Campus Improves During Summer

Several improvements have been made on the college campus since last spring. The most obvious of these is the construction of the new heating plant. The old one was torn down this summer, and the new one is in the process of construction northeast of Arnold Hall.

The Warren house, one block west of the college, is undergoing extensive repairs and remodeling. Two of the upstairs rooms have been papered and the floors covered with asphalt tile. The front entrance and porch are being altered, also.

Miss Lehman's classroom was painted this summer and now glows in pastel colors.

Repairs were made on circle drive, making it safer and better driving. A tree was removed from the parking lot north of Fahnestock Hall.

An exhaust fan was installed in the kitchen to carry away the heat and cooking odors.

In addition to these improvements, a general clean-up and fix-up program was carried on.

Automatic Washer Dryer Authorized

The purchase of two automatic washers and one dryer for the use of the students has been authorized by the local board of trustees. They are to be installed in the new heating plant when that structure is finished.

According to the board the dryer will be of the gas type and will greatly facilitate the drying of clothes, especially during cold weather.

All three machines will be the coin meter type.

Burkholder One Of 3 Fellowships

Three Nebraskans, Theodore S. Oppenheim, 1008, Forest avenue, Crete, John H. Burkholder, Octavia, and Buddy R. Guest, Republican City, have been awarded fellowships to the University of Chicago, Chancellor Robert M. Hutchins announced today.

Oppenheim, Burkholder, and Guest were three of the 215 students from 34 states and 11 foreign countries selected for the graduate study awards, part of the university's $750,000 annual program of aid for outstanding students.

Oppenheim was awarded a $1,000 university fellowship to the divinity school. A graduate of two colleges and a teacher at three others, he will be a candidate for a doctor of philosophy degree at the university. Oppenheim received his bachelor's degree from Union College in 1930, his bachelor of divinity degree from Yale in 1935, and his master's degree from the University of Colorado in 1946. He has served on the faculties of Jaffna College, Ceylon, and Doane College.

Burkholder's award was a $525 graduate teachers scholarship in the department of physiology. He graduated from McPherson college this year.

Guest was awarded a $450 Rollin D. Sallsbury Memorial fellowship in geography. He received his bachelor's degree from Nebraska Wesleyan University in 1942, served in the European theater during the war, and took his master's degree at the University of Nebraska in 1947.

Three Students Represent Iran

This year McPherson College has on its campus three students from Teheran, Iran: Ali Mohit, Nasser Yazde, and Reza Mofarrah. All three men are pre-medical students who plan to study in the United States for several years in order to obtain their M.D. degrees.

The first to arrive on the campus was Ali Mohit who has been in McPherson since early summer. He first became acquainted with the college through an American missionary. After deciding to come to the United States, he flew from Teheran to New York in three days, then spent three days on the bus during the last part of his trip. He likes the United States because this country is interested in Iran.

Nasser Yazde first arrived in the United States four months ago. He went to summer school at Southwestern College in Winfield, but decided to join Ali at McPherson.

From Alexandria to New York, Nasser spent twenty-two days on a ship, upon arriving in New York Nasser took a train to Kansas. He thinks the people of the United States are kind and willing to help strangers.

Reza Mofarrah has been traveling over the United States for the past six months. He spent some time sight seeing from New York to California. He had planned to enter Southwestern this fall but decided to stay at McPherson after visiting Ali and Nasser. He too, thinks the United States is a friendly country.

Prof. D. R. Frederick announced last Tuesday evening the personnel for the college choirs and quartettes for this year.

Zeller Accepts Pastorate Here

Rev. Henry K. Zeller, Jr. has accepted the pastorate of the McPherson Church of the Brethren. Rev. Zeller is the present pastor of the Elgin Church of the Brethren, where he has been for the past seven or eight years.

Rev. and Mrs. Zeller and their three small children will begin their work in the McPherson Church soon after January 1, 1950. Their children are Marie Ann, 8, Norman 7, and Richard 5. Graduating from Bridgewater College in 1936, Rev. Zeller then attended a Seminary at Richmond, Virginia for two years. He received his degree from Bethany Seminary in Chicago, Illinois.

After receiving his degree from Bethany, Rev. Zeller was pastor of the Indianapolis Church of the Brethren, followed by his present position in Elgin.

Rev. Zeller was born and reared in Hagerstown, Maryland. He and his wife have as their hobby woodwork. They make many of their children's toys.

Orientation Takes Precedence Over All

The Freshmen Orientation program has long been an established practice in higher educational institutions. On Macampus, orientation is as familiar to Freshmen as graduation is to the Seniors.

The Freshmen Orientation program is organized by the personnel committee and approved by the faculty. The purpose of such a program is to acquaint the student leader with college life.

Before he enters college, each prospective student is supplied with material from either the Men's or the Women's Council, the student hand-book, and the Growl.

English psychological, personality, and library tests, as well as several others, are administered during the first six weeks of school. Along with the tests, lectures, and talks, are given and conferences are held for the benefit of the students. The tests are extremely taxing at the time they are taken but they seldom cause permanent weariness. The most popular test, if it can be called such, has been the Library Test administered by Miss Harris.

The social aspects of orientation are highlighted by the Women's Council Tea for all women when the "Big sisters" take their "little sisters" and introduce them to all other new students and the faculty, and the supper for Freshmen men which is sponsored by the Men's Council.

Two periods each week are being set aside through October 12 which are exclusively orientation periods. It is imperative that all freshmen SHOULD BE PRESENT AT ORIENTATION PERIOD EVERY TIME THIS TAKES PRECEDENCE OVER ALL OTHER PROGRAMS.

Copies of the play may be obtained in the Library. Aspirants should pick their own part to read for the tryouts.

If interested students cannot try out at the scheduled time they should see professor McAuley or Miss Lehman to arrange for an appointment.

Welcome To Opportunity And Responsibility

This September finds many students returning to the activities and studies that college campuses all over the country have to offer. Some students, of course, are being exposed to this rather vigorous way of life for the first time, but many other hardened, well-seasoned students are returning, too!

We want to extend a hearty welcome to all the freshmen and to all the new students. We sincerely hope that their first year at Mac will be successful and enjoyable.

As one becomes more acquainted with the ways of Mac College, he realizes that, even in spite of the faults which this college has along with other colleges, there is something unique and highly desirable in the social atmosphere—something that is lacking on many other campuses.

This something is the Christian way of life that is represented in various degrees and to which a person cannot help but be exposed during his stay at Mac.

With this opportunity that we have to learn about the Christian way of life goes a certain responsibility. In philosophy we learn that a person's responsibility is measured by his opportunity to know and learn. The more we have the opportunity to know, the more responsible we should become. Likewise, the more we have the opportunity to know about the Christian life, the greater is our responsibility to live like a Christian.

We have learned, or have had the opportunity to learn, that to live a full and meaningful life and to inherit salvation we must accept Christ and follow his teachings.

Following Christ's teachings is where our responsibility as Christian students comes into focus. We must not only accept Christianity on an intellectual plane, but we must follow its principles.

Because we have the opportunity to know the Christian way of life, our responsibility to follow this way is far greater than those who have not had this opportunity.

We can follow the Christian way by constantly improving ourselves and consequently becoming better Christians, and by promoting God's kingdom by helping others to do the same. This is the purpose of our Church and our College.

In welcoming the freshmen and the rest of the student body to Mac, we welcome you to this opportunity and to this responsibility.

If we take advantage of this opportunity and meet this responsibility, great things will be accomplished at Mac this year.

Constructive, Worthwhile Work Urged By Peters

I accept it as an honor to be asked by Editor Doty to address the readers of the first Spectator for the academic year 1949-1950.

Greetings and best wishes to all of you and may all of you have a good year.

As you probably know, this is the 62nd year in the life and growth of McPherson College. This year, as you also no doubt have learned, is my ninth and last year as President. May I appeal to all of you to make this an outstanding year of constructive and most worthwhile work. I do this out of respect for my successor who will become your President next July 1.

Since 1940 the college has become increasingly stronger in reference to its relationship to the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. This is vitally important for the future welfare of the college. The administration, faculty, and trustees pledge themselves to continue to strengthen the college both academically and materially.

McPherson College attempts to provide a liberal arts education in a Christian atmosphere to the end of producing intelligent men and women with high ethical character. A college can do no better than its faculty, its objectives, its administrative policies, and its educational program.

The purpose of Christian education is to develop in each learner the knowledge, interests, ideals, habits, and powers whereby he will find his place and use it to shape himself and society toward nobler ends.

The contributing cause for much of our social, spiritual, and economic distress is the disproportionate emphasis placed upon the material values of education.

Humanity waits for a generation that is intelligent enough, wise enough, courageous enough, and ethical enough to cooperate for the greatest good to the greatest number.

Humanity waits for a generation that will bridge the gap between knowledge and wisdom, between theory and practice, between analysis and synthesis, between materialism and idealism, and between morality and religion.

A few fundamentals I recommend to the students in particular but of equal worth to all of us are the following:

1. It takes little intelligence to gripe and to find fault.
2. How much better it would be to get satisfaction from talking about and promoting the good in folks rather than the irregular and bad.
3. Before passing judgment on people, be certain we know we have sufficient evidence based upon facts.
4. The true measures of worth are intelligence, character, and industriousness.
5. Respect for property as well as of persons is a mark of greatness.
6. All of our problems must be solved within the realm of our human limitations, but it is amazing how much better we could be if we put forth the effort.
7. The highest duty of man is to glorify God in all the areas of living.
8. One's intellectual and spiritual nature can motivate, direct, and control his animal tendencies.
9. One is never educated but is always in the process of being educated.
10. To get pleasure out of the torture and discomfort of others is a low and undesirable type of pleasure. "Love thy neighbor as thyself."

Brammell Visits McPherson Alumni

It was my privilege during August to make a semi-official trip into the Northwestern part of the United States. Enroute I made short calls on a number of our alumni and enjoyed the visits immensely. Quite a number were away from home when I called, and it gave me a feeling that I had missed something of value by being unable to meet them.

The following items refer to alumni whom we met while on the trip:

George W. Burgin, '20, at Garden City, Kansas, was our first stop. Although retired, Rev. Burgin is quite active in Church work. He was mailing a marriage license to the Probate Judge when I arrived at his home.

Mrs. Alva Kuns, '22, formerly Letha Heckman, was entertaining company, but graciously visited with me.

At Wiley, Colorado, Mrs. Edith Lambie, '17, mother of Muriel Lambie, gave me valuable information for the alumni files. Muriel, '44, was in school at Greeley, preparing for her job at McPherson College.

We found Vernon Rhoades, '33, at Rocky Ford, Colorado, busy in the Stauffer Packing Co. It was interesting to see a packing house with an expert like "Dusty" as a guide. And the roll of lunch ham, compliments of the Packing Company, certainly hit the spot.

At Rocky Ford we called briefly at the modern hardware store of J. W. Tracy, '22. His wife, the former Margaret Bish, also an alumna, was not at the store, but their charming daughter visited with me until Jay arrived. Here we bought a knife to slice the meat we had recently acquired.

A few miles west of Rocky Ford, we called at the Leslie Garber home. Mrs. Garber, formerly Rose Miller, '24, and her husband raise many turkeys. A wind and rain storm killed fifteen hundred of them, but they still had over four thousand left.

At Pueblo it was my pleasure to meet our alumni trustee, Roy Frantz, '29. Roy serves on the school board and is a booster for scouting. We failed to meet his wife, the former Ethel May Metzker, '27.

Irvin Rump, '31, still looks the part of an athlete. It always thrills me to hear stories from the boys who represented M. C. on the athletic field.

At Colorado Springs Mrs. Marion Porter '49, showed us a real spirit of hospitality. We appreciate the visit with her and also her help in finding comfortable lodging for the night. Mrs. Porter will be remembered as Esther Sherry.

Enroute to Denver I stopped to visit with Rev. '27, and Mrs. '27, H. C. Long. Rev. Long was in a Denver hospital, but Mrs. Long greeted us and sent us on our way with a pound of choice Colorado honey.

At Littleton are two more alumni; Carl '24, and Grace Ebaugh, '24. Schneider. Carl was away, but Grace and the children were royal entertainers during the half-hour I spent in their home. Oliver Austin, '15, and his wife Hazel, '20, asked more questions in thirty minutes than any people I met. It was inspiring to be

Cheer Leader Competition Is Stiff This Year

Well, here we are back at old Mac College and things are really buzzing. There are lots of good looking freshmen and freshmen women roaming around and competition is really rough. From the looks of things, we really have some Joe's and gals with plenty of pep. Just imagine, twelve candidates for cheerleader. Yes, competition is rough.

Leading the girls into the cheer-leading showdown is Eula Broyles, followed by Mary Ann Bishop, Phyllis Bowman, Linda Norris, Betty Ann Murray and Vera Hummer. Looks like we're going to have a lot of fellows out rooting for our teams. I can see it now, lots of shouting, whistling and howling. Oh yes! We'll also have some cheering.

Not only do we have lovely girls out for cheerleading, just look at the men. We have Charles Royer, Dale Oltman, Jim Garvey, Joe Grim, Ken Kinzie and Al Zankel. We'll not only have all our girls at the games but some of the competitors women may be attracted too.

Yes, competition is really keen but I'm sure we'll come up with the best cheerleading in the country and even if we're not the largest school in the world, we'll be one of the loudest and win-in-st!

—Bill Moore

in their home. Although not well, yet Oliver retains his million-dollar sense of humor.

Jay Eller, '25, filled the pulpit at Wenatchee, Washington, the Sunday we worshipped there. We had a refreshing visit with Jay and his family one afternoon.

Simon Neher, '21, at Wenatchee, had just returned from Elgin and informed me that Rev. Harry Zeller would be the new pastor at McPherson. "Si" let five acres of choice ripe apricots fall to the ground and then dissect them under because the price was so low it would have been unprofitable to pick them.

A visit to a cannery in Emmett, Idaho, gave an excellent opportunity to see corn in the process of canning. LeRoy Doty, '23, part owner of the cannery, made an excellent guide for us. He announced that the board of directors voted to send forty or fifty cases of canned goods as a gift to McPherson College.

Rev. Arthur Baldwin, '39, is pastor of the Fruitland, Idaho, church. Hearing him in the pulpit was a pleasure.

At Fruitland we found free board and room at the home of my brother-in-law and sister, Earl, '23, and Iva Fisher. Officiating at the wedding of my niece, Rowena Fisher, and Harold Snavely climaxed the trip west.

Space forbids mentioning all alumni with whom I visited, but my heart leaps to find so many whose love for the school has not diminished with the passing of years.

It was love at first sight. They met in a little restaurant, over dessert. He looked up from a piece of pie, and gave her the eye. Then she looked up from a piece of pie, and gave him the eye. So there they sat both pie-eyed. Oh, well.

Advice to potential journalists: Keep your ear to the ground if you want material for feature stories. In fact, keep it there long enough and you'll BE material for features!

So they asked the little girl if she had a fairy godmother, and she said, "No, but there's an uncle we're not too sure of."

Prof. Hess Tells Faculty North Central Standards

Approximately once a month a faculty meeting is devoted to the study of school problems. The first meeting of this year will be Friday morning, September 23, when the faculty will hear Prof. Maurice Hess discuss the history, standards, and other factors which determine membership in the North Central Association, North Central is the accrediting agency for schools in this area.

It takes a baby about two years to learn to talk and between 60 and 75 years to learn to keep his mouth shut.

A rather stout lady stepped on the scales, not knowing they were out of order. The indicator flashed around to 75 pounds and stopped. A genial gentleman just stepping out of a nearby tavern, watched the whole proceeding with amazement. "My gosh," he gasped, "she's hollow."

Students of McPherson College were given one half-day vacation Friday afternoon, September 16. The College Social Committee sponsored an all school picnic at Kanopolis Dam.

The group of students, faculty, and friends left the campus at 1:30 p. m. and returned approximately at 8:00 p. m.

Recreation included nature hikes, ball games, boating, and various games.

A supper of baked beans, potato salad, and hot dogs was served at 5:00 p. m. This was followed by group singing.

Women's Council Tea Given For All Girls

The Student Union Room was the scene of the annual Women's Council Tea, Friday, September 9, from 4:00 to 5:30 p. m.

Miss Marie Miller, president of Women's Council; Dr. Mary Fee, dean of women; Mrs. Burton Metzler, and Mrs. W. W. Peters formed a receiving line to welcome all the upperclasswomen and their little sisters. Refreshments consisted of lime sherbet with punch, cookies, mints, and nuts. Mrs. Gordon Yoder and Mrs. Roy McCauley were hostesses.

Freshman Talent Show Precedes Melon Feed

Wednesday, September 7, was the date of the annual freshman talent night and watermelon feed. David Brammell, as master of ceremonies, announced the talent show program. First a piano trio, Rowan Keim, Marilee Grove, and Elaine Wine, played "March" by Streabhog. Phyllis Bowman gave a reading "Relations." "Ask Anyone Who Knows" was the title of the vocal solo performed by Helen Kesler accompanied by Betty Ann Murrey. Frank Hanagarne played "Sentimental Journey." All Mohit presented a violin solo. "Casey Coffins" was the theme of a radio skit given by Marlin Walters and Howard Mehlinger. A "Female" sextet composed of Dick Wagoner, Frank Hanagarne, Bob Bechtel, Ross Stinnette, Eugene Neff and Don West and accompanied by Elaine Wine sang "I Don't Wanna Play in Your Yard."

The watermelon feed was immediately following on the north side of Harny Hall. The S. C. A. was in charge of the feed. The M Club cooperated by cutting the melons.

Supper For Freshman Men Held In Dog House

The traditional supper for the freshman men was held September 8, in the Dog House. This supper is sponsored by the Men's Council and offers to the men the opportunity of becoming acquainted with each other and with the faculty men.

The menu was composed of: hot dogs, potato salad, carrots and celery, ice cream, and iced tea. The members of the Men's Council are Harry Heckethorn, John Firestone, and Bill Daggett.

Annual Freshman Party Held In Gym

7:30 on September 6th found the freshmen assembled in the gym for the annual freshman party that had been planned for them by Mr. Wareham and committee in charge.

The first procedure was the removal of shoes by all the freshmen. This was followed by a get acquainted game led by Miss Lamie, who then directed the group out to the football field where a more strenuous type of running game followed.

In a snake line the freshmen were led in windows and out windows, up fire escapes of the different buildings on the campus, until the line ended up in the Dog House where refreshments of donuts and milk were waiting to be served to the Initiates.

Church Reception Given For All College Students

Sunday evening at 6:30 the College Church entertained all McPherson College students at a reception in the church basement.

The Social Committee of the church served a lunch at the reception.

Mr. Paul Sherry, chairman of the Deacon Board, was the presiding master of ceremonies. Mr. C. H. Drescher spoke for the church in welcoming the students.

There was group singing with prof. Don Frederick as the leader. Mrs. Winston Goering, a former student of McPherson College, sang two solos. A stant, Prof. S. M. Dell in charge, was another number on the program.

Juniors and Seniors Take English Proficiency Test

Junior-Senior English proficiency tests were given Friday morning at 8 in the college chapel.

This test is required of all juniors and of the seniors who have not yet passed the test.

The test is given once each semester. Students who do not pass the test the first time are allowed to take it a second time the next semester. If they do not pass the test the second time, they are enrolled in English.

Administration of the test was under the supervision of Miss Della Lehman and the English faculty.

"Friday Is The Day," Warns Miss Harris

"Friday is the day," warns Miss Virginia Harris, librarian.

All books checked from the McPherson College Library are due on Fridays this year because of a new system for checking out books.

Miss Harris explains that students have had much difficulty in the past in remembering the day on which their books are due. Under the new plan all books checked from the library during the first week of school will be due September 23. Books checked out September 10-16 will be due Sept. 30.

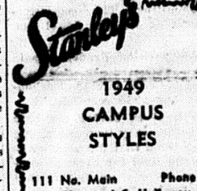

Two other minor changes have been made in the rules. Magazines and pamphlets may be checked out for two weeks the same as books. Books and other materials may be renewed only once this year.

Freshman Impressions Of McPherson College

Lloyd Hummer, a freshman who comes from Perryton, Texas, says that Mac doesn't compare with Texas, but it's okay! He gets along with the three in a room arrangement that has been initiated in the Men's dorm, but according to him it gets kinda loud sometimes. (Editor's note: we wish to stress that this is only at times and not always!) The cafeteria is okay, according to Dick, but rather expensive.

Dick Wagoner, another freshman, comes from Adel, Iowa, and brings with him the idea that Iowa is God's country. Dick thinks that the three in a room arrangement will pass, but it's not so good. The girls are all right, he says, but the town is dry at times!

Ann Carpenter, a freshman co-ed from that whirling city of Las Vegas, Nevada, likes Mac very well. Of course, it's very much different from Las Vegas, but we're getting that way! Ann thinks the fellows are pretty good, and pretty friendly, she guesses. She also thinks the girls are real nice. Ann is expecting a dorm raid anytime now. After going here to Mac for a year or two she plans to go to Reno University to finish up her schooling.

Annual Faculty Reception Welcomes Student Body

The annual formal faculty reception was held Friday, September 9, at 8:00 p. m. in the gym.

Professors Hess and Frederick were in charge of the program which opened with a welcome from Dr. W. W. Peters. A quartette composed of Professors Frederick, Flueterer, Hoshberger, and Shelly accompanied by Miss Anne Krebbel, sang "Brother, Sing On" by Grieg and "Americana", a medley of folk tunes. Professor Roy McCauley gave some humorous advice to freshmen in particular and all students in general.

The final number was a cornet solo, "Russian Phantasy," by Gene Bechtel accompanied by Eunice Benston.

Refreshments of punch, cookies, mints, and nuts were served. Those on the refreshment committee were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Shelly, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Kiene, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Keim, Miss Helen Howe, and Miss Minnie Mugler.

Fred Cheatwood comes from Canton, Kansas, and can rightly be called a Jay-hawker. Fred is pretty well satisfied with things as they are. He likes Mac all right and he likes the girls better yet, and he thinks the professors are the best yet. Fred is planning on going to Mac for two years.

Fraternities Face Charge In Attack

Middlebury, Vt., — (I.P.) — "Fraternities will be compelled in the next few years to prove that they can make a significant contribution toward college educational purposes," commented W. Storrs Lee, Dean of Men at Middlebury College, after reviewing decisions of the thirty-ninth annual National Interfraternity Conference, held recently in New York City and attended by over 500 Deans and fraternity representatives.

"Pot shots are being taken at fraternities from all angles," he continued. "They are on the defensive in many colleges, and despite the militant attitude of the National Interfraternity Conference in insisting that fraternities have the right to discriminate as much as they wish in the selection of members, consideration is being given on many campuses to the banning of fraternities with discrimination as the motive."

Dean Lee does not question the "right" of fraternities to limit membership on the basis of physical infirmities, race, religion, and political conviction, but he maintains that it is a narrow approach to a far-reaching problem.

"The college can not exist for one purpose," said Dean Lee, "and the fraternity within the college, for another purpose. One of the objectives of higher education is to bridge differences of religion, politics, and creed—to bring an understanding among men of varying beliefs and backgrounds, so that they may live together with a degree of amenability."

Hardacre Expresses Optimism For '49 Season

Only nine returning lettermen, a 14-game losing streak, and a coach's prediction for better times open the 1949 football season for the McPherson College Bulldogs. If that statement seems a bit ambiguous it apparently does not daunt head coach Forrest C. (Frosty) Hardacre who believes his second squad at MC should improve steadily over 1948's eight-game loser.

There may be reason for the optimism. Despite the return of only nine lettermen, the Bulldogs should field one of the heaviest crews in the history of the school with seven men nudging the Toledo at 200 pounds or more. Moreover, the potential of 14 newcomers on the 49-man squad indicates that the Bulldogs may be holding their own by mid-season.

Perhaps tops among the new material are Joe Pate, 200 pound transfer from Independence Junior College, and Bill Seidel, freshman end from Rock Falls. Bill Pate was an all-state selection for Juco tackle last year. Both are probable starters.

Senior Vernon Blickenstaff, a letterman in '46 and '47, paired with Seidel as starting wingman as the Bulldogs opened their campaign Saturday night at Portales, N. M., against Eastern New Mexico State Teachers.

On the opposite side of Pate's right tackle slot will be letterman Harry Heckethorn and between them will be Don Stevens, 185, and Carrol Tillman, back for his fourth season as a Bulldog regular, as guards and Vic Tedesco, 201 pound ex-GI at center.

Tedesco has been experiencing offensive troubles, and if he fails to make the grade the stout Stevens may shift to center. Heckethorn take over his 1948 position at guard, and Galen Webb, another '48 monogram winner will put his 190 pounds at left tackle.

Four veterans have the inside track for the backfield—John Colyn, Gene Arnold, Ron Sullivan, and Glen Pyle. Arnold will be at tailback in Hardacre's single wing offense.

Hardacre mixed the single wing with the T-formation last year, but at present plans to go along with the former plus a few plays from the short punt. As tailback Arnold will carry the passing and punting load, but Hardacre is grooming Chuck Petefish, 168-pound sophomore from Cedar Rapids, Ia., as an understudy. Already a capable punter, Petefish has picked up the aerial chores quickly. Line Coach Voshell

"Frosty" Hardacre

Also strengthening the 1949 outlook is Laverne (Tony) Voshell, MC '40, the new line coach. Voshell held the same position in 1946 under T. C. Hayden, and was instrumental in the success of that season's team.

The Bulldogs received a temporary shot in the arm when another remnant of the '46 team, Kenny McBroom, returned to school, but the ex-seatback ace was declared ineligible on scholastic grounds.

W.A.A. Elects New Club Heads

The W. A. A. met Tuesday morning and elected new club heads for this season. They are bowling, Pat Paterson; tennis, Esther Mohler; outing, Margaret Daggert; skating, Jeanne Baldwin. It was also decided to buy a Streamer Steamer to warm the weiners and buns at the ball games.

Coach Hits At Pros On Gridiron

The following is an Associated Press release:

A move to sever football relations with colleges where there is "professionalism" in athletics was launched Wednesday by a group of alumni of William Jewell college.

J. E. (Pat) Bradshaw, director of athletics and head football coach, touched off the move Tuesday night in a talk before a group of 50 former students.

"It's time the college returned to the level where the boys play for fun instead of a living," he said. "I have investigated most of the colleges which we play this season and there are five of them that won't be on our schedule next year if they don't learn a little ethics and clean up professionalism in their athletics." Bradshaw did not name the schools.

Colleges on the schedule this season are: Simpson college, St. Benedict's, College of Emporia, Tarkio, Culver-Stockton, Ouchita, Baker, Ottawa, Missouri Valley and Central of Fayette, Mo.

The alumni group endorsed Bradshaw's stand and adopted a resolution calling it to the attention of the national alumni executive committee. The committee will meet at William Jewell Oct. 21.

Of his position Bradshaw said "anyone interested can watch the changes between our 1949 schedule and our 1950 schedule."

"I'm tired of having my boys know before they trot out of the dressing room that the team waiting on the field for them is composed of 30 or more players that are professionals," he said.

Bethany Rates Kansas Conference Pre-Season Acclaim By Coaches

The pre-season merry-go-round in the Kansas Conference has started. The three favorites have already pushed the accolade off to another contender.

Wally Forsberg, who won 17 of 18 conference games in three years at Ottawa, has taken over the helm at Kansas Wesleyan University, and he has handed the crown to Ray Hahn's senior-laden Bethany Swedes. Hahn in turn strings with the defending champions, the Ottawa Braves, Ray Peters, upped from assistant coach, at the eastern school believes the conference crown will follow his old boss, Forsberg, to KWU.

Coach F. C. Hardacre of McPherson College strings along with Forsberg in picking Bethany as champion. So by force of numbers the unwanted tag of pre-season favorite must go to Bethany. There is plenty of reasoning behind this fact, too. Nineteen lettermen and 33 other squadmen from last season's second-placers return to push Hahn's job. Eight of the lettermen were starters on the Swedes' great '46 champions back for their final collegiate fling.

Topping the list are three all-conference selections—end Larry Bale, tackle Bill Engstrom, and fullback Jack Tetenburg. Tetenburg is that rarity of rarities, a fullback who can do something besides plunge. A deceptive runner once he's in the secondary, 210 pound Jack is also a whiz on Hahn's patented optional pass-or-run end sweep. Most of the passages, however, will probably be done by sophomore Bill Carlson.

There's no paucity of lettermen at Kansas Wesleyan. Twenty-two monogram winning Coyotes have greeted Forsberg at Salina. Heading the cast are all-Kansas Conference stars center Bob Wagner, guard Les Jilka, and halfback Ole Smith. Strictly a single wing team under Virgil Baer, the Coyotes will mix that offense with Forsberg's T-formation behind an unbalanced line.

Karl Spear also has 22 lettermen at Baker University. The list includes eight backs. However the fact that Spear substitutes so frequently undoubtedly makes that a bit bloated.

C. of E. McPherson, and Bethel will probably fight it out to escape the cellar. Murray Brown of the Presbies has lost Eddie Muhada, all-conference guard from Hawaii. Murray Fretz, new head man at Bethel, has only ten lettermen returning. Among the missing is Lanoy Loganbill, great freshman end who transferred to Kansas State.

Bethany opened their season last Friday at Marshall, Mo., against super-tough Missouri Valley. Wesleyan opened a night later against Ft. Hays Teachers. The rest of the schools open this week: Baker at Southwestern, Bethel at Friends, and Ottawa at Central (Mo.) College. C. of E. will entertain Maryville (Mo.) Teachers.
