ANNUAL GOODY SHOP OF Y. W. C. A. HAS UNIQUE AND VARIED PROGRAM

Gymnasium Is Decorated in Honor of Kansas Day

BUSINESS WAS GOOD

"The Pan Quartet" And Floor Walker Kurtz Were Features Of Y. W. C. A. Program.

The Annual Goody Shop of the Y. W. C. A. held Friday night was a success from every point of view. A large crowd took advantage of the opportunity to dine out and the Y. W. C. A. women did a rushing business. The gymnasium was appropriately decorated with sunflowers and the colors of the United States in honor of Kansas Day.

A large and varied menu and excellent service from pretty girls did much to make the affair a success and to heighten the pulse beat of many of the "young bloods" who attended.

A well equipped museum, showing many objects of antiquity, and many present day wonders, and heralded by "The Tin Pan Quartet" consisting of Misses Ruth Harms, Helen Lichty, Margaret Hughes and Verna Carlson was a feature of the evening. Arlene Church directed the company through many devious melodies which always came out all right in the end.

The work of S. B. Kurtz, floor walker, was another feature of the evening. His efforts to please were widely above reproach and his efficiency and ability to meet every situation was noticeable. At no time during the evening did his tact fall him in the many pinches which he met into.

The Y. W. C. A. women deserve a great deal of praise for the way they handled the affair to the satisfaction of all. The proceeds of the evening will be given to the Chilean branch of the Y. W. C. A. for the furtherance of the work of that organization in Chile.

QUARTET ENTERTAINS JUNIOR HIGH PUPILS

Forty-five Minute Program Was Appreciated By Pupils Of McPherson City Schools.

The McPherson College Male Quartet, accompanied by Miss Penner, conductor and Mr. Winston Casler, pianist, entertained the McPherson Junior High School pupils at their chapel period Friday morning with a spicy forty-five minute program. The program, which consisted largely of numbers used at the concert last week, and in addition several new ones, was eagerly received and many encores were called for. Of all the selections, the Negro Melodies were most appreciated; particularly "Little Cotton Dolly," especially comical because of Mr. Moran's "D-w-u-m" Sam Kurtz, in the same unique manner that was so much appreciated at the concert, gave a Jewish reading, entitled, "Lavinia's Wedding," which went over big with the boys and girls. Miss Penner and Mr. Barton sang the duet "Angelus," and each several solos. The program concluded with a scene from "Schubert's Serenade," by the company.

BETTY BOOTH COMPANY IN McPHERSON TONIGHT

A number of the Lyceum Course will be given tonight at the Baptist Church by the Betty Booth Company, a company of musical novelty entertainers, said by the Redpath Hornor Bureau to be one of the best musical novelty companies in the United States.

Each member of the company is an experienced entertainer and the local managers of the enterprise promise an evening of real entertainment.

DEPARTMENT OF MANUAL TRAINING HAS EXHIBIT

The Manual Training department of McPherson College had a display of work done during the first semester, during the Bible Institute. Many beautiful and useful pieces were on display. Articles ranging from napkin rings to library tables and from candle sticks to cedar chests formed the exhibit.

Professor Boone, head of the department stated that the enrollment of the department was greater than it had been during any previous semester and that the wood-turning class was particularly large.

SECOND SEMESTER SHOWS INCREASED ENROLLMENT

332 Are Enrolled In College Department—Fine Arts Department Much Enlarged

The registrar's records show an enrollment of 332 in the College department for the second semester. Of these 41 are seniors, 69 are Juniors, 90 are sophomores, 114 are freshmen, and 23 are specials. This is an increase in the total enrollment and in the Junior and senior enrollments of last semester. The number of sophomores is the same, and the freshmen have lost nine members. In the music department 199 are enrolled in piano and 61 in voice, as compared to 59 and 45 last semester, and the violin and theory courses under Professor Doll and Professor Kinnear show substantial increases in enrollment.

Some of the students entering for the second semester are: Juniors: Goldie Vickers and Willis Neff; sophomores: Pauline Johnson and Griffith Davis; freshman: Clifford Steinruck, John G. Jones, and Ernest Toland.

The management is well pleased over the increase in enrollment especially in the Fine Arts department.

STUDENTS OF M. C. ARE VICTIMS OF ACCIDENT

An accident which wrecked the car in which Franklin Evans, John Whitesock, Lucille Paul, and Arlene Saylor were riding occurred last Tuesday near St. Mary's. An attempt to negotiate a sharp corner while the roads were icy resulted in the accident from which the McPherson College students luckily escaped unscathed. The party was returning from Morrill where they had spent the week-end at Miss Saylor's home.

The Overland Six sedan was almost completely wrecked. The heavy disc wheels were badly bent, glasses were broken out, and three fenders were torn off. The party arrived in McPherson Tuesday evening via the Union Pacific motor.

The Writer Takes His Readers Behind the Printed Page for a Peep

Week after week you have read these feature articles—or have you?—without knowing perhaps the process of their birth and publication. And now the author of these little compilations of revelations and meditations and things strange, unusual and interesting (perhaps) will take you with him for a few minutes behind the printed page.

The Spectator goes to the presses on Tuesday morning. This particular article is in the editor's hands usually by Thursday. So of course it needn't be timely. It may be serious and informative; it may be supposedly humorous and unimportant; it may be true or false; it may be about some person or thing, or it may be about nothing real.

But of course it must be of quite general interest to the students and alumni, especially the students. It must have some excuse for being written. It is not merely supposed to fill the required space. Oh, not that. The writer brushes the dust from

BULLDOGS LOSE THIRD CONFERENCE GAME OF SEASON TO C. OF E.

Lack of Teamwork on Bulldog Squad Is Responsible For Defeat

MANY SET-UPS MISSED

College of Emporia, With Inferior Team and Best Man Out, Wins Game Easily

Individualism scored another defeat for McPherson College last Saturday night, when the College of Emporia quintette entertained the Bulldogs with a 30-23 defeat. This is the fourth consecutive defeat in the season, three of which have been conference games. With the Bulldogs at the bottom of the conference standing, the very evident lack of teamwork continues and there seems to be no remedy for it.

All through Saturday night's game, both teams missed numerous set-ups. Emporia was particularly wild in shooting during the first half of the game, and the Bulldogs were unable to hit the basket during the last few minutes of play.

Emporia was probably handicapped by the absence of Juengling a good floor man, and basket ringer, who sat on the sidelines and is unable to walk without the aid of crutches.

There were no outstanding men on either side of the game, and the opinion of most of those who saw the game is that it was an extremely slow one, without any really brilliant basketball being shown by either team.

DEBATE TEAM AND COACH HEAR DEBATE AT HEWSTON

Debate Coach M. A. Hess with Ora Huston, Harvey Lehman, Charles Lengel, and Kenneth Reek, debaters on the College First Team, drove to Hewston Friday evening to hear an intra-mural debate on the question of Russian recognition.

The debate was between the freshman and the sophomore classes of Hewston College, a Mennonite institution. Professor Hess served as single critic judge and awarded the decision to the negative represented by the freshman team.

The team members report that two very promising debaters showed up in the debate. A straw vote taken on the way home showed the McPherson team in agreement as to the decision.

He (teaching her to drive)—In case of emergency, the first thing you want to do is to put on the brake. She—Why, I thought it came with the car.—Parrot.

STUDENTS AND VISITORS ENJOY Y. W. HOSPITALITY

The Y. W. C. A. gave a delightful tea last Tuesday afternoon to the students and visitors who are attending the Bible Institute. The Y. W. C. A. room was beautifully decorated with flowers and a silver chandelier. Miss Laura Hammann acted as hostess while Vivian Harnly, Ruth Heibert, and Winifred O'Conner served tea, mints, and wafers.

A large crowd of students and visitors enjoyed this hospitality of the Y. W. C. A., which is one of the annual social events of the school year.

ART DEPARTMENT HAD DISPLAY OF PAINTINGS

New Courses in Arts And Crafts And Blackboard Drawing Are Offered

The students in the Art department of McPherson College under the supervision of Miss Marcella Baird placed their work on display in their department in Harnly Hall last week.

The exhibit contained the finished work of representative courses in that department. Exhibits in Oil and Pastel show that much work and continuous practice has developed some fine amateur painters and artists. There is also some extensive work exhibited from the elementary and advanced Designing classes. Industrial Arts and Charcoal drawing deserves much of the attention of one visiting the department. A course in clay modeling has been offered last semester together with a course in basketry. Besides the courses offered in Elementary Advanced Designing there is a course offered in Original Designs.

New courses that will be offered this semester, which will have no display at this time are: Arts and Crafts, and Blackboard Drawing.

The work was on exhibit on the fourth floor of Science Hall. The department certainly can be praised for its accomplishments. "There are many promising artists in McPherson College and they are doing splendid work," says Miss Marcella Baird, head of the Art department.

This exhibit closed Monday morning, but those who have not as yet made a visit to this department should certainly see the work accomplished there at the first available opportunity.

REV. SHARP VISITS M. C.

Rev. S. Z. Sharp, first president of McPherson College visited in M. C. during the past week. Rev. Sharp tells many interesting anecdotes of the days when McPherson College was young.

HARVEST OF SPIRITUAL BLESSINGS IS REAPED BY INSTITUTE VISITORS

Annual-Affair Has Large Attendance And Interest

MANY PHASES DISCUSSED

Kurtz, Wicand, Miller, Hoff, Ehy Yoder and Others Appear On Program

The Annual Bible Institute, with its harvest of spiritual blessings, in over and the many visitors that dotted the campus have returned to their homes strengthened to take up the work of the church with renewed zeal and vigor. A full week of sermons, lectures, and discussions embracing practically every phase of religious education ended Sunday night with a missionary pageant by the Mission Study Class and a missionary sermon by Rev. A. C. Wicand, president of Bethany Bible School, Chicago, Ill.

To adequately summarize the meeting would take a book. From the conferences on pastoral problems each morning at eight o'clock until the close of the lectures at nine o'clock in the evening the students and visitors enjoyed a program that was packed full of good things.

The Conference on Pastoral Problems, led by W. H. Yoder, was an inspiration to the many pastors that attended the institute. Practically the whole field of the pastor was touched by some phase of the discussions and the pastors felt that they could return to their parishes and do more efficient work.

"The Teachings of Paul", by Dr. D. W. Kurtz, was one of the inspirational features of the meeting. Students and visitors are always ready to study any part of the Bible under this great teacher and the study of the life and teachings of the great missionary Paul was of more than ordinary interest.

It was upon Rev. R. H. Miller, of North Manchester, Ind., that the brunt of the program fell. Two people

MANY GOOD ATHLETES TURN OUT FOR TRACK

Twenty Men Start Season—All Departments Will Be Represented

Last Wednesday at 3:30 those fellows who were interested in track met with Coach Gardner to make plans for the coming season. About twenty men were present at the meeting, representing practically every phase of track activity.

Davis, who last year showed up so well in the two-mile race, is back again to compete with new distance men who have enviable high school records. Vogel, flashy miler, is also strutting some pretty stuff in practice running.

Rock, who tosses a neat javelin, will be back on the track squad this year. Rock also pole vaults to a fair height and will give some stiff competition in that line.

Among the more promising of the new men are Puckett, dash man from Hutchinson high school, Bowers, a good jumper from Louisiana, and Marris, who is a good man on the discuss and shot put.

Although most of last year's track squad graduated, or are teaching this year, sufficient new material has come in with which to build up a track team that can creditably represent the school.

SKIS ARE LAID UP

Marlin S. Kelly, president of the McPherson College Student Council, who not long ago introduced the sport of skiing to students of M. C. has not had so much sport lately due to the fact that there is not enough snow to hold up his skis.

the key board of his ancient Elsie Smith and poses for a spring at the ivory buttons. The theoretical thing which he jokingly calls his mind begins to struggle. His arms bend at the elbows, and his fingers make ready to spell. Maybe an idea bonade into his consciousness or maybe it doesn't. If it doesn't he starts to write an article like this one.

The writer's finger, tips pounce ruthlessly upon the lettered knobs of the typewriter, and he is off.

He always was. Never a grin, never a frown, never nothing; just a peeling of the keyboard. The featurist senses a sort of deep joy in seeing his fingers go and in reading the words that appear on the paper before him. But it is all for the readers, for the Alma Mater and for God! And if you like grapefruit, there it is in that last line.

The editor reads it, as editors have a way of reading things. It's their business, not their pastime. He may say that it is pretty raw or that it is good or that it will do. Or he may spike it to a peg, and ask whether he should say "it has been rumored from reliable sources" or "it has been said" and go right on bathing his clanking Corona in editorial perspiration.

After a while the linotype operator gets the copy. And sometimes the result of his labors is beyond recognition. One word out of place could often land the innocent writer in jail! But as a rule he does well, and as yet at least the writer has never seen the bars and stripes.

Next, after the Spectator is printed, you read it—may be. And you say, "Great!" or "Rotter!" or "Silly!" or nothing. Sometimes the Dean or the President take it upon themselves to act as newspaper men and tender some very heavy opinion. But that is what makes life thrilling. And now, the article is complete—because it will fill just about the right amount of space!

Y. M. CONFERENCE TO BE AT ESTES AGAIN

California Enthusiast Claims Los Angeles Farther From Heaven Than From Estes

Announcement has come from the national headquarters of the Y. M. C. A. that the National Students' conference will again be held at Estes Park, "America's Playground." This is a welcome announcement to those who know Estes and have attended conferences in the past.

For several years it has been the custom of the national committee to change the meeting place of the national convention. But a few years ago the first meeting was held at Estes and since that time every Y. M. worker has waited anxiously for the word from headquarters, "On to Estes."

Previous to 1925 all the religious conferences have been divided. Last year, however, the leaders decided to try a new experiment and have a joint Y. M. and Y. W. conference. It was declared to be the most successful meeting that was ever held and it was decided that at the 1926 conference the plan would be repeated.

Estes park is situated in an ideal place for a national convention because of its central location. An enthusiastic California delegate recently wrote, "A lot of you people think that park is a long ways from you. Do you know that you can get from Pittsburgh to Estes in the same amount of time that it takes to get from Los Angeles to the park? Do you realize that Los Angeles is as far from Estes as Chicago and probably much farther from heaven?"

At Estes one has all the advantages of a first rate summer resort besides the many other opportunities which the Y. W. and Y. M. conference offers. Boating, fishing, swimming, long hikes in the Colorado Rockies, beautiful sunset, are some few of the many allurements which the conference offers its delegates.

The friendships made and the associates in the conference are memories which remain with one a lifetime. Meeting students who come from all over the United States for a common purpose is the greatest inspiration one can have. The discussion groups are all led by men who are nationally and internationally known. The list of speakers last year included the names such prominent men as John R. Mott, Ben Chorrington, A. Bruce Curry, Kirby Page, and Adrian Lyon. The mental stimulus which contact with men such as these creates is an experience which is priceless.

The Kansas colleges are a factor in the success or failure of the conference because of their close proximity to Estes park. The last conference was well attended by Kansas delegates. Many students are sent by the Christian association from K. U., Manhattan, McPherson, Baker, Fairmount, Southwestern and College of Emporia.

"In some parts of Africa a man doesn't know his wife until after he has married her," said Mrs. Gabb, as she looked up from the paper she was reading.

You wouldn't keep that quarter would you?"

"Certainly not."
"That's right," said the teacher.

M. C. BASKETEERS TO MEET BARRELMAKERS

Red And White Determined To Start On Upward Climb In Kansas Conference

Thursday night the Bulldogs will meet Sterling on the local court, with a poor showing for the number of games they have played. Sterling is known for putting out strong teams in all lines of athletics and it will be a feather in the cap of the Bulldogs if they can succeed in defeating the Barrelnmaker's quintette. Coach Gardner has been working the squad harder than at any time during the season, with a determination to win some of the conference games and start the Red and White on a big upward climb, with the hope that McPherson will end the season with a creditable showing in the conference.

The Maccoeds have been busy all season, and the Canines have recently received some new paraphernalia and they promise to make a noticeable addition to the pep shown at Thursday night's game.

HALSTEAD A. C. LOSES TO McPHERSON BANKERS

Gardner and Dresse Are Outstanding Players In Classy Basketball Game

Halstead's flashy athletic club basketball team fell before the McPherson Bankers last Tuesday night to the tune of a 27-18 score. The visitors showed some good basketball, Dresse, forward, being the outstanding visitor with six field goals to his credit. Despite a noticeable lack of the usual form, the Bankers were successful in holding the visitors even in the first half of the game, and the closing minutes were a riot after the morale of the Halstead team was almost completely broken down. Gardner accomplished two-thirds of the scoring for the Bankers, with eighteen points to his credit. The game was one of the cleanest played on the home court, MacConnell of Hutchinson, refereeing.

BIBLE INSTITUTE

Flods every day and three special lectures in three evenings was his quota, and to say that he filled his quota is putting it mildly. His "Studies on Sermon of the Mountain", showed great depth of thought which, coupled with his clarity of expression, gave a definite conception of one of the greatest sermons ever preached by the great Apostle. His discussion of European conditions as he saw them as a member of the Sherwood Eddy party which toured Europe last year gave the visitors and students a clear concise view of Europe as it is today. His conclusions as to the future of the different countries which he visited, presented from the standpoint of both optimism and pessimism, were both interesting and educational. His three evening lectures upon timely subjects won him large audiences and intense interest, and instilled into his audiences a love for the Master which he represented.

The missionary feature of the program was in charge of Rev. E. H. Eby, returned missionary from India. He gave his audiences both political and religious views of India, the land of his adoption, discussing both in a way that showed that he was acquainted with his subject and that the missionary program of the Church of the Brethren and the other Christian denominations must be carried on.

Professor J. L. Hoff, one of the authorities in the Church of the Brethren upon the subject of religious education discussed religious education as it is today and as it should be in the future. He discussed the newest methods of church leadership and gave to his audiences a vision of what the future has in store.

Rev. A. C. Wileand's sermon, "The Doctrine of God" was probably the outstanding sermon of the meeting. Rev. Wileand's sermon, delivered Sunday, seemed to go to the very bottom of thought and to bring home the infinity of God in such a logical way that the devious maze of thought processes suddenly showed clear, well-defined roads.

Dr. D. W. Kurtz, in his lecture concerning the Pietistic Movement was also outstanding, as was the missionary pageant presented by the Mission Study Class Sunday night.

MORRIS MAKES LECTURE TOUR AND VISIT IN IND.

Professor C. S. Morris, head of the Mathematics department of McPherson College left last week for Indiana where he will give his popular and interesting astronomy lecture. He expects to preach and lecture at Peru, Ind. Sunday where his parents live. During the week that he spends in Indiana he will give lectures at North Manchester College, North Manchester, Ind. On his way home he will give lectures at Stet. Mo., and Sabetha, Kan.

An officer on board a battleship was drilling his men. "I want every man to lie on his back, put his legs in the air, and move them as if he were riding a bicycle," he explained. "Now begin." After a short effort one of the men stopped.

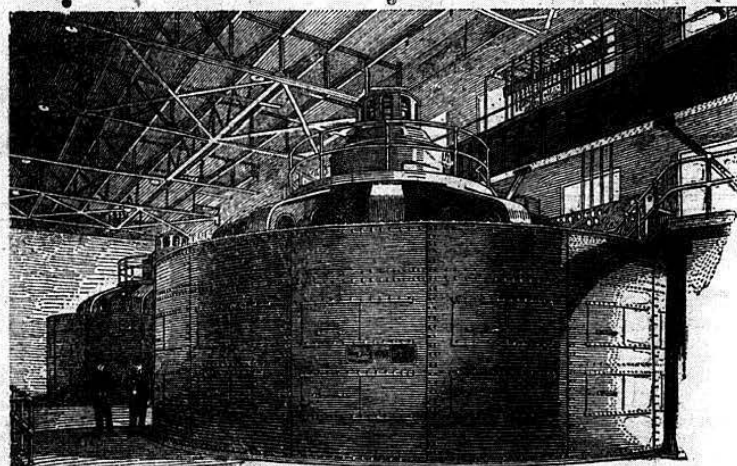

"Why have you stopped, Murphy?" asked the officer.

"If you please, sor," was the reply, "O'm coasting."—Jack o'Lantern.

This giant hydro-electric unit weighs 750 tons and consists of a vertical shaft hydraulic turbine attached to an electric generator delivering 52,000 kilowatts at 12,000 volts.

Bigger Generators—Cheaper Electricity

A 70,000 horsepower hydro-electric unit recently installed at Niagara Falls utilizes the same amount of water as seven former 5,000-horsepower units, yet does the work of fourteen such units. And it saves 700,000 tons of coal yearly for the nation.

As more and still more uses are found for electricity, larger and more economical generators are installed. At the power plant, as well as at the consumer's end, important changes and startling developments have steadily reduced the cost of electricity for light, power, and heat.

And wherever electricity has blazed its trail—in towns, cities, industrial centers, and rural communities—comfort and progress have come to stay.

Generating and distributing electricity concern the technical student. But electricity's application in the betterment of industry, the professions, and home life concerns every educated person. Cheap electricity means many startling achievements today, but countless and unbelievable possibilities tomorrow.

The General Electric Company, as of December 3, 1924, had 31,718 stockholders, of whom 45 per cent were women. The average number of common shares held by stockholders was 55. In ownership, policies, past and present activities, G-E is unselfishly dedicated to the cause of electrical progress.
