

Recreation Leaders To Meet Here For National Laboratory Workshop

In a few weeks, Dec. 26-30, recreational leaders from across the country will meet in McPherson for the National Recreational Workshop. The workshop is open to all people interested in recreational techniques. The fee for the conference, which includes meals and other miscellaneous items needed for the laboratory work, is $13.50.

Prof. S. M. Dell, advisor to the Macampus Recreation Council, and James Elrod, Executive secretary of the Western Region, are taking care of the registration for the workshop.

Crafts to be offered will include: woodcarving, which it to be taught by James Elrod, and Russel West, pastor and youth worker, Pampa, Texas. Basketry and weaving are to be taught by Geneva Crist, former craft teacher, Brethren Relief Center, New Windsor, Maryland.

Edythe Weaver, full time recreation director, First Church of the Brethren, Chicago, will demonstrate and explain shell craft, paper maché, and leather craft. Dorothy Ikenberry, craft teacher and rehabilitologist, Wichita, will teach metal foil.

Don Snider

Don Snider, National Youth Director, Church of the Brethren, Elgin, will offer rope spinning and boomerangs.

All singing will be under the direction of Alvin ("Cheesy") Vorsan, 1928 graduate of Maccollege, who is now teaching music at Centenary College, Shreveport, La.

Other crafts will be internal carvings, plastics, and leather, under the direction of Professor Dell. Miriam Dell will instruct the knitting and crocheting group.

S. M. Dell

Reverend West will be the leader of cartooning and sketching; Byron Frantz, Industrial arts major, Maccollege, will lead gameboards.

Other leaders of the workshop are: Durward G. Dewitt, recreation director for Consumers Cooperative, Kansas City; Dwight Hanawalt, recreation director LaVerne College, LaVerne; and Helen Rumsey, Sec. of the Church of the Brethren youth department, Elgin.

Dr. D. W. Bittinger, President of Maccollege; Prof. Roy McAuley speech and dramatics department, Maccollege; Rev. Harry Zeller, college pastor, and Mrs. Raymond Buskirk, florist, McPherson, are leaders also.

Professor Dell states that he expects 30-40 Maccollege students to enroll for the workshop, and, also, that each church included in the Western Region will send a delegate.

Meals for the group will be served in the cafeteria. Lodging will be furnished free of charge.

Yale Professor Pushes Education Draft For Nation

New Haven, Conn. (K. P.)—A Yale University professor has called for the "drafting" of qualified youth into the field of education and the "freezing" of teachers in their jobs. These steps, in the opinion of Samuel M. Brownell, are essential to protect the long-range national security.

In the light of possible years of tension, Prof. Brownell asserted that he would "make it very difficult" for teachers in elementary and secondary schools as well as colleges to leave their posts to enter the armed services or war industry.

Students Interview Kansas Senators And Congressmen

When questioned about the draft situation Sen. Darby said "The only way to determine it is to watch the events of the day—war in Korea is an incident of a whole picture. It is a small war compared to what might be a global war with Russia."

Our boys have given sufficiently of time and energy. Russia has us sitting in the driver's seat. Russia is in a position to have communistic countries start aggression against us without firing a shot anywhere in the world." The senator said that whatever had been done in Korea was all right. He thought we should control Formosa or anything else we set out to control.

"Segregate Communists"

"Communists should be segregated and watched carefully. No communistic force or nation should have any seat in any well-regulated, well-recognized body of government," he stated.

Darby also said that in working against communism on the campus we should "make a complete study of every day situations and exchange of ideas. Do everything to defuse any conversation or ideas about Communism. Encourage every effort to get rid of it."

In diplomatic relations, Sen. Darby said, "Any time they (Russia) want to talk with us, we should be willing to listen. Get them away from their thinking on communism. We don't want to do anything to help promote communism. Whenever they are willing to discuss, we should discuss with our highest offices."

At luncheon in the Capital, Nov. 27, Representative Ed Ross said,

"I think that the smaller colleges have a very important place in our country. There should be more of them. Advantages of going to college sponsored by a church are many. Churches are the source from which colleges were begun in America. While studying, give consideration to affairs of our own government. Historians of the future will say that 1950 is one of the most crucial times in the history of the United States. With the opportunity that we have, we must assume responsibilities in respect to the community and government in which we live."

Congressman Myron George, the only congressman to be sworn in the morning of Nov. 27, said, "The future of this country rests on our shoulder and in the interest that we take in government affairs."

Drafting Of Students

Sen. Schoepel said, concerning the 4-E fellow, "nothing definite has been said. There will probably be a program for the CO."

Sen. Darby's home town is in Kansas City. His vocation is manufacturing and his avocations are livestock, soil erosion, pasture improvements, and cattle raising. Mr. Darby has four children and four

Representative Rees said of the draft question for college students, "Students will get to finish the semester. They will get to finish college if grades are satisfactory, especially, if they are studying for medicine or some technical subject which can be used later on."

Capacity Crowd Hears Oratorio

Camill Van Hulse's Christmas Oratorio drew a near capacity crowd to the Church of the Brethren Sunday evening when McPherson College and the McPherson Church of the Brethren, 129 voices strong, presented the Kansas premier performance.

Prof. Donald R. Frederick directed the groups.

The three college choirs and the church choir entered on the processionals. "O Come All Ye Faithful," played by the assisting organist, Mrs. Audrey San Romani.

The children's choir, seated in the choir loft, wore white robes with black ties. Women in the choir wore black skirts and white blouses; the men wore dark suits.

WAA Initiates New Members

On Wednesday Dec. 6, 18 girls were initiated into the McPherson College Women's Athletic Association. The new members were required to wear one-half of their hair in curlers and one half straight, a print dress tucked into jeans on one side, an anklet and dress shoe on one foot, and hose and a casual on the other foot. They were not allowed to wear make-up.

Also, each girl was told to carry a raw-egg to each class and have the professor sign it.

In the evening, old and new members of the WAA gathered in the gym for the finale. The initiates were told to do various things such as: run around the gym, hop around the gym on one foot, and cat walk six feet. When each girl had passed each test to the club's satisfaction, she was blindfolded and guided through a labyrinth of dark alleys.

Finally the march ended in a large room which was pitch-black even without blindfolds. There the bewildered girls were left to find the way out. Benches, tables and other obstacles which were strewn about the room made progress to the door slow and surprising. Eventually, everyone found the way out.

Coffee and doughnuts were served and the meeting adjourned.

Christmas Regalia Bedecks Dorms

Christmas is in the air! All the dorms have made plans for the coming season. The girls on the third floor of Kline drew names for a gift exchange. They had a party Wednesday evening.

A small Christmas tree gives the parlor the effect of the season. Several of the girls have their doors decorated. Esther Merkey and Margaret Yost have a fireplace with Santa standing by ready to put the gifts in the stockings. Fahnstock Hall has several strings of Christmas tree lights cut in front. Bob Wilson and Don Wagner have a string of lights forming the letter "W" in their window.

The girls on second have a tree in the west end of the hall. Almost all of the doors on the floor have decorations on them. Mary Caster and Alice Flory have a lighted wreath in their window.

Tuesday night the girls on second floor had a combined Christmas party and birthday party for Joan Pinther. The girls had drawn names and exchanged gifts at that time.

Indra Dittmars and Lorene Clark have a Christmas tree in their window and Elsie Kilday and Rowena Merkey have a sign wishing those passing by a "Merry Christmas."

Wednesday evening the girls in Arnold went caroling and had a refreshment-less party in the dorm afterwards. The project of the dorm girls is to contribute money towards helping some of the international students on campus instead of drawing names among themselves.

Players Elect Zeigler President

Players club members elected Wayne Zeigler president, Dale Oliver vice-president, and Sue Smith secretary at a meeting in the SAR Wednesday, Dec. 6.

A committee of Doris Roess, Kathi Larson, and Wayne Zeigler, will meet with Prof. Roy McAuley to decide one-set plays for next year.

This election followed a decision of the Players Club to form a definite organization. Up to this time, the members of this group changed with each new production; it is the aim of the group to form a definite body.

MC Is Host For Economy Tourney Jan. 6

This tournament, begun in 1937-'38 by Prof. Maurice Hess, is a non-elimination, four round affair intended to give experience to debaters.

The fact that each school brings a judge and that there is no entry fee, cuts down the cost usually involved in a tournament of this size.

Fifteen schools from Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma, and Missouri have already accepted their invitations.

From the Spectator of January, 1938, come the first reports of this tourney. The first actual tourney was held Jan. 7, 1938 when 54 teams from 15 schools took part.

Practiced tournaments had become crowded and Prof. Maurice Hess decided to start one of his own.

It was originally planned for benefit of inexperienced debaters, but has gradually been doubled to include everyone who is interested in debate. Last year 56 teams from 18 schools took part in this tourney.

Alpha Psi Holds Formal Initiation

Alpha Psi Omega initiates met at 8 o'clock at the SAR Tuesday for a closed, formal initiation.

After initiates repeated their 12-line selections from Shakespeare and wrote the Greek letters and symbols, they were guests at the home of Prof. Roy McAuley for dinner.

Initiates include Wayne Zeigler, Margaret Daggett, Kathryn Larson, Don Shultz, Esther Mohler, and Dean Cotton. Present members are Prof. Roy McAuley and Prof. Della Lehman.

Alpha Psi Omega, International honorary dramatic fraternity and one of the two secretaries of Maccollege, requires that its members accumulate 50 honor points awarded for merit in Players Club productions.

Notice . . .

Spec staff positions of campus editor and managing editor are open for second semester. Anyone who is interested in advancing to the editorship of the paper may give completed application blanks to Bonnie Martin, Delma Cline, Gerald Neher, or Joan Pinther.

But the Voice from the Throne interrupted.

"Next year," said the Voice, "you will do as you have done. Next year," said the Voice with mingled sweetness and sorrow, "for many years to come. For you are the Carol that must be voiceless until all men sing together in a mighty chorus that covers the earth."

"Only in the hearts of men who have seen the vision," said the Voice, "can you honor the Child, until all men love each other as He loved them."

"Then," said the Carol wistfully, "must I be silent forever?"

"Not so," said the Voice, and the full choir of angels had never sounded so rightly majestic. "They fled from it, in fear and greed, but through their great shins love, with their fear there is shame, and

"One day they will cast out their fear and let love lead them into the high habitation I have prepared for them. Then," said the Voice, "all men will join in singing the sweetest carol of all—the song of universal brotherhood."

The Carol That Never Was Sung

The first Christmas Eve, of course, was a very important event, the birthday of the Child called for the biggest celebration the heavenly hosts had ever had. Even the angels held in reserve for a few, for some specially special event, would be sung.

The choir was to be one of Heaven's very best, with some exceptionally rich angelic tenors and basses brought in from the glee club to help out. All the stars had been rubbed with a special polish, and one brand new star added just for the occasion.

The Carols were quite puffed up with pride and excitement, and they all promised solemnly to be on hand in plenty of time.

On the great night, everything went off fine. The stars shone as they had never shone before, the angel choir outdid itself in paean of joy, and the Carols were a great success. There was only one little flaw, and hardly anyone even noticed it. One of the Carols didn't get there in time.

In fact, it didn't get there at all.

It was quite a sweet Carol, too, the angel singers told each other, a little sadly. It had been a pity not to have sung it.

When nearly 20 long centuries had gone by with the last Carol still not sung, they brought the situation to the Throne Room. There they explained, more in sorrow than in anger, about the Carol that was always late, and so had never helped to celebrate the Child's birthday, and they wondered what ought to be done with the Carol.

The last Carol was ashamed and frightened, and hung its head in the throne room, and explained, with no more vagueness, why it had always been late.

Each year there had been something different, it admitted sheepishly. Sometimes it had been a man in a dungeon, or people waiting to be east into the arena or burned at the stake. Sometimes it had been men at war, lonely and discouraged and longing for peace.

Often it had been men or women whose spirits had fallen low in the face of great obstacles, whose faith in love was almost extinguished, and who could not join in the rejoicing over the Child's birthday because it had seemed to them the Child had been born in vain.

Always, explained the Carol simply, it had seemed important to stop with these for a while, and somehow it had always meant being late. But next year—begin the

ANGELIC MOCKERY?

Burton Metzler

The Angel's Song of Peace on Earth seems like a mockery at this Christmas time in 1950.

And so it may have seemed also in the days of Jesus for Jesus' country was an invaded and occupied land. Stationed in Jerusalem was the Roman governor and barracks there were the Roman garrison, part of the army of occupation.

And how the nationalistic Jews hated these Roman conquerors! They hated them because of oppressive taxes, because of rulers like Herod the Great who slaughtered their babies, because Roman legions burned a city like Sephoris and crucified hundreds of the leading citizens, and because of such indignities as forcing a Jewish civilian to carry a Roman soldier's baggage for a mile.

Therefore rebellion was ready to erupt momentarily. Here was no peace.

But Jesus had in his mind another solution to this political problem, which would fulfill the vision of the Angels' Song. The solution centered about the word love instead of hate.

He counseled his fellow countrymen not to be overcome by the evil of their captors but to overcome that evil not by physical violence, but by love. He urged his followers to love their enemies, to pray for them and bless them, to carry their baggage graciously not only for one mile but for two, in short, to overcome evil with good.

But Jesus' fellow countrymen, practical minded men, rejected His solution. They would rely on hate and force. Accordingly they rose in rebellion against the Romans. But they that take the sword shall perish by the sword, and in the year 70 A.D., the Roman legions again marched into Jerusalem and destroyed the city, the temple, and the nation.

When men shall be willing to follow the way of Jesus, to love instead of hate, to overcome evil with good, then the message of the Angels' Song at His birth will be realized.

Letter To The Editor

After reading last week's editorial, I had a guilty conscience. Upon going to the mirror, expecting to see myself in a striped garb and a number of four or five letters across my chest, my hair not combed, and without a pair of shoes, I found myself disappointed.

Then I went back and read the editorial again, and drew some conclusions. Some of them are as follows:

Upon thinking of the first phrase, "OH BAREFOOT MCPHERSON COLLEGE," and how crude a reputation we here at McPherson College have, I thought immediately of the different cultures that we have come from and what different cultures we live in.

Then my mind goes back to our Brethren in the East, where students seem to be compelled to wear suits to college chapel. If this is wearing shoes and being refined, I am not sure that I am ready for it. Rather if we stop and think of men and women who have graduated from McPherson and given their contribution to life, we see many have made a huge success.

Many of my thoughts are coming from a recent conference which I attended where all Brethren schools were represented. Here I saw something of which I was very proud. Any time the easterners wanted anything done, there was work to do, the barefoot westerners seemed to be the first and sometimes the only ones to answer the call.

However, it was alarming the way some of the westerners went about it.

I am in no way trying to compensate for the damage done, nor do I have any apologies for some of the incidents that have happened in recent days in the boys' dormitory. In fact I will be very happy when men will no longer be boys, but rather live as they will have to live in modern society.

I do want to say that I am 100 per cent behind the Student Court and no one will be happier than I when students have grown enough to have complete student government.

Many of the fellows have realized their mistake, and have learned from it. Much of the damage has been taken care of, and the rest is in the process of being fixed.

In my estimation, if the people who invested money in Falmouth Stock Hall were to return today they would not see the dorm "hoary with age," but a dormitory of beauty. They would find a dormitory where friendship is number one, a dormitory that is excellented by few.

I am sure that their faces would not turn red, but would light up with joy to see they had made an investment of lasting endurance in this generation and the next.

It is my opinion that "Alto out on broad Kansas' plains" we students have a great job to do. I am very happy to be a student at McPherson College, and would exchange places with no one for another campus.

If the time has come to wear shoes, let us make sure we get them on the right feet.

What Do You Think?

The opinions expressed in this column are those of the contributors, and not necessarily those of either McPherson College or the Spectator.

DO YOU THINK THAT PEOPLE ARE LIVING ACCORDING TO CHRISTIAN PRINCIPLES TODAY, AND IF NOT, WHAT CAN WE DO TO RESTORE THEM?

The world as a whole, I think is closer to the Christian goal than it was a 100 years ago, but it is still far from living completely according to Jesus' principles. That is, we are not yielding the possibilities of a Christian existence.

I believe that if we are to live according to Christ's principles we must use daily scripture and prayer to live as He did.

DO YOU THINK THAT PEOPLE ARE LIVING ACCORDING TO CHRISTIAN PRINCIPLES TODAY, AND IF NOT, WHAT CAN WE DO TO RESTORE THEM?

Most people today live up to Christian principles as long as they do not interfere with their own activity too much.

The means to secure a return to Christian living is that of brotherly love which, if applied, would take the indifferent attitude out of our lives.

Holy Land Authority

Speaks To Bible Class

World wide traveler and lecturer, Theodore Jackman, who has recently returned from the Holy Land, lectured to the 10:25 Bible class, Dec. 11.

No nation can endure on agriculture alone. They must have something, such as manufacturing, to keep them going. The Holy Land countries around the Dead Sea are extracting magnesium chloride from the minerals found in the Dead Sea. Because of its great strength and light weight, magnesium is in demand the world over. This is an important development in the economic life of the people who live in the Holy Land countries. Mr. Jackman explained.

Letha Miller
Most people today live up to Christian principles as long as they do not interfere with their own activity too much.

Albert Rogers

I think that people in general are failing to live up to these principles. We need to think more and to help ourselves and to help others to live up to the principles of Christ.

Lois Frantz

No, the majority of the people are not living their faith. Only through Christian homes can new leaders change the attitude of the world.

Dale Oltman

No, the majority of the people are not living this way. We can meet this need if each person who professes to be a Christian drops his indifference and resolves to live a Christian life every day.

I do not think that the population as a whole is living according to Christian principles, or we would not have wars and criminals, but I believe many are making a determined effort to do so.

Lillian Good

If young people who are active Christians would participate in public office and hold government positions this would put Christian teaching to practical use in guiding our country.

Doris Kesler

No, too many people are Christian in name only. One cannot live the Christian way without being Christian in life as well as in name. It is only by changing in heart and action as well as name that we can become true Christians.

Gloria Conard

No, the controlling portion of society is not living according to Christian principles. The core of the problem is that people do not live according to the Christian law of love.

Conant Backs UMT Slate

Unreservedly

Dr. James Bryant Conant, President of Harvard, has proposed a sterner, more all-inclusive program for Universal Military Service than any yet brought forward, according to a communiqué received from LOOK magazine.

His plan, which would exempt no young men whatever (whether physically handicapped or not) in the 18-20 year age group, has for the past few weeks been the subject of serious discussion among the small group of educators, scientists and military men to whom Dr. Conant has made it known.

It will undoubtedly receive early and intense scrutiny in the new session of Congress.

The communiqué says that in the Dec. 10 issue of LOOK Dr. Conant will describe his proposal for the first time to the general public. He is aware that the plan if accepted, will affect many undergraduates, and all young men contemplating a college education.

The New York World-Telegram and Sun, Tuesday, Nov. 14, had this to say about the forthcoming article: "Dr. Conant's statement is expected to raise a storm of controversy in scientific, educational and government manpower circles. Copies have been circulated among some of these people already and discussion is widespread."

"It is in direct conflict with a plan sponsored by Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey for deferment of some college students."

Dr. Conant contends in his article that such a two-year period of service as he proposes is a sacrifice demanded by the extreme peril of the times.

Charles W. Cole, President of Amherst College, will oppose Dr. Conant's views on this question in another issue of LOOK magazine.

The wild rush of getting ready to go home for Christmas has started again. The smell of pines and the scramble of bidding packages when certain friends come in the room is evident on every floor of the dorm.

A birthday party in honor of Phyllis Johnson was held on Wednesday night in Carole Huffman and Mary Ellen Yoder's room. Lunch consisted of ice cream bars and fudge cake.

Carolers Play, Sing, Eat During SCA Yule Party

"Do you have 10 beans?" "Have you lost any beans?" "Are you with him tonight?" "Can you be caught in this game by nodding your head?"

Everybody was a questioneer Saturday evening, December 9, about 8 o'clock, at the gathering of the carolers.

Beryl McCann and Esther Mohler informed the group as they came together at the gymnasium that, if they said anything meaningful or no, they would have to forfeit a bean to whomever heard them.

The group of carolers, led by Doris Coppock and Betty Byers proceeded to carol homes of faculty and church members.

Upon arriving at The Doghouse, for refreshments the group sang "I Love You Truly" to Joan Plinther and George Kelm to congratulate them on their forthcoming marriage.

Everyone then devoured donuts and cocoa served by the refreshment committee.

The Christmas caroling party was sponsored by the SCA. The social committee, Donna Sooby and Eldon Coffman, planned the party. Marilee Bowman, Maxine Hanley, and Phyllis Johnson were on the refreshment committee.

Zeller Says That Inequity Of War Is To Be Feared More Than Communism

"As I see it, it is not the evils of communism but the inequity of war itself that we have to come to grips with in the modern world," Rev. Harry Zeller said to the SCA Thursday evening, Dec. 7, in the SUR.

Reverend Zeller continued by saying that the ultimate struggle is not capitalism or democracy against socialism or communism, but it is, against the evils of war itself.

Quoting Mr. Cabot Lodge, U. S. Senator, Mass., Reverend Zeller stated "believe me, colleagues, the Russians are not smart enough to have produced the confusion that is in the world today."

All the nations of the world have contributed to this confusion by being so worried, troubled, and scared by communism that they will not come to grips with the real trouble—war. Reverend Zeller continued.

The councils of war in our government will not get rid of war until Christians the world over buck society, pay the extreme price, and refuse to shoot," Zeller explained.

"We will never kick communism by war," Reverend Zeller disclosed. "War only makes the seeds for communism; war is one of the causes of unemployment, distress, personal anguish and hunger. It is upon these conditions that communism thrives."

Rec. Council Has Christmas Party At Dr. Bittinger's

The Recreational Council held its annual Christmas party in the recreation room of Dr. and Mrs. D. W. Bittinger's home Monday evening.

Bill Daggett and David Metzler entertained the group with a debate on "there ain't no Santa Claus."

Elsie Kindley led the group in many of the old and new Christmas songs and carols.

Professor Bell, sponsor of the Rec. Council, gave a talk on what the average person thinks about Christmas.

The social closed with refreshments of popcorn and hot chocolate served to the group by the refreshment committee which consisted of Wilda Minnick and Harold Smith.

Bulldogs Win One Lose One On Trip

Canines Win
By A Point 55-54

The McPherson College Bulldogs edged out the St. Benedict's College Ravens at Atchison Tuesday night by a score of 55-54. In a game that saw the Bulldogs take the lead early in the game and never give it up. The Bulldogs proved to all concerned that they were not to be counted out of the conference flag race this year.

Early in the game, McPherson took the lead and at the end of the first period, they held the long end of a 18-12 score. By half time they had stretched their lead to 35-24. When the whistle blew ending the third period, the Bulldogs were resting easily on a 48-35 lead, but the Ravens closed the gap in the final quarter and as the game ended, the Bulldogs held only a slim one point lead. Loren Blickenstaff led the scoring for McPherson with 16 points and he was followed very close by Bob Bechtel with 14, Wayne Blickenstaff with 10 and Gene Smith with 9. Peters led the Raven scoring with 19 counters.

Kansas Conference Swedes Lead With Four Wins

With some of the conference teams meeting common foes, we are able to get a line on how the different teams may compare in the coming conference flag chase.

Bethel made everyone stop and take a second look when they romped to a 68-33 win over Tabor last week. The win over Tabor was not such an outstanding feat, but the fact that Tabor had held Bethel to a two point margin 44-42 makes Bethel look very good. It might seem that the Graymaroons are about ready to throw off the sack cloth and come out of the lower regions of the conference.

Another lowly team of past campaigns may be rising from the dust. College of Emporia has a 1-2 record thus far in the still young round ball season. The Presbys have taken it on the chin from Southwestern 52-48, been humbled by Wm. Jewell 73-71, and beaten Rockhurst 63-51. The two defeats the Presbys have suffered have been close affairs and they should have lost no prestige because of them.

Kansas Wesleyan, defending champs, are still looking for their first win. The Coyotes have lost to Washburn 65-67, and to Central (Mo.) 57-53.

Baker is another double loser so far this season. The Wildcats have lost to Peru (Neb.) 79-56, and Washburn 69-56.

Ottawa has a 1-1 record so far this year, having lost to Missouri Valley 59-48 and defeated Central (Mo.) 71-70. Bethany is currently leading the conference in all games played with a 4-0 record.

The Swedes have wins over Tabor, Doane (Neb.), Concordia (Neb.), and Rockhurst. The conference standings as of Tuesday, no conference games having been played, were:

Team	W	L
Bethany	4	0
Bethel	1	0
McPherson	1	1
Ottawa	1	1
C. of E.	1	2
Baker	0	2

One big reason that the Bethel Swedes are still unbeaten is Bill Carlson. The all-conference footballer has tossed in 80 points in the Swedes first four games for a torrid 20 point average. Bill, though only 5' 11", plays the post for Coach Ray Hahn, and from all
