Beginning ... that's what each of us are doing — beginning to live. As we go through every year, we begin anew — in new places, doing new things, meeting new people, taking new subjects, perhaps under new professors. We have new experiences every day, some of which may change our lives drastically, most of which won't. But each new experience has some effect on our lives, and no matter how small the effect may be, we still begin anew in some way. A yearbook can't begin to capture all these experiences and happenings, but it does try to recreate for all members of the college community memories which will be of value, making us all remember at least a small part of our new lives ...

The Howdy Days Picnic and Sadie Hawkins weekend served as icebreaking events as they awakened old friendships and brought new personalities together. Change in tradition was marked when the Juniors and Seniors were allowed to join the Sophomores in their annual contest of tug-of-war against the Frosh. After technical difficulties interrupted the contest when the rope broke several times the Freshmen were proclaimed the winners. At the end of these days it was generally agreed that the excitement in 1971-1972 had "only just begun."

dogpatch daze stuns campus

For one weekend the tables were turned and the women pursued the men as the Sadie Hawkins festivities commenced. A hillbilly style buffet was served from crockery at the evening meal which was highlighted by ham, rabbit, and Grandpa's white lightning, that turned out to be apple cider. The hayride in the moonlight for the gals and their chosen guys provided more romantic moments. Next on the agenda was an afternoon of revelry at the Dogpatch Olympics that featured the pie eating contest, the dunking booth, the tug-of-war, and other activities too numerous to mention. The unexpected appearance of "Marryin' Sam" at the tape dance sent many men scurrying for cover. Thus ended a weekend of new horizons shared and traces of kaleidoscope memories, sure to be treasured in years to come.

Being elected the 1971 Homecoming Queen was a "Magic Moment" for Lenice Steinmetz, a junior from Holcomb, Kansas. Queen Lenice's court was complemented by Sophomore Attendant Jane Juhnke from Moundridge, Kansas, and Freshman Attendant Mariel Matile from Madison, Kansas. After a ride around the football field in convertibles, the court was presented to the crowd and reigned there until the victory over Southwestern College was completed.

Homecoming served as a melting pot where alumni and students met on common grounds and an air of nostalgia reigned. The coronation ceremony was followed by a pep rally 'round the bonfire. Throughout the week a feeling of underrunning excitement vibrated across campus as the college community readied floats and dance decorations for the big day. On Saturday, floats, bicycles, and banners combined to make the parade a success. The Bulldog victory over the Southwestern College Moundbuilders added to the ascending frivolity. McPherson College Players' production of the Neil Simon comedy BAREFOOT IN THE PARK, was well received. Murals of Disney characters and a garden with a working fountain assisted in creating the mood for the Homecoming dance theme "Magic Moments." The dance both climaxed and brought to an end a most enjoyable weekend.

Throughout the first semester there was a variety of campus activities to keep the students busy and assist them in getting acquainted. The Howdy Days Picnic brought the townspeople and students together for an afternoon of food, relaxation, and fun. Another highlight of the semester was the Freshman Talent Show. Various musical and comedy routines were combined to produce an enjoyable evening of entertainment. Many Thursday mornings were spent viewing a variety of convocation programs which were designed to enhance the students' knowledge on a wide range of subjects. If there were no all-campus activities on the agenda, the students could count on the dorm "mischief", which is as much part of campus life as wearing tennis shoes with holes in them or playing Frisbee on the front lawn, to keep them occupied.

Earlier in the week, the students nominated girls for Sweetheart Queen. Those who came to the dance had the final vote. Mary Krehbiel, escorted by Dennis Engbrecht, was crowned by John Hurley. Her court was Debbie Munson and her escort Jim Ulrich.

For nearly thirty years, McPherson College has participated in "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges". Senior students were nominated by faculty and administration on the basis of scholarship, leadership, participation in extracurricular and academic activities, service to the school, and promise of future usefulness in business and to their society. Nominations for "Who's Who" are limited to a quota set up on the basis of enrollment. Members of the faculty selected the following students, Phil Stover, Debbie Strahm, Mark Heidebrecht, Jerry Shrock, Janet Rolander, Ann Herbst, Leanna Povilaitis, and Bruce Johnson to represent McPherson College.

Mac's 1971 Cross-Country team ended another great season, placing first in both the conference meet and the Southwestern Invitational. The team finished fifth in the District 10 competition enabling them to compete in the Nationals at Liberty, Mo. Team captain Ivan Torres paced McPherson by smashing the course record set by him in 1970.

There was a large turn out of enthusiastic track men during their successful 1970 track season. Victories at the Blue Jay, Ottawa, and ACCK Invitationals were proof of the team's competence as they placed first in all three meets. In the over all Conference the Bulldog track men captured third place. Phil Stover broke the school record in the mile, Mark Lynch in the hammer-throw, and Ray Craft tied the record in the 100-yard dash.

Playing in eleven meets, the McPherson College golf team had an active and successful season.

energetic team holds promise

Track 1972 promised to be the best McPherson had had in the last four years. Three returning record holders plus an abundance of new and young talent contributed to their success.

D. Ray Craft is one of three record holders of the hundred-yard dash in McPherson's history. Jim Ulrich, Jim Anewalt, and Hector Morales, all potential record-breakers, also returned. The 440-yard dash was run by John Miller. The half-mile and mile was run by Phil Stover, Ivan Torres, Bob Rosales and Augie Hirt. Gary Arthaud who is the school record holder in the two-mile, three-mile, and 3000-yard steeple-chase again tried to break his old records. The 120-yard high hurdles were run by Michael Parks and Tom Cope, who also ran the 440-yard intermediate hurdles. Also back was Mark Lynch, hammer record holder.

gridiron season ends in glory

Despite a fifth place finish with three victories and five defeats in the Kansas Conference, the McPherson Bulldogs were strong in statistical standings. McPherson gained a total of 2353 offensive yards compared to their opponent's average of 2207 offensive yards. After losing the first six games of the season the Bulldogs handed the Southwestern Moundbuilders a 25-17 defeat to the tune of cheers from an enthusiastic Homecoming crowd. Friends University put the Bulldogs temporarily back in the losers column, but Mac bounded back with hard-hitting determination to finish the season with victory over Bethel and Tabor. Coach Sid Smith returned this year as McPherson's head coach. Senior Bruce Johnson was chosen for the 1971 All Conference Defensive team. Because there were so many lower classmen on the varsity team this year it is forecast that the Bulldogs will have a strong ball team returning for the 1972-73 school year.

Working with the varsity cheerleaders to boost the Bulldog spirit during the 1971 football season was a new addition—the pom pom squad. The eight members practiced routines to be performed at home games to the music of the McPherson College Pep Band.

Junior varsity cheerleaders lent their support beginning with the Homecoming game. The five member squad consisted of Phyllis Chapman, Jurnetta Posey, Beverly Dibble, Flory McFadden, and Sherry Anderson. During the basketball season they backed the team by cheering at the junior varsity games.

Yell-leaders, Steve Quakenbush and Rick Tyler, accompanied the women this year. Their presence elevated school spirit.

new team members demonstrate skill

Coached by Don Widrig and student coach Dennis Feagler, the McPherson Bulldogs never really seemed to get going. They dropped the first two conference games and then came back and took the next two. After that it was a downhill slide. There were, however, some fastmoving and eventful games, such as the one at Bethel College which the Bulldogs took in a back and forth scoring contest. The Bulldogs came out on top when Roger Trimmell sunk a shot in the remaining few seconds of the game, leaving the score 102-100. In this game, Don Cameron led the scoring with a total of thirty-three points. Cameron was the leading Bulldog scorer for the 1971-72 season.

full schedule for women athletes

Anticipating an active year for women's sports, McPherson became members of the Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women. AIAW has provided direction and leadership for the various programs that the McPherson women have participated in this year.

During the months of September and October, McPherson women could be seen out on the tennis courts nearly every day. The ten member team had a winning season, gaining a victory in five of the eight scheduled matches.

In December, tryouts and practice began for the women's basketball team. McPherson women found themselves in a league with Kansas Wesleyan, Tahor College, Sterling College, and Hays. The eight member team also faced Kansas State and Kansas University during their season.

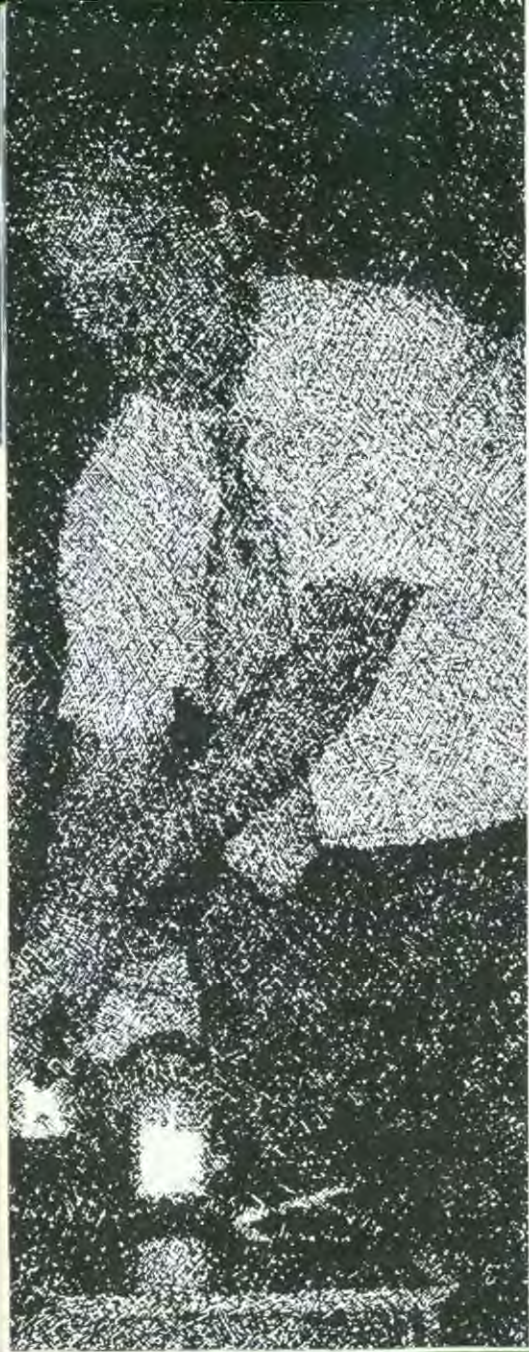

The Women's Athletic Association provided a powder puff football game where the freshmen defeated the upperclassmen, during the fall, a volleyball season, and various individual and recreational sports.

college experiences help persons live

"Change is occurring more rapidly today than at any time in our history. Thus, we need to change by design rather than by default.

"A college education should provide learning experiences for gathering pertinent facts, evaluating, planning, and stabilizing the direction of a person in a changing world.

"It is imperative that we must learn to LIVE IN COMMUNITY. Learning experiences in college can help persons to live together in community."

These words of J. Jack Melhorn epitomize his last year as president of McPherson College.

Merlin L. Frantz, Dean of Academic Affairs, developed new educational programs such as actuarial science, social welfare, and health services in response to student interest.

Milton M. Goering, Dean of Student Affairs, dealt with the nonacademic aspects of student life such as housing, food service, and counseling. He was assisted by Steve Tuttle, Dean of Men, who also directed Student Union activities and was assistant instructor of psychology.

James Tomlinson took the new post of Campus Minister. Aside from his help with student activities, he filled a real need of students and faculty for a counselor and go-between.

Accurate records of all students' academic work were kept by E. Dean Reynolds, Registrar, who took an active role in making the new term schedules available. He acted as chairman of the Admissions Committee and served on the Educational Policies Committee.

As Director of Development, Gerald Holman was in charge of the Advancement Office, which is concerned with fund raising, student recruiting, alumni, church relations, and publicity.

Paul Wagoner, as Director of Alumni and Church Affairs, planned six class reunions in addition to Homecoming and the Alumni Banquet. Alumni carried out a telethon over the country this spring to raise a goal of $40,000.

R. Gordon Yoder, assisted by Paul Sherfy, took care of the bills, property, payroll, income, student accounts, and the many other financial aspects of McPherson College. As a member of the Trustee Board, Mr. Yoder was elected college treasurer.

Jess Cooper, Director of Financial Aids, determined the recipients of scholarships, grants, loans and employment according to student need.

admissions works across continent

Raymond Elbert, as Director of Admissions during first semester, was in charge of recruiting students from all over the country. Kent Beckwith, Admissions Counselor, worked first semester recruiting students on the East coast. Dennis Heisey, Assistant Director of Admissions, contacted and counseled prospective students from Colorado to the East Coast but predominantly those from the Midwest. Admissions Counselor, Grant Wheatley, operating from his home in Colorado, reached students in New Mexico, Arizona, and Colorado.

Dick Smalley, Director of Publicity and Promotion, was editor of the ALUMNI BULLETIN, prepared Mae Action, a radio program, and Community Window, a television show, wrote news releases, and generally kept McPherson College before the public. He also worked as Sports Information Director and handled publicity photography.

drama major renewed

Norma Tucker, new to the Department of English, Speech, and Theatre, joined Bob Green to change the traditional freshman English classes. In Modern Communications Media freshmen prepared their own programs for television and radio after learning about printing, journalism, cinema, television, magazines, and newspaper. Mrs. Tucker was also the faculty adviser for the SPECTATOR and QUADRANGLE. Because of a large student interest, a Speech-Theatre major was renewed under the direction of Una Yoder. Ann Shalaby, assistant professor in English, was on leave this year. Harley Stump continued as head of the department.

The Education Department, headed by Dayton Rothrock, developed a personalized laboratory program. It includes new courses and new experiences for students, an Inter-Cultural Education program, Human Relations job, and field experience. William Hobbs and Monroe Hughbanks were also faculty in this department.

facilities expanded

The Department of Foreign Languages offered students a chance for individualized projects in German, Russian, and Chinese this year. Language Day was a success due to the help of students, faculty men and Dames, a group of faculty wives and women faculty members.

John Getman leaves McPherson College this year to take a new position. His new assignment is for Brethren Colleges Abroad as director in Barcelona, Spain. Jan van Asselt, head of the department, is also leaving next year with his family for two years in Germany. Corinne Hughbanks taught Spanish again after a years' leave of absence.

A five thousand dollar grant was given to the library by the Kellogg Foundation for books, and audio-visual material on the subject of Environmental Studies to be used over a period of three years. History of the College and the Church of the Brethren in this area as well as some local history was added to the library's archives. Virginia Harris, Rowena Olsen, and Herbert Johnson made up the library staff.

An Environmental major was developed this year by the Biology Department. Seminars in environmental science were planned. Many biology students studied marine biology for Interterm. Another group studied radio ecology and did field work in Kansas and Colorado. The students had laboratory analysis experience with radioactive elements in the environment. In June the Department is sponsoring a three week wilderness experience in the mountains of Colorado. Gilford Ikenberry, chairman, and John Burkholder made up the faculty of the Biology Department.

Wesley DeCoursey headed the Chemistry Department. Les Fraley returned after a three-year leave of absence to the Physics Department.

Mathematics was taught by Jesse Krehbiel, department head, Arnold Wedel, and Mrs. Larry Kitzel. The Department acquired a monroe desktop computer for all to use.

Under Raymond Flory, chairman of the History Department and Leland Lengel, professor of history and political science, History of the American South was offered for the first time this year.

Independent study in religion and music, Christian Education, religious radio broadcasting, and religion in public education was carried out during Interterm in the Philosophy and Religion Department. Dale Goldsmith, chairman, took a group in January to Mexico to study Mexican religions.

James Baxter acted as head of the Sociology Department. Assisting him were J. Jack Melhorn and Lyall Sherred. Simulation Games was a new course this year. There was a dig for those interested in the field of archeology. An active Sociology Club took tours, viewed films, and listened and talked to interesting people in the field.

Paul Van Dyke worked with the various ACCK Psychology Departments to develop a cooperative curriculum for psychology majors.

Paul Sollenberger, Associate Professor of Music, headed the Music Department. Other faculty were Janello Morgan, Assistant Professor of Music; Larry Kitzel, Instructor in Music and Director of Bands; Delores Axelson, Instructor in Voice; and Doris Coppock, Director of Choir. There were sixteen music majors this year, and sixty-five students took private music lessons.

Art in Action, taught by Mary Ann Robinson, was a new course where students did art projects beneficial to the community - such as window trimming, commercial signs, and classes for children. Also new was Art and Society where the art from various cultures was studied.

The Physical Education Department continued its program with Doris Coppock as chairman. Other members were Sidney Smith, Arthur Ray, and Donald Widrig.

Improving the laundry room and planting flowers on Dotzour's front lawn were two of Jim and Judy Lunkley's projects. Mabel Markham still enjoys being dorm mother for Bittinger Hall after her sixth year. The dorm purchased a pool table for the vacant third floor.

Lila Kolbe was student resident director of Kline Hall. Fahnestock followed suit this year as they changed from having a dorm mother to student resident directors. Roy Rowland was resident director first semester with Gary Vancil as an assistant. When Roy got married at Christmas time, Gary became resident director and David Mason was selected to be the assistant.

The McPherson College Band gave two major concerts. Tri-College Band, students from Bethel, Tabor, and McPherson, performed for all three schools and traveled on tour to Oklahoma City.

Nine students from McPherson College were chosen to play in the Newton Mid-Kansas Orchestra. Another musical group which drew active student participation was the Mac Pep Band which prompted enthusiasm at the football and basketball games, and represented the college by marching in the Homecoming Parade. The college faculty were also found tooting among the festivities.

The University of McPherson at Kansas Plastic Band provided its own form of half-time entertainment at the Homecoming football game.

Other musical groups, including the Brass Quartet, the Trombone Quartet and the Woodwind Ensemble contributed a musical note for the Church of the Brethren services. The Brass Choir caroled the spirit of Christmas in downtown McPherson, and for a variety of groups and churches. Miss Morgan gave a solo piano recital, demonstrating her talent as a teacher and performer.

And so we end, but only a fraction of our lives, to begin a new phase which will contain excitement in every second of it. Experience unlimited. We have so many roads to choose that each new step is like learning to walk and run all over again. And so we continue, working and sharing together day by day with so much of life ahead of us that the horizons seem infinite. Someday each of us will find that place where we will have room to grow and we will begin anew.

Always beginning, never ending —

Carol Flory
