FIVE MEMBERS OF M. C. FACULTY WILL NOT RETURN TO THEIR POSTS FOR 1932-33 TERM

Mrs. Tate and Miss Shelley of Music Department, Miss Edith McGaffey, Matron Della Holsinger, and Adelyn Taylor Not To Be Back

VORAN TO TEACH VOICE

Popular Graduate in Class of '28 Now Finishing at Chicago Conservatory of Music

Five members of the McPherson college faculty will not return to the school next year, according to announcement from the president's office. They are Miss Margaret Shelley, professor of violin; Mrs. Anna C. Tate, professor of voice; Miss Edith McGaffey, head of the English department and Dean of Women; Mrs. Della Holsinger, matron; and Miss Adelyn Taylor, instructor in women's physical education.

Alvin "Cheesy" Voran, a graduate of M. C. in the class of 1928, will return to his alma mater to take up the work in the music department now conducted by Mrs. Tate, including individual voice instruction and group conducting. He will also teach the courses in theory now conducted by Miss Shelley. An instructor in violin has not yet been selected.

Mr. Voran has spent the last four years in Chicago, attending the Chicago Conservatory of Music, from which he will take his degree this spring. He has also been taking some courses in Bethany Biblical Seminary. While at M. C. he was an active and popular student, and all who knew him will welcome his return as a member of the music faculty.

Mrs. Tate has been instructor of voice here since 1928, and has made a notable contribution to the growth of the department. Miss Shelley, a graduate of Bethany college, Lindbergh, has been professor of violin since 1929.

Miss Edith McGaffey has been on the McPherson college faculty since 1919, after her post-graduate year at Kansas university following her graduation from M. C. in the class of 1918. She plans to teach in the 1932 McPherson college Summer School and then spend this winter in advanced study, probably at the University of Chicago. During her year's leave of absence her courses in English will be taught by Dr. V. F. Schwalm and Prof. Maurice A. Hess.

Mrs. Della Holsinger, although re-elected as matron, has resigned and will not be returning next year. The person who will fill her place is yet to be selected.

Miss Audrey Groves of McPherson will have charge of the women's physical education courses now taught by Adelyn Taylor, a member of the graduating senior class this spring. Miss Groves is at present enrolled in K. S. T. C., Emporia, and will be a junior in McPherson college next year.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET WILL OCCUR ON MAY 20

Novel Theme Being Prepared for Occasion Next Week

Seniors who have been worrying about whether there was to be a Junior-Senior Banquet or not may now remove all doubts from their minds, as the committee announces that the date has been set definitely for Friday night, May 20. Many conflicting activities caused the lack of announcement of the date previously.

A surprise theme has been worked out for the banquet program this spring, and it promises to be one of the most original and entertaining Junior-Senior affairs ever given.

Alice Ruehlen is in general charge of the banquet arrangements, and she is aided by the following committee: Pearl Walker, menu; Viola DeVillibus, invitations and favors; Pauline Dell, program; and Ada Brunk, decorations. The banquet will occur in the parlors of the College Church.

SENIORS 'SNEAK' TO SALINA FOR OUTING

Have Trouble in Getting Away From Campus—Leave at 3:30 Thursday Morning

FROLIC IN OAKDALE PARK

Class Entertained by Rowing, Motor Boat Riding, and Other Sports

Early Thursday morning the Senior class cast aside their dignity and left the campus for an unknown destination. After successfully overcoming the egg bombardment, water artillery, and kidnapping snare which the graduating class were subjected to, they were off to Salina.

The group went directly to Oakdale Park where breakfast was soon served. The morning was most enjoyably spent in the park playing games, including horseshoe and baseball. In the afternoon much of the pleasure was taken in rowing and motor boat riding on the river. Some of the class even succumbed to a few winks of sleep during the day.

Delicious meals were served at the regular hours throughout the day to the hungry picnickers.

In the evening the class attended a movie in Salina and returned to McPherson late Thursday evening tired but thoroughly happy in the satisfaction that they had had a most pleasurable time.

A. A. U. W. HOST TO SENIOR WOMEN AT TEA

Dean of Wichita U. Speaks—Program and Refreshments Please

Saturday afternoon from three to five o'clock the McPherson branch of the American Association of University Women entertained the senior women from McPherson College, Central Academy, and McPherson high school at a tea given at the McCourt Hotel.

The feature of the afternoon was a talk by Miss Grace Wilkie, Dean of Women at Wichita university and chairman of the northwestern district of the A. A. U. W. Her subject was "College, What's the Use?" Miss Della Lehman, president of the local organization, introduced the speaker. Other members on the program were two selections by the high school girls' sextet and two numbers by the high school string trio.

After the program the guests adjourned to the new McCourt reception room for tea. The refreshments and table appointments were in pastel shades. Dainty tea cakes, macarons, butter cakes, lavender ice, and candied strawberries were served. Miss Eunice Almen of the McPherson Association was hostess.

QUADRANGLES ON WAY TO THE BINDERS NOW

Donald Trostle, editor of the 1932 Quadrangle, reports that the last of the yearbook copy was run through the printing press last evening, and a new on the way to the binders at Kansas City for the finishing step in the process of preparation.

The Quadrangles will be back in McPherson either Tuesday or Wednesday of next week, but will not be delivered to students until Thursday morning because of the fact that no classes will take place on Wednesday, which is All-Schools Day in McPherson.

McPHERSON COLLEGE GROUP SUFFERS AUTO ACCIDENT NEAR CONWAY TUESDAY NIGHT

College Church Mixed Quartet Had Been Singing at Dodge City—Car Overturns Twice, Then Burns at Scene

ARE STUDYING "TWENTY-ONE"

The local Y. M. C. A. cabinet is using "Twenty-one," recent book by Erdman Harris, as the basis of discussions held in the weekly cabinet meetings. Two men are delegated each week to review a portion of the book and lead the discussion of material covered. The book is written in a simple and interesting style, and is well adapted to stimulating thought and planning for the young man just entering maturity.

SPECTATOR ACHIEVES HIGH HONOR RATING

Lacks 5 Points of Making First Class Rating in N. S. P. A. Criticism

The Spectator has achieved a Second Class Honor Rating in the 1932 Newspaper Critical Service conducted by the National Scholastic Press Association, of which the local paper is a member.

With a total of 730 points out of 1000 scored, The Spectator fell just five points short of making a First Class Honor Rating, one of the highest ratings given.

The range of scores in the 1932 Critical Service, with corresponding honor ratings, were as follows: 840 plus, All-American Honor Rating—Superior; 835-735, First Class Honor Rating—Excellent; 730-570, Second Class Honor Rating—Good; Below 570, Third Class Honor Rating—Fair.

The M. C. paper was not entered in the N. S. P. A. Critical Service last year, but two years ago the paper received a Third Class rating. Those in charge of the rating this year inform us that the ratings in general run lower than formerly, because of a revision of the scorebook. A copy of the latter, containing valuable pointers as to newswriting, sources, and make-up, with rating and criticism of our own paper on each point has been sent to The Spectator.

SENIOR PLAY MAY 24 TO BE MYSTERY-COMEDY

Well Trained and Capable Cast Insures Excellent Presentation

"The Perfect Alibi," mystery comedy by A. A. Milne, is progressing rapidly in senior class rehearsals, and work on scenery, lighting, staging, and publicity is being pushed in preparation for presentation of the production Tuesday, May 24, at the City Auditorium. Mrs. J. G. Bailey, local dramatic director, is coaching the play and directing the committees.

Every indication points to a full house and students are urged to have their seats reserved early.

"The Perfect Alibi" is a mystery story which holds the breathless interest of the audience until the last. There is much humor and plenty of thrills with no gruesome or harrowing emotional scenes. The plot is laid in an English well-to-do home; the actors are endeavoring to portray the life upon which the plot rests.

The chief members of the cast are Susan Cunningham, Mildred Doyle; Jimmie Ludgrove, Kermit Hayes; Edward Pontifex Carter, Ralph Keedy. Susan and Jimmie through hunches, intuition, and clever deduction discover that the villain is not the one they thought but another, and a breath-taking climax results. Other leading parts are played by Roy Peebler, Donald Trostle, Lawrence Lehman, Charles Smith, Verle Ohmart, John Kindy, Adelyn Taylor, and John Kindy.

The play is to be given at popular prices, hence a full house is expected.

NONE SERIOUSLY HURT

Mrs. Tate Suffers Injury to Shoulder—Bernice Drescher, Harold Beam Hurt Slightly

Friends on College Hill were relieved to hear this morning that none of the McPherson college party which suffered an automobile wreck near Conway last evening were in a critical condition.

Mrs. Anna C. Tate, M. C. director of vocal music, who was hurt the worst, suffered a badly bruised shoulder and painful injury to her chest, but otherwise was not in serious condition. Bernice Drescher, freshman, had a torn ligament in her left shoulder, in addition to minor bruises. Harold Beam, class of '22, was suffering some from a blow on the back of his head received in the accident.

Paul Sargent and Lee Miller of McPherson, driver and owner of the car, both escaped without serious injury. The group was returning from Dodge City, where the College Church mixed quartet had given a program before the State Rotary convention. Rounding a curve just east of Conway at a high rate of speed, the car got out of control, apparently from a defect in the steering gear, and after turning over twice landed on its top. The party all managed to escape by forcing a door open, but the automobile was burned up.

'RUGGED CHARACTER IS NEEDED,' SAYS SCHWALM

Appeals For Retention of Some of Puritan Qualities

Wed., May 4—For chapel devotions this morning Pres. V. F. Schwalm read a passage from the Bible portraying the strong, rugged morality and moral earnestness of Jesus. Dr. Schwalm stated that many of our forefathers and the New England Puritans possessed the great quality of moral earnestness; for to the Puritan life was a battle, a struggle for existence. Their attitudes toward life developed a great character to meet the obstacles they were to meet in their new environment, because success depended upon stalwart, rugged strength of character.

Dr. Schwalm stated that out of the colleges must come strong leadership for tomorrow. We are in need today of seriousness and moral earnestness to meet the social problems—we must have a social sensitivity. The speaker said that at the present time there is an unusual swing from the Puritan outlook toward life, manifested in many ways. "If life be cheaply held it will be poorly lived," stated Dr. Schwalm. There exists an attitude of moral indifference on ethical questions, and we have failed to make the moral discriminations which are necessary to strength of character. There is, in addition, not enough conviction about religious problems.

Dr. Schwalm stated that there is no finer quality one can have in the twentieth century life than that of moral indignation in the presence of sin. The modern day needs leadership of rugged, earnest character, under the banner of Jesus Christ.

SMALL GIRLS PRESENT FRIDAY CHAPEL PROGRAM

Two small girls, Anita Mullins and Lois Lorenz, 5 and 6 years old respectively, presented the program for the chapel assembly Friday morning. Miss Mullins played "Arabesque" and "Summer Days." Miss Lorenz played "Rippling Water" and "Spring."

Both girls are piano students of Miss Fern Lingenfelter. They are the youngest students enrolled in McPherson college.

THE SENATE GESTURES NOBLY

Washington, May 6—In one motion today the Senate made two noble gestures, the first for disarmament, the second for economy. The one motion was a vote of 44 to 21 in favor of the resolution by Hale of Maine authorizing United States naval construction up to the limit allowed by the London treaty.

The noble gesture for disarmament consists in the authorization for the construction of more than 100 war vessels and craft of various kinds. The equally noble gesture for economy calls for construction that will require appropriations of almost $1,000,000,000.

Senators Capper and McGill of Kansas both voted against the Hale resolution, holding the road to disarmament is not through bigger and bigger navies, and the way to economize in government expenditures is not to expend $1,000,000,000 for war craft.—Topeka Daily Capital.

Noble gestures indeed! And it is a few such gestures and I'll-do-as-I-please-let-the-world-mind-its-own-business actions which draw upon our country the suspicion of our neighbors as to our sincerity in our desire for peace, and make it difficult to accomplish anything at such meetings as the Geneva Disarmament conference where the United States holds one of the key positions.

YOU WANT A QUADRANGLE

Every McPherson college student ought to have a Quadrangle. In the years that one is away from the familiar college scenes there is no thrill which quite equals that of looking over pictures and accounts of classmates and familiar places rendered sacred by associations on the campus.

The Quadrangle staff will have a few extra copies of the yearbook next week when they are delivered, and every student who has not already done so would do well to place his order to secure a book if possible. A little financial sacrifice now will be many times repaid later.

THOUSANDS OF MILES

Many students do not realize how much traveling the members of the M. C. faculty do in going about the country surrounding McPherson giving speeches, attending meetings, and always speaking a good word for their college. Particularly President Schwalm, Dean Replogle, Dean Mohler, and Professor Blair leave town many times a week for various kinds of engagements. The miles traveled by these men and the others of the faculty during a school term would total many thousands.

FOUND IN A SENIOR'S WASTEBASKET

(The following letter was found in carbon copy in the wastebasket of a senior, whose name we do not disclose)

Supt. of Schools, Dinkytown, Kansas.
Dear Sir:

I have been told that there is a vacancy in your school system. I hope to graduate this year and thought I would give you first chance at my services. In addition to a major, I have a number of minors and feel that I could do a good job for you.

I am very fond of children as I have two small brothers. They are the cutest things. But, of course, you are not very much interested in my brothers.

I wondered if you would send me the names of your school board so I could tip them off that I am ready for a job.

I understand that you need someone that can coach football. I have not had any specific training along this line but saw a book at the Inn which tells about it for only 35 cents. I wondered would you advance me that much on my salary so I could get myself off to a good start.

As to my personal: I am well over five feet tall and have rather darkish hair; my eyes are a sort of muckle dun and I wear ordinary size shoes. If there is no objection, I should like to board with you while I am in your town. I am probably used to larger cities but believe I can become accustomed to yours. My favorite dish is whipped cream, w/ahmy, jello and pickle done in a combo de luxe. (I am letting you know so that your family can become accustomed to it).

Please have a separate bed for me as I have charley-horses and nightmares, even contracting colds on my chest at times. I would prefer quiet as I am learning to play the bassoon (only five dollars for five lessons, complete correspondence course).

Are there any stragglers near your school? I am very fond of coka cola.

If after a couple of years, you want me to be principal of your school I could do so but I would rather not take on the extra work at first.

If I should not graduate this year, I would appreciate your holding the job over until next year. (There has been a little question about my honor points).

As to salary, I should like $300 a month but would teach for $23 per month. Please do not tell this to the school board however.

Hoping to hear from you soon, I am—

Yours truly,
(Apologies to Pittsburgh "College")

ADVANCED CLASSES TO 'SPELL DOWN' ALSO

Since it would be unfair to those taking first year chemistry to compete with the advanced students in the annual spelling contest of words used in chemistry, the latter will be privileged to compete among themselves tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. Prizes will be awarded in this contest as in that conducted last month in the first year class.

JOHNSON HONORED AGAIN

Still another honor has been bestowed upon Daniel P. Johnson, M. C. graduate now enrolled in Kansas university. He has been elected to membership in Pi Mu Epsilon, an honorary mathematics fraternity. This fraternity is considered the highest ranking fraternity on the K. U. campus. Only two students in the mathematics department were voted membership this year.

CRUMBS THAT FALL

In after life you may have friends—fond, dear friends, but never will you have again the inexpressible love and gentleness lavished upon you which none but a mother bestows.—Macaulay.

If we tried to be grateful for what we have, rather than regretful for what we haven't, life would be easier.

The life that goes out in love to all is the life that is full, and rich, and continually expanding in beauty and in power. Such is the life that becomes ever more inclusive, and hence larger in its scope and influence.

The greatest service we can do for another is to help him to help himself.

The shallower a man's love the more it bubbles over into eloquence. When his emotions go deep, words stick in his throat, and have to be hauled out of him with a derrick.

SEEN ON THE CAMPUS HEARD IN THE DORM.

Naomi Witmore, Thelma Rattle, Glen Seitz, Lloyd Seitz, and Harry Bernard, all former students, were week-end visitors from Larned.

Lloyd Larsen spent Saturday with relatives at Hillsboro.

Pauline Dell and Miss Margaret Shelley were in Lindsborg Friday evening and Saturday.

L. D. Holsinger, son of Mrs. Della Holsinger, has been invited to join Delta Psi Omega, national honorary dramatic fraternity at Albion State Normal School, Idaho. Entrance is based on character, scholarship, and dramatic ability. Holsinger was a freshman here last year.

Elizabeth and Jo Wagner entertained the following guests in their Kline Hall apartment at dinner Friday evening: Leota Oaks, Martha Anderson, Merle Fisher, Lois Lackey, Edith Bechtelheimer, and Grace Heckman.

Dr. J. J. Yoder will be gone most of this week on a tour of several of the churches of Missouri. Next Sunday night he is to give the Baccalaureate Sermon at the Adrian, Missouri, high school.

Merle Fisher, Lois Lackey, and Walter Weddle made a shopping trip to Hutchinson Saturday, also attending sessions of the Youth Conference while there.

Prof. Maurice A. Hess plans to leave tomorrow noon for Indiana, where he will participate in a church conference. He will return to McPherson in time for Commencement Week. Mrs. Hess will accompany him as far as Eastern Kansas, where she will visit relatives.

Nim Stull and Marvin Hill, graduates now teaching at Wintom, called at the dormitories during the week-end.

Kermit Hayes motored to Larned Saturday.

M. C. CHEM SHARKS INVADE HUTCHINSON

Salt's Letter Reveals Many Marvelous Adventures in Salt City

Dear old Side-kick:

It really is just too bad that you weren't visiting school last Friday, for then maybe you could have tagged along to Hutchinson. You know, the chem trip—or in more explicit rhetoric, the visit the chemistry students make every year to the salt mines, reformatory, etc. in Hutchinson. I always did think it was downright lamentable that during spending all my life in such close proximity to the largest salt mines in the world, I could tell no more about it than that it is a place where the essential of the earth is obtained. Now that I have been there I have only to go to Europe, and then I will have nothing left to live for.

Dr. Hershey spent weeks beforehand coaching us on our lines and telling us different do's and don'ts. Not to get lost in the mines, nor take all the sweets from the candy factory. Also not to let anyone at the paper and straw factory mistake us for a bundle of newspapers and pitch us into the machine that chews up greedily everything to pulp just as your car does baby's rag doll—only on a much larger scale.

Well, to get back to the original subject—the chemistry trip, you know—we started early in the morning. At least it seemed early when it came to rolling out of the downy cot at about 8:30 a. m. It was about 8:30 before the late stragglers had managed to climb out of the last bitches and arrive at the paper and straw factory.

My dear, you would really be surprised at the things one can learn at such a place. Why there were huge rolls of white paper about six or seven feet long and about three or four feet in diameter, and when I asked somebody what those big things were for, I was told that they were used on mammoth adding machines for big concerns. They did look like giant rolls for such machines, but I had never thought of that. I opened my eyes wide and they about fell out on my cheeks. Everybody around me laughed raucously, and I thought that possibly they made funny papers at the paper factory, too, but I could not find any.

We all went to the salt mines, next. Thrills, heart-throbs, and shades of ink blackness! They peeked us tightly into the mine elevator and somebody said, "Well, I know just how the poor sardine feels, now." With a lot of squealing we undulated gently down into 700 feet of murky nothingness. We quieted down to listen to an ominous roar as we went through an underground stream. The mine was well-lighted, but we managed to stay pretty close to our guide, for there were so many branching alley-ways that it would not have taken much wandering to get lost in that labyrinth. When we got out, some man pointed to a silo about half a mile away and said that we had been under that.

They certainly were dumb at the Carey salt plant, where we went next, but I guess they didn't know that this is a school of quality. They seemed to think that we spend all our time raising rabbits, for they gave each of us a cake of rabbit salt.

At the flour mill we rode stealthily up and down on the individual elevator when no one was looking. Imagine our quick fade-out when we were told that a man had been killed riding on that very elevator only two days before!

After lunch we went to the Morton salt plant and gazed at the huge piles of white salt. We decided that one pile would furnish one average-sized family with table salt for sixty-eight years, three months, and five days, or for 21,258 meals. Pardon me, but did I hear you say that it seems as if I had used the word salt once or twice in this letter?

At the reformatory we decided that dormitory food was not so bad after all. The seats in the dining hall did not look very comfortable, either. But say, girl, I know now why good looking fellows seem so scarce (as far as I am concerned, anyway). They are all in the reformatory.

They got generous at the candy factory and gave us all suckers. Dr. Hershey had told us before that if any of us simply could not resist taking some saccharine food, that he would help us by buying us some candy afterwards. As we were starting home we saw him walking along the street carrying two big sacks of candy, but we never did find out if they were for some young candy-kleptomaniac-students or for the younger Hershey.

At the Bond Bread Bakery, we were shown vitamin D. Have you ever seen vitamin D? Well, neither have I.

Just as we started home the heavens seemed to open and descend upon us. We looked in our purses and pockets, got out our little paddles, and proceeded to row home figuratively, you realize, of course.

Well, old salt, I simply must hit the proverbial hay in order to set up in time for a class or two. Saltily, yet saucily yours, Sal.

INTERPRETATION CLASS ENTERTAINED THURSDAY

Miss Lehman Toastmaster At "Cosmopolitan" Luncheon

Miss Della Lehman was toastmaster at a luncheon given to the class in principles of interpretation last Thursday afternoon by the home economics department. Each of the eight members of the class present gave an after dinner speech representing a different country of the world, discussing it as if just arrived from that locality.

Students who participated in the "Cosmopolitan" program were Velma Keller, Genevieve Crist, Mattie Shay, Una Ring, Marjorie Brown, Rosalind Almen, Velma Amos, and George Peters.

The food was prepared and served by Florence Dresher and Ruth Ihde.

HOME EC. DEPARTMENT TO HOLD OPEN HOUSE

Next Tuesday Visitors May See Displays of Department's Work

Next Tuesday, May 17, the department of home economics plans to have an open house for visitors, including demonstrations and displays of the work done by the department. Beginning at 2:00 o'clock a demonstration by the clothing classes, featured by a living model "dress revue" of garments made this year in the department, will take place for the benefit of visitors. Following this there will be similar demonstrations by the foods classes of their work and the results of their labors in the cooking laboratory.

Every course in the department is to be featured, according to Miss Helen McIlraith, home economics instructor, and everyone is cordially invited to attend the open house.

HERSHEY TO LECTURE ON 'RADIUM' TONIGHT

Tonight at 8:00 o'clock Dr. J. W. Hershey will give his lecture on "Radium" in the chemistry lecture room of Harnly Hall.

While this lecture is primarily for the first year chemistry class, it will be very interesting and educational to any other students who wish to attend. Demonstrations on radium and its uses will be given in addition to the lecture. The admission is free and everyone is cordially invited.

"MOTHER" SUBJECT OF TALK

Mrs. Melvin Binford spoke to the Y. W. C. A. cabinet in the regular Monday night meeting on the subject of "Mother." During the weekly meetings held on Friday morning from 8:00 to 8:30 o'clock the Y. W. C. A. has been using Raymond Foudiek's "Meaning of Prayer" as the basis of its discussion.

ATTEND ROTARY CONVENTION

Pres. V. F. Schwalm and Dean R. E. Mohler went to the state Rotary convention held yesterday at Dodge City, Kansas, taking their wives with them. At noon they participated in a program on "Peace."

TWO LONG LOST BOOKS RETURNED TO SHELVES

Spring housecleaning is bringing results. Several books have come back to the library which have gone for quite some time. One book, "Music and Culture", has been absent from our shelves since 1927; another, vol. 8 of "Famous American Statesmen and Orators" has been away since 1928. Hjorth, "Principles of Woodworking" after an absence of some months has returned to grace our shelves. It had disappeared from the reserve shelf and was greatly in demand. Several magazines, too, have made a much appreciated reappearance.

"ELECTRIC BULLETS"

THE result of exhaustive wind-tunnel tests of conventional trolley car models revealed that at speeds of 70 and 80 miles per hour, 70 per cent of the total power was consumed in overcoming air resistance. Streamlining saves approximately 20 per cent of the power.

When the Philadelphia and Western Railway Company decided to replace its cars with faster and more efficient equipment, it chose "electric bullets"—new streamlined cars—each powered by 4 G-E 100-hp. motors. The cars, constructed of aluminum alloy, with tapered noses and tails, are much lighter in weight and capable of greater operating efficiency.

In developing transportation apparatus, college-trained General Electric engineers have conducted extensive tests to improve operating conditions. On land, on sea, and in the air, to-day's equipment is safer, swifter, more dependable, and more comfortable.

TEN DOLLAR PRIZE IS OFFERED FOR BEST FLOAT

College to Participate in All Schools Day Parade May 18

The annual McPherson county All-Schools Day will occur next Wednesday, May 18, accompanied by the usual big parade of school children and floats.

McPherson college has again been asked to enter the parade, and a ten dollar prize is offered for the class or organization which enters the best decorated float or original idea for a float or marching combination in the parade. Entries must be made by 6 p. m. Tuesday evening, May 17. Upon registering a parade number will be given the entry by the committee, of which Simon Strouse of McPherson is chairman.

The ten dollar prize is well worth the effort of constructing a float, and it is hoped that the college will have its usual good display in the parade.

You can build no tomorrow without today's foundation.

W. A. A. TO VOTE ON PROPOSED AMENDMENT

At the next and last meeting of the W. A. A. for this year, to be held next Monday evening at 6:30, the following amendment to the constitution is to be voted upon: "That a girl graduating from college in three years may be able to earn 500 points a year, thus making it possible for her to earn a pin." A two-thirds vote of the members is required for amending the constitution.

At the last meeting which took place last week the new officers for the next year were installed. They are Genevieve Crist, president; Velma Bean, vice-president; Elsie Rump, treasurer; and Elizabeth Bowman, secretary.

M. C. ATHLETES WILL RECEIVE AWARDS SOON

Seven to Get Sweaters—Two Awarded Blankets by School

Seven McPherson college athletes are to receive sweaters this spring signifying that they have engaged in some sport as members of the first squad for three years while in college. They are Ward Williams, Loren Rock, Posey Jamison, Orville Countryman, Elmer Keck, Herbert Mowbray, and Verle Ohmart.

Two men are to be given blankets decorated with the college seal to signify that they have engaged in the same sport and won a letter for four successive years. Edward Bradley and Herbert Hochstrasser are to be honored with gifts of blankets. The former has won his four letters in track, the latter in football.

The sweaters and blankets have already been ordered, and will be presented to the men during the Class Day exercises Thursday, May 26. At the same time the athletes are to receive the letters they have won this year.

LARGE GROUP COMES OUT FOR SPRING FOOTBALL

Spring football practice was begun Tuesday evening with about fourteen men checking out suits. After this week five more men, now in training for the for the state track meet at Ottawa Friday, will check out suits. Coach Binford plans to get enough men out so that some scrimmages can take place before the end of school. Most of the work done will consist of drill on fundamentals, but scrimmage will enter in to a certain extent.

COACH RECOMMENDS MEN TO GET TRACK LETTERS

Coach Melvin J. Binford has recently recommended the following track men for letters: Verle Ohmart, Kenneth Moore, Wallace McGill, George Himes, Leonard Wiggins, George Zinn, Tommy Taylor, Edward Bradley, Archie Lindholm, Russell Carpenter, Herbert Mowbray, Archie Van Nortwick, Ward Williams, Wayne Blume, and Loren Rock. Most of these men will be eligible for track next year, which makes things look promising for another good year in track.

NINE MEN PICKED FOR STATE MEET FRIDAY

Coach Melvin J. Binford announced Tuesday that the following men will go to the state track meet to be held at Ottawa on Friday, May 14: McGill, Ohmart, Rock, Zinn, Williams, Van Nortwick, and Himes.

These men were picked because of their season's record in inter-collegiate competition and also because of their showing in inter-class competition.

Besides the track men Harold Binford and Lilburn Gottmann will probably go to play in the state tennis tournament held in connection with the Ottawa track meet.

COLLEGE WOMEN HEAR PROGRAM ON 'NATURE'

Poetry, Music, and Speaking Make Up Y. W. C. A. Meeting

"Nature" was the theme of the Tuesday morning Y. W. C. A. program which was opened by the singing of "This Is My Father's World." Marjorie Brown read a poem entitled "God Is Here," which was followed by prayer led by Greta Wilma Griffiths.

Gulah Hoover sang "Thank God For a Garden." Edith Bechtelheimer gave a short talk on the beauty of nature and its reflection of the beauty and power of God. Nature gives us a wonderful opportunity to find God, she said. The most glorious moments of one's life usually take place when one is out-of-doors.

Helen Holway sang "Consider the Lilies," and Rosalind Almen concluded the program by reading two poems, "Vestiga" by Bliss and "Mirrors" by Mary O. Sheldrake.

RICHARDS TELLS OF DEBT TO MOTHERS

Tues., May 10—"We owe something to Mother that we owe to no other living being," said Rev. H. F. Richards in the special Mother's day Y. M. program this morning. Rev. Richards pointed out that the best productions of music and art have been inspired by mothers, and that mother love is a strong appeal to the manhood of America. The men must also assume the responsibility for religious and moral training in the home, it was asserted, if the home is to be a happy one.

Blanch Harris sang a solo, "Mother Machree", at the opening of the program. He was accompanied by Pauline Dell. Donald Dresher led in devotions, and Lilburn Gottmann introduced the speaker.

GLEANINGS FROM THE NEWS

We have almost forgotten that the representatives of the leading nations of the world are still discussing limitations of armaments. Little will be accomplished by way of actual limitation, but the fact that such a conference is possible is a hopeful sign.

A youth crusade has been crossing Belgium, France, Germany, Holland, and Switzerland on its way to Geneva where it will make a plea for drastic cuts in arms.

Mussolini offers the world a plan to end strife and the depression. Italy is now on record with five demands—definite ending of debts and reparations; modification or abolition of oppressive custom barriers; remedying conditions in Danubian states; revision of such peace treaties as are now causing unrest, and the ending of international conferences.

David Lloyd George, one of Britain's greatest political figures of all time, a man whose oratory has swayed the benches of the House of Commons as had that of few men, has committed himself in the future to farming and to writing.

While Adolf Hitler, presidential candidate for the national socialist in Germany was making a triumphal progress through Berlin in a pre-election parade, government officials were making preparations to try him for high treason for supposed betrayal of military secrets to foreign governments.
