Nasser Heeds Advice Of Father For Ideals

By Rowan Keim

"Please, my boy, study hard, become a doctor, then you can rest.

"Examine your friends, try to understand them, make sure they are honest and are not trying to cheat you out of your money or keep you from studying or doing your best work by pretending to show kindness to you.

"Always tell the truth."

This three-point advice was given to Nasser Yazdy by his father before "Ned" left his home in Iran to study medicine in the United States.

"The Iranian people always try to tell the truth," Ned said in discussing the third point. If a person is not truthful, he will be punished, just as a thief is punished for stealing. Ned's ideal in life is to be truthful, to have an honest character.

Ned came to the United States for the same reason that Reza and Ali did, to take medical training and become a doctor.

Yazdy is interested in this profession because, he says, "I want to understand why I am like this; why I have eyes. I want to understand science; why wars come; I want to know the answers to those problems. I try to solve them; therefore, I come to the United States and take a scientific subject."

Ned's uncle in Iran is one of the best surgeons in that country; and his brother-in-law, who is a Doctor of Physics at the University of Tehran, is also one of the best in Iran.

"I like the United States because the people are kind; and, also, the teachers are kind. When I took a summer course at Winfield, Kansas, the teachers helped me very much and also when I came to McPherson. For example, I am ashamed because all the time I ask Dr. Heisey questions (in Chemistry), but he does not become angry, he is glad; all the time he comes and helps me. All the teachers are the same."

Although studying is Ned's primary occupation, he enjoys dancing. Tap dancing is his specialty.

He has had no lessons in tap dancing but has taught himself by watching it in the movies and then practicing the same steps by himself.

When his medical training is completed, in about eight years, Ned plans to return to his own country to serve his people. He wants to help others.

That is another characteristic of the Iranian people, according to Ned. "All the Iranian peoples like foreign people, and all their neighbor countries. In every respect we help other people, the Iranian peoples are kind and want to help others."

Ned likes our college and our country because the people try to help him. "Day by day I like the United States better," Ned said, "because I understand the character of the people. I will be glad if, when I return to Iran, I can take back the good characteristics of the people in the United States."

Students, Faculty Welcome Alumni

"Time marches on." Again it is my happy privilege as President of McPherson College to extend in this formal way a cordial and urgent invitation to alumni and friends of "our college" to attend and to enjoy the Homecoming events planned for this week. The above invitation is accompanied by a sincere and hearty welcome on the part of both students and faculty.

We shall be looking for you and pledge our best efforts to make you feel at home on "your campus."

The buildings, offices, and classrooms are available for you to visit. Your college is at your service.

3 New Trustees Elected To Board

Three new men have been elected to positions of trustees for McPherson College. These are: Martin Stine of Adel, Iowa; Mark W. Emswiler of Froid, Montana; and Ira Milton Hoover of Plattsburg, Mo.

Stine was elected by the district of Middle Iowa and replaces W. E. Ickes, of Dallas Center, Iowa. Emswiler and Hoover were elected by the District of Northern Dakota and Eastern Montana and the District of Northern Missouri, respectively.

Hoover and Emswiler are former alumni of McPherson College with Emswiler graduating in '46 and Hoover in '39.

Sorry, Wrong Car; Girl Makes Mistake

Tony Quick, who works at Crab's Town and Country, came out to the campus to pick up Winston Georing to go duck hunting last Monday morning at 5 a.m.

However, Tony got mixed up as to which building was Kline Hall, where Winston lives, and he stopped behind Arnold Hall and honked his horn.

Immediately, a young lady came running out of Arnold toward the car. Upon seeing her mistake, she started running back toward the dorm; but Tony asked her where Kline Hall was and she pointed north and mumbled something unintelligible as she disappeared into Arnold.

The boys did not have such good luck hunting. Winston shot something that was too small or old or something, Tony, not being a student, did not know the girl.

K-State Holds Civil Rights Conference And Workshop

A Civil Rights conference and workshop was held at Kansas State University last Saturday, October 22. The main topic of discussion in the different groups that met to discuss the problem of civil rights was the value of having a community audit that would cover such things as housing, recreation, employment, education, etc.

In the afternoon Gordon Jones from Wichita, who is a member of the governors commission to investigate discrimination in employment in Kansas, spoke to the entire group which was assembled in the main auditorium. According to Jones everyone was good until they were proven bad, and the problem was namely to sensitize the people of Kansas to the problem of civil rights and they would see to it that it would be taken care of properly.

It was his belief that negotiation with employers was the only way to correct the existing evils instead of trying to force legislation on the matter.

Attending the conference was Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Peters, Sarah Mae Williams, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Doty, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Waggoner, and Mary Spessard.

"What Makes a College a Home" was the subject of Prof. Roy McAuley's speech at the Homecoming Queen's Dinner last evening in the College Church basement.

Students Clean-Up For Homecoming

On Thursday morning at 10:25 all classes were let out for a general clean-up campaign to prepare the campus for the Homecoming festivities of today.

Credit must go to the freshmen for cleaning up the area Northwest of the gymnasium, and to the sophomores for cleaning up the grounds south from the gymnasium to Gordon St. The Juniors tidied up the area south from the tennis courts, and the seniors did their bit east of Kline Hall and south from Frantz Industrial Arts building.

The faculty should receive some credit for dismissing and allowing this work to go on.

Rabbi Hershfield To Visit Campus

Rabbi Nathan Hershfield of Kansas City, Missouri, will speak on the Jewish religion in chapel on Monday, November 7. He will also visit the classes in religion.

Tonight at 8 p. m., Miss Lois Yoder, junior from Pampa, Texas, the students' choice for Homecoming Queen, will be crowned before the opening kickoff of the McPherson-Bethel game.

Lois's loyalty to McPherson is part of her family heritage. Her grandfather, Dr. Edward Frantz, is a former president of McPherson College. Another grandfather, Dr. J. J. Yoder, has served McPherson College as trustee for many years and was business manager of the college in its early days.

During her three years at McPherson Lois has played in the orchestra and has been a member of Women's Council, Student Council, and SGA besides being active in Barkerettes and WAA. Before her election as queen, the WAA has had her on a committee to make the crown for the Homecoming Queen.

Verlia Hummer, a petite blond, is the sophomore attendant to the queen. Coming to McPherson from Booker, Texas, Verlia has been active in such activities as W. A. A., Barkerettes, and S. C. A. This year she is treasurer of the sophomore class.

A vivacious brunette from Rocky Ford, Colorado, Maxine Gonzales has been chosen freshman attendant to the Queen. Maxine has begun her college activities by joining W. A. A.

Bonnie Alexander, 1948 homecoming queen, will crown Miss Yoder during the coronation ceremonies.

Long Live Mac Homecoming!

Homecoming has become an annual tradition in most of our American colleges and universities. A study in alumni achievement reveals that more than ninety percent of our colleges have homecomings. Eighty percent of the homecomings are held in the fall.

McPherson College has featured Homecoming during the football season except during the war years when football was temporarily discontinued.

Music events, plays, barbecues, pep meetings, group dinners, dances, games between alumni and undergraduates, interclass contests, informal receptions, radio programs, etc., represent the usual special events scheduled during Homecoming.

Homecoming Cooperation

This year the college Administration, the Student Council, the faculty, the Athletic Department, and the Alumni Association have cooperated to provide an interesting Homecoming.

Tuesday evening after football practice the local lettermen fed the football squad in the gymnasium.

Thursday at 10:25 a veritable army of students and faculty members reported to their previously designated places, and today the campus is beautiful as a result of the "clean up" sponsored by the Student Council.

Thursday evening one of the social highlights of the year occurred in the Church banquet hall when a special dinner was held in honor of the Homecoming Queen, Miss Lois Yoder, and her attendants, Miss Verla Hummer and Miss Maxine Gonzales.

Following the Religious Emphasis service at the Church Thursday evening the traditional bonfire and pep rally was held west of the gymnasium.

The Alumni Chapel this morning, the "M" Club luncheon at noon today, the parade at 4:00, the Homecoming Dinner at 6:00, and the crowning of the queen just before kickoff time are all designed to build up pressure for the big football game at 8:00.

Intangible Values of Homecoming

The greatest values of Homecomings are not such tangible values as who was elected queen, how many attended the special dinners, the success of the parade, or even who scored the winning touchdown.

Values of more intrinsic worth are those resulting from students and faculty uniting their efforts to complete a project, the addition to the accumulation of pleasant memories of college life, the fellowship between the present student body and the former students, and the uplift received by alumni everywhere who cannot attend but are reminded of other years when they occupied the center of activities on the campus.

Yes, the colleges of America will continue to have Homecoming Days. Millions of former students will visit our campus each year and thus the spirit of college days will be rekindled and preserved to the very borders of our land. "Vive" Homecomings!

C. E. Offers Grads Fellowship

The General Electric Co. has an educational fund established in honor of Charles A. Coffin and Gerard Swope.

Research Fellowships For Graduate Students

The terms of the General Electric Educational Fund established with assets of $1,000,000 by the General Electric Company make provision for the use of the annual income from 50 percent of its assets for fellowships to graduates of the universities, colleges, and technical schools of the United States who need financial assistance, and who have shown, by the character of their work, that they could, with advantage, undertake or continue research work in educational institutions either in this country or abroad.

Charles A. Coffin Fellowships
These fellowships are awarded in the fields of Electricity, Physics, and Physical Chemistry. Since 1923 a total of 182 such awards have been made. The committee will be particularly influenced in making these awards by the research problems which are to be undertaken.

Gerard Swope Fellowships
Since these were first announced in 1945, 27 fellowships have been granted. These fellowships are awarded in the fields of Industrial Management, Engineering, the Physical Sciences, and any other Scientific or Industrial Field. General Provisions Applicable To Both Fellowships

(1) The amount of each fellowship granted will be the amount needed up to a maximum of $1500 annually. A grant of $500 may be made for specific apparatus or other expense to be used in connection with the research work of the fellow. The grant for specific apparatus may be requested after the award of the fellowship. In addition, in case of need, loans totalling up to $1,000 may also be made. These fellowships are not intended for those who now hold, or expect to hold, any other fellowship which carries a stipend larger than the tuition at the institution where research work is to be carried on.

(2) The Committee requests that all applications from students now in attendance at an educational institution, first be sent to the Dean or Department Chairman of such educational institution at which the applicant is, or has been, in attendance within the year. The Committee desires that the Dean or other College executive in turn file all the applications received by him at the same time, together with a statement naming the two applicants who in his opinion or the opinion of the Faculty are best qualified to receive the award.

(3) The applications will, in turn, be submitted to a committee consisting of representatives from the following organizations: National Academy of Sciences, Physical Society, American Institute of Electrical Engineers, American Society of Engineering Education, and the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

(4) Applications must be filed with the Committee by January 1, and should be addressed to Secretary, General Electric Educational Fund, Schenectady, New York.

For further information concerning this subject, one may contact the Dean's office.

Sportsmanship Is In Vogue

Good sportsmanship always seems to be an expression that one describes another person with. Very seldom do we associate it with any system of introspection for ourselves.

Last week when a member of the visiting team, Ottawa, was injured and had to be carried off the field there were several jeers and cries of "It serves you right" hurled out during the short pause in the game. Again, later on when another injury was acquired by Ottawa the situation repeated itself.

Of course, we realize that this bit of fallacious reaction was probably the result of unthinking, excited students, but nevertheless we were in the wrong.

Tonight and from now on let's remember that good sportsmanship is something that the spectators must participate in as well as the players.

After Kinsey, What

Life has reached a sorry spot—Tell me after Kinsey, what? Gone are mysteries of sex, Solved is every unknown "X"—All the subtle lovers' arts Are portrayed in graphs and charts—Every analytical void Left untouched by Jung and Freud—Every thrill—they once were ample—Dissected by a random sample! Marriage, even mere flirtation, Viewed through codes and tabulation Now assumes a clinic air. Lads and lassies, pray beware! You may as well be realistic, Sex is a now a mere statistic.

Student: I don't feel good.
Miss Neher: (concerned) Where do you hurt?
Student: Mostly in Prof. Flor-y's class.

Bulldogs Rated Even Choice Versus Bethel

As McPherson College takes the field tonight for the fourth postwar homecoming football game, the Bulldogs will find their choicest odds of the season to win a conference game. The Bulldogs will play the Bethel Gray Maroons tonight on the home field, and the game must be rated as a tossup.

The Bulldogs have lost four conference games this season, scoring only one touchdown and yielding an average of 42 points per game. Bethel is also winless in the conference but is out of the cellar on the basis of two fewer games.

In the common opponent area Bethel beat Sterling 53-7. McPherson won 14-6. Bethel also lost to Ottawa 26-6, while the dogs were defeated by the Braves 19-0.

The Bulldogs have now lost 17 consecutive conference games over a four-year span.

The last time the Bulldogs won a Kansas Conference game was Nov. 1, 1946. They edged Bethel 7-6 on Marvin Meats' extra point in a freezing drizzle at Newton.

Tillman

The last winning homecoming game was also in 1946 as the Canines romped over Kansas Wesleyan 28-0. This continued losing situation leaves the Bulldogs with only two players, co-captains Vernon Blickenstaff and Carroll Tillman, as the only men who ever played on a winning Kansas Conference team.

The chances of the remainder of the Bulldogs making a winner seem at least possible. They played their best game of the season last week in losing to Ottawa 19-0, and this week they should be in their best physical shape.

Gene Arnold, who aids out the Wesleyan and Ottawa affairs, should be in game condition. His condition also leaves tailback Charlie Petefish in better shape than he has been in three weeks. The slim sophomore from Iowa has been taking a severe physical beating handling triple-threat duties alone since Arnold's injury.

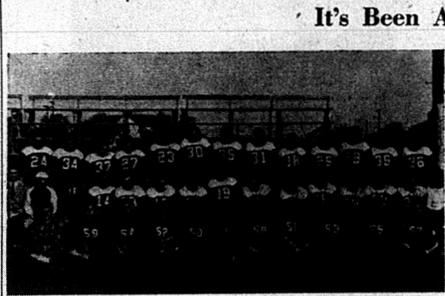

Blickenstaff

Both will have help at the tailback spot as Coach Forrest C. (Frosty) Handacre still plans to use co-captain Sully Tillman in the backfield at least part time. The mid-section of the Bulldog line was weakened too much in last week's game when Tillman shifted from his usual guard slot, but if Mel Swinzer can shoulder the center duties and keep Don Stevens at guard, perhaps Paul Hodson, Don St. Clair, or Ken Pritchett can hold the fort well enough at guard to allow Tillman to cavort in the backfield.

Bill Seidel will be back on one wing after a week's layoff. Bob Bechtel filled in capably for Seidel against Ottawa and will probably split duties with the Illinois freshman. Ron Sullivan still remains a question at wingback, however.

The game is the Bulldog's chance, and they know it. If their weak pass defense holds up, they have an even chance to whip the Graymaroons.

The pass defense remains the Last McPherson College football team to win a game in the Kansas Conference was the 1946 aggregation. Left that group won three and tied one in the conference, the last victory being over

Bethel November 1, in a drizzling, chilling rain at Newton. The Bulldogs won that game 7-6 by virtue of a conversion from the toe of Marvin Meats (Number 27, 6th from left, top row.)

The touchdown was scored when the rubber-legged, bantam half-back, Jake Cramer (Number 14, 3rd from left (middle row) threw a wobbly pass into the end zone to the arms of Verlyn Fisher Num-

Bethany Rates As Favorite Over Braves

Hinging a league championship upon a mid-season game has never been considered a sane prediction by football observers, but the followers of Kansas Conference football unanimously agree that the gridiron war between Ray Hahn's cleft-waned Bethany Swedes and Dick Peters' brawny Ottawa Braves tonight will decide this year's KCAC winner.

The Braves have won the last two crowns after Bethany took the '46 bunting, and the Swedes are intent upon at least breaking even in the first four years of post-war football.

Both squads have run 1-2 in the conference since the war; and as both teams have advanced almost intact from freshmen to senior, they will go into tonight's fray with both barrels loaded for that last championship quest. Ottawa has 10 seniors, Bethany 13.

Both teams stand at the top of the Kansas Conference going into tonight's battle with a perfect three game slate. Bethany has beat Kansas Wesleyan 26-0 Baker 21-0, and C of E 13-0.

Ottawa has shellacked Wesleyan 12-7, Bethel 24-6, and McPherson 19-0. In non-league competition Ottawa has lost two, to Central (Mo.) 6-0 and to Missouri Valley 20-5. The Swedes have measured Sterling 58-0, but lost to Valley 27-6.

This again common opponents Ottawa holds the advantage via Missouri Valley by one touchdown; but using Kansas Wesleyan as the proving ground, Bethany holds a three-touchdown edge.

The pre-game edge will probably go to Bethany because of the man-eating line that has kept the Swede goal line virgin soil as far as enemy touchdowns in conference competition are concerned.

Ray Hahn can start the same line that won the conference crown for him in '46. They were freshmen then, and they show their four year experience now. Six of them probably will start, Larry Bale and Jim Elmberg at ends, Dale Lurwig and Bill Engstrom at tackles, and Gene Ecklund and Joe Chambers at guards. The seventh member, center Ralph Sjostrom, will start if the Swedes receive the opening kickoff. Otherwise, light but gutsy junior Charlie Lander will be in there as a linebacker.

The regular backfield of Jack Teitenberg, Howard Price, Bill Calson, and Harold Collins will start with Harry Ylander and Bob Gerard in reserve.

The loss of sophomore guard Vernon Keaky in the McPherson game will weaken the Ottawa forwards. Otherwise the Braves should be in fair shape, although fullback Ross Correll is hobbled by an ankle injury.

Correll and Everett Viets will probably drive the fullback duties Stan Hughes has reportedly been playing coy with coach Dick Peters this season and did not see any action against McPherson. A return to form of the rock-ribbed blaster would greatly strengthen the Braves offense, which will have its hands full with the Bethany line.

Bulldogs Improve Against Ottawa But Lose 19-0

The Bulldogs of McPherson College could not stop their conference losing streak last Friday, but they came up with their best game of the season as they held the tough, defending champion Ottawa Braves to a 19-0 count.

For the first 10 minutes the Bulldogs played as if in disguise as they pushed the Ottawa veteran line backwards from chalk-line to chalkline. Unfortunately the Bulldogs could not stand the 60-minute gaff, and Ottawa moved across with its first touchdown one play into the second quarter.

A clipping penalty put the dogs deep in their own territory late in the initial period, and Chuck Petefish was forced to boot. Vaughn Kimbrough returned the punt 18 yards to the McPherson 27 where rushes to the six Kimbrough Everett Viets made three power split off tackle for the score, but Jim Gorgan missed the attempted conversion.

Another long gain punt returned by Kimbrough set up the second Brave TD two minutes later. A 39-yard aerial from quarterback Bob Musgrave to Paul Robbins over the Bulldog defensive right halfback was the final punch. This time Gorgan split the up-rights.

The Braves scored their last touchdown right after the intermission. Jim Arensburg recovered Chuck Petefish's fumble on the Bulldog 33. Everett Viets did heavy duty as the Braves scored on seven plays. Viets was the scorer from five yards out. Grogan missed the placement.

The Bulldogs held their own thereafter and flashed their best offensive of the evening after the Braves last tally. Taking the kickoff on their own five the Bulldogs moved down to the Ottawa 19 before the attack bogged. Dean Schmidt scooted 19 yards on the musty Statue of Liberty for the big yardage-eater.

McPherson played on equal basis with the Braves in the last 15 minutes. Actually the Bulldogs did a commendable job the whole game except for pass defense and punt returns.

Senior: It says here in the paper that a man is run over in New York every half hour.
Freshman: Poor fellow.

Professor Dell told Lorenz March shall not to make a mental note of it, because he wanted her to remember it.

While Ottawa was trouncing McPherson 19-0 last week, the Bethany Swedes prepped for this week's big battle with their toughest game of the year, a rock 'em sock 'em contest against C. of E.

The Swedes won 13-0 in what observers called the roughest game of the year. The Presbites lost 105 yards on 13 penalties, and cries of protest against the officiating have arisen from the eastern city. C. of E. was penalized 120 yards against McPherson three weeks earlier.

The Presbites have had high penalty figures all year which probably erases the poor officiating charge. Undoubtedly the Presby rooters were chagrined over the outcome of the Swede game because C. of E. played on more than even terms. Both teams had nine first downs, and Emporia outrushed the Swedes, 127-120. The passing figures were nearly even.

Bill Carlson was the difference that did not show in the statistics. The hard running sophomore scored the Swede's first touchdown, passed to end Johnny Winblad for the other, and intercepted a pass on the 18 in the second period when the Presbites were driving for a touchdown.

In other games last week Baker beat Bethel 23-0, and Kansas Wesleyan skidded 29-20 in a non-league contest against Rockhurst. Sherman Kolaczyk moved ahead as the conference's leading individual scorer with 27 points as he kicked two extra points and a field goal against the Gray Maroons. Bouncing Boyce Smith returned to the Orange lineup to score two touchdowns and the Bethany's Carlson for second place in scoring with 24 points.

Wesleyan flashed a good offense against Rockhurst, but the defense was as solid as an egg shell. The Hawks made 376 yards running and passing compared to the Coyotes' 189. Keith Brown led KWU with two six-pointers, one on a 44 yard cake-walk.

key for the aerial game and is Bethel's forte. New head coach J. Millard Fretz has nurtured a passing attack that has been responsible for six of the ten touchdowns scored by Bethel this season.

Top pitcher is Varden Loganbill, transferred to the backfield from center. Ace catcher is Loganbill's brother, six-foot, four inch end Lanoy Loganbill.

To go with the older Loganbill in the backfield are lettermen Harland Unruh, Chester Flickinger, Leland Voth, Merle Seibert, and Bill Krehbel along with a promising freshman kicker, Allen Unruh.

Teaming with Lanoy Loganbill at end is another letterman, Richard Siemens. The starting guards and tackles are also monogram wearers, Marlowe Krehbel, Reuben Goering, Frank Quiring, and Myron Goering.
