

EXPRESSION STUDENTS PRESENT KLEIN'S "THE LION AND THE MOUSE"

Is Best Dramatic Production Staged By McPherson College Talent This Year

LARGE AUDIENCE ATTENDS
Maxine Hoover, Jay Eller, and Samuel Kurtz Play Leading Parts in Effective Manner

The comedy-drama, The Lion and the Mouse, by Klein, was presented to a large audience in the McPherson College chapel last Thursday evening by the Expression Department under the direction of Miss Alma G. Anderson.

The Story of The Play
Judge Rossmore of the supreme court is about to be impeached on false charges through the efforts of John Burkett Ryder, New York millionaire, a worshiper of power, because of decisions of the Judge against the wealthy man. Shirley Rossmore, the daughter, who loves Jefferson Ryder, son of the money king, refuses to marry him and determines to fight Ryder who is controlling the majority party of the senate, and thus win back her father's fortune, position, and name. She has written a book denouncing the millionaire, using a pen name. Incensed, Ryder interviews her, not knowing that she is Shirley Rossmore, but, captivated by her derring to oppose him, is induced to confide in her, and engages her as his biographer. Shirley's efforts to save her father by securing papers proving his innocence are fruitless and on the eve of the trial she resorts to an appeal to the mercy of Ryder, revealing her identity. He apparently has no sympathy. Jefferson refuses to give Shirley up; Shirley refuses to marry a son of John Burkett Ryder. She prepares to leave, not accepting Jefferson's efforts to help her because they would estrange him from his father. Ryder, after a sleepless night, is thawed by Shirley's fearlessness, entreats her forgiveness, and the trio go to Washington to save the Judge.

Entire Cast Plays Well
The entire cast played creditably, the leading parts deserving special praise. Maxine Hoover in the role of Shirley Rossmore excellently portrayed the character of that fearless girl; Samuel Kurtz as Jefferson Ryder was a typical rich man's son revolting from the control by his father; and Jay Eller, taking the part of the dominating John Burkett Ryder, could not have been equalled by an amateur.

The audience held its breath in suspense during the tense parts of the drama, and was intermittently forced to hold its sides in laughter at the comedy contributed by Irene Hawley, Marie Cullen, Isabel Knaus, and William Riddleberger in their respective parts.

The Lion and the Mouse is by far the best dramatic production staged by M. C. talent this year and the cast and coach are to be congratulated because of their work.

SPICER WINS SCHOLARSHIP

John Spicer, of the Senior Academy class, won this year's scholarship which is offered each year by the college. The reward, which entitles the recipient to two semesters tuition in a college course, goes to the student who receives the best grades throughout his academy course. Mr. Spicer has an enviable record which includes grades showing superior scholarship and can well be proud of the honor which he has received.

Prof. Mohler Referees at County Tournament

Prof. R. E. Mohler refereed the Butler county basketball tournament which was held at Eldorado, Friday and Saturday. Eldorado won in class A and Towanda in class B. On March 9 and 10 Prof. Mohler will referee the tournament of the Eighth District which will be held at Salina.

BULLDOGS TO CLASH WITH WHEATSHOCKERS TONIGHT

The Bulldogs will meet the invading Fairmount Wheatshockers tonight in the gymnasium and Friday night will close the season's conference games when they meet the Bethel quintet at Newton. As the Bulldogs have defeated Fairmount 27 to 26 at Wichita and have beaten the Bethel quintet 29 to 14 at McPherson, the dope says that the Canines should annex both these games. However, dope is always unreliable and without a doubt Coach Lonborg's men will have to put forth their best efforts to place these two games in the left hand column.

DOTY IS CHOICE FOR Y. M. C. A. PRESIDENT

THREE OTHER OFFICERS FOR NEW CABINET ARE ELECTED

The election held Wednesday morning to select the executive members of the new Y. M. C. A. cabinet resulted in the unanimous choice of LeRoy Doty for president. The other officers elected were Harold Barton, vice-president; David Strickler, secretary; and Dale Strickler, treasurer. All of these men are well qualified for the positions they now hold and should safely pilot the Y. M. C. A. through a successful year.

A short program preceded the election. Abram Hostetter had charge of the devotions after which two numbers of special music were rendered by Roy Brammell, Harry Bowers, and Emmert Paik.

The election of officers for the Y. W. C. A. will be held tomorrow. A joint installation service will be held early in March after which the officers of both organizations will enter upon their executive duties.

NINA SWANSON WRITES ON WELFARE WORK IN KANSAS

A pamphlet entitled "The Development of Public Protection of Children in Kansas" by Nina Swanson has recently been placed in the college library. This article was submitted to the department of sociology and the faculty of the Graduate School of the University of Kansas in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree of master of arts, June 1, 1922. Some of the topics discussed in this article are "State Control of Agencies Caring for Children," "Child Labor and Education," "Public Protection of the Health of Mothers and Children," and "Children in Need of Special Care."

Miss Swanson entered McPherson College in 1914, receiving the degree of bachelor of arts in 1917. After three years of teaching she enrolled at Kansas University as a graduate student in the department of sociology, being granted the degree of master of arts in 1922. She is at present with the Children's Protective Society of Minneapolis, Minnesota.

McPherson College in recognition of Miss Swanson's scholarship and moral worth awarded her the fellowship to Kansas University in 1921-22. The College is proud to have had such a splendid student as Nina Swanson in the school and wishes to congratulate her upon her achievement.

McPHERSON ACADEMY DEBATERS WIN FROM BETHEL AND BETHANY

Harry Lehman and Ralph Martin Get 2-1 Decision From Bethel On Home Floor

COAL QUESTION IS DISCUSSED

Elmer Krebhiel and Harvey Lehman Defeat Bethany 2-1 At Lindsborg

Victory took sides with the McPherson Academy debaters last Friday evening when they met and defeated both the Bethels and the Swedes in a dual clash. The spoils consisted of two 2-1 decisions. The debate on the home floor proved quite close and interesting.

Bethel Puts Up Good Fight
The invading negative team from Bethel, composed of Edna Voth and Anton Rickett, put up a good fight but could not vanquish the affirmative arguments supported by Ralph Martin and Harry Lehman. The speeches of both sides showed an intensive study of the question which was "Resolved: That the government should take over the management or control of the coal industry." Prof. Deeter presided over the contest. At the close Anna Lingie and Laura McClelland each favored the audience with a piano solo. The judges were F. J. Mercer, Principal of the Salina High School, M. D. Landis of the History Department of Hesston College, and Paul C. Loveless, Superintendent of the Durham High School.

Negative Wins at Lindsborg
Harvey Lehman and Elmer Krebhiel invaded the Swede territory accompanied by Prof. McGaffey, Jesse Carney, and B. F. Waas. The opposing Swede affirmatives could not resist the onslaught although well prepared. The McPherson speakers had decidedly the best arguments. These debates put M. C. at the head of the Pentangular League of Academies. The standing is McPherson two debates, Bethel one, Central, Bethany, and Tabor each none.

BOX SOCIAL PROVES TO BE A DECIDED SUCCESS

The box social staged in the gymnasium Friday evening by the Pop Club after the basketball game between McPherson and Abilene high schools was a decided success in spite of the small number of persons who attended.

An interesting program was given after the sale of the boxes. The numbers included a reading by Rozella White, a piano solo by Evelyn Roberts, and music by a quartet composed of Marie Cullen, Ocie McAvoy, Roy Brammell, and Jess Garvey. A clever one-act play "Picked Up Dinner" by Maxine Hoover, Irene Hawley, and Jay Eller was presented while the goodies contained in the boxes were being disposed of. Music by Harry Bowers, Evelyn Roberts, and William Mudra furnished entertainment until the social was brought to a close.

M. C. IS ADVERTISED IN TOPEKA DAILY CAPITAL

A full page advertisement of McPherson College is contained in Sunday's issue of the Topeka Daily Capital. The advertisement contains nearly 3,500 words besides cuts of Dr. Kurtz, the campus buildings, the 1922 football squad, and a group picture of the student body. Nearly every phase of college life at M. C. is discussed at some length while the advantages of McPherson as an educational center are clearly set forth. The page presents the facts about M. C. in a very effective manner.

FIFTH LYCEUM NUMBER WILL BE GIVEN TONIGHT

GREATEST AMERICAN VIOLINIST WILL GIVE MUSICAL PROGRAM

Florence Hardeman, violinist, assisted at the piano by Stewart Willie, will appear at the opera house at 8:30 tonight as the fifth number of the Lyceum Course.

"Miss Hardeman is being hailed throughout the world as the greatest American violinist. She has appeared as soloist with some of the leading symphony orchestras of the country, also with the leading music clubs of New York City. Besides this, she has toured with some of the world's greatest artists. She accompanied Sarah Bernhardt around the world, and toured as soloist with Lieut. John Phillip Sousa and his band. During the past winter, she was engaged by Madam Schumann-Heink, as assisting artist and this year she will accompany the great prima donna on her tour around the world. Miss Hardeman is a true artist unexcelled."

Stewart Willie is well known in McPherson for his brilliancy as an artist at the piano. Those who want to hear a program of the best type of music can well afford to attend this musical tonight.

M. C. DEBATERS TO MEET BETHANY IN DUAL CLASH

Bishop and Lankford Will Remain Here While Waas and Dirks Will Go To Lindsborg

The star college debate clash of the season will occur Friday evening when M. C.'s forensic Bulldogs mix with Bethany's debaters here and at Lindsborg. The question for discussion is "Resolved: That the United States should adopt the Cabinet Parliamentary system of government (constitutionality waived)."

B. F. Waas and Isaac Dirks will invade the Swede territory upholding the affirmative in opposition to W. H. Skinner and Clifford Swenson. W. E. Bishop and Oscar Lankford will defend the home camp against the Bethany affirmatives, Stanley Skilling and Walter Osterberg. The judges chosen for the home contest are Vincent A. Davis, Debate Coach of Kansas State Normal, J. H. Lawrence, Debate Coach of the College of Emporia, and Braden C. Johnston, an attorney of Marton, Kansas.

The standing in the Northern Division of the State Debate League is as follows: Bethany five votes, McPherson four, Kansas Wesleyan two, and Sterling one. Last year McPherson defeated Fairmount for the state championship after a hard fight with the Swedes in the Northern Division. Bethany has two of last year's debaters back and so has McPherson so a battle royal is expected Friday evening.

BULLDOG BASKETEERS HAND SECOND DEFEAT TO BETHANY QUINTET

Canines Outplay "Terrible Swedes" In Every Department And Win 32-14

VISITORS PUT UP GOOD FIGHT

Captain Crumpacker Cages Six Field Baskets For High Point Man

The Bulldog basketball team again humbled the Terrible Bethany Swedes here Saturday night by defeating them to the tune of 32 to 14. The McPherson quintet clearly outplayed their opponents in every department of the contest on both the defensive and the offensive. The Canines caged a total of fifteen field goals from every position on the floor while the Swedes were forced to make long difficult shots for their six field baskets. At no time in the game were the Swedes in the lead and the 32 to 14 score gives the Bulldogs more than a double score over their ancient rivals from the north.

McPherson Scores First

Neither team was able to score for the first few minutes of play but soon McPherson started the scoring when Hill tossed in a free throw which Strickler followed with a field basket. Bethany fought hard during this period but the Bulldogs steadily increased their lead. Ellwood's heavy artillery accounted for two more field goals near the close of the half which ended with the Swedes trailing a 14 to 7 score.

Swedes Try To Stage A Comeback

Both teams came back with lots of fight in the second session. Sargent was closely guarded the entire game but Lindsay's men soon became aware of the fact that the McPherson team was composed of not one but five stars. The fast Bulldog forwards, Hill and Crumpacker, tore through the Bethany defense for repeated goals while Bethany was held to the same score this half as during the first period. Crumpacker, captain of the McPherson quintet, caged six field goals for high point man.

THE LION AND THE MOUSE

The presentation of The Lion and the Mouse Thursday evening was by far the most impressive and the best produced play put on by the Dramatic Art Department in recent years. The cast was particularly well chosen; the leading dramatic parts being portrayed in a manner that was almost above fault. The remarkable rendition of the play speaks well for the Dramatic Art Department.

A GENTLE REMINDER

There are those talented and there are those dependable; blessed and rare is the man who has both of these virtues. The people who stubbornly say, "I won't," or meekly excuse themselves by, "I can't," are to be reproved, but toward that individual who says, "I will," and then does not, there are no words to express the feeling. It is easier to do any amount of work oneself than to assign it to someone else and to be compelled to go through all sorts of agony in seeing that it is done. So long as people do not "come across with the goods" when they are responsible,—just that long will this world's work be done by the faithful few.

L. B. M.

PICK YOUR CANDIDATES

According to the constitution of the Student Council the editor and business manager of the Spectator and the cheer leaders should be elected by the first Thursday in April. By the first Thursday in May the editor and business manager of the Quadrangle and the president and treasurer of the Student Council should be elected. All of these offices carry with them considerable responsibility and therefore should be filled with the most capable students.

It is not too early to begin to look about for candidates. An election to be democratic must have candidates that are representative of the student body and the only way to secure such persons is for the students themselves to do the selecting. No candidate should be chosen merely because of his popularity, neither should one well qualified be disregarded because of prejudice. Experience and ability should be the main determining factors.

SOMNIOLOGUES

There may be some of the faculty who don't have it in for us. They may not even know who we are.

When a person's mouth is open most of the time it is very easy to tell whether or not his head is empty.

Still some people take pleasure in ridiculing others. Perhaps it is some comfort to the ridiculed one to know that he is furnishing amusement for the mentally deficient.

We heard the squeals of those hit by Wanta Kno in the last Spectator.

It doesn't do any good to crab at those who work; if the crabber could do it any better he would be in the worker's place.

JASPER'S JOTTINGS

Some folks like to make a display of hot air.

The most learned persons are not those who are continually talking.

A straight line is the shortest distance from Arnold Hall to the Library as will be seen when the grass begins to get green.

How interesting it is to talk to somebody who mumbles and talks around the bush and still doesn't say anything!

The secret to win applause has been discovered. Just have someone call you over the phone when you're in the dining hall—those persons who don't care about dining hall etiquette will do the rest.

The devotions at the Y. W. meeting Wednesday morning were led by Reetha Studebaker after which Mildred Carpenter in a very pleasing way read "The Star Spangled Banner" by Mary Shipman Andrews, author of "The Perfect Tribute." The story was of an American boy who had spent his early life in England but later came to America. He felt at first that England was his country but he soon learned to be a true American and to love Old Glory.

Do You Believe Cancer Can Be Removed With Roasted Toad Powder? Your Forefathers Did

The stories that grandfather used to tell about ghosts and Indians and wild animals were chuck full of thrills and hair-raising incidents. Equally as interesting are the simple home recipes our forefathers used before the days of modern medicine. A pamphlet entitled "Unparalleled Recipes for the Cure of Some of the Most Dreadful Diseases that Flesh is Subject to" published by Daniel Detrick at Dayton, Ohio, in 1846, contains some cures that are now considered quite out of date. Some of them read as follows: "A CERTAIN CURE FOR A FELON—Take the finger on which the Felon is in one hand, and a knife or any pointed steel in the other, point the steel close to the felon, and say, (with becoming reverence and fear,) My God, I pray, through Christ's own blood,

To make this felon well, and good, in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and the Holy Spirit: Amen.

This must be done three times, commencing in the evening immediately after sundown, next morning before sunup, and the following evening as before."

"FOR REMOVING A CANCER—Take three living Toads, put them in a new earthen crock, cover them with flower of Brimstone, and cover the crock tight, so that no steam escapes, set it on a coal pile, and roast them, until you are able to make both Toads and brimstone into a fine powder. Then wash your cancer with sour wine, and apply this powder on the cancer while wet, four times a day. N. B. Be careful at uncovering it, not to inhale any of the perfumes of the Brimstone. This is a simple but sure cure."

"TO STOP BLEEDING—This method ought not to be made use of for beasts. Upon Christ's blood and heart, there grow three Roses, the first is white, the second red, the third is good, with these I stop (the name of the bleeding person must be spoken) flow of blood, in the name of the Father, and the Son, and the Holy Spirit. Amen."

"TO TAKE THE FIRE OUT OF ANY SCALD OR BURN—You draw in your breath and say 'An angel came from east,' (then blow out your breath, while you blow on the afflicted part,) and 'Brings a frost and takes away heat.' Repeat it three times, stop a little, then do it over again in the same manner three times, stop again a little, now do it again three times, exactly the same way, and conclude with, in the name of the Father, and the Son, and the Holy Spirit. Amen."

"FOR THE WHITE SWELLING—Take the Kidneys with the fat of a good sized Ewe lamb, tie it together with a string, now have a vessel with clear tar, and take the Kidneys and dip them into the tar, and hang them before a fire, put a vessel under them with clear water to receive the fat and tar as they roast out, put them as often into the tar as it roasts off, until all the fat is roasted out. Be careful not to burn the salve in the receiving vessel. To use this salve, you put it on a rag, and lay it on the affected part, leave it on twenty four hours, then take it off and throw it in the fire, and put on another, and so continue on until you effect a cure, it will positively help, though it should take twelve months to effect a cure. If bones project out of the wound they must be removed."

While other avenues of work are opening to Mr. Bathurst, it is altogether probable that he will remain in school doing graduate work for another year, having in view the ultimate attainment of the Doctor's degree. "OLD M. C."

O memories of olden days,
That never more will be;
Of childhood's play, and boyhood's ways,
And days at "Old M. C."
O bring them back again to me,
And let me there abide;
The brightest spot of memory,
'Midst wanderings far and wide.

Her teachers, true in heart and mind,
Her students of true blue,
Those dear old spots of college days
Come back again to you,
I'd love to wind me back again—
Back to dear "Old M. C."
Back where my heart doth ever turn;
The dearest place to me.

O just to be there, now,—once more;
And catch her fire, and light;
To hear again that old College Yell,
And watch the Bulldogs fight,
Now in the fray of life's great fight,
Her sturdy sons doth wield
The sword of truth, the law of right,
On many a shot-torn field.

I'd love to meet my college chums,
And shake their hands once more;
And talk about "Those Good Old Days,"
From memories golden store.
O dearest place on earth to me,
May thy future e'er be bright,
Go on to serve in other lives,
And drive away the night.

I pledge thee all that I can do
To help along the way;
That thou canst serve in many lives,
And bring that golden day
When man will do the Father's Will;
And Love and Truth will be;
And all will serve as best they can—
Ideals from "Old M. C."

Varied Verses

I feel a call, I want to wander
All alone
Up high.
For when I turn me from all people,
Then I'll trust
The sky.
I want to be in some high valley—
Let the night
Stand guard—
For I would see how far a man-soul
Can ascend
Star-ward.
No man will be with me to comfort.
Entertain,
And cheer,
For all of that I'll turn to Heaven,
And the stars
Will hear.
The things one friend would tell
another,
I will tell
The stream:
I'll sing the song that's sung by lovers,
To the great
Unseen.
Too much today are all men
guilty;
Unmindful
They sin;
For joy and cheer they trust in others—
It should be,
In HIM.
And could it be that if I wandered
All alone
Up high,
That HE might meet me in the forest,
In the lake,
The sky?

MISSION BAND

At the meeting of the Mission Band Sunday evening Prof. Ebel spoke, in his interesting, descriptive manner, on Salesmanship vs. Christian Leaders. Expert salesmen are energetic, zealous, and interested. They consider five things:

1. Kind of business.
2. The field. Is there a need? Is it supplied?
3. Special advantages.
4. How best to advertise.
5. Success through effort.

Prof. Ebel showed how Christians may study the methods of the business man and become successful. The same faith, earnestness, and energy are needed. Time and a life purpose are essentials.

Rowena Vaniman Entertains

On the evening of February twenty-one, at her home on East Euclid, Miss Rowena Vaniman entertained twenty-three of her friends at a party in honor of The Father of Our Country. Arrayed in red, white, and blue soldier caps, the guests first entertained themselves in a riotous cherry hunt, and later settled themselves at quartet tables for various games. Roy Brammell carried off first honors in the shape of a hatchet, while Professor Gaw consoled himself with the booby prize, a George Washington postage stamp. Interesting refreshments were served at a late hour. Those who enjoyed Miss Vaniman's hospitality were Mrs. Keim, Mrs. Gaw, "Peggy" Muse, "Chic" Chapman, Marie Cullen, Ruth Cripe, Ada Kurtz, Alice Burkholder, Cecile Martin, Iva Curtis, Irene Hawley, and Professors Keim and Gaw. Wilbur Vaniman, Harry Bowers, Roy Brammell, Harold Barton, William Bishop, Roland Jones, Ray Clark, Myrl Curtis, Ernest Wall, and "Si" Sargent.

The Inquisitive Inquirer

To what extent has a young man a right to demand steady company of a young lady?

Ruth Cripe—I see no reason why an American boy should be a Turk. If a girl has several of the right kind of boy friends she shouldn't be asked to give up the pleasure of their company for any one masculine admirer. I don't like that word "demand." A man doesn't "demand" from the American girl unless he is married to her. Even then it's a ticklish proposition.

Jra Brammell—A young man has no right whatever to demand steady company of a young lady. If he makes himself agreeable and bears the marks of a gentleman the steady company will take care of itself.

Margaret Mikesell—I think that if a young man did not demand so much of a young lady's time, fewer couples would "break up." If neither the young man nor lady have the opportunity of keeping company with others they cannot judge so easily with whom they would be most congenial.

Ada Kurtz—He has no right to even expect it. Thereby he promises that she limit herself to one "meagre specimen." She wants to become acquainted with many boys, not just one. And he too—why one girl? Let him be friends to many and thus broaden his own conception of real comradeship.

David Brubaker—He has no right to "demand" steady company of a young lady. He may ask for it and if he is refused he should have common sense enough not to ask that young lady again. Even though engaged he should not "demand." He is dealing with a person who is probably more sensitive than himself and courtesy itself would dictate that he "ask" instead.

Harry Bowers—He has no right to demand steady company of the young lady. Neither has she any such right. If neither of them care more for someone else or come to know each other so well that they change their minds, surely no one can censure them for changing their minds. We owe things to our own selves and our feelings just as well as others.

Richard Keim—I don't believe that a young man has any right to demand steady company of a young lady as long as this is a free country. Unless the company of each is agreeable to the other it is probably best for both parties that it be "not too steady."

HIGH SCHOOL CAGERS WIN
FAST GAME FROM ABILENE

By avenging their only defeat this season the McPherson High School cagers practically captured the Central Kansas Basketball League championship Friday night at the college gymnasium when they defeated Abilene High School by the score of 24 to 20. This game was the fastest and most bitterly contested high school game seen here this year.

Both teams started the struggle going at full speed, first one side and then the other in the lead but finally the McPherson quintet drew away and was leading at the close of the half 13 to 8. Abilene came back strong in the second period and near the close of the game the score stood 21 to 20 in favor of the Mackmen. Then McBride of McPherson, with only three minutes to play, tossed in a field goal to which Showalter added a free point which ended the scoring for the game. Showalter was high point man carrying 16 of the 24 points for McPherson.

The score follows:

	F.	G.	P.	T.	P.
Abilene (20)
Troup, f	4	0	3
Byers, f	0	2	1
Sullivan, c	0	0	3
Dayhoff, g	1	0	1
Hensley, k	3	0	3
Criswell, f	1	0	0
	9	2	11
McPherson (24)
Showalter, f	4	8	0
Linholt, f	0	0	0
McBride, c	2	0	0
Crumpacker, g	1	0	3
Eakes, g	1	0	0

EDMONDS PAYS COMPLIMENT TO COACH LONBORG'S FIVE

Leslie Edmonds, sport writer for the Topeka Daily Capital, paid a high compliment to the McPherson quintet in Thursday's paper. Mr. Edmonds has refereed several games on the home court this season and because of his pleasant disposition and his fairness in making decisions he has won a warm spot in the hearts of M. C. basketball followers. His comments follow:

"After the deluge of disaster that struck a frightened team in its first week's trip to the mighty Emporia schools, McPherson college has settled into a steady gal that will land it near the top when the final results are tabulated. Last year, Arthur Lonborg, working for the first time with inter-collegiate athletics as a coach, brought his team into second place, but while his team was one of the best of the conference the schedule it played was not as stiff as it could have been. This year there is nothing but hardship about the Bulldogs' schedule and they are to be complimented on their showing to date. They play modern basketball with a varied attack that is shifted to meet the need of a particular game. One night it is Hill and Crumpacker, forwards, who carry the scoring burden and the next it is Sargent, center, who drops them in. Their defense has been a feature and is varied by baskets tossed from artillery range by the guards."

"Sargent's development has been one of the features of the last two years' play in the conference. Three years ago the McPherson team, playing a two-night stand at Hays Normal, were for packing up and going home after the first game because it was rough. Sargent wasn't even a regular on this gentle team. Now he stands up against the best of them and if one were to name the three best centers in the conference he would of necessity include Sargent. The rangy Bulldog plays the center of the floor well and is almost certain to score if given a chance for an underhand English flip from the area near the circle defining the free throw lane. He has learned the art of batting the ball in after the rebound and is a fair shot anywhere on the court. His defensive play also is noteworthy. He's a smart basketball player and is a credit to Coach Lonborg, who has had much to do with his attainment of proficiency."

ACADEMY LOSES ANOTHER

The Academy team was defeated last Wednesday night by the Senior Y. M. C. A. team of McPherson at the college gymnasium by the score of 27 to 12. The game was hard fought and at times rough. The down town cagers took the lead from the start and steadily increased their score until the game was over.
