

COACH GARDNER'S TEAM WAS WELL BALANCED

Competition With the Squad Was Keen Enough That Every Man Had To Work Hard.

RAY NONKEN, CAPTAIN

The Strength of the Team Was Due To the Combined Strength of Outstanding Individuals

Coach Gardner had a well balanced football squad this year with which to develop his smooth running machine. The majority of the fellows kept strict training rules to be in the best condition for the games. Competition within the squad was keen enough that every man had to work hard to hold his position. The strength of the team was due to the combined strength of outstanding individuals.

Captain Ray Nonken, 172 pound halfback, shifty and speedy, with his ability to pass and receive passes, is an outstanding offensive man. His cool headedness, lacking ability, ability to run on a broken field, and his knowledge of the game makes him ever an object of terror to his opponents.

Billy Wells, 165 pound quarterback, proved to be a heady general for the Bulldog team. He comes to M. C. highly recommended with an enviable high school record. He merits his candidacy for All-Conference honors.

Herbert Hochstrasser, 160 pound end and backfield man, has speed, fight, and skill that make him a valuable man on the Bulldog eleven.

Melvin Miller, 170 pound Bulldog, is a valuable backfield man. He proves his worth on the receiving end of a pass.

Don Haws, 160 pound quarterback, was a member of last year's McPherson High School team and is developing into a valuable Bulldog.

Barney Swain, 150 pound halfback, is light but built solid with outstanding ability to break up passes.

Bill Graham, 155 pound halfback, is a valuable interference man and line plunger.

Emory Windmill, 170 pound guard, with no previous experience has developed into a "whirlwind" of a guard with the uncanny ability to break up plays behind the opponents' line.

Wray Whitenack, 170 pound guard, with two years of college experience is efficient and dependable with lots of fight.

Paul Bowers, 170 pound center, with no previous high school experience and one year college experience, has developed into a powerful lineman.

Clarence Zink, 250 pound guard, is a bulwark of strength and an immovable linesman.

Newell Wine, 170 pound tackle, comes to McPherson with a brilliant high school record. He is a cool headed, clean player and a hard fighter.

Irvin Rump, 185 pound end, can be depended upon to "get his man."

Vansel Snow, 170 pound guard, comes to McPherson with an outstanding high school record and has proved his worth as a Bulldog.

Levi Lengel, 190 pound tackle, with his weight and strength is the "jinx" to his opponents' line.

Reuben Bowman, 165 pound tackle, is sturdy and a man who can be relied upon in critical plays.

Archie Blickenstaff, 175 pound end, is an all around good and clean player with excellent ability to receive passes. He always gives of his best while in the game and being a senior will leave a place that will be hard to fill next season.

Burnison, Fretz, Sargent R. Miller, Mowbray, Barngrover, King Diggs, Ruehlen, Ellis, and Campbell make up a strong reserve which is a vital factor in building up a strong team.

NONKEN

Ray Nonken, three years a backfield man on the Bulldog team, has won the support and admiration of his teammates and fellow students by his real sportsmanship. He merits his place as captain of the 1928 football team through his representative spirit of the true Bulldog. He is an all-around athlete who plays consistently. As a football player he is flashy, shifty and speedy and a very capable ball tigger. His reliability is an outstanding characteristic. His personality has a remarkable influence upon his fellow players.

NONKEN AND WELLS

WIN HONORS

Ray Nonken the dauntless, shifty half back, received the honor of a place on the second team of the Kansas Conference All Stars and an honorable mention on the All-Kansas Eleven. Nonken has another year of football so that his reputation should be an asset to the team for next year.

Billy Wells, freshman, by his heady game and passing ability won a place on the third team of the All-Kansas Eleven and second or probably first place on the Kansas Conference All Stars. This shifty quarter should be a second reason for a whirlwind team the next football season. We join heartily in extending a congratulation to Billy and Nonk in behalf of the student body for their honor.

DEBATE TEAMS CHOSEN

An almost endless stream of argument flowed from the college chapel as fifteen aspirants for the varsity debate team debated the question "Resolved, That a Substitute for Trial by Jury Should Be Adopted." The tryout was held in the college chapel Tuesday evening, November 27. Five judges from the faculty decided victory or fate of the aspirant. The judges chose the varsity and second teams with two alternates for each team.

Phillip Spohn, Keith Hays, Ralph Frantz and John Harnly were chosen for the varsity squad. The first three of the above are veterans of last year's state championship team, and they have proved their ability in the forensic field. John Harnly, the new member of the team, has held a position on the undefeated second team of '27.

Lloyd Diggs, of last year's second team and Otho Whitenack were chosen as alternates to the varsity team.

Ralph Peterson, Ralph Turner, Guy Hayes and Otho Whitenack made the men's second team. This team is made up entirely of freshmen with considerable high school experience.

Gilbert Myers and Kermit Hayes were the choices as alternates to the men's second team.

Judges for the debate were Miss Della Lehman, Miss Edith McGaffey, Professors J. A. Blair, J. H. Heckman and M. A. Hess.

Reverend H. F. Richards made a few remarks Wednesday on Thanksgiving. We should be thankful for many things, and among them are peace and the prospects for continued peace. Progress in learning how to live is another thing for which we should be thankful.

BULLDOG'S LOSE TO TERRIBLE SWEDES

Bulldogs Play a Brilliant Game Thanksgiving Day.

BULLDOGS 6, SWEDES 9

Nonken Was Outstanding Star Of the Game.

The Bulldogs almost upset the dope for the season in the Thanksgiving day game. Though the Swedes had a good edge on the dope of the season the Canines had Lundsburg a bit worried as to the outcome of the game.

With a well mixed bunch of plays the Bulldogs went into the game with a determination to win. An assortment of passes greeted the opponents at every period of the game and almost lead to a disastrous end for the Viking aggression. No one yet seems to understand how Wells and Nonken could direct the passes as they did through the entire game or how the receiving end could scoop so many of them to safety with the wet ball and muddy field. A graph of the game shows the ball stayed well into the middle of the field with several movements toward Swede defended line, one of which added a six point lead on the game. The Swedes were able to move the ball far enough in the third quarter to result in a touchdown and the last quarter punted back near enough to the goal line so that it resulted in a safety.

Nonken was the outstanding star of the game with Tarrant making a close bid. Wells and Hochstrasser offered a number of thrills for the crowd. A word of praise should go to every man on the McPherson squad as they were in there to defend the honor of the Bulldogs. They all fought hard. It was the kind of a game we all like to see, clean, hard fought and close.

GARDNER

Coach George Gardner represents the clean, systematic variety of sporting play and when his teams go into the contest they have the full benefit of a master in the coaching line. He is a remarkable athlete and a fellow whose personality and clean sportsmanship makes its influence felt in directing the men's athletic activities of the college. He has had a wide range of experience as an athlete. His ability as a coach is manifest by the fact that he turned out a championship basketball team last winter and is able to bring out the best that is in his men regardless of the game they are playing. Back of his coaching career he has a brilliant college athletic career of his own. For four consecutive years he was chosen All Kansas Conference forward in basketball and won a like position on the All Time All Southwestern team. In 1923 he was picked as All American forward at the National A. A. U. basketball tournament. Gardner is coaching here for his fourth year this year.

MRS. OVERTON COMING

Next week on December 10, 11 and 12 McPherson College will be privileged to hear Mrs. Grace S. Overton, noted speaker on youth's problems, of Sioux City, Ia., sponsored by the Young Women's Christian Association. Mrs. Overton comes to the campus highly recommended by various sources.

At the Estes Park conference last summer Mrs. Overton met with great approval and was well received. The National Student Council highly recommends her saying, "There is no one who can substitute in her place."

Mrs. Overton is recognized by the thinkers of America as an authority on the problems confronting modern youths. She has previously been a teacher at Morningside College, Sioux City, Ia. Her background of study and experience give her a keen appreciation for situations as are found in denominational schools.

Mrs. Overton is author of a number of books, her latest being "Quest of Youth." One of her books, "Drama in Education" is in the McPherson College library.

There will be a number of meetings during her visit to the campus. Her greatest value lies in private conference, however. It is urged that the students of McPherson consider this an opportunity to be made the best of.

BULLDOG'S FOOTBALL SEASON COMES TO CLOSE

Canines First Game of the Season Was With Oklahoma East Central State Normal.

LOTS OF 'PEP' SHOWN

Much of Success Is Due to Cheerleaders Hovis and Frantz.

The football season of 1928 was looked forward to with brighter prospects than any of three or four years previous. After school opened things were still more promising when forty-five men, including seven letter-men, reported for practice. A large share of the new material was made up of men who had a large amount of high school experience the last few years. Many of the new men had excellent records following them. The Bulldogs had only four weeks to practice together until the first game was to be played last fall, but with the untiring work of the coach and the boys they had their machine ready when the time came.

The Canines opened their season away down in southern Oklahoma where they played the East Central State Normal team on September 28; The Bulldogs were greatly outweighed man for man, but they fought hard as usual and held the teachers to a 12-0 score in their favor. This game had no bearing on the conference standing of McPherson, even if it was last, for it was played outside the conference in order that the coach might find out how his men worked together under fire before they were to face a conference opponent.

On October 5, the Bulldogs journeyed to Wichita where they battled the Quakers of Friends College in the first conference game. It was a ragged game from start to finish. Nonken and Wells each played a brilliant game for McPherson but due to some serious tumbles the Bulldogs were forced to take the short end of a 12-7 score after having out-errimaged their opponents.

The St. Mary's Irish invaded the Bulldog kennel on October 13 only to be outplayed in every department of the game by their opponents. A wet ball caused the first half of the game to be played a bit rough, but both teams came back strong to the second period and the spectators saw a real game of football. Nonken and Wells made the outstanding gains for the Bulldogs, while Swain played a pretty game at halfback, breaking up many of the passes that the Irish tried. The teams tied at 6-6.

October 29 St. Benedict's defeated the Canine team 12-0 on the local gridiron. The Bulldogs outplayed their opponents throughout the game and placed the ball in scoring position many times but seemed to lack the force necessary to put it over the goal line.

The Bulldogs invaded Sterling territory on October 26 where they showed their Bulldog fighting spirit. Early in the game Sterling fumbled the ball which was recovered by Nonken of the Bulldogs who carried it to a dandy scoring position. The Bulldogs put it across, but failed to kick the goal. Sterling came back then and scored a touchdown on the Bulldogs as well as an extra point. The Bulldogs then returned the compliment when Nonken again got away with the pigskin, this time for sixty yards and a touchdown. The extra point was made. In the second period Nonken again got away for thirty-nine yards. But something seemed to have happened and Sterling got the ball and seven more points. At the end of the first half the score was 15-14 in favor of Sterling, and although the Bulldogs put the ball in scoring position several times after that, they were unable to score again.

Practically every student who remained in McPherson Thanksgiving day attended the game at Lindsborg, an example of the usual Bulldog loyalty.

Royal Yoder: Who in your favorite author?

Earnest W.: My dad. R. Y.: What does he write? E. W.: Checks.

Miller: I wish we had a lift to take us up to third floor. Elkins: Yes and a sink to bring us down.

Earnie S.: There has been something trembling on my lip for several days.

Esther F.: Yes, I see. Why don't you shave it off?

Student caught speeding: But officer, I am only a student.

Officer: Ignorance is no excuse.

Do you like your cigarettes cork tipped?

Scotchman: No thanks, I find that they don't smoke so well after you get to the cork.

Lecturer: The average woman's clothing weighs only eight ounces. Voice in audience: Ain't it a shame they have to wear such heavy shoes.

Customer: Here are two mistakes on my bill. One is in your favor and one in my favor.

Toland: One in your favor! Where?

Just read a poem and it went something like this: A wise old owl sat in an oak The more he heard the less he spoke, The less he spoke the more he heard, Why can't we be like that old bird. From now on I'm mum.

Three courses were served. The menu was as follows:

- I Cream of Wheat with dates II ham and eggs III toast coffee ice cream

WASTE-BASKET PHILOSOPHY

Graveyard stew is bad enough at best, but it is worse if the bread has previously been ammunition in student battles in the dining halls.

A properly supervised moving picture machine in the new chapel would serve educational purposes, save money for the students if no profit was expected, and would provide wholesome entertainment. Talk it up. Pay it up.

The library is certainly a fine place to visit friends. Isn't it?

A short devotion period each day keeps the devil away.

The dormitory is a pleasant place to visit—try it, faculty.

Your manhood will not suffer from once attending Y. M.

STATE ATHLETIC LOOP DISSOLVED

Topeka, Dec. 1.—The Kansas intercollegiate athletic conference was dissolved today at a meeting of its officials. Eight members voted for the motion bringing the conference to an end, and two against.

Final dissolution of the conference followed a shakeup one year ago when seven members withdrew to form the Central Conference.

Immediately after the final disruption today, plans were revealed for the formation of a new conference, probably to include six members, as follows: Kansas Wesleyan, Salina; Bethany College, Lindsborg; St. Mary's, St. Mary's; McPherson College, McPherson, and Ottawa University, Ottawa.

It was reported that there would probably be a playing agreement with the four old members of the Kansas Conference not included in the tentative lineup—St. Benedict's, of Atchison; Sterling; Sterling; Friends University, Wichita; Bethel, at Newton, and St. Johns, Winfield, an associate member of the old conference.

With the dissolution of the conference the rule which prohibited scheduling of games between the members and Central Conference teams was automatically wiped out.

The boy who can talk to his dad will not do much damage in the world.—Sherrard Ewing.

CHAPEL ECHOES

The status of relations between France and Germany is of interest to all for it greatly affects the peace of the world.

Professor L. A. Utrecht pointed out some hopeful signs in chapel Monday. The Republican election in Germany indicates a desire for peace and a permanent abolition of monarchy.

Reparations, the only note of discord, may soon be settled. An agreement between the two countries is being discussed and even predicted.

Political relations were not the most cordial until the German representative was received in France last summer to participate in the Kellogg plot.

We receive blessings that we cannot pay for.

Blessings are not the payment of debts which are due us unless we show some sort of gratitude. In this respect thankfulness pays dividends.

AN AGREEMENT MADE

An agreement was made last Wednesday morning by representatives from the student council of College which makes harrying and detrimental treatment of campuses by members from either school out of order. The offense is punishable by the school in which the offender is enrolled. This is a culmination of effort on the part of both colleges to reach such an agreement.

The matter was presented to the student bodies of both institutions. The vote at Lindsborg was unanimous; it also carried at McPherson. It is hoped that this agreement will be binding and effective.

INTELLECTUAL (?) OUTLINE OF ETIQUETTE

- In the dining room— 1. Boys never pull out a chair for the girls—they are able to do it themselves. 2. Make all noise possible while grace is being said—it's much more genteel anyhow. 3. At the foot ball table bread should be thrown, never passed—why be effeminate. 4. When passing a glass of water always drink from your neighbor's glass—it's more sanitary. 5. Never say "Please pass this or that," but say "Shoot that strip over here and make it snappy." Why waste words? 6. Always park your elbows on the table—one's head must be supported. 7. Be sure to tell doubtful jokes—it helps digestion. 8. Always get up before the head of the table is through—she should not be so slow anyhow. 9. Always eat your pie with a spoon—you might hurt yourself with a fork. 10. Be sure to inhale your soup—it's so musical. 11. Take up as much room as possible at the table—the other fellow does not matter, this is a free coun...

- II. In classroom and on the campus: 1. Girls must always hold doors open for boys—they are the more masterful sex. 2. One should always be late to class—you are more appreciated that way. 3. Never speak to members of the faculty—they do nothing but teach. 4. Never recite in class—why waste breath? 5. Always bump into as many as possible on the sidewalks—it's not your fault it is too narrow. 6. Boys never lift your hats to girls—they are not worth the effort. 7. Always copy off the other fellow's exam paper—no use to over-work your own brain. 8. Make all the noise possible in the library—if you do not want to study, why should the others wish to? III. For the Faculty: 1. Never grade papers—students care not what they make. 2. Never give As—no, one deserves them. 3. Never give higher than a C—why do more than the quality of work indicates? 4. Never speak to students on the street—they do not know much. 5. Never give students rides—they need the exercise. 6. Never try to advise a student—since they never ask for it. 7. Why teach at all—no money in it.

This Changing World

To-day, you can see big buildings erected noiselessly—by electric welding.

The structural steel worker is dropping his clattering hammer for the electric arc. Silently, swiftly, rigidly, economically, buildings are being fabricated by electric welding, which knits steel with joints as strong as the metal itself.

Building silently! Nothing seems impossible in this electrical age.

Not only in building construction, but in every human activity, we instinctively turn to electricity to add to the comforts of life and to eliminate the wastes of production—another evidence that the electrical industry is maintaining its leadership in this changing world.

Not only industrial equipment, but electric refrigerators, Mazda lamps, and little motors that add to the comforts of home, are manufactured by the General Electric Company. All are identified by the G-E monogram—a symbol of service.

BRAIN FODDER We are all like tacks; we cannot go any farther than our heads will permit.

Behind Time THE fellow who starts out in the morning behind time, buckles a handicap on himself that follows him throughout the day.

He is wrong himself—and when a man is wrong and knows it, he is sure to diffuse a feeling of discomfort wherever he goes and leave its imprint upon the product of his hand and brain.

People who get into the habit of being always just a few minutes behind time go through life dragging the chain of a disturbed existence behind them.

BULLDOG'S FOOTBALL SEASON

that the Bulldogs wrote their name for the first time of this season in the Kansas Conference win column by completely snowing under the Bethel team at Newton with a score of 23-0. Some of the Canine regulars did not get to play that day due to injuries received in previous games. They plowed across the opponent's goal line three times during the game.

The Coyotes and Bulldogs clashed on the local gridiron in the most thrilling game this season. The opening of the game of November 19 gave the Bulldogs the lead and after two attempts in the first period they managed to cross the Coyote goal line. They were in scoring position again when they fumbled the ball that the Coyotes picked up and made a series of gains that lasted throughout the game. Nonken and Hockstrosser were the outstanding players for the Bulldogs. The greatest feature of the game was the pass work of the Bulldogs. Out of twenty-one attempts they completed fourteen. It was another of those defeats that was hard to take. The score was 21-6 in favor of the Coyotes.

The Turkey Day game was played on a muddy field at Lindsborg within the camp of the Terrible Swedes. Our blond neighbors had all sorts of dope on us this season but we had the determination to upset that dope and turn it into a Bulldog victory for Coach Gardner told us the night before the game that we had a better chance to win this year than we have had in the past four years. The Canines played a spectacular game throughout in spite of the mud that hindered them against a heavier team. Their passing attack was outstanding and kept the nerves of the opponent's supporters on edge throughout the game. A pass to Nonken in the second quarter scored the first touch down of the game, but the Bulldogs were unable to hold their opponents who forged into the lead in the third quarter and increased it in the fourth. The game ended with the score standing 6-9 in favor of the Swedes.

Although the Bulldog line-up this past season was not as heavy as their opponents they showed much hard fighting and a lot of clean cut sportsmanship that any school could feel proud of. Our boys this year were heavier men for man than our teams have been for the past three years. They made us a passing machine that completed half of the passes they attempted and at no time did an opponent complete more passes than they did. The gains from scrimmage were nothing to be ashamed of and the Bulldog line was a solid wall to the opponents. Many an opposing player got away this season with the ball only to be stopped by a red wall that suddenly got in his way. Our fellows were seldom penalized for unfair treatment of their opponents, a thing that we should be glad of. The season was a successful one if it is good sportsmanship that the game tends to develop. Much of the success of the season is due to the work of cheerleaders, Hovis and Frantz, who are constantly at work trying to instill into us those principles and ideals that go to make up a true Bulldog that is worthy to carry the red and white.

Dr. Anna Richardson, after a recent survey of cigaret smoking in Smith College has reached the conclusion that it is no more injurious for girls to smoke than to eat too many sweets. Sixty-five per cent of the last graduating class were occasional or habitual smokers.
