

BIBLE INSTITUTE WEEK CONTAINED PROGRAMS OF UNUSUAL INTEREST

Reverend Lear, and Reverend Blough Outside Speakers, Talked on Church Problems

MANY CAME FROM A DISTANCE

Faculty Members Gave Daily Talks on Topics of Exceptional Interest

The annual Bible Institute, held in McPherson College from January 20 to 27, in which special speakers and faculty members gave daily lectures, and in which there were evening programs of exceptional interest, was enthusiastically supported by M. C. students and a large number of friends from a distance.

Reverend Lear Lectured Daily
The Reverend J. W. Lear, pastor of the Bethany Church of the Brethren, of Chicago, gave a series of daily lectures on "The Church", based on Ephesians, in addition to several other lectures. These lectures were popular and well attended. The Reverend Mr. Lear spoke with force and conviction, and he contributed much to the success of the Institute.

Church Problems Discussed
Various church problems were discussed by the Reverend H. E. Blough each day. The Reverend Mr. Blough is pastor of the Church of the Brethren, of Wiley, Colorado, and his varied experience in church work, combined with his manner of speaking, made his lectures of interest to all.

Miss Lucy Frances Johnson, secretary of the county welfare board, spoke on "Co-operation between the Community and the Church in Social Work." The committee was unexpectedly able to secure the Reverend C. H. Shamberger, of Elgin, Illinois, secretary of the Young People's Board of the Church of the Brethren, to speak on young people's work.

Faculty Members Assisted
The remaining lectures were given by faculty members. Professor Deeter gave daily lectures on "Pauline Epistles," and the Reverend H. F. Richards spoke on various phases of Christian Culture. Other lectures not all of a religious nature were given by Dr. Kurtz; by Professor Ebel, on "The Salem Witchcraft"; by Dr. Crank, on "The Brethren in Kansas," and "Crises in Church History"; by Professor Yoder, on "Church Finances"; by Miss Margaret Walters, on "Reading Material for Children"; by Dr. Harnly, an "God's Method of Operating this World"; by Professors Mishler and Chapman, on physical education; by Professor Boone, on manual training; by Professor Mohler, on farm problems; and by Miss Minnie Walters, on problems in home economics.

Evening sessions included a musical by the Choral Society, a lecture on "Discipline," by the Reverend Mr. Lear; "Peace," by Dr. Kurtz; "A Visit to the Stars," by Professor Morris; an educational meeting; and "Animals of the Ice Age," by Professor Nialinger.

BETHEL COLLEGE WINS BY LONG GOAL LAST EVENING

Bethel College won a hard fought game from McPherson College last evening at Newton by a score of 31-30. The score at the end of the half was 19-18, with the Bulldogs holding the precarious lead. At the end of the regular playing period the score was 29-29, and in the play-off Bethel scored a field goal while the Bulldogs tossed in a free throw.

Mishler's team used the short pass style effectively, and worked the ball up for many middle-distance shots, while their opponents scored consistently from behind the center circle.

ENTER CONTEST AT WICHITA.

Jesse Carney, Truman Grogan, and Charles Spicer left yesterday morning with Professor Mohler and Milton Dell for Wichita to enter the stock judging contest at the Live Stock Show being held there. Professor Mohler's teams have been most successful in the past, having taken several first prizes in recent years.

CONCERT TO BE GIVEN NEXT FRIDAY EVENING

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA TO GIVE NUMBER ON STUDENT TICKET

All those who enjoy good orchestra music should look forward with keen anticipation to the program to be given by the Symphony Orchestra in the Chapel, February 1. The program will consist of music of the best type, and there will be a great deal of variety, so every one is assured of being pleased. This is a number on the student activity program, and admission will be by student activity ticket or thirty-five cents.

Will Give Famous Selections
Who could fail to enjoy Hayden's "Military Symphony," or a selection from the opera "Cavalier Rusticans"? Besides, think of hearing Handel's "Largo," the "Goyescas Intermezzo," by the composer who died when the Lusitania was sunk, and the "Scarf Dance" by Chaminate, the famous woman composer.

Herkle Wampler To Assist
As a special feature, Herkle Wampler will sing "Dio Possenti," accompanied by the Orchestra. This is only a small part of the program, but it is enough to assure anyone of the treat in store.

The Symphony Orchestra consists of thirty pieces of the best talent McPherson has. The personnel has been reduced from forty to thirty members by eliminating all but the most efficient musicians.

Professor Lauer Is Conductor
The last fact which carries enough weight alone to convince one of the merits of the orchestra is that Professor Lauer is conductor. His record of success with the Orchestra settles all doubts concerning the success of the coming concert. He is a splendid conductor, and has arranged an unusual and alluring program for the concert. If you do not believe it, come and hear for yourself; that is what is wanted, your loyal support.

CRANK GIVES LAST LECTURE

Dr. Crank gave the last of his series of twelve lectures on "The Social and Ethical Teachings of Jesus" to men and boys at the Christian Church Sunday afternoon. These lectures have been usually given in the Y. M. C. A. building, and were under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. They have created a great deal of interest among those attending. The attendance averaged about thirty.

SCHOOL OF FINE ARTS IS SHOWING PROGRESS AND A RAPID GROWTH

Enrollment in the Department Has Increased 100 Per Cent in the Past Six Years

EIGHT SPECIALISTS ON FACULTY

Thirty-Five Courses Now Offered in the School of Music, Expression, and Art.

The fine arts department of McPherson College has been among the most progressive during the past six years, showing an increased enrollment of one hundred per cent over that of 1918, with the number of courses offered being raised from ten to thirty-five. This places the College School of Music, Expression, and Art on a par with any in the State; and with particular reference to the Music department, it now is one of the standard music schools of the state, being affiliated with the Kansas College Schools of Music, whose standards allow only the best to enter. There are eight or nine schools including the state institutions in the association. All teachers are accredited, and the North Central Association of Colleges allows a major to be taken in Music on the regular college course. Aside from this, special courses in Music leading to Teachers Certificate, Diploma and Bachelor of Music may be pursued, independent of the regular collegiate course.

On Fourth Floor of Harnly Hall
The Music and Art School occupies the entire fourth floor of Harnly Hall, with the exception of the space occupied by the museum. For the convenience of the people of the city a finely equipped studio is maintained over Sundahl's Cafe. The Music department owns and has exclusive use of eight upright and two grand pianos, all practically new, besides many pianos which are rented by students in the community for practice purposes. The library is ac-

Choral Society Gives Excellent Concert

SUCCESS TO THE EVENT ATTRIBUTED TO THE EFFORTS OF PROFESSOR GAW

The concert given by the Choral Society in the College Chapel under the direction of Professor Forrest W. Gaw, January 22, proved to be one of the finest concerts given in the city for some time. The entire program was of extremely high merit and an overflow audience was hearty in applause. The Choral Society was assisted by the Ladies Glee Club; and by the Music Club with Mrs. Marie Gaw, Miss Alfreda Hagstrom, and Mr. Frank Barton as soloists, and Miss Jessie Brown at the piano.

The outstanding numbers of the program were "The Goldfinch's Wedding," by Koshitz; "Listen to Lambs" by the Negro composer Dett; "The Hunting Song," by Gilchrist; and "Viking Song," by Coleridge-Taylor. Of the last two must be made special mention for the excellent rendition given by the chorus. "Three Cavaliers," words of a Russian folk song set to music by Alexander Dargomyski, received an enthusiastic response from the audience. The Ladies Glee Club repeated this number as an encore.

The success of such an excellent concert must be attributed to the efforts of Professor Gaw, who has endeavored to give only the best and worth while type of productions to the community. The concert was given under the auspices of the Student Council, and was the first of a series of local talent concerts, quite often superior to some traveling companies with the average stock in trade variety programs.

FIRST PRESIDENT OF M. C. RECALLS AMUSING PRANKS

"Students thirty years ago were just as mischievous and full of pop as they are now," said Dr. S. Z. Sharp, founder and first president of McPherson College, in recalling the days when he was in the institution.

The rules of the College were apparently more stringent than at present. There were two walks, one for the ladies and the other for the men. Likewise Falmestock Hall was divided with the north end for the ladies exclusively. The male population of the dormitory was quite curious about these unseen apartments, and in brave attempt one of the dapper young gentlemen, who in the future was to become the austere syrup-buyer, determined to find out how it would feel to come in the north entrance. He tried it, but to his dismay was confronted by Dr. Sharp at the door. Upon being severely reprimanded he made this proposition to the president, "If you don't say anything about this I won't."

Dr. Sharp has kept still for many years.

GOAL QUICKLY REACHED IN STUDENT CAMPAIGN

COLLEGE AND ACADEMY CLASSES REPORT ONE HUNDRED PER CENT PLEDGED

The student endowment campaign under the direction of the Student Council went over the top with a bang before ten o'clock Wednesday morning when the College and Academy classes reported one hundred per cent subscriptions, twelve hours before the campaign was scheduled to close.

John Harnly Led The Drive
John Harnly, as chairman of the campaign committee, had two able assistants in David Brubaker and Hazel Vogt, and together they succeeded in trebling the number of pledges previously made.

The Seniors took first honors, having turned in all their pledges on Saturday. Quickly the Juniors, Academy classes, Freshmen, and Sophomores followed until no one was left to be solicited.

Students Pledged $17,288.50
Students pledged $17,288.50; faculty, $4,527.00; and friends of the College, $226.00; totaling $22,041.50. Two pledges for $1,000.00 were made by faculty members; five college seniors each pledged $500.00; other pledges ranged from these to a cash donation of fifty cents.

This campaign is one of the most intensive and one of the most far reaching ever made in M. C. Rarely is any movement responded to by every student, but this one has been deemed of such importance as to warrant the support of all.

ENROLLMENT IS SLOW.

Enrollment for the second semester has not yet been relegated to the pages of history. There are some prospective students who evidently believe in the motto, "Slow but sure." Those who have definitely cast their fortunes with M. C. for another semester number about three hundred. While this is far below the enrollment for the first half of the year, it is believed that those who for various reasons are entering late will raise the number considerably.

MISHLER'S QUINTET IS SUCCESSFUL IN HOME GAME WITH SHOCKERS

Kansas Wesleyan Also Fell Before Mishler's Bulldogs by a Score of 26-21.

McPHERSON 26-FAIRMOUNT 17

Daggett, McPherson Forward, Was High Point Man with 20 Points for the Two Games

The McPherson College Basketeers, by defeating the Salina Coyotes 26-21 last Tuesday night, and trimming Fairmount 26-17 Thursday night, staged the greatest comeback in McPherson basket ball history for many years. The Wesleyan game was ragged and listless, one in which the Bulldogs showed no signs of the grand come back they were to stage a few nights later. The game with Fairmount was a fight from beginning to end, although the Bulldogs had been doped to lose by a big margin they turned in the largest end of a 26-17 score.

By securing three more field goals than the Wesleyan Coyotes, Mishler's Bulldogs came out triumphant in a battle, which might, at any time, have turned to defeat instead of a victory for the locals.

McPherson took the lead early in the game. Their short pass style worked beautifully, and the offense repeatedly sifted through the Wesleyan defense only to be baffled by the refusal of the ball to find the basket. The Coyotes, during this period, had to content themselves with a few long shots, and as a result the McPherson team doubled the score on their opponents, the period ending 18-9.

Visitors Staged Second Half Rally

The visitors came back in the second period with a fight that won for them the admiration of the crowd. Although they had been completely outplayed and baffled in their offensive work, they persisted, threatening at any time to overcome the big lead which the Bulldogs held. The Bulldogs had even less success in hitting the baskets during the second period. Although their floor work was superior to that of the Coyotes, the latter, by long, accurate goal shooting, ate up the Bulldog lead to within two points. Eakes and Stricker came to the rescue at this time with two long counters, and this in the nick of time saved the locals.

Daggett Starred for the Bulldogs

Daggett, McPherson forward, was the star of the game, making a total of six field goals. His floor work as well as his scoring was a big factor in the McPherson victory. He was fighting his opponents the whole game, passing, dribbling, guarding

College Debaters Are Working Hard

Debate prospects for M. C. this season are good. McPherson enthusiasts can be assured that they will receive the same high class debating to which they have been accustomed in late years. Two members of the team, Waas and Jones, have previously represented M. C. The other two, Rock and Timmons, though without college debating experience, have both gained experience in high school.

There may be some who have become slightly pessimistic as to McPherson's chances in debate, because of Bishop's departure, but the progress being made by Timmons is such as to drive speedily away the pessimistic attitude. By the time of the first contest he will undoubtedly be capable of filling Bishop's place without apologies.

Ability combined with work merits results. M. C.'s debaters have the ability. They are putting in two hours of hard work every day. They will get results.

IT MUST NOT FAIL

In this way the students of McPherson College, during the recent endowment drive, expressed their faith and pledged their support to the ideal of their Alma Mater—Christian education. The students, as well as the faculty and those who are working for the college, have caught the true spirit of sacrifice.

No one was misled, and no one wanted to be misled. One hundred per cent of the students were pledged two days after the opening of the final drive. The student body of 1923-24 faced the challenge and responded with a willingness that is characteristic of M. C. students.

But the work must not stop here. The pledges are only a part of what the students and alumni may contribute to the cause in the present crisis. There are many ways in which students have an opportunity to support and help in the campaign that will extend over the next few years. Let every word and act speak loyalty for M. C. for that is what is needed now, even more than financial aid.

To Succeed

Shall I reach the rainbow's end?
And there am I to run across the pot filled with gold?
Never shall I reach the rainbow's end.
And find that wealth untold, unless
I strive unselfishly, and be kind and true;
Then can I go through thick and thin,
And safely tread life's avenue.

DEPARTMENT OF ART GIVES SPLENDID EXHIBIT

Last Thursday and Friday the Art Department held its first exhibit in the exhibit room of the Department, representing some of the best work done by the students during the first semester. This was arranged to be given during the Bible Institute in order that visitors might have an opportunity to see what is being accomplished in this Department.

The exhibition consisted mainly of charcoal drawing and oil paintings. Some very good work was in evidence, a type of work that gives credit to the Department. When taking into consideration that much of the work was entirely new to most of the students at the first of the year, the results have been most satisfactory.

The Department now possesses several interesting plaster of Paris casts which have been used to great advantage in the charcoal work. Charcoal is a very interesting medium which lends itself readily to the studies of black and white. Through it the light and dark values of the subject matter can be portrayed in a forceful manner, and the deftness of treatment and ability to bring out the contrasting values of the high lights and shadow, of contour and flat surface mark the success of the study.

On the other hand, oil painting is considered more plastic, for it has as its medium many colors and hues, some pure, rich, and unadulterated, others delicately mixed. As yet most of the work done in painting has been limited to still-life studies. The reason for this is that the study of still life gives the beginner artist a true conception of color harmony, perspective, and artistic arrangement. It appears from the work exhibited that the students have learned and applied these fundamental principles of art, and have gained a good foundation for their future work. The landscape studies as a whole were very good, and they showed that there is much creative ability in the class.

This department of McPherson College is under steady development, and is fast gaining popularity among art lovers of the College and the city.

She Spoke from Experience

Minnie Edgecomb was discussing returning to college to graduate. With emphatic gestures she declared, "Well, girls, by the time you have been here two years you are so much in love you just can't leave."

I've Been Reading

John W. Harnly

THE CRITICAL PHILOSOPHY OF NIETZSCHE, by Georges Chatterton-Hill. Friedrich Nietzsche was born at Rocken, Germany in 1844. He was educated at Bonn and Leipzig, and taught Philology at Bale from 1869 'till 1876 when he was forced to withdraw due to ill health. Among his best works are "Also Sprach Zarathustra," "Zur Genealogie Der Moral," "Der Wille Zur Macht," and "Der Anti-Christ."

Nietzsche willingly exaggerated. His fundamental doctrine was "the will to power." (The belief in life in all its plenitude and power.) His three characteristics are sincerity, heroism, and artistic taste. He gave beauty and art as the raison d'être of life. The only excuse for life is life. Life is the only reality. A careful perusal of his life leaves one with the impression that his was a beautiful, though a melancholy one. Nietzsche believed in Self-Reliance to the highest possible degree, in the development of the Superman from the Strong, the Hard, and the Beautiful, and in the trampling of the masses. "The Superman creates all by which life is made beautiful. We only become aware of beauty and power through its antithesis—suffering. Suffering is indispensable to the inspiration of artistic creation and to the maintaining of the vitality essential to that creation. It is not sufficient to suffer ourselves, we must enjoy seeing suffering in others."

The obstacles to the attainment of Nietzsche's ideal and the Will To Power are the state, the moral law, the religions and science. The state is an expression of the Will To Power, but the Will To Power of an inferior race. The state is the creation of the weaker as a weapon to protect itself from the strong.

"The moral law requires a supernatural sanction and its subjection of man means subjection by an external power—for man is a part of nature and nature is immoral. Morality is an enemy of life, for it calls for the destruction of the fundamental instincts and thus leads to a nihilistic philosophy. The object of life is to live. The secret of life is the mastery of the passions—not their destruction."

Nietzsche believed Christianity to be the ideal of slaves and the weak raised into a universal law, that the whole Christian edifice rested on an imaginary conception of the world. "Man is not the end of creation; he is not the physically most perfect,—he is a part of nature."

"Science is the force of today, but it leads to specialization and a narrow spirit. It makes self-realization and the fulfillment of a life in all its beauty and plenitude impossible. It is materialistic and an emanation of Christianity."

Perhaps you have heard Nietzsche characterized as "That insane German fool." I have found that two of the popular conceptions of Nietzsche are founded merely on prejudice. You will be told that he inherited insanity and that he succumbed to syphilis—but not so. Do not be influenced by prejudice. Surely a man worthy of the opposition that has arisen against Friedrich Nietzsche is also worthy of at least investigation.

WORK OF MANUAL ARTS DEPARTMENT EXHIBITED

During Bible Institute week Professor Boone, head of the manual arts department, exhibited for the benefit of the visitors the result of the semester's work in his department. The woodwork was placed on display in one of the rooms in the basement of Fahnestock Hall. The pieces were of interest because of the great care and neatness that was evidenced in their construction, and because of their beautiful simplicity. Both ornamental and useful articles were made. The work was for the most part shaped by machinery, and not by carving instruments.

SENIORS GET NEW MEMBERS.

Several new members were added to the Senior Class this semester. Three were gained from the Juniors: Chressie Heckman, Lillian Sandy and Garmon Daron. Neva Fishburn, of Overbrook, Kansas, enrolled with the Seniors also.

Two former students expect to take their degrees this spring. Victor Vaniman, of Cordell, Oklahoma, and Mrs. Bessie Brubaker Van Pelt, of Bridgewater College, Bridgewater, Virginia, will be among the class of '24.

Several of the class have finished the required work and will not be in school this semester. They are as follows: Winona McGaffey, Haddon Hiley, Everett Brubaker, Ruth Shoemaker, and Arthur Prather.

Miss Walters To Speak.

Miss Margaret Walters will speak next Thursday at the regular meeting of the mission band. The subject will be "The Tula Indians." Everyone is invited to hear this talk next Thursday.

Frank Boone to Supervise Play

The boys of the Junior age on the Hill are going to meet one hour every Saturday in the gymnasium for supervised play under the direction of Frank Boone. This movement was started by the local church. A Pioneer Club, an organization similar to the Boy Scouts, will be organized by the boys.

President Wiand Was Here

President A. C. Wiand, of Bethany Bible School, was here on business connected with the transferring of credits between Bethany and McPherson Saturday. President Wiand is an alumnus, a former teacher, and a former trustee, of McPherson College.

Yoder Has New Desk

The students of McPherson College may now expect clemency at the hands of the financial management. Professor Yoder has a new desk, but he finds a little difficulty in adjusting himself. Professor Fries, as in the case of large families, has received the old desk.

NEW STUDENTS ENROLL

A number of new students have enrolled for the second semester. One is a college senior, and one an academy senior. The new students are: Neva Fishburn, of Overbrook, senior; Mrs. Laura Sandburg Wilson, of Appleton, New York, academy senior; Russel Jones, of McPherson, and Rose Mohler, of Leeton, Missouri, and Mrs. Ethel Hardie, of McPherson, juniors; Beulah Cullen, of Homerville, Nebraska, David Morley, of Cloud Chief, Oklahoma, and J. Virden Kolzow, of Hope, freshman, and John B. Hess, of Lancaster, Pennsylvania, commercial.

By The Way

Among those students discontinuing their school work the second semester are John Lengle, Chester Long, Phillip Ablen, Ada Miller, Hilda Himler and Theodore Robb.

Miss Manley, from Salina, took dinner in the dormitory Saturday as Ruth Hawkins' guest.

Ray Vaniman and Miss Morrison, attended the game Thursday night.

"Si" Sargent refereed a basketball game at Little River, Friday night.

Mary Wedell and Ruth Martin from Bloom, visited friends in the dormitory over the week-end.

Mrs. Steinberg and daughter, Irene, from Lorraine, spent Saturday visiting Mrs. Steinberg's daughter, Bernice.

Margaret Dirks spent the week-end at her home in Buhler.

The Reverend D. P. Neher, of McCune, visited his daughters, Edna and Leta last week.

Leslie Edmonds, and Professor and Mrs. Mohler took dinner Thursday night with Coach and Mrs. Mishler.

Mrs. Klopinger, from Conway, visited her daughter, Elsie Meador, over the week-end.

John Harnly saw Ruth Cripe's basketball girls defeat the Hutchinson girls at Lyons Friday night.

PRATHER GETS ASSISTANTSHIP.

Arthur Prather, lately of the Senior Class, of McPherson College, left Sunday for Manhattan, Kansas. He has been selected as an assistant in zoology by the head of the zoological department of the Kansas State Agricultural College. Mr. Prather will receive five hundred dollars a year for his services. While holding this position he intends to work out his degree of Master of Science. He has completed the requirements for the bachelor's degree here this spring.

Society News

Mr. and Mrs. Hill Entertain.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Hill presided over a handsomely-appointed six o'clock dinner Friday evening at their attractive home "Bide-a-Wee" on North Maple Street, arranged as a courtesy to the basketball team of McPherson College. The decorations were an effective feature, red and white in the Bull Dog motif, interspersed with potted plants and ferns made a charming effect. The table was centered with a gorgeous blooming begonia. The place cards, miniature bull dogs with basket balls attached, were hand-made by Miss Mildred Rhoads. Guests were seated at one large table where an elaborate four course menu prepared under the supervision of Chef Gagnon was served by Miss Mildred Gray, Margaret Wall and Margaret Mikesell. During the dinner hour a program of musical numbers on the Edison was enjoyed but the surprise of the evening came when at a signal from the host, "The Hawaiian Players and Entertainers" who were here to perform at the Tourney, and who had been sequestered in the home, came singing down the stairs, while the guests believing that they were listening to the Edison, commented on its perfect reproduction of the human voice. A delightful program of Hawaiian music and several clever impersonations by Miss Mildred Rhoads, provided the evening's entertainment and at the close the company formed a line party at the Tourney to see William Farnum in "The Gun Fighter." Those accepting of the splendid hospitality of the Hill home were, Dale Strickler, Paul Sargent, Rufus Daggett, Cecil Holloway, La Mar Mast, Moffat Eakes, Virgil Ellwood, Ernest Tipton, Cleo Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Mishler of the Bulldogs. Other guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hawley, Miss Nina Rhoads, Mr. George Conn and Mr. Harold Kreitzer.

Dell Brothers Entertain.

Tuesday evening the Dell brothers entertained in their room in Fahnstock Hall in honor of Everett Brubaker, who will not be in school this semester. The guests were entertained with a number of selections on the Victrola, during which time delicious refreshments were served. The party then adjourned to the gymnasium to see the basketball game. Those present were: Velma Bailey, Mildred Fisher, Miriam Wenrick, Rose Mohler, Beulah Cullen, Dorothea Peters, Miss Trostle, Everett Brubaker, Emmert Pair, Glen Rothrock, Leo Warner, and Ted and Milton Dell.

Eight Go On Picnic.

A few students took their picnic lunch out to Anderson's grove north of McPherson Friday afternoon. The lunch which all enjoyed very much, consisted of "wienies", buns, pickles, cookies, fruit and coffee. After supper, the owner of the grove, later a member of the noted Shifter organization, entertained the group around the camp fire with interesting stories about his youth. Those present were the Misses Julia Jones, Ruth Greene, Helen Freeburg, Naomi Mohler, the Messrs. Henry Hahn, Russel Jones, David Barnes, and Harvey Anderson.

Secret Is Finally Divulged.

One of the puzzling problems which has confronted the dormitory students for some time was finally solved the other day when "Doe" Kurtz was overheard severely reprimanding Miss Reetha Sudebaker in the following manner: "Don't, papa spank." It is now believed that the young lady is the ward of the big Ohioan, and that this fact accounts for the great amount of time which he is compelled to spend in the Arnold Hall parlors.

SCHOOL OF FINE ARTS IS SHOWING PROGRESS AND A RAPID GROWTH

accumulating a large selection of reference books devoted to the various departments of Fine Arts. The College also has considerable music and orchestral instruments which are at the disposal of students.

Fine Arts Faculty Numbers Eight.
The faculty of the School of Fine Arts now numbers eight and all are specialists in their particular line. All are graduates and many post-graduates, while several have had training abroad. Besides a thorough training, each has had experience in representative Conservatories. Others have taught in universities or privately in competition with the best pedagogues of the country. No further evidence is needed than the equal share of development in quality and quantity which each department has enjoyed for the past six years. Music is making rapid strides forward in America, and McPherson College is keeping abreast.

All Work is Recognized.

The courses of study include courses in music leading to Bachelor of Music degree, Public School Music Supervisors Certificate (approved by the State Board of Education), and other courses leading to Teachers Certificate, or Diploma in Voice, Violin, Piano and Art. The Bachelor of Music may be taken in Piano, Voice, Violin, or composition. It embraces the equivalent of a college course in music, and represents six years actual scholastic endeavors in the field of specialization. The details of all courses may be obtained from the College Bulletin. All work is approved by the Kansas College Schools of Music and the North Central Association of Colleges.

The object of the School of Fine Arts is to offer to the students of the College and the city of McPherson the advantages of the finest instruction in the cultural arts at the nominal cost of maintaining the departments. It also aims to prepare those who are qualified to go out as teachers, instructors and professors of music in communities, high schools, and colleges as well as to give the more prodigious an opportunity for getting a firm ground work upon which to build their future success. The advantage of recitals, concerts and the various ensemble organizations is given free of charge to all students of music and others interested. The next generation will see the need of cultural education as the present generation sees the need of practical education. America is maturing and changes are rapidly taking place. The days of the pioneer are past; the past ideal of making a living must give way to that of making a life. Younger people should avail themselves of opportunities placed at their disposal lest later they regret.

The fellow who makes no mistake is the same chap who reposes under six feet of mother earth, over which green, green grass waves in the summer breezes.

WASHBURN COLLEGE IS BULLDOGS' NEXT RIVAL

"DUTCH" LONBORG, ICHABOD COACH, HAS A STRONG AND FAST QUINTET

The McPherson College cagers meet one of their strongest rivals this week when they play the Washburn College quintet at Topeka next Friday evening. The game promises to be a hard one for the Bulldogs. "Dutch" Lonborg, coach at McPherson College during the two previous seasons, is head coach of basketball at the Ichabod school and has a squad of promising cagers.

The Washburn team, with two victories and three defeats, is steadily improving with each game, and as the season progresses is expected to prove conference contenders, despite the fact that most of the team are freshmen and rather inexperienced.

On the other hand the Bulldog quintet is expected to be at the top of their efficiency. They will meet their opponents after a three days' rest and with a determination that should mean much. The McPherson boys have assured "Dutch" that they would beat him in every athletic event in which the two schools participated, and having carried out their threat during the football season, have another opportunity to make good their challenge.

The Ichabods, meanwhile, will be just as determined, and the game between these two circumstantial enemies should be a fight to the finish.

FROM EDMONDS' COLUMN.
(In the Topeka Capital)

Just when most of McPherson was wondering what was the matter with the college basket ball team it stepped forth with a "no-short-shots" defense and a "goal-from-anywhere" offense that sent Fairmount home on the short end of a 26 to 17 score. With the team playing the floor as two men instead of five, four of its members broke into the scoring column with short, middle distance, and long shots. Three field baskets and two free throws account for the score. During the intervals between McPherson scores Fairmount, playing a driving game, found its best efforts to achieve shooting positions close in broken up. When the fortieth minute had ticked by its five men had had but one short shot at goal and this one hadn't been successful.

McPherson has a veteran five but

Club "Dick" Hill is a veteran basketball player, having starred with the McPherson High School in his four years of preparatory work. Playing a forward position, Dick is certain to make his share of the baskets and put in forty minutes of fast, fighting offensive and defensive work. He is one of the few M. C. athletes who have made a letter in both football and basketball. Dick is a sophomore and playing his second year for M. C.

already has lost games to Southwestern and Fairmount. This game, however, should do much to renew the team's confidence. Sargent is playing his reliable game at center although he passes back from a position near the free throw line at times when he might better take a basket heave. Strickler is one of the best guards in the conference, his pass breaking and backboard retrieving approaching the spectacular. Hill and Daggett work nicely together at forward, Hill's judgment of the time to pass or shoot being especially good. At the other guard, Eakes completes the five in steady fashion.

The trouble with Fairmount that night was that the team wasn't all Woodeses.

McPherson college needs and wants a new gymnasium, one of a size suitable to the larger part that athletics has come to play in the college life of the school. But McPherson also wants a larger endowment to meet the requirements of the North Central Association of colleges and its energies are bent in that direction. That's playing square with education.

—Leslie Edmonds.

FRESHMEN GIRLS WIN.

The Freshmen girls defeated the Junior girls in the opening game of the girls basketball tournament last Friday night. The score was 17-12.

and shooting with such accuracy and speed that one might think he was a veteran at the court game.

Strickler, McPherson captain and guard, did his usual stellar work, guarding closely and consistently. He was clearly the strongest defensive man in the game.

Eakes played a good game, and his guard work was excellent. Si Sargent broke away from his close-guarding opponents and scored twice. Hill did not play his usual speedy game. His specialty, long shots, were to a large extent unsuccessful.

Referee: Brown.

In the McPherson-Fairmount game the locals took the lead early in the game, when Si Sargent and Daggett each dropped in a ringer. The Shockers were unable to score until the Bulldogs had obtained a six point lead on them. The game started with a surprise for the Fairmounters; the ball was thrown up, Si tipped it to Hill, who passed to Daggett, who shot and missed only after the ball had made a complete circle around the ring.

The Fairmount guards again and again were drawn out, only to find a forward slip in behind them. McPherson did the majority of her scoring during this period, making eight baskets and one free throw to her opponents three baskets and one free throw, the score at the end of the half being 17-9 in favor of the locals.

Fairmount throughout the game had to resort to the Big Bertha type of shooting and many of these were successful. In the second half as well as in the first half, the locals, by using a fast short pass and speedy floor work, completely outplayed the visitors. The latter, however, kept on fighting, and displayed a rather individualistic type of ball.

The McPherson victory must be attributed to good team work, fast and sure passing, efficient floor work and close guarding of the whole team. Each man played well and there was no individual star. Sargent soon found that, even with a few inches of disadvantage in height, he could secure the tip off. Besides making three field goals and one free throw, he played a great part in the offensive game, working the ball through the opposite defense with ease. Daggett and Hill worked together splendidly, both displayed basket ball form such as is rarely seen in two forwards. Eakes and Strickler played a good consistent game.

It was a pleasure to watch the official. Edmonds has won a place in the hearts of both the McPherson players and fans and he is always welcomed whenever he can be secured to work a game here.
