

LONBORG'S CAGERS WIN DOUBLE VICTORY FROM HAYS NORMAL QUINTET

Tigers Put Up Stiff Fight But Are Defeated 38-8 In First Game And 46-13 In Second

M. C. DEFENSE SHOWS UP WELL

Hill And Sargent Are High Point Men For McPherson—Harnhardt Stars For Hays

Coach Lonborg's cagers had little difficulty in turning back the Hays Normal Tigers 38 to 8 Tuesday evening and 46 to 13 Wednesday evening in a two game series played on the home court. Although the visitors put up a stiff fight from start to finish they could not check the fierce attacks staged by the fighting Bulldogs.

First Game

The first game was marked by the stone wall defense put up by the Canines which held the battling Tigers to only three field goals and a pair of free throws throughout the entire fray. The brilliant Bulldog offensive took the lead from the start of the contest and steadily increased it to a total of sixteen field goals and six free throws. Although the Hays team did not gain as many points as their opponents they played a hard, clean game and fought gamely until the last moment of play.

McPherson Gets Early Lead

McPherson took the lead early in the game when Hill tossed in a field goal which Hays soon followed by a free throw. From that time on the Bulldog scoring machine continued its course ringing up seven more field counters and three gift points at the end of the period. The best Hays could do only netted them two field goals which left them holding down the short end of a 19 to 5 count at the end of the half.

Strickler Plays Great Game

Although "Dutch" sent his subs into the game for part of the second half the Canines never slackened their pace, making the same number of field goals and free throws for a total of 19 points as in the first half while the Teachers were held to only one field counter and a free throw. Hill was high point man for McPherson with seven field throws. Strickler played a classy game at guard and Enns, who took Ellwood's guard position, gave a fine account of himself.

The lineup:

Hays—8		McPherson—38
	F. G. F. T. P. F.		F. G. F. T. P. F.
Opdycke, f	0 2 0	Hill, f	7 3 1
Barnhardt, f	2 0 1	Crumpacker, f	1 0 0
Schneider, c	1 0 2	Sargent, c	2 0 3
Riley, g	0 0 2	Strickler, g	2 3 1
Shade, g	0 0 1	Enns, g	2 0 0
Hinkhouse, f	0 0 2	Holloway, c	0 0 0
		Daggett, f	2 0 1
		Tipton, g	0 0 1
			15 6 7

Second Game

McPherson again smothered the Normals in the second game which differed only in a few respects from the preceding contest. The Bulldogs were going stronger with Ellwood back at guard and Sargent again hitting his stride at the pivot position. Outstanding in the point gaining division was the work of Sargent and Hill who each piled up a total of 16 points which tied them for high point honors.

The Bulldogs ran up an eight point lead in the first half before the Tigers were able to score with a free throw. During the remainder

FIRST ACADEMY DEBATE TO BE HELD FRIDAY EVENING

The first Academy debate will be held in the chapel at 7:30 Friday evening when Bethel's negative team will vie for forensic laurels with Harry Lehman and Ralph Martin, McPherson's affirmative team. Harvey Lehman and Elmer Krehbiel, who compose the negative team, will meet Bethany's affirmative speakers at Lindsborg the same evening. The question to be discussed is, Resolved: That the federal government should take over the management or control of the coal industry.

Last year McPherson took first place in the league and with three members of the 1922 team back, the Academy should make another mark for itself.

RECITAL IS GIVEN BY FINE ARTS STUDENTS

PROGRAM IS OF EXCEPTIONAL MERIT AND IS WELL RENDERED

Under the direction of the Fine Arts Department a student recital was given in the chapel Monday evening, February 12. The program rendered was as follows:

Alpine Maiden's Sunday	..... Bull
Angel's Dream	..... Lagye
Kiuawalk	..... Waniasewsky
.....	..... Oliver Ebel
Piano Duet, Invitation to the Dance	..... Weber
.....	..... Mrs. Ada Unruh, Bessie Bremen
The Lost Word	..... Van Dyke
.....	..... Mary Andes
Violin Duet, Carnival of Venice	..... Arranged by Weiss
.....	..... Oliver Ebel, Ruth Hiebert
I've Something Sweet To Tell You	..... Fanning
Forbidden Music	..... Gastaldon
.....	..... P. Roy Brammell
Nocturne F Sharp Major	..... Chopin
Impromptu Op. 90, No. 4	..... Schubert
.....	..... Helen Garst
Old Refrain	..... Kreisler
Berceuse	..... Reber
Spanish Dance	..... Moskowski
.....	..... Wileta Durst

A play, "Picked Up Dinner," which was to be given by Jay Eller, Maxine Hoover, and Irene Hawley, was not presented because of the illness of a member of the cast.

The program was exceptionally well rendered, every performer showing potential artistic possibilities. However, it is most regrettable that not more students attend the recitals as they are given from time to time. The programs are very much worth while and are not "above the heads" of any McPherson College student. They contribute to the aesthetic development of the individual which is a trait of character not to be disregarded.

MISSIONARIES TO CHINA ARE FORCED TO RETURN

A telegram received last Tuesday from Vancouver, British Columbia, stated that Mr. and Mrs. Miles G. Blickenstaff, missionaries to China in 1921, had arrived there the day before. Mrs. Blickenstaff has had ill health for some time. Various elevations and climates were tried but to no avail and at last she was advised by several of the best doctors in China to return to America. In a letter to A. A. Keiser, editor of the Gove County Advocate at Quinter, Kansas, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest L. Ikenberry, both alumni of M. C. who are at present studying in the language school at Peking, write as follows: "We are sorry that Blickenstaff's have to return to the States. Our whole mission is sorry to lose them for they are the kind that make good on a mission field." The future plans of Mr. and Mrs. Blickenstaff have not been made known.

An injury done to character is greater than can be estimated.

VETERAN HUNTER TELLS OF HIS EXPERIENCES IN NORTH AMERICAN WILDS

Forty-Two Years Spent As A Student Of Nature Is Record Held By "Grizzly" Smith

HAD MANY NARROW ESCAPES

Relates Interesting Scientific Facts About The Habits Of Bears And Squirrels

C. L. "Grizzly" Smith, who has spent forty-two years in the study of wild life in North America, gave at the Opera House Thursday evening a very interesting account of his experiences in the wilds. Friday morning in chapel a very attentive audience listened to his narration of legends of the Coquille Indians who live in southwestern Oregon.

Explores Great Northwest

Mr. Smith has spent a large part of his life alone in the mountain wilds subsisting chiefly on venison and roots. In this way he passed the entire summer of 1886 in the Cascade mountains of Oregon. He has had several very narrow escapes in his encounters with grizzly bears. Once the adventurer witnessed a fight between a panther and a bear which he graphically pictured. A fact, singular to people in general, is that wild animals never attack human beings unless given due cause for offense. In most cases they quickly respond to kind treatment. The lecturer has formed many close friendships with wild animals through kindness.

Gives Interesting Facts

The habits of wild life are especially interesting from a scientific standpoint. The lecturer gave some very illuminating information concerning the hibernation of bears and squirrels. A certain species of squirrels in the Cascade mountains hibernates ten months of the year and during that time becomes cold and stiff with a heartbeat of only six times per minute. The lone camper's life was depicted quite clearly. Many think such men are devoid of the finer capacities of civilization yet Mr. Smith proved the opposite to be true. The lecture was well attended by a very appreciative audience.

DR. KURTZ LECTURES AT IOWA STATE UNIVERSITY

Dr. Kurtz left again last Friday morning on a brief lecture tour. Friday evening he lectured at Haverhill, Kansas. Sunday afternoon he spoke at a Vesper Service at the Iowa State University at Iowa City. He returned Monday evening. It certainly is remarkable how Dr. Kurtz can continually deliver so many lectures over several states and yet do the work of several men at the college here.

MAGAZINE RACK IS BUILT

A magazine rack containing ten shelves each nineteen feet long was built in the stack room of the library last week. With this additional space for the magazines more room will be available on the book shelves for the many books which the library is receiving from time to time.

Circumstances do not make the man—they reveal him.

PEP CLUB TO HOLD BOX SOCIAL FRIDAY EVENING

The gymnasium will be the scene of a very "peppy" box social Friday evening after the Bethel debate. This event which will be under the auspices of the Pep Club on the eve of the Bethany game should prove to be one of the most enthusiastic entertainments of the school year. The girls of the school will bring decorated boxes, prepared "just for two." Because of the lateness of the hour, there will be no auction but the boxes will be numbered and the boys will draw numbers paying fifty cents for each. A very interesting program has been arranged for and the Pep Club cordially invites all girls with their boxes and all boys with their pocket books.

DRAMATIC ART CLASS WILL PRESENT PLAY

TO GIVE "THE LION AND THE MOUSE" THURSDAY NIGHT

The four-act drama, "The Lion and the Mouse" by Charles Klein, will be presented in the chapel Thursday evening at eight o'clock by students of the Dramatic Art Class as a number on the student activity ticket.

"The Lion and the Mouse" is the story of a young girl's battle with an American money king. It is founded on an attempted impeachment of a federal judge before the United States Senate. John Burkett Ryder, the "Lion," is called the richest man in America. He plans the destruction of Judge Rosmore because the fearless judge has handed down decisions inimical to Ryder's vast financial interests. Shirley Rosmore, daughter of the judge, bears of her father's plight and undertakes to clear him of the charges. She seeks and obtains employment as Ryder's private secretary under an assumed name. In her role of secretary she obtains letters which prove her father innocent of the charges against him. Shirley defies the "Lion" and demands justice for her parent. Ryder, who at first is mastered by a terrible rage against the girl who has dared oppose his will, is finally softened by admiration for the girl's pluck. Rosmore is saved and his daughter is forgiven by the "Lion" who ultimately consents to the marriage of his son to the girl who braved him in his den. Mr. Klein's play ranks as one of the greatest successes the American stage has ever known. The play is one of absorbing interest and has a very positive worth while message.

ACADEMY OF SCIENCE TO CONVENE HERE NEXT YEAR

The Kansas Academy of Science in its annual convention held this year at the University of Kansas February 16 and 17 accepted the invitation of the McPherson College faculty to meet at M. C. in 1924. Prof. Ninsinger was honored by being advanced from second vice-president to first vice-president of the association. He gave two papers on Winter Birds of Kansas, and Labrea Fossil Beds of California before the Academy.

The other officers elected were: Dr. Cady of Kansas University, president, and Dr. Ackert of Kansas State Agricultural College, second vice-president. Dr. A. E. White of Kansas University is permanent secretary.

About fifty members were present, M. C. having the largest delegation from any small college. Professors Hershey and Morris, and Warren Knau of McPherson, who also gave two addresses, attended the meeting, and Professors Yoder, Morris, and Blair became members of the Academy, also of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

BULLDOGS TAKE THIRD PLACE IN CONFERENCE BY DEFEATING COYOTES

21-12 Victory Over Kansas Wesleyan Gives Lonborg's Quintet A Standing Of 7-0

GAME IS BITTERLY CONTESTED

"Time Outs" and Substitutes Prove Useless To Methodists In Final Rally

The Bulldogs again took the Coyotes into camp Friday night at Salina when they defeated the scrapping Wesleyans to the tune of 21 to 12 in a game which decided which team should take third place in the conference standing. The game was featured by the air tight five man defense presented by the Canines which kept the Methodists from piling up a larger score on their home court.

Coyotes Tie Score

Neither team was able to score for the first few minutes of play, then Sargent of McPherson started the scoring with a field goal which was soon duplicated by Hill and Ellwood. Suddenly the Coyotes came to life when Phillippi broke loose and ran up three goals in a row which, with a free throw, tied the count at 7 all for a few minutes. The Bulldogs, however, were not to be headed and soon Crumpacker tossed in a two point counter and Sargent caged another just before the half ended with McPherson leading 11 to 7.

Wesleyan Rally Falls

In the second period the Wesleyans tried hard to win, calling numerous "time outs" and sending in substitutes but all to no avail. Hill and Crumpacker, Lonborg's whirlwind forwards, each tallied two more field goals and Ellwood shot in another long one while the best efforts of Coach Mackie's men only netted them two goals and a free throw. The entire game was bitterly contested by the Coyotes and only by displaying a slightly superior brand of basketball were the Canines able to register a win. This victory gives the Bulldogs a standing of 7-0 for third place in the conference.

M. C. TO BE ADVERTISED IN THE TOPEKA DAILY CAPITAL

For some time the Sunday edition of the Topeka Daily Capital has contained a full page advertisement of some college in the state. Next Sunday McPherson College will be advertised. There will be cuts of Dr. Kurtz, the student body, the football squad, and the buildings on the campus, as well as writeups of the different phases of the work which M. C. is doing.

Prof. McGaffey: "Give us a sentence with a compound subject."
William Mudra: "We went hunting."

If you like the advice you are getting it probably isn't what you need.

OLD GLORY

The heart of every patriotic American on College Hill thrilled with pride last Monday as Old Glory majestically waved her colors in honor of the birthday of the "Savior of our country." Nothing is more beautiful than our national flag when it is unfurled in the breeze and it should float over the campus every day that the weather permits.

SUPERVISE YOURSELF

In almost every kind of business establishment there are two classes of employees—those who watch and those who are watched.

If every worker did his work so well and so conscientiously that no supervision was necessary, labor costs would be cut in half and the production increased tremendously. In addition if everyone did his work to the best of his ability and did not try to see how little he could do for his wages, there no longer would be complaints about carelessly made goods.

The one who succeeds in this world is he who does his work faithfully and to the best of his ability at all times whether he is watched or not, or who works just as well when the boss's back is turned as he does when the boss is watching. This is the man who will be first promoted and sooner or later will reach the top of the ladder.

We are forming habits now. If we wish to succeed, in like manner, we must learn to apply ourselves to the tasks at hand, without being urged on by superiors.

So long as the students shirk their work and waste time when they are not watched just that long it will be necessary to have teachers act as policemen.

The student who watches himself enjoys his studies more, gets his lessons, gains the approval of the instructors and what is more vitally important, strengthens his own character and forms the habit to do his work without supervision.

Let us all be our own watchers. Let us supervise ourselves.

R. O.

ANSWER THESE IF YOU CAN

Did you ever see: A board walk, a stone step, a cow slip, a peanut stand, a sardine box, a house fly, a bed spring, a clock run, an ink stand, a morning break, a night fall, or a mill run? Or answer these: Do ships have eyes when they go out to sea? Are there springs in the ocean's bed? Does the river ever lose its head? Is a newspaper white when it's read? When you eat a square meal do the corners hurt? Is a baker broke when he is making dough?

M. C. Rooters Find That All's Not Smooth Sailing After A Victory On Foreign Soil

The shattered nerves of two of M. C.'s gallants and two of the fair ones of the institution have finally recovered to such an extent that they are able to relate the harrowing details of an evening in a neighboring college town.

The aforementioned persons had just witnessed the vanquishing of a foe by M. C. and were starting for McPherson intoxicated with the victory, and echoing the cheers of the M. C. rooters as they stopped before a candy kitchen. A burly form appeared and an authoritative voice informed them that their conduct was not appreciated and invited them to leave the city. The gallant shakily stammered his thanks only to have the invitation repeated with more force.

"We won the basketball game, anyway," sang the McPhersonite growing brave.

"We won the football game, anyway," countered the burly form as he moved on.

Eats were forgotten and the company drove around town but the familiar burly form was again seen. Panic stricken, the driver started to make his last exit, but the fearful form with authoritative voice ran up with hands held high signalling the car to stop. There was a glint of steel, afterwards decided upon as an "Eversharp," and imagination saw an additional star in the sky. The quaking driver "stepped on the gas" and went home without further parley. The occupants of the car extricated themselves and were soon in their respective beds with heads under covers, vowing never to trespass on the territory of the enemy in the near future.

The names of the persons cannot be divulged as they desire secrecy, and it is thought best not to mention the name of the city. However, students are advised to deport themselves with meekness after victories on other courts and to do nothing that might in any way incense the authorities thus bringing undesirable publicity to the institution.

The Inquisitive Inquirer

What do you consider the characteristic qualities of a "good sport"?

Ocie McAvoy—A "good sport" does not necessarily mean one who follows the crowd, but one who stands firmly for his ideals takes good clean fun, and is thoughtful of other people's rights.

John Harly—To be a "good sport" one may be serious but should laugh when laughter is due—even at himself. He must not be afraid to smash the conventional once in awhile but ought to decide for himself what is best.

Bernice Hoover—My idea of a "good sport" is one who is not afraid to apologize or to admit that he is in the wrong. He does not express all of his thoughts to just anyone, but chooses his friends carefully, yet is not "stuck up" or exclusive. He always tries to make himself agreeable.

Earl Morris—I would call a fellow who has a good sense of humor, a kindly disposition, who is not over-confident or boastful, and who has a keen interest in uplifting amusements a "good sport."

Hazel Vogt—An honest-to-goodness "sport" must have plenty of pep, know how to take a joke, do what he thinks is right no matter what "they say," and be courteous and respectful in defeat as well as in victory.

COLLEGE HILL

College Hill a place of renown Has won for itself a name.

It lies at the edge of a peaceful town, Striving onward to fame.

Not fame such as the world would give,

But that which dwells in the heart.

And thoughts of it shall ever live, With those that are here and those apart.

'Tis the work of the men who were true,

Who have laid their good lives down;

Whose hearts have yearned for the Father, too,

That has brought us this college town.

From it have gone the best of men, Strong in body and strong in soul.

Out in the world of strife and sin, To battle with life and win the goal.

Some are living by the side of the road,

Just being a friend to man.

While others have lives in their hands to mould

Teaching to each a definite plan. There are those who dwell on foreign soil,

While some the land doth till, But all of these will cease from their toil.

And give thanks for College Hill.

THOUGHTS FROM THE SUNDAY MORNING SERMON

Rev. H. F. Richards, pastor of the First Church of the Brethren on College Hill, is giving a series of Sunday morning sermons on the great fundamentals of life. The discourses thus far have dealt especially with the subject of God.

In the sermon last Sunday morning Rev. Richards discussed the incarnation of God in Christ. Man's idea concerning God has been too mechanical and has concealed the very things which were to be revealed. The fundamental idea of the incarnation of God in Christ is always present just as much now as it ever was. It reveals that God is personal. His is a divine will with which ours may commune. Such a communication raises us up and gives us hope.

The incarnation of God in Christ reveals the nearness of God. He is infinitely nearer us than we suppose but we tend to put Him so far away instead of bringing Him to us. God is a moral God. He is also a living God interested in humanity. He revealed himself through Christ so that we could understand His goodness.

God is a social God and the religion which He sent through Jesus is a social religion. The incarnation of God is the revelation of the most profound truth in the world—the revelation of the Eternal.

Y. W. C. A.

Devotions in Y. W. Wednesday morning were led by Estella Engle after which a very clever pageant was presented. This pageant was the original work of some of the members of the Y. W. C. A. with suggestions from Miss McClenahan, the student secretary of the Rocky Mountain Region. ### Junior Girls' Are Entertained.

Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Craik very cordially entertained the girls of the Junior College Class at a dinner party at their home Saturday evening. With the desert course of the delicious dinner came the daintily decorated and tasty cakes by which Mrs. Craik's superior culinary skill is known. Music on the Victrola and violin solos by Master Warren Craik were added pleasures of the evening. The Junior girls heartily appreciate the royal entertainment of Dr. and Mrs. Craik and all are truly glad to be Juniors.

Announcement Party

Mrs. A. K. Curtis entertained at her home on 720 South Main on February 14th for her daughter, Iva at a dinner party of charming appointment. The rooms of the home were artistically decorated with cupids, hearts and roses. The guests were seated at quartette tables, where the color scheme was emphasized by the brilliant red flowers used as centerpieces. The four course dinner was served by the Misses Ruth Greene, Selma Engstrom, Juanita Tracey and Julia Jones. The favors were red fabrics and white fairies. During the progress of the dinner the girls discovered that the arrow-place card which pierced the hearts under the fairies contained the surprising news of the announcement of Miss Curtis' betrothal to Mr. Paul Wilmore Harnly of Chanute, Kansas. The guest list included the Mesdames Forrest Gaw, Therkelsen Jensen, Ed Barrah, Clifton Ferguson and Luther Curtis, and the Misses Mercedes Chapman, Clara Bromeyer, Marie Cullen, Jessie Bob Severson, Ursula Flory, Ada Kurtz, Cecile Martin, Alice Burkholder, Edna Sward, Lydia Sward, Rowena Vaniman, Mildred Jacobs, Ruby Falk and Lola Hill. Rogrets were received from Mesdames Nelson Krehbiel, Ralph Curtis, Rex Curtis, C. A. Williams, and Misses Helene Hughes, Benah Heftstrom, Signe Freeburg, Alice Severson and Marie Kinn. From The McPherson Daily Republican.

Selma Engstrom Entertains

The home of Mr and Mrs. E. Engstrom was the scene of a very merry gathering last Thursday evening when Selma Engstrom entertained at a St. Valentine's party. The rooms which had been beautifully decorated with hearts and cupids were aglow with lighted candles and the fragrance of burning incense filled the air. Games were played and music on the Pathe was enjoyed until a late hour when a delicious two-course luncheon in a red and white color scheme was served by the Misses Bertha Bergen and Iva Curtis and Mrs. Ray Beard. COLLEGE GREENHOUSE IS BEING PUT TO USE

The college greenhouse, which is the memorial of the senior class of '21 is being used by a class which is studying greenhouse culture under Professor Mohler. At present, most of the space is devoted to house plants. A large bed has been sown with lettuce which will be sold when marketable. The class also plans to grow other kitchen herbs and the dormitory students may be served with fresh greens and vegetables in the coming weeks. In this way the class hopes to meet the expenses which arise.

The enclosure is heated by means of a hot water system, installed by the college, and kept at a temperature of 70 degrees Fahrenheit. The greenhouse was built with much hard labor and expense by the class of '21 and is a valuable addition to the college. With this memorial serving a practical purpose the members of the class may feel that their efforts have been rewarded and their gift appreciated.

BULLDOGS TO TANGLE WITH BETHANY SWEDS SATURDAY

Next Saturday night the Bulldogs will again tangle with the "Terrible Swedes" from Lindsborg. On February 6 with a badly crippled team the Canines nosed out a 11 to 10 victory from the Swedes on the Bethany court but with their team intact they are preparing to take sweet revenge for the 6 to 9 football defeat handed them last fall. The night after the 46 to 13 Bulldog victory over the Hays Normal quintet the Swedes defeated the same aggregation 23 to 16 which gives the McPherson cagers the edge as far as dope is concerned but Lindsay's crew can be counted on to give the Canines some real opposition.

HIGH SCHOOL QUINNET TAKES LEAD IN LEAGUE

The High School basketball team took the lead in the Central Kansas League last Tuesday night when they defeated Salina 23 to 8 at the college gymnasium. The game was one of the hardest fought high school games seen here this season. The first half was about evenly contested but at the half way mark the Macks-men were leading 9 to 6. In the second period Coach Uhrlaub's men came back strong running their score up to 22 and only allowing their opponents to tally two free throws for the remainder of the game.

Friday night at Salina the McPherson cagemen romped on the St. John's Military Academy team to the tune of 52 to 9. The Cadets fought gamely throughout the entire contest but were unable to stop McPherson's scoring machine. Their own offense was only able to earn one solitary field goal through the impregnable McPherson defense.

A closely contested game with the Ellsworth High School cagers on their own court Saturday night resulted in a 21 to 11 victory for the McPherson quintet. This is the first time these two teams have tangled this season. The Ellsworth basket-ers put up a stiff fight but they were forced to bow before the battling Macks-men.

Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Fritz J. Hjelm, A. B. 1922, pastor of the Swedish Mission Church of McPherson, favored the members of the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday morning with an interesting talk on Sweden. After briefly discussing the size of the country and the political and social life of the people, Rev. Hjelm entered into a more thorough discussion of the religious conditions of the nation. The Y. M. C. A. is well established and is carrying on a work similar to that in America. The people of Sweden, while very religiously inclined, are largely members of the Lutheran Church which is the state church of that country. Although Lutheranism has a very strong hold on the people, nevertheless other denominations, the Baptist and Methodist Churches in particular, are fast coming to the front.

of the period Hays only added two field goals to their tally while the Canine cagers increased their lead to 21 to 8 when the half ended.

Lonborg Sends In Second Team

The second session began with Coach Lonborg's favorites going at a great rate and when the score reached the forty mark he sent in his subs for the remainder of the game. The Hays quintet came back stronger in this period but was unable to seriously impede the battling Bulldogs. Barnhardt played the best game for Hays scoring three field goals but all the players of the visiting team must be commended for the fighting spirit they displayed through the entire game.

This makes the fourth victory won from Hays this season during which the Canines scored a total of 131 points in contrast to 40 for the Tigers. Leslie Edmonds refereed the game in a manner satisfactory to everyone.

ACADEMY DROPS TWO GAMES.

The Academy basketball team journeyed to Galva last Tuesday night for a battle with the high school cagers there but returned with the small end of a 25 to 16 score. The Cads, however, gave their opponents a hard fight and only by a strong rally in the fourth quarter did the Galva team overcome the Academy's lead. The Cads showed good form throughout the game but were handicapped by the small court which kept them from scoring on long shots.

Saturday night the Academy was defeated by the Buhler High School team at Buhler but the McPherson boys fought hard and gave their opponents plenty of exercise.

CHEMISTRY STUDENTS MEET

The first of a series of meetings of the Amalgamated Chemical Exchange was held in Prof. Hershey's room Wednesday, February 14. The aim of these meetings is to study more minutely certain important scientific questions which cannot be taken up in the various classes. The subject discussed was the Periodic System. All present felt that they had been well repaid for being there.

Senior: "Did you attend the centennial celebration?"
Fresh: "No, but I hope to be present at the next one."

Roommate: "Say, can I borrow your hat again?"
Student: "Sure, why the formality?"
Roommate: "Oh I can't find it."
