

McPherson Wins Sports Tourney

College W. A. A. Volley Ball Team Defeats Strong Winfield Team

Sports Day Success

Four Other Schools Entered Are Enthused Over Project

Five college volleyball ball teams, namely, Bethany, Bethel, Kansas Wesleyan, Sterling and Southwestern, were the guests of the McPherson W. A. A. in an elimination tournament at the Community Hall last Saturday, Jan. 29. The McPherson team in the final round showed an excellent skill and technique in handling the ball and defeated the consistent and powerful Southwestern team.

One of the big events of the day was the luncheon at the Brethren Church. Of the hundred girls served, sixty-seven were guests from the other colleges. The tables were arranged in the form of a W and attractively decorated in red and white by the use of balloons and crepe paper. Place cards were of red cardboard with a girl serving a volley ball, made from pipe cleaners. Red and white printed programs were placed at each cover. Our president, Marjorie Flory, presided and introduced the visiting directors and sponsors. The program consisted of group singing and stunts given by each school. At the close of the meal, pictures of the group were taken by Mr. Keith for the Quad.

Registration First

The program of the day began at 9 o'clock with registration and dressing for the morning events. Before the games were started, all the girls took part in a folk dance in order that every one might have a chance to get better acquainted.

The first round of the tournament was played in the morning. The team winning two out of three games won the match and went to the next round. The defeated teams played in the consolation. In the first round, Southwestern won over Bethel, Sterling took Kansas Wesleyan, and McPherson won from Bethany.

Southwestern Wins

Southwestern met Sterling in the second round, and played three close, exciting games. Southwestern was victorious. McPherson drew a bye in the second round.

Southwestern played McPherson in the third game. Southwestern won the first game by one point, but the McPherson team whipped them in the next two, and the victory of the tournament went to McPherson. Southwestern put up good competition, considering the fact that they had been playing most of the afternoon. However, the McPherson team, outstanding in its skill and in the excellent cooperation and teamwork of the players, proved too much for Southwestern. The McPherson team was most outstanding in its ability to pass the ball from player to player.

The members of the team were: Julia Frick, Captain, Lenore Shirk, Lavena High, Marion Washler, Bertie Kehler, Lucile Cole, Rilla Hubbard, Jessie Messamer, Pauline and Verda Gross, Audrey Hamman, and Edith Hughley.

K. W. Wins Consolation

Kansas Wesleyan won the consolation game over Bethany in the final round.

Awards were given to each school: McPherson, Southwestern, Sterling, Bethany, Kansas Wesleyan, and Bethel, respectively. The officials were: referees, Miss Cloud of Southwestern and Miss Morgan of Bethel; umpires, Miss Halk of Bethany and Mrs. Crouser of Sterling; timekeepers, Alleen Wine and Olive Edgecomb; linesmen, Kathryn Enns, Verla Mae Jacks, Charlotte Nance, and Helen Dean Gibson.

The Sports Day was under the general direction of Miss Lilyan Warner.

Duo-Piano Concert

Scott Malcolm and Reginald Golden, (left to right) will present a two-piano recital under the auspices of the Cooperative Concert Association. Much of the enthusiasm expressed over their concert has been won through their brilliant transcriptions.

Bright Evaluates Conflicts of Life

Dean of College Urges Self Discipline to Overcome Obstacles

"Conflicts are blessings," Dr. J. Daniel Bright, Dean of McPherson College, declared before the chapel assembly Monday morning.

"Life is made up of conflicts but it must not be made up entirely of conflicts," he continued. He then explained that some conflicts are detrimental, such as the present Spain and China crisis. "Life is not good if everything comes out as you desire it; it needs obstacles and conflicts to overcome," Bright advised.

Dean Bright then declared that the devil finds the greatest opposition midst some great work. "Life entails pain, blows, kicks, slights, and sneers; only through self-discipline can we arrive at happiness," he declared.

"Personality is the extent to which one makes use of three meals a day to habits that interest people," he admonished. "It has been found that church people have the greater personality." He continued that living a life should be like riding a bicycle, pay as you go. "A diamond becomes beautiful only after it is ground, cut, and refined, and so is life," the Dean declared.

In summarizing he urged the students to meet their conflicts, not with bitterness, but with serene poise. "Our inner self must become calm and strong enough to meet every obstacle," he concluded.

Seniors Select Play

New York Hit "Another Language" Chosen By Class

"Another Language" is the title of the play which has been chosen by the senior class for their production this spring. The play, a three-act comedy, has a cast of eleven characters. It is a brilliant and refreshing drama of modern American family life and one which made an instantaneous hit during the 1931-32 New York season.

Mrs. Franken uses her own way of keeping the play steadfastly authentic and so rid of watermarks and cheap set-ups. Yet she maintains a constantly wise and interesting scrutiny of all concerned.

The essentially comic elements of the play are revealed in the well-observed family scenes, but the undercurrent of genuine drama is felt when things come to a climax, and the revolting girl—the only one of the lot worth saving—seems to triumph.

A meeting was held Wednesday night to discuss the a capella choir trip. No definite plans were made.

Violin Choir In Seasonal Debut

Appreciative Audience Attend First Concert of Year In College Chapel

Mozart, Bach, Tschakowsky, and Dvorak were splendidly rendered to a large and appreciative audience on Wednesday night, February 2 when the Violin Choir of McPherson College gave its formal concert in the college chapel. The choir was under the direction of Loren B. Crawford, Jr., head of the violin department of the college. This was the first concert this year given by the violin department.

Members of the choir are Frances Campbell and Vera Flory, first violins; Marjorie Fairchild and Autumn Lindbloom, second violins; Ramona Fries and Irene Dring, third violins; Dorothy Ledbetter and Eugene Crabb, fourth violins; and Vena Flory, accompanist.

Wednesday's Program

The program, which featured a violin solo and a violin quartet, as well as numbers by the choir, was as follows:

- Three Menuets Thoma-Ambrosio
- Cooperin Allegretto in F
- Beethoven Allegro in C
- Rameau Allegretto in G
- Larghetto Mozart
- Arioso Bach

Marjorie Fairchild Portrait (Largo) Altavater

The Violin Quartet Andante from Symphony No. 5

Tschakowsky Largo from New World Symphony

Dvorak As an encore the choir repeated the Andante by Tschakowsky.

Out-of-Town Guests

The audience consisted of college students, people from down town, and out-of-town visitors. There were about 250 present. Among those from out-of-town were Mr. and Mrs. Loren B. Crawford of Winfield, Kansas, parents of the director; Mr. and Mrs. Poe Fairchild of Hutchinson, Kansas; Mr. and Mrs. Alan Watrous also of Hutchinson; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Ernest of Lyons, Kansas; and Mr. and Mrs. Fernando Cook of Canton, Kansas.

Besides Mr. Crawford, who graduated from Southwestern college at Winfield, there were four alumni of Southwestern present at the concert.

S. C. M. Starts New Commission

Study of Rural Life Began as Members Seek Change of Commissions

S. C. M. members were given an opportunity, Tuesday morning, to join a new commission for the second semester.

One new commission has been added. It is to consist of a study of Rural Life and will be lead by Lawrence Boyers and Lyle Brewer. This commission is for all those who are definitely interested in rural leadership.

A recreational Leadership commission will take the place of the Creative Leisure commission this semester. Estelle Baile and Harold Mohler are co-chairmen.

Rosalie Phillips and Philip Davis are co-chairmen of the Reinterpretation of Religion commission. Students religious life on the campus will be considered this semester. During Lent season, the life of Christ will be studied.

The World Co-operation commission will specialize in pioneering in world problems, under the leadership of Avis Heckman and Kurtis Naylor.

Family life, courtship, the selection of a life mate and the place of the woman in the home are some of the problems to be considered in the Personal and Family Relations Commission. Theresa Strom and Lowell Brubaker are the co-chairmen of this commission.

Conference Speaker

Dr. Clovis Chappell, pastor of the St. Luke's Methodist Episcopal Church of Oklahoma City, will be a guest speaker at the Annual Regional Conference to be held here in McPherson. Dr. Chappell is one of America's foremost preachers. He is an active representative of the Emergency Peace Campaign.

Outstanding Artist Captures Audience

Handsome Dalies Frantz Holds Audience Spellbound For Two Hours

The Cooperative Concert Association presented Dalies Frantz, pianist, in concert at Newton last Monday evening. Mr. Frantz is considered one of the youngest piano soloists in concert. He has triumphed as soloist with many outstanding symphony orchestras and has won exceptional and universal praise from critics.

Dalies Frantz was born in Denver, Colorado, the son of a business man. At an early age he was considered a wonderchild. Now he is one of the best piano recitalists on tour. Mr. Frantz's program consisted of many varied and beautiful selections.

The first part of his program was in three parts: three chorales by Bach; Rondo in D Major by Mozart, and Sonata in E minor, Opus 90 by Beethoven; and Variation on a Theme of Paganini. The second part of his program consisted of three parts: six Etudes, three Mazurkas, and Polonaise in A flat major all of which were works of Chopin.

The handsome young artist kept his audience spellbound by his piano technique, rapidity of movement, and majestic appearance. Many townspeople of McPherson were present at the concert, and enjoyed hearing this great artist.

Sunday Commentator

Comments on the news by Addison Southoff was the main feature of the College B. Y. P. D. program, Sunday evening, January 28.

Mr. Southoff correlated his news items and comments under several main topics, some of which were: church membership and the per cent of really active church members; the inefficiency of the church shown in the fact that there is so much crime—a felony committed every two minutes; our educational hierarchy—education is passed down to us from teachers and textbooks in such a way that we must learn to discriminate and do independent thinking; social problems, including crime and drinking—"more women are educated in saloons than in colleges."

Avis Heckman led the devotional service, using the idea that failure should be a principle in building a life. She said there must be strength, beauty, and durability. Elma Minnick gave a musical reading.

Olive Edgecomb will soon return to her home in Nampa, Idaho.

Famous Leaders For Conference

Beahm Mow, Zigler, Metzler, and Fisher Selected For Meeting

Clovis Chappell Here

Outstanding Preacher of South to Speak at Conference

The Annual Regional Conference of the Central West Region, which will be held this year from February 20 to 25, will bring a number of outstanding leaders and speakers to the McPherson College campus.

With the emphasis being placed on "Personal Christian Living," the program committee was able to secure Dr. Clovis G. Chappell. Others who will appear on the program are William H. Beahm of Chicago, Miss Anna Mow and M. R. Zigler of Elgin, Burton Metzler and Nevin Fisher of McPherson College, and numerous visiting pastors.

Dr. Clovis Chappell, D. D., is one of the outstanding ministers of the Methodist Episcopal Church South. At the present time he is pastor of the St. Luke's Methodist Episcopal Church South of Oklahoma City, which has a membership of more than 4,800.

Graduate of Harvard

Dr. Chappell is a native of Tennessee, and was educated in the famous Webb School at Hillsboro, Tennessee, one of the notable preparatory schools of the South; at Duke University; and at Harvard.

He spent a few years in the field of public education and proved himself an inspiring teacher and a forceful executive. At the age of twenty-six he entered the ministry of his church and has held some influential pastorates, including churches in Dallas, Washington D. C., Memphis, Houston, Birmingham, and Oklahoma City.

Not only is Dr. Chappell an inspiring preacher, but he is a prolific writer as well. He is the author of at least fifteen books which are perhaps more widely read than those of any other writer of sermons in America. Among the well-known books from his pen are "The Village Tragedy," "Sermons on Biblical Characters," "Home Folks," "Christ and the New Woman," "Men that Count," and "Sermons from the Parables."

Progressive Religious Speaker

Dr. Chappell is a ready speaker, a clear thinker, is devotedly religious and is progressive in his application of religious truths to the needs of the present age. He is an indefatigable and prodigious worker in the parish and elsewhere. He was active as a representative of the Emergency Peace Campaign in the United States.

Here are some of the titles of the addresses which Dr. Chappell will present: "Making the Worthless Worthful," "Put Yourself in His Place," "How to Talk to Yourself," and "World Peace."

McPherson College is fortunate to be able to present to its Regional Conference this gifted preacher, understanding pastor, and creative author.

McPherson Composers

Original composers of McPherson College from the department of music presented a program of their compositions last Friday morning before the chapel assembly.

The program is as follows:

The Rider, Frances Campbell, Gladys Shank, Soprano.

Idyll, Fern Lingcoffler, Loren Crawford, Violinist.

Nocturne, Nevin W. Fisher, Nevin W. Fisher, Pianist.

To Death, Wayne Albright, Glenn McFonzie, Baritone.

Corale and Canon for Three Trumpets and Trombone, Loren Crawford, Eugene Crabb, First Trumpet; Arthur Rolander, Second Trumpet; Lawrence Blair, Third Trumpet; Leslie Sperling, Trombone.

The Spectator To Begin New Policy!

During the next semester the Spectator will begin a new policy. Each organization on the campus will have its reporter, who will be held responsible for all news pertaining to that organization.

Through this method we anticipate greater efficiency in news coverage and also greater realistic coverage of that organization. A member of an organization will understand more fully the activities of that organization than a non-member.

Any faculty member, whose department does not have a permanent extra-curricular organization should leave any notice of news breaks in the Spectator box, which will be placed near the bulletin board in the Administration building. A reporter will then be sent to cover the news. Promptness in doing so will facilitate news coverage.

Students who have new or personal items should also place them in the Spectator box. Thus through co-operation of everyone we should have an efficient coverage of the campus news.

Following are the reporters and the organizations which they will represent:

Prompt Payment of Pledges Urged

The College appreciates sincerely the donations which have made possible the beginning of the New Physical Education and Health Building. With the actual launching of the building project, it will be most imperative that the College be able to collect all pledges as soon as they fall due. Plans for carrying out the building program have been based largely upon the pledges which have already been made, and in order that the project may go forward on schedule, these obligations should be met as promptly as possible.

Additional pledges will be needed in order to carry out plans to a successful completion. New pledges, therefore, will be most acceptable at the Business Office.

One of the aims of McPherson College, as formulated by the faculty and printed in the catalog, is to "safeguard the health of students by means of formal instruction, physical and medical examinations, and a program of recreational and corrective activities."

Heretofore, the College has lacked facilities to realize these aims fully. The new Physical Education and Health Building is an effort to supply this need. It will provide offices for the physical education directors, adequate showers, dressing rooms, class rooms, and a room for individual and small group games. It will be a modern building, well built, attractive and most of all, a useful building.

Inter-collegiate basketball games will continue to be played in the city gymnasium. The new building will be exclusively devoted to the physical education and health program of the college and as such will give the college a higher rating as an educational institution. Any college that wishes to pose as adequate for modern needs must provide in an effective way for the physical needs of its students.

Hints For Feverish Rushing

Boston, Mass.—(ACP)—A list of study hints for students who are tired of feverishly rushing through belated assignments has been prepared by Prof. Warren T. Powell, head of the department of student counseling at Boston University.

They include:

1. Work under pressure; set a deadline inside of which work must be accomplished.
2. Make yourself rise above petty distractions; when they come, accept them; then go back to your studying without losing your stride.
3. Assume that you are liable for an account of all that you are studying.
4. Maintain an alert questioning attitude and criticize all that you read.
5. Develop habits of positive attack on your studies. Interest seldom comes before effort is made in that subject.
6. Feel an interest in your improvement.
7. Avoid and control emotional disturbances and fatigue.

8. Plan proper length and distribution of study periods, one to two hour units for easy or varied work; and thirty minutes with two or three minutes rest periods in between for unfamiliar or difficult work.

Campus Chatter

—by— BETTY GAY

These teachers seem to be scaring us into studying. From all rumors, at least, the assignments and papers are longer and more outside reading must be done. Perhaps it is good psychology, but we hope that when the spring fever becomes contagious they will be afflicted also.

Girls! Don't forget to do your Boy Scout deed this week. Remember also the party a week from today where your secret helper will be revealed.

This mustache growing is getting to be quite a fad. Some of them one can hardly see; others have already disappeared because of the extra trouble of trimming. "Ickie" seems to have lately fallen in step with Roney even though at a first glimpse of it one would not be fully aware of its forthcoming.

Cooperation is the word around here. The library has been much more quiet, in fact now it is conducive to hard work. The new arrangements are accomplishing their purpose.

What a shock everyone received when Dille Frantz took those long strides over to his piano. Expectations were for a bushy-haired, short, stocky man and here appeared a young man very similar in appearance to Tony Meyer. His concert was most enjoyable and the zeal and zest with which he played his composition convinced the audience of his superb talent.

« « COLLEGE DAZE » »

Fri., Jan. 28. School seems to be getting off to a good start, but not me—I'm too busy on this term paper.

29. The same goes for today. We got a check fast in time, or we wouldn't have bought any groceries, and that would be a good joke on the cook.

30. We preached at Monitor again. Last Sunday I read from the Proverbs: "The sluggard says, 'There is a lion outside. I shall be murdered in the streets.'" One man got the message, for he this morning rubbed his ears and remarked that there really was a lion outside. We had a swell time with some mighty fine people—even if Dr. Schwalm could say of Bishop Hugh, "he looked like he might be off the farm." It was a real rest to sit around playing games, even if I did get beat. And there was Betty Ruth's collection of dogs—she had about every kind of a dog there is except maybe a hot dog.

31. Whew! That paper is done, and I am glad. It was a lot of fun, but it kept me from doing much of anything else, including writing in my beloved diary.

February one. The lion was still outside this morning, except up at school where Forney got up late and the lion was inside. This was one of them days when things happen in class. In Philosophy of Religion we were considering whether trees have personality and consciousness and so forth, and Dr. Metzler remarked that he sort of hates to cut down a tree. "Yes," said Boyer, "that takes work."

In Roman History, Dr. Bright raised the window for want of a cuspidor, calling to mind the case of the rich old Indian who bought a big, shiny limousine.

"Indian don't like um. How much trade um for this one? He pointed out a topos phatton."

"Well, we can fix you up," said the salesman, "but what is the matter with the one you have? Perhaps if we should have the men check it over . . ."

"Nope. No like um. Gottum windows. Indian can't split."

So Sir Walter Scott used to writhe and groan as he concocted some of his best jokes, did he? I know just how he felt! There is still more groaning when mine are read.

Feb. 2 Somebody ought to have told Dwight before he did all that unnecessary worrying about an enemy attacking McPherson College that some foul enemy did attack last night in those dark, shivery hours . . . A sudden eerie whistle announced the flight of a projectile, turning the hearers' blood to water. Three deafening crashes in quick succession and three direct hits were scored on the venerable men's dormitory. The mysterious attackers faded into the night, before the debris could settle. Dust filled the air for some time, (as it had all day) while the terrified survivors huddled in fear of further attacks. This morning, sunlight showed three gaping holes in the wall, the panes shattered. Word comes that an offering is to be solicited for the aid of the needy students. This is probably an error, for what are three windows more or less in Fahnestock Hall? Anyhow, as Bob Wiegand says, they probably will not replace them, for new windows would not match the old building.

We are getting off to a fine start in Marriage and Family, with Harshbarger and I sitting on the mourners' bench to supply the "amens."

3. By the way, I hear Keek has taken up the study of law. Someone should have told him the tuition comes high at police court. Barley seems to be going to that school, too.

This is sure tough writing this stuff. I would have been done long ago, but Rita sits here at my elbow helping me with everything . . . But say! It does my heart good to see they way Lamar is developing the protective instinct.

Prevues of Coming Features

Mr. Deeds Goes To Town

At the Mac Theatre there is showing Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday a return engagement of that extremely popular picture of a two years back, "Mr. Deeds Goes To Town," starring Gary Cooper and Jean Arthur. It is worth seeing the second time and if you haven't seen it do not miss it. Watch the Mac for the return of some of the most popular pictures of the past year.

Ebb Tide

South Sea Island picture in technicolor. With the stars Frances Farmer, Oscar Homolka, and Ray Milland nothing more need be said. It will be fine entertainment. Showing at the Ritz Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday.

Tovarich

Tovarich (pronounced toh-var-ich) is the Russian word for "comrade." The movie, like the play that ran all last winter on Broadway is about two members of the exiled Russian nobility in Paris, the Grand Duchess Liatana (Claudette Colbert) and her consort, Prince Mikail (Charles Boyer). The exiles possess a bank account of 40,000,000,000 francs, entrusted them by the Tsar, but since their honor forbids them to touch a sou, they hide out as servants in a banker's household. Their curious experiences there make this an unusual picture, well worth seeing. Showing at the Helstrom Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday.

Red Apples are the rewards Prof. Loren E. Donelson, of the Journalism department at South Dakota State College, presents every Friday to students of his reporting class for the best stories of the week.

Sixty per cent of Union College students are working their way through school, it has been revealed by Miss Frances Travis, director of the student employment bureau.

Despite protests of faculty members that professors are not absent-minded, evidence to the contrary can always be presented. Prof. T. D. Stewart of the chemistry department at the University of California lectured to the wrong class for an hour and 20 minutes recently.

Survey Reveals Outline Values

Eight McPherson Students in National Poll Taken by Bureau

College outlines are a definite aid to improved grades, in the opinion of students using them, a poll conducted under the auspices of the Bureau of Educational Surveys, New York City, shows.

The poll, covering a period of several months, embraces 3,720 students in 223 institutions of higher learning. Eight students from McPherson College were included in the poll.

By far the largest number of students reported grade increases from fair to good, following the use of these study helps. A second large group reported improvement in grades from failure to passing. In a few cases students previously receiving failing grades reported final A ratings.

The consensus of opinion among the students was that by stating the facts concisely, the college outlines simplified study, enabling them to quickly grasp the essentials as well as get the most out of the recommended text and auxiliary reading.

The professors included in the poll in the main approved the use of outlines by the students on the ground of their value as a supplement to their own lectures and as a means of getting the subject together in a coherent and concrete way. Quite a few expressed the belief that they helped the student who might otherwise get lost in an introductory course. "As great a help to the student as any one factor," was the opinion of a Baylor University professor.

The poll was not without its dissenting votes. A student from a Middlewestern school wrote, "Flunked. The outline would have been a great help if I had only read it." And this came from an educator at a prominent Eastern university "It is not a pleasant sensation to have a student come into your class with one of these outlines and use it apparently as a check upon what one is talking about."

Alex Richards Gives Lecture

A talk and the showing of films on old Mexico by Alex Richards was the feature of the program for the Chemistry Club meeting on Thursday, February 3. Mr. Richards also gave a talk on meteorites. He had several specimens of meteorites which made his talk both interesting and instructive.

Schwalm To Texas

Accompanied by Quartet President Makes Long Trip

President Schwalm was the speaker Sunday at the dedication of a new church in Pampa, Texas. The college male quartette, composed of Charles Nettleton, Glenn McConigle, Gordon Yoder, and Keith Pierce furnished the special music for the services.

Dr. Schwalm spoke three times on Sunday. He preached at the church service in the morning, delivered the dedicatory address in the afternoon, and addressed the Congregation again in the evening.

The quartette appeared in five different services during the day. They sang in Sunday School and church in the morning, at the dedicatory service in the afternoon, and at B. Y. P. D. and church in the evening.

Mrs. Schwalm also went along to visit an uncle in Amarillo. The group left McPherson early Saturday morning, and arrived in Pampa late that afternoon. Dr. and Mrs. Schwalm went on to Amarillo, and returned to Pampa the next morning. Monday morning they all left for McPherson, and arrived here safely that evening.

Four Readers Selected

Four interpretive readers will represent McPherson College at Hutchinson today and tomorrow. They are Vera Heckman, George Toland, Esther Sherfy, and Elma Mianick. Professor Hogg will have six debate teams also in the tournament.

The only feminine guide in the northwest is an 18-year-old coed who goes to junior college in Ely, Minn., and skips school occasionally to act as guide for deer-hunters.

Last summer she earned $3 a day as a professional guide. And no wonder. For she caught her first fish before she could spell the word and at 12, swam across choppy Lake Shagawa, a distance of two and three-quarter miles. She became an amateur fishing guide at 13.

Pittiquette is to the University of Pittsburg what Emily Post is to society in general. It is edited by a sophomore coed and is presented to all freshmen girls at the University.

That they will have no excuse for not looking before they leap, these are some of the points it makes:

"Save the rumba, tango and southern swing dances for private showings.

"Collect names. Make it a point of finding out the name of some one who speaks to you so that next time you can say, 'Hello, Mary.' Not 'Oh, hello-o-o.'

"Give your courtesy muscles a little exercise. Which means rising for faculty members—even seniors.

Students Seek Help for Far East Student Funds

Addison Saathoff spoke on the military control of the Chinese schools by the Japanese soldiers. He mentioned the fact that China had adopted the American system of schools and now are unable to open unless Japanese school systems are accepted. It is America's duty to aid the Chinese students protect and further their democratic government.

A second talk was given by Dwight Horner who urged that we as Christian students help the suffering Chinese students who also belong to the great body of Christian youth. China's greatest hope for the future lies in the education of her youth.

At the conclusion of the program, a collection was taken which will go to help in the Far Eastern Student Emergency Fund.

B. Y. P. D. Conference

The Young People's Regional Conference will be held at the Monitor Church all day Sunday, February 6. The theme of the program is "What is the B. Y. P. D. For?" At the morning service there will be a speaker from McPherson College.

A panel discussion on the theme of the conference will be the main feature of the afternoon. Kurtis Naylor will represent the College B. Y. P. D. in that discussion. The stereopticon picture, "The Old Book Finding New Friends," will be shown in the evening. Recreation for both afternoon and evening, as well as a basket dinner, are part of the program.

Pittsburg Here To Test Canines

Gorillas Invade McPherson Territory With Similar Brand of Ball

On top of the conference heap after the first half of their conference schedule, the college basketballers will meet the strong Pittsburg Teachers Gorillas tonight in an inter-conference battle on the Convention Hall maples. The second team will clash with a quintet from Galva high school in the curtain raiser.

This game promises to be one of the most interesting of the season for it is understood that Pittsburg also employs a revolving offense and fast style.

Included on Coach John Lance's Central Conference team are outstanding players such as Max Malcz, all-conference forward; Arthur Alexander, towering Cedar Vale center; Fred Crouch, hotshot forward from Joplin; and Jim Adams, powerful defensive guard.

Thus far in the season, the Gorillas have conquered Kirksville, Springfield, Northeastern Oklahoma Teachers, Emporia State and others. They lost to Warrensburg, Marysville, and Southwestern.

Promising Freshman

Herbert Stauffer, center, is one of the most promising freshmen out for basketball this year. Coach "Buck" Astle used Stauffer on the first squad during the first of the season, but since the return of "Tony" Meyer Stauffer has played with the second team. Great things are expected from Herbert next year.

The Bethel game has been changed to Saturday night.

Hoop Swishers

By The Colonel

Bethany Bounces—
 Before an enthusiastic crowd of McPherson rooters, the Bulldogs forged to the top of the conference by a ragged victory over the hapless Swedes. Barngrover's long range gunning, Meyer's "dunkers", and the occasional flash floor work were the redeeming features of the hectic affair.

Gene Kemper, seeing the "swing system" in action for the first time, was duly impressed by the fast rushing style on the part of the Bulldogs, who were certainly not up to par.

Maybe it is a premature statement, but watch out for the Swedes next year. Yearlings Norburg, Carroll, Peterson, and Grieves should soon begin clicking. Incidentally, Coach Astle formerly refereed games for the Kansas City Midget League, of which blond Harry Peterson was a member.

February Findings—
 Norman Strahan and Carlos Crabb, former McPherson lads and the latter being a brother of Eugene, are first-rate cagers on the Oklahoma City University team, which received a beating by Bethel last week.

Dave "Tennessee Terrier" McGill, one of the Bulldog spark plugs, is visiting at his home in Soddy and will be unable to play against Pittsburg tonight. Although his steady type of playing will be missed, Dave felt that he should go home for the first time in more than a year because of the illness of his mother. However, he will again be available for the important conference conflicts next week.

For lack of a more suitable title, Wanmaker's teammates are now calling him "Rosey" or "Slats."

The Pittsburg Gorillas are en route to another conference engagement at Ft. Hays tomorrow night and a defeat at the hands of the Canines tonight would probably place them in a fighting mood.

3 Consecutive Cage Contests

Coach Astle's Hoopsters Will Face Bethel, C. of E. and Ottawa

With three consecutive cage contests scheduled next week, Coach "Buck" Astle's hoopsters will be on the road most of the time. They meet Bethel at Newton on Saturday, Ottawa at Ottawa Thursday, and C. of E. at Emporia on the following night.

Bethel is expected to be fired with determination to avenge an earlier loss to McPherson and a victory over Oklahoma City last week places them in a better position. The "grudge" tussle with the Graymarons will be the final non-conference encounter for the Bulldogs this season.

Although the Ottawa Braves defeated the Canines earlier in the season, Coach Astle's men feel that it is their duty to tame Coach Godlove's crew in a crucial game. To even up their records against the Ottawans will be their objective.

C. of E. has proved to be a stumbling block to nearly all conference teams and the Bulldogs will again attempt to prove McPherson's superiority on the basketball court against the team of a former coach, "Bud" Selves. Both of these games are hoped to be "stepping stones" for the Bulldogs in the Kansas Conference race.

Speedy Bulldog Guard

Harold Mohler, reserve Bulldog guard, has shown lots of hustle and ball interceptions this year.

Promising Center

Marvin Fox, freshman center, has shown up well in his first year of college competition. Marvin hails from Larned, Kansas. With his height and aggressiveness Fox will give the members of the first squad a fight for their positions next year. Fox has been one of the leading and consistent scorers on the second team.

"Don't Marry The Daughter"

An English professor in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology is "taking it all back".

In 1929 he told the Institute's graduating class to "Be a snob; marry the boss's daughter."

"Now," he declares, "I've decided the advice didn't work out as well as I expected. By marrying the boss's daughter, the young men took the chance of acquiring the boss's liabilities along with his assets." Besides, it seems that the young men so advised were asked by the fair—and wealthy—objects of their affections if the offers of marriage were inspired by love or their professor's advice.

Bulldogs Defeat Bethany Swedes

Fifth Consecutive Victory Added as Canines Win in Final Spurt

Coach "Buck" Astle's McPherson college Bulldogs, defending their lead of the Kansas Conference, nosed out the Swedish rivals from Bethany 26 to 31 at Lindsborg last Friday night. For their fifth consecutive victory, the Bulldog second team downed the Bethany reserves 27-23 in the preliminary game.

Slightly over-confident were the Canines, whose last minute spurt furnished a needed victory over the determined Swedes. McPherson held a 13-11 lead at the half, but goals by Killfoff and Norburg kept Coach Sebaake's men in the running until Astle's bucketeers turned on the power.

In the rough and ragged contest, four Bethany players went to the showers on personal fouls and 35 fouls were called by Referee Gene Kemper during the game. Barngrover led the scoring with 12 points and Norburg and Killfoff closely followed with 9 and 8, respectively.

W. S. Evaluates Hymns

Evelyn High conducted a most interesting discussion Tuesday afternoon in the S. U. R. on how to evaluate hymns. Score sheets on how to judge hymns as to their lyric, religious, and social qualities were given to each member present.

After Miss High had presented the criticism or merits of a particular group of hymns, the strains of a typical hymn were played by Mangle Wolfe or sung by Olive Edgecomb. The meaning of the words was stressed as being important in determining the excellence of a hymn. It was pointed out also that it is essential for the music to support the meaning suggested by the lyric.

Next week Professor R. E. Mohler will give a talk on church architecture.

World Service Cabinet Meets

Dusk on Sunday evening found the World Service Cabinet enjoying a social hour in the Student Union Room. At the conventional hour for supper, the group adjourned to the Y. W. room where a light lunch and refreshments were served.
