DEDICATION OF HARNLY HALL WILL BE ONE OF M. C.'S GREAT EVENTS

Chancellor E. H. Lindley of Kansas University Will Probably Be Principal Speaker.

FOUR PART PROGRAM PLANNED

Alumni Association Will Give Banquet in Arnold Hall To Visitors And Friends.

The program for the dedication of Harnly Hall, to take place December 1, will be one of the most elaborate affairs of the year and an important event in the history of McPherson College. Dr. E. L. Craik, who has charge of the publicity, is issuing invitations to a large number of people. There are to be four separate programs during the day, the first at ten o'clock in the morning, the second at two o'clock in the afternoon, the third at six o'clock, and the last at eight o'clock in the evening.

Chancellor Lindley May Speak
The morning program will be devoted chiefly to an address in the chapel. It is possible that Chancellor E. H. Lindley of Kansas University will be the speaker for the morning. Following this the Domestic Science department will conduct a cafeteria for the visitors.

Naming Ceremony In Afternoon

The ceremony of naming the building, by Dr. Kurtz, is planned for two o'clock in the chapel at a general meeting. Prof. Yoder will give an address of appreciation to the donors, followed by responses among which will be included responses from science teachers from the alumni of M. C. Immediately after this program an inspection tour of the campus and the various buildings will be conducted under the auspices of the Alumni Association.

Recital To Be Given In Evening

The Alumni Association will give a banquet at six o'clock in the dining room at Arnold Hall to the alumni, visitors, and friends. A recital by the Fine Arts department at eight o'clock in the chapel will be the main feature of the evening. The program is not definitely arranged at present.

Fitting Tribute To Dr. Harnly

Harnly Hall is by far the finest building on the campus and its name is a fitting tribute to one who has spent his life in unselfish service for the institution. Classes will not meet on that day at any hour. It is the intention of the committee in charge to make December 1 an open house day for the city, a means by which McPherson College can show her appreciation for the generous support given by the business men of McPherson. A large crowd is anticipated for each program.

SENIORS DECIDE REGARDING CLASS PINS AND INVITATIONS

The members of the College Senior class at the last meeting decided to place their order for pins and rings with Dieges and Clust, Jewelers, of Chicago. The type, style, and approximate size of the invitations were also decided upon so that when the salesman arrives next week the members of the class can tell him what they want instead of being told what they want.

During the past week the seniors have been having their individual pictures taken for the Quadrangle. The play committee and the Opera committee are very busy reading all the plays that they can secure. Apparently this illustrious class has the deck all cleared for action. They are showing splendid co-operation under President Brammell's leadership.

"True happiness is to no place confined, but yet is found in a contented mind."

"Happiness is a perfume you cannot pour on others without getting a few drops yourself."

EX-GOVERNOR HOCH PAYS TRIBUTE TO DR. KURTZ

"Those who missed hearing President Kurtz's dedicatory address in the new High School auditorium last week missed hearing about the finest address ever delivered in this town. If President Kurtz has a platform superior in this State this writer has not heard him, and I have heard most of them. A thinker, a logician, a word-painter, a forceful and yet graceful orator (which is a rare combination), full of wholesome sentiment mingled with enough clean humor to make it all palatable, he delights while he enriches his hearers."—Marion Record, October, 19, 1922.

TO STAGE HALLOWEEN PARTY IN GYM TONIGHT

WILL BE ONE OF THE LARGEST SOCIAL FUNCTIONS OF THE YEAR

One of the largest social functions of the year will be held in the gymnasium this evening at eight o'clock in the form of a genuine Halloween, Masquerade. This "All School Party" is being staged by the Student Council and an evening of wholesome fun has been planned by those in charge. Following the identification of the guests, in their weird, fantastic costumes, there will be a very interesting program of music, dramatics, stunts and "eats." So, all ye students of M. C.—"Park Your Grouch Outside" and come to the party prepared to have a rollicking good time on this All Hallow's Eve!

NEW BALDWIN PIANO INSTALLED IN CHAPEL

The new Baldwin parlor grande piano which the management of McPherson has recently purchased from Helmer Ek of the City News and Music Shop, has been installed in the chapel. The instrument is very beautiful and the tone quality and action is very fine coming quite up to the expectations of all.

The new piano has not been placed on the platform as it was thought it would be and will not at any time except for special programs so the members of the faculty will keep their places. It was tuned Friday and the Athenian Society used it for the first time.

The old piano has been placed in Miss Brown's studio for the present but will be placed in one of the music rooms of Harnly Hall in the near future.

DATE OF JUNIOR WEEK SET

In the weekly meeting Friday morning the Junior Class voted for the observance of Junior Week in the third week of April. The decision was immediately acted on by the Committee from the Faculty, and the request was granted. It is believed that this earlier date of the Junior activities will to a great extent relieve the excessive accumulation of events at the close of the year.

The following appointments have been made by the president. Social Committee, Eunice Almen, chairman; Play Committee, William Bishop, chairman; Hazel Vogt, acting chairman; Junior Chapel Committee, Winona McGaffey, chairman; Sneak Day Committee, Grace Ebaugh and Carl Schneider, chairman; Junior Boosters Committee, Everett Brubaker, chairman.

Small kindnesses, small courtesies, small considerations habitually practiced in our social intercourse give a greater charm to the character than the display of great talents and accomplishments.—M. A. Kelly.

If we cannot scatter sunshine we can at least refrain from scattering gloom.

The Bulldogs need your support.

TENTATIVE PROGRAM HAS BEEN PREPARED FOR BIBLE INSTITUTE

Committee in Charge Plans To Have Dr. W. B. Stover Of India As One Speaker

JANUARY 21-28 IS DATE

Members Of M. C. Faculty Will Form Larger Part Of Teaching Force

January 21-28, 1923 is the date of the annual Bible Institute at McPherson College. A large crowd is expected this year and the program in tentative form promises some good things. There may be some minor changes but the general outline of the program is practically assured. A later announcement will be made as to the hours of the various lectures.

Rev. Ezra Flory May Be Secured

The committee of the Bible School having in charge the preparation of the Institute program plans to have Dr. W. B. Stover of India as one of the leading speakers, but in case he is not available to secure Rev. Ezra Flory of Elgin, Illinois, a noted specialist in Religious Education. It is also planned to secure Rev. E. E. Eshelman of Red Cloud, Nebraska, to lecture on rural problems. Rev. H. F. Richards, pastor of the McPherson church, will probably lecture on pastoral problems.

Many Faculty Members To Lecture

The other instructors and lecturers will be from the college faculty. President Kurtz will conduct several studies during the day and deliver at least one evening lecture. His subjects are not yet announced. Dean Harnly will give one evening lecture, possibly on his travels. Professor Yoder will have charge of five hours of work, including two lantern lectures. Dr. Craik will give three lectures on the Reformation, Professor Deeter is listed for a series of lectures on the Epistles. Six hours will be used by Professor Studebaker on some phase of New Testament teaching. In all probability Professors Mohler, Ebel, and Walters will contribute several periods to the work of the Institute, but no announcement of subjects is as yet made.

MUSEUM RECEIVES CURIOS FROM PHILIPPINE ISLANDS

The evergrowing Museum of McPherson College has just received some interesting articles from the Philippine Islands, which were sent by Herbert J. Detrick, a plantation manager there. Mr. Detrick is an alumnus of M. C., having graduated from the Commercial department in 1905.

The collection contains several highly colored scarfs, a large bow-knife, a silver tobacco box, and jewelry boxes, and a pipe. The razor used by the Philippines is in the collection and a very crude instrument it is indeed. There are also some polished coconut shells and other shells of the Islands as well as rings and ear-rings. Of special interest is a piece of bamboo on which is carved a letter written by one of the chiefs. The collection will soon be placed in the museum.

ELEMENT OF BEAUTY IS NEEDED IN ATHLETICS

Athletics has a strong supporter in Birger Sandzen, director of Art of Bethany College. "I approve heartily of athletics," said Prof. Sandzen in his lecture on "Greek Art" at Smalley's Tuesday evening, "and I think the idea of competition—the desire for winning is as it should be. But if added to this were the element of beauty in athletics then we would have the proper conception of what athletics should be, and we as the Greek would understand its relation to our lives."

DR. KURTZ TO BE DELEGATE TO TEMPERANCE CONVENTION

Dr. Kurtz is to be one of the Kansas delegates to the international convention of the World League Against Alcoholism, according to an official appointment which he received last week from Governor Allen. The convention, which is to be held in Toronto, Canada from November 24 to 29, will be of international importance and will bring together the leading temperance workers of the entire world for a conference and rally. McPherson College is very fortunate that its president may be one of the twenty-five delegates which will be sent to the convention from Kansas.

REGIONAL DIRECTOR OF Y. M. C. A. GIVES TALK

BELIEVES THAT OUTLOOK OF STUDENT FEDERATION IS HOPEFUL

That students are awakening to the affairs of a real world is the belief of Mr. B. M. Cherrington, regional director of the Y. M. C. A. of Colorado, Nebraska, and Kansas, who gave a short address in chapel last Monday. In his talk Mr. Cherrington forcefully called attention to the spirit of war which has gripped the world. Not only national warfare but racial warfare is evident. Even within our civilized nation thirty people have been burned at the stake during the last year.

"War Always Begets War."

"War always begets war," continued Mr. Cherrington. Everything has been tried to prevent war except one thing which is Christianity. Until people live the life of kindness, unselfishness, love and brotherhood war will continue. In the youth of the Y. M. C. A. lies the hope to be realized in bringing Christ into the lives of this suffering, angry world. But God's will alone cannot solve the problem. There must be trained minds. Leaders must know the laws of sociology, economics, and psychology.

Student Federation Is Great Work.

There is a World's Student Federation composed of forty other lands besides our own which is doing its utmost to get students to make Christ the leader of their lives. The outlook of this Student Federation is even more hopeful than the League of Nations for the students of today will be the builders of the nations tomorrow. The opportunity cannot be ignored. Other colleges are doing what they can and McPherson College can do no less.

Mr. Cherrington is an experienced Y. M. C. A. leader who knows the problems which confront students. His talk was much appreciated for it gave inspiration for greater service.

Lectures Will Be Given On China.

Interest in China ought to be very keen just now. China is bidding for recognition and will be heard. Next Thursday in chapel Prof. Yoder will tell what is happening at Shou Yang. Thursday evening M. C. students will have the privilege of hearing a Chinese student speak concerning his native land. He will also speak in chapel Friday morning. Whether you are interested or not you can not afford to miss either of these opportunities for getting a new vision of the on-coming tide of opportunity.

HAS BEGUN WORK ON THESIS

Jay W. Tracey, A. B. 1922, fellow in History in the University of Kansas, has begun work on the thesis which he will submit for the Master of Arts degree. He has been assigned the subject "William Gilpin, first territorial governor of Colorado." Mr. Tracey is specializing in the field of American History.

LONBORG'S GRIDSTERS NOSE OUT COYOTES IN LAST PERIOD OF GAME

Methodist Eleven Outplays Bulldogs At First But Fails To Check Opponents' Come-Back.

FINAL SCORE STANDS 13-10.

Successful Aerial Work Nets Large Gains Which Make Victory Certain For M. C.

McPherson College defeated the Wesleyan Coyotes at Salina last Friday when, after being outplayed in the early part of the game, they scored two touchdowns in the last quarter and won by the narrow margin of a 13-10 score. The game was marred by many penalties; twenty times was the contest halted while officials conferred covered ground to either faction. There was, however, no general indication of poor sportsmanship, although Allen, Wesleyan guard, was disqualified for his behavior.

McPherson Uses Forward Pass.

McPherson's first counter was secured by two long passes, the first, Barton to Carter, netted 45 yards and the last, Carter to Ellwood, made 37 yards and resulted in a touchdown. The winning tally was scored soon after when, with three complete passes and a Wesleyan penalty, the ball was brought to the three yard line. Carter slid over the line on the third down a few minutes before the final whistle.

Coyotes Score First.

By means of a successful attack in the first period the Coyotes carried the ball to McPherson's seven yard line and after recovering an attempted drop-kick went through the Bulldog line for the first counter of the game. The Coyotes again succeeded in registering soon after the half when they blocked a McPherson punt and their toe-artist placed a drop-kick between the goal posts from the 25 yard line.

Ellwood Makes Touchdown.

Ellwood, as in last week's performance, won the admiration of the fans when he took a 37 yard pass from Carter and went over the Coyotes' goal line. This Bulldog end also played a great defensive game, going down under punts and making many good tackles. Captain Carter showed his usual skill in burging the oval and made many brilliant returns of Wesleyan punts. Barton, displaying his usual consistent brand of football, made the longest run of the game when he returned a Cannon boot forty yards.

Cannon and Huey Star for K. W. U.

Cannon, the heralded toe-artist for the Wesleyans and Huey, half-back, played well. The former, who was forced out of the game several minutes due to injuries, also flipped the pigskin in a commendable manner.

A large delegation of McPherson rooters accompanied their heroes to Salina and the support from the sidelines was a large factor in the Bulldogs' victory.

First Quarter

The game opened with Kansas Wesleyan kicking-off. McPherson made a good return and punted. The Wesleyans did the same and here the ball remained in the middle of the field for the greater part of the quarter with both teams scrapping for the advantage. The Coyotes started an attack which the Bulldogs were not able to withstand and the end of the quarter found them on the McPherson ten yard mark.

Second Quarter

In the second quarter with the Coyotes threatening their goal, the Canines put a strong defense. On the third down the Coyotes were penalized fifteen yards. Here they attempted a drop-kick which failed but the ball was recovered. McPherson received two penalties for losses of eighteen yards and from the two yard line Cannon squeezed through

WHAT DO YOU READ?

With the many assignments in textbooks and reference books the ordinary student finds little time to keep up on current events, not to say anything about reading an occasional article in a magazine.

Of course during vacation magazines and newspapers had first place but with the advent of school days they are given very little attention. It is one phase of our school life that is badly neglected. We cannot expect to talk intelligently with our friends if we do not keep in touch with what is going on in the world about us.

The library receives a wide variety of standard magazines as well as several of the best newspapers of the country. Even the busiest students with only a few minutes of spare time can find in these a wealth of reading matter that will keep them posted on current happenings.

The cultivation of an extensive reading habit is one of the best habits that can be formed while in college. It pays most for the effort expended. Textbooks have their place but who admires the bookworm? It's the wide-read student we admire.

SOMNIOLOGUES

Chameleons are not confined to lizards, but there are evidences of them in civilized society. They are the people who are constantly agreeing with everything said and putting up a line of talk to suit the other fellow. It is not necessary to become a mirror reflecting the ideas and the ideals of the people with whom one associates to be a good mixer. Listening to a monologue of insincerity is disgusting, for the chameleon fools no one. Sincerity is a test of personality, and the chameleon lacks it.

Borrowing is a hobby for some students in any school. They are not contented until they have borrowed their acquaintances'—they don't borrow from friends,—books, paper, pen, notes, knowledge, and everything borrowable. Part of the students must furnish extra supplies, thus going the second mile, and farther. Job himself would have tired of it finally, at least when the articles do not come back.

What a joy it is to be a student who has a perfectly legitimate reason for absenting himself from class. He goes to his teacher several times before excuse blanks are supplied, the teacher being "just out of them" every time but the last, and when the blank is obtained, Dr. Harnly is followed up and down stairs until he at length sits at his desk surrounded by a score of waiting students. Just then the whistle blows and the student rushes to class, comes back and repeats the performance ad infinitum. When the week of grace is over the blank may be signed, to be returned to the teacher null and void. If he has one, the student produces a dollar and suffers through an examination. The committee is very anxious that the faculty follow the new rule to the very letter. Selah.

B. M. CHERRINGTON MEETS Y. M. AND Y. W. CABINETS

B. M. Cherrington, regional director of the Y. M. C. A., met the Y. M. and Y. W. cabinets in a joint session last Monday afternoon from 4:30 to 5:15 for a very practical study of the elemental principle of Christianity. In a very concise and striking way, Mr. Cherrington turned the searchlight of Christ's Christianity back on the present day Christianity. Will it stand the test of Christ's elemental principle that "the strong deny themselves to advantage the weak?"

Can Christ's principle be carried into the modern industrial world? Should skilled laborers of a craft have a flat wage scale which would apply equally to slow and fast workers? Should we live in fine houses, buried in luxuries while there are those in the world who lack the bare necessities of life? Have we the right to spend many dollars for extra clothes while millions freeze? Can we have Christ in our lives without first considering His most fundamental principle and interpreting our every day problems in the light of this principle? These are some of the questions that Mr. Cherrington put before the members of the two cabinets.

There are those who need. What shall the students of today do about it when the time comes to apply this Christianity?

CONGRESSMAN BIRD SPEAKS

According to Congressman Richard E. Bird who spoke in chapel last Monday morning government would be much better if it were better understood. The speaker quoted Senator Bailey of Texas who divided government into three divisions, first the past with its courts, second the present with its executive force, third the future with its legislative force.

Mr. Bird explained that there were two kinds of laws, God's laws and man's laws. Every time man's laws conflict with God's laws they must give way to those of God. Congressman Bird believes that there never was a greater victory for the science of government than the Eighteenth Amendment to our Constitution.

ST. MARY'S BATTLE WILL TEST BULLDOGS' STRENGTH

The Bulldogs are going to experience one of their hardest contests of the season next Thursday when they play the "Fighting Irish" at St. Mary's. The Catholics lost their first game to the strong Normal team but won the last two from Ottawa and Hays Normal by a margin of two and three touchdowns, holding their opponents scoreless. Last year St. Mary's defeated the Bulldogs with a drop-kick, the score being 14-17. If the Canines can continue the brand of football displayed in the last quarter at Salina they may be able to outplay the Irishmen. The Bulldogs will not have the support from the sidelines which they had at Salina, so let's give them a rousing send-off. Everybody out!

Who's Who in M. C.

OUR FIELD SECRETARY

Rev. Ray S. Wagoner.

Rev. Ray S. Wagoner who succeeded Rev. W. O. Beckner has been faithfully serving McPherson College in the field secretary work since May 1921. This work includes the soliciting of students and various college funds. Especially has he been instrumental in obtaining funds for Harnly Hall. During his first summer he visited sixteen church congregations in Oklahoma and several in Missouri. Last summer he worked among churches in Arkansas, and Northwestern and Northeastern Kansas.

Rev. Wagoner is at present working near Warrensburg, Missouri. The Missouri congregations will occupy most of his time until the last of January when he expects to take some school work in M. C. in addition to visiting thirteen churches near the college. Rev. Wagoner had charge of the High School Festival last spring and will serve as chairman of the committee again next spring.

McPherson College has in the person of Rev. Wagoner a field secretary of recognized ability for getting things done. His industry and hustling coupled with his amiable disposition for co-operating and mixing with folks is to be highly commended.

A SUMMER EXPERIENCE

Grace L. Ebaugh.

When school is out the students scatter to many different cities and states—very few going to small towns. This summer I threw my lot in Kansas City to procure experience as well as some change. Now, for a person to go from a school numbering about four hundred to a factory employing fifteen hundred is quite a jump. I felt just about as verdant as any person enrolled in a freshman class. Perhaps we think it is quite noisy at a football game (and it really should be, too), but from my experience, I would choose a football game as a place to rest in peace and quietude rather than a factory.

The Loose Wiles factory in Kansas City is over a block long and is seven stories high. Besides the main building there are two smaller buildings. I worked on the fourth floor in what is called the Labeling Department. When the cookies and crackers are baked they are sent to this floor to be packed and labeled. The crackers are sent on belts about four feet wide and on each side of this belt are girls who pack them into large cartons. The girls in this department have what is called a "standing job" and by this I do not mean a permanent one. They are on their feet all day and go through the same movements. It is a hot job, too because the crackers are just off the ovens. These girls would keep towels wet in ice water around their necks to try to keep cool. The Label Department was across the aisle from the cracker packers. It was in this department that I worked. The girls here have a comparatively easy time as compared with the girls in the packing department for they can be seated most of the time.

The majority of the employees not in the offices are not very well educated. Some of them go to the factory to work for the same reason that some students go to college—they want to get married! Others go because they are married and have to work to support their families. Although there were many who were lower in a social and intellectual way than most of the college students, I made friends with some whom I am proud to know and I value their friendship highly.

On the seventh floor of the factory was the cafeteria and also the dressing rooms. The cafeteria was for noon lunch only and the meals were served at cost to the employees. The various departments would go at different times for their lunch so as to prevent confusion.

All the employees not in the office had to wear uniforms. In the candy department the girls dressed in white aprons, the laundry departments blue aprons, and those in the other departments wore blue and white striped aprons. All wore white caps. Most of the boys wore white uniforms. The employees are allowed to eat the goods with which they are working but they cannot take any home with them—unless they pay for it. If they are caught on another floor they are quite likely to lose their job.

There is a recreation room also on the fourth floor of the factory and every noon there is a group of employees there dancing and singing. Every Wednesday noon they have a special program. They hire someone to come and sing or give readings or dance. I only saw one of these programs as they were discontinued for the summer.

The health of the employees is looked after by the plant doctor who goes through the factory each Monday and Thursday. There is no charge to the employees for his advice.

Although I enjoyed my summer's experiences a great deal I came home feeling grateful for the many privileges which I enjoy.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. Thursday morning was devoted to a Hallow'een program. Mildred Carpenter led devotions and gave a short history of that holiday. With Winona McGaffey in charge, numerous fate-deciding stunts were given on the platform. The results revealed many undreamed-of facts to the hilarious audience. The girls found out about prospective trips, letters, husbands, and everything else that makes life interesting.

Y. M. C. A.

At the Y. M. meeting Thursday morning Harold Correll, president of the organization, presented the matter of sending a delegate to the Tri-Annual Y. M. C. A. convention at Atlantic City, New Jersey which will be held in a few weeks. The proposition was voted down by the members on account of the heavy expense connected with such a trip. All members of the organization were given Y. M. C. A. pins at the close of the session.

Exchanges

A banquet was held at Friends University last week to help raise funds for the Russian relief.

Sterling College is to have a chapter of Pi Kappa Delta, national honorary forensic fraternity.

A radio club has been organized at Bethel College. A radio equipment will be installed in the near future.

Fairmount College has launched a Million Dollar Campaign. The subscriptions in Wichita had passed the $100,000 mark when the last "Sunflower" was published.

Baker has established the point system whereby girls may earn programs. A letter will be awarded after 800 points have been received.

Eighteen states and six foreign countries are represented in the organizations at Oklahoma State College.

The debate tryout at Kansas Wesleyan University will be held November 2.

Dr. Henry Lawrence Southwick, president of Emerson College of Oratory at Boston, Massachusetts will appear in recital at Bethany College in December. The proceeds of the recital will go toward defraying the expenses connected with debate trips.

The Student Volunteers of Ottawa and Baker held a joint social recently.

Basket ball practice has started at Bethel College. There are seven "B" men at Bethel this year.

The President of the Student Council of McPherson College and the Editor-in-Chief of The Fairmount Sunflower walked into a theatre in Emporia about a week ago and settled down to enjoy an evening's entertainment. Soon they were politely informed by an usher that they were in the section reserved for colored boys. The two officials sought seats elsewhere.

Prof. Ebel (in Spanish class): "What is the superlative of ill?" Lester Ogden, responding promptly: "Dead, sir."

Prof. Morris in Astronomy class (speaking of aberration of light and how to hold an umbrella): "What would you do if you ran in the rain?" Bill Riddlebarger: "Get wet."

Irvin Ibrig: "I'll never ask another girl to marry me as long as I live."

Louis Bowman: "Refused again?" Irvin: "No, accepted."

COLLEGE DEBATERS DISCUSS COMPENSATION OF SOLDIERS

An interesting discussion was enjoyed by all who attended the meeting of the college debate club Thursday evening. The question, Resolved: That the United States should give an adjusted compensation to World War veterans, is one which has been before the public for some time and has caused considerable comment in newspaper columns. The speakers were Oscar Lanford and Leonard Timmons for the affirmative, and Arthur Prather and Paul Lantz for the negative.

The gist of the affirmative contention was that the United States is bound by every law of patriotism, justice, and duty to grant an adjusted compensation. The ex-soldier deserves it; he needs it; and his country owes it to him. It was suggested that the money should be drafted from those who became wealthy during the war. The United States could develop many of her resources by giving land, now unproductive, as homes to ex-soldiers who would thus be provided for and at the same time enrich the country.

The negative opposed the question by stating that it is wrong in principle as well as morally. An assurance of work is what is needed, not money. The giving of money would encourage pauperism. The nation could not meet such a financial burden. The only possible way to pay a bonus would be through increased taxation and taxes are already too high.

The rebuttal was snappy and convincing, necessary characteristics of a good debate. The house voted in favor of the affirmative as also did the judges. The critic, Isaac Dirks, gave a few fitting criticisms, emphasizing the necessity for a debater to be saturated with his material, choosing few points and developing these thoroughly.

Prof. Hess held up for inspection a well worn booklet with frayed edges, "Who's Who in M. C. Debate" of which he is author. He gave an open invitation for more entries. Those wishing to enter the tryout for the college debate team see Prof. Hess and have your name entered. A good line up of debaters has been secured for the next program which will be held on November 9.

SALINA HIGH SCHOOL WINS VICTORY FROM MCPHERSON

By taking advantage of an excessive amount of fumbling on the part of McPherson players, the Salina High School eleven won a 12-6 victory on their home field Thursday afternoon. Both of Salina's scores came in the first half. In the second period Uhrlaub's warriors completely outplayed the Salina aggregation but were only able to score once. Several times, however, they threatened to make a counter, only to lose on account of fumbles. In line scrimmage McPherson almost gained five time as much yardage as their opponents. Harrison was the greatest ground-gainer for the M. H. S. eleven. Friday afternoon the high school will play Abilene on the home field.

PROF. SANDZEN GIVES LECTURE ON GREK ART

In his lecture on Greek Art at Smalley's last Tuesday evening Prof. Birger Sandzen brought out the surprising fact that the influence of Greece is greater now than it was two thousand years ago. The element of the beautiful always came first to the Greek. To him quality stood for far more than quantity. "The key to Greek life and art," Prof. Sandzen stated, "is 'Know Thyself' and 'Nothing in Excess.'"

Although the present age surpasses the Greeks in science, it lacks a great deal of measuring up to them in art. Nearly every nation since the fall of Athens has copied very largely from Greek art. The artist is intellectual, and moral characteristics of man today can be brought out best by a careful study of the art of ancient Greece.

What? A date?—Yes, the H. S. exhibit date—the week of November 20th. The exhibit this year proves to be an unusually interesting and attractive one.

Academy Senior Hike

"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." Yes, that's what the Academy Seniors think so they decided to forget their work and hike to the sand pit for a jolly good time. Wednesday evening proved to be an ideal evening for the outing. All dignity was laid aside. Professor Hess even forgot about mathematics and history and took part in the various games such as "Flying Dutchman," "Ruth and Jacob," "Pig in the Pen," etc. A bunch of hungry youngsters scrambled down the sand banks when supper was announced. To their delight they found a big camp fire and an enormous amount of wieners, big fat juicy ones, too. But that wasn't all. There were buns, pickles, marshmallows, and apples. As the group stood around the dying embers of the camp fire, the new members expressed their gratitude to the others because of the congenial spirit and interest shown. The old members in turn expressed their appreciation in having the new members with them. The president gave in a few words the aim of the class which is to make things "go better" than they have ever gone before. Then came the jokes and stories but they were interrupted because all dormitory students had to be home by 7:30. Every one went away feeling that the evening was well spent.

"Did we go? I'll say so! Twenty-eight of us, all in a row. For a hike, we did take leave. At a quarter to five on Tuesday eve." It was the united desire of both the Freshman and Sophomore classes to enjoy their first hike together so with that idea in mind the time was set for last Tuesday evening. Promptly at a quarter till five, the two classes met, with their faculty advisers, in front of the main building and wended their way to Brubaker's pasture with the anticipation of a fine time together.

After some "snaps" were taken Prof. Keim, the Sophomore class adviser, together with Miss Hill, the Freshman adviser, led out in various games and frolics. Mrs. Keim joined the jolly party about six o'clock and soon after a huge bonfire was built. The boys cut long sticks for themselves and the girls, and then the eats were opened. After eating roasted wieners, buns, and toasted marshmallows, the merry-makers gathered around the fire and listened with delight to two splendid readings by Mrs. Keim and numerous funny stories from Prof. Keim and Miss Hill. Wraps were then gathered up and they all journeyed home again feeling that "they had the best time ever."

College Seniors Frolic

Saturday evening at 5:30 the College Senior class boarded a hay rack and drove to Johnson's woods several miles east of town for an outing. By the time they arrived at their destination they were pretty well jostled and shaken due to temperamental horses and inconsistent drivers. A number of touchdowns were made and a goodly number of forward passes completed with the football which was taken along.

Everyone gathered about the two fires and ate long and fast of fresh buns, overize obese wieners, coffee as strong as the rock of Gibraltar, red apples, tasty cookies, and delicious marshmallows. Photos were taken around the campfires and everyone made a joyful noise trying to follow such tunes as "Juanita," "Polly Wolly Doodle," "Dixie," and other sane, serious, silly, and simple songs. Some Seniors!

It's a great art to find things that are lost. Those persons who have difficulty in perfecting this accomplishment might ask Robert Blough how it is done. He knows.

Prof. Blair (in Methods Class—speaking of Olive Lehman's question): "This thing down here in front amuses me."—(Hearty laugh by the students) "Don't tell Mrs. Lehman's husband."

M. C. RESERVES DEFEAT LEGION TEAM AT CANTON

Besides having an exceptionally good first string of Bulldog players M. C. has a second string that has proved of no meager ability. Saturday at Canton the Reserves defeated the American Legion team of that place by a score of 24 to 6. The counters for the M. C. Seconds came at regular intervals, one in each quarter thus showing they played consistent football. The counter for the Canton team came in the third quarter when the McPherson safety fumbled the ball and all that was necessary for a touchdown was to pick up the ball and meander across the line with it.

McPherson used straight football the first half and in the last half opened up with a very good exhibit of aerial work. Several long passes were completed, Hoover to Kreitzer, and Hoover to Holloway. Cotton and Fisher playing tackles were responsible for considerable credit in making a stonewall defense. Smith and Holloway at ends, a pair of Lengels for guards, and Kilewar at center completed what seemed to be an air-tight line. In the backfield Hill, Kreitzer, and Hoover were consistent ball jugglers. Morris and Kurtz also did commendable work. Schelder played part of the game at guard. It takes a second team to make a first team and one can readily see why the Bulldogs' first string has been able to get so many scalps with a second string like this to practice against.

SEEN FROM THE SIDELINES

The town and college football enthusiasts certainly gave the Bulldogs their support Friday. These several hundred rooters aided materially in winning the battle and their presence was an indication of the interest they have in the team.

The last ten minutes of play were well worth the trip to the flour city. From the visitors' side of the gridiron came a boisterous uproar which merely suggested the intense frenzy of the fans.

Three neatly executed passes near the conclusion of the game, Barton to Carter, Carter to Ellwood, and Carter to Stansel, were largely responsible for the M. C. tallies.

Ellwood was one of the bright lights in the Bulldog lineup.

Although the Coyotes have claimed the best punter in the conference, figures show that Barton excelled the Wesleyan toe-artist.

If the attention of the red and white adherents could have been anywhere but on the gridiron one might have noticed, in the final period of play, a hatless individual who did not maintain his reclining attitude so characteristic of the chapel platform.

Prof. Blair happened to be in Canton Saturday when the Reserves swamped the American Legion.

Only an honest-to-goodness team could stage the comeback the Bulldogs did in the last ten minutes of play with a 10-0 score standing against them.

Many yards of coveted ground were saved by the return of Captain Carter, while Lonborg's men went down under punts and downed the Coyote safety in his tracks. Hal Barton made a sensational 40 yard return of a kick-off.

You can boost the Bulldogs by coming out to Pep Meetings.

The Bulldogs need your support.

The Bulldog line for a touchdown. Cannon also toed the ball across for the extra point. At the kickoff the Bulldogs staged a come-back and marched eighty yards up the field only to lose the ball on the Coyotes' three yard line when Thornton fumbled on being tackled. Wesleyan punted and the sphere remained in the center of the field until the half ended.

Third Quarter

At the opening of the second half the Coyotes kicked-off. A McPherson punt was blocked and a K. W. player fell on the ball on the Coyotes' twenty yard line. A Wesleyan penalty for 15 yards followed, and then a pass again put the Coyotes on the twenty yard mark. Cannon dropped back to the 25-yard line and placed a drop-kick between the uprights. At the kick-off Barton returned one of Cannon's punts forty yards, but the ball was lost on a fumble in the next play. With the aid of an off-side penalty the Wesleyans were again in a position to drop kick but this time were unsuccessful, the ball going to one side.

Fourth Quarter

The last quarter opened with the ball on the Coyotes' ten yard line. After an exchange of punts the Bulldogs began an offensive which resulted in two touchdowns within five minutes of play. A pass, Barton to Carter, netted 45 yards. The third play was another pass, Carter to Ellwood, which just gained the necessary 37 yards for a touchdown. Barton failed to kick goal and the score stood 6-10. After the next kick-off the ball remained in the middle of the field till a Wesleyan player was penalized half the distance to the goal (25 yards). A pass, Carter to Stansel, gained ten yards and placed the Bulldogs on the Coyotes' 12 yard line. Although six downs were required Carter finally slid over the line for the winning counter. The game ended soon after, with the ball in the middle of the field.
