STARTING AN EXTENSIVE TICKET CAMPAIGN TO PUT THE THESPIAN PLAY OVER THE TOP

Work On Rehearsals Is Progressing Very Rapidly—Sales Campaign Is Now On Within City—Students May Secure Tickets From Thespian Members Now

WILL HAVE TWO PRICES

Fifty And Seventy-five To Be Charged By Women's Club—To Be Given One Night Only

Work is progressing very rapidly on the Thespian's play, "The Patsy," under the able leadership of Mrs. Paul Swensen, and it will be ready for presentation in the Community Building on the night of December 10. It was previously announced that the play would be given two nights but this has been changed and the play is now being advertised for one night only.

It has been announced by the Women's Business and Professional Club of the city, who are sponsoring the production, that there will be two admissions charged, one 50 cents for seats in the first five rows and the last two rows on the main floor and all the seats in the balcony, while all other seats will be 75 cents.

Last night a "pop" meeting was held down town by the Women's club for the purpose of launching their sale of tickets that is starting today. Tickets may be secured from members of the Thespian club or from any of the club members of the Women's club downtown. There will be 200.50 seats on the main floor of the auditorium.

Every effort is being made to make the presentation the best that has ever been given. Some special scenery is being constructed to take care of the new arrangements of the stage settings and the public is being assured of a good evenings entertainment.

Two men were making their trip to America. On the first night out the liner pitched like a cork on the big waves.

One of the travelers, about to retire, found his friend just getting into bed, and was astonished to note that he wore a woman's frilly night-gown and had a lace-and-ribbon-trimmed bowler cap on his head.

"For heaven's sake, man," he gasped. "What's the idea?"

"Well," said his friend, "Don't you know the rule? In case of disaster, women and children first."

An interurban bus was recently struck by lightning. The lightning, presume, was then hauled away for repairs.

SEA-SEE SAYS THAT HER WORLD OUT OF COLLEGE IS NOT LIKE LIFE OF THE COLLEGE STUDENT

You people on the campus think your world is very large and wonderful and that it takes in the universe together with its satellites. In reality it is bounded, on the north by the Science Hall (also Forney's emporium of light and heat), on the south by Falhnestock (also the library where you strive not to be as much as possible), on the east by Arnold (the shade of Falhnestock's dreams of Fair Women), and on the west by the "Ad" building (where you bluff—honestly if you can—or else—just bluff). Furthermore there are a few evergreens (trees, not freshmen), hedges, even into the scorched portion on you side of the flag pole the burning of which caused Professor Fries to lose his accustomed nominal frigidity and become rather vitrolic in speech.

A college world is tailor-made and comes on four years approval at the end of which length of time it is returned for the coming students who form an ever increasing line of Young Americans.

MRS. HARNLY SPEAKS

Tells Of European Experiences In C. E. Sunday Evening

Sun., Nov. 30—Mrs. Harnly addressed the C. E. group tonight, giving an account of her summer's trip to Europe and the Holy Land. Scenes that were especially significant in the lives of early Christians were made more real by her clear, vivid descriptions. Mrs. Harnly's talk was appreciated very greatly by her listeners.

Charles Austin led the devotionals and Miss Leta Wine, who teaches at Euders, Nebraska, played a piano solo, as a special number.

LAST YEAR SENIOR IS STARTING FLORAL SHOP

Hoyt Strickler And Brother Working On The West Coast

El Centro, Calif., Nov. 30—Hoyt Strickler, a member of last year's graduating class at McPherson College, in company with his brother Harold, also a former McPherson college student, has opened what is considered one of the most attractive floral shops in that part of California in which he makes his home.

A new building, especially designed and equipped for the purpose, was constructed by the Strickler boys, who secured one of the best architects on the west coast to make their plans. It is positively the latest thing in floral shop designing and is an ornament to the city where it is located.

Hoyt has been spending the past several months in taking special work in floral designing, and will be in charge of that phase of the business, while his brother will care for the growing.

You are no longer young if you still desire to read a book after somebody tells you it is instructive.

In the days when we were little, the ladies looked forward to the rest they could get when they got their "styles" off—hobbies in things.

Now mildly leaps out to see how much style she can put on—without gettin' arrested.

SEA-SEE SAYS THAT HER WORLD OUT OF COLLEGE IS NOT LIKE LIFE OF THE COLLEGE STUDENT

You can select your own associates and cliques of acquaintances to suit your particular idiosyncracies and they are usually the ones to whom you can feel superior or else the ones who have viewpoints parallel to yours.

When you are graduated from college you are propelled out into a world where no one gives a Continental for you as a personality. You must make your own place by your own efforts, and if society recognizes you then it does so because of your own worth or (worthlessness). Note the above sounds like a digest of one of the Alger books but it's true nevertheless.

College serves as an advanced mental incubator which nurses you intellectually for four years after which you are pronounced done but if your back bone is not rather thoroughly developed the chill wind of disillusionment is pretty apt to scatter your delicate pin feathers causing much pain in the process.

Mrs. Grabeel Of Rose Hill Va., To Write Features For The Spectator

Arrangements have been made with Mrs. W. R. Grabeel of Rose Hill, Va., to act as correspondent for The Spectator for the remainder of the year. Mrs. Grabeel will be remembered as Miss Chester Carter who received her degree from the College last spring.

Mrs. Grabeel's correspondence will be in the nature of feature stories of the same type she has been writing for the last two years for the paper.

2,000 HEAR SUNDAY IN THE CONVENTION HALL

Noted Evangelist Speaks In Convention Hall—Students Attend

Mon., Dec. 1—People of McPherson had a unique experience this morning, they heard "Billy" Sunday preach. Classes were dismissed at 9:30 and the majority of the students from the College attended.

"Billy" Sunday, who is holding meetings at Hutchinson, spoke in Convention Hall this morning. It was very evident that people are anxious to hear him speak, for the main part of the auditorium was filled long before the doors were closed. Every seat was occupied and many people were standing. It has been estimated that there were 2,000 people present.

Reverend Sunday's song leader and accompanist were along with him, and had charge of the first part of the services after which Mr. Sunday preached for nearly an hour.

SIXTEEN DAYS FOR A CHRISTMAS VACATION

To Start Dec. 19 And To Close Monday Morning, Jan. 5, 1931

It won't be long now, till we thaw out the collegiate fliver and steer for home! Christmas holidays are almost here!

Officially speaking the Christmas recess begins at 4:25 p. m. on Friday, December, 19 and ends at 8:00 o'clock Monday morning, January 5, 1931. This gives the students a period of 399.5 hours in which to forget the worries and furies of college, and take part in home life again.

Those students who will be so unfortunate as to remain on the campus during the 16 days of celebration, will be in the decided minority. The Alma Mater may even be entirely deserted.

FIRE ENGINES ANSWER SOME PEPSTER'S CALL

Conflagration Is Only The Burning Of The "Swede"

Wed., Nov. 26—With a thrilling whistle and clang of bells, two gigantic fire trucks arrived tardily on the scene of Swede Ole Olson's smouldering corpse. Eager bulldozers appointed firemen sorrowfully turned their engines about and wended their way homeward, conceding to the M.C. Bulldogs the honor and privilege of cremating the remains of the deceased Ole Olson.

IN CHAPEL AT 8:00 P. M.

Ritz Carries Leading Role—To Have Special Costumes—Chorus Of 30 Voices

One of the outstanding musical renditions of the year will be presented tonight in the college chapel at eight o'clock by the College mixed chorus. The sacred cantata "Esther", an oratorio in four acts by Wm. H. Bradbury, will be sung by the chorus of fifty voices, directed by Mrs. Anna C. Tate, voice instructor of the College.

The plot of the cantata centers around the beautiful Jewess, Esther, who is chosen by the Persian King Ahasuerus (509 B. C.) to be his wife and Queen. Esther, an orphan from childhood, has been adopted by a Jew, Mordecai. Haman, the prime minister of Persia hates Mordecai because the latter refuses to salute him as he passes. In revenge, Haman obtains a decree from the King for the destruction of all Jews in Persia. Mordecai learns of the decree and asks Esther, the queen, to beg mercy from the King for the Jews. This she does, and Haman, the arch-plotter, is hung from the gallows he had erected for Mordecai.

The role of Esther is sung by Nade Mae Ritz; the King by Charles Austin; Mordecai, Lawrence Lehman; Haman, Orville Voran; and various other picked voices sing other solo parts. Pauline Dell is accompanist.

Elaborate costumes have been prepared for the cast which will augment the dramatic and musical effect of the cantata.

After a rehearsal period of two months, a successful presentation is assured. Seats will be 35 cents, however, college students will be admitted free.

BLAIR TELLS OF THE FIRST THANKSGIVING

Speaks In Chapel—Is Not A Celebrated Birthday

Wed., Nov. 26—In chapel this morning Prof. Blair went back to the time of the first Thanksgiving in his talk. He said it was not a celebration in honor of some ones birthday nor was it a celebration that denoted the close of a war, but it was simply a celebration for the blessings of the soil, a holiday of peace, commemoration of a simple life by a simple people. The winter was hard and over half of the people died, but they managed to raise enough food to keep alive those who remained. The people of the colony were very thankful so Gov. Bradford declared a holiday. The Pilgrims and the Indians celebrated together.

RICHARDS IS SPEAKER

Discusses "Prayer" In Y. M. Meeting—Bradshaw Leads

Tues., Dec. 2—Reverend Richards discussed "Prayer" in Y. M. C. A. this morning.

In order to pray we do not need to fully understand the meaning of prayer. But to pray effectively it must be realized that prayer is not without laws, that prayer must be made with faith, that prayers must be made in sincerity.

Prayer can be made a great factor in the life of the individuals. Problems solved, victories won, friends won, or habits lost through the correct use of prayer.

Delvis Bradshaw led devotionals.

Mildred Ballard spent the week end with her parents near Formosa.

"BILLY" SUNDAY, THE GREAT EVANGELIST

"Billy" Sunday is probably the greatest human evangelist the world has ever known, besides Christ. Certainly no other man has spoken to so many people and so widely moved his audience with his message. While for the most part he appeals to the somewhat uneducated class, there is much that the college student finds to admire in him. His dazzling ability to "sling adjectives", his dramatic presentation and commanding personality cannot help securing admiration. A man of sixty-eight years who has lived as strenuous a life as he has, deserves to have the good he has done recognized in spite of our prejudices. His logic may be faulty, his information inaccurate, his presentation bordering on ludicrous, his appeals only to the primitive emotions; nevertheless, he has done much good that probably no other man could have done. He has filled his place, sometimes rather inelegantly. It is true, but usually quite effectively, so why not give him his due credit?—Enthusiastic Scribe.

THOSE CLASS MEETINGS

Every organization, regardless of its size or purpose, has meetings which are open to all its members in order to carry on its business and the purpose of the group. A college has various organization meetings which include the necessary college class meetings.

College class meetings are not trivial but have an importance in the illege spirit which can not justly be overlooked. Class procedure is most familiar only to those who attend and take part in class meetings. When a class meeting is announced that in itself signifies that there is important business to be transacted and challenges the presence of every member of the organization. Sometimes there is a conspicuous absence of some members of the class who fail to appear at these assemblies.

The reasons a college student should attend these meetings, first, it is the privilege of each member to vote on class issues thus governing the class procedure and second, criticism, either constructive or destructive, is much more purposeful when it is contributed to such an organized group than when it is merely talked about unsystematically.

Therefore it is the privilege of every college student in order to uphold the "School of Quality" that he should attend class meetings and foster a spirit of class unity.

STUDENTS LIKE STUDENT SPEAKERS

No matter what is said students upon the campus like a change and a change to them is a turn for the better—or it is an experiment that may either fail or succeed.

During National Book Week a number of students spoke from the chapel platform during the regular chapel periods and a number of comments have been coming from the student body in regards to the student speakers. Some are voicing the opinion that it not only is splendid training for the students that speak but is also good for the students that sit before them in the chapel. A change from the general routine seems always to meet with a marked approval, however, we do not aim to discredit the chapel programs so far this year, but we do feel that change in their nature once in a great while would tend toward a better feeling among the students. Some have suggested that students, who may be selected by the committee in charge of chapel programs, would and could capably fill the period as a chapel speaker.

In offering suggestions students feel that it is out of their place to suggest such changes but when a change or something different is in evident they are always overanxious to see it succeed. The College has had some splendid programs and to discontinue them would mean a loss but a slipping in once in a while of a unique feature adds to the interest and attention of the student body.

It is by presence of mind in untried emergencies that the native metal of a man is tested.

There's a bright side to everything,—even to last year's suit of clothes.

Among the people whose business is fundamentally sound is the gang in the room overhead.

Anyhow, we know the way to bring an end to all prison rioting. Individual jails. That's the system.

IN SOCIETY

ELLENBERGER—FASNACHT

The Rev. H. F. Richard's home was the scene of a simple, yet beautiful wedding Friday, November 28, at 4:00 p. m., when Miss Ruth Ellenberger became the bride of Mr. Harold Fasnacht, '29. Miss Helen Hudson and Mrs. Everett Fasnacht attended the couple. Music was played preceding and during the ceremony by Helen Eberly. Both Mr. and Mrs. Fasnacht are former McPherson college students and are engaged in teaching at Wley, Colorado, where they will make their home.

REVEALED AT DINNER

Fri., Nov. 25—Misses Grace Early and Edna Hoover gave a dinner this evening in the Y. W. C. A. room in honor of Miss Ethel Early and Mr. Murlin Hoover, who announced their engagement. Friends and relatives of both guests of honor were very delightfully entertained.

A two course dinner was served, featuring home cooking. A very interesting program of impromptu speeches followed. Each guest was assigned his topic by Miss Hoover, who acted as madam toastmaster. The speeches were all on more or less personal and amusing subjects. Following the program the chair-man asked for any announcements. Grace Early announced the finding of a diamond ring with the initials E. E. inside. Miss Ethel Early being the only person present who had those initials, it was given her. Congratulations and best wishes were then extended.

Those present were: Misses Mabel Lee Early, Helen Eberly, Alma Morison, Christine Mohler, Ethel Sherry, and Messers Walter Fillmore, Joseph Fifer, J. T. Williams, Roy Mason, Milton Early, and Rush Holloway.

ANNOUNCEMENT ENGAGEMENT

On Thanksgiving day Miss Mabel Lee Early of Stet. Mo., announced her engagement to Mr. Walter Fillmore of Ripley, Okla. Mr. Fillmore is teaching in the high school at Ripley and Miss Early is teaching at Stet.

EARLY MAKES ANNOUNCEMENT

The engagement of Miss Nada Mae Ritz to Mr. Lawrence Barngrover has recently been announced. Miss Ritz is carrying the leading role in the cantata that will be presented tonight in the chapel. Mr. Barngrover was a member of the football squad and is a popular student on the campus.

SPECULATIONS of a CALCULATOR

We "Spec" the fire department thinks things are pretty hot out here on our campus, for they sent the fire engines out here twice in 24 hours.

One of the Alumni of this College who was visiting his Alma Mater asked another brilliant student this question:

"Is Prof. _____ still 'round'?"
"Well, he is just as ROUND as ever, so far as I can see."

At a pause in the great game when one of the Swedes fell and seemed to have broken his ankle, one of the Bulldog players shouted:

"All right, men. We get a break, whatever it is! Let's go!"

We "Spec" that if the vacation had lasted two more days, everybody would have been tired of candy bars, that is, if all the prospective groomers were equally generous.

Well, we did not have the formal dinner on Thanksgiving Day like we had feared, but, ye dorn student, and all visitors who were present—did you notice the fancy pieces of cake, the caramel ice cream, and coffee to melt the cream? Surely, good times are on the way for old M. C.

Members of the alumni who were present for the McPherson-Bethany football game Thanksgiving Day were:

Murlin Hoover, Ray Nonken, Melvin Miller, Myrtle and Rose Meyer, Lena Beaver, Walter Fillmore, Lois Dell, Oliver Ikenberry, Floy Brown, Arlan Brigham, Moffat Eakes, Harold Crist, Lloyd Diggs, Paul Bowers, Ralph Bowers, Florence Lehman, Ruth Blickenstaff.

Floy and Esther Brown took Thanksgiving dinner at the C. E. Lindell home in Windom Thursday evening.

Nina Stull visited her parents near Arlington over the week end. Adeline Taylor, who is attending Missouri University, called on friends on the campus last Thursday.

Ethel, Mabel Lee, and Milton Early attended the Swede-Bulldog game. All three of them are teaching this year in Missouri.

William Bigham spent the week end at W. H. Beaver home near St. John.

John Berkebile, who attended McPherson last year as a freshman and who is now in school at Kansas University, called on friends on the campus one day last week.

Lloyd Diggs, '30, who is teaching at Gaylord, saw the McPherson game last Thursday and later left for his home near Lyons.

Dave Shackelford, sophomore, spent the week end with his parents at Arlington.

Syble Curtis spent the Thanksgiving holidays with her brother Ross, who is teaching this year at Waldo.

Verna Beaver visited with her parents Friday, Saturday, and Sunday at her home near St. John.

Ernest Betts called on his brother in Wichita Thanksgiving Day.

Ruth, Clinton and Donald Trostie and Essie Kimbal visited over the week end with their respective parents near Nickerson.

After attending the Bethany football game Lloyd Larsen spent the vacation with his parents near Abeline.

EACH HAS A PERSONALITY SAYS THE Y. W. SPEAKER

Early Leads Discussion—Crabb And Saylor Are Speakers

Tues., Dec. 2—Grace Early led a very interesting and helpful discussion in Y. W. C. A. this morning on the topic of "What Have I to Give to Others". Evelyn Saylor pointed out, in a short talk, that each girl had a personality to share with other girls, and stated that personality is the outward expression of an inward life. Lucille Crabb talked on sharing companionship with girls, just a smile here and a word there helps. One never has so many friends that another would be too many. Miss Crabb stated that a third thing which can be shared with others is the everyday services, a good deed a day for everyone. The closing talk was given by Esther Brown and Ruth Turner sang "The Prayer Perfect".

TO PLAY IN TOPEKA

Herbert Hochstrasser, who has received a position as end on the second all-conference team and who will play in the All-Kansas and All-Central conference game Saturday at Topeka.

STUDENTS ENJOY THE THANKSGIVING PARTY

Given To Those Students Who Did Not Go Home For The Holiday

Fri., Nov. 28—While the majority of students were enjoying the Thanksgiving holidays at home, some fifty of them who remained in McPherson gathered in the Y. W. room tonight for a social frolic.

A variety of amusing games were played, and even the other victors entered into the frolics. Lucille Crabb had charge of the musical program. Mildred Crabb, played a bassoon solo in masterly style. A couple vocal numbers followed: those of Oliver Tkenberry received much applause. Pauline Dell and Helen Eberly played two piano duets.

The girls at the party were "sold" at auction to the gentlemen for partners. Auctioneer Walker was kept extremely busy for a few minutes.

SEA-SEE SAYS COLLEGE LIFE IS DIFFERENT

Life in college is made easy for the young person. Your problems are settled by campus speakers and advice handed out free by faculty advisors. A detailed schedule of living and morals is made out for you. You may take any course over that you flunk—but in real life if you flunk your life you can't take that over. Your accomplishments are noticed and applauded in college but the world at large can't be bothered by your puny attainments.

In spite of all—college days are happiest, which may be just another trite expression to you on the inside looking out but it means a lot to the ones on the outside looking in.

Memories come back. Matron (a better soul never lived) trotting up stairs to break up a feed at the ungodly hour of eleven p. m. The male quartet warbling sweet melodies under their sweethearts' windows (romantically even though opposite the kitchen door). Those Monday chapel talks (condensed digests of some recent radio talk).

There comes not a day but has its fond recollections of by-gone "Alma Mammy" days. It's not the game that brings alumni back at homecoming—it's the secret thought that he will be acclaimed for himself alone and great is the disappointment thereof if no one remembers that time he made the winning touchdown for

McPHERSON BULLDOGS LOSE TO OLD TIME RIVALS AFTER A SCORELESS FIRST HALF

Long Pass From Miller To Sisk Gives Bulldogs Only Touchdown—Over "Swedes"—Bethany Scores Early In Second Half As Canines Weaken—Pedigo Stars For Bethany

BETHANY 19, McPHERSON 6

Miller And Bigham Gain Through Line For McPherson—Was The Tenth Annual Game

Lindsborg, Kan., Nov. 27—Although fighting a gallant battle but weakening in the second half, the McPherson Bulldogs lost to their old time rivals, the Bethany "Swedes" here today in their tenth annual Thanksgiving Day game, 6 to 19. The Canines held their opponents scoreless the first half and the ball was shifted back and forth on the field as the two teams struggled in straight football.

Just before the gun was fired at the close of the first half McPherson completed a 38-yard pass from B. Miller to Hochstrasser to bring the ball to Bethany's 26-yard line to open up one of the first real threats of the Bulldogs to score in the first half.

When the second half opened the Swedes marched down the field and with the aid of a blocked kick of the Bulldogs, Pedigo carried the ball over for their first touchdown. Again on the 6-yard line, Pedigo took the ball over for another equally. The goal was kicked and the score was 13 to 0 as the third quarter ended.

As the final period opened the Swedes launched a drive and the ball was brought to the 1-foot line, Pedigo again went over for the final plunge. The goal was missed.

McPherson's score came on a spectacular 36-yard pass from B. Miller to Sisk who ran the remaining 15 yards through a broken field for a touchdown. The extra point was missed. Bigham and B. Miller made successive gains through the line for McPherson.

Last week Dr. J. Willard Hershey, head of the College chemistry department received 490 gallons of helium from the U. S. Bureau of Mines at Washington, D. C. This helium, which is one of the rare gases, is being used in Dr. Hershey's oxygen-helium experiments.

Anyone who says this is a small world never ran out of gas a mile and a half from a filling station.

SELECT COACHES FOR TOPEKA CHARITY GAME

Liston Of Baker To Direct All-Kansas Conference Team

Coaches have been selected to coach the two all-star teams in the Kansas and Central conferences that will meet in Topeka December 6 to play for a charity fund for crippled children.

The Kansas conference team will be coached by Emil Liston of Baker and A. B. Mackie of Kansas Wesleyan. Ernest E. Bearg of Washburn and Fran Welch of the Emporia Teachers will be in charge of the Central conference squad.

— DRIPPINGS — from THE DOPE BUCKET

Thanksgiving Day while covering the Bulldog-Swede game we met Carl Olson, the sports editor of the Bethany Messenger. Mr. Olson was very courteous to the visiting reporters and helped whenever called upon in identifying players. . . . There is one thing that McPherson has over Ottawa, who holds the cellar position in the Conference with the Canines, and that is that they have scored a total of 13 points during the season while the Bulldogs have a total of 25. . . . One has to take off his hat to Coach Melvin J. Binford, McPherson, because he has fought a losing battle throughout the season with the odds against him. He has proved that he has the Bulldog grip and determination as first year coach for the Canine team and is well worthy of being the McPherson mentor. . . . In the Bulldog-Swede game there was a great deal of unnecessary roughness, if it might be called such, that is always distasteful to both schools. In a few cases "slugging" was noticed by the referee who immediately sent the offending player to the bench. . . . McPherson students and sport fans again have one more dominating picture before them to which they may look for future pride when again another Thanksgiving Day rolls around and the Bulldogs can "Beat the Swedes". . . . With the all-star Kansas and Central conference game yet to be played the 1930 football season will soon be over and a thing to be jotted down in the pages of history. . . . The basketball season is now being ushered in.

We take off our hats to Elmer Keck, McPherson, small, but mighty and boy! Did he battle last Thursday? Keck has been in there all season fighting hard every game. His grit and determination won for him the respect and admiration of several of the "Swedes" in that final game. Keck's twin midget, Countryman, deserves a lot of credit. Countryman was always fighting hard and he liked it. He is about the only man who went through the season unharmed—except for a "pealed" nose. In the Phillips game he had parted with his breath and was literally out but he remained standing and refused the ride from the field. Another boy you can doff your hat to is Blaine Miller. That boy left a good impression with everybody he hit during the season. He is looking forward to a big year with the Bulldogs next fall.

Our guess is that a good many authors are not yet convinced that their works are as cheap as their cutrate publishers seem to think they are.
