

"THE LOST PARADISE" IS PRESENTED BY THE EXPRESSION STUDENTS

Drama Given For The Student Council More Than Fulfills Expectations

MISS ANDERSON DIRECTS CAST

Samuel Kurts, Ocie McAvoy, Vivian Long, and Earl Morris Take Leading Parts

More than fulfilling the expectations of a large audience "The Lost Paradise" was presented at the Opera House March 12, by the Dramatic Art class under the direction of Miss Anderson, with the assistance of Eunice Almen. From a standpoint of content and presentation this was the outstanding class production for several years. This three-act drama by Ludwig Fulda was adapted to the American stage by Henry C. Demille and carries a wonderful ethical message for the American people.

The Story of the Play
Andrew Knowlton, head of the Knowlton Iron Works, sacrifices everything for the happiness of his daughter, Margaret. In celebrating her birthday, Knowlton presents her with a diamond necklace worth thousands of dollars. In order to pay for his great expenditures Knowlton uses every possible means to get money from the Works. Reuben Warner, superintendent of the Works, who has worked himself from the ranks of laborers, carries their demands for higher wages to the owner. He opposes strikes and violence, using tact to avoid the final outbreak. His inspiration is Margaret Knowlton who is engaged to Ralph Standish, during the play. As the pressure for better wages increases, Warner asks Knowlton to use discretion and allow the demands. Knowlton refuses at first and puts his intended son-in-law in charge of the Works. Standish immediately tries to squelch the strike and the fight is on. Warner is treated coldly by Margaret and discovers that the invention which made Knowlton famous was the result of his own study. Warner stays by the strikers and finally forces Standish and Knowlton

Magazine Comics Aid Students In Becoming Unique

First on the shelf, first off the shelf, first in the hearts of M. C. students, is the Sunday fanny supplement!

That, at least, is the opinion of our chief librarian, Miss Margaret Walters, who, by much observation, has furnished interesting facts concerning the use that is being made of the library's magazine section.

The observations follow: The fanny supplement disappears within a day! The back is off the American Magazine within two days! Almost as tragic a fate is suffered by the Literary Digest and Good Housekeeping. But amid this carnage, the Biological Bulletin and a few others remain unscathed. [And herein lies a valuable secret as deduced by one of M. C.'s philosophers.

Since the greatest problem confronting our students, as it seems, is to maintain a uniqueness—to be different from the other fellow, they seek new styles among the magazine comics! They have resorted to all sorts of wild and expensive methods: cake eater pants, shell-rimmed spectacles, and bobbed hair. But all this is unnecessary.

To those students who are continually wondering how long their scheme for uniqueness will keep them different, the money saving solution to this problem is now presented: The next time you are in the library, rush to the magazine section, and

CAST FOR JUNIOR CLASS PLAY CHOSEN IN TRYOUT

The tryout for the Junior Class play was held Friday afternoon, a large number taking part. The students trying out selected the character which he wished to take. Miss Anderson having previously selected the lines which were to be used for each part. The judges, a committee of three chosen from the faculty, were: Dr. Craik, Professor Morris, and Miss Anderson, the director of the play. The cast chosen is as follows:

George Nettleton ..... Jay Eller

Coddies ..... Mabel Griffin
Shipping Clerk ..... Paul Kurts

ACADEMY OF SCIENCE TO CONVENE AT McPHERSON

PROFESSOR NININGER IS VICE-PRESIDENT OF THE ORGANIZATION

McPherson College will have the honor of entertaining the Kansas Academy of Science on April 4 and 5. This is a meeting of all the principle scientists of the state. Besides business, the meeting will consist of the reading of reports of the work various members have done in the form in which they will appear in the scientific magazines. A number of papers will be read by local members.

One of the chief features is the banquet to be given on Friday night, after which the annual address of the president is given. Dr. Cady of Kansas University, president of the Academy, and one of the leading chemists of the Middle West, will lecture on "The Structure of the Atom." The lecture will be illustrated by moving pictures, and promises to be especially interesting.

Since the meeting seldom leaves Kansas University, and has not been held at McPherson for twenty-five years, the College is indeed fortunate in bringing it to McPherson.

Professor Nininger of the McPherson College faculty is vice-president of the organization. Other local members are Dr. Harnly, Dr. Kurts, Dr. Robb, Professors Hershay, Morris, Walters, Mohler, Boone, Blair, Yoder, and Mr. Knau.

STUDENTS ENJOY LECTURE ON SCIENCE AND RELIGION

Professor Hilton Ira Jones, who lectured on "Science and Religion," at the Opera House last evening, as the sixth number on the lyceum course, presented facts that would have stirred even the worst of sceptics who might have been in his attentive audience.

Dr. Jones is a well known author and scientist, and his reputation is as great abroad as in this country, for he has been a member of many learned societies of scientists, and is a research worker of marked ability. He has also traveled for the Chautauqua under the Redpath management.

One cannot over estimate the great value of Dr. Jones' illustrated lecture to those who heard it.

Have you read "Black Oxen," at present the most popular piece of modern fiction? If you have, or have not, read the review in this issue of the Spectator.

with cold eyes pass over the comic papers and American Magazine, and with an eager gasp of joy, unfold in your arms the Biological Bulletin or the American Medical Journal. You will then be unique, and need have no fear of being common tomorrow.

DR. CRAIK RESIGNS TO HEAD DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY AT JUNIATA

Faculty Member Has Been Associated With McPherson College for Seventeen Years

IS AUTHOR OF TWO BOOKS

M. C. Professor Has Built A Strong Department In History And Political Science

Coming as a distinct shock to the students and constituency of McPherson College is the announcement that Dr. Craik, head of the department of history and political science has resigned his position to take up that of head of the department of history in Juniata College at Huntingdon, Pennsylvania. The resignation is to take effect at the close of summer school, and Dr. Craik will take up his duties at Juniata in September. Dr. Craik has been associated with M. C. for seventeen years, and in that time has held a number of important positions; his going is a great loss to McPherson but he will be of just as great service in the new field.

Is Preceded By Others
Dr. Craik, in becoming a member of the faculty of the oldest school in the Church of the Brethren, strengthens the tie between M. C. and Juniata. M. C. men who have preceded him to Juniata are Dr. C. S. Schively, A. B. '07, professor of mathematics; and C. L. Rowland, former teacher, now head of the department of singing. Juniata is also the Alma Mater of Dr. Kurtz.

Was Fellow To Kansas University
Dr. Craik is an alumnus of M. C.; he came here in 1907, and took his degree in 1910, having served as tutor in Latin and Greek while a student. Upon his graduation he became professor of Latin and Greek. He took a leave of absence from

DR. KURTZ IS LECTURING TO OKLAHOMA TEACHERS

Students have undoubtedly noticed the days that Dr. Kurtz is not at the College. It would be interesting to know what he is doing. Practically every week-end, and many whole weeks, he gives lectures in towns and to different organizations of the surrounding states.

Leaving last Thursday, he lectured at Paola, Kansas. Friday was spent lecturing to a Methodist Ministers Conference at Winfield, Saturday, at Winfield, and then went to Stafford where he gave three sermons on Sunday.

Last night Dr. Kurtz left for Oklahoma where he will lecture to a Teachers Convention on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday. Saturday at Dodge City he will represent the colleges and will talk specifically about McPherson College at a big community affair promoted by the Rock Island Railway Co. and the farmers of that vicinity. Several thousand people are expected to attend this event. Sunday will be spent at Wiley, Colorado, after which he will be at McPherson a day or two before going on another trip. Dr. Kurtz has about fifty lectures scheduled which with his classes and work here, keeps him busy.

ASSISTANTSHIP GIVEN TO MEMBER OF SENIOR CLASS

John W. Harnly, of the class of '24, has secured the appointment as assistant in the department of chemistry at the Kansas State Agricultural College, Manhattan, for the year 1924-25. He will assist Dr. H. King, head of that department, in research work. Along with the position goes the opportunity of working out a Masters degree, which Mr. Harnly plans to do, completing such requirements during the winter and receiving his degree in the spring of 1925. The position also carries with it excellent financial advantages which depend upon the time spent by the assistant in actual service.

Mr. Harnly is the third member of the Chemistry Department in four years who has secured this position. He is intelligent, enthusiastic, and capable of accurate and speedy work upon application, and will doubtless be worthy of the confidence placed upon him in this appointment.

HORSES HARD PRESSED IN BIG "M" CLUB DERBY

CONTEST STARTED TUESDAY IN CHAPEL PROGRAM BY "M" CLUB

The "M" Club derby started with a rush when the starter fired his gun in chapel last Tuesday morning, and now each horse, being pushed to his utmost by his jockey, is running a good race somewhere between 50 and 75 dollars. It is impossible as yet to guess the winner, but by the morning of May 2 his name and jockey will be heralded to all parts of M. C.'s dominion.

To Improve Athletic Field

The plan of this derby for the improvement of the college athletic field, is somewhat as follows: The members of the "M" Club were divided into five groups, each of which elected a captain and business manager, and chose a famous race horse and jockey. At the chapel program each captain drew for a track on a large bulletin board made for the purpose by Professor Boone and Sanger Crumacker.

The Captains and the Horses
"Si" Sargent, captain of the group choosing "Sassie Susie" and Frank Forney as their horse and jockey, drew the inside track; "Heinie" Hahn, with "Pat" Lawson riding "The Old Gray Mare," came next; "Peanuts" Morine, with "Champ" Heaton on "Man-o-War" drew third; Bill Mudra, with "Yo Ho" and a masked rider, came fourth; and last but certainly not least, came E. J. Unruh with Sparky and Sunshine.

No Donations Over Ten Dollars

A five or ten dollar donation will advance a horse one pace towards the $500 goal set for each contestant. It is hoped that, through loyal support of M. C.'s alumni and friends, the $500 goal will be reached and passed by each rider. The names of the alumni of the College were divided among the five groups and when they receive a letter from these men they will know that the Club is boosting for the old school and are anxious for support.

McPHERSON JUNIOR BAND TO GIVE CONCERT IN CHAPEL

The McPherson Junior Band, directed by A. San Romani, will give a concert in the chapel Thursday evening under the auspices of the "M" Club, the proceeds to go to the derby now being held. The band is of unusual talent and is sure to be an attraction, as many worth-while selections will be given.

Tickets will be a ballot form on the back will be sold at twenty-five cents by the Captains and their groups. Following the concert a popular vote will be taken on the contesting horses, and the horse receiving the largest number of votes will get the proceeds of the concert added to his credit.

M. C. MUST WIN FROM BETHANY FOR CHANCE AT THE STATE TITLE

McPherson and Bethany Are Tied For First Place In The Northern Division

AFFIRMATIVE TEAM STAYS HOME

In The Event Of A Tie The Title Will Be Awarded Upon The Basis of Percentage

The McPherson and Bethany debate teams will meet in dual debate next Friday, February 21, for the championship of the northern division. The affirmative, Timmons and Rock, will appear on the home floor, while Jones and Waas, the negative, will go to Lindsborg.

Both Teams Have Eight Decisions
Bethany is now tied with McPherson with a score of eight judges decisions. Sterling is at the bottom with three decisions, while Hallina Wesleyan has five. By taking four decisions, the winner of the McPherson-Bethany contest will have twelve, while Wesleyan, by taking six decisions from Sterling could have but eleven. Thus the victory will not depend upon the defeat of the third party.

The Most Important Debate
A tie of 3-3 in this debate would mean the deciding of the champion-

Debate Standings
Teams	Won	Decisions
		Lost	Score
McPherson	8	4	4
Bethany	8	4	4
Kansas Wesleyan	5	7	7
Sterling	3	9	9

ship by judges grades, which is not, on the whole, as satisfactory to either party as a straight win. The ability and hard work of the teams assures a good debate. Your presence is imperative at this, the last and most important debate of the division. Bring your student activity ticket or thirty-five cents.

"Goody Shop" To Herald Arrival Of Springtime

"If winter comes, can spring be far away?" Winter has come; winter is here; winter is almost gone. And then spring!

"For three months I give you spring. When all buds everything. Violets, crocus, flowers sweet, The velvet grass beneath your feet Bring you joy. The bird's sweet song Tells of love the whole day long. Turning young men's fancy light To the maid of his delight. This is merry Cupid's hour. Tender days of sun and shower.

... Nay, doubtless, lift your eyes. Tomorrow's sun sees spring arise."

Lovely bowers, cozy corners, enticing nooks—all a verdant array of springtime. Joyous, carefree, beautiful and belles frolicking hither and thither as if life were one long and laughing dream. Dainty refreshments for the dainty folk, and eats that "stick to the ribs" for the hungry man. Pleasing entertainers to fill the hour with gaily and romance. Merry maids to serve you and to introduce you to springtime! All of this you'll find on Friday evening, March 21, in the gymnasium. 'Tis known as "The Goody Shop." Be sure to be there!

HOURS FOR THE GOODY SHOP

Open hours for the Goody Shop, Friday evening are: 5:00 to 5:00, and 9:15 to 10:00. This will not interfere with the College debate.

THE COLLEGE LOSES

McPherson College suffers a decided loss in the resignation of Dr. Craik from the faculty. After having been associated with the College for seventeen years, his going will be keenly felt by students, faculty, alumni, and friends. While at M. C., Dr. Craik has won distinction in historical circles, being the author of two historical works.

The large number of students enrolled in history and political science courses, as well as the fact that his department leads in the number of majors, is testimony to the fact that Dr. Craik is a popular instructor. He is known for his interesting classes; his own enthusiasm, his gentleness, and his well-drawn illustrations give an added charm to the class room.

With a keen conception of true values, which makes him, at times, seem inflexible, he has been of inestimable value in his emphasis of scholarship. He is interested in student problems, and his contributions in an advisory capacity have been many and valued.

Dr. Craik has grown much while at M. C., but his full stature lies in the future. McPherson College students are certain that he will continue to grow.

BOOST YOUR CANDIDATE

Since the month of April is the time to decide upon the school leaders for the coming year, it is not amiss to give the spring elections due consideration. It is the duty of each student to choose the man or woman he feels is the best able to serve the school in a particular office, and boost him. Ability, not popularity alone, makes good leaders. These officers should be able to work with people and direct their actions, and should be representative of McPherson College. Select and boost your candidate. N. M.

LEARN THE GAME

For the purpose of promoting greater interest in tennis among students, boys and girls singles tournaments were begun last week, and although delayed and interrupted by bad weather, seem to be accomplishing their purpose.

Tennis offers on the one hand a contest to try the endurance of the strongest athlete, and on the other a sport for the veriest novice. It should be of special interest to students because it is one of the few games that can be played after school days. As Tilden points out, such games must be individual and playable in a reasonable time, in which requirements only golf rivals tennis. More students should be learning the game now. V. S.

"WORLD HUNGRY FOR CHRIST"

"As I see conditions, the world is hungry for just those things that you can give it—for Jesus Christ," said Reverend Austin, college evangelist, in a talk to the students at chapel Friday morning. The message was a challenge to every young person to prepare for a life of the greatest usefulness. Reverend Austin outlined his talk by saying that a successful life must have: a real imagination, or initiative; a true sense of values in self-development; motives; plans; and power.

STUDENT OPINION

"It was decided that the 'M' Club should elect M. C.'s all around athlete whose name is to be engraved on a bronze shield in the trophy case. It is also probable that the Student Council will recognize him with a model of some sort." So runk an article in last week's Spectator. Wonderful idea, but the wonder is why the other organizations do not follow the suggestion. May we suggest that the Theopian Club choose its Sarah Bernhardt; the Debata Club its Daniel Webster; the Spectator its Horace Greeley; the Choral Society its Jennie Lind; the Association cabinets their John R. Motts, and so on, intimating to the Student Council that it is expected to come across with medals for the victims.

We are reminded of the good old days in Greece. The victors in the Olympic games were worshipped and forgotten. But Galen, Plato, Aristotle, Solon, and others have lived for ages, and will continue to live. If we must have hero worship, why not choose a variety? Our athletes are fine fellows; we are proud of them; but there are others in school who are gladly giving hours of grinding intensive work, gratis, unhonored, and unsung for their Alma Mater.

Satisfied Reader

A PRICELESS HERITAGE

In a recent Physical Culture magazine there appears the picture of an elderly Idaho rancher who says that he is the proud dad of six sons and two daughters. Now it happens that McPherson College can also claim, with equal pride, several of these sons and daughters. Beneath the picture is the following comment: "It is a pleasure to meet Howard H. Keim—preacher, lecturer, business man, former mayor, etc., and rancher—of Nampa, Idaho. A fine specimen of a man. He is sixty-two and six feet two and yet he says he was a workling in his youth. He is the proud dad of six sons and two daughters, all athletic."

The picture shows a healthy, robust, and erect figure, and one which has undoubtedly transmitted to his children the first and paramount human right—that of being well born.

M. C. WAS REPRESENTED AT MEETING BY NININGER

The Anti-Tobacco Association held its annual state oratorical contest and conference at Sterling College, March 1. No contestant was entered by McPherson College, although Professor Nininger lectured to the delegates.

One of the outstanding features of the program was an address by Charles M. Phillips, of Indianapolis, Indiana. In his lecture he presented some startling truths concerning the use of tobacco, which in his forceful way were most convincing. He presented the question from a moral standpoint.

Another interesting lecture was given by Professor Nininger. From the aspect of a scientist he gave some unique facts concerning the effects of tobacco. His presentation of the subject was said to have been unusually strong and impelling, and was greatly enjoyed by all who heard it.

In the oratorical contest, which followed the conference students representing the anti-tobacco societies of the various colleges in Kansas contested. First honors were given to Mr. Chetter of Tabor College, with the award of a prize of thirty-five dollars. The second prize of twenty-five dollars went to a Sterling contestant, while the third prize of fifteen dollars was awarded to a representative of Central College.

A misunderstanding as to the date of the convention, as well as conflicting contests and activities, accounts for McPherson College not having a contestant at this conference. It is hoped that several students can be found who will take advantage of this opportunity next year, when the conference will be held at Central College of this city.

I've Been Reading

John W. Harny.

BLACK OXEN by Gertrude Atherton. Black Oxen has headed the Bookman's score for four or five months—so let us see what this is that the world is reading.

"The years like great Black Oxen tread the world And God the herdsman ronds them on behind."

The principal characters in the book are:

Clavering—blase, columnist, inveterate first nighter, idol of New York's Sophisticates,— as he himself has termed them—brilliant, but still lured on by the evergreen hope of finding the consummate woman.

Countess Zittany—hair the color of warm ashes, the composure and carriage that could only have come from Europe, the appearance of youth, yet with an unmistakable tinge of maturity, and eyes—eyes that seemed to gaze out of an infinitely remote past.

These are the characters around which the story turns. From the first Clavering is intrigued—she is the mystery of New York, the sensation of the season. Clavering loves her, then the revelation. She is Mary Odgen, the belle of New York of thirty years back, and since then the wife of an Austrian count. The war which took her husband also left her old and worn out, with her sole interest the future of Austria.

Through an X-Ray treatment affecting the endocrine glands she has regained her youthful vigor and appearance, but her memory remains, and she has the experience of sixty years. They are soon to be married, when Prince Hohenhauer, Austria's man of the hour and a former lover appears. He does not offer her love; he too has been disillusioned. He shows her the futility of expecting anything from love. Her only desire is for power; he only hope, himself. As the wife of Clavering her chosen work will be impossible; as his wife her possibilities unlimited. She has been unpeakably happy; she hates the disillusionment, but the cold logic of Hohenhauer can not be escaped. Her activity she has regained, but the lessons taught by experience remain. She has been disillusioned too often, and has not the courage to face it again with Clavering. "Love is a very old story to me. Let those women, who have it in their power to repeople the earth, which has lost many millions of its sons, cherish that delusion of the supreme importance of love, but not I! I have had my dream; it is over." Clavering steps from the cab and tips his hat. "Goodbye, Madame Zittany—a pleasant journey."

Black Oxen has been severely criticized—some have dubbed it "The most unscientific novel ever written." But what would be gained by rejuvenation were it possible? One can not get away from experience. Is not the fiction of love what we humans live by? Is it not well that disillusionment and death come close together?

The book is brimful of humor. It is pervaded with a blase philosophy cleverly presented. While the male characters are essentially uninteresting, the ladies are unique.

Y. W. C. A.

A most important Saint Patrick program was given in Y. W. C. A. Wednesday. The girls joined in singing "America," after which devotions were led by Rheba East. Selma Rugstrom sang "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling." Reverend Richards told many interesting facts concerning Saint Patrick and his work. If ancient records are true, Saint Patrick was a man of indomitable purpose, of executive ability, of wit and cleverness which helped him succeed in his great task of Christianizing Ireland. As the story goes the Shamrock was cleverly used in an explanation of the Trinity, and has ever since been regarded as a sacred symbol to the Irish. It is said of Saint Patrick that in Ireland "He found no Christian and left no heathen."

GAVE MUSICAL CONCERT

The Nuttsenheimer Musical Troupe, who are now touring the United States, and who made a great hit in New York the past month, entertained the men of the College last Wednesday morning. Their program was delayed about ten minutes because the train on which they travel was running behind scheduled time. The honored members of this troupe were as follows: Nuttsenheimer, (Samuel Kurtz); Kupendorf, (Hal Barton); Zwibach, (Frank Barton); Bachman, (St Sargent); Ludendorf, (George Merkey); Levinsky, (Leland Kuns); and Zeister, (Winston Cassler). Nuttsenheimer himself introduced the troupe and announced the numbers in order. They opened their program with a selection from the quartet, Nuttsenheimer, Kupendorf, Zwibach, and Bachman. This was followed by a reading by Ludendorf, entitled, "The Dutchman's Courtship." Zwibach sang the well-known solo, "Out on the Deep." Following this, the noted Levinsky gave a humorous reading. Zeister, the pianist, followed with a solo. As the last number of the program, the quartet sang, "The Bulldog on the Bank." The program by this European troupe was by far the best of its kind rendered in our Y. W. C. A. meetings this year.

Help the debaters win the championship of the northern division.

Boost the "M" Club derby.

REVEREND EAKES GIVES TALK

Reverend Eakes of the Presbyterian Church gave an inspiring message to the Mission Band Thursday evening. His talk was based on Acts 1:34, and clearly showed that God is no respecter of persons. "God sees the heart of man unselfishly, understandingly, and without limitations, which is a striking contrast to our puny judgments," said Reverend Eakes. "Since God is no respecter of persons He wants us to get His viewpoint, which will enable us to love obnoxious persons. We love people to the extent that we help them and are willing to pray for them. God gives His viewpoint to those who want it."

BROADCASTS PROGRAM

Professor C. L. Rowland, head of the department of singing at Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa., and former teacher in M. C., took his men's glee club to Altoona, Pa., last Thursday night in order to broadcast a musical program. Professor Rowland takes frequent tours with his talent, appearing in such places as Johnstown, Greensburg, Norristown, Pottstown, and Philadelphia.

Algy met a bear. The bear was bulgy. The bulge was Algy.

The alumni publications, "Memories of '23," and "Mirrors of '22," can be found among the exchanges in the library this week. Read them and learn what is expected of M. C. graduates.

AUSTINS VISIT AT M. C.

Reverend and Mrs. Oliver Austin, the College evangelists, were once again welcome guests on the campus from Tuesday night to Saturday morning. They stayed at the home of Mrs. Mary Stutzman.

The Austins have just completed a meeting at Lawrence, Kansas, and went from here to Navarre, Kansas, and then to Belleville. They have given up their plans of attending the Conference this spring, and will probably hold a meeting instead.

The Austins report having had a very enjoyable visit in McPherson. They are always welcomed by the students, who feel that their very presence has helped them with their problems.

Dinner Party at Union Hotel

A charmingly-arranged birthday dinner was served at the Union Hotel Thursday evening celebrating the anniversaries of Dr. E. L. Craik, Prof. H. E. Mohler, Prof. J. W. Deeter of the McPherson College faculty and Rev. O. H. Austin, college evangelist. A remarkable feature of this was that not only did the four birthday anniversaries fall in March but also all four of the guests of honor were of the same age. A large birthday cake made an attractive centerpiece for the table where a pink and white color scheme was artistically carried out in the flowers, the candles and other table appointments, and an elaborate four-course dinner was served in Russian style. Covers were indicated for Rev. and Mrs. O. H. Austin, Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Craik, Prof. and Mrs. R. E. Mohler and Prof. and Mrs. J. W. Deeter. After dinner the company adjourned to the Walker studio where a group picture was taken of the party. An anniversary dinner has come to be an event with this group, to which Prof. Rowland and Mrs. D. H. Hoover belonged when they lived in McPherson, each having March anniversaries and were of the same age as the others.

to allow the increase of wages, keeps his position and wins the hand and love of Margaret. Throughout the play there is the eternal struggle between the capitalistic and laboring classes.

Cast Played Exceptionally Well
The entire cast played exceptionally well with the leading roles deserving special mention. Ocie McAvoy as Margaret excellently portrayed a rich man's daughter who is tired of an easy life and wishes to do something worth while. Samuel Kurtz as Warner did justice to his role as few could, while Vivian Long as Standish, and Earl Morris as Knowlton played their parts well.

A Glimpse of Factory Life
In the factory scene, the audience caught a glimpse of actual factory life and work. Cinders, impersonated by Laura Hammann, and Billy, by Leland Kuns, gave the listeners a few minutes of fun. Frank Boone as Old Bessel, and Rhea Fast as Nell are to be commended on their excellent interpretation of roles.

Deserve Special Mention
Bob Appleton, played by Rufus Daggert, and Polly by Minnie Edgcomb, exhibited fun and seriousness at the same time. Leonard Timmons as Fletcher, Jay Eller as the working men's leader as well as the rest of the supporting cast deserve mention for excellent work. It is unfair to discriminate between players as every one did credit to the role that was assumed.

This was an excellent production and the class and director are to be commended because of their work.

CONTRIBUTES TO MAGAZINE

Under the caption, "Get the Church Out of the War Business," the Reverend Ira J. Lapp, a former student of M. C., contributes a brief article in the March 13 issue of the Christian Century, commending that magazine for its forceful stand against militarism. Rev. Lapp is pastor of a church at Wenatchee, Washington, at present, but for some years served in a similar capacity at Miami, New Mexico. He is widely known for his advanced and aggressive views along lines of social and religious progress.

1915 to 1917, when he attended K. U., the first year as a University fellow in American history, upon the completion of which he received the master of arts degree. During these two years and in four summer sessions of study there, he completed the residence requirements for the degree of doctor of philosophy which he was granted in 1922. In 1917 he became head of the department of history and political science in M. C., and has retained that position to the present date.

Is Author of Church History
The distinction of being an author belongs to Dr. Craik. He has written two books, "The History of the Church of the Brethren in Kansas," published in 1922, and his dissertation, "Southern Interests in Territorial Kansas, 1854-1855," published in 1923 in volume fifteen of the Collections of the State Historical Society.

Adviser To Class of '24
In addition to his work as teacher, Dr. Craik was acting dean of the College for one year during Dr. Harby's absence; he has been secretary of the faculty for a number of years; secretary of the Alumni Association for over ten years; and is on the classification, library, schedule, and publications committees. As a member of the last named committee he has been the invaluable editor of the Catalog and Bulletin. He has been adviser for the Spectator for several years, of the Quadrangle for the past year, and of the present Senior Class. He is chairman of the 1927 homecoming committee.

Member of Historical Association
Prominent in historical circles, Dr. Craik is a member of the American Historical Association, the American Political Science Association, and the Kansas State Historical Society. His department is a popular one here, leading the others in the number of majors. In his new position he will undoubtedly build up another strong department.

COLLEGE TEAM EASILY DEFEATS FORMER STARS

COACH MISHLER, AND LEONARD AND GANGER CRUMPACKER SEEN IN ACTION

The Bulldogs and Whiz Bangs battled to a 45-24 decision last Tuesday evening in the College gymnasium, in a basketball game that brought out the latent ability of three of M. C.'s old time stars. The five-man defense of the Bulldogs baffled the Whiz Bangs most of the time. It was the Bulldogs' effectual in frustrating the opposing offense, and the brilliant shooting of Sargent and Hill that gave the Bulldogs such a wide margin over their opponents.

Whiz Bangs Slow on Offense
The Whiz Bangs were slow in going down the court, and this permitted the Bulldogs to form their defense. As a result the Whiz Bangs were halted in the center of the court, and found most of their efforts to pierce the defense ineffectual. The Bulldogs' offense was brilliant at times, especially in the last period, when by quick passing, pivoting and side stepping, they were able to maneuver into position for a set-up.

Age Told On Old Stars
The Old Stars started the scoring with a free throw, but were soon headed by the Bulldogs with two baskets. The first half ended 22-15, the Bulldogs leading. In the second half the fast pace began to show on the Whiz Bangs, and the Bulldogs, taking advantage of this, ran up a big score.

Three Have Played Their Last
Both teams played well, and although the game at times became rough, good will reigned throughout. In this game Strickler, Sargent, and Daggett battled their last for M. C., and the legs of these men will be seriously felt next year.

NINE MEN WILL RECEIVE LETTERS IN BASKETBALL

Nine men will be awarded letters for basketball this year. The following men will receive their second letter: Captain Dale Strickler, Cleo Hill and Rufus Daggett. Si Sargent will receive his third, and Cecil Holloway, LeMar Mast, Ernest Tipton, Virgil Ellwood and Moffat Eakes receive their first letter.

Strickler, Sargent and Daggett have served their last year for the Bulldogs. The six other letter men will return next year, and with the addition of several letter men who have dropped out to teach, the prospects for next year are not at all discouraging.

TOURNAMENT CHAMPIONS LOST GAME TO SWISHERS

The I. O. N. A. P. basketball team won the intramural championship by defeating four of the five teams that they played. Although they were defeated by the Swishers Thursday night by a 19-13 score, they were leaders in the tournament, since all other teams had been defeated at least twice. The I. O. N. A. P. lads are a group of hard and fast fighters, and their opponents usually could not stand their fast pace. They have played together while in high school and are now using good team work, passing and dribbling like veterans. Thursday they met a team they could not subdue, as the Swishers were unusually lucky in their goal shooting and thus proved too strong for their opponents.

Bethany Girls Lose Game To M. C. Chics

Swedes Were Completely Outclassed by the M. C. sextet in a fast game

The McPherson College Chics turned the Bethany girls team back in a 38-13 defeat Saturday evening. The game was a romp for the M. C. girls. Close guarding and brilliant goal shooting did the trick. Fonda Hardin, McPherson forward, with 9 field goals and 4 free throws, led in the scoring. The fast and effective passing of the Chics baffled the Swede girls. There was some rough playing on the part of both teams, 23 fouls being committed.

Bethany started the scoring with a free throw. The score was close for the first few minutes of play, but the Chics soon proved their superiority by literally running away from them. Both teams fought consistently even with the advantage turning the Chics way. The guard work of Ring, Shirk, and Long was unrivaled. A great deal of credit is due the centers, Hammon and Vogt, their cooperation with the forwards being a great factor in the one sided score. The playing of the forwards featured. Possessing range, speed and a good eye, they were wonders in the vicinity of the basket, obtaining close shots by side-stepping and dribbling past their opponents.

COLLEGE TO PARTICIPATE IN BASEBALL THIS SPRING

Sport lovers will be gratified to hear that McPherson College will participate in baseball this spring. Contracts are open with Chillicothe, Bethel, Hays, Bethany and Wesleyans. Preparations are under way, and as soon as the weather clears Coach Mishler will call for candidates. Although there are five letter men from the '22 team, the team this year will consist mostly of new and untried material. The prospects for twirlers are good, weakness in this position having been the chief fault of the M. C. team in past years. Harold Barton will lead the team, and as things look now we can only predict a successful season.
