Sebastian Thrills Audience With Harmonica Classics

With unusual and astounding musician artistry and a personality that radiates across the concert footlights, John Sebastian, harmonica virtuoso, will present the last program of the Community Concert Series at the McPherson High School auditorium, Wednesday, February 1 at 8 o'clock.

John Sebastian arranges and chooses his repertoire from those masters whose compositions are best suited for the harmonica, thus transforming his one time "hip pocket hobby" into an instrument of such classic sensitivity and beauty that many times it is comparable to the flute or violin.

Since childhood he has been an extraordinary performer on the harmonica. At twelve he was soloist with John Phillip Sousa's band.

In high school he won a national contest which brought him an offer to teach the harmonica to classes of southern mountaineers. In Rome, while studying law, he had more invitations than he could accept from the American Colony and the local nobility. Upon returning to his home, Philadelphia, he became so interested in the many possibilities he found in his instrument that he decided to make music his career.

He soon outran the status of a "novelty" and as a result was asked to be guest soloist with the Philadelphia Orchestra under the direction of Eugene Ormandy. After that he appeared with the Rochester Civic Symphony, the NBC Symphony and the Radio City Music Hall Symphony. With Virgil Thomson and Leonard Bernstein he gave a New York recital in Town Hall. He made a record album entitled "The Harmonica Recital," has appeared on several major radio shows such as "We the People," "Hildegarde," "The Camel Caravan," "Jack Smith Show," "The Texaco Star Theatre," and "The Chesterfield Show." Recently he appeared with the Cleveland Orchestra under Dr. Rudolph Rangell. Other orchestras include those in Louisville, Rochester, and New Orleans.

In order to attain the heights which Sebastian now enjoys, he first had to make a name for himself not as a "novelty," but as a true artist of the concert stage. This was difficult; for, though he was a very good entertainer, no one believed he was capable of delving into the music of the masters. Consequently, no one was particularly interested. With his heart set on "longhair," Sebastian decided to enter the night club field. He made his debut at La Vie Paristique, followed by an engagement at the swank Cottillion Room at the Hotel Pierre. After that, engagements came easier; he was a tremendous hit at Cafe Society Uptown, the Wedgewood Room of the Waldorf and later at Chicago's Famous Palmer House.

He was also in demand for Red Cross Rallies, War Bond Drives, and the March of Dimes and many other benefits to raise funds for the war effort.

Reviews began to pour in, and Sebastian was several steps closer to his goal.

Though skeptical, Columbia Concerts, Inc., gave Sebastian the opportunity he had been working and waiting for. As a result, Sebastian was the first harmonica virtuoso to make a complete solo recital tour. All doubts as far as audiences were concerned disappeared after he was on the stage for a few minutes. As Dr. Russell Potter, Director of the Institute of Arts and Sciences of Columbia University stated: "In the field of musical entertainment, John Sebastian is 'tops.' People who come to his McMillion Theatre Concert to sneer at the humble 'mouth organ' stayed to cheer the great recitalist."

Sebastian has fulfilled over seventy-seven concert engagements in one season. During the summer he "guest spots" over the major networks and summer concerts. At present he is recording exclusively for RCA Victor.

While not on tour, he spends much of his time taking care of his Long Island home, his wife, the former radio actress, Jane Bishop, and his young son, John Benson. His leisure hours are taken up with his favorite hobby—the harmonica. Not only does he interpret and compose music for his instrument but he does extensive research in order to extend his repertoire for forthcoming recitals.

John Sebastian

Some of his own compositions which have won him nation-wide attention are: "Children's Suite," "Afro-Cuban Dance," "Music Box," and "Water Sprite".

Although he has been offered numerous screen contracts and a chance to appear in many Broadway musicals as far as John Sebastian is concerned the future will continue the same pattern as the past; and that pattern is his greatest love—the concert stage and "long-hair" music."

Annual Sausage Feed To Be Held

Men of St. Peter's Evangelical and Reformed Church at Imman are holding their annual Ground Hog Feed on Groundhog Day, Feb. 2.

Many Maccollege students attended the last feed and more are expected this year.

Men do all the work from butchering through cooking and serving to washing the dishes. A total of 3,500 pounds of pork are being butchered.

Everyone is invited to eat as much as he wants from the menu which includes sausage, potatoes and gravy, sauer kraut and sauer ribs, peas, corn, carrots and celery, rolls, pie and coffee.

Serving starts at 4 p.m. and continues until all guests are served. About 750 people are expected this year.

All proceeds go to World Service and church improvements.

Peace Conference To Be At Bethel

Speakers at a Peace Conference held February 4th and 5th at Bethel College, Newton, Kansas, will be Bayard Rustin, a member of the Fellowship of Reconciliation, and Paul and Lois Harris, world travelers.

Bayard Rustin plays the guitar and sings as only a Negro can, and possesses a rare wit as well as being a wonderful speaker.

Paul and Lois Harris have traveled widely and will relate some of their experiences.

Registration for the two days is $1.50. Meals (4) are $2.50 and lodging in $5.00.

This conference is sponsored by the Peace Groups of Bethel, McPherson and Friends.

Hesston Expands College

Our neighboring college to the southeast, Hesston, has started construction on a new building to be used as a science hall. Upon completion courses will be offered in agriculture, music, prenursing, art, and sciences.

The building will be named as a memorial to one of the early pillars of the school, J. D. Charles. He was an outstanding teacher of science whose writings have been accepted in many circles of higher education.

Cost of the building will be approximately $80,000. Construction will take about ten months.

Coughenour Gains Editorial Position

Dean Coughenour, Junior, was elected Wednesday by the Board of Publications and the Student Council, as Campus Editor of the "Spectator," to succeed Rowan Keim who has moved up to the position of Managing Editor.

Mr. Coughenour, who is studying for a professional career in journalism, has filled a ticklish position on the "Spec" staff this year. His efforts with the Sports page of the paper have been accordingly appreciated, applauded, and acclaimed.

Dean's journalism training, plus his previous experience on the "Spectator" qualify him as a capable Campus Editor.

Fantasy Highlights 1-Act Productions

W. W. Jacobs intense dramatic Monkey's Paw is a believable fantasy which almost but never quite lapses into unreality.

The Mokey's Paw, set in an old fashioned cottage on the outskirts of a small English village, is enacted by five Maccollege students. Harold McNamme plays the male lead as Mr. White.

Marie Miller takes the part of his wife, Mrs. White. Their son, Herbert is portrayed by Bob Wilson. Visitors to the home are Sgt. Major Morrison played by Don Schultz and Gerald Neher as Mr. Sampson.

Harold McNamme is remembered for his Scottish brogue in last year's production, "The Hasty Heart." Marie Miller, who had a minor role in "The Late George Apley," now has the feminine lead of the Monkey's Paw and is also the student director.

Don Schultz may be remembered in the humorous role of Roger in this year's production, "The Late George Apley." Bob Wilson and Gerald Neher are making their debut into Maccollege dramatists society.

After seeing the one-act plays Feb. 6, 8, 9, 10, perhaps the characters will have explained the strange eerie power of The Monkey's Paw.

Note Of Thanks

I want to express a sincere thank you to my friends who remembered me with expressions of kindness during my recent illness.

Mary Vancil Lectures On Children's Literature

Literature of the Pre-school Child was the topic of Miss Mary Vancil's lecture to the Children's Literature class, Thursday.

She has given this talk to PTA groups in Decatur, Illinois, where she formerly worked.

Miss Vancil remarked, "The pre-school age is the most impressionable age for child foundation and appreciation for good literature."

Rufus Bowman Is Speaker At Annual Birthday Dinner

Dr. Rufus D. Bowman will be the guest speaker at the annual birthday dinner to be held this Sunday evening in the Church of the Brethren.

The menu consists of creamed chicken, peas, relish plate, and cake. The limelight falls on Japan for the theme. Miss Mary Spessard created the Japanese decorations.

Rev. Harry C. Zeller will act as master-of-ceremonies. Special music will be provided by the College Ladies Trio.

Mrs. Paul Sargent, Dr. Lowell Heisley, and Mr. Robert Keim are on the mission committee which planned the birthday dinner.

This dinner brings to a climax the School of Missions which has been in session the past month. The sole purpose of the evening is to raise money for missions. Tradition of past years has requested each guest to donate a dime or dollar for each year of his life. Twelve hundred dollars were given last year.

Dr. Bowman has recently returned from a world tour and will probably speak of mission deeds as he has seen them. Dr. Bowman is president of Bethany Seminary and is also chairman of the Foreign Mission Commission.

UNESCO Drive Is Underway

For the past week the UNESCO drive has been in progress here in McPherson College. A collegiate organization is in the process of completion.

Membership in the college organization is only a quarter. To date there are sixty-two members.

Such an organization can take part in the program of sending teachers and students abroad, of helping foreign students to come here.

It can promote study of UNESCO aims through discussion groups. Individuals or groups can make their opinions felt for peace.

You can tip the scales toward peace a dozen times a day by a tolerant phrase, an accurate fact, a gesture of friendship across present racial, cultural, or national barriers.

Volunteers Serve For Recovery

Of the six Volunteers recently stationed at Kassel, Germany, three are former students of McPherson. They Dean Neher, Jake Sheaffer, and Joann Lehman.

They write in a recent letter:

"We six young people, at present the only Volunteer Service Unit in Europe, have found a niche where we may serve positively in a world that is largely negative—where we may build instead of destroy."

The actual results of the work we do with our hands are pitifully small when compared with the poverty, tragedy, and need of the peoples of Europe.

Why are we here?

The doctor at the refugee led clinic said it when he told us that all we were laughing at—think of Americans doing that heavy work for nothing. But the laughs changed to wondering, and then to appreciation. That young people of a victim nation should dirty their hands was something new to these people, the doctor stated.

Only two buildings stood on the campus. Old Fahnestock was divided into a boys' and girls' dorm. Sharp was smaller. Partitions between the two rooms on either side of the chapel could be raised if the chapel was crowded.

Glancing around the library Mrs. Crumpacker said, "Why, I remember watching them put that roof on."

In 1946 Mrs. Crumpacker received her A.B. degree. In 1948 she and her husband sailed to China to begin missionary service which has lasted for 32 years not including furloughs. During furlough in 1947, Mrs. Crumpacker received a master's degree from McPherson College.

While in McPherson, Mrs. Crumpacker spoke to the Women's Council of the Brethren on conditions in China.

Happy New Year

Even though the new year may have started on January 1 for most people, the new year starts at college with the beginning of second semester.

We students came back from Christmas vacation to be plummets into finals. Last week we reaped the results of our habits during the first semester of school.

Now that exams are over and we can breathe once more, we can start planning for the second semester instead of waiting until the finals in May.

Let's examine our past experiences at college and see if they could be improved upon. Did we come to college to get an education or to passively wait for the education to come to us? This week is the best time to make a resolution to work harder next semester.

Has college life improved us individually? Do we like what we see at MacCollage? Are some of us always griping about the teachers and our friends. Maybe it is time to take a self inventory and begin making a resolution to change for the better.

Regardless of what you decide to do, here's hoping that each semester will be better than the last!

Give Now To Save A Life

The year 1949 saw the polio scourge at its worst. Thousands of dollars were paid out to help polio victims in the state of Kansas alone.

Of the nine cases in McPherson county last year $5050.00 have already been paid with quite a sum yet to pay as soon as the bills are received.

If this enormous sum is being paid for only nine cases think of the debt incurred with the 40,000 cases in the United States last year.

We may be the next victims.

That is why we must support the March of Dimes campaign this month. McPherson College's goal is only $50.00. Let's go over the top.

Where Is American Love Of Life And Liberty?

"Four young Indians were sentenced on October 14th to a combined total of 56 years in the penitentiary for the theft of one sheep in Juliaetta, Idaho, under an old pioneer law invoked for the first time in decades. The sheep—worth at the most $15.00—was returned alive to the owner. This tragic sentence stands as an indecent monument to the persistence of the generations-old pioneer hatred of the Indian."

The four boys, aged 19 to 21, were off the reservation and had been drinking in celebration of the birth of a son to one of them. They were assured by the prosecuting attorney that they could be found guilty if they pleaded guilty.

It was only after the cruel sentence of 14 years upon each that they sought the help of counsel. The defense pled to the judge to set aside the sentence and to grant permission to enter a plea of "not guilty" which was denied.

Native Idahoans have led a spontaneous, nationwide movement of repulsion and protest against this barbaric sentence, and are now seeking the support of citizens throughout the nation to win a new trial for these boys, and above all, to vindicate the historic American tradition of equal justice for all. Idahoans intend to file a brief amicus curiae in the Supreme Court of Idaho, and carry the appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States, if necessary.

An editorial in "The Daily Iowan," Moscow, Idaho, gave the issue positive punch when it stated: "It is heartening when people rise up in anger over what they deem to be a miscarriage of justice. It is more heartening when the incidents they believe to be wrong concern friendless individuals."

Financial help is being asked now; not only because the lives of these four young Indians and their families will be destroyed if this vindictive sentence is carried out, but because this case is but one of an ever-increasing number in which Indians are exploited, humiliated and discriminated against. If justice and equal opportunity for the descendants of the first Americans are to be safe guarded, the support of every sympathetic citizen is needed.

English Classes Need Advice.

An English professor has this bit of information to pass on to struggling freshmen English classes.

"I hope you won't take it amiss if I suggest that after you get through the grammar you give your freshmen classes a little lecture on the important part English plays in the acquisition and maintenance of jobs in the cold cruel world."

"From what I hear around the campus, a great many bewildered freshmen cannot understand why they have to spend compulsory time learning to write well when their majors are to be agriculture, physical education, accounting and so forth.

"I feel it would give a few freshmen a real reason to attempt improvement if they knew how important it is, in any occupation, to have a decent command of vocabulary, punctuation and sentence structure. This is particularly true in the ordinary business chores such as: 1) applying for a job, 2) explaining a financial position when applying for a loan, 3) making a speech before the local grange, labor union or political group, 4) writing a 'gripe' to a local paper—and so on.

"Frankly, the ability to marshal facts and present them clearly in the most effective order is of utmost importance in the world today." — Arizona College State Press"

The truth came out yesterday. A coed in the back of the room raised her hand and asked a question.

The professor cleared his throat, began his answer. Fifteen minutes later, he finished, added: "I'm not sure I've answered your question, however . . .

"Oh yes," said the bright young thing, "yes, you did." "Well," Professor began modestly, "my theory is—if you talk long enough, you're bound to say something."

"Syracuse Daily Orange."

Letter To The Editor

Some of the boys here at the dormitory have been wondering just what the pep situation is here at McPherson College.

Why is it when we have an important conference game we do not have a pep assembly? Although the athletic situation is poor and we do not have a winning team we still need improvement in school spirit.

More spirit is shown in intramural games than in conference games.

Please hand in your news tips, teachers.

Preserve Your Beauty

A feature writer of the "Daily Reveille" suggests that college girls need good beauty schedules to keep that "come-hither" look.

"A woman starts getting wrinkles around the forehead and eyes at about 20, most of which could have been avoided by good health routine and facial control. Lack of sleep, is the chief troublemaker. Most girls come through a week of late hours looking like an escaped zombie from last month's horror show."

"How do you think the boy of your dreams would react if you greeted him daily with a fierce scowl? A smile or at least a habitually pleasant expression can make much difference in the lines of a woman's face."

"Skin-care is an important part of any girl's beauty routine. A good diet and daily lubrication are the best recommendations for normally healthy skin. An ounce of prevention is worth more than all the beauty cures ever developed. A coed who sticks to the simple rules of good health and adequate care for her schoolgirl complexion will find it easy to believe her face is her fortune!"

MC Meets Swedes Tonight; Travel To Bethel Tuesday

Tonight in the Bethany Field House Gymnasium McPerson College will make their sixth attempt to go into the 1950 Kansas Conference win column as they engage the Bethany Swedes, a team that whipped the Bulldogs 69-49 on Jan. 13.

The Bulldogs are now tied for last place in the loop with Bethel. Each team has lost five games. The Swedes are in third place with three wins and one loss. Two of the wins were over Bethel.

If the Bulldogs cannot upset the Swedes tonight and break the last-place deadlock, it is positive the tie will be broken next Tuesday night as Frosty Hardacre's squad travels to Newton to meet Bethel.

The teams met one time this season in a non-conference game. Bethel won 58-47 in the Lyons Invitational Tournament on December 28.

Both Bethel and Bethany will face a different lineup than in their previous meeting with the Bulldogs. The Bulldogs played their best ball of the season the first night of their eastern swing through the loop and nearly beat undefeated-in-the-league Baker.

Besides shuffling the lineup considerably since the Gray Maroons and the Swedes last met the Bulldogs, Frosty Hardacre has added two men to the squad for the second semester—Lorin Blickenstaff and Roland Delay. Both are sophomores.

Blickenstaff, the rubber-legged red head from Nampa, Idaho, has made his presence felt in the three games he has played. Besides topping the team in scoring in all three games, Blick has been a rebounding and floor bulwark.

Earl Grindle has risen fast in the past few weeks and has started the last three games. Grindle, a junior from Hill City, Kans., is not a heavy scorer—although he did count 10 points against Baker—but is a smart half court and reliable defensive player.

With Blickenstaff and Grindle, coach Frosty Hardacre has been alternating captain Lyle Goering, Bob Odle, Gene Arnold, Dale Carpenter, and Glen Pyle.

Goering seems to have struck a mid-season slump but still leads the squad in nearly all departments of play.

The five foot 11 inch senior has the most points, 116, shots, 124, field goals, 37, free throws attempted, 66, foul shots made, 42, and free throw percentage, .636. Several players have slightly higher foul shot averages but have taken considerably fewer shots.

Blickenstaff has taken over the field percentage leadership with a torrid .455. Gene Arnold follows with .317.

Wesleyan Routes M 68-45 As Pounds Gets 20 Points

The McPherson College Bulldogs lost their tenth consecutive game of the season on the McPherson High School court Tuesday as the Kansas Wesleyan Coyotes, one of the five undefeated teams in the country, rolled on in championship style 68-45.

Skirny Harold Pounds, a top scorer in the nation last year and the 1949 Kansas Conference leader, dropped in 20 points. Ten of the points were from the foul line. Pounds missed but two charity shots.

The Bulldogs never made a serious threat in the game and were held at intermission 35-19.

For the third consecutive game the Bulldogs ran into some redhot free throwing by the enemy. The Wesleyanites hit 80 percent of the foul tries, 24 in 30 attempts.

Previously on the eastern swing through the circuit, the Bulldogs had been the victims of Bakers 19 of 21 tries and Ottawas 16 hits in 19 attempts.

No person stood out for the Bulldogs in the Wesleyan contest. Lorin Blickenstaff topped the scorers with 12 points, but he was behind Pounds and the veteran Charlie Fiffe who canned 14.

Don Anderson, previously the top scorer for the Coyotes, was in uniform but did not see action because of an injured hip.
