

MENNONITES' QUINTET TAKES 54-31 BATTLE FROM BULLDOG CREW

Lead Taken By Bethel Could Not Be Overcome

PLAY ON BETHEL COURT

Bethelites Hit Basket From Anyplace on Floor; Groves Is M. C. High Point Man

After playing a clean, hard game all the way, the Bulldogs were defeated 54-31 by the Mennonite quintet, Friday night on the Newton court. The game was a scrap which would do credit to the representatives of any school and even if they did take the small end of the score M. C. is proud of her battling Bulldogs. Playing on their home court with a bunch of rooters inspired by a winning team behind them, the Bethel crew easily took a lead that, fight as they would, Misher's men could not overcome.

To add to the advantages of the home team, Buller, Reister and Enns seemed to be hitting the ring from any place on the floor. These three men respectively caged six, eight and seven baskets for their team. For McPherson Groves was easily the outstanding man. Although Groves seldom gets the tip-off his floor work and foul shooting are valuable assets to the Bulldog offense. He alone made eleven of the points for his team. Showalter played a good defensive game but soon had four persons against him so Holloway took his place. Ellwood played in place of Baker but since he has been playing the pivot position which he played he did not show up so well in this new position as he did as "Massive's" partner in 1923. Crumpacker played his usual stellar game at guard but it taken five men playing together to win a basketball game. The game was not easily taken and M. C. need not feel too badly about this defeat at the hands of one of the best teams in the conference.

STUDENT REFERENDUM WILL BE TAKEN FRIDAY

Student Government and College Song Will Come Before Student Body.

A student referendum will be taken in chapel Friday morning on the College Song and on the question of student government.

By action of the Student Council a student vote will be taken on the retention of the present "M. C. Song" or the re-adoption of "O! Sacred Truth" the official college song until 1922.

At the same time the recommendation concerning student government passed by the Student Council and approved by the faculty last week will be submitted to the student body for final action. The recommendation reads:

"We, the Student Council recommend that a Student be elected by the Student Council to represent the Student body on the Discipline Committee. We suggest that this committee settle as many cases as possible, but if the sanction of a larger group is necessary, that this committee determine whether the case shall be referred first to the Student Council and then the faculty or go directly to the faculty the aim in either case being to secure the most satisfactory adjustment to all concerned."

The biggest joke of the week: the Swedes say in the Bethany Messenger that the outstanding feature of their negative debate was the "amazing rebuttal". Someone ought to whisper it to the judge.

Thursday night—Kansas Wesleyan debates.

AUDIENCE ENJOYS FINE ARTS RECITAL TUESDAY

Musical numbers offered in the student recital last Tuesday evening were enjoyed by the small but appreciative audience. Little Franklin Hiebert's rendering of a violin solo was quite unique. The various vocal and piano solos showed much practice in preparation. Lillie Crumpacker's reading portrayed the turning point in a boy's life which changed his possibly brilliant career to one of greater usefulness, but with less renown. The audience was disappointed to find that Mrs. Iva Gilson and Jean Zimmerman were unable to be present with their numbers.

LEHMAN QUALIFIES FOR CONTEST AT WINFIELD

Oration Ranks Among Best Six, But Illness Prevents His Competing

Debate Coach Maurice A. Hess received a telegram Saturday stating that John Lehman's oration, "The Modern Tragedy" had been judged one of the six best orations submitted in the Old Line Oratorical Contest, and inviting Mr. Lehman to compete for State honors in the contest to be held in Winfield tonight.

Unfortunately on account of illness Mr. Lehman will be unable to participate in the contest and McPherson College will not be represented by her star orator. Expert judges of oratory who have heard Mr. Lehman's oration compliment him highly, and had he been able to enter the contest there is a large possibility that he would have won first place.

ELMER KREHBIEL ON HONOR ROLL AT KANSAS UNIVERSITY

M. C. students will be interested in the communication which Prof. M. A. Hess recently received from Dr. H. P. Cady, dean of the chemistry department of Kansas University. The letter stated that Elmer Krehbiel, Academy '22, is doing excellent work in that department, and was put on the honor roll for the semester. It further adds, "Work of this kind shows that, in addition to having high native ability, he must have attended closely to his studies in his high school course and received excellent training from his teachers."

"The University of Kansas is glad to get such students and we are hoping that you will send more of this type to us."

KURTZ AWAY OVER WEEK-END

President Kurtz left McPherson in the middle of last week to deliver two addresses at as many places. His first stop was at Waterville where he addressed the Teacher's Institute. On Friday he traveled to Plainville where, on Saturday, he delivered a second address. He arrived home Sunday noon.

TWENTY-EIGHT M. C. PEOPLE ARE PRESENT AT CURRY INSTITUTE

Comprise Largest Delegation at Emporia

MEETS M. C. STUDENTS

Holds Special Conference To Discuss Problems of the Home Campus

Twenty-eight students from M. C. comprised the largest out-of-town delegation at the Curry Institute at Emporia Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Dr. Bruce Curry of New York was the principal leader of the institute and by his masterful handling of difficult questions proved himself an expert in his field. "Life at Its Best" was the theme of the institute.

Meets With M. C. Delegation

Dr. Curry expressed a desire to meet the McPherson delegation and discussed with them the problems of the home campus. The institute closed Sunday afternoon. Intense interest throughout every session was evident.

FROSH STARTING GOOD ENGLISH CAMPAIGN

The feeling has been growing that the English heard on the M. C. campus is not what it should be, and an effort is being put forth to bring this to the attention of the students. The freshman rhetoric classes are preparing to put on an extensive good English campaign, each class having charge for one week. The success of this campaign will depend wholly on the attitude and cooperation of the students. "Why limit conversation to a few choice phrases? Learn good English and you won't have always to 'put up the same old line'" is the challenge to the students of M. C.

SAM MOHLER ELECTED PRESIDENT Y. M. C. A.

Race Is Close In Election; Dell, Lentz and Sondergard Are Other Officers

The election of the Y. M. C. A. officers for the coming year which was held at the regular meeting Wednesday was a close race, the lead in every case being about ten votes. The new officers are: President, Sam Mohler; vice-president, Milton Dell; secretary, Paul Lentz; treasurer, Sidney Sondergard.

Before the election it was impressed upon the men that personal feelings were to be forgotten and that they should use wisdom in voting. These new men are well qualified to fill these offices and to strive to apply the ideals of the Y. M. C. A.

These officers, together with the rest of the cabinet to be selected by the president and the new Y. W. C. A. cabinet will be installed tomorrow at a joint meeting.

DELIA CHAVEZ FIRST IN MUSIC MEMORY CONTEST

Delia Chavez won first place in the music memory contest held in the Chapel Thursday evening and received two tickets to the evening concert of the Kansas City Little Symphony Orchestra to be given at the Opera House Thursday. Ocie McAvoy was awarded second prize, receiving one ticket to the evening program. Bessie Bremen took third prize which is a ticket to the afternoon concert.

Much interest was shown in the contest, twelve people entering. Good work was done by all contestants, and many of the papers received high grades. The contest stimulated music appreciation in M. C. to a real extent.

ROWLAND WILL BROADCAST

Prof. C. L. Rowland's men's glee club of Juniata College will broadcast a program from station WOO, Philadelphia (Wanamakers), Sunday afternoon from 2:30 to 3:15 eastern time. Professor Rowland is a former professor of voice in M. C. and undoubtedly his old friends in McPherson will wish to "tune in."

Coming Thursday—Kansas City Little Symphony Orchestra.

COYOTE DEBATE TEAM IS NEXT BULLDOG FOE -AFFIRMATIVE TRAVELS

Lehmans To Make Only Home Appearance

MAY BE TURNING POINT

Each Member of the League Now Has One Debate to Its Credit

Bad medicine is being brewed for the Coyotes. Forensic honors of the Northern Division of the Kansas Intercollegiate Debate League will probably hinge upon the decision of the debate between M. C. and Kansas Wesleyan University Thursday night and that night will find M. C. debaters well prepared for the fray. The contest at McPherson will take place at six-thirty. As each of the four schools has one debate to its credit it is likely that this debate will be the turning point for one of the teams. In the debate between Kansas Wesleyan and Sterling the negative of each team won. Friends and Southwestern each have two debates to their credit in the Southern Division, having won from Fairmount and Bethel.

The local debate team has been working with renewed pep and energy since the debate with Bethany and the result will be in evidence when the team meets the Wesleyan team Thursday night.

The "Debating Twins", Harvey and Harry Lehman, will make their only home appearance of the season at that time. These hard working brothers, smarting under the defeat at Bethany, will get a pace that will be hard for the Wesleyan affirmative to follow.

Kenneth Rock and Mildred Libby, the M. C. affirmative, will be prepared to make a strong case in Salina. Rock's logical, constructive work and his power in rebuttal, and the splendid co-operation and support of Miss Libby will be hard to beat.

Prof. J. H. Lawrence of the College of Emporia will judge the debate here.

STUDENT WILL APPEAR IN GRADUATION RECITAL

Bernice Peck Will Be Assisted By Clement Haldeman and Rozella White

The first graduation recital of the year will be given this evening at eight o'clock when Bernice Peck assisted by Clement Haldeman, soloist; and Rozella White, reader, will give a piano recital as a candidate for a diploma in piano.

The program follows:

- Sonata op. No. 2 Beethoven
- Adagio Sostenuto
- Allegretto
- Presto Agitato
- Miss Peck
- Bells of the Sea Solman
- The Big Bass Viol Bohannon
- Duna Gills

- Mr. Haldeman
- Were I a Bird Henselt
- Romance F Sharp Major Schumann
- Polonaise C Minor Chopin
- Miss Peck
- Caddy Margaret Hill McCarter
- Rozella White

QUARTET GIVES PROGRAM

Monday evening five M. C. girls motored to Galva where they gave a program for a community meeting. The program consisted of music by a ladies quartet, readings by Misses Andrews and Brubaker. Ruth Grunwald Wine accompanied the quartet on the piano. Those making the trip were Eunice Wray, Marie Brubaker, Lillian Andrews, Beulah Cullen and Mrs. Wine.

M. C. Grows Overnight—Frosh Erect Magnificent Air Castles

Miss McGaffey has been buried somewhere under the avalanche of argumentation that she brought upon herself by recently assigning to the fault finding Greenies the duty, or privilege, of setting forth arguments in favor of those improvements which they consider vital to the high standing of McPherson College.

And now if some wealthy brick layer or rich Indian will lend a hand or several reams of yellow backs to M. C. all the wishes of the Freshmen will be gratified, and then I'll o! Harvard and Columbia will glance in awe towards College Hill, bringing to themselves all the humiliation of the inferiority complex.

It would be well for the proper authorities to note that approximately one half of the Frosh gave very good reasons why M. C. should have a new gymnasium. Those who didn't write on this subject merely sacrificed natural desire to be "different". If lives there a man with brain so dense he believes the obstacles to be overcome in obtaining a new gym too great will he please recall (if he ever knew) what Napoleon said about the Alps; also, the Frosh have made available for him a bit of inspirational argumentation that should knock his opinions for a couple of Hawaiian bed bugs.

Of the fifty per cent, more or less, who did not desire a new gym seventy-five per cent, more but no less, would beautify the campus and promote better care of the buildings.

A few asked for better attention to the Chapel programs, and others declared there were none to which to give attention and that Chapel programs should be provided; Bang! Bang!

And the prize, a pound of hairless butter, was awarded for the bit of information that was added to the store of human knowledge by the yearling who declared that college students should study more and who so kindly told the world that the "best place to study is in a room where Nobody is present".

GOOD SPEECH WEEK

The time has come and gone when young America tried to undo in one week what had become habitual by fifty-one weeks of practice. The King's English was to be transformed into a thing of beauty by a simple "presto" change!

As our thoughts hark back to the announcements on the bulletin board at the beginning of school of a "watermelon" party and of a lost pocket "come" and to professors we have heard say "most unique" and "it's me", our sympathies go out to the foreigner who braves attempting to assimilate the results of our provincialism, our colloquialism, and our ignorant individualism in our speech.

Judging from the number of times everyone has heard such expressions as "untiring efforts", "very", "interesting as well as instructive", "much credit is due", "pleasing", and "should be proud of", he may have some idea of how many times each week the editorial shears have been used to sever these same beloved words from their intended resting places in the Spectator.

The Frosh are trying to make Good Speech Week last more than a week. Shall we give them our support?

We notice that three men and one lady confine bores to their own sex.

A MATTER OF DISCRETION

W. J. B. is not the only gentleman who has seen fit to dispute with experts in lines entirely foreign to his own previous experience, and who has expected his contentions to be accepted respectfully.

There are still found people who indicate that they believe not only that men are born equal, but that they remain equal after being born. According to them, the opinions of college presidents on how to lay bricks are entitled to as much credence and respect as the expert bricklayer's opinions, and the specialist in astronomy is as well qualified to criticize educational theories as is a person who has spent his life in the study of education.

Wouldn't it save one from becoming an object of ridicule if he should assume a little modesty by hesitating to state as final his opinions in fields unfamiliar? Has the expert no place in this "Great American Democracy"?

WHY NOT?

This is a world of give and take, mostly give. That august body of instructors who have been giving us so many good things and also what we term things not so good, are, according to us, deserving of a suggestion or two which they may take for what they deem it is worth. We speak of that particular phase of the college Chapel period which is intended for all who are present, namely the devotional singing. In the past there has been considerable criticism about this part of the service, and it has been through the efforts of the instructor and leader in charge that this has shown a decided improvement—ON THE PART OF THE STUDENTS. Let us only drop this suggestion that it would help the singing considerably and make a much better showing if the members of the faculty would also make their contribution to the chapel singing.

Someone says that when one begins to say "That's not my line", it is a sign he is growing old. If that is the case the music memory contest revealed a number of the aged ones.

Student Opinion

PROTEST REGISTERED

Watchful waiting! That's what it takes to get a Spectator these days. Why this sudden paucity of the beloved paper? We all have paid our incidental fees, at least it is hoped we have so that the financial situation ought not to be especially embarrassing. Some of us poor mortals who live downtown and do not, have 11:30 classes on Tuesday are constantly deprived of the college publication. Would that printers were a little more industrious or that the paper situation was not so acute that everyone might have his paper.

A. S. T.

HEARD AT THE WASHINGTON MISSIONARY CONFERENCE

James L. Barton—We are convinced that only by self-surrender, by dominant love, by a sense of world brotherhood, by a devotion to service and a readiness to sacrifice upon the part of individuals and nations, can this passion-torn world know abiding peace.

E. Stanley Jones—Missionaries are not trying to make the East a pale copy of the West, but to offer Christ for the East to interpret for her own.

Jesudason Cornelius—India, moving toward Christ, may make a spiritual contribution which the materialistic civilization of the West so woefully needs.

James McClure Henry—Win the present generation of students to Christ and you have won the world.

Robert A. Dean—Sending missionaries to other lands is a crazy proposition unless we admit that the teachings of Christ which they carry have never literally been lived by any nation.

Hugh Thompson Kerr—The Christian religion is intrinsically and unchangeably a missionary religion. When it ceases to be missionary it ceases to be Christian. As long as Christ cares for the world no genuine Christian can be careless.

Samuel M. Zwemer—Mohammedanism is the prodigal son among the non-Christian religions. God's love goes out to them as to no other section of the non-Christian world.

The Christian Century gives as the three great gains at the Washington Missionary Conference: 1. Acknowledgement of the broadened scope of Christian missions. 2. Loss in complacency on the part of western churches. 3. Appreciation of the impossibility and undesirability of transferring western denominational divisions to mission lands.

COLLEGE PEOPLE ENTERTAIN FRIENDS IN COUNCIL CLUB

That the old college quartet is popular is proven by the great demand shown for its programs. Wednesday at the home of Mrs. J. J. Wall the Friends in Council Club, one of the study clubs of the city met and the ladies of the club enjoyed a program of college talent. Mrs. D. W. Kurtz gave an excellent talk on Europe and the quartet sang three dainty songs which were greatly appreciated. Clement Haldemann pleased the ladies with two well chosen numbers.

Barks and Wags By Wendell Johnson

According to Jay Greene nasty pudding is the well known Minus taploca.

Secrecy

I tell Brown not to tell Smith that Jones told me some inside dope; and Brown tells Simpson not to tell Blake that I told him that Jones told me some inside dope — and so it goes Piggly Wiggly 'round the world.

You are as great as you are in spite of, not because of, your bad habits.

That Other Fellow

The other fellow always knows just how I should abate my woes. He tells me not to pout nor sob nor whimper if I lose my job. He points out why my walls or moans or sighs, big shining tears, or groans are useless. And he tells me that I'll win by only fighting back when I am shoved against the wall—"Be shoved on through," he cries, "don't fall!" A friend's rebuke, a girl's slap, a broken wheel, a tire flat are here for testing human souls. And so the other fellow doles out such inspiring concern for difficulties. I discern, however, he is burdened, too, with sunny cares like I and you. And I have heard him swear at Fate; I've heard him mournfully relate his woes while now and then a tear would in his downcast eye appear. He's only human, just an heir to sorrows, happiness, and care. And so I would he'd introspect and put my yoke upon his neck when I am down and sorely sigh; I really wish the other guy would not smile quite so broadly then. His optimism helps, but when I'm blue I find it true with me that "misery does love company".

The plan of providing girls with health charts, which are checked each day, is being followed by the W. A. A. at K. U. In this way a definite record may be kept, and the points are counted directly from this chart.

Proof that time is money: Give twenty-five cents to a couple of tramps and it is a quarter to two.

WHAT PRICE PERSONALITY?

No more shall the gaudy and bespangled sister outshine her less showy but more worthy roommate in at least one institution of higher learning in the United States. The girl with a heart of pure gold will win recognition and attention and the glistening sham will be stripped of her pretense at Union College, College View, Nebraska. The co-eds at Union were recently given four days to get rid of all rouge, lip sticks, short skirts and low necked dresses. President W. W. Prescott, addressing a "girls only meeting", delivered the ultimatum demanding that the girls garb themselves in conformity with the following regulations: Skirts not more than nine inches from the ground, elbow length sleeves and closely fitted collars.

Those who fail to comply with this ruling will not be permitted to attend classes.

After the meeting President Prescott said: "The model girl should be inconspicuous in her mode of dress that she will not remember her for her clothes but for her personality."

As They See It

What is your idea of a bore?

Verne Strickler—A great big overgrown boy who is always "yessing" you, rubbing his hands over you, and all but hugging you for the purpose of getting your friendship.

"Peanuts" Morine—Ditto Verne's opinion.

Elberta Vaniman—Someone who raves on about something you're not interested in and keeps you from doing something you want to do.

Laura McGaffey—Someone who rattles on forever without saying anything.

Salome Mohler—A girl who invites herself to go places with you when you don't like her and who never contributes to the good time but expects the others to entertain her.

George Dean—The fellow who asks you to take him and his girl somewhere in your car and then when you stop for a bite to eat spends fifteen minutes putting on his overcoat while you pay the check.

MISSION BAND ELECTS OFFICERS FOR YEAR

Thursday evening the Mission group discussed the general theme of missions. It was made clear that a broad, sympathetic knowledge of missions is needed by every Christian regardless of profession. The mission group feels that the interest in missions is growing in the Col-

Poets' Corner

The Croaker

Once on the edge of a pleasant pool,
Under the bank where 'twas dank and cool,
Where bushes over the water hung,
Win recognition and attention and grasses swung,
Just where the creek flowed o'er the bog,
There lived a crumpled and mean old frog
Who'd sit all day in the mud and soak
And just do nothin' but croak and croak.
Till a blackbird hollered, "I say yer know,
What is the matter down there below?
Are you in trouble, or pain, or what?"
The frog says, "Mine is an orful lot;
Nothin' but mud and dirt and slime
Fer me to look at jest all the time.
It's a dirty old world!" so the old frog spoke,
"Croakity — croakity — croakity — croak!"
"But you are looking down!" the blackbird said;
"Look at the blossoms overhead;
Look at the lovely summer skies;
Look at the bees and butterflies;
Look up, old fellow. Why bless your soul,
You're lookin' down in a muskrat hole!"
But still, with a gurglin' sob and choke,
The blamed ole critter would only croak.
And a wise old turtle, who hoard-ed near,
Says to the blackbird, "Friend, see here;
Don't shed no tears over him, fer he is low-down just 'cause he likes ter be;
He's one of them kind o' chumps that's glad
To be mis'rab' like and sad.
I'll tell yer somethin' that aint no joke:
Don't waste yer sorrow on folks that croak."

GEORGE WASHINGTON PARTY

The members of the First Year Teacher Training Class spent a delightful evening at the home of Lauvera Lingle February 21. Games and contests, culminating in "Tea-Kettle", were the order of the evening. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Lauvera Lingle and Julia Hollem. These consisted of cherry Bavarian cream, garnished with maraschino cherries, cake and candy hutchies. George Washington decorations were carried out consistently in refreshments, souvenir hutchies and games.

Mrs. H. F. Richards entertained at a three course dinner Monday in honor of the eighteenth birthday of her daughter Evelyn. Following the dinner the girls enjoyed a line party to the Tournay Theater. The guests were Ruth Kurtz, Iva Crumpacker, Lela Rhodes and Margaret Sharp.

Mrs. Amanda Fahnestock entertained the Junior-Senior Sunday School Class at a taffy pull at her home, Friday night.

Smile a While

Miss Davis—Howdy, Brer Silas? Where you got dat likely lookin' muel? Pears mighty lak er muel dat was missin' at de Corners las' week.

Brother Silas—Slowly, Sis Davis, slowly, Dere's too many hen feathers back of dat dere house for folkses what doan keep no chickens ter ask panted questions lak dat.

A Louisville journalist was excessively proud of his little boy, turning to the old black nurse, he said, "Anny, this boy seems to have a journalistic head."

"Oh," cried the untutored old aunty, smothering, "never you mind 'bout dat; dat'll come all right in time."

She—What reason have you for thinking that women have no aim in life?

He—I have seen several of them attempt to throw stones.

Customer—If this is an all-wool rug, why is it labeled 'cotton'?

Salesman (confidentially)—That, madam, is to deceive the moths.

"John," said Dean Ramsay, "I'm sure ye ken that a rollin' stane gathers nae moss."

"Ay," replied John, "that's true; but can ye tell me what guid the moss does to the stane."

Marcelled Waves Flood Males, but Will Ships Arrive?

The Marcel Waves have dashed upon the beach of the male lack of vanity submerging manly ruggedness in a flood of beauty parlor daintiness and delicacy.

Woe be it and the gnashing of teeth if the rage of the permanent wavy tangle has obtained a head lock on the vamped sex. A cold chill glides down the spines (if any) of the unsophisticated males of the species as they look, blink, either, or both upon the women who view the artificially corrugated tuft atop the figure of a man with delightful open mouths, admiring eyes, and fluttering hearts (if any); for it is then that they appreciate how near they stand to that flood of beauty shoppe dizziness, realizing as they do that they are only men and that the way to a man's heart and loss of mental equilibrium is through a woman's eyes.

Well do the men know that the ship of woman's admiration cannot safely sail upon the marcel waves of a male tatch, and it is the possibility of a wreck and consequent permanent abiding of some female's affection among the surging strands that will lure men away from the old hobber shop and into the beauty shoppe.

It has been asked, and when the wavy locks of men appear it seems altogether proper to wonder, which is the vainer sex. It is simply a question of which gets the prize, the vain woman or the man who admires her (if any) and vice versa. What men like in women they also desire for themselves, so the ruffled locks are here for males, for, although some men marry brains, the typical fellow freezes onto a good looking head when he thinks he sees one.

Stage directions for this scene from William Vaughn Moody's play, "The Great Divide," call for a woman's muffled scream, a pistol shot, and the crash of breaking furniture. The microphone on the right sends them all to your home.

An Exciting Evening

Here are four of the WGY Players (the world's first radio dramatic company) at a thrilling climax that almost turns sound into sight.

WGY, at Schenectady, KOA, at Denver, and KGO, at Oakland, are the broadcasting stations of the General Electric Company. Each, at times, is a concert hall, a lecture room, a news bureau, or a place of worship.

Tune in, some evening, on one of their productions. You will be surprised to find how readily your imagination will supply stage and setting.

SHOOTING STARS AS WE SEE THEM

JOLLY JANES REMAIN AT TOP IN TOURNAMENT

Are Undeclared in Three Games; Flying Dutchmen Hold Second Place

The Jolly Janes are in the lead in the women's basketball tournament while the Flying Dutchmen have second place. The former defeated the latter twice last week 22-20 and 23-16. The Flying Dutchmen defeated the Kampus Katz 11-6.

Lucile Paul starred for the Jolly Janes, playing an excellent game at guard. Frances Temple was high point player in both games, making 12 and 14 points respectively. Leola Ellwood and Floye Rhodes were the outstanding players for the Flying Dutchmen. Leola plays a mighty good game at guard and Floye was high point player with 11 points each game.

The Kampus Katz were held down by the good guard work in their game with the Dutchmen. Mattie Ring played well at forward and Mabel Griffin and Naomi Mohler all fought hard for the Kampus Katz. Laura Hammann received a sprained ankle in the first quarter of the game, causing a loss to the Dutchmen.

SOLOISTS ARE SPECIAL ATTRACTION AT SYMPHONY

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Havens, the soloists who will be with the Little Symphony Orchestra of Kansas City in its appearance at the Opera House Thursday will be an exceptional attraction.

Mrs. Havens has for several years been a soloist at the annual rendering of the "Messiah" at Lindaborg. She is popular with audiences wherever she goes. Mr. Havens is also well known and liked, both for his musical talent and for the outstanding civic improvements in Kansas City in which he has had a prominent part.

Some difficulty is met in sending an organization of the size and quality of the Little Symphony to this part of the state. Only through the provision of a special fund at Kansas City is it possible for McPherson to have this excellent orchestra at so reasonable a cost. The programs, high class, yet varied in nature, will increase the appreciation of all for good music.

OH DOCTOR.

The visitors were one ahead when lanky Jim Devormer dashed through the other team's defense and flipped one from the corner. The crowd went wild, but like a flash their starring guard, Parmenter, grabbed up the little leather ball and scooped it in from center. The fans were in a frenzy now—ten seconds more would tell it; Devormer slipped in 'neath the goal and hollered for the pellet. Our left guard held the ball to pass, the game was ours to grasp it; but oh, he heaved it wild—and Gosh, it fell right through the basket!

W. J.

He (over telephone)—Say Sal, may I call on you tonight?
 She—Sure, Ed, come down.
 He—But this isn't Ed.
 She—This isn't Sal, either.

He—Would you like to take a walk?
 She—Delighted.
 He—Well, don't let me detain you.

"Is Jones a sound lawyer?" asked a friend of the judge.
 "All sound," replied his Honor.
