

To Elect Student Council And Publications Officers

Student Council Elections Held April 15; Publications On April 1

Soon to be in full swing, the campaign for student officers has been launched by the Student Council, according to a report received yesterday.

From Student Council elections, the publications posts will be filled. Although under the present set-up there will be no change in the editorial staff of the Spectator until mid-term of next school year, applications will be received by the Student Council for Spectator Business Manager until April 1. Quadrangle officers, editorial and business, will be elected according to the same rules; applications must be in by April 1.

Student Council posts for president and treasurer will be filled according to the returns of a general election to be held not later than April 15. Candidates for these positions do not make application. Nominations are obtained through petitions submitted to the Student Council.

To cause a candidate to be eligible for election, a petition for his admission as nominee for Student Council president or treasurer must be signed by at least fifty people and submitted to the Student Council not later than April 5, 1941.

Supporters of any given candidate are urged to make all possible haste in submitting their petitions, because the race for officership is always hotly contested and consequently of considerable interest to the student body.

Crillosophical Cogitations

One of the things that this column did last issue, I hope, was to get all of you people to read down as far as the book shelf corner where you would have profited greatly to learn about a swell bit of philosophy. If you by prejudice avoided The Bookshelf you did yourself a great injustice, and if you don't agree wholeheartedly with the author of the column you are cheating your father or whoever pays your way through college. For whether you like it or not, the reading habit is one of the best things that you can acquire while in college.

The modern quip that has gone around the campus "Never let your studies interfere with your education" is not only a good epigram, but it is worthy motto to be put on the wall. And it is not so modern as one would think. Listen to this poem translated from the Chinese. The poet wrote it in the third century A. D.

Flap, flap, the captive bird in the cage
Beating its wings against the four corners.
Depressed, depressed, the scholar in the narrow street;
Clasping a shadow, he dwells in an empty house.
When he goes out there is no place for him to go;
Bunches and tumbles block his path.
He composes a memorial, but it is rejected and unread.
He is left stranded, like a fish in a dry pond.
Without—he has not a single farthing of salary;
Within—there is not a peck of grain in his larder.
His relation upbraids him for his lack of success;
His friends and callers daily decrease

Heard In Chapel

Friday Chapel Consisted Of Fine Arts Numbers

Last Friday's fine arts chapel program, under the direction of Ralph Stutzman, was well received by the McPherson college chapel audience. The program, notable for its variety, consisted of vocal and instrumental music, and two readings.

Two numbers, "Grandfather's Clock," and "Three Blind Mice," were sung by the Varsity Ladies' Quartette. Jean Oberst, a McPherson college thespian, gave two short readings, "A Rich Man," and "The Ship of Faith."

The program was climaxed by a piano solo by Vena Flory, "Etude in E Flat."

Potwin Speaks On Education And Defense

Ross Potwin, superintendent of McPherson school, spoke in the college chapel Monday morning about Education and Defense.

He defined education as a long series of adjustments. He stated that students should not drop out of school because temporary employment seems inviting. It will not provide a long series of adjustments that a college education will provide. Thus, when a new machine comes along, it will not throw you out of adjustment or, in other words, employment.

"Choose your fut carefully because you may be in it for a long time."

Debate By Stucky-Newkirk Vs. Colorado State Team

Debating was the highlight in Wednesday chapel with competition between Colorado State College, Fort Collins, Colorado and the McPherson College Varsity Debaters. Mr. Joe Burch and Mr. Edon Anderson formed the affirmative team and Mr. Dale Stucky and Mr. Don Newkirk represented the negative team. Mr. Frank Davis coached the Colorado team and Dr. D. W. Bittinger coached and Macollege team.

"Resolved: that the nations of the western hemisphere enter into a permanent union" was the question under consideration.

Lyle Albright, Keith Pierce, Harold Hoover, and Ethel Ikenberry were Hutchinson visitors on Sunday evening.

Stucky-Newkirk Swansong

Donald Newkirk Dale Stucky

Stucky and Newkirk made their last scheduled debate as a team in Chapel Wednesday morning, when they encountered the Colorado Aggies varsity men's debate team from Fort Collins, Colorado.

For three years Stucky and Newkirk have debated together on the McPherson College Varsity men's debate team, making many enviable records. It is regrettable that a winning combination such as this should have to be graduated.

The chapel audience paid tribute to these powerful debaters Wednesday morning by maintaining throughout the debate an attitude of interest and respect. Interest in the debate was heightened by the fact that this debate was the last scheduled debate which the boys will do together.

Not only are these two outstanding debaters, as evidenced by their excellent record of wins, but they have been outstanding in scholastic and student political activities as well. Co-workers on the debate teams; they have been rival political leaders for three straight years. Stucky being president of the Young Democrats, and Newkirk being president of the Young Republicans. Both Stucky

Seniors To Present "Dear Brutus"

Play Will Be Given May 9 In College Auditorium

On May 9, 1941, at the McPherson college chapel, the senior class will present James M. Barrie's play "Dear Brutus." Tryouts will be held on the afternoon of Tuesday next, and judged by Ralph Stutzman, Della Lehman, and Mrs. Al Harvey. The cast which will be selected at the tryouts will be directed by a student director to be chosen by a senior class committee.

The senior play has been an annual event for the past several years, and has proved to be quite popular among the student body. Among the list of plays given by the senior classes for the years past are last year's "Tovarich," "The Merchant of Venice," of three years ago, "The Silver Cord," and a host of other outstanding productions.

Teachers' Conference Is Success, Says Boitnott

Actual Registration Nearly Twice That Anticipated

"The teachers' meet which took place on Macampus Friday and Saturday, March 14 and 15, "came through with howling success", says Dr. J. W. Boitnott. "The anticipated registration had been 75 to 100, but the registration books show that a total of 114 attended this conference. Twenty-two colleges were represented, all of them being Kansas colleges except Phillips University of Oklahoma. The conference was under the leadership of Dr. Russell E. Cooper, who is representative of the North Central Association and is now conducting a series of such conferences in North Central territory.

The purpose of the conference was to discuss the problem of the training of high school teachers in liberal arts colleges. Three major addresses were given and several discussion groups were held pertaining to teacher training. This conference was the only one of its kind held in this state.

"Province of Plains" Tourney Held at Newton This Week End

Four McPherson College Teams Entered In Various Divisions

This week-end, Thursday through Saturday, March 20 to 23 inclusive, Bethel college at Newton will host the annual provincial tourney of Pi Kappa Delta, technically including "the province of the plains."

This three-day gab-fest will be participated in by 25 schools from Kansas, Colorado, and Nebraska. Separate tourneys will be held for men's and women's debates, men's and women's oratory, men's and women's extemp, and men's and women's panel discussions.

McPherson college has been especially invited to this tournament because of the fact that she has been invited to enroll next year in the Pi Kappa Delta, national debate fraternity. This contest is open only to members or aspirants to membership in Pi Kappa Delta.

Representing McPherson college in the oratory contest are Dale Stucky and Betty Burger. In the extemp tourney Ernest Peterson and Lucile Horner will enter in the McPherson. Macollege entries in the panel discussion groups are Wayne Geisert and Maxine Ruehlen.

The absence of Donald Newkirk from the campus on the week end of this tourney has necessitated a slight change in the personnel of the debate teams. Varsity men's number one debate team, formerly composed of Stucky and Newkirk, now consists of Stucky and Stucky.

The debate teams will consist of men's number one, Stucky and Stucky; men's number two, Geisert and Peterson; women's number one, Horner and Burger; and women's number two, Ruehlen and Brubaker.

What will freshmen and sophomores have tomorrow that juniors and seniors won't have? You've guessed it—the Freshman Sophomore Formal Party. Upperclassmen, envy not your more fortunate fellows. You have had your fun. It is the underclassmen's turn. The Student Union Room will be the scene of a pulchritudinous parade tomorrow evening at 8:00. The freshmen and sophomores, dressed in their prettiest clothes, will assemble there for an evening of fun and entertainment in the form of a formal party.

Rumors about the party are rife, and speculation plentiful, but it has been learned from a very reliable source that Russel Eisenhise, Alvin Klotz, Leta Beckner, and Vesta Vansordell will be the hosts and hostesses for the party. The entertainment committee consists of Roy McAuley, Kenneth Nordling, Maurine Gish, and Ruth Smith. Those in charge of serving will be Vera Flory, Mildred Miller, Donna Jean Johnson, Orville Long, Willis Peck, and Ruby Peterson.

The social committee, headed by Miss Shockley, is sponsoring this gala event. Those who plan to attend have only to sign their name on the paper on the bulletin board. There is no fee to pay. The committee urges everyone to attend. So freshmen and sophomores remember that all roads lead to the Student Union Room tomorrow night at 8:00.

Pierce Presents Recital At College Chapel

Probably the largest audience which has ever attended a vocal recital at McPherson college came to hear Keith Pierce, basso, Wednesday evening when he appeared in the college chapel. With a voice of considerable quality, range and volume Mr. Pierce presented to a charmed audience of students and townspeople his farewell concert.

In order to appease his appreciative listeners Mr. Pierce sang three encores. They were "Trottin' to the Fair", "The Big Brown Bear", and "Ole' Man'River".

Prof. Fisher Entertains A Cappella Choir

Professor and Mrs. Nevin W. Fisher graciously entertained at tea Sunday afternoon at their home from 3:00 to 5:00 p. m. for the members of the A Cappella Choir. Twenty-eight of the thirty members were present and enjoyed the afternoon looking over choir programs of former choir concerts directed by Professor Fisher and choir programs of concerts directed by former directors of the A Cappella Choir.

SCM Has Guest Speaker Tuesday

Katharine Parker To Interview Students Concerning Vocations

Traveling secretary for the Student Volunteer Movement, Miss Katharine Parker, has been secured to speak twice on this campus next Thursday. It was announced yesterday by Gerry Spohn, co-president of the Student Christian Movement.

Born in India, Miss Parker is a graduate of Park college. '40. She has done extensive speaking in churches and before students, on missionary subjects. She is a candidate for appointment to overseas service under the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions.

A special meeting of the S. C. M. will be held Thursday morning at 9:40, at which time Miss Parker's primary concern will be to increase awareness of the world-wide scope of the Christian Church and of the vocational opportunities provided in its overseas service.

During the morning and afternoon Miss Parker will interview persons interested in the vocational opportunities offered through the foreign work of the Church and discuss other related topics.

Miss Parker, who is travelling through the courtesy of the Student Volunteer Movement, will make her second address in the evening, 6:30 in the Student Union Room.

On the local campus the Student Volunteer Movement is closely allied with the Student Christian Movement, and the program will be of interest to the entire membership. It was emphasized by Miss Spohn.

Lewallen Wins Third In Oratorical Contest

Places In Anti-Tobacco Journey With "Life At Its Best"

At the state anti-tobacco oratorical contest held at Tabor college, Hillsboro, last Friday night, Wilburn Lewallen, senior at McPherson college, won third place with his oration entitled, "Life At Its Best."

Four other schools were represented in this annual event! Miltonvale Junior college, Central College of McPherson, Friends university at Wichita, and Tabor college at Hillsboro.

Mr. Beverly Wilson of Miltonvale won first place with his oration "War Shall Be Declared." Second place went to Miss Betty Ezell of Friends, with her oration entitled: "Highly Recommended."

Cash prizes of $35, $25, and $15 were awarded to the first, second, and third place winners respectively. Dr. J. W. Fields, of McPherson provided the prize money for the contest.

A business meeting of the State Anti-tobacco Association was held at 8:30 prior to the contest. At this meeting officers were elected for the coming year. Next year the state contest will be held at Central college, McPherson.

Lewallen is to be commended for the interest he has shown and for the effort he has put forth by participating in the local contest for the past three years and the state contest for the past two years.

Freshman Party Was Success; Will Repeat

Despite the fact that the refreshment committee insisted upon payment of nickels in advance, the attendance was good at the freshman party held last Friday night in the gymnasium. The program for the evening consisted of several games selected and presented not without fear and trepidation by the entertainment committee. (They had been told that parties are often considered boring.) However, at this party "a good time was had by all."

The climax of the entertainment evening was reached when Macollege's newly acquired "sport," known unofficially as "folk games," was offered to satiate the fun-appetites of the freshmen. After a rather vague demonstration of some of the finer points of the game were presented by the class president, (whose heart was in the right place—but oh, his feet!), the promising class of 1944 spent the rest of the evening enjoying the "folk games."

Because the evening was enjoyed by the participants, and because several of the prominent "freshies" have made public their declaration that this undertaking was well worth repeating, all concerned are asked to look forward to a "bigger and better" party for the near future. "To be forewarned is to be forearmed."

Ames, Iowa — (ACP) — "Midget chemistry" is providing lots of fun.

Kampus Kapers—

For the past two weeks Dr. Hershey has been walking around looking as mischievous as Charlie McCarthy. It seems that prankster Wayne Gofert, at the instigation of friends, phoned Dr. Hershey and informed him that the Pot of Gold program was calling. However, J. Willard learned the identity of the caller and a day or two later, as a guest in the dining hall, he told the crowd that he would give his Pot of Gold money to the debate team to take a trip, and to the chapel committee for stage curtain repair. After that remark, no wonder Doc. thinks he has done something.

During a recent girls' basketball game, Frances Petefish became so excited that she ran out on the floor during a time-out to tell the players the encouraging score. To her dismay Frances found that this was certainly not the thing to do for she scored a foul for the act. Says Frances, "Well, I did it before and that never happened."

Last Sunday, the boys' quartette of the college was to appear on a program in Hutchinson. At five o'clock there was scheduled a waffle supper before the program which they were to attend. Because of two flat tires, they did not arrive until seven. The boys regretted not that they were late for the program, but the waffles—Oh my! However, some kind matrons had saved some butter and after they had sated their suppers, they were just about in time for a midnight snack. Nothing is said about the antics of the car on the homeward journey.

The parents of the Vannoradel sisters were down from Iowa for a visit last week-end. It was not necessarily a visit to the girls, but probably to look over the prospective son-in-law of Sylvia's choosing.

Two pep-club members, Doane and Voshell, have difficulty in knowing who is being paged when the name "Doris" is sounded. It is "Doris"

as well as education, for Iowa State college freshmen. Test tubes are about the size of little fingers and liquids are measured with eye droppers. Besides proving an entertaining novelty for students, midgut chemistry is said to be safer and more healthful as well as more economical.

Dr. Hershey's ace chemistry assistant, Johanathan Hammerley, seems to be working fast, or at least trying to. He is often seen frequenting the girls' dorm, in fact, very often. Late one night a student was walking out to the college when a state highway patrol car came along, shone its bright spotlight on the young man, and its occupant, a patrolman, asked if he had car trouble or why he was walking. The young ed, whose name remains a mystery, answered that he was going home from his co-ed's house, to which the patrolman raised one eyebrow and, with

Elyria Wins Second Round Play-Off

Hand Co-ops Their First Defeat Of Season In Finals

Elyria upset the Co-op basketball five, defending first round champions, when they handed the Co-op team their first loss of the basketball season Tuesday. The Co-ops, who had previously sailed through first round competition without a loss, won the first round inter-league play-offs, and had continued their winning ways to take their league in second round play, were the heavy favorites to win.

The Elyria squad, however, with Voth sparking the offense, marred their record in a hard-fought game when they won, 45 to 29. The scoring on both teams was fairly evenly divided, and both teams displayed splendid teamwork. The Elyria boys took an early lead during the first quarter and were never headed from then on.

By the end of that period, they led, 11 to 5, and by half-time they continued to lead by a 12 to 23 score. They held their margin and at the third quarter they led by a 34 to 20 score.

A challenge game will probably be played between the two teams when the Co-op team will have the services of "hot-shot" Myers, whom they missed dearly in the Tuesday battle. Although no definite date has been set, the game will probably be played next week.

High scorer of the game was Voth, Elyria center, who scored 14 points. He was followed by Lichty, Co-op, and Casey and Stucky, Elyria, each of whom had a total of 11 points to his credit. A total of 13 players were used in the game.

The box score:

Co-op (29)	FG	FT	F
Ikenberry	2	0	1
Miller	1	3	0

Lichty	5	1	1

Phog Allen To Speak At Banquet

College Cagers to be Guests of Rebounders

Dr. Forrest C. "Phog" Allen, basketball coach at the University of Kansas and winner of 16 basketball championships in 23 years at K. U., will be the speaker at a basketball banquet sponsored by the McPherson Rebounders club at the Hotel Warren the night of March 26, Edward Wellepp, Chief Rebounder, announced today.

Members of the McPherson High school and McPherson college basketball teams will be guests of the Rebounders at the banquet, which is open to the public.

Co-op Team Takes Second Title

Remain Undefeated As Elyria Cops League II Title

Co-op finished their second round of intramural play with an undefeated record in both rounds with a 42 to 27 victory over Dorm III. Led by Bob Frantz, center, who totaled 15 points and Miller, who scored 12 points, the Co-op clearly defeated their opponents. The game left the Co-op to meet the Elyria team for the championship of second round competition.

Elyria finished in first place in her league during the second round of play only after squeaking by a fast Town team by a 28 to 27 score. They were behind most of the game, but in a spurt which was led by Voth, center, they emerged victors by the one-point margin.

To Whom It May Concern

With the basketball season over and the track season still only a spot on the horizon, it would seem that athletics had slipped to the background at Macollege. But such is not the case—in fact, the gym is overcrowded many afternoons about 4 o'clock. The track team has begun work-outs and is busy getting into condition inside. Netsters Reed, Nordling, Jones, and others are taking their tennis rackets off the wall and getting in some indoor practice. Intramural basketball is coming to a climax in both girls' and boys' leagues. There is also a boxing class with Coach Hayden in charge, assisted by Darwin Culver. An effort is being made to organize a golf team. In the game room of the gym the ping-pong tables are almost always in use and much of the time many are waiting around to take on the winner. Thus it may be seen that Miss Warner and Coach Hayden have a sport for every Macollege student.

The Kansas Wesleyan basketball team returned last week from a 3 weeks trip in old Mexico. While down there they won 7 out of 9 ball games. Asked if they lost to better teams Vic Ebaugh, Kansas Wesleyan sophomore from McPherson, said that the off-ating beat them—same old Kansas Wesleyan dodge. They played before 12,000 people the 3 nights they were in Mexico City. We'd like to wager that Gene Johnson didn't arrive back in Salina last week exactly empty-handed.

Phog Allen is coming to town. This monthpiece of the Kansas University Athletic department who also coaches the basketball team is going to speak at the Rebounders Banquet next Wednesday evening.

According to the "Nerts" column of the McPherson Republican, it was rumored that one and possibly two of Mac's varsity basketball team have said their "I do's." Since then, a couple of lads have been vehemently affirming their bachelorhood. Who knows?

Track Squad Works Indoors Awaiting Spring

Unable To Estimate Cinder Strength Until Outdoor Drill Begins

Although more than thirty men have reported to Coach Hayden for this spring's track squad, an estimate of cinder strength can not be made until several weeks of out-door drill have been absorbed. With only four or five of last year's lettermen returning around which to mold the squad, and with many new recruits reporting for practice, the comparative strength of the Bulldogs this spring cannot be closely estimated. Poor weather has restricted the squadmen to only inside practices and no outside work has been done. Coach Hayden has indicated that the amount of emphasis which the track season is to have this year depends mainly on the ability of the squad to perform.

Although no definite arrangements have been made, the McPherson track team will probably hold several dual meets or tri-school meets sometime during the season. A tri-school meet with Hutchinson Jr. College and Sterling is being discussed. Bethany college and Bethel college will probably oppose McPherson in either dual or tri-school meets. These meets will also be meetings of the tennis squads of the schools.

Ottawa officials have definitely announced that on May 2 they will sponsor a track meet which is to replace the annual Sterling Relays, which were discontinued this spring by Sterling officials. The Sterling Relays have been the high spot of track activity in Kansas circles for many years.

This year the Kansas Conference is to hold its track meet at Baker university, Baldwin, a school which has adequate facilities to hold the seven-school affair. More definite plans for the season will be available in the near future.

Poet's Corner

By Gladys Wiggins
An Epigram

What is an epigram? A dwarfish whole;

its body brevity, and wit its soul.
—Samuel Taylor Coleridge (1872-1834)

Incidentally there are several patterns of poetry—: the epigram, epitaph, elegy, epic, and ode. Can you recognize an epigram? This word has come to characterize any short poem confined to one subject which ends with an ingenious turn of thought.

The eighteenth century writers developed a fondness for epigrams, to wit, Pope's couplets in his "Essay on Criticism."

Know then, thyself, presume not God to scan;

The proper study of mankind is man.

"Christ On Trial Today"
With the enduring memorial of last Sunday's lesson as it is written: I JESUS am the living bread (way, truth, and life) which came down from heaven; if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever; and the bread that I (JESUS) will give is my flesh, (in example as a symbol) which I (JESUS) will give for the life (abundance) of the world. ST. JOHN 6:51.
In this world of unrest: men kill with hate for hate, and christians return good for evil. Jesus said: "overcome evil by doing good." (CHRIST ON TRIAL TO-DAY).
But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities; the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are (it's possible) healed. All (many, most) we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way (world way of man); and the LORD hath laid on him the iniquity of us all (who believe, repent from man's way and seek GOD'S KINGDOM OF LOVE). ISAIAH 53:5-6. (for he that loveth "giveth" his life for my sake).

The World At Large

Because the United States felt it inexpedient to christen her newest battleship, North Carolina, on Good Friday as scheduled, the giant vessel is being commissioned into the navy earlier in preparation for "trials later in spring."

Germany is awaiting the arrival of the British troops now landed at southern Italian ports. War in the Balkans? Imminent! . . .

Greece is withstanding Italian attempts at air attacks. Yugoslavia is not accepting German proposals as quickly as Hitler hoped because of British forces in Greece. . . . German occupation of Bulgaria has not altered the Turkish-British military alliances. . . . The Royal Air Force is continuing to unload shells on German civilian population. . . . British airial defense has scattered German bombing. . . . Roosevelt now has full swing with the Lease-Lend Bill, the 7 billion appropriation, and popular mandate. . . . U. S. Chem Club Takes Annual Trip To Hutch

Featured by the Chemistry club, an all day trip to Hutchinson will be taken by the Chemistry classes next Friday. Open to all chemistry students. This trip, an annual event for the past fifteen years, will include brief tours through several companies and plants in Hutchinson.

Especially outstanding is the tour through the Carey salt plant and a trip to the salt mines in Hutchinson. Guides will be furnished, and the students will be allowed to go down the mine shaft into the mine proper.

For those who are interested more in their stomach than their education, the Rainbow Baking company or the candy plant may be a place of interest. For those who enjoy a bit of Coco-Cola occasionally, there is the Coco-Cola plant to visit.

The Spectator Sees--

We, The People

Because of popular demand, the Spectator is going to sponsor on its pages a "Spectator Open Forum" column. This column is to be maintained solely for the purpose of putting into print the opinions of any of the volunteer journalists. If anyone has an axe to grind, or if he wishes to commend any campus activity, he may have his brain-child printed in the Spectator (at the discretion of the editor) by submitting the aforesaid "copy" to the Spectator. Although the writer should keep within certain bounds of conservatism, he need not feel obliged to record only the opinions of the Spectator.

Because this column is to be maintained for and supported by student contributions, the Spectator urges any and all who are interested to co-operate to make this venture a success.

Renovation

According to the calendar, spring begins today. When one looks out the window in the Spectator office, he is not reminded of the "verdure of hill and valley" which invariably accompanies spring. The trees are all more or less barren; even the evergreens one could hardly define as being indicative of spring. Farther out on the fields surrounding McPherson, one can as yet see no evidences of spring's jaunty youthfulness. Nothing of life is evident except a wisp of smoke far in the distance, lazily floating skyward. Here and there a grayish brown sparrow flits from branch to branch of some leafless tree.

To a nature observer, spring can come to mean more in the way of re-consecration than any other season of the year. Spring is the time when new life is born; when life flourishes. Then one can pause to evaluate the contribution he has made during the past year, and, inspired by the rebirth of nature, can rededicate himself to the business of living.

Too often one becomes stagnant with the little-moving life of winter, but with the coming of spring, he can replenish his mental larder with the images of life which surround him; he can stir his lagging footsteps to bigger and better things.

Spring begins today.

Eavesay Opperdray

Write, write, write! My pen scratches senselessly on. I must write something. Yes, keep on writing, I must not stop. Long since has my mind and pen conspired to flow in worldly channels. I know not what I write, or of what I am thinking. My mind wanders to orbits unknown. Is this insanity? Yes, of course, it must be. What else could it be? All is lost in the divine bliss of madness! World, thou are a thing apart, foreign to me. I shall have naught to do with thee. I shall seclude myself from thy unpleasantness, thy pettiness, frivolity, and materialism. Ah yes, I shall dwell apart from thee on a distant planet, chaste and unrendered by man. I shall turn a deaf ear to thy hollow mockery and a blind eye to thy selfish strife. Scratch on, oh blithe quill of dementia! Yes, I shall weave a magic carpet of words and with my pen as a rudder shall soar to realms far beyond even the quiet solitude of Crill's Alaskan wastes of snow inviolate. Yes, to regions even beyond the reach of the telescope's lengthy flangers, beyond the astronomer's dream, and beyond the clash and clamor of Fahnestock Hall, if the mighty universe is broad enough to afford such a place.

Crash! Thud, thud, thud! My dream ship just threw a rod and I find myself back at the typewriter, surrounded by mere mortals, groping for gossip, and wishing that I could find out who the couple was that Doc Mohler surprised in the midst of mad embrace and burning kisses in the Biology laboratory Monday afternoon. Some fun! Most people prefer their romances without the fish-worms and formaldehyde; so the big boys tell me.

It would seem that the moving spirit is in full swing. The other night Dick "Highpockets" Prentice and Johnnie "Lowpockets" Trostle came home and discovered, to their great amazement, that they didn't live there any more! Some onery pranksters had picked up their bed and walked, also, the other furniture was missing. Not until the dawn of a new day did Dick and Johnnie find their new home. They must have become homesick very soon because it didn't take them long to move back to their previous location.

The joy of their homecoming was drowned the next day, when they unwittingly left a steam valve too far open. Soon some of the fellows heard a great hissing and gurgling, and saw water seeping from under the door of the Prentice-Trostle room. Of course they became alarmed and straightway opened the door to seek the source of the commotion. As the door opened they were met with a mighty torrent that poured out of the room and gushed down the hall and stairs, carrying chairs and furniture with it. When the flood subsided the amazed and abashed boys picked themselves up and dashed into the room to see if there were any casualties. Apparently the only victim was Ann Janet Allison, poor girl, and she was so attractive too. Her picture was soaked and warped almost beyond recognition.

More about this aforesaid moving spirit. It seems to have caught Winber Lindville and Earl Brubaker, because they have moved from a well-lighted, spacious, corner room, to a smaller room with only one window. The funny part of it is that they are moving by request rather than personal initiative. Pop Groff decided that the only way for Mamms and Pappa and all the little Groffs to get any sleep at night was to move Willie and Brew as far away as possible!

And so goes another week in the realms of higher education and culture all that sort of rot.

Utchmay ovelky Eavesay.

Former President Is Guest

The Forensic Club in its regular meeting last Wednesday night had as its guest, William P. Thompson, graduate of McPherson college and former president of the club. Mr. Thompson, after a brilliant career as a student and as a varsity debater here, received a scholarship to the University of Chicago Law School where he is now enrolled. Billy spoke briefly of his work at the university.

Orations given by Wilburn Lewallen and Betty Dean Burger were the leading part of the program. Miss Lucy Blough presented a solo "Did Your Mother Come From Ireland?" Students who are interested in forensic work are invited to come to the next meeting of the club on April 2.
