

DOPE FAVORS BULLDOGS IN BATTLE AT SALINA FRIDAY

The Bulldogs, after a practice game with Bethel last week, are scheduled to meet the Wesleyan Coyotes at Salina Friday. Dope favors "Dutch" Lonborg's crew to win by a comfortable margin. The Coyotes were defeated by Hays Normal with the small score of 3-0 at Hays last week but with the Bulldogs' decisive victory over the Tigers, the advantage seems to be with the McPherson warriors. The Salina aggregation, however, has no mediocre team this season as is shown by the score against Fairmount in which they held the heavy Wheatschockers to a single drop-kick. Two weeks ago they defeated Sterling, a school which this year has the strongest team in several seasons. So according to the ever fickle "dope" it seems that the loyal followers of the team who journey to Salina for the fracas will see a battle royal with the Bulldogs playing winning foot-ball. Following the K. W. U. affair the Canines will invade the Catholic stronghold at St. Mary's. This is expected to be one of the hardest games of the season for the M. C. gridsters, but the team at present is in the best of condition and going strong. Let's back the Bulldogs by going to Salina Friday.

when they lost 7-6. Southwestern is considered among the strongest teams in the state and this is quite a setback to them. The game was played at Baldwin.

Hays Normal and the Wesleyan Coyotes must have had quite a battle at Hays last week. The score stood 6-0 until the last few minutes when the Hays' quarter placed a drop-kick over the uprights, winning the game.

The Emporia Presbyterians defeated the Pittsburg Manuals 14-0 Friday. Reports state that the hard plunging C of E team was too much for the Teachers. Besides being able to play straight football the Presbyterians used the passing game to quite an advantage.

Fairmount was swamped last week by the Emporia Normal team to the tune of 27-3. The Normal team looks strong for conference leaders but perhaps some team will be able to throw a wrench into the Hargis football machinery. This week seemed to be the week for starting large scores because before this the conference scores were small showing evenly matched teams.

St. Mary's administered defeat to the Ottawa University eleven by a margin of two touchdowns and two goal kicks for additional points. The Catholics seem to be going good now and a battle royal is expected when the Bulldogs clash with them at St. Mary's on November 2.

If you do not know that McPherson College has some exceptional players on her team read some of the write-ups they are getting from the sport writers over the State. Barton, Carter, Clark, and Thornton have all received tributes they can indeed be proud of.

Students who have a particular liking for radio will be interested in two publications which the library is receiving. One of these is the Q S T, a monthly magazine devoted entirely to amateur radio. The other is a weekly paper also dealing with radio.

only time during the game. Starting on McPherson's 25 yard line Bethel worked the ball to within one yard of the goal, where Goertz crossed the Bulldog's last white line for their only score. Loganbill failed to kick goal and the score stood 26-6.

Fourth Quarter

In the fourth act with the favorites back in the scrap the Bulldogs again scored after Mudra had blocked a punt. "Tok" Carter lunging the oval. Carter took Bethel's kick-off and made a pretty 50 yards return. A long pass, Barton to Ellwood, was the means of securing the sixth touchdown for the Bulldogs. Barton missed goal and the game ended with the score 39-6.

McPherson Completes Two Passes
McPherson made six attempts at forward passes and completed two for a gain of thirty-eight yards. Bethel completed one in seven attempts but failed to gain yardage. Each team intercepted one pass. McPherson made fourteen first downs and won 322 yards in scrimmage while Bethel made yardage but once and gained 59 yards in scrimmage. McPherson made one punt for 22 yards and Bethel made one for an average of 32 yards. McPherson received 55 yards penalty while Bethel was fined 30 yards.

The line up follows:

Bethel	McPherson
Enns (Capt.) R.E.	Stansel
Becker R.F.	S. Keim
E. Johnson R.G.	R. Keim
Ewert C	Crofoot
Ratzlaff L.C.	Colburn
E. Schroeder L.F.	Mudra
Schmidt L.E.	Ellwood
Joertz Q.	Thornton
D. Schroeder R.H.	Hahn
Jones L.H. Carter (Capt.)
Loganbill F.	Barton

Substitutes:—Bethel—H. Johnson for Loganbill, Terry for Goertz, Schmidt for Becker, McPherson—Brunk for Colburn, Hoover for Carter, Kurtz for Crofoot, Sargent for Stansel, Cotton for Mudra, Fisher for S. Keim, Enns for Ellwood, Schneider for Brunk, Carter for Hoover, Mudra for Cotton, Crofoot for Kurtz, Colburn for Schneider, Stansel for Sargent, S. Keim for Fisher, Ellwood for Enns.
Officials:—Referee, Uhrhau; umpire, Enns; head linesman, Tossick.

SEEN FROM THE SIDE LINES

It must have been quite an attraction that kept Ray Clark away from a gridiron contest.

"Tok" Carter carrying the pigskin was as elusive of the Bethel tackles as a date in a history quiz.

After the first string men had piled up quite a big lead "Dutch" sent in the "ponies." It was the best thing for everybody and the Seconds showed some hard fighting while they were getting a taste of conference football.

The "fans" admired the game spirit of the Bethel eleven. They were fighting from whistle to whistle and made many spectacular plays.

Ellwood won honors when he "nailed" a long pass from Barton and went over for a touchdown. This Windom High School product can always be depended upon.

There seems to be a vital need of a little more co-operation among the rooters. Let's respond to our cheerleaders and remember to give the players our best support especially when they meet reverses or are threatening their opponents' goal. "There is strength in union."

WHAT EDMONDS HAS TO SAY.

An early season list of strong conference backfield players would be incomplete without the names of Barton and Thornton of McPherson. The former is a plunging terror who frees himself from the most of the protective inhibitions of the body and casts himself at an opposing line in ground gaining but body smashing fashion. Three times he has played and each time the last quarter finds him nearly spent from injury and exhaustion. Thornton is a shifting little runner who makes many gains when he's going good. He is an excellent quarter, moreover, and displays evident qualities of leadership.

Second Year Teacher Training Class Goes Out For Hike.

Did it rain last Saturday night? Yes, but that did not dampen the enthusiasm of the second year Teacher Training Class. The members of the class left their downy beds early on Sunday morning to enjoy the beauties of nature. Four car loads went to a pasture north of town. The boys gathered wood and soon had a merry camp fire blazing. The ladies cut the bacon and went through the process of scrambling eggs. The coffee pot was put on the fire while Holsinger stood guard. Soon the coffee boiled over and the eggs and bacon were made one and put in sandwiches. After coffee and sandwiches came cinnamon rolls, celery, and apples.

Logs were then gathered around the fire in a semi-circle, after which Miss McGaffey in her pleasing manner conducted the class recitation. As the group dispersed, numerous expressions were heard indicating that such refreshments had never before been experienced on a similar hike.

Y. M. C. A.

"You are missing worth while things, my man."

For future years, you may be living now.

But will stern time be kind enough to you in future years, to roll back here and give you truth, on which you put the ban?"

One of the most worth while programs of the year was given Wednesday morning at the Y. M. C. A. meeting. After the opening exercises by the chairman of the devotional committee, Professor McGaffey gave some little rules that it usually takes the uninformed mind a lifetime to learn.

The simple rules are these: Choose those amusements to which you can look forward with a great anticipation of pleasure; those which you can truly enjoy while they last, and those to which you can look back upon with pleasant memories and with no regrets.

Then came Dr. Harnly with his answers to those questions hiding in the secluded recesses in the minds of young men. His frank and open discussion of amusements today and their effects upon young men was very much enjoyed and caused not a little thinking on the part of those present.

Come to Y. M. tomorrow and hear another good program.

FAILURES

Brave the storm and ride the gale! What if now and then you fail? What if difficulties rise? Just ahead the victory lies, Keep in mind when you're assailed, Every conqueror has failed.

Trials mark the path of men. Hope has dawned to set again. Many a victor, cheered today, Had to battle with dismay; Long before success he knew He was called a failure, too.

Failures mark the path to fame. Men must fight through loss and shame. Hurt and heart-ache and distress. For the glory of success! Every leader on the earth Has been tested for his worth.

Brave the loss and bear the blow! What if hope shall come and go? What if failure strikes at you? Keep the faith and fight anew, Keep your courage when assailed, Few succeed who've never failed.

McPHERSON HIGH LOSES TO MARQUETTE ELEVEN

After a brilliant start in the first quarter the McPherson High School eleven dropped a game to Marquette last Wednesday with a final score of 20-6. The game, played at the city Fairgrounds, was well attended and both sides were strongly supported from the sidelines. The visitors decisively outplayed the local Highs in the second and fourth periods, making their gains by successful passing and superior punting.

In the first quarter the locals assumed the offensive and carried the ball half the length of the field for a touchdown. In this period they presented a stubborn defense and an aggressiveness which they were not able to display in the remainder of the game. Just before the half, Marquette started an attack on their own forty yard line which ended when they crossed their opponents' forty yard line. The third period was scoreless but in the fourth the McPherson line again weakened and two touchdowns were registered before the final whistle. Tomorrow Coach Ubraub will take his warriors to Salina where they will tangle with the High School favorites of that city.

LET'S WIN AGAIN

Everyone knows what the McPherson debaters did last year. They did not win by accident or chance but by hard conscientious effort and that is all it will take to perform the feat again this year. With the debate question for this year decided the call goes forth for volunteers to uphold M. C.'s banners. You may have a wealth of debating ability that you do not know about so come out for the tryout. Help M. C. win again!

"Resolve that you will run the risk of making people conciliated by generously giving them deserved commendation, and by repeating to them any words of appreciation you may have heard regarding them. We never know just how much these little helps are needed."
 How much is this resolve carried out on the McPherson College campus? Everyone knows how glad he is for a word of appreciation from the other fellow, but does he always consider that the other fellow would possibly appreciate a kindness or a commendation just as much?
 N. E. F.

THE ORIGIN OF HALLOWE'EN

The origin of Halloween dates back to a period long before the Christian era. History shows its origin as being derivative of the ritual of a clan of heathen called Druids who scattered over parts of England, Germany, and France and taught their strange religion to the inhabitants.
 The celebration of their religious practices was more or less elaborated by the use of fire, and inasmuch as the kindling of fires was then more difficult than at the present time, it was consequently regarded with wonder and suspicion and gradually grew into a belief that it was not alone wonderful, but smacked of the supernatural.
 One of their customs was the building and maintaining of immense fires on stone altars, or cairns. In honor of their sun-god; these were kept well fired throughout the twelve months of the year.
 The Druids believed that on the eve of this festival of October 31st, Samon, the god of health, called together the wicked souls which had been condemned to inhabit the bodies of animals; that fairies left their hiding places to dance in the woods, and that evil spirits held revels in deserted huts and plotted against mankind.
 Even today in some parts of Ireland the 31st of October is known and celebrated as Oldche Shamha, or the Virgil of Samon (god of health), and while the ancient custom of sacrificing black sheep on that day for the souls of the departed has disappeared, still its celebration is a matter of no little importance.

Violence ever defeats its own ends. Where you can not drive you can always persuade. A gentle word, a kind look, a good-natured smile, can work wonders and accomplish miracles.—Hazlitt.

"ABRACADABRA"

Now that glorious autumn, the season of sweaters, wool hose, and coats in the head, is here, I put on my nutting costume and go out to gather—autumn leaves. It would not be any fun hunting nuts—there are too many of them.

A timely question that does not need to be answered is "Would there be more boys at Y. M. if they had a larger and better place to convene?" Unless you come early and avoid the standing, you can stand about the door and look like the old charade "wonderful." Then you always have the privilege to listen to folks walk up and down the stairs that creek in the joints.

I can't help but wonder who the person (or persons) was (or were) who put this note in last week's paper: "Those persons who heard the program given at the Forum Friday evening are of the opinion that there is a great deal of literary talent in M. C. that is not lying idle." Now that it is autumn it is about time for some nuts to drop. That part of last week's Spectator was a masterpiece—of satire.

The talk that we had in chapel Thursday morning by—oh, some lady (I never could remember names) was by far the best speech that we have heard at that place since Dr. Kurtz gave his opening address. I think that we all felt that it was time that we all scramble about in our minds and see if we could not find a purpose—a purpose for service which is the biggest word the world knows.
 Gazinkus.

The Inquisitive Inquirer

What do you think of the wearing of High School letters in College?

Ira Brammell, Senior College—Most colleges do not allow the wearing of high school letters in college. The matter has been discussed in our school and the question is "Are we going to do as most colleges or are we always going to see high school letters worn on our campuses?"

Ruth Cripe, Senior College—If college letters are to mean anything, I certainly don't think that students should be allowed to wear their high school letters in college.

Prof. Blair, Faculty—The matter has given me no anxiety but in most colleges there is a sentiment against it. I think it is a thing for the students themselves to decide. I can see that the boys who have earned college letters feel that it isn't right to have so many high school letters in evidence.

Ray Clark, Senior College—Not a bit. I think the Athletic Committee should forbid it.

Roland Jones, Junior College—I don't think it is right for students here to wear their high school letters. Couldn't the Student Council take some action on the question?

Beulah Helstrom, Senior College—I don't think high school letters should be worn because it lessens the value of college letters. And I don't think that anyone should be allowed to wear the letters except those who earned the letters.

David Brubaker, Junior College—I think it is all right if they are worn for about six weeks at the beginning of school, but after that only college letters should be seen.

Earl Morris, Sophomore, College—Well, I don't think they ought to be worn in college. College letters don't mean as much as they should then.

Maxine Hoover, Sophomore College—I really should not be allowed, but there might be an unfaded spot under the letter and it would be cruel to force its removal.

Clarence Showalter, Senior College—I don't think they should be especially since the "M" Club decided they should not be worn here. I know that the boys having college letters would rather not see any high school letters worn.

Maude Gish, Sophomore College—I hadn't thought much about it but it is a matter that should be considered. It seems a shame though after the letters have been won that they can't wear them, but I really don't believe they should be worn in college.

Aenid Gray, Freshman College—I guess they really shouldn't be worn but if they had to be taken off, the sweater would almost be ruined.

Faculty Dispersed Last Week

The faculty traveled far and wide last week. Those who attended the district conference of Southwest Kansas and Southeast Colorado at Nickerson were: Dr. Kurtz, Prof. Studebaker, Prof. and Mrs. Deeter, Prof. Ebel and Miss Anderson.

Professors Blair, Fries, and Nininger attended the State Teachers' Association meeting at Hutchinson Thursday and Friday.

Prof. Hess visited with friends in southeastern Kansas several days.

Dr. Kurtz was at the State Sunday School Convention at Brainerd, Minnesota, Friday and Saturday.

Dr. Craik went to the meeting of the State Historical Society which convened in Memorial Hall on Tuesday and Wednesday.

QUESTION SELECTED FOR STATE DEBATING LEAGUE

The debate question chosen for the Kansas Inter-Collegiate Debating League this year is, "Resolved: That the United States should adopt the Cabinet Parliamentary system of government." This question was submitted by Beahny, Fairmount, and Southwestern and is the same one that will be debated by the National Pi Kappa Delta.

The questions submitted by the other members of the League are: Bethel—Resolved: That there be a cancellation of the entire inter-related world-war debt, and a reduction of the reparations to twelve billion dollars.

Friends—Resolved: That the war debts due the United States from her allies in the World War should be cancelled.

Kansas Wesleyan—Resolved: That the fixing of tariff schedules should be entrusted to a non-partisan board of experts. (Constitutionality waived.)

McPherson—Resolved: That the decisions of Federal Courts should be subject to recall by a vote of three-fourths of Congress.

Sterling—Resolved: That the present immigration laws are for the best interests of the United States.

A tryout for places on the College Teams will be held not later than December first and possibly at an earlier date. Tryout speeches will be five minutes in length with two minutes of rebuttal. Drawing for sides will be held one week before the tryout. Contestants should hand their names at once to Prof. Hess, the Debate Coach.

ELDER BONSACK SPEAKS AT VOLUNTEER MEETING

Elder Charles D. Bonsack, secretary of the General Mission Board, addressed a special meeting of the Volunteers Saturday morning at eleven o'clock. The world wide knowledge and vision of the speaker made his message extremely practical. According to Rev. Bonsack the ninety per cent of the people who fail, do so because of selfishness. The business man succeeds because he is helpful to others. The world today is sick of greed and selfishness.

A world vision is needed for any life-work. Attention to health, common-sense, and good humor are the three requisites that are necessary to one's every-day living. These qualities need careful consideration.

Rev. Bonsack spoke further of the change in ideals in foreign mission work since the recent war. A new national consciousness has been realized in many oriental nations. These nations desire the good of American and English customs but are repulsed by the selfish monopoly in our business. They are asking for our Christ with His sincerity, power, and idealism interpreted in their traditions and religion. The next five years may determine whether these nations shall become Christian or not.

Last but not least, Rev. Bonsack spoke of the home fields. The one great need is that young men and women who have sympathy, adaptability, good judgment, and demonical loyalty, go and revive dying churches and establish new organizations.

Every man should keep a fair-sized cemetery in which to bury the faults of his friends.—Henry Ward Beecher.

W. C. T. U. LECTURER SPEAKS

Mrs. V. H. Grinstead, a lecturer for the W. C. T. U. and a representative of the Kansas Legislature led devotions and spoke at chapel Thursday. Mrs. Grinstead is the wife of Attorney V. H. Grinstead of Liberal, Kansas. She is the only one of the four ladies of the State Legislature who registered as a housekeeper. In her talk she emphasized the importance of having a purpose. Begin and end college with a purpose. Then cling to that purpose through life. "The purpose must be one of service but there can be no service without industry. Too much money causes students to lose the idea of service. Students should help make their environment instead of drifting along like so many logs in a river. Mrs. Grinstead concluded with this quotation: "There is but one happiness which is duty, there is but one consolation which is work, and there is but one delight which is the beautiful."

PROF. SANDZEN DISCUSSES "ART OF THE NEAR EAST"

At the second number of the Art Series which was given Tuesday evening Prof. Birger Sandzen spoke on "Art of the Near East" dealing almost exclusively with Egyptian paintings and sculpture. Prof. Sandzen seemed to have an unlimited store of interesting facts about art in Egypt. The sun and the Nile, he pointed out, were the two most outstanding factors which affected Egyptian art while the moon, which holds an important place in the art of many countries, held no prominent place at all. The more important the figures the more brighter the colors. In the making of glass, linen, and textiles and in the art of gem-cutting the ancient Egyptians were never excelled. They were also highly proficient in making perfumes and poisons, lost arts which have never been re-discovered. Our present knowledge of Egyptian art and sculpture is much indebted to the practice the Egyptians had of putting beautiful paintings and statues in the tombs to watch the dead. Prof. Sandzen made his lecture still more interesting by showing a number of illustrations of Egyptian paintings and sculpture.

Marletta Byerly (after an astronomy star gazing trip): "I just had a dreadful time. I stubbed my toe out in the alfalfa field while I was looking for stars."

Marathon High (watching Paul Sargent captivate a harmless snake): "I'll be darned if I have to do that to be popular."

This company has 2340 acres of oil leases in Culbertson county, Texas, and Mr. Wohlgenuth is confident in the belief that there is an abundance of oil in that region.

Y. W. C. A.

A very interesting Riley program was given by the Y. W. C. A. Wednesday morning. Eunice Almen led the devotions. The first number on the program was a planologue "Old Sweet Heart of Mine" by Jessie Carter with Harry Bowers at the piano. A sketch of the Hoosier poet's life was given by Cecile Martin. On account of Riley's love and tribute often paid to children in deed and poem, he was called, "The man who had the key to the Kingdom of Childhood." His four styles of writing were vividly portrayed as follows: Child poem, "When the World Busts Thru" by Rowena Vaniman; nature poem, "The Pumpkin" by Olive Lehman; letters to home folks, by Maxine Hoover and dialect poem, by Reetha Studebaker. "My Perfect Prayer" was sung by Ocie McAvoy as a closing prayer. Every girl is proud of the work of the Y. W. C. A. in M. C. and such programs help one to appreciate the organization more.
