September to May

The nine months from September to May have come and gone. Those drab old school days were not really so bad after all. Guess they were about the best part of our lives. Remember how a great part of the fun came after 10:30 p. m. when night officially was supposed to begin? After going to class all day, all we have to do in the evening is to go to play practice, see games, sing in choral club, go to shows, work on debate, band practice, and then go study until breakfast time. This was the school year of 1942-43. Yes—they were grand times, weren't they?

PRESIDENT WOODFORD W. PETERS

Dr. W. W. Peters has successfully completed his second and most difficult year as college director. As an administrator he has shown ability, integrity, friendliness, and efficiency. He has in two years directed the erection of two buildings, and has kept alive the fire of achievement for the college. Dr. Peters has led a progressive movement for expansion of the college when the future of the small school has not been at all encouraging. His tireless effort has gained the admiration of all who have worked under his presidency.

McPHERSON'S PLACE IN A WAR TORN WORLD

The college annual, The Quadrangle, at McPherson is more than a yearbook with pictures and events portraying nine or ten months of college life. It is a chapter in the history of the college and makes a distinct contribution to the on-going stream of life set in motion by the organization of the college in 1887.

The faculty and students who constitute the chapter in the life of McPherson College for the year 1942-1943 are conscious of the fact that they are engaged in teaching and learning experiences at a frightfully critical time in the world's history. A struggle is being waged, the outcome of which will to a large extent determine whether or not free institutions like McPherson College shall be permitted to make their contributions to the growth and development of a free people.

At the time these few lines are being written our records show that already one hundred and fifty-three of the alumni and former students of McPherson College are engaged in some form of service for their country in defense of free institutions not alone for our country but for the countries of the entire world. To date one alumnus, Jack Oliver of McPherson, and Raymond Coppedge, a former student from Newton, Kansas, have made the supreme sacrifice.

McPherson College allows the individual to determine his attitude toward war and the type of service he shall select in harmony with his conscience. Whatever the choice, if the individual is honest, sincere and consistent, his position is respected. As a result, the morale on the campus among students and faculty, who differ widely in their attitudes toward their relationships to the war emergency, is excellent and most commendable.

This is democracy at its best and all look forward to the time when "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness" shall be for all peoples of whatever color, creed or nationality and to this end McPherson College has committed herself.

DEAN OF THE COLLEGE, DR. JOHN W. BOITNOTT

Dean Boitnott, or "Legs" as he was affectionately called in Virginia, is a stickler for tables, facts, figures, and charts. In his office as dean, he is efficiency personified, for no tangled curriculum schedule can come through it without being completely unraveled. He is a champion of high scholarship, and expects the student to be what the name implies. His easy drawl and limber manner make him an object of attraction for the freshman and senior alike. His classroom manner of draping himself over his note stand presents an interesting problem in skeletal elasticity. His ability as dean has helped to put McPherson College on the educational map.

DEAN OF MEN DEAN OF WOMEN

PROFESSOR IDA SHOCKLEY

Always willing to listen to any girl's problem, Dean of Women, Prof. Shockley, strives for the betterment of campus life through the understanding of people by employing her psychology.

Ready with a friendly "hello" and a sincere smile, Dean Shockley is a friend to all and is constantly alert to any campus difficulty.

Present at many of the social functions of the college there is never a situation that Miss Shockley does not know how to handle. She is truly modernistic in her ideas.

PROFESSOR SAMUEL M. DELL

Never is Dean of Men, Prof. Dell, too busy to talk or advise someone who is in trouble. Winning friends and their confidence is easily done by Dean Dell because of his sincerity and sympathetic attitude.

He has also devoted much of his time to the establishment of the new home of the industrial arts department, which was dedicated this year.

There is never a dull moment when Prof. Dell is around!

off guard

Professor Fisher in a jovial mood—it's probably his own jokes that amuse him. Dr. Naumann helps himself to a cookie, while Mrs. Lunkley ("Mom" to the boys in the dorm) serves him his fruit juice. Dr. Boitnott wishes a word with us concerning school work—we'd best drop into the dean's office on our way to class. Professor Hess grins at departing Bulldogs. Dr. Bitringer relaxes in a summer camp. Dr. Metzler strives to put across a weighty point—probably in philosophy class. Miss Neher makes herself useful at a reception. Proud Dr. Mohler pushes sonny along the walk to show off intellectual offspring, Coach Hayden relaxes in his office and reads the comics. Miss Lehman enjoys expounding her favorite philosophical views. Miss Staehling in her office in the gymnasium. In spite of rain, Mrs. Mohler, Gulah Hoover, and Miss Shockley laugh at the weather. Dr. Peters makes a bee-line for home and a good dinner.

ARNOLD HALL

Seldom can one see no boys in Arnold Hall. They are always streaming in and out. They don't exactly live there—but the girls do. Miss Neher has often threatened to fix up a spare room for several of the fellows who don't know when to go home.

Arnold Hall is the scene of many activities. The first thing that happens there during the day which is considered of any importance is breakfast. We rush down stairs with our hair still in curlers and our shirt tails flapping to get our toast and gravy at seven a. m. College kids are funny creatures—they'll fuss all day about the grub and then fight like wolves to get their share.

When we have nothing else to do, we can always go in the Arnold Hall parlor and find any kind of amusement—from pestering the kids in the mush parlor to beating on the piano.

SEPTEMBER DIARY

Sept. 7-9. Students pour in from all parts. The grass on the campus turns pale due to the arrival of so many green freshmen, but it regains its color as the older students come in. Osculatory processes of the students overworked. Registration begins. Faculty waxes bleary-eyed and crabby under the strain. Formal reception in gymnasium, and all do their best.

Sept. 10. First classes begin. Freshmen are still bewildered.

Sept. 11. Watermelon feed tonight. Stag-line eyes girls to see whom they'll take home. First belt line for the boys.

Sept. 13. Students meet college hill residents at an evening social at church.

Sept. 14. Students unable to find correct seats in chapel. Welcome address by Dr. Peters. All gasp at high ideals set forth by prexy.

Sept. 16. Main topic of conversation concerns nominees in the political race for Student Council President. Much controversy.

Sept. 17. Ballyhoo speeches in chapel for Student Council heads. Stucky runs over allotted time in lauding Geisert. "Finny" bops him with sacred M. Club paddle.

Sept. 18. Geisert and Peterson come out ahead in Student Council race. Rained cats and dogs all day.

Sept. 19. Editor and Bus. Mgr. of Quadrangle exhausted and relieved as last page of copy and all ads for 1st. football Bullringle are turned in.

Sept. 20. Church decorated for harvest meeting this morning. Wedding party arrives in p. m. to find stage still cluttered with fruit, vegetables, and everything but orange blossoms.

Sept. 21. New students still arriving. Student Directory out of date every half hour. Everyone freezes in chapel this a. m. Klotz squeaks out on stage in new pair of leather sandals to take charge of program. Witmore makes debut as singer.

Sept. 23. First choral club practice tonight. Fisher threatens to oust any members who do not appear.

Sept. 24. Nightshirts flap in breeze as students parade streets in the annual snake dance. First time in pool hall for many of Frosh.

Sept. 25. Football game with Midland—score 0-0. Drizzle of rain all evening.

Sept. 27. Another one of those Sundays.

Sept. 28. Taking of individual class pictures seems to be main event on campus today.

STATE REPRESENTATION AT McPHERSON COLLEGE

RECREATIONAL COUNCIL

Row two: Olga Slifer, Maurine Gish, Lenora Shoemaker, Glenn Swinger, Geraldine Hedges, Wayne Geisert, Melba Parris, Wayne Parris.
Standing: Raymond Slifer, Ronald Wine, Prof. Dell, Elvin Frantz.

The Recreational Council members attempt to create an atmosphere of fun, work, and worship. This boosts them to better living which they know awaits them.

The club meets every Monday evening for three-quarters of an hour, during which they plan parties for the present as well as the future. Various club members have helped in the recreation on the campus as well as taking charge of play night in the gym. They have prepared party pamphlets, containing a party for each month for the club members and to send to the various churches.

Last fall the council went on several hikes which also included short devotional programs. This spring plans are in the making for an overnight retreat. Other accomplishments include the teaching of the members to direct camp songs.

The officers are as follows: President, Dave Albright; Vice-President, Geraldine Hedges; Sec.-Treas., Betty Burger. Professor Dell and Miss Wanda Hoover have acted as very worthy sponsors.

The council proves that combined recreation and worship is the basis for the good life.

OCTOBER DIARY

Oct. 2. Here it is—only the second home game and we lose to Ottawa 13-0. Fine thing!

Oct. 3. Arnold Hall open house tonight. The girls provided plenty of candy in each room—on the assumption that it might help to lure the fellows in. Don't know exactly how many were there, but the residents of the most popular rooms boasted over a hundred.

Oct. 6. The Thespians initiate eight new members into their sanctuary. Both famous and notorious characters from history and fiction were acted out (in costume) by the initiates.

Oct. 8. Another initiation. Five men who wanted in M. Club bad enough to parade the campus all day in various costumes were taken in. They gave speeches in chapel, etc. Dayton Rothrock was a "wow" in a perfect imitation of Forney.

Oct. 9. The Bulldogs travel to Baldwin, Kansas, for another football game. The Baker squad just manages to scratch the game, and wins 33-0. George Devine, Orville Buckingham, and the Burton brothers decide to spend the week-end in their respective homes in Iowa. Students turn out to give them a send-off in the Burton blunderbus.

Oct. 12. After much discussion among the students over who will become football homecoming queen, Marilyn Sandy noses out in front to win the honor. Violet Bollinger and Helen Burkholder are elected from the sophomore and freshman classes to do her honor. Kathleen Brubaker, last year's queen, is to crown her. Rufus Bowman of Chicago brings a forceful message in chapel.

Oct. 14. Faculty thinks students "run around" too much during hours that they could be studying. Faculty goes on picnic.

Oct. 15. Clean-up Day on campus—rains and rains. Dr. Forney, alias, "Uncle Frank", bosses the job from underneath an umbrella. Albright and Stucky perform ballet dance in pep chapel, attired in long underwear and tights.

Oct. 19. A highlight of all chapel programs! Professor Hess Talks. Gives such witicism as "Garden of Eden attire," "Polevaulting over fences without pole."

Oct. 21. Professor Fisher lets out choral club fifteen minutes early tonight. Student body traverses the distance to church to see "Crummie" married. Champ is now the name. Editor of Quadrangle decides to knock off everything concerning school, and accompanies hubby to St. Louis.

Oct. 29. Chapel program this morning concerned with health. Prexy exhorts students to get sleep so there will be no flu epidemic. Helping him out was Dr. Heaston, the speaker.

The Bulldogs had a minus quantity of lettermen to return for the 1942 season. When the town crier blasted his call for those moleskin maulers only five returned from last and former years: Jack Kough, Walter Buller, Thayles Maupin, Walter Pauls and Melvin Mohler.

When the referee blew his whistle for the first game, the Bulldogs had a starting line-up of inexperienced material, but held the strong Midland College team from Nebraska to a scoreless tie.

The fierce Bulldogs lost their first conference contest to the Ottawa Braves. The game could have gone either way but the breaks went the other way. In the next game the Baker Wildcats' claws were much too sharp for the Bulldogs. They fell under the Orangemen's aerial attack. On the Homecoming date the Bulldogs became infuriated with defeat and the Bethel Gray Maroons fell under the Canine spell. It was a glorious finish to a glorious day. The next tilt saw the Bulldogs on the Bethany four inch line but fell by the wayside for another defeat by the Swedes on their Homecoming celebration. The following week found the McPherson Canines invading the Presbies on Emporia's Homecoming game. The Bulldogs battled to another scoreless tie.

With a bark worse than their bite, the Canines went into their last encounter with an impaired line due to late season injuries. The Kansas Wesleyan Coyotes ran the Bulldogs down, however, not without a great struggle.

There were several outstanding performers on the Bulldog squad. Jack Kough was probably the toughest and best defensive center in the conference. Jack was transformed into a center coming from the guard spot. Man-Mauler Melvin Mohler, the largest of the Bulldog flock, had an outstanding season performance. Many are the times when 200 lb. Mohler plunged through and got his man behind the line of scrimmage. Walt Buller did his own blocking, passing, kicking, and carrying the ball. He was truly a triple threat.

Clint Hill was one of the best pass-snaggers in conference business this season.

Thayles Maupin was one of the fastest backs around. It was nothing uncommon to see Maupin block out three men at one time.

The Bulldogs had Conquering Connie Burton at a guard position, his first year. Then there was Pee-Wee Buckingham, the smallest and mightiest regular in the conference. Buck got his man. There were several freshmen that look very promising.

The letter men this year included: Ends—Clint Hill, Ronald Wine, Gilbert Keim; Center—Jack Kough; Guards—Orville Buckingham, Bob Decoursey, Lauren Matson; Tackles—Melvin Mohler, Conrad Burton, Dick McRoberts; Backs—Walter Buller, Thayles Maupin, Dec Miller, Dave Albright, Leslie Rogers.

A committee which judges year books says that an annual should have local color. What they think is really none of our business, but since we're trying to get a good rating on their score sheet, we have included such candid scenes as are printed in this book. Besides being pretty good pictures, it's always nice to see your own face included, and maybe we'll get an o. k. from the students themselves.

We have spent some of our most thrilling hours watching the basketball and football teams keep on the winning column. For creating downright nervous strain, our Bulldogs can really do it. The afternoons are generally considered times for athletics. Of course, we don't have a game every afternoon, but there is always someone practicing. Coach Hayden spends his time with his dumb athletes and it is worth coming out to watch practice just to see coach work. W. A. A. sports for girls athletically minded occur in the p. m.'s, too.

NOVEMBER DIARY

Nov. 3. Juniors beat the Sophomores in interclass debate finals.

Nov. 6. "I may vomit," says the "Man Who Came to Dinner" and stayed more than three weeks. Shrieks of laughter from the audience accompany remarks to "Lady Nausea," "Blossom Girl," "a flea-bitten Cleopatra" ad infinitum.

Nov. 9. Spec representatives, Sandy and Linville, return from Chicago conference with tall tales of the "windy city."

Nov. 10. Five men to varsity debate teams. Geisert-Kough; Stucky-Hoffert and Lankley.

Nov. 11. Women's debate tryout fortunate for Ruehlen-Geisert; Burger-Nickey; with Glasier-Metzler as alternates.

Nov. 12. Fahnstock reveals unexpected talent among the six chorus girls who appear in pep chapel.

Nov. 13. Bulldogs take round end of 14-0 score in tangle with Wesleyan Coyotes.

Nov. 14. W. A. A. holds annual high school playday. Girl debaters return from Pittsburg tourney with two top rankings in women's division. Redskins take over gym for all-school frolic.

Nov. 18. All those well-groomed students really aren't on dress parade, it's just that the Quad photographer has made his appearance on the campus.

Nov. 20. M. C. finishes up in a tie for fifth place in the conference. Basketeers have begun practice. So many boys have left the campus that those who remain think Sadie Hawkins Day should come before they are any more outnumbered.

Nov. 24. Students don formal attire and attend annual formal dinner after which a joint recital is presented by Professor Kirschbaum and Professor Fisher. Oh but that Emily Post might see us now!

Nov. 28. Men's debate teams rank highest at invitational affair at Wichita.

Nov. 30. Student Volunteers return from Chicago conference—Ann Witmore with an added attraction on her third finger, left hand. M. C. is represented on the national board of the organization by Ruth Shoemaker who was elected secretary.

FISHER

The McPherson College Women's quartet has presented a variety of musical selections ranging from the lilting melodies of Victor Herbert to the inspiring Alleluia chorus by Mozart. Although an extensive tour is not regarded as pro bono publico or rather "pro bono tires and gasoline," the quartet has presented a fine type of program for formal occasions. A CAPPELLA CHOIR

Truly music hath charm. It serves as one of the most enabling experiences in which man can indulge. It lifts him to a plane higher than his usual plane of existence and makes his life richer for having known music.

Of all music, the most uplifting is A Cappella singing. It is genuine "heart music."

McPherson College is indeed fortunate in having such an organization in which its students may participate and enjoy this highest music.

The 1942-43 choir was the eleventh A Cappella Choir McPherson College has had. This year's choir was not able to give its usual formal concert, but it made appearances in chapel programs, with the larger Choral Club on several occasions and as the regular chapel choir.

Its director is Nevin Fisher, and its officers this year have been Wayne Crist, president; Merlin Frantz, vice-president; Ruth Iekes, secretary; Glenn Swinger, treasurer; Geraldine Hedges, social chairman; and Jean McNicol, publicity manager.

Among the numbers worked on and presented this year were selections from the liturgy of the Russian church, madrigals, Negro spirituals, and of course, Franz' "Dedication", the theme song of the choir.

The choir appeared in concert with the Choral Club on April 11.

those on the campus, included singing for church groups, civic clubs and other organizations, as well as deputation trips to nearby high schools and a trip to Iowa in November.

CHORAL CLUB

Active and full of pep this year was the choral club which boasted one of the largest memberships of any organization on the campus.

Outstanding among the choral activities of the year was the rendition of the fall concert held at the Church of the Brethren, and the spring performance held at the Community building. All the churches of McPherson dismissed Sunday evening services to attend this highly-advertised concert which was favorably received.

Meeting every week for one and one-half hours rehearsal, the choral club has used a variety of music both sacred and secular, by many famous composers.

Membership in the Choral Club is gained by try-outs, and includes all students who wish to sing.

Officers for the year included Conrad Burton, president; Velma Blickestaff, secretary. Prof. Nevin W. Fisher is director of the choir, and Anne Janet Allison, pianist.

'Tis seven o'clock on a Wednesday evening and Mac College has settled down to a quiet evening of work and study. Suddenly through the evening air comes the sound-snapping strain of—guess what! An instant start of surprise comes from the band room. Weekly band practice is on.

The first semester, Tom Rea was wielding the baton, peppering up enthusiasm and interest with each bar and score played over by the members, over half of whom are "freshies" who attend the practice. Alvin Klotz, a junior from Iowa, directed the band the second semester and the peppiness continued.

The band offers specialties and novelties. At practically all the pep rallies can be heard the students' favorite, "Tiger Rag." Among other favorites are the melodious playing of any piece by Harry Crabb, Sammy High, and Vincent Allison, as the trio. When Sammy dropped out, George Voth took over in his place, and again applause filled the chapel.

The band was on hand at all home games, and several out-of-town football and basketball games.

The band's first appearance was for the pajama pep parade in which the members rode in a hayrack.

Just before Tom Rea left, the band gave a wonderful chapel program, including Jean McNicol singing "God Bless America" with the band accompanying. They also included in their selections "Star Dust."

The band personnel is made up of: Cornets: George Voth, Harry Crabb, Sammy High, Vincent Allison, Richard Mohler, Lois Farver, Lillian Voth, Jean McNicol, and Lucile Harris. Clarinets: Gertrude Conner, Geraldine Hedges, Hatlan Bowman. Flutes: Sally Fox and Herbert Rouk. Baritones: David Burger, Alvin Klotz, Keith Burton, and Melvin Fager. Trombones: Gayle Tammel, Dayton Rothrock, and Abe Dirks. Percussion: Ted Washburn, Harold Keith Myers, Jean McNicol, Marilyn Sandy, Maxine Ruelien, and Dave Albright.

Standing: Ted Washburn, Harold Keith Myers, Tom Rea.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

This small group meets regularly to discuss international affairs. The year's officers are: Melvin Fager, president; Leora Dobrinski and Wayne Crist, vice-presidents; Russell Jarboe, secretary-treasurer; and Dr. Wayland, sponsor.

Standing: Wilbur Macklin, John Burkholder, Russell Jarboe, Dr. Wayland, Edwin Rodabaugh, Edward Murray, Richard Mohler, Wayne Crist.
Seated: Kurtz Ebbert, Leora Dobrinski, Virginia Bales, Mary Beth Loshbaugh, Melvin Fager.

First row: Edwin Rodabaugh, Ethmer Erisman, Roy McAuley, Glenn Swinger, Raymond Slifer, Dr. Metzler.
Row two: Wayne Parris, Leslie Rogers, Harry Reeves, Wayne Crist, Bob Mays.
Row three: Elvin Frantz, Russell Jarboe, Claude Dadisman, Conrad Burton, Melvin Fager.

STUDENT MINISTERS

Inspiration ran high in this group of loyal Christian fellows. Discussion meetings, informal outings, athletics, deputations, and a rousing men's choir added zest to a colorful year.

DECEMBER DIARY

Dec. 4. Girl tumblers perform intricate and varied stunts in keeping with a theme of "Streamlining for Victory." New name for inner sanctum of girl's dorm parlor is formally announced as the "mushroom."

Dec. 6. Kline Hall holds open house; boys learn what good cooks and house-keepers dwell there. More fellows have shaken the dust of Macampus from their feet, accompanied by weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth among the fairer sex.

Dec. 7. Screams from the direction of the gym indicate that W. A. A. initiation is underway, just imagine walking in a mess of cooked spaghetti.

Dec. 8. W.A.A.'ers have tea in the S. U. R. to get rid of the last traces of alum.

Dec. 11. Bulldogs trek to Sterling for first cage game of season and come off with victory to the tune of 43-23. Chemistry students have their usual hilarious time at the annual Chemistry Club party given by Dr. Hershey.

Dec. 12. Choral Club presents program of beautiful Christmas music.

Dec. 14. McPherson College cooperates (?) with city in trial blackout. Tsk! tsk! such naughty boys!

Dec. 17. Sterling College stages return engagement on local court, but carry off short end of 47-26 score. Phyllis Mishler takes that well-known stroll down the aisle to the strains of Lohengrin. The lucky fellow is Rodney Swanson of McPherson.

Dec. 18. Debaters go to Hutchinson Junior College tournament. B. Geisert-Hoffert team win second place. Christmas vacation begins at noon and students and faculty scatter to the four winds. Certain "Little piggies who stayed home" hope that Santa doesn't omit Kline and Fanny from his itinerary.

Dec. 29. School reconvenes after vacation. Students reluctantly dig out alarm clocks.

Dec. 30. Faculty repairs to Blue Room of Hotel Warren for formal fracas.

Dec. 31. Students greet the coming of 1943 at all-school party.

Row three: Arlene Flory, Wilma Kuns, Ann Witmore, Anne Metzler, Annette Glasier.

The Thespians Club is one of the organizations of our school which is run nearly entirely by the members themselves.

This past year they admitted into their envied ranks Maxine Ruehlen, Hillis Williams, Annette Glasier, Tom Rea, Keith Burton, Wilma Fae Kuns, Leland High, Dayton Rothrock, and Anne Metzler.

Two excellent three-act plays were produced and directed by the club members.

The first, a light comedy, "The Man Who Came To Dinner," was directed by Jean Oberst. Tom Rea played the caustic "Man."

The second semester a serious dramatic fantasy, "Outward Bound," was produced under the direction of Maxine Ruehlen. The leads were handled by the veteran Wayne Geisert and the new members Anne Metzler and Hillis Williams.

WOMEN'S AND MEN'S COUNCILS

Beginning their year's program, crammed full of new ideas and activities, the Women's Council held a friendship tea for new and old

"campus sisters" in the fall, Charm Chats throughout the year, as well as Heart Sister Week, Valentine Tea and Formal Dinner.

Back row: Jean Oberst, Anne Mae Tinkler, Marilyn Sandy, Gayle Tammel, Kathleen Brubaker, Maurine Gish, Kathryn Seltzer, Ruth Leck, Miss Shockley.

"As goes the Men's Council, so go the men of McPherson College," says Professor S. M. Dell, Dean of Men and sponsor of the council.

Most outstanding of its achievements during the past year was the sponsorship of monthly meetings of all the men of the college, making notable contributions toward unifying the resources of the college manhood.

STUDENT CHRISTIAN MOVEMENT

Standing: Dr. Metzler, Merlin Frantz, Maurine Gish, Wayne Crist, Betty Burger, Bob Mays, Raymond Stifer, Jean Oberst, Dave Albright, Maxine Kuehler, Keith Burton, Dr. Bittinger.
Seated: Lenora Shoemaker, Harold Stover, Ruth Shoemaker, Glenn Swinger, Ann Witmore, Leora Dobrinski, Harry Reeves, Luella Harris.

Composing the core of Christian influence in student relations was the Student Christian Movement, the only religious organization on the campus.

One project sponsored by the organization during the past year was a drive for contributions to the World Student Service Fund, a fund which is international in its scope in relieving student victims of war.

Another high point of the year was a trip made by sixteen students and two members of the faculty to Chicago, Illinois, where the National Student Volunteer Conference was held in November.

The S. C. M. also brought outstanding speakers to the campus such as Dr. Victor Sword, a former missionary to India and a Christian leader; Dr. Frank Fulton, a former teacher in China; and Dr. Kirby Page, a lecturer, writer, and a great contender for peace.

Realizing the need for wholesome recreation, the organization sponsored three all-school socials. In addition the cabinet held several socials and cabinet retreats. A movie was also presented to the entire student body in the late spring.

The program during the past year was under the leadership of Wayne Crist and Maurine Gish, co-chairmen of the organization, and was accomplished mainly through an eighteen-member cabinet. Dr. Burton Metzler and Dr. Desmond Bittinger exhibited kind cooperation and offered excellent advice in their capacity as faculty advisors.

College is a place for higher education and preparation for greater usefulness in the world. Our professors prepare us for greater intellectual achievement and our coach for greater physical achievement. It is the duty of the B. Y. P. D. to prepare us for greater spiritual achievement for our part in the church.

This preparation for service was directed by these officers of the Cabinet: Bill Gahn, president; Ann Witmore, vice-president; Mary Spessard, secretary-treasurer; Harry Reeves, publicity; Geraldine Hedges, chairman of social activities; Dave Albright, chorister. Dr. Metzler, professor of Religion and Philosophy, was the advisor.

As well as the Sunday evening programs for spiritual guidance, a well rounded social program is provided by the leaders of the cabinet. The annual B. Y. P. D. play is a highlight in the social program. The play given this year was excellent, being directed by Betty Burger, with Geraldine Hedges, Glenn Swinger, Keith Burton, and Bill Gahn in the major roles. The annual Christmas carolling came next with a large group participating. At Easter, early in the morning, an inspiring and beautiful sunrise service was held. The spring picnic rounded out the social program.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Once each week you can find twelve students and three faculty members meeting to discuss problems of the student body. These students are your representatives in your system of student government.

Perhaps a question is justified then as to what these representatives do. Every time you read a Spectator, look at your Quad, hear reports from your debate teams, listen to the A Cappella Choir, use the Student Union or Student Assembly Room, attend formal dinners or social events sponsored by the Council, and when you watch the Bulldogs in action, you are availing yourself of the opportunities made possible in whole or in part by the Student Council. The Student Council also takes an active part in Homecoming.

There are many duties of the Student Council. This year the Council sponsored the concerts of the Community Entertainment Association to benefit the school and community. The Student Assembly Room was completed. The Student Council distributes the Activity Fee to the different organizations and helps keep student activities running efficiently and smoothly.

The officers this year, besides Ernest Peterson, Pres., are: Wayne Geisert, Treas., Wilbur Linville, V. Pres., and Maxine Ruehlen, Secy.

JANUARY DIARY

Jan. 1. Campus is overrun with pigtailed, freckled, and missing teeth as annual Senior-Frosh kid party is held. The sidewalk leading to the library is paved with good intentions as brains buzz with New Year's resolutions.

Jan. 4. Anna Mae returns from Chicago with not only one ring but two! Tinkler replaces Nickey as suitable cognomen. Record crowd turns out for benefit game as Bulldogs take Camp Phillips Howitzers, 49-31.

Jan. 8. Bulldogs travel to Ottawa where the Braves down them in a rough and tumble game, 48-40.

Jan. 9. Cagers continue journey to C. of E. and are victorious, 60-32. McPherson campus is host to annual debate tournament. Men's team, Geisert-Kough, undefeated, emerge in top place; Ladies, Burger-Tinkler, tie for second place.

Jan. 11. A Cappella choir makes first public appearance in chapel concert.

Jan. 12. A studious quiet descends on the campus as semester tests begin.

Jan. 15. Students congregate at community auditorium to witness enthralling presentation of "Shakespeare's Heroines."

Jan. 18. Second semester officially begins. M. C. garners new students to bolster up decreased enrollment. We defeat Bethel on the court, 50-40.

Jan. 21. Students congregate at Ritz theatre as pep rally is staged between western and horror thrillers.

Jan. 22. Coyote invaders from Wesleyan win from Bulldogs, 47-36 in close and hard fought game.

Jan. 23. Hilarious time is had by all at S. C. M.-sponsored playnight.

Jan. 24. Student Volunteers present highly successful missionary play to appreciative audience.

Jan. 25. In a chapel speech Miss Hoover advises students to eat their spinach and get lots of vitamins, even if they don't like the dorm variety. Baker Wildcats defeat Bulldogs in thrilling cage battle, 45-36.

Jan. 27. Miss Staehling, phys. ed. instructor, departs from campus and Audrey Hanemann returns to her alma mater to fill the post.

Jan. 29. "Truth or Consequences" comes to the campus as "The Highwayman" comes riding straight to the "Kangaroo Court"—another stunt night comes and goes.

Jan. 30. Outing Clubbers escort dates to theatre party and entertain them in the S. U. R. afterwards.

BASKETBALL

Standing: Jack Applegate, Carl Kasey, Darwin Culver, Clinton Hill, Dick Prentice, George Voth, Arthur Schubert, Ronald Luxman, Coach Hayden.
Seated: Duane Ramsey, Jack Keuzb, Eugene Lichty, Merle Flinck, Harry Crabbe, John Burkholder, Edwin Sandahl, Donald Smith.

The McPherson College basketball fans will not soon forget the spectacular play of their cage quintet of this year. In one of the most successful seasons of many years the Bulldogs retained third place in the conference and won 9 out of the 17 games played this season.

As the season opened in the fall, Coach Hayden's only two returning lettermen, Buller and Schubert, plus Voth, Hill, and Prentice composed the Bulldog's quintet. Despite the lack of team experience, these boys played together well and won 5 out of their first 7 games. Just as the team seemed to be headed for the conference championship the Bulldog's hopes of getting that coveted crown were shaken by the fact that Buller and Prentice were called to their country's service. The vacant places in the starting line-up were filled by Culver and Smith who had been gaining experience in previous games. This quintet, supplemented by a half dozen reserves, copped a good percentage of the re-maintaining games. With a record of 6 wins and 6 losses in conference play, the Bulldogs ranked behind only Baker and Kansas Wesleyan who tied for first place.

Coach

By earning his fourth letter, Captain Art Schubert climaxed a marvelous career of college basketball which included being on the All Conference team two years. His average of 11.20 points per game plus his excellent ball-handling was of inestimable value.

Earning his first letter was George Voth, who, although a senior, played but his second year of competitive basketball. His game average was 9.33 points.

Clinton Hill, sophomore guard, played a remarkable season of basketball to earn his first letter. As a member of last year's squad he gained valuable experience but saw little varsity action.

Darwin Culver and Donald Smith, both first year lettermen, were the Bulldog's fast forwards. Culver, a junior, had been a member of Coach Hayden's squad in former years but Smith, a freshman, played his first college games.

Kasey and Applegate also earned their first letters. Both often proved their value to the team. Although not lettering, Lichty, Ramsey, Finck, and Burkholder played for the Bulldogs.

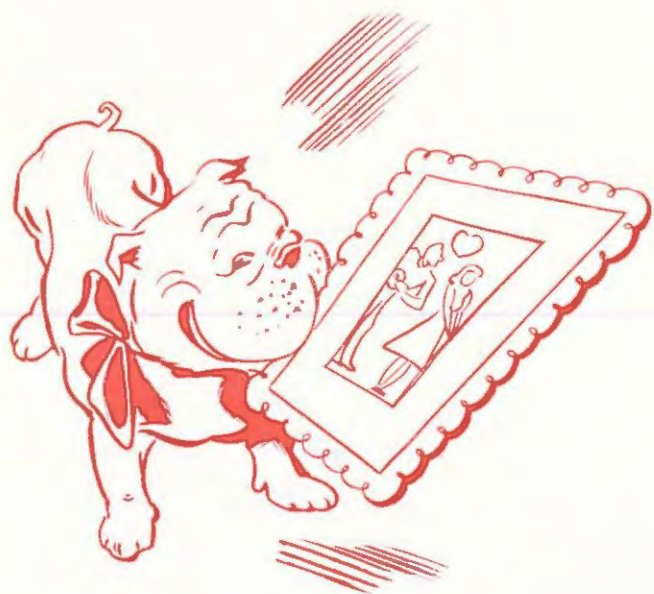

Recognition should also be given to Buller, Huxman, and Prentice who were forced to quit college during the basketball season.

Although Coach attributes little of the success of the season to his efforts, he deserves considerable credit for building his winning basketball team. Coach strongly emphasized defensive play but he also built a strong offense centered around a fast break and several floor plays, as well as excellent rebounding play.

A builder of men as well as athletes, Coach has taught his players a sense of fairness and sportsmanship that will remain throughout life.

FEBRUARY DIARY

- Feb. 2. In a last minute spurt Baker forces Bulldogs to bow, 45-41.
- Feb. 4. Bulldogs meet Ottawa Braves in wild and hard-fought battle. We are victorious, 42-41.
- Feb. 5. All-school skating party is huge success.
- Feb. 8. Rooms are cleaned and beds are made as if by magic. Gifts are whisked quickly out of sight. Heart sister week has begun and every girl is out to do her good deed daily.
- Feb. 10. Health authorities spend the day on Maccampus, imparting much useful information as part of an official "Health Education Day."
- Feb. 12. Beware all ye males! Opportunity knock but once and enthusiastic followers of Sadie Hawkins are quick to seize it. Chances of escape are slim, especially when several girls cooperate. Party is held in S. U. R. for the purpose of revealing the identity of that kind fairy heart sister. Sadie may rest her weary limbs and keep an eagle eye out for an unwary male. Fleet-footed Maccoeds put their victims on display at Sadie Hawkins party.
- Feb. 15. Students receive helpful pointers in chapel on checking up to see if we are getting our job done. Bulldog netsters bring Swedes to defeat by 46-43.
- Feb. 17. Andor Foldes, noted Hungarian pianist gives excellent performance. Bulldogs journey north to K. W. and are defeated 56-47. Willie Linville, prominent senior departs for the armed forces.
- Feb. 19. Two more students are called into their country's service.
- Feb. 20. Bulldogs face Bethel on the court and down them, 45-39.
- Feb. 21. Very successful two-day youth conference is brought to a close. Students take their best manners out of cotton wool and brush them off. Bright smiles gleam as parents and friends (and trustees) gather from far and near for Regional Conference.
- Feb. 22. McPherson cagers top C. of E. in easy victory, 56-35 before an audience largely made up of conference guests.
- Feb. 23. New industrial arts building is dedicated and open-house held. We are proud of this new addition to our campus.
- Feb. 26. Conference is over. Noted speakers and guests depart. With the withdrawal of the trustees students may once more relax and "be themselves." College quartette members, too, may rest after a strenuous week in which they put forth some mighty good music. Bulldogs again meet the Swedes and bring them to a 47-30 defeat. Thus we close a successful season in third place.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Standing: Mary Slifer, Ruth Ickes, Velma Blickenstaff, Muriel Lamle, Joan Johnson, Gene Wyckoff, Violet Bollinger, Anna Mae Tinkler, Arlene Flory Seated: Ruth Miller, Gayle Tammel, Miss Staehling, Marilyn Sandy, Lucile Harris, Lillian Fulkerson, Alta Gross.

"WE ARE ACTIVE!"

This has been the theme song of all athletes of the fairer sex in the Women's Athletic Association this year.

With the starting of school began the Fall Season, featuring hockey, outing, orchesis, tumbling, and swimming as the main activities. Violet Bollinger, Ruth Ickes, Arlene Flory, Muriel Lamle, and Mary Slifer were managers of these sports.

During this season the play day for the high schools was held with army, navy, marine, air corps, and coast guard teams.

It was also in this season that the tumblers presented their "Streamlined for Victory" tumbling demonstration. Teas, too, were held to show that athletic girls can also be quite dainty at the necessary times! Swimming was held at the YMCA down town.

Before first semester examinations hit, W. A. A. girls were entering their winter season, which afforded girls to get their "work outs" in basketball, volleyball, recreational sports and outing. New sports managers for the first three sports were Joan Johnson, Lillian Fulkerson, and Velma Blickenstaff. Tournaments comprised the activity of this short season.

It was during this season that Miss Jean Staehling, W. A. A. sponsor and women's physical director, resigned and Miss Audrey Hammann took up her new duties with the W. A. A.

Closing their athletic year with the spring season, the girls fairly made the W. A. A. room and physical education building hum with activity! New sports—coed archery, softball—were added, under the leadership of Anna Mae Tinkler and Ruth Miller. Orchestras, tumbling, and swimming were again included. The much-looked-for-to spring banquet was held with all the gaiety and frills.

All in all the W. A. A. had a grand athletic season with Marilyn Sandy, president; Lucile Harris, vice-president; Gayle Tammel, treasurer; Alta Gross, secretary; Gene Wyckoff, publicity manager, and both Miss Staehling and Miss Hammann as sponsors.

Yes, indeed—

"WE ARE ACTIVE!"

 Row six: Wilbur Linville, Kathryn McKae, Orville Buckingham, Russel Stern, Wayne Geisert, Ebert Lounsbury, Marion Steiner.
 Row seven: Alta Gross, Austin Williams, Violet Bollinger, Dean Stucky.

We're off to another Pajama Parade! At the sound of laughter an astonished audience joins in with the merriment. Hilarity, arm-tugging, flashy p. j.'s. Hip-hip-hurrah, are fond memories of our human Snake-dance.

Not only were the white sweaters prominent in the stadium, but also on the football field as the club demonstrated its marching ability.

Homecoming indicated the spirit of the club in their active participation.

All will remember poor "Olie, the Swede" and how we mourned at his funeral and cremation! What a hot affair!

Hats off to Gladys Brust, Arlene Flory and Herbert Ronk for their enthusiasm as cheerleaders! Who can forget our Pep Chapels and all the gaiety! Yea, Bulldogs!

Loyal support was given by members to their officers: Austin Williams, pres.; Alta Gross, vice-pres.; and Evelyn Wilson, sec'-treas.

"M" CLUB

Remember of going out on a dark Halloween night and returning without any pennies? Maybe, the "ghosts" slipped them away from you when you weren't looking.

It's quite an experience watching football games while eating "hot dogs" and yelling "Bulldogs" at the same time. As you can plainly see, the "Bulldogs" make mince meat of any "hot dogs."

Standing: Leslie Rogers, Jack Kough, Bob Mays, Darwin Culver, Merlin Frantz, Ted Washburn, Merle Finfrick.

Seated: Thales Maupin, Harry Reeves, Coach Hayden, Arthur Schubert, Dayton Rothrock.

New members not pictured: Dave Albright, Conrad Burton, Dick McRoberts, Clinton Hill, Loren Mason, Orville Buckingham, Donald Smith, George Voth, Jack Applegate, Cary Kasey.

McPherson College requires that these men, be men of "wisdom" as well as men of "action." Quality is emphasized in our school. The men share activity in all phases of social and scholastic life.

The "War Council" of the Ottawa Braves prevented paddles from drawing blood from our new initiated members. Pliers were nearly as effective. It has been said, "You can't get blood from a turnip." Do you suppose they were turnips or just dead beets?

From now on, the seniors will be sporting a bright red, all wool, "M" Club blanket. Four of these blankets were presented this year.

The club has felt a fine school spirit among the student body and wish to say they have appreciated each and everyone's support.

Heading the club were Art Schubert, president; Harry Reeves, secretary-treasurer; with Thomas Hayden, sponsor.

DEBATE

Row one: Dayton Rothrock, Dr. Bittinger, Anne Meizler, Annette Glaser, Kathleen Brubaker, Ernest Peterson.

"Ladies and gentlemen, thus far throughout the debate our worthy opponents . . ." With nimble wits and eloquent tongues McPherson College debaters again this year set sail on a sea of verbal conquests.

Men varsity debaters, Jack Kough, Wayne Geisert, Charles Lunkley and Dean Stucky, tied one another for first place in the state meet at Sterling. Kough and Geisert won first place at the tournament here at McPherson and tied for first at Friends University, Wichita.

Early in the season, Maxine Ruchlen and Blanche Geisert and Betty Burger and Anna Mae Tinkler won first and second prizes, respectively, at Pittsburg.

Blanche Geisert and Joseph Hoffert received a second rating at Hutchinson Jr. College. Eight varsity men and women debaters with Prof. Maurice A. Hess and Prof. J. H. Fries attended the provincial Pi Kappa Delta tournament at Kearney, Nebraska. Here McPherson received outstanding honors in both the men's and women's divisions. Teams composed of Maxine Ruchlen and Blanche Geisert and Wayne Geisert and Jack Kough won first in the A brackets of both the women's and men's tourneys. Prof. Hess, earnest advocate of debate for many years, was chosen as Governor of the Province of the Plains for the next two years.

Officers of Kansas Omicron Chapter of P. K. D. are: Ernest Peterson, pres.; Wayne Geisert, vice-pres.; Maxine Ruchlen, sec'-treas.; Kathleen Brubaker, corr. sec'.

Dr. Desmond W. Bittinger, debate coach is to be congratulated for a successful debate season.

Second row: Blanche Geisert, Anna Mae Tinkler.

Third row: Betty Burger, Maxine Ruchlen.

MARCH DIARY

Mar. 2. Five more fellows turn from college to don uniforms. "If this keeps up where will it all end?" wail the girls.

Mar. 3. In a non-conference tilt to close the season, netsters bow to a 59-43 defeat from Hays.

Mar. 5. Folk games take spotlight at all-school playnight planned by Miss Hammann and Coach Hayden.

Mar. 7. Debaters go to Sterling in state debate tourney and carry off the usual high honors. Men's teams composed of Geisert-Kough and Stucky-Lunkley tie with each other in state championship. Women's team Ruchlen and Geisert are in tie for second place.

Mar. 11. New hairdos spring up all over the campus like the first flowers of spring as result of last night's charm chat on hair styling and care.

Mar. 12. Students don glad rags and congregate in S. U. R. for annual formal party. It seems that we can and do look and act civilized sometimes, even though certain pranks might lead one to think otherwise.

Mar. 17. Sure and it looks almost like freshman days with all the wearin' o' the green. W. A. A. celebrates St. Patrick's Day by giving a tea for all old and new members.

Mar. 19. High standards set last fall are again realized as the Thespian Club gives it's second major performance of the year to an appreciative but sometimes mystified audience. "Outward Bound" with its Cockney maid, society lady, hard-headed business man et cetera, will remain in the memory of MacCollege for many a day. The ninth week of this semester is completed. Grade cards and renewed resolutions make their appearance simultaneously. May the new polish on the old resolutions keep its brilliance. Success to you all, and so to press!

The activities of the Chemistry Club for this year have consisted, for the most part, of regular bi-weekly meetings. High-lights of these meetings have been demonstrations and reports by advanced students, reports by Dr. Hershey, who is permanent president, sound pictures of special interest to the members, and talks by outside lecturers.

The annual trip to Hutchinson could not be undertaken this year because of the difficulty in arranging transportation. In previous years this trip has been a much looked-for occasion. It usually includes a visit to the state Boy's School and tours through various industrial plants, mills, and factories of special interest to the Chemistry Club. This event has been in previous years the climax to the club's activities for the year.

Officers for this year include Leland Akers, vice-president; Dorothy Gail Barrett, secretary; Arlene Flory, program chairman; James Nagely, reporter; and Harold Keith Meyers and Gayle Tanniel, social committee.

WHO'S WHO

JEAN McNICOL

MAXINE RUEHLEN

ARTHUR SCHUBERT

MAURINE GISH

JEAN McNICOL

Jean McNicol establishes her claim to Who's Who by her prominence in nearly all phases of Macampus life. A member of the women's quartette and the A Cappella Choir, a clever dramatist, member of the student council, Jean has made an outstanding three-year record.

MAXINE RUEHLEN

Maxine Ruehlen gains recognition from Who's Who for her high scholastic record and for her contributions to student life through the office of co-editor of the Spectator. A clever student of drama, a varsity debater, she has also been active in student government and the social life of the campus.

ARTHUR SCHUBERT

Arthur Schubert, popular letterman and president of the "M" Club, gains recognition in Who's Who for his contributions towards bettering the athletic relations of his alma mater. He has served as a member of the Men's Council for two years and has furthered greatly the well-being of his fellow students.

MAURINE GISH

Maurine Gish, quiet, unassuming in her ways, nevertheless plays an important role in shaping Macollege student life as a member of the Student Christian Movement cabinet; thus Who's Who recognizes her. Her cheerful smile and pleasant greeting have done much to create felicity in campus associations.

ANNE JANET ALLISON

WAYNE CRIST

MARILYNN SANDY

● ANNE JANET ALLISON Anne Janet Allison is recognized by Who's Who for her great contribution to McPherson College through her outstanding ability in the field of music. She has increased an appreciation for the fine arts on the campus. A pianist of repute, she has become an inspiration of skill and mastery of interpretation.

● WAYNE CRIST Wayne Crist as co-president of the Student Christian Movement, strengthens the spiritual life of students on Macampus. Thus, Who's Who recognizes him. All sections of student life have felt his influence. Combining leadership and Christian living, he has guided others to finer living.

● WAYNE GEISERT Wayne Geisert, widely known for his gifted tongue in bringing debate honors to McPherson College, for his interest in forensic programs, and in student affairs, serves as treasurer of the student council. Who's Who recognizes him, also, for his efforts to make harmonious the student life of his alma mater in all respects.

● MARILYNN SANDY Marilyn Sandy, attractive, good-natured Macoe, plays an important role in shaping McPherson women's activities as president of Women's Athletic Association. This year she was football homecoming queen. She has also made contributions to student life through the office of co-editor of the Spectator.

HARRY REEVES

HARRY REEVES

In 1941 Chester Nordling set a strong pace by winning the individual Conference trophy. He and Harry Reeves, Max Brunton and Delbert Brunton, won the team championship.

This year the team was minus the services of Nordling. In spite of his absence, the team won the championship by default. Harry won second. Max and Delbert won 3rd and 4th respectively.

There will be no golf team this year.

Led by the captain, Dick Burger, the 1942 track team opened with five lettermen reporting and a number of promising candidates. The team, noted for individual performance rather than strong team strength, was made up of 13 speedsters.

In the first encounter of the season, at Wesleyan, the Bulldogs placed second behind the Coyotes, and ahead of Bethany.

In a quadrangle meet at Bethel, the Bulldogs placed second, the meet being decided by the outcome of the last event. Jack Vetter was high point man for the day with three firsts while Burger scored two firsts.

Two relay teams were taken to Ottawa on May 1 for the annual Ottawa Relays. Three relay events, the mile, and discus events were entered. The Canines had 14 points to their credit at the close of the evening.

A weakened Mac team finished in the runnerup spot again at Bethel in a triangle meet.

At the Conference meet May 14, Dick Burger starred in his speciality, the two mile, by finishing far ahead of the field. Jack Vetter placed third in the discus and Bob Mays third in the mile. Baker won the conference title, McPherson finishing fourth, lacking the team strength to rate higher.

Coach Hayden lettered ten men: Dick Burger, Leslie Rogers, Bob Mays, Jack Vetter, Albert Miller, Walter Buller, Merle Finrock, Dayton Rothrock, Edgar Lingel and Milo Unruh. Darwin Culver, Lawrence Hill, and Dave Albright were also out for the sport.

Standing: Wilbur Lintville and Wayne Geisert, co-business managers; Austin Williams, managing editor; James Nagley, campus editor; Merle Finfrack, sports editor.

THE SPECTATOR - - - once a week

The Spectator this year has enjoyed one of its most successful years as the college news organ. The first semester the paper was edited under Maxine Ruehlen and Marilyn Sandy, and the second semester under Austin Williams. The co-business managers, Wilbur Lintville and Wayne Geisert, worked together until "Willie" was called to the Air Corps in February. Since that time Wayne has carried on with the able help of Keith Burton and Vurille Howard, his two assistants.

first semester, was called from school, and that left an open position on the staff. This was filled by Blanche Geisert, the campus editorship going to Anne Metzler. Merle Finfrack has served as sports editor during the entire year.

"Spec's" success this year is due to the whole-hearted cooperation of the entire staff of reporters and special writers, and the business men of McPherson, without whose help the publishing of the paper would not have been possible.

DEAR STUDENTS:

The Quadrangle for 1943 has attempted not to glorify the past as historians have done or to foretell the future as prophets, but to glorify the present, to honor today's heroes, and to present a realistic cross-section of college life. This is the object of this year's Quad. We hope that in achieving this end we have not too much disappointed those who expect a year book to be cold and formal.

The Quad is sectioned into months of the school year and all the activities occurring during the year portrayed therein. September comes first, of course, and we follow the "freshies" and other classes through to the latter part of May, when, at such a time, everyone thinks of going home and of what the summer will bring.

The Quad is sectioned into months of the school year and all the activities occurring during the year portrayed therein. September comes first, of course, and we follow the "freshies" and other classes through to the latter part of May, when, at such a time, everyone thinks of going home and of what the summer will bring.

We have had much grief and fun in making this Quad a reality for you. Due to the war situation, the ed. getting married, students dropping from school, etc., this is only natural, but we hope that it is the kind of a book you like and will treasure. This is our wish as editor and business manager.

Good luck, kids,
Isabel and Russell.

"THE HOME OF VALUES"

Your Patronage Greatly Appreciated

to the people of McPherson and it's rural population to give them uninterrupted electrical service for power and light at the lowest rates.

Today it is more important than ever that the people own their own electrical plant.
