BULLDOGS AND TERRIBLE SWEDES BATTLE TO SCORELESS TIE IN ANNUAL TURKEY DAY GAME

Game is Played on Pasture West of Town—Snow and Cold Make Playing Difficult—Passes Usually Stopped

PUNTING DUEL DEVELOPS

Carpenter and Pedigo do Outstanding Work in Backfield

Thurs., Nov. 26—The McPherson college Bulldogs fought their ancient rivals, the Bethany Swedes, to a scoreless tie here this afternoon in the eleventh annual Thanksgiving classic between the two schools. The game was played on a field west of town formerly used as an airport, because of the poor condition of the Athletic Park gridiron. A crowd estimated at nearly one thousand spectators witnessed the game in spite of the chilly weather and the snow which fell during the entire game.

Neither team was able to gain consistently against the other. Passing and running was unsafe because of the poor footing underneath. The strong line of the Bulldogs held the Swedes in their only scoring threat after they had blocked a McPherson punt in scoring territory and advanced to the one yard line.

Carpenter, flashy Bulldog half-back, broke loose on a long end run in the third quarter, but was brought down before he could cross the goal line. McPherson held an advantage in first downs, punts, and yards gained from passes, but the Swedes held a slight advantage of six yards in the yardage gained from scrimmages.

The following is the summary of the game play by play:

First Quarter
Bethany made a short kick of about 10 yards and Keck fell on the ball. A long pass from Wiggins to Blinford was incomplete. Bethany drew a five yard penalty, but on the next play Carpenter was thrown for a two yard loss. Wiggins punted 40 yards, and Bethany in turn booted a 24-yard punt on the first play, which Carpenter returned three yards. Carpenter made two yards and E. Anderson added three more through the line. A pass from Wiggins to Blinford was good for 12 yards and a first and ten. Carpenter made four yards on an off-tackle play, and Anderson was thrown for a loss of one yard. An attempted pass was intercepted by Bethany and returned six yards. A. Anderson of Bethany made six yards in two plays, then Pedigo punted 34 yards. Wiggins was stopped for no gain. He then punted 35 yards and the Swedes returned it six yards. Pedigo punted 20 yards, and Wiggins promptly set the ball back 51 yards and over the goal line. With the ball in Bethany's possession on the twenty yard line, Pedigo hit the line for one yard. McPherson was penalized five yards for being off side. Anderson added a yard for the Swedes. Pedigo punted 43 yards and Carpenter returned it five. Blinford hit the line for four yards, and Carpenter added four more yards. Wiggins punted 47 yards and over the goal-line, the Swedes taking the ball on their own 30-yard line. Anderson made two yards. Rex Anderson went into the McPherson lineup for Hochstrasser. McPherson was penalized five yards. Pedigo punted 32 yards. Carpenter was thrown for a one yard loss. Wiggins punted, but it was blocked and the ball went out of bounds. Bethany took the ball on McPherson's 19-yard line. Pedigo made three yards as the quarter ended.

Second Quarter
Pedigo made 10 yards and a first and ten, putting the ball on the six yard line. He was thrown for a yard loss, then hit the line for two yards. Again Pedigo hit the line for three yards. Anderson threw himself at the stubborn Bulldog line and made a scant yard. The Bulldogs took the ball on their own yard line, and after a five-yard penalty on Bethany-Wiggins punted out 47 yards. A. Anderson gained two yards, then added five more. Pedigo was stopped for no gain. He then punted 21 yards. Carpenter was downed for a one yard loss. Reigel went in for Carmichael

VACATION LENGTHENED BY HOLIDAY MONDAY

Whoopie!—no school today! Such was the sentiment of McPherson college students Monday morning, because of the fact that no classes awaited them. A holiday was declared by the faculty, largely as a recognition of the excellent work done by the football team this year, and especially their commendable work and good sportsmanship in playing the Bethany Swedes to a tie in the chill and mud of Thanksgiving afternoon.

The extra day of Thanksgiving vacation gave many students an opportunity to remain at their homes longer before returning to school routine.

THANKSGIVING SOCIAL SPONSORED BY Y'S

Games, Contests and Short Programs Provide Enjoyable Evening

A party sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. was held on Friday evening after Thanksgiving, in the Y. W. C. A. room, for students who did not spend their Thanksgiving vacation at some distant place. A delightful evening was spent in contests, games, and jokes with about seventy-five being present.

After a "getting acquainted" game the guests were divided into four groups. The games following were contests between these groups and the group capturing the most points received a prize.

After the games a short play was presented by Charles Austin, Grace Lerew, Edith Bechtelheimer, and Everett Fasnacht. A violin and saxophone duet was played by Pauline Dell and Charles Smith. A piano duet was played by Lois Edwards and Pauline Dell.

After a delicious lunch of popcorn balls and apples, served by Alberta Yoder, Pearl Walker, Martha Anderson, and Constance Rankin, Miss Della Lehman gave a reading, Harold Cristman, who spent Thanksgiving on the campus, also gave a reading. As a last feature of the evening the group joined in on some group singing, led by Harvey Shank. Paul Sherry was in charge of the games.

FRESHMEN PREPARE A SOUVENIR BOOKLET

Contains Interesting Facts Concerning Class of '35

Mon., Nov. 30—An interesting and attractive souvenir booklet has been prepared by members of the freshman class to be distributed among its members.

The booklet contains a short statement of welcome and advice from Dean F. A. Replogle, and an excellent code of persons and group ethics, embodying the aims and ideals of the class. Two pages are devoted to the class roll, including the number of freshmen coming from each state. The last section gives the motto, class flower, colors, and officers of the Class of 1935.

Voluntary contributions from members of the class have made the book possible. Officers who are largely responsible for its preparation are Harry Frantz, president; Elsie Lindholm, vice-president; Lois Lackey, secretary, and Walton Smith, treasurer.

Lois Edwards and Gulah Hoover sang a duet, after which Una Ring spoke of the qualities of friends. She said that everyone should have at least one intimate friend, who should listen sympathetically and give advice honestly, and who above all should not be jealous.

Faith Ketterman discussed the value of Miss Feminine Charm's friends. She closed her talk by saying that the only reward of virtue is virtue and the only way to have a friend is to be one.

Besides a number of quartet numbers, they presented several duets and solo selections.

Miss Margaret Shelley, accompanied by Pauline Dell, played a violin solo.

One of the greatest troubles is that most people try to live up to their dispositions.

"Thank you" is still not ignored.

HUGHEY, FASNACHT DEBATE

Judge Bright Calls It A Tie Between Yale and Dartmouth

Mon., Nov. 30—Saxophones, snow-white stallions, football, and debate, seasoned by a few speeches, was the bill of fare at the All-school Party held this evening in the parlors of the College Church. Few students and faculty members missed the social.

A saxophone trio, composed of Burr Miller, Charles Smith, and John Austin, furnished much of the music for the evening, and was nearly exhausted before the affair ended.

The Thespians gave a vivid and entertaining dramatization of "Cinderella" which was enjoyed by all. Everett Fasnacht and Hobart Huey debated the question, "Resolved, that girls should not date boys who wear corduroy pants." Prof. J. D. Bright, the judge, played safe by calling it a tie with a score of 33 points each for Yale and Dartmouth respectively.

A football game between Swedes and Bulldogs resulted in an overwhelming victory for the Bulldogs. The program was completed with a duet by Merle Fisher and Evelyn Heiney, a baritone horn solo by Posey Jamison, and a pianola given by Mildred Doyle.

Last but not least was the pumpkin pie served to the guests.

Y. W. C. A. PROGRAMS DEAL WITH FRIENDSHIP

Unusual Plan to be Outlined at Meeting Next Tuesday

It is announced that the Y. W. C. A. programs until Christmas are to have "Friendship" as their theme.

The program next Tuesday morning will be the second of the "Friendship" series of programs. It will deal with the cultivation, maintenance, and appreciation of friendship. During the two days following Tuesday the Y. W. C. A. girls will write notes to their friends telling them of their appreciation for them. It is the aim of this plan that every girl should participate and let her friends know that she appreciates them. Every girl is especially urged to be present at the meeting Tuesday morning to hear of the plan.

If a girl's character is judged by her clothes, some of them need more character.

BOTH SWEDES AND BULLDOGS WIN

This was the first time for many years that there have not been attempts or alleged attempts on the part of McPherson or Bethany college students to paint up and otherwise mar the campus of the other school preceding the Bulldog-Swedes football game.

Before, during, and after the game both players and spectators on both sides displayed good sportsmanship. Quite naturally each was very anxious to win, but the scores tie at least prevented disappointment for one team and its followers.

Bethany, we are sorry we didn't beat you, but we are glad it was a clean and well fought game. When that is true, both teams win.

SACRIFICE IS NECESSARY

Dr. John Nevin Sayre, editor of The World Tomorrow, who spoke at the city-wide mass peace meeting held recently in McPherson, is a careful student of international relations and a man who has learned the real situations in foreign countries by visiting them and studying their problems at first hand.

He advocated the following points as indispensable factors toward insuring international peace in the future:

1. Cancel foreign war debts.
2. Disclaim sole German war guilt.
3. Recognize Russia.
4. Strengthen our diplomatic peace machinery.
5. Effect actual and substantial disarmament.
6. The people refuse to fight or pay the bills for war.

Dr. Sayre quoted President Hoover's statement that the United States is expending seventy per cent more for arms now than she did before the War, and more than any other nation.

Most of these points meet violent opposition, but the roots of this opposition can in every case be traced to conflict with vested financial interests, prejudice due to ignorance or distorted propaganda, or kindred reasons.

It all boils down to this: If peace is to be a reality and the Conference at Geneva next February is to accomplish its purpose, some one is going to have to make sacrifices, in some cases losses of money and position, but in the majority of instances people will merely have to give up some of their prejudices and face actual facts. They will have to recognize the fact that hatred, distrust, selfishness, and greed are not sources of peace and good will between individuals, and likewise not between nations. They are not in the same category with World Peace.

THREE IN ONE

Things that can happen when three radio stations come in on the same wave length is said to be the experience of a man who had just installed a radio and had not learned all the fine points of eliminating cross-current. He tuned in, getting three stations on the same wave length. One was a minister. One was telling the conditions of the roads and the third was a lecture on poultry. Here is what he heard:

The Old Testament tells us that the baby chicks should detour one mile south of Salfin and listen to the words of the prophets. Be careful in the selection of your eggs and you will find hard-surfaced roads on to Garden City. We find in Genesis that the roads are muddy just west of the hen house and clean straw is essential if you would save your soul. After passing through Leavenworth, turn north to Jerico. Three wise men bought a large size incubator on account of a bad detour. The baby chicks were troubled with the pip and bond issue is talked of in the Holy City. Keep the feet clean and dry, live a life of righteousness and turn south one mile west of the school house. Much care should be used in commanding the sun to stand still as there is a bad wash-out at the bridge at Paola and the road to Salvation is under repair, making it necessary for 70 degrees in the brooder house at all times. After you leave Winfield, unless you do these things the wrath of the Lord will cause the pin feathers to fall out and detour one mile south. Many are called, but few have any luck unless the gravel road between Topeka and Lawrence is mixed with the feed. Out of 500 eggs one should get roads from Coffeyville to Tulsa, and the Lord commanded Noah to build the Ark just one mile west of Wichita. It rained 40 days and 40 nights and caused an eight-mile detour just west of the brooder house. Many tourists from the House of David are trying the Plymouth Rock mixed with concrete and a dollar to do right.—From the "Junior Pop".

"I will this day try to live a simple, sincere and serene life, repelling promptly every thought of discontent, anxiety, discouragement, impurity, and self-seeking; cultivating cheerfulness, magnanimity, charity, and the habit of holy silence; exercising economy in expenditure, carefulness in conversation, diligence in appointed service, fidelity to every trust, and a childlike trust in God."—John H. Vincent.

The best way to handle a traffic cop is to move your head up and down as he flashes each sentence.

We heard recently about the Scotchman in Detroit who took off his pants and threw them out of the window when he heard a boy below shout, "Five Pears."—Selected.

She: "There's a mistake of fifty cents in the butcher's bill today." He: "Phone him and bawl him out about it." She: "It is in our favor." He: "Better say nothing about it. We might feel some poor clerk in trouble."

CRUMBS THAT FALL

Without trial you cannot guess at your own strength. Men do not learn to swim on a table. They must go into deep water and buffet the waves.

The fact that you can't do a thing is no sign that it can not be done.

It is easy to elect a good man to office—the difficulty lies in getting him to stay good after he is elected.

When you borrow trouble the only collateral required is your peace of mind.

Some girls blush naturally—others put it on.

Be what your REAL friends think you are; avoid what your enemies say you are; go right ahead and be happy.

THANKSGIVING CHAPEL IS IMPRESSIVE SERVICE

Students Give Entire Program—Men's Glee Club Sings

Wed., Nov. 25—A special Thanksgiving program was given this morning in the college chapel, with the program starting fifteen minutes earlier than usual. Among the many things to be thankful for, one of the greatest was the fact that Prof. J. High Heckman was present for the first time in many months, during which time he has been ill.

The program was of a varied nature, but it portrayed the spirit and attitude of thankfulness. Miss Evelyn Gayler read President Herbert Hoover's proclamation on Thanksgiving, after which Dr. V. F. Schwartz read several scriptures verbatim. Clinton Trottie presented a Thanksgiving proclamation written by Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, and Miss Vivian Steeves read the poem "We Thank Thee." In a few moments of quiet and thankfulness, several students offered prayers of thanks and the entire school family repeated the Lord's Prayer.

The men's glee club, directed by Mrs. Anna C. Tate, sang four numbers: "Prayer of Thanksgiving," "Massa Dear," "Vive L'Amour," and a levee song entitled "I've Been Working on the Railroad."

Dr. J. D. Bright brought before the group a resolution favoring Jane Adams as a delegate from the United States to the disarmament conference. The resolution was passed and is to be signed as a petition by the students and faculty.

The remaining ten minutes of the program was taken in charge by the cheer leaders, who led the group in a number of yells and stirring up a real school spirit to help beat the Swedes on Thanksgiving Day.

CORRINE BOWERS LEADS C. E. SUNDAY NIGHT

"Attitudes Toward Christianity" Is the Subject

Sun., Nov. 29—Corrine Bowers led an interesting discussion in Christian Endeavor tonight on "Attitudes Toward Christianity." The leader and several others took part in an impressive devotional period.

The first talk was "What is the World's Attitude Toward Christianity?" by Martha Andes. Miss Andes classified humanity into three groups: first, those who wished to enjoy the benefits of Christianity without making any sacrifices; second, those who are distinctly against Christian principles; and third, those who want Christianity for themselves and all others alike. Glen Austin spoke on "What is our Christian Duty?" He pointed out that, among

CHEERFUL CHERUB HAS HIS TWO BITS WORTH FOR PEOPLE ON THE McPHERSON CAMPUS, TOO

We're borrowing some of Cheerful Cherub's cleverness in order to relieve us of the necessity of using our energy to compose something for a feature and then it wouldn't be clever anyhow, for as the Cherub says—
I think of witty things to say.
I'd be considered bright—Except I always think them in
The middle of the night.
Now, please don't any of you feel badly for the things the Cherub says about you but some of them seem to fit people around here so very well that we couldn't resist using them.

These four lines of sentiment should be applicable to any poor hapless dorm student after a hectic week of work and scurrying.
I can spend six days a week
In solitude and never moan,
But Sunday evening is a time
When no one ought to be alone.

How about this for our dear Johnny Kindy who says he is some times tempted to do this very thing suggested in these lines.
LAZYBONES
I'd face my life with strong bravo heart!

If I could have one priceless boon—
That I might skip these frosty dawns
And have my day begin at noon.

And we would suggest Ralph Keady for this—
CAREFREE
Never hurry, never worry,
Live with leisure, grace and care—
For it's plain that constant rushing
Never gets you anywhere.

If you happened to see Gulah Hoover any this fall when the mosquitoes tried to inhabit both dormitories you will understand the why of this.
IMMUNE
I covet not riches
Or fame high and bright,
But I envy those people
Mosquitoes don't bite.

We'll attribute this to W. W. Wolfman—
AIR FRIEND
I lie a-while at dawn and think
How sad it is, all over town
Like other dressing souls like me
Who have to wait the window down.

Lillian Carlson:
HIGHBROW
I read the deepest books there are,
They never help me much I know,
My mind can't hold so many facts—
I like to say I've read them though.

And Gordon Kraus—
KINSHIP
It helps me when my past misdeeds
Flock round and haunt me with dis-grace
To think this secret sense of guilt
Is felt by all the human race.

Ward Williams
FACADE
My great lack of wisdom embarrassed me once
But at last I've acquired more galle
When a subject comes up I know nothing about
I just smile a superior smile.

This one for Vi DeVilbiss—
ADVENTURE
I like to take a reckless step
Defying gaily all the fates—
Like plunging in an icy bath
It shocks but then it stimulates.

This isn't meant to be a slam for Blanch Harris—
SOLO
I wish I could sing when I'm happy,
I try but my efforts are vain—
It's queer when I'm feeling so bliss-
-ful
To sound like a person in pain.

Dedicated to our dear President Schwalm with the best regards of those poor demoralized liberal students of McPherson College—
RULES
Conventions cramp my sweeping style.
Why should I be ruled by custom?
Rules were only made, I think,
For those who are too weak to bust

cm.
This one might apply equally well to almost anyone sitting at the foot-ball table and especially to one—
Arthur Ediger.
The meals that stretch all down my life
Appall me when I look ahead—
The lakes of soup and hills of meat
I'll have to eat before I'm dead!

Did you ever see the highly es-teemed Coach Binford play his best game of golf?
GOLF
I'm taking up the game of golf—
I use my mashie with such force
I heard a catty person say
I'm also taking up the course.

This is one time that the preach-ers of our college don't get slighted for we chose one for them.
DISGRACE
I'd rather be the lowly soul
Who suffers every deep disgrace
Than wear that sly rejoicing look
That sometimes lights a righteous face.

Some statements need not one bit of explanation and this should be clear to all. It is Shank.
EGO
In all my thoughts how big I seem!
I stand conspicuous in space,
While, like a chorus on the stage,
Behind me stands the human race.

Here is where the Home Ec. stu-dents get a break and to name one we chose Constance Rankin.
VITAMINES
How joyfully I used to eat!
No more such rapture o'er me stems—
Now vitamins and calories
Compose my spare had studied meals.

Dr. Harnly:
MATURITY
I used to roller-skate in spring,
Tall trees I used to climb,
I wasn't through with such pur-
-suits—
I've just been tricked by Time!

Here's to Tommy Taylor and his Idaho conveyance.
MOTORING
I have a little flivver
That goes up and down with me,
And how we stay together so
Is more than I can see.

Fern Heckman:
OPERATION
I've lost a sympathetic friend.
She underwent an operation—
She lived, but just to talk about insides in all her conversation,

REPRESENTATIVES OF CLASSES TO BE CHOSEN

Pictures of Two from Each Class to Be Taken for Yearbook

Too many people are behind in their payments for the 1932 Quad-rangle, according to Donald Trostle, editor, and Verle Ohmart, business manager of the yearbook. All stud-ents who signed up for the special price of four dollars for the book, provided that payment was made at once, should see either Trostle or Ohmart at once and arrange for set-tlement.

The panels of the senior pictures are now being prepared by the annual staff and by Leonard Walker, photographer, for delivery to the Mid-Continent Engraving company at Wichita, the firms which is doing the engraving work on the Quadrangle.

Editor Trostle has announced that the class representatives for the fea-ture section of the annual are to be selected at meetings of the various classes, to be held Friday morning at eight o'clock. One boy and one girl is to be chosen from each class, on the basis of ability to combine cheerfulness with industry, extra-curricular activities, and all round scholarship on the campus. This choice will thus conform to the theme of the book, which is "Cheerfulness".

VOLLEYBALL STILL THE W. A. A. ACTIVITY

Volleyball continues to hold the attention and interest of the women of the W. A. A. Beginning Tuesday evening of this week the practices are to be held three times a week until the week before Christmas, when the final tournament is sched-uled to take place.

After the holidays basketball will be the program for the following weeks. Elsie Rumpf is W. A. A. man-ager of basketball.

COACH BINFORD GIVES A FOOTBALL BANQUET

LIBRARY RECEIVES NEW BOOKS ON ITALIAN ART

Dr. Schwalm Contributes "The Victory of Mary Christopher"

Recent additions to the college library include a number of very in-teresting books concerning the Ital-ian painters of the Renaissance.
Some of these works, written by Ber-nard Berenson, are "The Central Ital-ian Painters of the Renaissance,"
"The Northern Italian Painters of the Renaissance," "The Venetian Painters of the Renaissance," and
"The Florentine Painters of the Ren-aissance."

Another valuable addition is "Med-ieval Thought and Learning," by R.
L. Poole.

Dr. V. F. Schwalm has contributed
"The Victory of Mary Christopher," a story of stewardship, and also a number of pamphlets.

NOT FOUND IN THE HEADLINES

What's this we hear?—perhaps only an idle rumor, but it smacks of truth. We tried not to believe it, but finally gave in to the evident facts of the case.

Well, it all simmers down to this —no other but Prof. Adelyn Taylor, professor of physical education, was forced to put some of her agile gym-nastics into practice Friday evening when she got home from who knows where and found the door of Kline Hall securely locked. Knocking failed to get any results for the simple reason that there was no one inside to respond. Matron Holsinger's keys proved to be useless in gaining en-trance to the dormitory, so the only thing left for the dignified lady pro-fessor to do was to climb the fire escape and hunt up a window that could be opened by persuasion or force.

The only way to handle the situa-tion seems to be to hope that the in-cident will not lower the dignity of the M. C. faculty, and also that it will not put ideas into the heads of any innocent little freshman girls.

WESLEYAN KEEPS LEAD IN KANSAS CONFERENCE

Battles to a Scoreless Tie with Baker Wildcats

COYOTES HAVE CLEAR SLATE

McPherson and Baker Tied with 333 per cent Standings

Thurs., Nov. 26—Kansas Wesleyan university retained its undefeated record for the season and undoubted lead in the Kansas Conference with its twelfth straight game without a loss today against Baker. Coach Mackles' Coyotes battled about in mud and water and snow with the Baker Wildcats for four long quarters, but neither team was able to score, although both reached the opposite ten yard line at times. The fine punting of Robinson was a feature of the game, and it served to keep the ball in Baker's territory most of the time.

The Thanksgiving games leave Baker and McPherson tied for last place in the loop, while Ottawa and Bethany share the second rung.

Final Kansas Conference standings:

Team	W	L	T	Pct.
Wesleyan	2	0	2	1.000
Ottawa	2	2	0	.500
Bethany	1	1	2	.500
McPherson	1	2	1	.333
Baker	1	2	1	.333

WILL PLAY WASHBURN COLLEGE DECEMBER 16

Plans for Barnstorming Trip Are Not Yet Definite

The Bulldog basketballers are scheduled to begin the season's basketball games with a battle against the Washburn college Ichabods, which is to take place in the Community Building on Wednesday night, December 16. The game is to be played earlier than usual in the evening because of a conflict with a play given by the McPherson junior high school.

Plans concerning a week's barnstorming trip just preceding Christmas are not yet definite, as a sufficient number of games to make the trip possible have not yet been arranged for.

The Kansas Conference schedule for the Bulldogs calls for the first game on January 15 against the Baker Wildcats. The complete conference schedule follows:

January 15	Baker, there
January 22	Ottawa, there
January 29	Wesleyan, there
February 5	Bethany, there
February 12	Ottawa, there
February 18	Baker, here
February 23	Wesleyan, here

BASKETBALL PRACTICE BEGINS IN EARNEST

Twenty-Four Men out to Practice Tuesday Night

Tues., Dec. 1—Twenty-four men were on hand for the second official basketball practice since the closing of the football season, held this evening in the college gymnasium. Practices are to be held regularly from now on, every evening at 3:30 o'clock.

Coach Binford now has the addition of a large number of football men to work on, and the squad will doubtless have some stiff and frequent workouts in the next few days in preparation for the first game with Washburn college, which takes place on the Community Hall court on Wednesday night, December 16. The Washburn team, directed by George Gardner, former Bulldog athletic coach, is expected to show the Bulldogs some real competition, as Washburn teams have a habit of being winners.

The list of men out for practice this evening includes the following: Posey Jamison, Loren Rock, Ralph Johnston, John Kinky, Harold Binford, Verle Ohmart, Art Edgar, Chester Siemens, Wilbur Yoder, Russell Carpenter, Leonard Wiggins, Harold Reinecker, Hubert Ikenberry, Harry Breeder, Kenneth Moore, Rex

Anderson, Roy Bartles, Gordon Kraus, Samuel Stoner, Walter Weddle, Edward Bradley, Howard Williams, Elbert Himes, Walter Pauls.

THREE MAKE SECOND ALL-CONFERENCE TEAM

Keck Captains Second Team—Carpenter and R. Anderson Place

Elmer Keck, captain of the Bulldogs eleven, was chosen by Leslie Edmonds and the various college coaches as guard and captain on the second All-Kansas Conference team this year. Carpenter, the hard driving halfback of the Bulldog team, was also given a place on the second team, as was Rex Anderson, the aggressive end on the Bulldog line.

In addition to these places on the second All-conference team, Keck, Carpenter, R. Anderson, and Mowbray received honorable mention for the Kansas All-State team, selected from all the colleges of Kansas by Leslie Edmonds.

The Topeka Daily Capital All-conference selections are as follows:

FIRST TEAM
Ends—Carlson, Wesleyan; V. Anderson, Bethany.
Tackles—Toews, Bethany; Mize, Baker.

Guards—McIntyre, Wesleyan; Hartshorne, Bethany (captain).

Center—Spear, Baker.
Backs—Robinson, Wesleyan; Knapper, Ottawa; Crookson, Baker; Buckland, Wesleyan.

SECOND TEAM
Ends—Spong, Ottawa; R. Anderson, McPherson.

Tackles—Hetzell, Ottawa; Hampton, Wesleyan.
Guards—Eckert, Wesleyan; Keck, McPherson (captain).

Center—Waters, Ottawa.
Backs—Boxberger, Wesleyan; Senler, Ottawa; Carpenter, McPherson; Pike, Baker.

— DRIPPINGS — from THE DOPE BUCKET

The Swede game is over; neither team could score, and both teams proved that they had some fine football in them. We will probably never know what the score would have been if the game would have been played on a dry field, but we feel as though it would have been something different.

The Swedes had one good chance to score that was spoiled by the Bulldogs. The Swedes blocked a McPherson punt in scoring territory and the rugged line of the Bulldogs held off the repeated thrusts of the Swedes.

Carpenter made a pretty run in the third quarter, and almost got away for a touchdown. And he might have gone still farther, but spectators were out on the field a few yards and impeded his progress. The entire McPherson backfield was playing good ball and fumbles were few even though the ball was quite wet.

The Bulldog line was charging in fine shape and the Swedes could make but little headway through the Bulldog forward wall. Time and again one of the linemen would break through and stop the Bethany runner before he had made a gain and sometimes before he reached the line of scrimmage.

We would like to have seen Ikenberry get a chance to place kick when he was sent into the game. "Ikey" has been doing some nice kicking recently, and is credited with winning a number of high school games by his accurate place kicks. If given time he might have booted a goal for the Bulldogs and made a far different score.

Well, it's too late to talk of what might have happened, but the Bulldogs certainly played their old rivals to a standstill. The Canines made one more first down than their opponents, made more yards from passes, and outpunted them, but the Swedes had a slight advantage in yards gained from scrimmage. We must now look forward to next season with this fine squad of men and a few good additions. The Bulldogs ought to be well up in the running.

Speaking of punting, the strong toe of Leonard Wiggins has been one of the strong factors in the work done this season by the Bulldogs. Game after game he has outpunted his opponents and gained yardage thereby when the opposition in the line became too stiff. Even in the Turkey Day game, when the ball was wet and the footing poor, he made an average of over 21 yards in his punts, despite the fact that one of them was unfortunately blocked by the Swedes. Wiggins also has an accurate eye when he passes, and his ball carrying isn't so bad either.

George Zinn and Rex Anderson were going good against the Swedes, and Keck as usual fought like nobody's business in an effort to beat the Swedes before his career with the Bulldog gridsters was over. In fact, great credit is due to every man who went into the lineup Thursday, as well as to those who had to watch the game from the sidelines. These latter had much to do with the success of the players who actually got into the game.

In addition to the four seniors mentioned in last week's Spectator who were to play their last game with the Bulldogs, mention should be made of Ralph Johnston and Roy Peebler, two seniors who have given of their best to the team, even though they did not see very much actual service in varsity games.

With football now going down as history we will soon be in the midst of basketball. We have four lettermen, some other members of last year's squad, and with a right good looking bunch of freshmen we should have a good team to put on the floor this year. It is now almost certain that the Bulldog basketball team will meet the Washburn college team, coached by George Gardner, former Bulldog mentor, in an exhibition game here December 16.

Binford hit the line for one yard and the game ended—score McPherson 0, Bethany 0.
