

INTERNATIONAL PEACE WEEK IS OBSERVED BY INTERESTING PROGRAM

Prof. Morris, Dr. Harnly, and Guy T. Gebhardt Give Special Chapel Talks

ONE-ACT PLAY IS PRESENTED

City Pastors Preach Sermons On Peace; Two Mass Meetings Are Held

International Peace Week, observed last week by McPherson College in the various chapel programs including speeches by Prof. Morris, Dr. Harnly, Guy T. Gebhardt, McPherson County Y. M. C. A. secretary, the play "Gas," given last Tuesday, and the sermons by the Pastor Rev. H. F. Richards on both Sundays was tremendously successful in creating and intensifying sentiment against militarism.

Horrors of War Are Pictured

The campaign in the school began Monday morning in chapel when Prof. Morris presented the conditions under which the next war, which cannot be must be fought, as given by Will Irwin in The Next War, and by Harry Emerson Fosdick in Shall We End War? He told how no one can be protected from the direct effects of war in the future; that war will not be against armies, but against population and that women as well as men will be conscripted. The use of bomb-dropping aeroplanes which have been perfected will give no chance for the interference of human sympathy, in their deadly use of the ideal killing gas, which has been made; disease germs will be spread mercilessly, and it is probable that x-rays will be used for killing. "When we can bring the awful, horrible truth of what the next war means it can have no bad effect; we must give up war or civilization," insisted Prof. Morris. "There is nothing good; there is nothing virtuous; there is nothing Christian, about war."

"Gas" is Effectively Given

War, in its effect upon society in general, war which permeates to the sheltered home life, in all its cruelty and terror was brought to every student in chapel Tuesday when Winona McGaffey, Ocie McAvoy, Samuel Kurtz, Jay Eller, (Continued on Page 4.)

CLASS OF '22 EDITS PAPER

Before graduating last spring the members of the Class of '22 voted to edit each year a class publication which would contain a short write-up of each individual member. The first volume of this publication has just appeared and in it are contained interesting letters from some forty-five members of the class. The edition does a great deal toward holding the Seniors of 1922 together and is a credit to Emory Wine, the permanent secretary of the class, who is the compiler and editor.

DR. KURTZ ON LECTURE TOUR

Dr. Kurtz left last Thursday morning for a ten days' trip. His schedule includes five lectures in the vicinity of Decatur and Cerro Gordo, Illinois. Next Thursday he will give a lecture at the W. C. T. U. officers' banquet at Wichita. On the following evening he will deliver the dedicatory address for a new high school building at Midlan, Kansas.

NEW CATALOGS ARE OUT

The McPherson College catalogs for 1923-1924 have just come from the printing office and will soon be ready for distribution. This edition marks the thirty-sixth year of M. C. The printing was done by the McPherson Daily Republican.

ORATORICAL SOCIETY ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

At a meeting of the Oratorical Society last Tuesday new officers were elected for the coming year. Milton Dell was elected president; Geraldine Crill, secretary; and Leonard Timmons, reporter. Earl Linholm, who won first prize in the local oratorical contest held here in January, was chosen as delegate to the State Oratorical Convention which convened at Salina Friday. Washburn won first place in the state oratorical contest, Fairmount second, and Southwestern third.

FRANK SARGENT GIVES ILLUSTRATED LECTURE

MISSION WORK IN CHICAGO IS PORTRAYED IN VIVID MANNER

Rev. Frank N. Sargent of Bethany Bible School at Chicago delivered an illustrated lecture in the college chapel Friday evening on "A Bright Light in a Large City." The lecture was exceedingly interesting, very well delivered, and well attended.

Mission Work is Emphasized

Particular emphasis was given to the Hastings Street Mission and its work in Chicago, which is carried on by the Bethany Bible School. The attention of the audience was easily held by some beautiful scenes of some of Chicago's interesting places. These scenes were accompanied by pictures portraying the sad and crowded conditions surrounding the Hastings Street Mission with some views showing the mission work actually in progress. Pictures were shown of the hospital now under their supervision along with and outlines of their plans and hopes for expansion in the near future.

Bethany Bible School is Pictured

The second part of the lecture dealt with Bethany Bible School. The school, faculty, students, and the work being carried on there was found very interesting. The steps in the progress of the school and its possibilities of expansion were also explained.

The last part of the lecture was mainly about the people in connection with Bethany Bible School. The emphasis was laid on those preparing for and those already in the foreign mission service. The lecture was closed by an illustrated song.

The lecture in itself was an inspiration. With the added human interest given it by the lecturer it should prove very influential in shaping the interest in mission work both home and foreign.

DR. KURTZ IS POPULAR AT OKLAHOMA COLLEGE

The nine lectures given two weeks ago by Dr. Kurtz at Oklahoma State College at Stillwater in the interest of the Y. M. C. A. were received with a great deal of interest. The Orange and Black says in part: "Dr. Kurtz impressed all students who heard him that he was one of the best read men whom they have been privileged to hear in a long time. It was a pleasure to hear him because he would invariably set one thinking and lead him off on a convincing line of reason. Shooting the ideas at a rapid-rate kept the listener alert indefinitely."

In a recent letter to Miss Margaret Walters, C. B. McElroy, Associate Professor in Bacteriology at Stillwater, writes concerning Dr. Kurtz: "I went to hear him and in my estimation he is one of the most instructive lecturers we have had on our platform, and wherever he went on our campus he had an enthusiastic and interested audience. I cannot help but speak very highly for Dr. Kurtz and assure you that I am very glad to have had the pleasure of hearing him."

PLANS TO ENTERTAIN HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS ARE WELL UNDER WAY

Invitations Have Been Sent Out To Students in Adjoining Counties

FESTIVAL TO BE HELD APRIL 7

Prizes Will Be Given To Winners In Athletic, Literary, and Fine Arts Contests

The Annual High School Senior Festival which is to be held a week from next Saturday will be a much larger affair than that of last year according to the plans of the committee in charge. Over five hundred invitations have been sent out to students in McPherson, Rice, and Marion Counties; the seniors of the Hutchinson and Newton High Schools have also been invited.

To Acquaint Seniors With M. C.

The purpose of this big event is to introduce the students to college life and show them the opportunities which McPherson College offers. The program for this year's festival is similar to that of last year and offers an afternoon and evening of real entertainment. Competitive track and field events followed by literary and fine arts contests will take up most of the time in the afternoon. A banquet and student recital in the evening conclude the program.

Program Begins at 1:30 P. M.

The athletic events will begin promptly at one-thirty in the gymnasium. At one-forty-five the track and field events will take place on the athletic field. Gold and silver medals will be given as prizes to the winners in shot put, one hundred yard dash, two hundred and twenty yard dash, one-half mile run, hurdle race, and tennis. These events will be supervised by Coach "Dutch" Lomborg and several assistants. At three o'clock a potato race open to ladies, and a sack race open to gentlemen will be staged in the gymnasium. A college pennant will be given to each of the winners of these events.

To Inspect Campus

Prof. B. E. Ebel will have charge of the Get Acquainted Hour from three-thirty to four-thirty which will be spent by the seniors in getting acquainted with each other and inspecting the campus and buildings, including the new Harnly Hall. The literary and fine arts contests will take place in Sharp Hall from four-thirty to five-thirty. There will be contests in oratory, reading, piano, voice and violin, and domestic science.

Banquet Will Be Held

A banquet will be given in the dining room of Arnold Hall from six o'clock until seven-thirty. At eight o'clock the Fine Arts Department of the college will render a program of musical and dramatical numbers. Every senior is cordially invited to be a guest of M. C. and help spend an afternoon and evening of entertainment entirely worth while.

STRIKLER TO CAPTAIN 1924 BASKETBALL SQUAD

Dale Strickler, all-Kansas conference basketball guard, was chosen by the unanimous vote of his teammates at a meeting held last Wednesday to captain the 1924 basketball squad. The choice of Strickler is a most popular one and seconded by the student body and the down town supporters as it is the general sentiment that he is the man to best fill the position. He is a remarkable athlete and a fellow whose personality and clean sportsmanship is bound to make its influence felt on the basketball floor.

COLLEGE ORCHESTRA TO RENDER CONCERT

PROGRAM CONTAINS NUMBERS OF HIGH MUSICAL VALUE

The College Symphony Orchestra with Prof. Alvin H. Lauer as conductor, Prof. Forrest W. Gaw as baritone, Fritzjoff Mark as concertmeister, and C. A. Hultqvist as assistant concertmeister, will give a concert in the chapel tomorrow evening at eight o'clock.

Organized By Prof. Lauer

The college is indeed fortunate in having as a member of the faculty such an able organizer and director as Prof. Lauer. Three years ago when Prof. Lauer came to McPherson College there was no orchestra here neither was there much interest in instrumental music. But immediately upon his arrival he began the task of creating this enthusiasm and the present orchestra is the result of his keen interest and untiring effort.

One of the ladies who heard the orchestra when the State District Music Teachers' Convention met in McPherson last winter was heard to say that with the exception of Junction City the orchestra here is one of the best local organizations in this part of the state in a city of this size.

Is Well-Equipped

The orchestra uses nearly $7,000 worth of instruments among its members, and is as well-equipped as any orchestra in the state in spite of the fact that it is almost self-supporting. Cities like St. Louis, Chicago, Boston, New York, and Philadelphia spend from $20,000 to (Continued on Page 3)

CASIT IS CHOSEN FOR SENIOR ACADEMY PLAY

The cast for the Senior Academy play, "A Deal in Ducks," was chosen Saturday morning at a tryout held in the Expression Room by Professors Anderson, Hill, and Keim. As the play only has six characters there was considerable rivalry as well as much anxious waiting shown on the part of each member who tried for a place. The play is one that will appeal to a college audience, because of its complicated plot and subtle humor.

DR. CRAIK JUDGES DEBATE

Dr. E. L. Craik judged the debate between the State Teachers' College of Hays and Kansas City University held at Hays last Wednesday. The State Teachers' College won by a rather narrow margin. The question discussed was Resolved: That the United States should adopt the Cabinet Parliamentary system of government.

Our bravest lessons are not learned through success, but misadventure.—A. Bronson Alcott.

McPHERSON DEBATERS SECURE CHAMPIONSHIP OF NORTHERN DIVISION

Establish Record by Winning 10 Out of 18 Possible Decisions

WILL DEBATE FAIRMOUNT SOON

Sterling Is Defeated Here and On Home Floor By 6-0 Vote

The McPherson College debaters completed their conquest of the Northern Division with flying colors last Wednesday evening when they won unanimous decisions from Sterling College here and at Sterling. This double victory gives M. C. the undisputed claim to the championship of the Northern Division and at the same time the opportunity to compete for state honors against Fairmount, the winner of the Southern Division.

M. C. Rebuttals Are Effective

Iray S. Wagoner, Field Secretary of the college, presided over the home contest. Preceding the discussion the audience was favored with a whistling duet by Howard Snyder and Carl Enberg of the city. The rendition was received with such hearty applause that Mr. Snyder responded with a splendid encore. C. M. Pence and F. S. Hodge, the negative speakers from Sterling, ably supported their contentions with good arguments. H. F. Waas and Ismae Dirks, the M. C. affirmatives, clearly advanced their counter arguments with very convincing evidence. The main speeches of each side were quite evenly matched. The rebuttals, however, were decidedly in favor of M. C. Isaac Dirks showed a decided improvement over his former appearances. H. F. Waas marshalled his rebuttal arguments brilliantly. His final speech was probably one of the very best of its kind ever delivered here. Before the decisions were read Mr. Enberg favored the audience with a whistling solo and was required to give an encore. The judges were Superintendent Alvin Gore of Enterprise, Principal Willard Van Slyck of the Salina High School, and Librarian W. H. Kerr of Emporia, Normal.

Negative Wins at Sterling

W. E. Bishop and Oscar Lankford, who constitute the M. C. negative team, were accompanied to Sterling by Prof. Blair and Ada Kurtz. They were cordially received there and found an audience consisting of a large number of M. C. rooters as well as Sterling advocates. The debate was strongly contested by both sides but the negative clearly had the better arguments which fact the decisions showed.

McPherson College was also victorious in the Northern Division last year after which the coveted state honors were wrested from Fairmount. The Wheatshockers are winners of the Southern Division again this year and hold the record of sixteen decisions won out of a possible eighteen. As M. C.'s team holds an equal record in this division the final debate between these two schools, which will be held soon, should be quite close.

Only one debate was lost by M. C. this year—that at Salina by a 2 to 1 decision. The other five were all won by unanimous decisions which establishes a record hitherto unequalled in this division. Certainly much credit is due to Prof. M. A. Hess and the team for so splendidly representing M. C.

OUR PART

Now that Peace Week is over does not mean that we are free from promoting the program of peace for another twelve months. Quite the contrary; only as we do our part will universal peace be brought about. We cannot wait on the other fellow to do it all for if we do it will never be accomplished. The world-wide peace program is not a one man's job; to carry it on successfully everyone must do his duty. Wherever we are we can do our part by walking in the footsteps of the Master, by living the Christian ideals of love and brotherhood, and by giving our lives in Christian service to our fellow-men.

THE ELEVENTH HOUR TASK

Fortunate indeed is that person who can wait until the eleventh hour to do a task and then perform it better than someone else who spends several hours at it. Not many of us are gifted with that ability yet, how often we assume that we have. We keep putting off our work until the very last minute, consoling ourselves meanwhile with this statement: "When I really just have to do it I will and then I can do it so much better." Nothing is more false. The longer a thing is put off the greater the tendency to further shirk it and when the time does come that it has to be done we go at it half heartedly. As the habit of carelessness fastens itself upon us we lose interest in our work and soon find ourselves drifting downstream with the current. To get the most joy out of life is to perform our tasks as they appear. If they are put off until the eleventh hour life will become a drudgery.

IN DAYS OF YORE

I belonged to a Literary Society. I don't now, though. Once literary societies were full of life and gave snappy programs. They don't even meet anymore. I reckon they're out-of-date or something that amounts to the same thing. Maybe they've contracted a case of prolonged "sleeping sickness." Anyhow it's a long, hard, rocky trail to fame nowadays, and more so, if one goes by way of the literary society route. Retro Spect.

A LOVER'S GIFT

In the museum at Berlin may be seen an Easter egg which recalls a story of strange romance. Long years ago a lovely princess gave her heart to a prince, who promised to send her a present worthy of her acceptance and his affection when Easter came around. When at last the promised love-token arrived, tears of disappointment came to the lady's eyes, for it was nothing more attractive than an egg fastened in iron.

She flung the paltry present on the floor, when, to her surprise, it sprang open, revealing a lining of silver. Her curiosity aroused, she picked up the casket and, examining it closely, discovered a secret spring. When she pressed the spring, the silver lining opened, disclosing a golden yolk. A further examination, and the pressing of a second spring, revealed in the heart of the golden yolk a crown of flaming rubies. Another touch of a hidden spring, and from the ruby crown there dropped into her lap a diamond ring of dazzling beauty, the pledge of her lover's affection.

OXEN TROD THE CAMPUS

It is a matter of historical interest to present day students to know that the virgin soil of the campus of McPherson College was turned by yokes of oxen. The quarter section on which the college now stands was the homestead of P. A. Johnson, who, with his brother, C. G. Johnson, "batched" and farmed the place from 1872 to 1888. For the first five years of residence on the farm they made use of oxen, later displacing them with mules. In all probability some of the trees planted by the Johnson brothers are still standing in the neighborhood of the college. Since 1888, Mr. C. G. Johnson has been living on a farm about five miles south of the site of the college.

SPEAKING OF THE WEATHER

It was Certainly Providence that we had a half inch of Snow last Week So that some of the Maidens were able To Display their Galoshes this spring. It must have Been a Winter of Patient Waiting with these Lovely Things Laid away In The closet all the Time. THE STORM

Dark, heavy, threatening clouds sail low;
By a strong west wind they blow.
Now and then the sun glares forth
Through a deep rift, whose rugged sides glisten
Bright, as the pent up beams rush forth.

Hark! I tremble! Peal on peal I hear
Of crashing, roaring, ripping thunder.

The lightning dar's about like dead-ly serpents' tongues,
And large drops of cold chilling rain
Splash loudly on the rattling window pane.

The storm doubles its wild, ruthless fury,
And comes on in sweeping, invincible sheets of rain;
Reinforced by drapnel of hardest
hail;
Covering and hiding the ground with a seething
Mass of ice, mud, and chilly rushing water.

The night comes on; suddenly,
menacingly;
There are no stars and no moon.
The tempest rages on far into the night, 'til
Every gully and ravine is a huge flood
Of wild, rushing, plunging, muddy water.

Hush! Suddenly as begun the noises cease.

O'er head the gully clouds hurry
away,
Leaving the stars to shine out blink-
ily,
While again all the world is peaceful,
As if the storm were only a wild dream.

Brightly and cheerily the sun now
shines,
Full many and many a beautiful day.
The seeds sprout, and leaves and flowers appear;
And finally the fruits of the season are here:
For this is all. Nature's infallible way.

After the dark the dawn; after the storm the calm;
After the rain the sun will brightly shine.
Then who can say, the sunshine only
is good,
When it without the storm cannot sprout one seed.
In the great lap of Nature, all things work together for good.

CHINESE STUDENT GIVES TALK TO MISSION BAND

Paul C. Fung, a Chinese student of Washburn College spoke to the Band at its regular meeting Sunday evening. In his discussion of the missionary enterprise he pointed out the many opportunities there are to help China. Besides missionaries, doctors, nurses, teachers, and Y secretaries China needs Christian business men, engineers, and merchants to help her develop her resources. Especially does Mr. Fung feel that there is a splendid opportunity through the aid of journalism to help China because it is possible to reach people this way that could not be reached otherwise. He also related the very interesting story of how he became a Christian. He was an interesting speaker in spite of his difficulty in using the English language.

Student Opinion

Formerly in McPherson College and Academy there were four literary societies. Last year two of them disappeared and there were none to mourn their loss. The other two died a natural death. A post-mortem examination was held over their bodies which was followed by a respectable funeral. But this was not all—the seed of the old was not dead, but sprang up into a new being—the Athenian literary society was born full of promise for the future. It grew and functioned in a splendid way. So successful was this new being that it was resolved to adopt another creature similar to the first, which should become a half sister to the Athenian. The adoption took place and these two grew daily, side by side.

Where are these two half sisters now? Will it be necessary to hold another funeral? Is there not a spark of life left in either one?

Why should they be crowded out because they are accustomed to function on Friday? Why not try Saturday night, everyone does not attend the picture shows.

Arise ye two societies, stand out in the light of day that others may know where ye are!

He has not learned the lesson of life who does not every day surmount a fear. —Emerson.

 - IV. In the Silence of the Night Rachmaninoff
 - Flower Song.....Lange
 - In a Persian Market (Characteristic).
- The number opens as the caravan enters depicted by clarinets, violins, pizzicato, and the tom-toms, bells, and traps. Soon the Sultan is announced by a flourish of brass. The old beggars are calling Basha-Basha (alms) and soon the Princess enters preceded by a beautiful melody from the clarinets. The wily snake charmer and the jugglers entertain the crowds until the Sultan reappears characterized by a brass quartet which is one of the features of the number. The caravan passes and the Princess passes again leaving the market-place deserted. A gradual crescendo with effects ranging from the beautiful to the humorous closes the number.
- V. Overture Queen of Autumn Bigge

STOCK JUDGING TEAM RECEIVES RECOGNITION

A report issued recently by the state agricultural college at Manhattan has the following to say regarding the McPherson Academy stock judging team:

Harry and Harvey Lehman, McPherson, are two-thirds of the best stock judging team west of the Mississippi river. Along with Ted Baker, the other member of the boys' club trio, these 19 year old twins placed first in the South American Livestock show.

The three boys representing Kansas were also high point men in the contest. Their recent achievement at Oklahoma City follows a succession of victories for the McPherson trio.

In January this team won highest honors at the Kansas National Livestock show held at Wichita by defeating 36 other teams representing clubs and high schools of the state.

This is the first complete victory in inter-state club judging contest for Kansas and generous credit is given the boys' and girls' club department, which is under the state leadership of R. W. Morrish. The winning team received a part of their training from M. H. Coe, assistant state club leader. Mr. Coe says that great emphasis will be placed on the judging club work this year in order that Kansas may retain her present position in the future.

It is the opinion of the state club leaders that the victories of the McPherson boys will do a great deal in encouraging boys and girls of Kansas to enroll in clubs. There are at present approximately 1,300 club members in the state.

Dale Strickler, and William Riddlebarger presented the short play "Gas" which showed the horrible-ness of a war fought with the deadly gases which have been made by American chemists in recent years.

Dr. Harshly Denounces War
Complete sway of devilishness during war, when vicious characters take the opportunity to paint yellow the substantial law abiding citizens was illustrated Thursday by Dr. Harshly when he told of the persecutions of such men of integrity as David Starr Jordan, William Jennings Bryan, and others. "War is wrong economically, for it destroys instead of erecting; it is wrong biologically because it kills the strongest; it is wrong morally, for it opens the very gates of hell," was the substance of Dr. Harshly's address.

Peace Solution Is Outlined
As a fitting close to the week's program Guy T. Gobhardt, Y. M. C. A. secretary for McPherson County, spoke on Militant Pacifism Friday morning, showing how it is the part of peace lovers to be peacemakers. The passive attitude is not enough; injury not only should not be resisted, but it should be smothered with kindness. The forces of God are stronger than the forces of the devil and the way to secure world peace is to mobilize the forces of good against the forces of evil.

The forces at the command of the peacemaker are facts; reason, for all men are reasonable; love, for it conquers all; and science, for it knows all. War is the sport of kings of finance, the masses are puppets under their control, but they must become active and prepare for peace by organizing politically, religiously, and economically. The price for peace must be paid; the pacifist must not say only, "I will not fight," but, "From now on I will dedicate my life to the bringing in of world peace."

On both Sundays of the week Rev. Richards preached on subjects suitable to the campaign declaring that it is the church's duty to convince the world that war is morally wrong and that Christians must work actively for that end.

M. C. Assists in City's Program
M. C. assisted in the city's program by presenting "Gas" at a mass meeting Thursday evening in the opera house. Prof. Ebel spoke at the Junior High School Thursday morning and Rev. Eakes talked to the Senior High School Thursday. A large number attended the mass meeting Sunday afternoon when Rev. Ross Sanderson, Secretary of the Federation of Churches of Wichita gave the address.
