FORENSIC SEASON TO OPEN ON DEC. 16 WITH ORATORICAL CONTEST

Winner of Local Contest Will Represent M. C. In State
Contest

MANY STUDENT ELIGIBLE

Orations Will Be Judged On Both
Thought And Composition.

The forensic season of McPherson College will open December 16, when the local contest of the Kansas Oratorical Association will be staged in the College Chapel. The winner of the contest will represent McPherson College in the state contest which will be held sometime near the first of March.

Considerable interest is being taken already by the contestants and some of the contestants have already begun to collect material and prepare for the first forensic battle of the season. In former years prizes of $7.00 and $5.00 have been awarded to the contestants winning first and second places. Prizes may be awarded this year.

The orations will be judged on both thought and composition and each orator must submit to Debate Coach Hess not later than December 10, at 10:00 a. m. three typewritten copies of the oration as he will present it. Any regular student of McPherson College who is under twenty-seven years of age may enter the race for honors in the field of oratory.

Coach Hess is anxious that the race be one in which a large group of contestants are entered. He will be glad to give suggestions and detailed information to any student who is thinking of writing an oration. Coach Hess has his office in Room D. of the Administration Building.

BLAIR REPRESENTS M. C. AT WICHITA

Noted Speakers Are on Program at Wichita—Blair Misses M. C.
Banquet.

The McPherson College Faculty was represented by Professor J. A. Blair at the teacher's meeting at Wichita, November 4-6.

A college section of the meeting, though planned, failed to materialize. The general sessions were, however, of unusual interest and value. Bishop Hughes, of the M. E. Church, and President Lewis of George Washington University, were the notable speakers of the Thursday session.

President Lewis spoke on "Education for the Needs of America," desiring for this purpose students with the simplicity to wonder, the mentality to generalize, and the power to apply.

Dr. Mendenhall, of Friends University, gave the address of the evening, at the Schoolmasters' Banquet Wednesday night, and Professor Wilner, of the Fairmount expression department, gave several selections from Mark Twain. "Wilner is a past-master at the art of humorous recitation," says Professor Blair.

Professor Blair missed the McPherson Banquet Friday, the hour having been changed after he had arranged to attend the K. U. Banquet.

MAROONED RAID FANNESTOCK

The Maroons had so much pep last night that they just couldn't stay out of Fannestock Hall. Just about bedtime they threw the dormitory into a bedlam with their footsteps, their scintillating and their snappy pep. Staid Fannestockians awoke with a start, and the old dorm heard more noise than it has heard since Aunt Josie moved in. Pep by no means subsided when the women went home.

GOVERNMENT

It has been thought a considerable advance towards establishing the principles of freedom to say, that government is a compact between those who govern and those who are governed; but this cannot be true because it is putting the effect before the cause; for as man must have existed before governments existed, there necessarily was a time when governments did not exist and consequently there could originally exist no governors to form such a compact with.

The fact therefore must be that the individuals themselves, each in his own personal and sovereign right, entered into a compact with each other to produce a government; and this is the only mode in which governments have the right to arise, and the only principle on which they have a right to exist.—Thomas Paine.

COLLEGE CLASS WILL WORK PEACE PROGRAM

Hoff's Principles Of Education Class
Organizes For Practical Work

Professor J. L. Hoff's Principles of Education class adopted a plan Thursday for use by the class to stimulate student interest in world peace and international friendship.

The plan outlines a five weeks' program in which all available means of publicity will be used. Student organizations are being asked to give programs to bring the matter before their memberships. The Spectator will be used when practicable, chapel time is being arranged for, both in connection with regular programs and a special Thursday session.

Among the organizations that are being asked to take part are the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., Forensic Club, College Quartet, Music Club, Discussion Group, Ministerial Association, and the union Young People's Meeting in connection with the evangelistic meetings down-town.

The plans were drawn by a committee headed by Ora Huston, and was adopted by a unanimous vote of the Principles of Education class. Outside speakers and short period student conferences on the subject of world peace have appeared here before, but this is the first attempt at an extended program of this nature carried on primarily by student agencies, yet made in McPherson.

DEBATE TRYOUT FOR WOMEN'S TEAM WILL BE HELD JANUARY 13

Kansas Wesleyan and Bethany

Of M. C. Women

WILL DEBATE CHILD LABOR

Candidates Must Register With Coach
Hess—Material Is Now Available

Debate Coach M. A. Hess has announced the tryout for the Women's Debate Team of McPherson College on January 13, at 6:30 p. m. in the McPherson College Chapel. The coach announced that the drawing for sides will take place at 5:30 p. m. January 6, in Room D. of the Administration Building.

Debates have already been scheduled with Kansas Wesleyan University and Bethany College, and a number of women have already decided to try for honors in the forensic field. This will be the first year that McPherson College women have had a chance to try for honors other than the regular Varsity Debate Team. Bethany College has had a women's team for several years and this will be the first time that the women of McPherson College have had a chance to "Beat the Swedes." In a forensic way.

The Child Labor Amendment is to be debated by the Women's Team and material on the question has been classified and is ready for use in the Debate Room. Coach Hess wishes all candidates to register with him and begin preparation soon.

M. C. Frosh Excels Instructors In Noble Old Norman Game!

Have you had the thrilling experience which has never, and never will lose its prestige? If you have or if you haven't it makes little difference for, as long as "greenhorns" exist, this pastime will continue with raging popularity. Our ancestors enjoyed its folly; even our grandfathers recall the time when it was the most distinguished, and most brain-racking sport of all seasons. It is a wonderful sport in that it is neither affected by the weather nor by the climate, nor even by the change of the moon. But once is enough!!! The sportsman either does not live through the thrilling experience to tell the tale or does not wish to expose his findings if he does.

This fascinating sport comes from the courageous heart of the Norman huntsman, thrilling and exciting the ambitions of the young warrior, who with his gunny-sack and lantern pierced the wierd darkened woods and forests of the old continent to experience the glorious thrill derived from this rare sport.

Too true it is that history is repeating itself, too true it is that we are turning back into the footprints of our inferiors, too true it is that this sport was, and is, and always will remain, a favorite pastime of "greenhorns" and dumb-bells.

It has already found its way into the realms of our college life, and without any doubt will surpass any variety sport now in vogue. Recently, one of our energetic freshmen, when approached by a couple of under-classesmen, upon the subject of this world-renowned sport, one evening last week, assured them that he would enjoy playing immensely. It had rained all day, the ground was muddy and the atmosphere typical to a London fog. The "Lizzie" was cranked and with a burrah they were off. After traveling a few miles into the country the car was stopped. "Hush! Not a word or we will ruin our chances," whispered one of the party. "Climb over the fence," commanded another.

Upon arriving at the scene of action the lantern was lighted, and placed in the victim's hand, while the gunny

A CREED

I wish to be simple, honest, natural, frank, clean in mind and clean in body, unaffected—ready to say, "I do not know." If it be so—to meet all men on an absolute equality—to face all obstacles and meet every difficulty unafraid and unabashed. I wish to live without hate, whim, jealousy, envy or fear. I wish others to live their lives too—up to their highest and fullest and best. To that end I pray that I may never meddle, dictate, interfere, give advice that is not wanted, nor assist when my services are not needed. If I can help people, I will do it by giving them a chance to help themselves; if I can uplift or inspire, let it be, by example, inference and suggestion, rather than by injunction and dictation. I desire to radiate life. —Elbert Hubbard.

BULLDOGS WILL MEET BARRELMAKERS TODAY

Game Will Be Played At Hutchinson—M. C. Students Admitted Free

The next game for this season for the Bulldog eleven, will be played this afternoon at Hutchinson. Sterling College will battle McPherson College at 3:30.

Last season Sterling defeated the Bulldogs by a 13 to 0 score and the Bulldogs are out this time to win although they are at the foot of the Kansas Conference. The Bulldogs seem to be a hard luck team, for after having outplayed these teams of the Kansas conference they still have no victories to their credit.

The game played at Hutchinson last year proved such a drawing card that the McPherson and Sterling authorities decided to play the game there again this year. Those who saw the game last year are not expecting such a strong aggregation as the Sterling team of last year.

As McPherson College students will be admitted free and will be given a half holiday it is expected that there will be a large crowd of McPherson students at Hutchinson to boost the Bulldogs in their sixth start of the season.

When interviewed late last evening in regard to their success in achieving mention on the Ranking List, Mr. Elrod and Mr. Saylor professed ignorance of any special methods. "However," said they, "we don't plan to do it again. It's so fortunate."

Friday, November 13, proved unlucky for the Bulldogs; and they were met and defeated by the Kansas Wesleyan Coyotes at Salina. The Bulldogs were neither as heavy nor as fast as their opponents and were unable to cross the Coyote's goal line.

Salina began scoring in the first period when Isaacson, left halfback, booted a place kick squarely between the McPherson goal posts for three points for the Coyotes. Jones added a touchdown in the second quarter. The try for point was successful and the Coyotes had a lead of 10-0 at the close of the half.

The last part of the second quarter and the most of the third found the Bulldogs playing their best football. They made consistent gains and brought the ball close enough in the third period for Chapman to make a successful attempt at duck-kicking a field goal.

Eakes and Temple played the most consistent game for the Bulldogs. Eakes was the only lineman who played the entire game. Temple played good offensive football until he was taken out on account of injuries. Hahn played the entire game at the fullback position.

Isaacson with eleven points and Jones with twelve points were the outstanding stars on the Wesleyan eleven. Isaacson averaged nine yards each time he carried the ball, and (Continued on Page 1.)

PRESIDENT D. W. KURTZ TAKES TWO WEEKS TRIP

Makes Large Numbers Of Addresses
In Michigan, Minnesota
And Ohio

Dr. D. W. Kurtz, president of McPherson College, has returned to McPherson after an absence of almost two weeks. This time was spent in lecturing and addressing Sunday School conventions and other meetings in Minnesota and Michigan.

Dr. Kurtz gave nine lectures before the State Sunday School Convention of Minnesota, October 24-25, at Minneapolis. Five of these were on "Our Needs in Christian Education." At this place he talked at various churches and at the Y. M. C. A. On Sunday, November 1, he addressed the Y. M. C. A. of Detroit, Michigan on "Choosing a Hero."

The Sunday School Convention of Cleveland next week, "Winning the World Through Childhood," "Peace" and "Our Needs in Christian Education." From Cleveland he journeyed back to Detroit where he delivered a series of seven lectures November 2-5.

The Church of the Brethren at Sterling, Illinois, secured the services of the M. C. president in dedicating its new church. He gave two addresses and raised $500 more than was necessary to care for the expenses of the building. He arrived at McPherson, November 11.

That the work of Dr. Kurtz is appreciated is shown in a message received from the secretary of the Michigan Sunday School Council, who wrote, "No speaker made a greater contribution to our recent convention than Dr. D. W. Kurtz. His messages were sane, timely and powerful."

The largest volume of circulation thus far this year at library occurred on Monday and Wednesday, October 26 and 28, on each of which days 314 books were checked out.

Does Woman Have The Last Word In Life And Death?

Who has the better brain? Man or woman? Woman, according to an old saying, always has the last word—in life at least. But now it looks as though woman will also have the last word in death as well.

During her lifetime Miss Helen H. Gardner refuted strongly the assertion that men possess brains superior to those of women. She wrote an argument entitled "Sex in Brains," attacking this man-made declaration. When Miss Gardner died last August it was found that she had ordered her brain to be taken into the Cornell laboratory and compared with that of some man of nearly equal attainment.

Those in charge of the Cornell laboratory have decided to compare Miss Gardner's brain with the brain of the late Dr. B. H. Wilder, a noted brain expert. The most minute and elaborate tests and untiring study will be used in an attempt to solve this age-old riddle, providing that a solution is possible.

The mere fact that a brain is of abnormal size cuts no ice at all the experts declare. Some of the world's greatest intellects have had their testes in small brains, they point out.

This explanation should be of great comfort for McPherson College students since each individual seems to have a chance despite the size of his head. The chief thing is to have a head with which to start. Regarding the brain comparison it is to be hoped that an announcement either way will not cause a social revolution tending to make either sex the complete slave or master of the other. Just think of a girl trying to play football.

Y. W. C. A. CHAPEL

The Y. W. Chapel Tuesday morning offered a program of unusual appeal. For devotions Vivian Harnly read a letter from the inspirational pen of one of the ladies of McPherson: "The Ideal Woman," a little essay, served as an introduction to the program of the morning. The thoughts and ideals of three representative young men were read by Esther Wilbur, the subject of the campus letters being, "The Ideal Girl." The letters were written by men of McPherson College.

There was a young fellow named Syd, Who kissed a girl on the eyelid. She said to the lad, "Your aim's mighty bad; You should practice awhile." So he did. —Burr.

COLLEGE Y MEN HEAR M. C. CO-EDS' OPINIONS

A program of an unusual type was provided at the regular Y. M. assembly on Tuesday morning. Following the devotional service which was led by Earl Kinsie, three letters written by representative women students of the College were read. The letters which were read by Marlin Kelly, Kenneth Rock and Harvey Lehman, had for their general theme, "My Ideal Young Man." The tone of the letters bespoke thoughtful preparation and serious consideration of the subject. Opinions expressed differed widely, though a striking similarity could be detected in some respects. All three letters mentioned the importance of clean personal habits, neatness and sportsmanship. Moral courage and a love for Nature were mentioned by two. Physical fitness received due mention, two of the letters favoring athletes. Two of the writers mentioned specific characteristics.

Dark hair seemed to be preferred with an even break as to color of eyes.

THE LURE OF LIFE IS DISCUSSED BY FREEMAN

"The Lure of Life," was the subject discussed by Rev. E. W. Freeman of the Methodist church of this city at the Wednesday chapel service. The lure of life, according to Rev. Freeman, consists of something more than the immediate future. It is the call to service. The need of capable leadership was emphasized by the speaker. "The world must be lifted up," said Rev. Freeman, using as a figure the city of New Orleans which lies below the water line. "We have inherited the greatest problems of history from the past generation," said Rev. Freeman, "and the call goes out for those who can help to solve them."

STUDENTS ATTEND REVIVAL

A large number of students have been attending the union revival meetings being held down town. An especially large crowd attended Thursday night, "Brethren Night," and the next day the tabernacle was enlarged so that greater crowds could be accommodated. The revival is under the direction of Rev. and Mrs. Rose, noted evangelists and great interest is being taken in the meetings by students and townspeople of McPherson. The McPherson College Orchestra has been furnishing music at the meetings.

FLORY IS ART CLUB SPEAKER

Alberta Flory talked to the Art Club last Wednesday on the subject of "Chinese Art." The Chinese and Japanese have the greatest art expression in the world. The Chinese have a great reverence for antiques. Their art is simple and austere. Decorated silks, lacquers, porcelains and ivory and wood carvings have been copied from other civilizations, especially the Roman. They have had very little painting. Their work was hidden until the middle of the nineteenth century, but since that time there has been many restorations. Miss Flory showed photographs of the Ning Poa wood carvings. These carvings depict the every-day life of the Chinese people. She also displayed some examples of Chinese embroidery.

Although this game did not show the Bulldogs up favorably, fans are expecting a good showing when the team meets Sterling at Hutchinson this afternoon.
