he ought to put your article in just as soon as it arrives; anybody ought to know that; but he is foolish enough to think that when it comes late and the magazine has gone to press he cannot get it in. It is foolish, of course, but he doesn't know any better. When he has one hundred pages of space and two hundred pages of matter, he thinks he can not publish it at all, but he ought to publish it. How, is none of his business. But he doesn't know. Have mercy on him.

"Be to his faults a little blind,
Be to his virtues very kind."

tists assembled for the purpose of rendering the best standard music to the public at large. Although not as large an organization as the Chicago or Minneapolis Symphony Orchestras, it plays the same quality of standard music and has a full instrumentation. While it has not so many in its personnel as some of the larger orchestras, the quantity is more than overbalanced by the quality and rendition of its numbers and some very beautiful symphonic effects are produced.

The programs to be given will be as follows:

FAIRMOUNT AND BETHEL TO MEET BULLDOGS THIS WEEK

Tomorrow night Coach Lonborg's cagers will try conclusions with Fairmount College at Wichita. This year as in preceding years the Shockers are represented with a strong aggregation of players. Thus far they have maintained a perfect percentage in the conference race, defeating Kansas State Normal 23 to 27 on the Normal's home court. In view of the fact that the Bulldogs were defeated by the Normals it would indicate that the Canines will have to show the Wheatshockers some real basketball to bring home the bacon.

The next home game will be with Bethel College of Newton Friday night. Although the Bulldogs were credited with two victories over this team last year the Bethelites have been showing up strong this year having won decisive victories from Friends and Sterling besides holding Southwestern to a two point win last Thursday night at Newton. With the McPherson five playing on the home court Bethel should not prove to be such a serious obstacle. However, a close game is expected when these two teams tangle Friday night.

HIGH SCHOOL WINS EASY VICTORY FROM ST. JOHN'S

St. John's Military School of Salina was defeated by the McPherson High School basketball team last Friday night at the college gym to the tune of 29 to 12. Coach Uhlraab's cagemen had the edge on the visiting squad throughout the entire game and were never in danger. The second team was played part of the time or probably the score would have been higher.

The McPherson basketekers started the scoring in the first half with a field goal followed by several free throws which were soon followed by two free throws for the visitors. The McPherson defense worked well allowing their opponents only one goal and two free throws in the first half while they scored 14 points.

St. John's came back stronger in the second half and registered three more field goals but they could not stop their opponents' superior team work. At the end of the game St. John's trailed at the end of a 29 to 12 score.

The score follows:

ST. JOHNS—12		F.G.		F.T.		P.P.
Heaton, f	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
