HUNDREDS OF ALUMNI WILL GATHER AT M. C. ON THANKSGIVING DAY

Program To Be For Old Times
Sake—Cares And Duties Forgotten.

BANQUET WED. EVENING

Is First Real Reunion Since Reorganization of McPherson
Alumni

A reunion of former students of McPherson College will be the attraction to several hundred people tomorrow evening in Science Hall when the McPherson County Alumni Association of McPherson College holds its first meeting with a banquet in which the big dinner will be eclipsed only by the splendid program that has been prepared. A number of teachers from over the state are expected to increase the number in attendance.

Just For Old Times Sake

Just for "old times sake" is the motto that has been followed by those in charge of the program. Nothing will be allowed to interfere with this objective. Toasts by members of the different classes that have been at M. C. will recall many pleasant days of College life. Cares and duties will be dismissed in living again the days of fun and frolic and its recounting pranks and follies half-forgotten.

Six-Thirty at Science Hall

At six thirty o'clock the guests will assemble in Science Hall and an excellent banquet will follow immediately, served by the College Hill Ladies. At the tables the guests will be seated with those friends of their college days, and the many groups will be given the opportunity of describing the College as they recall it.

LOVE FOR MONEY AND HUMANITY ARE DEBATED

Coach Hess Outlines Process Of Preparation For Debate.

The question, Resolved, that man will do more for love of money than for love of humanity, was debated at Forensic Club Wednesday night by Earl Kinzie and Earnest Betts, affirmative, and Arthur Shively and Howard Klem, negative. The closeness of the debate is evinced by the judges decision of 2-1 for the negative, and the vote of the audience for the affirmative by a small margin.

Professor Hess in a short talk outlined the process of gathering material and preparing a debate. The process consists of wide preliminary reading, outlined for aid in subsequent classification, the discovery of the central issues, the preparation of the brief, and the review of the material for authoritative quotations.

THE ASPECTS OF PEACE ARE PRESENTED BY KURTZ

The first of five peace days proposed by the class in Principles of Education, was observed by Professor Ada P. Kurtz at chapel assembly on Friday. "Another war will probably mean the breakdown of civilization" said Professor Kurtz, "and the only way to prevent it is to apply the principles of peace. Peace means more than the absence of war." America has not been always been in the right, according to Professor Kurtz. We can love and be loyal to our country and still recognize her faults. History affords an unusual opportunity to know the facts. "A prerequisite to patriotism is to know the truth. Applied Christianity will solve the problem of international difficulties."

Library will be closed from 5:20 p. m. Wednesday, until 8:00 a. m. Friday.

BULLDOGS TO BATTLE TERRIBLE SWEDES ON HOME GRID THURSDAY

Game Will Be Another Epoch
In Rivalry Between Two Schools

PEP CLUBS ARE AT WORK

Bulldogs, Lovers All Season, To Meet
Leaders of Conference—Dope
Is Unreliable.

The Swede eleven, supported by every student in Bethany College, will invade the territory surrounding the Bulldog kennel on Thanksgiving Day, with what is indeed a very enviable record. The Swedes have a perfect history in the conference this season, and their goal line has not been crossed up to this time. The Bulldogs, on the other hand have to their credit two tie scores and three defeats. For the entire season, the Bulldogs have a total of 1,175 yards from scrimmage as against 1,922 gained by their opponents, and they have earned 59 first downs to their opponents' 47. In three of the five conference games they have played, they have decisively out-manuevered their opponents, but without scoring a victory for themselves.

The battle will be one worth witnessing, notwithstanding the fact that the dope bucket swings heavily in favor of the Bethany eleven. Past football history has proved many times that dope in the McPherson-Bethany game each year is not to be relied upon.

Twice in the past four years, the Swedes have been victorious over the Bulldogs. In 1922, the first year that "Dutch" Lonborg coached the M. C. eleven, a faulty kick gave the Swedes the victory by one point, the score being 7-6. The following year, the game was played in a sea of mud, and the Bulldogs had to be content with the little end of a 6-0 score. Armistice day, 1923, brought revenge for the Bulldogs, and they put one

CORRECTION!—Debates for the Women's Debate Team have been scheduled with Kansas Wesleyan University and Bethel College, instead of with Kansas Wesleyan and Bethany, as was announced last week.

STUDENTS MUST CONFORM TO HONOR POINT SYSTEM

Honor Points Are Necessary For All
M. C.

Class absences have averaged ninety-one a week thus far, and reached a peak of 150 last week, according to the Dean's records. This is cause for grave concern to the absentees, since graduation and under-graduate standing are directly dependent upon honor points. If evenly distributed it would be serious enough, but the case is aggravated by the fact that ten per cent of the students are responsible for fifty per cent of the absences, while approximately fifty per cent have perfect attendance records. Chapel and class rolls are being taken, and the result has a real effect on the student's credit and standing.

The following sections from the Honor Point System are pertinent:

5. The number of absences from class permissible in each semester without loss of honor points shall be equal to the number of hours for which the class is scheduled a week.
6. The number of absences from chapel permissible each semester

PENNER WAS SOLOIST IN BEATHANY ORATORIO

Bethany Oratorio Society Sustains
Reputation In Presentation Of Oratorio.

Bach's Oratorio, "According to St. Matthew", was presented Sunday evening by the Bethany Oratorio Society at Lindshork. In presenting the oratorio the chorus lived up to its reputation earned in singing the "Messiah." Mr. Sigvard Brase, conductor, had the power of holding the chorus in his grasp so that the members sang in beautiful harmony.

McPherson College is proud of the work of Miss Katherine Penner, head of the voice department of McPherson College, who was contralto soloist of the oratorio. Those who heard Miss Penner sing declare that she sang better than they had ever heard her sing before and that is saying a great deal. Prominent musicians who have heard Miss Penner sing have words of high commendation for her ability.

Other soloists of the oratorio were: Miss Irene Handek of Lindshork, soprano, Mr. Roy Campbell, of Wichita, tenor, and Mr. Benjamin Tilberg, formerly of McPherson, bass.

BULLDOGS LACK FIGHT NEEDED TO SCORE ON BARRELMAKER ELEVEN

Practically Entire Game Is Played In Sterling Territory.

TEAMS FIGHT TO 0-0 TIE

Bulldogs Have Ball Within Two Yards of Goal During Last Minutes

The Bulldogs, outplaying the Barrelnmaker two to one on first downs and yards from scrimmage, lacked the fight necessary to cross the final line for a touchdown when in the last three minutes of play they were given four downs and less than a yard to go for touchdown.

Nearly the whole game was played in Sterling territory. Only once did the Barrelnmaker eleven come close enough to the Bulldog goal to have a hope of scoring. This chance came during the second quarter, when after an exchange of punts, Sterling came into possession of the ball on the McPherson 26 yard line. They failed to gain and the half ended with McPherson in possession of the ball on her own 42 yard line.

The second half of the game was decisively for the Bulldogs. Only twice in the this half were the Bulldogs forced to punt, while the Cooper eleven had to boot the ball from under the shadow of their own goal posts five times.

The game was a remarkable one because of the fact that no time was taken out for injuries or time-outs, the only time taken out during the game being for substitutions.

A good representation from both colleges witnessed the game which was played at Hutchinson as a draw.

"PUBLIC OPINION RULES CHINA," SAYS FAIRFIELD

Vice-Chancellor Of Oberlin Memorial
School Speaks To M. C.
Students

Dr. W. C. Fairfield, vice-chancellor of the Oberlin memorial school in China spoke before the student body at the chapel period Wednesday. "The ruling force in China today is public opinion, and the mouthpiece of public opinion is the student body of China," said Dr. Fairfield. The students are one class who are not dominated by superior officers. The military men cannot oppose the students. "Chinese youth is nothing if not patriotic" according to the speaker. A favorite form of demonstration is to strike. The students are especially apt to strike just before examinations. The Christian students however strive to direct this patriotism into useful channels. The Christian students are opposed to striking as a means to accomplish an end. That the students of China are force to be reckoned with was shown by Dr. Fairfield as he cited several instances of their accomplishments. "The Christian students are to be the builders of the new republic" said Dr. Fairfield in closing.

RUSH HOLLOWAY HAS WINNING B. B. TEAM

Rush Holloway, who played on the McPherson basket ball team last year, and who is coaching the Cement high school team in Cement, Oklahoma, is putting out a winning team. His team recently won from the Port Cobb team, for the first time in the relation of the schools.

In speaking of the former M. C. student the Cement Courier says, "Coach Holloway has been putting forth every effort to put out a winning team, provided that clean athletics and athletics can win, and it seems that his efforts have not been in vain."

Another Veil of Mystery Has Been Cast Into the Puzzle Junk Heap

Every time we used to look at Prof. J. J. Yoder we felt strangely suspicious that he was keeping a secret from us. Behind those piercing eye, those tapering face, those veiling beard there seemed to abide evidence of some great and startling truth. But the shroud of mystery concealing that which we felt sure to be there was about as transparent as the Chinese Wall, and Professor Yoder was more tantalizing than Houdini.

However, there are several ways to go places. And a study of Sherlock Holmes, applied to the problem at hand has landed J. J. in the sunlight. Now we know that he has been hiding a secret, and we know what the secret is. Also, consequently we know why he was keeping it to himself.

Professor Yoder was probably Peck's Bad Boy himself. First hand information tends to list him with Tom Sawyer, Huck Finn, Oklahoma Charley and other notorious bad boys of history. It seems to be a truth that our best men were the worst boys—vitality, ingenuity, courage, luck and ambition often adapt themselves to the needs of society.

The road to success is strewn with green carpets! (Hpt dog! That's the best thing we ever said!) A certain old-time alumnus of M. C. and insurance man of Colorado Springs, has left the proverbial cat out of the traditional bag. And to J. J. the cat is black. This insurance man was a class-mate of Professor Yoder, much to J. J.'s past pleasure and present embarrassment.

But he is a good sport. We admire a good sport, regardless of color, race, creed or present condition of slavery. So with J. J.'s kind consent we print part of a letter that was recently received by the Spectator from this Colorado man:

"I never think of 'Joe' but that I recall the time when he and I 'swiped' some eggs from 'Mother' Peck and cooked them in Prof. Huber's recitation room. I think that 'Joe' has quit his stealing now and is preaching to the other poor sinners.

Sincerely yours,

J. H. Schieler.

It is plain that 'Joe' knew his eggs.

OUR DUTY

Thanksgiving afternoon at 2:30, hundreds of alumni and college fans will meet on the athletic field for the annual battle with "the Swedes."

But this battle on Thanksgiving day will mean something more than that. Those eleven men representing McPherson College are symbolical not only of the College but of the entire alumni body.

The student body owes a debt to these returning alumni as does the team. Our duty is far more complex if not so difficult as theirs; to prove that M. C. as an institution has lost none of the glory that has been hers in the past.

That end cannot be accomplished except in a serious way. The Thanksgiving game which will bring so many of our alumni home, is not occasion for individual celebration but is rather a time for thoughtful consideration for our alumni guests.

"I went into the British army believing that if you want peace you must prepare for war. I believe now that if you prepare for war you will get war."

-Gen. F. D. Maurice.

BACK THE TEAM

Great coaches and athletes all maintain that football is a psychology game—that mental attitudes play an extremely important part in the performance of a football team.

There is a moral in this for the student of McPherson College. The Swedes MUST be beaten. McPherson alone remains to do it.

IS IT SO?

Every now and then some news of the doings of students of other countries comes to our attention. Usually this news is concerned with the various youth movements of the world.

One of our professors lately from an eastern university says M. C. students are no more stupid than others in America. There seems to be an appalling apathy that stifles our interests in international affairs.

McPherson Students Are Thankful For Varied Blessings

"Turkey and all its trimmings! Um!" Yes, Thanksgiving season, the time of cheer, good-will and thankfulness is here and the students of M. C. are beginning to shout for the very joy of it.

Many and varied are the things students of M. C. are thankful for. One was freshie is thankful that "Nine weeks of school are over and I am still alive."

One of the faculty members says that he has real cause for thankfulness on this Thanksgiving day, for never before has he enjoyed his work as he has this year.

O, many and varied are the reasons for rejecting on this last Thursday in November and far have we strayed from the original ones but anyway, "We are thankful."

LOOK, LOOK, THE ROOK!

How I wish it were a fable that the Rook upon my table shall from this sad day be able To console me—nevermore!

Winter evenings oft have found me with a host of friends around me—how I love to wander down the Paths of joy I've trod before.

Rook, you've been a source of pleasure. I've enjoyed in boundless measure in the moments of my leisure.

With pair of friends or more, Noble Rook, I'll keep you ever where the joys you've brought shall never leave my mem'ry—I'll endeavor To protect you evermore.

Rook, my birdie, I adore you; chess and checkers, I abhor you. Honest, reader, don't they bore you?

Pollyanna—you can take 'er; keep'er—If you want to, break 'er; with a yigger I forsake 'er!

As a game, she's quite a bore. Tiddley winks have come upon us; snap 'em, snap 'em.

Great Adonius! Give me Rook, I want it, honest!

Oh! The answer—Nevermore! —Not Poe.

We said tiddley winks to our girl friend and she cried, "Shame on Tiddley!"

The average person spends at least half of his time and energy trying to be good.

The other half of the time he is good—he is asleep.

King Henry VIII!

Miss Somebody—(on the phone) Hello. Is this you? Mr.—Yes.

M. S.—Well, who are you? (It actually happened!)

He who hesitates is lost—from the crowd.

"MY IDEAL GIRL"

She stands before my fantastical visage in form that never human dared achieve. She soars up above the clouds when compared with other shining lights of her kind.

Who dare apply? This is an ideal that can never be realized in human form. We will not get more practical. We will get down to brass tacks and describe an ideal that is not impossible.

Appearance does count. First impressions are often lasting. She must be good looking. This does not mean that she has to be pretty. Many good-looking girls have features that cannot be classed as pretty.

It is the character that makes a girl good-looking and not the physical features. To illustrate this I will give the experience of many men; perhaps some girls have had the same experience. When school opened they selected what they thought to be a group of the best looking girls in school.

altogether different group. They had forgotten that the plain girls were plain because of the lives they lived. Furthermore, they had decided that many of the so-called pretty girls were very plain.

My ideal must be one that is able to appreciate the higher values in life. One that is a Christian, not only in name, but in deeds.

This girl must show good-breeding, culture and refinement at all times. She must be physically fit. That is, not only physically strong but one that takes pride in keeping herself that way.

She must be well schooled in the household arts. She must know how to add the little finishing touches that make a house a home.

She must be willing to give as well as to take. Self shall not be the center of all her thoughts and actions.

My ideal is a girl that is simply a good pal; a pal that is willing to share both joy and sorrow. She is not the kind that allows boys to show their so-called "affections" by outward signs the first time that she is with them.

As I have said, my ideal girl is one that is a good pal; one that will be frank with a person; one that will spur a person on to greater Misses Eunice Wray and Myrtle Moyers were hostesses last Friday evening for a party given in honor of Miss Minnie Hutchinson, who announced her engagement to Mr. Harry Lehman.

The guests were first entertained by games, after which they listened jointly to a picture story which portrayed the life of a girl up until the time of her wedding. Vera Wagoner as a small bride then entered and presented each of the guests with a corsage of pink and white sweet-peas to which was attached the note:

Not a preacher
But a Lehman
Not Salina
But Hutchinson.

After being served dainty refreshments the guests departed bestowing many good wishes upon Miss Hutchinson.

HONOR POINTS SYSTEM

without loss of honor points shall be five.

7. For every excess absence from class or chapel a deduction of one honor point shall be made, except in case of severe and prolonged illness. In such cases adjusted credit shall be made without loss of honor points.

10. In case of absences from chapel above ten in number a deduction of three honor points shall be made for each absence above ten.

11. Any absence immediately before or after any vacation shall operate to deduct two honor points instead of one.

12. In case a student is absent from the institution representing it in a public capacity, such absences shall not operate to cause a loss of honor points for such actual and necessary absences. The following activities shall be deemed to come under this provision: Public athletic contests, debates, oratorical contests, and such other activities as are duly approved by the Dean.

13. A student enrolled in twelve or more hours of college work must earn a minimum of twelve honor points a semester to remain in good standing.

It should be noted that the latter part of the Honor Point System gives wide limits to the discretion of the Dean in excusing justifiable absences. A number of absences are being excused, but only upon application by the student; the office is not seeking anyone out to excuse his absence. Application should be made in advance whenever possible. In case of illness or other unavoidable and unforeseen reason for absence, application should be made as soon as possible.

I. U. FOOTBALL TEAM STOPS IN MCPHERSON

I. U. Team Enroute To California
Has Work-Out At McPherson
Fair Grounds

The Iowa University football team, enroute to Los Angeles, Calif., where it met the University of Southern California, stopped for a thirty-five minute work-out at the McPherson Fair Grounds last Wednesday.

The Golden State Limited, crack Rock Island flyer, was held thirty-five minutes in McPherson in order that the Iowa City team might work out. Forty men, including players, coaches, cheer leaders, and newspaper men were in the party. The squad ran signals and practiced punting and kicking.

The Iowa team holds third place in the Big Ten conference. Kutsch, halfback, and next to Red Grange the greatest ground-gainer in the conference, and Romey, end, are the outstanding players on the team. The Jowans beat Illinois and stopped "Red" Grange when they played the Illini this year. Their opponents, the University of Southern California, are rated the outstanding team of the West.

The Iowa team had two workouts during the trip, one at McPherson, and the other at El Paso, Texas.

GOOD THOUGHTS ARE STRESSED BY YODER

"Things upon which our thoughts do dwell whether they be good or bad, will eventually have their way with us" said Professor J. J. Yoder at the chapel hour on Monday. "You choose what you will become" said he in enumerating those influences which are available to the students of McPherson College for the choosing. Professor Yoder emphasized the fact that the individual must put forth the effort. In speaking of his experience and observation he spoke of his growing conviction that a person's character and success are in his own power. "It is up to you" he said in conclusion.

ART CLUB NAMED
"SKETCHIN' PUPS"

"The Sketchin' Pups" was adopted as the name of the McPherson College Art Club at the weekly club meeting last Wednesday evening. It is a play on the general College nickname "Bulldog".

A discussion of various artists was carried on, and a committee was instructed to outline further study of the history of art. Miss Dorothy Mann was to have given a talk on Grecian art, but she was unable to attend the meeting.

She will probably talk at the next meeting which will be held tomorrow night in Harnly Hall.

Professor J. J. Yoder recently received a letter from one of his old school-mates, Mr. E. M. Eby, who is now a contractor. Mr. Eby attended the Academy in 1894 and still believes in McPherson College for the letter received by Professor Yoder also contained a check for a substantial sum for the College endowment. The class of which Mr. Eby and Professor Yoder were members had in it the first student to take an A. B. degree from McPherson College.

ing card. Some critics are not hesitant about saying that the game was one of the poorest they have seen the Bulldogs play, and fans are forced to admit that the Bulldogs will have to develop more pep and fight than they have ever shown to beat the Swedes on Turkey Day.

over on the Swedes. The McPherson College trophy cabinet contains a football with the inscription, "McPherson 7—Bethany 3". Last fall, dope and the determination of the Swedes to revenge the defeat of the previous season, availed nothing and the game ended in a 6-6 tie.

Because the student body realizes that it will be necessary to support the team one hundred percent if they are to win from the Swedes Thanksgiving Day, the Maccoeds and K9s are busy creating pep and selling tickets for the big game.

Saturday afternoon, the Maccoeds canvassed the town selling tickets, giving yells, and letting the populace in general know that the Bulldog spirit is still alive, and that the student body knows that the Bulldogs have a fighting chance of beating the Swedes.

At the same time the K9s visited some small towns in the surrounding territory in cars furnished by the City Chamber of Commerce. They too boosted the game, and gave on-lookers and listeners to understand that McPherson College is going to play football on Thanksgiving Day as they never have played before.

Mr. Roy C. Frantz, A. B. '20, is being kept busy with duties of general superintendent of the Home Telephone Company of Conway Springs and Argonia, Kansas. Mr. Frantz will be remembered by many as the editor of "Life and Light" the College year book of 1920 which preceded the first Quadrangle of 1921.
