

INSTITUTE PRESENTING RELIGIOUS EDUCATION AND STUDY OF BIBLE

Special Speakers and Faculty Members on Program

GOOD CROWDS ATTEND

Many Out-Of-Town Persons Are Getting Benefit of Course

Religious education and Bible study are the central themes being presented in the Bible Institute in progress now and continuing through this week. Special speakers and faculty members are appearing on the daily programs which are proving to be exceptionally interesting and inspiring. A large number of out-of-town persons are attending the Institute.

Special Sermons Given

Sunday morning the sermon was given by Dr. Ezra Flory of Elgin, Ill., and the evening message, "The Whole Gospel," was forcibly presented by Dr. Edward Frantz, also of Elgin. Each day the Rev. Hershel Shank effectively discusses various church problems during the eight o'clock period. At nine o'clock and at three-thirty Dr. Flory leads the discussion in religious education, which is proving popular. During the ten-thirty period Dr. Frantz presents his message, "The Bible in Our Times."

Local Men On Program

The Rev. H. F. Richards, Dean H. J. Harnly, Prof. J. W. Deeter, Prof. G. N. Boone, and Coach F. E. Mishler are also to appear on the week's program. This afternoon at two o'clock a stereopticon lecture "India," will be given by the Volunteer Group and this evening at the Opera House the peace play, "In the Vanguard" will be given.

The outstanding numbers of the week-end will be President D. W. Kurtz's lecture on "European Conditions," Saturday night his sermon, "The Religion of Forty Years Hence," Sunday morning, and on Sunday evening the missionary pageant followed by Dr. Frantz's address on "Missions."

ENROLMENT FOR NEXT SEMESTER UNDER WAY

New Plan Being Used—Student Committee Doing Most of Work

With enrolment for the second semester practically over, students after four days rest from school, are ready to start upon the second half of the year with renewed pep and enthusiasm. The new plan for enrolment which is being used proves successful. The large number of desks and the size of the room make the Commercial Hall an ideal place for registration. Much time is saved and more student initiative used in choosing the courses by the students filling out their own cards. The student committee under supervision of the faculty is efficient in helping those enrolling. The visit to the president is always enjoyed, and with the treasurer safely past long sighs of relief are heard, and student plans and resolutions for the coming semester are discussed on every hand.

MORRIS GONE ON EASTERN TRIP

Prof. Charles S. Morris left Thursday night on a two weeks' eastern trip. He will represent the mission study groups of the local church and College at the Missionary Conference of North America to be held in Washington, D. C. this week. The mathematics department head will also visit a number of other eastern points including Juniata, Blue Ridge and North Manchester Colleges, Ohio University and friends and relatives in Ohio and Indiana.

Remember the Bible Institute.

Y. W. C. A. GOODY SHOP PROMISES TO BE UNIQUE

The annual Goody Shop, to be held this Friday promises to be one of the most unique events of the year. The decoration, the service, and even the eats are to be entirely different. The menu will include all sorts of delicacies from an Eskimo's choice to an Italian's favorite dish. Surely in no varied and delicious a menu none should hunger.

Nothing is to be forgotten to make this music Goody Shop the greatest success. There will be music while one eats and jolly good entertainment afterward. Downtown students and friends, folks on the Hill, and "dorm" students remember Friday night in the Alumni Gymnasium from five-thirty until the evening program and afterward.

THESPIANS TO GIVE "IN THE VANGUARD"

Famous Peace Play Will Be Given At Opera House This Evening

"In the Vanguard," a superb drama by Katrina Trask depicting the utter failure of war to accomplish the settlement of national and international differences, will be presented at the Opera House this evening under the auspices of the Student Council and by the Thespian Club.

Phillip, a young law graduate home from college finally decides to enlist as a private. His friend, Elia, bids him good-bye and prophesies his fame. He goes to the front, wins honors for his bravery and is promoted to a lieutenant. Further acts of heroism put him in line for a captaincy. One evening after a hard victory he encounters a wounded enemy whose dying words reveal the awfulness of war. Seeing war from this new view, he determines to refuse his commission and leave the army. When he returns home everyone greets him as a deserter, even his father refuses to keep him in his own home. He realizes everyone is opposed to his views except Elia who has had a vision and greets him as her hero.

FELLOWSHIPS BEING OFFERED

Every year Kansas University offers a fellowship to one of the graduates of McPherson College. The fellowship is worth $400 and the graduate doing the work may be asked to do not over six hours of work a week. Any senior who is interested in obtaining the fellowship should hand his name to the faculty, giving the type of work he would expect to pursue while at the University. The fellow will be selected by the faculty early in the spring primarily on the basis of scholarship. Practically every other university offers fellowships but these are entirely competitive and the faculty has nothing to do with the granting of them. Further details may be learned at the registrar's office.

HARNLY TO BE VICE-PRESIDENT—MOHLER WILL BE M. C.'S DEAN

Promotions Made by Trustees in Annual Session

PLANS MADE FOR YEAR

Final Endowment Drive Ahead—Many Teachers Are Elected—Academy Dropped

With every member of the Board of Trustees but one present at the annual business meeting Friday and Saturday the Board, by working until late Saturday night, succeeded in completing its work. The Board made two promotions by electing Dean H. J. Harnly as vice president and Prof. R. E. Mohler as dean of the College; plans were made for the final endowment drive to take place soon; the Academy was discontinued; and a number of teachers were elected to positions.

Beginning with next year Dean H. J. Harnly relinquishes his present duties to take up those of the vice president, and Prof. R. E. Mohler, dean of men and professor of agriculture, will become dean of the College.

Plan Strenuous Endowment Drive.

The request is made that an advisory board from the districts comprising M. C.'s territory meet with the Trustees to plan the final endowment campaign. Preliminary plans are being made today. Every trustee is pledged to use his influence locally in the campaign.

DOTY REPRESENTS M. C. AT COMMITTEE MEETING

Lelloy Doty as state Y. M. C. A. president represented McPherson College in a joint Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. committee meeting at Lawrence, Kan., January 24-25. This committee, representing the Rocky Mountain District and the Southwestern Region, discussed plans for the first joint Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. annual conference, to be held at Estes Park next summer.

The purpose of this conference is to develop a stronger spiritual life and to instill into the students a spirit of rationalism in the solution of their social problems. Discussion groups will be held and in addition it is planned to secure outstanding leaders to address the conference.

CHORAL ORGANIZATIONS GIVE SACRED CONCERT

Entire Program Is Well Rendered—Music Club Does Excellent Work

A concert of unusual merit was given yesterday evening by the choral organizations of McPherson College under the direction of Miss Katherine Penner. The program consisted of selections sung by the Choral Society, Music Club, Ladies Glee Club, Male Quartet and Trio, and was entirely of a sacred nature. The entire program was well rendered, the Music Club doing uniformly the best work of the evening, while the Choral Society sang Andrew's "Build Thee More Stately Mansions" perhaps the best of any one selection presented.

Woodard's "Radiant Morn'g" sung by the Ladies Glee Club and Goupand's "Praise Ye the Father" by the Male Quartet were favorites with the audience. Clearness of phrasing and correctness of intonation were especially noticeable throughout the evening. The accompanists, Hazel Scott and Winston Casler gave ample support.

The program showed much careful training and Miss Penner is to be congratulated upon obtaining such satisfactory results with one semester's training.

MOHLERS GO TO WISCONSIN

Prof. R. E. Mohler and family left McPherson Saturday noon for Madison, Wisconsin where Professor Mohler will attend the state university. Enroute, the Mohlers are stopping at the home of Mrs. Mohler in Woodland, Mich., from whence they go to Scottville, Michigan. They intend to be in Madison by February 2.

Prof. Mohler will major in agriculture economics with a minor in education. He is intending to continue his studies at Madison throughout the summer, returning to McPherson in the fall.

"In the Vanguard" is a superb drama—given tonight at the Opera House by the Thespian Club.

TIGERS ARE HUMBLLED BY MISHLER'S QUINTET IN THRILLING BATTLE

Last Half Turns 35-14 Score in Canines' Favor

BULLDOG FIGHT IS BACK

Groves at Forward Is Spectacular—"Crummy" Does Brilliant Guarding.

Saturday evening from 8:00 to 8:15 every Bulldog supporter who could possibly get there was on the sidelines doing his bit to help the Red and White win that battle with the black jerseyed Tigers in the Alumni Gymnasium. From 9:15 to the end of the season the same group will be joyously retelling the outstanding points of this battle royal in which the Tigers were humbled 35-14. The game was a thrill from start to finish and not until late in the second half did either side clearly show its superiority.

Big Jim started the scoring with a pretty field goal from the pivot position but all the first half neither team could connect with the ring and it was nip and tuck until the whistle blew the half with the score 6-4 in favor of Hays.

Forwards Going Well

With only a short rest both teams were back on the floor warming up for the final period. Maybe the continuous "Fight! Bulldogs, Fight!" was the inspiration but whatever it was Groves and Hill were "hot." Groves had replaced Showalter late in the first period and before the game was over surely showed Coach Mishler that he had the old Bulldog fight and that he was at least the makings of a real Bulldog. Time after time with his swift pivot and accurate shooting he baffled his opposing guards and dropped in a pretty one. Hill was not to be outdone and he made some nice ones from his side of the court.

"Jim" Is Back at Center

It surely looked good to see Jim back at center and if his feet hold up Captain Hill can depend on him

TO HOLD ANTI-TOBACCO CONTEST IN FEBRUARY

Whiteneck, Luckett and Eby Are Candidates—State Contest in March

The local Anti-Tobacco oratorical contest will be held early in February, the date not having been definitely set. In March the state contest is to be held at Central College. There are three contestants here: John Whiteneck, W. T. Luckett and Horner Eby. The local Association was fairly successful in its membership drive Thursday morning.

Five colleges of the state comprise the state organization. Tabor, Sterling, Kansas Wesleyan, Central and McPherson will all probably have contestants at the contest in March.

DRAMATIC ART CLASSES GIVE ORIGINAL SCENES

The dramatic art classes under the supervision of Miss Mercedes Chapman have just finished their work on original scenes. Each class was divided into a number of groups, each of which worked out an original plot, wrote lines and learned them for a fifteen-minute presentation. These were quite unique and interesting as the many visitors say. There were wild scenes of captures in Arabia, the working out the discovery of thieves, scenes with the Oulja board, scenes full of pathos and humor. Though these are but the work of beginners in that line, much can be expected in the future from these people.

Optimism is life—Pessimism, slow suicide. —Brass Tacks

How True; 'Tis False or 'Tisn't False — The Only Question

After taking Professor Blair's examination in psychology—or rather, after filling in the blanks—we concluded that all things, ideas, excuses, testimonies, and teeth are either true or false. All statements, theories, beliefs, time-tables, watches, and weather forecasts are either right or wrong. And if you flunk in psychology, you flunk. Ah, cold conclusion, you are true as a fair be-theoretical.

But, as the jail bird queries, is there no way out? Foolish question; did not Poe's raven answer, "Nevermore?" But, is there even no royal road to unrelenting fate? List! Happy thought! The cross word puzzle—ah, there's the solution.

The cross word puzzle has nothing on Prof. Blair's examination blank in the way of stimulating perplexity, but it does possess a more magnetic lure to hearken tenacious effort in attempted solution by the challenger.

And here's the scheme: Let No. 1 horizontal be "Dad's teeth," and a word of five letters. Obviously the answer is "false." No. 2 horizontal could be "the absence of anything," and a word of seven letters. Probably your head is the first thing you would think of; but the word is "synapse." Well, Prof. Blair could fix up a good one—a X-word puzzle that would buff a bunch of brain power for a vest pocket-full of basketballs. And the student would work on it and worry over it—and flunk on it—and be satisfied. Isn't human nature laughable!

However, for the present, to the professor everything is either true or false. But he did forget to ask us about our hair and teeth and our sweethearts (if any)—whether they are true or false. Well,

Professor Blair, Professor Blair I'm sure I could not say about her hair.

But I know her teeth are false just from gargling lots of salts. "Is that True, my faithful student?"

'Tis not False, Professor Blair!

Social Events

Faculty Entertains Trustees
The faculty entertained the Board of Trustees Friday evening at a reception in Harnly Hall. This custom, which was established last year, has proved helpful in bringing together these two groups that are so closely associated with the College. Prof. J. J. Yoder presided over the program which was opened by a speech of welcome from President D. W. Kurtz. There followed the introduction of the members of the faculty and the trustees. The group was entertained by a musical program consisting of a corset solo by A. E. San Romani, a group of songs by Miss Katherine Penner and two numbers from the string trio, Mrs. San Romani, Prof. J. Lewis Doll and Carl Freeburg. Refreshments were served from the domestic science rooms.

Sophomores Pull Taffy
A taffy pull ended the Sophomore merrymaking when those students celebrated the close of finals by a mid-year party Friday night. The modern language room was cozily decorated with pillows, blankets and a fireplace. The earlier part of the evening was spent in playing games. Punch was served during the entire evening after which the real taffy pull began. Lillian Andrews, Ethel May Metzker and Alberta Flory were the chairmen responsible for the good time.

Grunwald-Wine
The marriage of Ruth Grunwald of Chicago and Roscoe H. Wine of Lebanon, Ind., which took place September 5, 1924 was announced at a dinner at the Union Hotel Friday evening. The marriage was a surprise to all of the friends of Miss Grunwald. A lovely four-course dinner was served. Elberta Vaniman gave a talk on the happiness of the occasion and then Miss Celesta Wine told of the wedding and presented Mrs. R. H. Wine to the guests. Places were laid for Mrs. Wine, Misses Celesta Wine, Margaret Wall, Salome Mohler, Mary B. and Kathryn Swope, Harriett and Naomi Mohler, Maurine Stutzman, Bernice Hoover, Melvin Graham and Elberta Vaniman.

Lauvera Lingle Entertains
Friday evening some of the Arnold Hall girls were entertained by Lauvera Lingle at a radio party. The evening was spent in playing Rook and listening to radio. Light refreshments of popcorn and candy were served. Those present were: Eunice Wray, Minnie Hutchinson, Florence Lehman, Clarissa Evans and Mildred Pike. Regrets were received from Mary Sherty, Anna Lengel and Lillian Andrews.

Academy To Be Discontinued.
Because of the steady increase in the College enrollment and decrease in the Academy enrollment it was definitely decided to discontinue the Academy next year, retaining Prof. M. A. Hess, principal, to offer a college preparatory course under which the present Academy students may complete their work. Professor Hess will also teach and coach debate.

Teachers Elected
The Board elected the following teachers: President, D. W. Kurtz; vice-president, Dr. H. J. Harnly; dean, Prof. R. E. Mohler; Mrs. Amanda Fahnstock; J. J. Yoder; J. A. Blair; Mayme E. Walker; Elsie Pokrantz; Jessie Brown; J. H. Fries; C. S. Morris; J. W. Hershey; Edith McGaffey; J. W. Dester; Maurine A. Hess; J. Lewis Doll; Margaret Heckethorn; G. N. Boone; F. E. The radio station at ALBONA, Pa., has secured the services of Prof. C. L. Rowland, head of the department of staging in Juniata College, at Huntington, Pa., to give monthly programs from his station. Several members of the department of music will contribute to the programs and Professor Rowland will give an occasional lecture, supplementing this with solos from his department. Several of his students have already sung from this station. Professor Rowland was teacher of vocal music in M. C. for seven years, severing his connection in 1920 to accept a position in Juniata College.

Among the Alumni

Another Book by Alumnus
Dr. John Addison Clement, A. B. '02, at present professor of Education in the University of Illinois, at Urbana, is preparing another book for the press. It will probably be entitled "Fundamentals of Secondary Education" and will be suited to the purpose of a text book in college courses. Dr. Clement is the author of a number of works, among them "Standardization of the Kansas Schools," an educational survey of the state of Illinois, and a book entitled "The Principles and Practices of the Junior High School Movement in Indiana." For many years Dr. Clement was professor of Education in M. C. From 1911 to 1913 he served as president of the institution, later teaching in Purdue University and Northwestern University, but coming to the University of Illinois last summer.

Sargent Is Honored
"Si" Sargent, former court and grid star and student of M. C., has won distinction in a foreign state through piloting the Pomona (Cal.) Y. M. C. A. basketballers by winning nine out of ten games. Mr. Sargent is at present professor of chemistry and head basketball coach at La Verne College California. A Pomona paper says in part: "Captain Sargent injured his weak ankle shortly after the start of the second half and the local teamwork became rougher with the star captain on the sidelines. . . If Sargent is badly injured Pomona's chances will be reduced for maintaining the lead." Last season he was unanimously chosen best all-around athlete by the letter men of M. C.

tained as office assistant and instructor in typewriting and stenography. John Hoff of Chicago, who will be granted his Ph. D. this spring from the University of Chicago will teach some courses in religious and general education. Prof. H. H. Ninninger is granted a year's leave of absence.

Organization of Board Remains Same
The organization of the Board was not changed. The officers are: President, Ray Strohm; vice-president, Roy Crist; secretary, Dr. H. J. Harnly; treasurer, F. A. Vaniman; business manager, J. J. Yoder; assistant business manager, J. H. Fries.

SAYS CHRISTIAN LIFE IS FULL MEASURE OF SUCCESS

The Rev. Miles Wolf, pastor of the Baptist Church at Fort Scott, Kan., gave an interesting talk in Chapel last Tuesday on the subject of "Success." He stressed the fact that success is within the wish of everyone. The possibilities that young people have to work in a temporal way and a spiritual way are practically unlimited. The five essentials of success are: a high purpose, perseverance, concentration, hard work and the guidance of Jesus Christ. "The Pilot of the Ages." World renown may be success to a degree but a Christian life is the full measure of success.

BULLDOGS PLANNING REVENGE ON SHOCKERS

Will Play Veteran Fairmount Team Twice This Week—Here Saturday

Coch Mishler's cagers face a hard schedule this week, meeting Fairmount twice, at Wichita Thursday night, and on the local court Saturday night. The Shocker team is built of a group of veterans of two and three years' standing. Woods at center has for several years been considered one of the ablest pivot men in the Kansas Conference. He is a dead shot from close range and seems to have a special liking for the more difficult ones, often tossing them in over his head. Blood at forward, although not as dangerous as man as Woods, will bear watching, he is a hard player, shifty with great scoring ability. Kice is the mainstay for the Shocker defense, a wonder on the defense and a drive on the offense which is hard to break. Little is Fairmount has in the past had the habit of acquiring good material and it can safely be said that they will not be found wanting.

With such a team facing them, the Canine cagers will have to be at their best. The men thus far are in good condition and after several hard practices, they may go to Wichita and avenge the last year's defeat that the Bulldogs suffered at the hands of the Shockers.

TIGERS ARE HUMBLIED BY MISHLER'S QUINTET IN THRILLING BATTLE

to play more than his share of the games both on defense and offense. But Uhlraub seemed to notice a little too much roughness a few times and it became necessary to send in Holloway to relieve this battling center. With barely enough time in the game to get warmed up, this flashy freshman showed some form that will be valuable to the Bulldog coach some of these fine days. The guard positions were held by a pair of Dogs who are as sure and fast as any who have ever graced M. C.'s court. Crumpacker is a freshman but he is a constant reminder of that brilliant type of guarding and dribbling that was admired so much in "Duke" Strickler. As his running mate Ekos, a letter man from last year, is back in the lineup of regulars after a few weeks' out on account of injuries received at practice. He showed that the rest only increased his versatility and the rest of the season he promises to be one of the most feared of conference guards.

Tigers Put Up Fight

Coch Mandeville tried to stop the Bulldog rush by several changes in his lineup but fight as they did they could not stop the brilliant offense or pierce the stubborn defense of Mishler's men. Even with the score sadly against them the Tigers put up a fight that is a credit to any Coach and his fellows and for this the Hays boys deserve hearty commendation.

FIVE RULES OF SPORTSMANSHIP

Chas. A. Lee, state superintendent of Missouri schools has compiled the following code:

1. Courtesy to opponents; be a gentleman or a lady and treat opponents as ladies and gentlemen.
2. Play the game according to the rules; play fair.
3. Abide by the decisions of the officials without remarks or heckling.
4. Be a courageous loser. Don't lose heart when the score is against you. Play your best to the end. Have grit!
5. Be a modest winner. Boast not of victories. Don't rub it in. Cheer your opponents.

Spectators should appreciate the good plays of opponents as well as those of the home team. Show courtesy to opponents as well as support your home team. Take pride in the spirit which the school exhibits. Where there is sportsmanship between contestants there is friendship and not enmity.

FRESHMAN GIRLS FIRST IN CLASS TOURNAMENT

Beat Seniors 27-7 in Final—Close Guarding Keeps Score Down for Seniors

The Freshman basketball girls proved their superiority in winning the class tournament Tuesday night by defeating the Seniors 27-7 in the final game of the tournament.

The first part of the game was one-sided, the score standing 20-1 at the half. In the second half the Seniors put up a stiffer fight gaining 6 points while holding their opponents to 7 points.

The Freshmen were efficient in their goal work, Anna Mae Strickler and Frances Temple each making 6 field goals. Close guarding kept the Seniors down. Floye Rhodes did the scoring for the Seniors getting most of the counters on Freshman fouls. The game was rather rough on both sides, 21 fouls being made.

Now is the time when the student is making his semi-annual resolutions.

IDEALISM

There are practicalists and there are idealists. The practicalists think that they run the world and the idealists are sure that they rule.

A poet says, "Poets, after all, are the unacknowledged legislators of the world." We believe that this statement is well-grounded. It is idealism which furnishes the motive power under which the practicalists accomplish their work.

The infusion with this idealism, so necessary for one's life and for progress, is so often the first thing to be neglected by the busy person. The programs this week are peculiarly fitted to minister to the idealistic side of one's nature and to the practical side also. Are we taking advantage of this opportunity?

CULTURE

We are always hearing of something that has cultural value and of someone who is cultured. There are about as many definitions of culture as there are people.

True culture surely is not that superficial quality belonging to a person which lifts him above others, setting him apart from his fellows.

We like to think of culture, rather, as that refining quality in one which enables him to enter into the common life of those about him, their thoughts, their aspirations and their ideals, drawing him toward them rather than setting him apart, giving him sympathetic understanding of others.

RECOMMENDS FOUR-YEAR COURSE IN JOURNALISM

Included in the recommendations made by the Council on Education for Journalism and adopted by the American Association of the Teachers of Journalism at its meeting in Chicago recently is the following:

Because of the importance of newspapers and periodicals to society and government, the council believes that adequate preparation is as necessary for all persons who desire to engage in journalism as it is for those who intend to practice law or medicine. No other profession has a more vital relation to the welfare of society and to the success of democratic government than has journalism. No other profession requires a wider range of knowledge or greater ability to apply such knowledge to current events and problems than does journalism. Adequate preparation for journalism, therefore, must be sufficiently broad in scope to familiarize the future journalist with the important application of the knowledge to the practice of journalism.

Under present conditions the best means of acquiring this essential knowledge and of learning its application, the council believes, is a four-year course of study in a college or university, including such subjects as history, economics, government and politics, sociology, literature, natural science, psychology and philosophy.

Preparation for journalism should also include instruction and practice in journalistic technique, and consideration of the responsibility of the journalist to society.

Exchanges

Due to lack of space in the library, the high school papers received are placed in the Spectator office. Those desiring to read them may do so in that room.

The new enrollment plan of the students enrolling for the second semester during a chapel period has proved highly successful as applied at Baker University. This plan saves the student several hours as well as helping the office force.

The student of Kansas University who writes the play to be presented by the class in the spring will be awarded a prize of fifty dollars.

A series of special programs are being arranged and will be broadcast from KP KU during the spring semester, according to Harold G. Ingham, director of the University extension division. The first of the special programs will probably be the mid-winter concert by the University concert band.

— University Daily Kansan

According to a resolution recently passed by the faculty of Baker University the method of selecting the members of the Orange staff will be altered. Hereafter these staff members will be selected by the faculty from students of the Journalism Department.

According to the figures compiled in the office of registrar, George O. Foster of Kansas University, seventy-two different religious denominations are represented among the students of the University. The Methodist Episcopal church leads in numbers with 1,115 students. Next in order are the Presbyterian, Christian, Catholic, Baptist, Congregational, and Episcopal. Others follow with fewer numbers.

UNDERGRADUATE AT OXFORD

Life at Oxford is not pleasant for the thirty-two American girls who are studying at the English institution this year, according to the New York Evening Post.

"The grand old men of the University, the class fellows and heads of colleges who lived through the suffragette days when enthusiastic women poured acid on college lawns and corn syrup into college letter boxes, still look upon women students with mistrust and suspicion.

"While there is not among Oxford undergraduates that feeling of resentment against women students which lends Cambridge men to smash the gates of women's colleges and to stamp and groan when a woman enters a lecture room, yet their regard for the newcomer is far from kindly."

Aloofness and opposition on the part of the men of the university have driven the women to rely more and more upon themselves and they are slowly developing a social, academic and athletic world of their own, like that of Smith or Wellesley. Meanwhile the life offered to an American girl student is not an attractive one.

—The New Student

A lady went into a store to purchase some collars for her husband. The clerk, to her astonishment, returned with the proper size. "How," she queried, "did you know that he wore number thirteen and one-half?" "I always notice that men who allow their wives to buy collars for them wear about that size."

Barks and Wags

It's a joy to the boys in red and white

To fight for the old Alma Mater; It's woe to the foe whom they battle with might

Just for the old Alma Mater. No matter how distant seems victory away.

To the last they are loyal and eager to play

And Gladly Like Stoics They Freeze Every Day

Just for the old Alma Mater.

So Paul Dick is going to take a course in conducting... Street car or music?

"I get your point," said the man as a bumble bee lit on his neck.

The Lucky Other Guy

Ah, the sweetness of the other fellow's candy.

The goodness of the other fellow's pie.

The beauty of the other fellow's auto—

How envy we the lucky other guy!

Just to slam the ball into the bleachers

While thousands in the grandstand wildly shriek

That way Babe Ruth does, gladly I'd surrender

My job of sweeping floors at six-a-week.

I'd like to have the place of Eddie Collins;

I'd like to have John Rockefeller's kale;

I'd like to draw cartoons like Sidney Smith does;

I'd like to be the president of Yale.

And I suppose that Laura B. McGaffey,

Although the Editor-in-Chief she be,

Rather than boss journalistic dumbbells

Would rather write fool nonsense—just like me.

Practical Chemistry

Add a bit of affection to the friendship of a boy and a girl and await developments. At the proper time add a diamond. And a solution known as matrimony will form. In this solution a precipitate, home ties is produced. By experiment it will be found that this precipitate is readily soluble in the divorce court, HCl (high cost of living) hastening the reaction.

Joyfully, Jack.

COME TO THE PINK TEA

A Pink Tea is to be given this afternoon in honor of the guests of the Bible Institute. The Y. W. C. A. girls most cordially invite students, friends and guests to enjoy the afternoon together in the Y. W. C. A. parlour from three until five.

AN APPRECIATED GIFT

Mr. H. R. Stover has very kindly given the library his files of the Literary Digest from April 1922 to August 1924, inclusive. This gift is especially appreciated since the Literary Digest is one of the most popular magazines for reference work, and the library copies become badly worn. We are wondering if there are not other friends of the institution who would be glad to place their back magazines such as The American, The Nation, the Saturday evening Post, Scientific magazines, and others which are catalogued in the Readers' Guide are especially valuable.

Margaret Reckethorn, Librarian.

Be at the game!

RESUME WORK ON HUSH HALL

When the Yale corporation quietly and unexpectedly set workmen to breaking ground for a new dormitory on the Yale campus, opposite historic Connecticut Hall, faculty, students and alumni joined in angry outcry against "Hush Hall", nicked-named from Rush Hall. Students and alumni laid a barrage of criticism, historic, aesthetic and pathetic. Four hundred and fifty graduates signed a petition that operations be suspended till graduate opinion be heard. The workers ceased operations.

The faculty met in the middle of December and voted to uphold the Corporation in whatever it saw fit to do. The alumni did likewise. Work on "Hush Hall" was resumed.

—The New Student

Smile a White

A Quaker, chasing his broadbrim hat which the wind had blown off, saw a boy laughing at his calamity. Exceeding wrath at his futile endeavors to recover the tie, he said: "Art thou a profane lad?"

"Once in a while," replied the lad "Then," said he, handing him a quarter, "thee may damn that hat the money's worth."

A lawyer, much addicted to making blundering remarks, in trying a case of replevin involving the right to property in a lot of hogs, said, in addressing the jury: "Gentlemen of the jury, there were just twenty-four hogs in that drove - just twenty-four, gentlemen - exactly twice as many as there are in that jury-box."

"Hiram," said the farmer's wife, "what makes you say 'Gosh' so much and go round with a straw in your mouth?"

"I'm gettin' ready for them summer boarders that's comin' next week. If some of us don't talk an' act that way, they'll think we ain't country folks at all."

A Scottish farmer sold some eggs to the local laird. He discovered that he had included one egg too many in the consignment, and went at once to the laird, who said laughingly that it wasn't really worth all this fuss.

"You may be right," said the laird, "but anyway, have a drink and call it squire. What will you take?"

"Egg and milk," snapped the Scotsman.

The new home assistant was from Boston and her mistress had not had such an advantage, so when the maid announced, "There's a moidant at the door, madam," she was promptly told to "tell him that we haven't anything to mend just at present."

Poets' Corner

Victory In Defeat

Defeat may serve as well as victory To shake the soul and let the glory out. When the great oak is straining in the wind, The boughs drink in new beauty, and the trunk Sends down a deeper root on the windward side. Only the souls that know the mighty grief Can know the mighty rapture. Sorrows come To stretch out spaces in the heart for joy.

—Edwin Markham

The Human Touch

High thoughts and noble in all lands Help me; my soul is fed by such. But ah, the touch of lips and hands,— The human touch! Warm, vital, close, life's symbols dear,— These I need most, and now, and here.

—Richard Burton

Lamentations

Some folks excel in languages. Some folks excel in math. And some folks seemingly excel in whate'er meets their path.

Some folks get A's in everything. Others are pleased with a B. But to think that some folks are so smart, Sure gets the best of me.

Some folks are good at poetry. And some are good at prose. And some with feature stories Try to drive away your woes.

I've tried a thousand times in vain, By wit to sooth my mind. But I think that God intended me For just a steady grind.

The smart and witty folks will do For social bugs and such— But when it comes to doing things— They don't amount to much.

M. T. Head

There are grades that make us happy.

There are grades that make us blue.

There are grades that steal away our doubts

Like the sunshine steals away the dew.

There are grades which have an awful meaning

That the M. C. faculty decree

But the grades that tell me I am flunking.

Are the grades that I hate to see.

Wizowl.
