BULLDOGS TROUNCE BETHEL BY A SCORE OF 41-6 AT NEWTON, THURSDAY NIGHT, NOVEMBER 3

McPherson Completely Outplays Their Opponents and Gains 464 Yards from Scrimmage Against 78 for Newton Team

BETHEL'S PASSES FEATURE

Entire McPherson Team Plays Good Football—All Backfield Scores

Thursday evening the Bulldogs journeyed to Newton and defeated Bethel College 41-6 in the feature attraction of the Graymaroon's Homecoming.

Except for the second quarter the game was entirely a McPherson affair. The Bulldogs made several long runs during the game and gained 464 yards from scrimmage to a total of 78 for Bethel. Bethel's only effective way of gaining ground was through the air. The Graymaroons attempted 17 passes and gained 79 yards by means of them.

The Bethel touchdown came in the second quarter while the Bulldogs were playing rather poor football. Two nice passes from Norris to Kennison, each twenty yards, accounted for the touchdown. McPherson was weak both on offense and defense during the second quarter.

At the start of the game McPherson kicked off and the Bethel man was downed on his own 7-yard line. Bethel punted out and Johnston returned to the thirty-four yard line. From there it took just three plays to score the first McPherson touchdown. Wiggins going the last twenty-one yards on an end run. Wiggins kicked the extra point.

Again McPherson kicked to Bethel and then held them in their tracks after a nice return of the kickoff. Taking the ball about on their own thirty-five yard line the Bulldogs began another touchdown march. Several long gains by Captain Zinn with good support from the rest of the backfield put the ball in scoring position and Johnston took it over. Zinn missed the try for point.

The second period saw the Bulldogs outplayed by the Bethelites during most of the quarter. Zinn continued to make some nice runs, but the Bulldogs never seriously threatened to score. Bethel opened their passing system and began gaining against the Bulldogs. They even went through the McPherson line a few times for some good gains during this quarter. A pass from Norris to Kennison gained twenty yards for Bethel, and on the very next play another pass from Norris to Kennison gained another twenty yards, and Kennison raced the remaining 15 yards to the goal. The try for

COMPARES PROBLEMS OF PRESENT TO ROMAN ONES

Schwalm Speaks in Chapel—Trumpet Quartet Plays

President V. F. Schwalm spoke to the student body in chapel, Friday, November 4. He spoke of how, as history has been made, civilizations have risen, flourished, and then fallen. Examples of such civilizations include Egypt, Babylonia, Rome and Greece.

It is said by some that the western world or civilization has reached its climax and is now declining. The question is—Is America on the same road as Athens, Rome and other fallen empires?

Dr. Schwalm likened five factors from Roman history to modern day. The likenesses include: rice suicides; the abandonment of agriculture; the outlying provinces; the burden of taxes and wealth of office holders; the needy Roman crying for food; and the corruption present in politics and other fields. "Rome fell—will the American civilization? However, three factors are present today that Rome did not have. They are: scientific knowledge which betters human beings; the knowledge of government; and the influence of the Christian Church which will save or fail to save our civilization. The vital change will have to be brought about by a religious movement.

A concert quartet composed of Newell Wine, Guy Hayes, Raymond Tice, and Delbert Kelly played.

ATHLETIC CLUB AFFAIR IS MARVELOUS SUCCESS

Many Booths Attract Attention—Most Popular Girl and Biggest Feet Chosen

BODILESS WOMAN FEATURES Several Couples Lucky in Cake-Walk—Evening Closes with Program

The carnival and cakewalk sponsored by the W. A. A. and M Club Friday night drew a large crowd. The booths, and especially the talented hawkers made the affair closely resemble a real carnival.

The booths included a fortune-teller, the Seven Wonders of the World, a bodiless woman, a stand for candy and confetti, a place for throwing balls at pigger babies, and a voting booth where votes for the most popular girl and the man with the biggest feet were given for each purchase. At the end of the evening the winners were announced to be Lois Luckey and Coach Binford.

Besides the booths, one corner was marked off for the cakewalk, where several couples received cake and ice cream during the evening. The cakewalks were continuous, one following upon another as soon as a crowd large enough was gathered. They marched around to music the couples being in the two lucky spots when the music ended receiving the rewards.

The evening was brought to a close with a short and varied program consisting of a dramatized joke by Esther Pate and Milton Early; a humorous reading by Ada Brunk; a short play including the cast Lois Edwards, Newell Wine, Odessa Crist, Guy Hayes, Raymond Tice, Delbert Kelly, and Newell Wine; and group singing led by Archie Lindholm. The numbers were announced, or rather shouted by Ward Williams seated on the piano.

Everyone went home after a hilarious time covered with confetti, but otherwise happy.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR HAS A MISSIONARY PROGRAM

The College Christian Endeavor enjoyed a very interesting Missionary Program Sunday evening. The theme was "Stories of Those Who Sought and Found".

Devotionals were conducted by Paul Sherry. Wayne Carr led several group songs. Edith Richards presented "A Brahmin Who Sought for Peace", and Grace Heckman gave "Change Carlo's Quest". The diet "Hold Thou My Hand" was sung by Margretta and Marzella Okerlund. Martha Andes read "The Tree That Gave Its Life".

SOPIHOMORES MEET FRIDAY

Friday morning at 8:30 the sophomore class held a meeting. The class decided to collect the Quadrangle dues next year, instead of this year. Dues were voted upon and the students each chose his personal faculty advisor. A committee composed of Maxine Ring, Etta Nickel, and Walter Pauls, was appointed to get the choice of the students who were absent from the meeting. Margaret Oliver, Leonard Wiggins, and Grace Leroy were appointed as a party committee to arrange for the sophomore social which is to be held in the near future.

JUNIORS HAVE MEETING

On Friday morning the Juniors held a short class meeting to vote on the budget which was presented by Corrine Bowers. A class sponsor was then chosen, and Prof. Alvin Moran was elected by a large majority. It was decided to leave all thought of a party to the future.

INTERNATIONAL CLUB PLANNING PROGRAM

To Have Old Graduates Speak And a Film for Homecoming Friday

The International Relations Club has assured those planning for homecomers that high class educational features will not be amiss.

The program provided by the club includes music from the college department, addresses by former students, readings, an impersonation, and a film brought from New York.

At present the program is as follows:

Music.
Reading: Zona Gale's "The Unknown Soldier" by Amelia Barber.
International tele-tete: Great Britain, France, United States, Russia, Italy, Germany, and Japan, by club members.

Address: "The Present Status of Disarmament" by Lillian Carlson, class of '32.

Music.
Address: "The Present Role of the United States in Foreign Affairs" by Keith Hayes, class of '31.

Film: "Seeing the League of Nations".

The program is being supervised by Dr. J. D. Bright, faculty advisor of the International Relations Club.

HERSHEY LECTURES TO THE CHEMISTRY CLUB

"Synthetic Atmospheres" Is His Subject—Tells of Years of Experiments

Last Thursday evening the Chemistry Society held its regular meeting at 6:30. In the absence of the vice-president, Hope Nickel, Lester Lewis presided. He introduced Dr. J. W. Hershey to the audience, explaining that his subject would be "Synthetic Atmospheres", the field in which Dr. Hershey has conducted experimentation and research for twelve years here at McPherson College.

Dr. Hershey explained that he entered this research primarily to determine how long animal life could live in pure oxygen. After satisfying himself that life could not exist in pure oxygen for any length of time other experiments readily suggested themselves, such as, the best proportion of nitrogen and oxygen conducive to best health, what gas can be substituted for nitrogen as the inert part of the air, what effect do the rare gases have on life, etc. These experiments have covered the better part of ten years, and are by no means completed.

A motion picture and illustrated slides were used by Dr. Hershey to make parts of his lecture clear. There were forty-five persons in attendance.

ARMISTICE PROGRAM FEATURES IN Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. held a special Armistice day devotional service Tuesday. The meeting was opened by a piano selection and group singing, and then Charles Austin read a poem on peace. Lloyd Larson and Milton Early read scripture responsively, and Royal Frantz and Gerald Myers followed with readings. Galen Ogden read a short poem, "Remember Again." After a period of silence John Kauffman gave a closing prayer and the group was dismissed after another piano number. Ronald Vetter played the piano selections.

WOMEN'S TRYOUTS TODAY

Heckman and Ogden Second Team Alternates—Six Girls to Try Out

This year's varsity debate squad will consist of Libburn Gottmann, Guy Hayes, Elmer Staats, and Ward Williams, according to the debate tryout held in the chapel last evening.

Since John Goering and John Kauffman are underclassmen, they will serve as alternates for the first team and as second team speakers. Paul Booz and Bernard Suttle are the other members of the second team.

The women's tryouts will be held in chapel this afternoon at 3:30. The six girls trying out this year are Ruth Hobart, Betty Juells, Gladys Riddell, Ruth Spillman, Mary Jane Groves, and Marlene Dappen.

Two varsity members are back this year, Libburn Gottmann and Ward Williams, members of last year's winning debate squad.

Guy Hayes has served as a second team speaker and first team alternate in previous years.

Elmer Staats, member of last year's second team is the other member.

The fifteen debaters met in Room D last Tuesday and drew for places for the tryout.

Those who served as judges were Prof. J. A. Blair, Dr. J. D. Bright, Coach Maurice A. Hess, Dean F. A. Hepler, and Prof. E. R. Bohling.

DR. SCHWALM ENTERTAINS THE STUDENT PREACHERS

Motives Leading to Choice of Vocation Are Discussed

Fourteen student ministers of the college met at the home of Dr. Schwalm last Wednesday evening at 7:00 p. m. for an oyster supper and to discuss questions which young ministers are interested in.

After a delicious oyster supper served by Mrs. V. F. Schwalm and Mrs. J. H. Heckman and been disposed of they settled back in their chairs for a short but interesting program. Rev. Richards, pastor of the college church gave a talk on his pastoral experience. He related several amusing incidents connected with his first experiences in the ministry. After this, Dr. Schwalm told of a number of famous preachers he has listened to and spoke briefly of each of them. Rev. W. H. Yoder, pastor of the Brethren church at Waterloo, Iowa, and a member of the General Ministerial Board of the Church of the Brethren, also gave a talk. Prof. J. Hugh Heckman, who was in charge of the meeting, then led in a discussion of what motives had influenced the boys present to become ministers. Each one of the students told of his own experiences which led him to make this choice.

A committee, consisting of Galen Ogden and John Kauffman was selected to arrange for future meetings. Those present were Dr. V. F. Schwalm, Prof. J. H. Heckman, Rev. H. F. Richards, Rev. W. H. Yoder, Charles Austin, Delva Bradshaw, Milton Early, Everett Pasnacht, Libburn Gottmann, Royal Frantz, A. W. Hinds, Hobart Hughes, Chris Johnson, John Kauffman, Archie Lindholm, Galen Ogden, Ward Williams, and Bernard Suttle.

SNYDER WHISTLES FOR STUDENTS IN CHAPEL

Mr. Howard Snyder of the Snyder Food Company gave a very interesting program in chapel Wednesday. Mr. Snyder's vocation is whistling and he gave imitations of all the common birds of Kansas including the rooster and the hen. He imitated a dog barking, a Swedish cooing, a cow, the Missouri Pacific doodlebug, steam engine, lightning and finally the salvation army.

Merle Fisher and Edith Boehlhelmer sang "The Rosary" before chapel was dismissed.

BETTER CONCENTRATION TAKES LESS TIME

Probably the greatest difficulty the college student experiences is the inability to concentrate on the task at hand. Distractions of all sorts take their toll from the student's hours for study. It is not necessary to spend long hours at books, disregarding all other prominent activities. It is even unnecessary to study in chapel if one keeps one thing in mind, namely, concentration. When you study make it count. Don't sit at your desk, look at a book, and anticipate tomorrow. Live for the time being and concentrate upon your work. The result will be two-fold—more leisure time and wider interests.—L. H.

SILENCE IN THE LIBRARY

Instinctively human beings are gregarious; so perhaps that is the reason the library is such a popular meeting place for college students. In fact, the library is really a hilarious place at times; especially at nights when one has to arrive early to obtain a seat in this so. It is then that one hears a stifled giggle over at the round table in the west room. Chairs are pushed noisily back and forth on the floor. Private, half-whispered and half-spoken conversations are held. Dates are made and broken. Funny papers are read and discussed. At such times the casual observer might conclude that the chief aim of the library is to provide a place of social recreation for the students of McPherson College.

Of course such a state of affairs makes it almost impossible for any normal student to study thoughtfully and carefully. The noise-maker does not realize that he owes it to himself and to others to maintain silence while he is in the library.

In the first place a student is harming himself as well as others when he goes into the library with the sole purpose of having a merry time and a lot of fun. He is developing a quality of selfishness, for he is usually thinking only of himself when he disregards the rights and privileges of others by not abiding by the rule for silence in the library. Then, too, when he is doing a lot of talking, laughing, and whispering he is not getting any work done himself. In this way, again, the noise-maker is the loser. A student owes it to himself to observe silence while in the library.

Not only is he harming himself but he is also hindering others in their search for knowledge. It is a well-known fact that a person can not do two things well at the same time. This means that a student can not perform the role of a rapt listener to a noisy conversation and at the same time do any effective studying. Other associates in the study room are also annoyed by the agitation of the thoughtless student. The student owes it to others to maintain silence in the library.

In order to help students realize that silence is of absolute necessity placards and mottoes carrying out the silence idea might be distributed on the tables in the library, and one might also be placed on the librarian's desk. Then to accommodate those students who find it necessary to work and talk together a basement room might be set aside for their use. It might be a good idea to deduct at least one half honor point from a student's record after the librarian has notified a person of unnecessary noise for the fourth time. This procedure would probably emphasize the fact that silence is one of the essential rules of the library.

In order that character of the highest type may be developed and in order that more work may be accomplished the silence rule of the library should be stringently enforced and observed.—Submitted.

PERSONALS

Miss Velma Keller was the guest of Miss Pearl Walker Sunday. Miss Keller attended school here the two years previous to this.

Othetta Clark of Oklahoma City was seen on the campus Monday. She attended school here last year.

Prof. Alvin Voran went to Hutchinson, Friday night, to sing for a McPherson alumni reunion at the teachers' meeting.

Lenore Johnson, a freshman, got a cartilage in her knee out of place, yesterday, in physical training class. Coach Binford put it back in place, but she has been unable to walk very well.

Among the many former students who visited the campus Friday were Mrs. Lloyd Diggs (Vera Flora), Doris Ballard, Francis Berkebile, and Ruth Bish. Most of these were on their way to teachers' meetings.

Lloyd Larsen and Kermit Hayes went to Abilene Friday, to attend the corn-busking contest.

Several students left Friday with Vernon Rhoades for their homes in and around Rocky Ford and Wiley, Colorado, and returned Monday. They were Everett Farnacht, Ann Heckman, Zelta Oxley, and Elizabeth and Jo Wagoner.

Nebesa Galah Hoover and Lois Edwards, and Mrs. Lloyd Diggs of Gaylord, Kansas, went to Hutchinson Saturday to sing at the teachers' meeting there.

Walter Weddle and Loren Rock spent the week-end in Abilene.

Mrs. Charles Dillon, formerly Miss Fern Handke, visited friends here on Friday. She attended McPherson College last year.

Carroll Walker was on the campus last week-end visiting friends.

Miss Alice Egbert visited at her home near Abilene during the week-end.

Y. W. DISCUSSES FOLLY OF MAKING EXCUSES

Sponsors Every Year Writing of Appreciation Notes

"Don't make excuses make good", Lois Shelley, Helen Webber, and Corinne Suter discussed this topic in Y. W. C. A. yesterday morning. When you have a problem to face, face it immediately—don't make excuses. Face the facts and do your best.

It is now time to begin writing appreciation notes to the girls who have helped you over some rough spots. The Y. W. C. A. sponsors a program of this kind each year. Each girl on the campus who feels truly grateful for the help of another is privileged to write a note to that girl and drop it into a box for that purpose in the Y. W. room. These notes will be distributed just before Thanksgiving.

QUIPS AND QUIBBLES

Have you noticed how longingly Opetta Boyer looks at the food down in the dining room; she has to take five pounds off her hips before the play. Moral: Offer candy to her now, and you'll get to eat it yourself.

Mystery—Why did Dusty Rhoades go over dusty roads to Colorado?

In chapel Monday, Paul Booz was taken for one of the college student's little brother visiting school.

At Newton, Thursday night, three girls were wrapped in one blanket. Someone came up behind them and said, "Hello, Blair!" before he got close enough to see that the blanket held three instead of one. However, our educational prof did not seem to feel very much hurt, for he only said that the girls should feel complimented.

My! My! My! What is this institution coming to? One of the older and stabler pedagogues of the college was heard Thursday night to offer to bet a nickel on a kick!

"How many beans in this pint jar? Just a penny a guess, folks." That was Carpy's job at the W. A. A.-M. Club carnival. Paul Nelson was the lucky man with a guess of 482. There were 480 in the jar.

Strange, isn't it? The bodiless woman's head looked just like Elizabeth Bowman's cranium. But ask anybody present and they will tell you they saw Beth after the bodiless woman attraction had closed and she was perfectly normal!

Cleason Minter and Gerald Custer are quite lucky at cake walking. They walked twice and received refreshments the same number of times.

Do you suppose Paul Booz realizes he would not be so short if he did not turn under so much at the bottom?

A question that was agitating the minds of those at the "Aftermath of Halloween" Friday night was how many pounds Eddy, the football player, would lose. His job was to pick up the "nigger" dolls as they were knocked down. One would think it would be quite reducing—all the bending he had to do.

Harvey Shank sings baritone? And after all these years of skyscraper warbling? But Voran is supposed to know his harmony when it comes to picking a quartet.

Of do you suppose Harvey is really as young as he looks and his voice has been changing?

Down at the Bulldog-Bethel game Thursday night, nearly every McPherson rooster offered his services as cheerleader. At one time seven pepsters were leading nearly an equal number of "yellers."

Hobart Hughey vied with Coach Binford for the prize for the gentleman having the longest feet at the carnival Friday night. Evidently the football mentor had the longer feet as he got the prize, a pair of hose.

Now that the election is over, what will the pros find to talk about between classes and during chapel?

During the candle-blowing play at the carnival the actors became amused at something, and laughed, thereby distorting their mouths from their various, already distorted positions. (The play was a "mouthy" one anyway).

"Cheesy" Voran had one of his wilder moments Friday night when he got a far-fetched idea. He was watching the search-light in Hutchinson when Wilbur Yoder showed him what a strong beam the powerful spot-light on his car would throw. Prof. Voran said that it would make aeroplane pilots go crazy if he would turn that on, for they would think the landing field was moving across country.

Lenora Johnson would room on third floor, so that she would have to be helped up all those stairs when she hurt her knee yesterday.

"Beat Ottawa" was the slogan by which the boys in the elementary methods class answered to roll call

Tuesday morning. The girls were either timid, bashful, or were afraid of the teacher and refused to participate with the boys in carrying out their idea. Professor Blair's remark was, "I thought you might say, 'Beat Roosevelt!'"

Say, and did Pauls get excited down at the Bethel game? At least he had a big broad smile on his face and we wonder if the little Dutch girl from his home town, who was on the side-line, had anything to do with it.

There certainly were a lot of men going around in a daze yesterday—rather mumbling to themselves and staring unseeingly into space. And the women seem to have caught it today. Could it be that they are going out for debate, and tryouts are coming off?

"Benchy" Lichty sorta walked away with Sam Stoner's girl at the cake walk the other night. Benchy and Gladys Riddell wore two of the lucky four to receive ice cream and cake while Sam had to stand by and watch them eat.

URGE UNDERCLASSMEN TO ATTEND SUNDAY SCHOOL

Last Sunday the freshman and sophomore men's class at the college church, took a definite stand on getting new members. The next few Sundays each member will solicit in five boys who are not attending church elsewhere.

It is their aim to get every boy eligible for the class to attend and make him feel at home. Last Sunday the lesson was based on "World Peace". Duan Mohler outlined what the individual, the church, and the nation can do to promote world peace. Next Sunday the theme will be "How to Make a Living". This is a practical study and one which the men can hardly afford to miss, especially under the leadership of Dean Mohler, with a successful business man, Earl Reed, acting as assistant.

Instructor: "Why do they put a hyphen in bird-cage?" Student: "For the girl to sit on."—Annapolis Log.

BULLDOGS ALL PRIMED FOR THE OTTAWA GAME

Braves Undefeated Leaders in Conference Race—McPherson Won Last Year

BRAVES HAVE VETERAN TEAM Ottawa Seeks Revenge—Zinn and Team Determined to Win

The undefeated conference-leading Ottawa Braves will clash with the Bulldogs at the McPherson Athletic Park, Friday at 2:30 in the feature attraction of the McPherson College annual Homecoming celebration.

Ottawa, with its best team for many years has been going strong all season and has defeated some of the stronger teams of the state. The Ottawa aggregation has 12 lettermen and some other men with weight and experience.

Jack Knapper, Ottawa captain and triple threat man has been playing a great game all season. He weighs 185 pounds and was named on the all-conference team last season.

With this and all the rest that Ottawa has, the Bulldogs are set to beat the Braves. The Bulldogs did it last year by a score of 14-6 when they were doped to lose by four or five touchdowns.

The two teams are practically even as to weight with each team averaging approximately 178 pounds to the man according to the coaches' probable starting line-ups.

Captain Zinn and his Bulldog mates are anxious to tangle with the conference leaders and are determined to give them a defeat.

DRIPPINGS from THE DOPE BUCKET

The Bulldogs flashed their best offense of the season against Bethel last Thursday night. It was Bethel's homecoming game, but at times it looked like a track meet for McPherson.

Captain Zinn did some nice ball-gutting against Bethel. He made one forty-eight yard run and a three-twenty yard run. These were his two longest gains from scrimmage.

Newell "Tuffy" Wine, tackle, and Russell Carpenter, halfback, who were injured in the Oklahoma City game are improving and it is hoped that they will be in condition for the Ottawa-Bulldog game here on Friday.

Blume played a nice game at half against Bethel. He is a plenty fast ball-charger and is also a dandy block er. He certainly did make tracks when he raced seventy yards for a touchdown at the start of the third quarter. Also, did you notice Keek take the Bethel left halfback out on this same play?

The entire line played good football against Bethel, and in fact the whole team did for three quarters of the game. The line was making nice holes and as a result everyone of the starting backfield scored at least one touchdown.

The conference leading Ottawa Braves are coming to McPherson this week with the boast that they are going to show McPherson how to play football. After defeating Kansas Wesleyan Ottawa made the prediction that they must then show McPherson how the game is played.

The team seems to be in good condition physically for this coming game and the spirit within the squad is at its height. The squad has been pointing for this game and at last they are all ready for the Ottawa Braves.

Bethany again met defeat and this time it was to the Friends University Quakers. The score was 13-0 and it was the Swedes' Homecoming. We hear that Bethany is all set for the Bulldogs of Thanksgiving Day.

BEAT OTTAWA! BEGIN INTRA-MURAL BASKETBALL CONTESTS

Teams I and IV Lose to Teams II and III Respectively

Monday, November 7, marked the opening of the intra-mural basketball contests. Two very close games were played and another is to be played in the very near future.

At 2:30 last Monday, team I which is captained by Herbert Replogle and supported by Evans, Follmer, Brubaker, Taylor, Suttle, Kaufman, and Goering downed team II which is led by Gerald Meyers and consists of Booz, Pote, Sink, Brammel, Brooks, Whitcheer, and Abel by a two point margin, 20 to 18.

At 4:45 team III which is led by Wilbur Yoder and made up of Larsen, Heckman, Edwards, Custer, Early, Mathes, Flora, and Moore lost to team IV by a five-point margin, 23 to 28. In a no less hard-fought game, Team IV is captained by Charles Austin and backed by Gottmann, Tice, Ogden, Sherry, Johnson, Webb, Friesen, and Nettleton.

Team V which is captained by Sam Stoner and made up of Williams, Rhoades, Lindholm, Hughey, Fasnacht, and Frantz will meet team VI which is led by Gordon Kraus and consists of Sallee, Landes, Buckingham, Saylor, Kelly, Vetter, and Stuckey. This game was postponed because of previous arrangements made by the players of team V but it will be played probably sometime this week and the second round will start next week.

BULLDOGS DEFEAT BETHEL

Green and white jerseys are the distinguishing features of the players of the opposing teams and in the games Monday the green jerseys lost the first game but won the second.

GIRLS PLAY VOLLEY BALL

Great interest is being shown in the girls' volley ball. A total of twenty-seven are playing. Esther Brown, the manager, reports that practice will begin Tuesday evening, November 8, at 6:30.

McPherson right end and with beautiful interference raced seventy yards for a touchdown.

Wiggins' placekick was good for the extra point. McPherson kicked to Bethel and smothered their play before they could start.
