DEBATE QUESTION FOR YEAR IS ANNOUNCED

Probable Date For Tryout Set For November 8 and 9 in College Chapel

TOURNAMENT DECEMBER 8

Coach Hess Urges All Students Interested in Debate to Enter the Tryouts

The debate question for this year as announced by Coach Maurice A. Hess is: "Resolved, that the powers of the President of the United States should be substantially increased as a settled policy."

With many new students interested in debate and debaters who have had experience on the teams last year, McPherson college enters the season with good prospects. Two men of last year's varsity team have returned. These are Guy Hayes and Elmer Stans. Paul Heckman, John Goering, and Paul Booz, members of last year's second team have returned. The only member of the women's team who has returned is Gladys Riddell. Many of the new students have had experience and the tryout promises much more competition than last year's tryouts.

Prof. Hess has placed a bibliography of some of the available material on the bulletin board. The debater will find the material either on the reserve shelf for government or on the debate shelf in the librarian's office. Much of the material has already been selected and more is being placed there each day. These books are subject to the same rules as books on the reserve shelf. All students should carefully observe these rules because of the limited time before the tryouts.

The student is asked to read on both sides of the question until a week before the tryouts. On Tuesday, October 31, all candidates will meet in Room D to draw for sides of the question for the tryout. He should then prepare a five-minute speech for the tryout. He will be given a two-minute rebuttal. The probable date for the men's tryout has been set for Tuesday, November 7, at 6:30 p. m. in the college chapel. The women's tryout will be held the following day at 3:30 p. m.

All students interested in debate should meet in Room D on October 24 between 6:15 and 7:00 p. m. Problems discussed at this time will include the possible issues, sources of material, or any other question that the student might have.

The Winfield tournament will be held on December 8-9. All students interested in debate should see Prof. Hess and get his name entered in the Little Red Book.

DISCOVERS SKULL OF PREHISTORIC ANIMAL

Dr. H. J. Harnly Finds Bones in Sand Pit North of Town

Dr. H. J. Harnly has recently dug some bones from the sand pit twelve miles northwest of town which he believes are the remains of a prehistoric animal. After a thorough examination and a study of the circumstances surrounding the discovery, he found the skull to belong to a large saber tooth tiger. He added that the skull is the first ever to be found in this part of the country as far as he knows. He believes that it is an important discovery.

Some teeth were also dug from the pit which Dr. Harnly stated were from a prehistoric horse. The large bones belonged to an elephant and another from a bison. The task was, of course, from an elephant.

"These bones have probably been in the sand for 100,000 years," Harnly stated. Camel bones have been found in the country as well as the bones from the giant mammoth sloths.

It was not learned whether the bones would be placed in the museum or not.

BEAT GRAYMAROONS

PROGRAM ON CUBA WILL BE GIVEN BY I. R. C.

Students Will Also Give Armistice Day Program

The International Relations Club will give its first program of the year next Monday afternoon at 3:30 on the situation in Cuba.

Those students who will participate in the program will be: James Reed on "The Machado Regime," Samuel Stoner on "The Cuban Sugar Industry" and Genevieve Carlson on "The October Events in Cuba."

The club will also give a program in chapel on November 10. An Armistice day program will be given in the Brethren church on the following Sunday.

HOMECOMING PROGRAM BEING COMPLETED

Alumni Banquet To Be Given Saturday Evening in Arnold Hall

Plans for the Homecoming program to be given here November 3, 4, and 5 are being completed.

On Friday the game with the Terrible Swedes is scheduled. With Bethany determined to upset the home team and win from McPherson, the game should attract wide attention.

The freshman sophomore football game is scheduled for Saturday. Practice has begun and the freshmen are determined that the caps should be set aside after Thanksgiving. On Saturday evening the alumni banquet and the Oriental plays, to be given by the Advanced Expression class, are scheduled.

Lines have been learned and the action is now being worked out in the two plays, "A Flower of Yeddo," and "The Joy Lady," which the advanced expression class will present Saturday evening, November 4, as a part of the Homecoming program.

An entirely Oriental program is planned for the evening. Between plays two Japanese musical readings are to be given and a parol drill will be worked out.

Although both plays are Oriental, one, "The Joy Lady," is Chinese and the other, "A Flower of Yeddo," is Japanese. The latter play is written wholly in verse.

"The Joy Lady" will also be presented Friday afternoon for the ladies of the community, who will be asked to bring some piece of furniture or costume that may be of use to the dramatic department. Tea will be served in the Y. W. room, which will be appropriately decorated.

The principles of speech classes are helping with the costumes and properties, and several of the art students are making posters.

The Rev. H. F. Richards will give a Homecoming sermon on Sunday morning at the Brethren church.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR SERVICE CONSIDERED

The World Service Group in its regular meeting Thursday night, considered a number of things the World Service Group could do with present day problems. The discussion was led by Dr. Ray C. Petry. He brought out that the World Service Group could present opportunities for those interested in Christian service to gain some valuable experience in that line. In the second place, it would encourage a deeper personal devotional life among the students. Along the line of deputation work which is sponsored by the group there could be more definite preparation made in discussion groups and in other ways. Other discussion groups and open forums on various subjects could be maintained among students. Helpful book reviews could be given in the meetings of the group.

With this list of opportunities for service before them the World Service Group members felt the challenge to serve and the necessity of getting to work.

LECTURE COURSE OPENS ON MONDAY EVENING

Lloyd C. Douglas is Author of the Best Seller "Magnificent Obsession"

Lloyd C. Douglas, prominent minister and author, will come to McPherson next Monday to open the community lecture course here. This year's lecture course consisting of five numbers in offered for the season ticket price of one dollar. The lecture will be given in the Congregational church.

Dr. Douglas, before he turned novelist, was minister in the St. James United Church in Montreal, Canada. He later wrote "Magnificent Obsession". This book made a wide appeal to the people of the United States and Canada and sold widely without great advertising. The book went through twelve editions in thirteen months and a total of twenty-five editions. The book became a best seller.

Dr. Douglas was born in Columbia City, Indiana. After he became a minister he held pulpits in some of the best churches in the country. An interesting story is told of the writing of his popular novel. He had set out to write a book of essays and to enliven it he put it in dialogue form. After changing the characters some more he found that he had a novel.

The theme of his popular book is that there is always happiness for one in doing things for others. Dr. Hudson, the chief character of the book, has many peculiarities. He loves to do things for other people. He never lets anyone know where the help came from. After his death others find out his great obsession and pass it on.

He has also written another book, "Forgive Us Our Trespasses," which has been well received by the reading public.

Tickets may be obtained from Prof. S. M. Dell or from any of the student ticket sellers on the campus.

STICKERS NOW AVAILABLE

For those who wish stickers for their windshields, suitcases, music instruments cases, etc., an official "Bulldog" sticker has just been issued. These stickers are in the college colors, red and white, and symbolize the fighting Bulldogs of McPherson college. The work was done by expert artists of the Mid-Continent Engraving Co.

These seals may be purchased from Homer Kimmel or from Velma Watkins, at the rate of five cents each or three for a dime. They may be had gummed on either side.

REPLOGLÉ SPEAKS AT TEACHERS' MEETING

Dean F. A. Replogle spoke Saturday to approximately two hundred school teachers who gathered at the senior high school for a regular meeting of the County Teachers' Association. Dean Replogle was the principal speaker at the afternoon session.

We must get back to the truth that education is not training, nor is it propaganda.—Dr. Robert E. Vinson, president Western Reserve University.

BULLDOGS DEFEAT BAKER TO LEAD K. CONFERENCE

McPherson Scores in Last Two Minutes of Play To Defeat Wildcats

PUNTING IS BIG FEATURE

Score After Baker Interferes With Pass To One Yard Line

The McPherson college Bulldogs won their second conference game of the season last Friday night and went into the undisputed lead in the Kansas Conference race. The final score was McPherson 7, Baker 0.

The McPherson score came late in the fourth quarter with less than two minutes to play. A Baker man interfered with Pauls, receiver of one of Wiggins' accurate passes which placed the ball on the one-yard line from where bullback Burreas plunged over on the next play. Wiggins place kicked the extra point.

Following the opening kickoff, Baker reeled off two first downs in rapid succession going 10 yards on the opening play. The Bulldogs showed less fight at the start of the game than they have shown all season but the Binford-Selves eleven soon came to life and held the Wildcats and then Pauls blocked a punt and the Bulldogs took the ball.

The Bulldogs failed to show much of an offensive drive against the powerful Wildcat line but good punting on the part of Wiggins kept the ball deep in Baker territory during most of the first quarter.

During the second quarter Baker made a desperate attempt to score. With the wind to their backs, the Wildcats immediately opened up with a passing attack. A Wildcat pass was good for 22 yards and a few more plays put the Bulldogs in dangerous territory. Baker advanced to the 10-yard line, then on the next two plays the Wildcats lost 5 yards. On the third down a pass was incomplete over the goal line and the Bulldogs took the ball on the 20 yard line. Wiggins booted a good punt against the wind to get the Bulldogs out of danger.

With the ball in the center of the field the Wildcats again opened up their passing attack. A few fell incomplete, one was completed for a 2 yard loss, and toward the latter part of the quarter Binford stepped in front of a Baker pass and returned 25 yards. The Bulldogs advanced the ball with a few runs making a first down on the Baker 30 yard line as the half ended.

The second half was McPherson's game with the Bulldogs outplaying their opponents in all departments of the game. The Bulldogs showed (Continued on Page Four)

Friesen Still Leading With Twenty-eight to His Credit

With twenty-eight Quadrangles to his credit, John Friesen is leading the contest for the sale of the college yearbook. According to Sam Stoner, the head of the sales force, about one fourth of the school has been sold so far. Other salesmen who have turned in are Clarence Sisk, John Dunn, Esther Kimmel, Maxine Ring, Ruth Tice, Velma Watkins, and Margaret Oliver.

"Making a fellowship instead of an organization out of the Y. M. and Y. W." was the topic of her discussion at a joint meeting of the cabinets of those organizations Monday evening at 8:20.

"Taking on Color" was the subject on which Miss Scurlock talked at a weekly prayer meeting in the girls' dormitory last night at 9:40. "An individual should express his own personality instead of taking on the color of the characters which he happens to meet," Miss Scurlock said.

"Everybody is homesick" she said in the regular Y. W. meeting Tuesday morning. It is not always for home but it is a longing to feel at

A DEFINITE DECISION IS IMPORTANT

On Sunday mornings there are several worthwhile programs that you can attend. These include Sunday School Classes, Dean Reipogle's Teacher Training Course, and the Down Town Churches. If you take a Sunday morning now and then to catch up on sleep you lose out on an important lesson and so lose connection of the work.

Since there are only fifty-two Sundays a year it is necessary to make each one count if any good is to be had. Make a definite decision as to which program you wish to attend and then be regular. Keep going forward in spiritual development.

Welcome to Professor Petry's Sunday School Class for freshman-sophomore men.

YOU AND THE PEACE QUESTION

To the student who has in any way kept up with the proceeding of world politics and the discontent and fear which hangs over the nations of the earth, our present situation is none too safe. But the students feel apart from it all and seldom stop to think what he might do.

It seems that the least that he can do is to search out the facts of the problem and to keep himself well informed. The students in general cannot be accused of a slack interest in this problem. Then the student can work out a definite attitude toward war. Since last year many colleges have taken a student poll on the question of war and peace. This was done to establish a definite attitude toward war. And then, having done this, the student can take every opportunity to combat the causes of war and those who make war possible.

The situation today is one that must be viewed as an individual problem.

THE VALUE OF A COURSE

A student cannot possibly be actively interested in all the courses that he is taking this semester. This course I am actively interested in for I wish to take it up after leaving school. I shall strive to make good grades in it so that my chances for a position will be better. This course will give me a credit in English which I must have for graduation. I will not need much from this course as I am majoring in science. This illustration could be used for various courses in a college.

This attitude is far too general in the college of today. It proves that the student has not learned the value of the liberal arts college or in the advantages in having requirements for graduation. It partially explains the attitude of getting by in the classrooms. The student who has the above attitude will eventually learn that the required course may have equal value to the one which is not.

The student when he leaves college, or even before, will learn that the thorough study of any course that he may take will aid him greatly in his chosen field. Then, too, one of the purposes of a college education is to train students for future citizenship, which he cannot responsibly assume without a practical knowledge in several fields.

The student can possibly be justified in placing less emphasis on one course than another, but the wilful slacking of one course simply because he is not majoring in that field is bound to lead to disappointment.

BRAINS

(The Johnsonian, Winthrop College)

Personality, not brains, is the reason for a girl's success, Dr. H. W. Mikkelsen, professor of psychology at the Wichita University, believes.

"Psychology has determined by actual experiment that success depends 85 per cent upon personality and 15 per cent on brains," he states.

Brains are our natural endowment from heredity. The best that we can do is to develop achievement quotients within our limit.

Personality as the sum total of a person's make-up gives a broad field of growth and development, and places 85 per cent of our success on our own initiative. Courtesy, cooperation, dependability, friendliness, all contribute to the charm of the admirable personality—and hence to one's success!

Winthrop gives wide opportunities for brain achievement—but what of personality development? That is here, too: reading, culture, adaptability to varied personalities of students and instructors—many things for developing inner selves and charm. Will we use them to develop our charm and contribute to our success?

COLLEGE JOURNALISM

(Notre Dame Scholastic, Notre Dame University)

Much has been written recently concerning college publications. The writers blatantly declare that they are an unnecessary expense, a waste of the student's time, that they give "no fundamental news writing experience to any of the students," and that "their advertising departments make nuisances in the business communities."

If the censors of our student publications would thoroughly investigate the conditions of our local, collegiate (and we might add high school) journals, they would find that the college publication presents one of the few extra-curricular activities, both educationally and financially, on the campus.

Student papers may not give "fundamental news writing experience to any of the students," as one writer says, but, strange to say, there are many alumni of college journalism who are enjoying successful careers in that field.

None of the advertising in our college papers is solicited as a business man's favor to the school. Students provide a live market for the products of modern business and wise business men seek their patronage through the closest medium—the school paper. National advertisers contact the college man and woman through agencies whose exclusive interest is collegiate.

College journalism is not a fad nor a product of adolescent frivolity but an established institution with an enviable record of achievement.

EXCHANGE NOTES

The library of Wayne State College, Nebraska, has installed a rental shelf in order to supply the demand for popular fiction and non-fiction but still not draw too heavily on the book budget. Each renter must deposit fifty cents with the librarian. The fee of three cents a day for a book borrowed is subtracted from this sum until it is exhausted; then another deposit must be made.

The girls in the home economics department of Washburn College will study the General Electric model kitchen when it is brought to their campus November 8.

During the week of September 19 the freshman girls of Wayne State College were forced to go without make-up, wear green ribbons bearing their names, and run from class to class.

The first year news writing class of Baker University plans to attend several newspaper plants during the year, including the Topeka Daily Capital, Kansas City Star, and Kansas City Journal-Post.

The Kaw, the Washburn College annual, will appear this year in three magazine issues instead of one book at the end of the year. The first issue will come out December 15.

The Monogram Club of Bridgewater College, Virginia, has changed the rule that members of the club might wear their letters only on uniform crimson sweaters prescribed by the club. They may now wear them on any crimson sweater.

The women at Pittsburg state college exceed the men 680 to 574.

The cemetery at the College of Emporia contains sixty-one stones representing football victories. A mock funeral is held every time the team has a victory, at which the conquered school is buried.

MUSIC PROGRAM GIVEN IN CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR

Musical! Yes and more music. That was the college Christian Endeavor program Sunday night. It was an inspirational as well as entertaining service for all present.

A very interesting part of the program was furnished by four little tots, students of Miss Lingenfelter of the college fine arts department. These numbers were: A piano solo by Alice Mary Walters, two readings by Caroline Peterson, a piano solo by Johnny Walters, a vocal solo by Alice Mary Walters, accompanied by Johnny Walters and a cornet solo by Arthur Rolander. These little folks exhibited a remarkable amount of talent and demonstrated the high quality of the work being done by Miss Lingenfelter and the fine arts department.

The other numbers on the program were a piano solo by Viola Harris, a vocal solo by Bruce Peck, a piano solo by Mary Elizabeth Rapp, and a vocal solo by Loyal Miles.

The last number was a beautiful chalk picture drawn by Ada Brunk while appropriate music was sung by the ladies' trio. The final touch was given to the program by a cornet solo by Floyd Harris.

C. E. WILL ADOPT NEW CONSTITUTION SUNDAY

Next Sunday night the college Christian Endeavor will devote its time to a consideration of the new constitution of the organization. The constitution is being worked out this week by the members of the C. E. cabinet. Next Sunday it will be submitted to the organization. It is urged that the students take an interest in this meeting as the future organization of the C. E. depends on the steps taken at this time.

Dr. V. F. Schwalm spoke Sunday at Stet. Missouri. Yesterday he visited Kansas University, where he heard Paul Harris speak. On Wednesday he will speak to the Women's Federation Club at Caldwell, Kansas.

PRACTICE TEACHING IS WORST SUBJECT

Student Tells Experiences in the City Schools—Class Not So Pleasant

An excerpt from the autobiography of one who has been practicing teaching for the past five weeks:

With fear and trembling I present myself to my practice teacher early Monday morning. She looks me over, but forgoes any audible comment. She invites me in and I sit. (I continue to sit for the next two weeks). She introduces me to the class and requests that I stand. I get to my feet and seventy eyes (really thirty-five students, but I can't believe it) look me over and they are all saying "How can you think you know anything about this subject?" I sink to my seat and shake my head that I don't.

I am told on the second day that I take the roll and, as the pupils watch me as I move about the room, I feel sure that my hair needs combing or if the eyes travel downward that I have a hole in my heel.

We begin a sort of laboratory work and my training teacher announces that if anyone has a question I will be glad to answer it. Glad? Oh yes!

The next day a student offers me a stick of gum. I look at it with longing but prudence tells me I must refuse. Then someone seems to trust me enough to ask a question—although I secretly fear he is only trying to find out if I know. And wonders of wonders! I do know! I hold my chin a trifle higher as the pupil murmurs "Thank you" and seems surprised that I answered so clearly.

It isn't long, however, until my chin again rests on my bosom. I am sought for knowledge and I give it very convincingly. The student finally sees my point and agrees that I am right. But as I turn away a doubt creeps into my mind. Could I possibly be wrong? I have to admit it. I returned to the pupil to try to explain that his first thought was the correct one. Alas! I have convinced him so thoroughly that the wrong is right that he can no longer see the right.

We have a fire-drill. The teacher tells me that we must go outside. As we leave I hear someone mutter, "I hope it burns." But it doesn't.

It isn't long until I find out which ones come to me because they fear to show their ignorance to their teacher and which are still a bit skeptical about my knowing anything.

The day dawns when I am first to teach. When my trainer—please do not confuse me with wild animals—announces I shall take charge, a face or two brightens and I boom questions at them. And they come back swiftly with answers! It lasts for five minutes. A week later I remember to ask for criticisms, but my teacher has few and I decide that possibly I can outlive the rest of the semester.

home in the present situation. One girl may be homesick for any one of several things, among which are: material possessions which she does not have, friends, a feeling of good will toward other races, poise in living up to certain standards. A student may even be homesick for God.
"Constantly we have to transform our ideas of being at home to harmonize with the situation in which we are living," she continued. "In order to get rid of obstacles which prevent our doing this, we must broaden our horizons, and get a bigger perspective on life."

Kurtz is always talking about "The School of Quality—The Place Where Dreams Come True." He was understood the other day to have said "The School of Quality—The Place Where the Green Shows Thru." Watch your slanguage, Kurtz!

Debate must really be underway—at least I notice the prominent fornicosis coach in the library quite often, pouring over those texts, called "American Government" and the like.

I'm still in a quandry about this affair for Sunday night. Guess me and mine will have to attend.

Wingerd had a new bed partner the other night—a nice little kitty! Some prankster was responsible for its being in his bed when he went to turn in. Poor kitty, Eldon wouldn't let it sleep with him.

Hollywood took up the fad some time ago, but it only recently seems to have hit the M. C. campus. I'm speaking of this bicycle-riding habit. I saw Custer, Van Nortwick, Bowman, Meyers and Wiggins looking most elegant on bikes last week.

I went out to get a drink and had to give three great puffs before I could get enough dried leaves off the fountain to get any water.

Raymond Tice is really loyal to the M club. However, his loyalty got misplaced Friday night. He offered his services at the stand at the football game because he thought the M club was helping the W. A. A. sell refreshments. But the Quad staff and W. A. A. thank him for his help.

The refinery has made itself known again. Oh well! I no longer need to spend money on perfume.

We have heard a whisper that something is going to happen Sunday night. We heard the word "refreshments" mentioned, and that is how we happened to prick up our ears. Anyway we have heard several advising all boys to get a date and be handy.

The only reason we hate to see this year end is that we like the picture of the girl so well on the 1933 calendar in the library that we could never transfer our affections.

Forest Brown and Kenneth Weaver have been exhibiting some beautiful pink underwear. In fact their whole color scheme seems to be pink. And through no fault of their own. They put a red sweat shirt in the wash with everything else, and then couldn't understand how it faded. Maybe rules for washing, such as were once tacked up in the gym laundry room, should be passed around.

SCHWALM RECEIVES REPLY FROM U. S. PRESIDENT

Last Wednesday evening Dr. V. F. Schwalm sent a telegram from the students of McPherson college to President Roosevelt stating that the students were deeply concerned over the peace problem and urged that the president do his utmost for world understanding and harmony.

President Roosevelt in response sent the following letter to Dr. Schwalm:

"My dear Dr. Schwalm:
The President has asked me to acknowledge receipt of and thank you for your telegram of October nineteenth. It is very gratifying to him to know of the interest of the students and faculty in this matter. Very sincerely,

Louis McHenry Howe,
Secretary to the President."

No one ever amounted to a whoop by acknowledging an impossibility.

The only undefeated and untied Kansas college football team—Coach Melvin Binford's McPherson college Bulldogs.

McPherson, rarely figured as even a contender for the title, came thru the last week-end skirmish with a 7-0 decision over Baker university's Wildcats, became the only unbeaten team in the state and won the top position in the Kansas conference championship race.

The Bulldogs' victims to date are the Chillicothe Indians, Friends university, Wesleyan, and Baker.

All of the other 17 college squads in the state have suffered defeat.

Three of them fell out of the victorious class last week-end when the University of Kansas lost to Tulsa 6-7, Kansas State bowed to Nebraska 6-6 and the Pittsburg Teachers dropped a Central conference game to Washburn 8-5.

Altho McPherson rates first place in the Kansas conference as a result of Fullback Burruss' touchdown against Baker, Ottawa university has the Bulldogs tied for percentage.

Ottawa opened its title defense campaign with a clear-cut, 21-0 victory over Kansas Wesleyan. The Braves depended largely on Fullback Jack Knapper's passes on all three touchdown drives.

St. Benedicts' beat the Warrensburg Teachers, who are beset with eligibility troubles, 21-4; Friends lost to Oklahoma Baptist, 6-37, and Bethel dropped a decision to Hutchinson junior college, 9-12.

Only three conference clashes are billed for this week, two in the Central and one in the Kansas circuit. Southwestern meets Emporia Teachers Friday night at Emporia and Pittsburg Teachers invade Wichita Saturday. Baker and Ottawa have a struggle Friday night at Ottawa. Six of the seven exhibitions next Friday are intracate engagements.

SPORT LIGHTS

McPherson has had one of the most successful seasons in the memory of the fans and should continue to do so.

And boy, are they drawing the crowds with that fast playing! They have really had the support which means a lot to the team.

Now the Bulldogs are concentrating on the remaining three games of their schedule with Bethel, Bethany and York.

Bethel is to be met Thursday night of this week on their home field at Newton, and a goodly showing of local backers are expected to be seen on the sidelines when the opening whistle is blown.

While the Canines are expected to turn in a nice win in the above game they are not by any means being fooled into thinking that this will be a set-up.

Leslie Edmonds, well known sports writer in his column in The Topeka Daily Capital commented on the Bulldog-Coyote game. He praises McPherson in these words: "Congratulations to Melvin Binford and Lester Selves, McPherson college coaches for bringing their football team back into the league; that was a noble victory over Kansas Wesleyan and one that deserves a great big hand from those who like their football straight, undiluted by partiskanship. Kansas Wesleyan, under A. B. Mackie, has had an enviable record in athletics; that's what makes the McPherson swat seem the more desirable to the followers of the latter school. There's always more fun in beating a good opponent."

This would seem to be one of the big years as far as the Bulldogs' hopes of trouncing the Swedes royally are concerned, but the Bulldogs intend to take no chances in putting this game on ice.

Bethany has had particularly hard luck this season it would seem as far as injuries and losing games, not having won a game this year.

The last game of the season for the Bulldogs has been scheduled with York college, a strong Nebraska team which is expected to put up a good fight.

The grid battle with York will be staged as an afternoon game on Thanksgiving Day, and will climax the Canine season at home before their many supporters.

SKATING, BICYCLING, PING PONG ADDED TO W. A. A.

At the W. A. A. meeting Monday evening, October 23, it was decided to appoint a committee to arrange for adding roller skating, bicycling, and ping pong to the list of sports.

Ways and means for attending the coming play day at Hays were discussed. The club voted to suggest the week-end of November 17 as the time for this convention.

A very informal practice was held for a stunt to be given in pep chapel Thursday.

INTRAMURAL ATHLETICS

What will probably be permanent basketball teams have been chosen in the boys' gym classes.

The captains of these five teams are Emmett Shank, Eldon Wingerd, Kenneth Watson, John Schuler, and Bryce Peck.

A regular round robin intramural basketball tournament will be held among these teams.

Fourteen colleges of the East have agreed to eliminate the evils of the fraternity and to increase the benefits of college life.

McPHERSON TO MEET BETHEL TOMORROW

Graymaroons Are Out To Defeat the Bulldogs

Tomorrow night the Bulldogs will go to Newton to battle the Bethel College gridriders in a non-conference game. Dope in this game should be with the Binford-Selves aggregation but Bethel has a much stronger team than they have had in former years. Bethel has never defeated the Bulldogs in football and they are very much keyed up for this game. Information coming from the Newton school is to the effect that they have the best chance to win over McPherson that they have had in recent years and that they hope to take the Bulldogs into camp.

Bethel won from the Chillicothe Indians this year 19-0, while the Bulldogs defeated the Braves by a 34-0 margin which would give the local team a two touchdown margin advantage according to comparative scores. In years past Bethel has had a dangerous passing attack and they are expected to use some flashy passes again this year.

If the Bulldogs play as they are capable of playing they should win by a decisive margin, but with Bethel "out to beat McPherson" as they are this year anything might happen.

The two teams will be practically even in weight and also in the number of experienced men. Bethel has a weight advantage in the line but McPherson has some advantage in weight in the backfield.

BULLDOGS DEFEAT BAKER

some drive and a good offense that gained a little against a stubborn Baker line. Baker's punter got off a good kick with the wind but Carpenter, with good blocking on the part of his teammates, and some side-stepping returned the punt 30 yards. A few plays more and a pass from Burruss to Pauls was good for 20 yards.

The entire last quarter was played deep in Baker territory with the Bulldogs threatening throughout. Wiggins' punts continually kept Baker in extremely dangerous ground. McPherson used pass after pass in an effort to score in the closing minutes. A Baker kick interfered with Pauls as he attempted to catch a pass on the one-yard line and the play was ruled complete. With first down and goal only 1 yard to go, Burruss plunged over on the first down and Wiggins added the extra point.

Following the touchdown McPherson kicked to Baker and the Wildcats tossed one pass which was incomplete and Hann intercepted the next pass. The Bulldogs ran a couple of plays and the game ended with the ball near the middle of the field.

ROTARY CLUB DEFENDED

Paul Harris in his speeches last Wednesday made numerous references to lack of interest in the peace question by the Rotary club. Dean R. E. Mohler, governor of the Eighth Rotary District, received a statement from a Rotary member last week which he thinks is defense for the Rotary organization. The letter received by Dean Mohler quoted a statement of Luis Machado, Rotary member and one time dictator of Cuba, who stated: "I am positive that the action of the Rotary Club averted Civil War in Cuba."
