

Nightshirts Parade Streets In 30th Pre-Game Pep Rally

Forgetting all inhibitions, Maccollege students may don pajamas "legally" next Thursday evening, Oct. 5 for the staging of the 30th yearly pajama parade and snake dance. The event is held before the night of the first home football game, and is run in cooperation with the city police force and the college cheerleaders.

Cheerleader elections for 1950-51 parade are Betty Ann Murray, Ann Carpenter, Marlin Walter, and Bob Wilson. The game Friday, Oct. 6 is against Baker University of Baldwin, Kansas.

Students assembling for the parade will meet at the Junior High School building on East Euclid at 7:30 p.m. from the Junior High, the snake dancers will parade through business establishments up and down main street; and will pause at intersections for college yell.

As a finale to the festivities, Maccollege students are invited to attend a movie at one of the theaters for the special admission price of 35 cents per person.

Twenty-nine years ago Maccollege had its first pajama parade, which was then called the "nightshirt parade." From the Oct. 4 spectator of 1927 edited by Orville D. Pote, come the following sidelights on the now traditional event.

"The boys of the McPherson College staged a rather unique Nightshirt parade last Tuesday evening in order to arouse interest among the business men of the city for the game with Fairmount which was waged last Saturday afternoon."

"One hundred fifty students garbed in "ghostly apparel" departed from the dormitory about 8:30 and wended their way, single file, to Main street where a snake dance was soon in its height of glory.

"Both sides of the street were lined with great numbers of curious spectators. At the corner of Kansas Avenue and Main the zig-zag procession was greeted by a refrain from the college band. After numerous rousing college yell, the line of march was directed to the Turney theater which surrendered to the invaders after a short siege.

"The soothing quietness and peacefulness which reigned supreme then was suddenly broken by a half dozen peppy yell and cheers. After informing the theatergoers of the mission of such a motley army, the theater was quickly evacuated. The long winding trail then proceeded northward to the corners of Euclid and Main where another halt was made.

"Again the great crowd of curious onlookers was favored by several band selections sandwiched with plenty of college yell.

"As the group disbanded the boys were picked up by good-natured business men and taken to the Hill."

Hamilton Comes As Guest Speaker For Conference

Samuel Hamilton, New York City, has been secured as principal guest speaker for the Western Regional Conference which will be held on Macampus November 12-16. Dr. Bittinger is the moderator.

The following men will have charge of at least one of the chapel hours which will be held in the College Church: Clarence B. Sink, pastor of the South Waterloo, Iowa church; Henry J. Long, National Vision Education Director; and C. E. Davis, secretary of the Christian Education Commission.

Bible studies will be under the direction of Wilburn Lewallen, pastor of the Brethren Church at Quinter, Kansas; J. Perry Prather, pastor of the Waterloo, Iowa church; and Harry K. Zeiler.

Burton Metzler will conduct the Bible hours in the morning; and C. E. Davis, will conduct a group discussion on the church and the home.

Kurtis Naylor, pastor of the Denver church will talk on "Europe as I see it today." He has just recently returned from that locale.

Dessie Miller, national director of Children's work, will be in charge of the children's work program. Ruth Shriver, national director of women's work will talk on "Building Home Life."

A discussion on preparation for marriage will be lead by Charles Zunkel, secretary of Ministry and Home Missions, and Harry K. Zeiler, pastor of the college church. Raymond Peters, General Secretary of the Brotherhood Board is planning to attend the meeting.

Murrey, Walter, Carpenter, Wilson Lead Cheers

Heading the pajama parade and snake dance Thursday evening, and leading yell for the grid and hardwood teams this year will be cheerleaders Marlin Walter, Macpherson; Ann Carpenter, Las Vegas, Nevada; Betty Ann Murray, Conway, Kansas; and Bob Wilson, Conway Springs, Kansas. All four are sophomores.

Cheerleader elections for 1950-'51 positions were held by the student body last spring after tryouts by all candidates were completed.

Poetry Assn. Announces Collegiate Verse Contest

The National Poetry Association announces the seventh annual competition of College Students' Poetry. The closing date for the submission of manuscripts by all students is Nov. 5.

Any student attending either junior or senior college is eligible to submit his verse. There is no limitation as to form or theme. Shorter works are preferred by the Board of Judges, because of space limitations.

Each poem must be typed or printed on a separate sheet, and must bear the name and home address of the student, as well as the name of the college attended, and the college year.

There are absolutely no fees or charges for either acceptance or submission of verse. All work will be judged on merit alone.

Manuscripts should be sent to the offices of the Association: National Poetry Assn., 3210 Selby Ave., Los Angeles 34, California.

Band Has 35 Members

Prof. Delbert Crabb, director of Maccollege instrumental music, reports that there are 35 members in the band this year. The band is now working on marching and concert material, and is planning for an out-of-town trip in the future. It will play for all of the home games during the football and basketball seasons.

Adherence To Rules Speeds Arrival At Food, In Cafeteria Lines

A part of MacPherson College has become the groans of those waiting in cafeteria line above the growls of demanding stomachs. Mrs. Slifer, cafeteria manager, and Barbara Berry, cashier, have suggested some rules to practice while in the cafeteria. It is their hope that these will speed your arrival at food, especially after those 11:20 classes!

The rules are as follows: do not cut line unless you have good reason for doing it; present unfolded bills to the cashier; when possible do not break bills but have the correct change; cash checks in the business office; decide what you want to eat without stalling; ask definitely for that brand of ice cream you want when going through the line; chewing gum should be left in the can provided for it; only one person pay the cashier for a quart of milk; place the milk bottle to the left of tray so that the cashier may see the food; count money for correct change, then leave change on the tray instead of pausing to put it in.

If anyone has other suggestions for making the line move faster please feel free to give them to Mrs. Slifer or Barbara. Also, any ideas about different foods to be served will be appreciated.

'Spec' Receives Second ACP Honor Rating

The Spectator, Maccollege's weekly publication, received a second place honor rating from the Associated Collegiate Press for the second semester of 1949-'50. The "Spec" was judged along with other papers published by schools which have less than 500 students. Only 12 in this group were rated higher than third.

The Spectator received a total of 760 points on an evaluation of news values, news writing, headlines and makeup, and special features. A total of 800 points is necessary for first class rating; and 900 for All-American.

Lorene Clark, junior, was the editor-in-chief last semester.

Five Will Join Alpha Psi Omega

Achievement points for Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary dramatic fraternity, were made public last week in preparation for the initiation of five new members.

The initiation will honor persons who have acquired 50 achievement points in play production. Those people will be installed some time after the production of "The Fool." They are Don Shultz, Kathryn Larson, Dean Cotton, Esther Mohler, and Wayne Zeigler.

Points are given for services in both acting and staging capacities, and both are required for membership in Alpha Psi Omega. They are means of rewarding merit in dramatics.

Nearest the required 50 points are Margaret Daggett and Byron Frantz with 35. Dale Oltman follows with 32.

With less than 30 points are Doris Kesler, Doris Roesch, Bill Daggett, Phyllis Bowman, Max McAuley, Betty Murray, Ann Carpenter, Rowena Neher, Duane Jamison, Bob Wilson, Mildred Snowberger, Marilyn Bowman, Patti Stern, Lois Yoder, and Miriam Kelm.

Mr. Bhagat, in his talk, stressed the importance of Bible reading and devotional life. "To read and to learn the Bible is one thing, to believe and understand is another thing," he said.

Rev. Bhagat also said that peace would come in the world "if we put the Bible into our daily lives."

Mr. Bhagat was the first official delegate from a mission area to attend the Annual Conference of the Church of the Brethren.

Members of the Rec. Council in charge of transportation are Jerry Neher, chairman, Bryce Miller, and Wilda Minnick. Food will be supplied by Pat Patterson, chairman, Hazel Sanger, Betty Murray, and Chuck Royer. Recreational activities were planned by Jake Shaeffer, chairman, Joan Pinther, and Marlene Grove.

The fee for the days activities will be 25 cents paid to the driver of the car for transportation, and 25 cents for the picnic supper.

Baghat Brings Greetings From Indian Youth

Premchand G. Bhagat, Church of the Brethren elder from India, brought greetings to Maccollege students from the Brethren youth in India, Monday, Sept. 25 when he spoke in chapel.

Mr. Bhagat, in his talk, stressed the importance of Bible reading and devotional life. "To read and to learn the Bible is one thing, to believe and understand is another thing," he said.

Rev. Bhagat also said that peace would come in the world "if we put the Bible into our daily lives."

President Gives Missionary Talk In Wichita

Dr. Bittinger is to be one of the speakers at the Southwestern Kansas district meeting in Wichita, and will deliver a missionary address there Sunday, Oct. 8.

During the week of Oct. 1, President Bittinger will make speeches in McPherson and vicinity. He will attend dinner meetings at the local high school, and the Wesley club at the Methodist Church. He will also speak at a meeting of the Associated Women's Clubs in Stafford, Kansas, at which 40 counties are to be represented.

Freshmen Learn To Use Library

Instruction in the use of the library is being given to the Maccollege freshmen as a part of their orientation and freshman English classes.

Virginia Harris, librarian, is providing the lessons. She lectured to the freshmen orientation class Sept. 18 on Library Rules and Regulations and The Parts of a Book.

Once each week Miss Harris is meeting with each of the four English sections to explain such library techniques as the use of the card catalog and the use of magazine indexes and reference books.

Research and bibliographical problems are assigned after each lesson. The work done on these problems is counted on the grades in freshman English.

Bittingers Invite All Freshmen To Open House

President and Mrs. D. W. Bittinger invite all freshmen to open house at the new home of the President, 1090 East Euclid Street, on Sunday, Oct. 1, from 3 to 5 p.m. The occasion will be informal.

Freshmen are invited to come in groups of their own choosing. Fifty can be entertained at one time.

Choir Elects Officers

A Capella choir officers elected for the coming year are: president, Albert Rogers; vice president, Gifford Ikenberry; secretary, Rowena Neher; and treasurer, Charles Royer.

Enough To Care . . . Enough To Know . . .

Aubrey N. Brown

Aubrey N. Brown, editor of the "Going to College Handbook", published by the Outlook Publishers, Richmond, Va., has written the following editorial which rates our attention. "Whether or not Mr. Brown's suggestions or accusations are applicable to Maccollege students or Macampus is perhaps worth a passing thought.

One of our most dependable advisers, a man who knows college students well, writes us these lines:

"In many of our colleges . . . college students are a privileged class, enjoying their freedom, sports-conscious, fashion conscious, sex-conscious, isolated from life by an academic curriculum, and hence largely unawakened by the real issues of the contemporary world and its terrible needs."

A majority seem not to know enough to care or not to care enough to know how the less fortunate live. Even a good sociology department may produce only an academic statistical attitude towards these matters. The fine social passion that inspired William Temple from his days as a young Oxford don to the end of his life is almost unknown to them . . ."

That this penetrating judgment is all too true cannot be denied. Far too seldom do we find or hear about individual students or student groups in which intelligent efforts are being made to relate their powers to current needs of struggling men and women.

But can there be any harsher condemnation of young men and women of privilege, of great enthusiasm and ability, than that while they lived four years in the center of unbelievable resources, their increasing knowledge did not lead them to a deeper concern for their fellowmen?

To the extent to which this is or may be true on your campus, you can be at least one resolute individual who sets out to change this pattern.

No More 'Meatless Fridays'

Hats off to Coach "Woody", the football coach, the girl friends, the cheerleaders, and the spectators for the wonderful performance turned in at the Bethel game Friday night. Such pep, enthusiasm, and victory both for fun and encouraging. It isn't after every win that we can decide the following day a holiday and not have class. We were simply fortunate in playing the Graymaroons on a Friday night. If happiness is a "thing of the spirit", we should all be well-spirited from here on because there aren't likely to be many more "meatless Fridays" on Macampus since the Bulldogs started to "bring home the bacon."

Religion For Today Interests Writers

Albert Schweitzer, Life and Message by Magnus C. Ritter is the biography of a seventy-five-year old man who is living today and is famous as an organist, a theologian, a social thinker, and a medical missionary.

The book is full of anecdotes of Schweitzer's life and interpretations of his philosophy of life. Dr. Schweitzer has been called "one of the greatest of living Christians."

The Mystery of the Kingdom of God by Albert Schweitzer, first published in Germany in 1901, has received new attention as an important work in the author's list of theological works.

Dr. Schweitzer seeks to understand and explain the mystery of Jesus' messiahship and passion.

An Interpretation of Christian Ethics by Reinhold Niebuhr seeks to interpret the problem of Christian ethics in the light of historic conceptions and the modern situation.

Israel Receives Special Attention

Israel received special recognition in the magazine "United Nations World for September. Israel, one of the youngest nations in the world, was admitted to membership in the United Nations on May 11, 1949, and has rapidly taken its place in world affairs.

The role of the United Nations in bringing peace to the country has been of interest to the entire world.

The prime minister of Israel, the permanent representative from Israel to the UN, the attorney general, and other leaders in public affairs of Israel have contributed to this special issue of United Nations World.

Louis Dolivet, editor of United Nations World, is a noted lecturer and author. One of his books is a handbook on the organization of the United Nations.

United Nations World is now in its fourth year of publication. It covers actions of the UN and carries articles about the member nations and the special agencies of the UN.

Back issues of this magazine will be helpful to students preparing to take part in the campus model UN on Oct. 10.

Bible Class Hears Bhagat

The Bible class which met on Tuesday, Sept. 26, heard a lecture given by Rev. Premchand Bhagat, of India. Reverend Bhagat is both a minister and a teacher in his country.

Reverend Bhagat talked mostly on the caste system of India and how her peoples' marriages are conducted.

SCA Has First Meeting

The Student Christian Association of McPherson College met Thursday evening, Sept. 21, for the first of the weekly meetings which will be held throughout the school year.

Music and a meditation patterned after the daily devotions in Memory Chapel began the program. Ruth Peckover led group singing. Phyllis Bowman and Royce Beam sang a duet. "My Task."

Ina Dittmars, Margaret Yost, Bob Augsburger, and Esther Mohler presented a skit which explained the organization and the plans of the SCA.

Roommates Like Consideration

Richmond, Va. (Special) College students are saying that the most important characteristic of a good roommate is consideration. This is the general conclusion of the "College Board" of the Going to College Handbook, whose fifth annual edition has just been published by Outlook Publishers.

Students from all over the USA, 150 of them, were asked, "What Makes a Good Roommate?" Their replies, in order-of-importance were: (1) A GOOD ROOMMATE: (1) is considerate (about lights, radio, use of room, etc); (2) respects personal property and privacy; (3) is loyal; (4) goes at least half-way; (5) helps keep a neat room; (6) can discuss controversial questions without getting ruffled; (7) makes reasonable adjustments; (8) keeps reasonable hours; (9) cultivates a cheerful disposition.

Yes, students should have a larger part in chapel and assembly because the college is for the students and the programs should meet their needs and desires.

What Do You Think?

The question for this week: Do you think the student body should have a greater part in the assembly programs?

Yes, students should have a larger part in chapel and assembly because the college is for the students and the programs should meet their needs and desires.

Mildred Snowberger

Yes, students should have practically all responsibility for the programs. Another idea is to have programs put on by the high school students on a program exchange basis. Since the Monday program is not a worship program, the students should have a larger part in its planning.

Bob Wilson

Let us not judge on past experience alone. A better plan would be to wait and see what happens this year.

Bob Augsburger

The programs should be geared to student needs and they should have a part in the planning.

A Junior

Yes, students should help plan the program to a large extent: This could be achieved by having more students on the chapel committee.

Marlene Bowman

The students should have a larger share of participation in the programs. The UNESCO program is a step in the right direction.

Hazel Sanzer

Next week's topic: Should Russia and her satellites be allowed to remain in the United Nations?

"Harry, hurry, hurry! See the Half-Woman. Have a look at the largest snake in the world — only 25 cents!" Yes, last week was State Fair Week. Enthusiastic Maccollege students spent a few hours or entire day in Hutchinson enjoying the fair. Even Guy Hayes' agriculture classes took in the fair, and with Guy's faithful guidance, only one or two boys got lost in the crowd.

Those who went to the fair Monday night were Roy McAuley, Rowena Neher, Phyllis Johnson, Maxine Hanley, and Geneva Krebsieb; Tuesday night more of the students were able to go, Fred Goenner, Naomi Mankey, Bill Daggett, Rowan Kelm, Dale Snyder, Doris Roessch, D. A. Crist, Carole Huffman, Jerry Neher and Lois Voder enjoyed the fair.

Wednesday night found a few more fairgoers making the journey. Those were Winston Beam, Barbara Marchand, Bill Kidwell, Naomi Mankey, Royce Beam, Phyllis Bowman, Irwin Porter and Betty Ann Murray.

For a turn from the sublime to the ridiculous (or vice versa), it will warm the hearts of the football boys to know that the fourth floor Arnold girls have been doing calisthenics each night before retiring for the night. The girls have half an hour of the strenuous exercises every night. The purpose, as you may have guessed, is the reducing of hips.

There have been several visitors on campus during the past week. Vernon Nicholson, who is now teaching in Genesee, Kansas, was here last week-end. Willard Werner was also a visitor on campus last week. Willie is a student in Kansas City University. Mr. and Mrs. John Mohler visited their daughters, Ester and Arlene Mohler, last weekend.

Marie Miller, a teacher at Perry, Kansas, was here visiting friends and former classmates. Mr. and Mrs. G.W. Albright, the parents of Ellis Albright, spent last Wednesday and Thursday as visitors on the campus. They are from Eldora, Iowa.

Miss Edna Neher spent last Tuesday at Hutchinson, taking in fair and visiting her sister and brother who met her at the fairgrounds.

Fahnestock Hall, if it were given on the power-of-speech, would be able to tell a multitude of tales. Perhaps it would be able to write a book if it were given the power to do so. For example, last Wednesday night the boys on first floor who have already become acquainted with life through several previous years at college, began instructing a green freshman in the art of "how to get along in the boys dorm." Wouldn't it be interesting if Fahnestock Hall could divulge some of its secrets to the rest of us?

In the wee hours of Saturday morning, seven sleepy but determined girls traveled to Beverly, Kansas, in Donna Sooby's car. They were Anita Rogers, Rita Ellen Royer, Donna Sooby, Donna Wagoner, Joan Royer, Bertha Landis and Barbara Beck. Of the seven, three were going on to Iowa to visit. They were Anita

Rogers, Rita Ellen Royer, and Donna Sooby. The other four returned to Mac in Sooby's slow but faithful "Hoosier."

Pat Patterson, Chuck Royer, Yvonne Birken and Barbara Beck enjoyed shopping in Salina all day Saturday. "That, kids, is where my money goes," to quote an old song.

Miss Neher had a big birthday party in her room last week for all the girls whose birthdays came in the summer months. Those who were honored guests were Maxine Hanley, Margaret Daggett, Barbara Kauazawa, Marilyn Roe, Elsie Kindley, Bertha Landis, June Blough, Rowena Merkey, and Esther Mohler.

The first football game was well represented at Newton last Friday night. Let's all keep up the good spirit, kids, and help the boys on to another victory!

Prof. S. M. Dell, with his family, also attended the state fair at Hutchinson Tuesday, Sept. 19.

The concrete has been poured for the foundation of the new addition to the Frantz Industrial Arts Building. That should cement the situation pretty well.

All Maccollege students who are regularly enrolled (12 hrs. or more) are entitled to one Spectator every week. Please do not take more than that. We hope that friends and family at home like to read our paper, but the proper way to assure them receiving it is through a subscription. When several people carry away three or four papers at a time, someone will get no paper, at all. For the sake of fair play and friendship, let's limit ourselves to one Spectator per week.

Arnold Hall Has Annual Open House

Arnold Hall, Maccollege's dormitory for women students, will have its annual open house tomorrow night from 7:30-9:30.

Margaret Daggett, vice president of Arnold Hall council, is in charge of the open house program. Miriam Kelm, Pat Patterson, Claudia Stump and Esther Mohler are chairmen of the decorations, food, music, and publicity committees, respectively.

Groups of four girls each have been appointed to serve the tables, and wash dishes.

The dorm, "home" to 65 girls this year, is a four story brick structure erected in 1916. It contains cafeteria facilities for all students, reception rooms, the housemothers rooms, and 33 rooms for students.

Marijane Bowman, Quinter, Kas., is president of Arnold Hall this semester. Margaret Daggett, Lawrence, Kas., is vice-president; and Clara Domans, Hope, Kas., is secretary-treasurer. Miss Edna Neher is housemother.

The concrete has been poured for the foundation of the new addition to the Frantz Industrial Arts Building. That should cement the situation pretty well.

Norman, Oklahoma (Intercollegiate Press) — American history can be made easier and more interesting for you, according to Dr. Carl C. Rister, research professor of history at the University of Oklahoma. Dr. Rister's answer is a chronological presentation of events as they occur.

Dr. Rister is collaborating with Dr. John Barnhart of Indiana University and Prof. Ralph Bieber of Washington University, St. Louis, Missouri, in writing a two-volume work for college-level students. Publication is planned for 1952, with each historian assigned a division of each book.

As far as Dr. Rister knows, it will be the first text book to describe American history in such orderly sequence.

"Instead of the old way of presenting one movement separate from the others, where a student got only a segment of picture, we hope to carry all these narrative threads together just as history unfolds," he explains.

Aware that the new concept is a radical departure, Dr. Rister says, "It may be difficult to tell such a story, since history becomes more complex as we get away from early beginnings. But I believe it can be done. In fact, I'm surprised it hasn't been done before."

By getting away from what he calls "the compartmentalized idea of presenting history," the three-man writing team will attempt to do an interwoven narrative. It should be more dramatic, too. Take the colonization story of America, for example. In the first volume, nations will be introduced as they enter the developing story, like new actors to a scene. It all adds up to more interesting reading for the

Homecoming Committee Plans Traditional Event

Plans are now underway for McPherson College's Homecoming celebration Nov. 9-10.

Members of the Homecoming Committee met Thursday morning to discuss plans for the traditional "Swede funeral" and bonfire; the formal queen's banquet; pep chapel; a campus clean-up campaign; the alumni dinner; parade and floats; the M Club dinner; and other events associated with the return to the campus of Maccollege graduates.

Publicity plans were discussed. More information will be released soon.

College Courses On Marriage And Family Lower Divorce Rates

Chapel Hill, N. C. (Intercollegiate Press)—There are fewer divorces among couples who took courses in marriage and family problems while in college than among graduates who did not take such courses, surveys made so far reveal, according to Dr. Reuben Hill, who teaches such courses at the University of North Carolina.

Dr. Hill, who is professor of sociology and research professor in the university's Institute for Research in Social Science, cited recently the results of a survey made by Stephens College in Missouri and the marital experiences of his own students.

There are now between 600 and 700 colleges and universities giving courses in marriage and family problems. Dr. Hill said.

Before coming here last fall, Dr. Hill taught marriage and the family in allied courses in the University of Wisconsin and South Dakota, Iowa State College, and Teachers College, and Columbia University. He directs the University's graduate training program for students of the family pioneered here by the late Dr. E. R. Groves, who inaugurated such courses at Boston University in 1924, and here in 1928.

"The first instructors in such courses labored under many difficulties, for the subject was surrounded by a hush-hush atmosphere," he said. "Discussion of family problems in college was regarded as a sort of sacred cow. It

Bulldogs At Liberty, Mo., Tonight To Meet Wm. Jewell

Tonight at Liberty, Mo., Chalmer Woodard's McPherson College Bulldogs take the field against the William Jewell College Cardinals for both teams' second game of the season. The Cardinals were dropped 19-14 by St. Benedict's at C. Y. C. Stadium, Kansas City, Mo., last Thursday, and the Bulldogs won their first conference game since 1946 by edging Bethel 20-19.

Like the Bulldogs, William Jewell is in the midst of a building campaign after a poor 1949 season. New coach Norris A. Patterson has built a team for speed by necessity is lacking in weight.

This week Woodard has been trying to knock the rough edges from his squad by adding to the offense, strengthening linebacking, and improving the kicking game.

The regular offensive backfield functioned well enough that there was little need for substituting during most of the game at Newton. The running game with Johnnay Robison, Gene Smith, and Bob Kerr had good results. Kerr picked up 47 yards, Robison 46.

With the 115 yards passing that Blickenstaff added, the offense was not so bad. They simply did not have the ball enough to generate an offensive the second half.

Partly to remedy this, Woodard has attempted to strengthen the kicking game on the theory that more frequent punting in the second half of the Bethel game might have averted the near-disaster.

The four man line Bethel employed for much of the game stymied the Bulldogs, and Woodard has had to explain the blocking on other than standard defenses again.

Linebackers have also had thorough workouts this week. The line-hacking, particularly on pass defense, was below that expected, although Roland Delay stopped plenty of traffic on the ground.

Although Bethel completed only eight of 23 passes, two of the completions were for touchdowns. Wayne Blickenstaff held up his end of the defense as safety man, but the entire secondary needs to improve their air protections.

There were plenty of bright spots at Newton too. When a team starts a 15-game conference losing streak, there are bound to be bright spots. Besides the running and passing game, Gene Smith's punting stood out. His first kick went 53 yards. The blocked punt in the last quarter was, of course, not altogether Smitty's fault.

Defensive end play needs sharpening, but the work of Joe Pate and Jim Scruggs as defending tackles has to top grade. Big Pete is starting two jumps ahead of his work last year.

George Goff displayed plenty of reasons why he was an all-state Juco guard at Iola Junior College last year. However, Goff tired badly late in the game. Marvin Ferguson has been showing improved guard play, and some place may have to be found for him in the lineup.

The game tonight starts a new series for the Bulldogs. William Jewell and McPherson have never met before on the gridiron.

Kansas Conference Braves Only Winner In Out Of Loop Games

Games This Week
C of E at Baker
Bethel Sterling
KUW at Bethany (last night)
Missouri Valley at Ottawa (last night).

Dick Peters' Ottawa Braves salvaged Kansas Conference honor last week as conference teams lost four games and McPherson College opened loop play with a 20-19 win over Bethel.

The Braves surprised with a 12-0 win over Central (Mo.). Jim Weldenbush broke up a scoreless duel in the last quarter with a scoring pitch to Everett Vlets. Ross Correll added an insurance touchdown shortly before the gun.

Baker disappointed with a 20-7 defeat at the hands of Washburn at Topeka. Boyce Smith scored the Wildcat's only touchdown on a 53 yard ramble.

Bethel added another surprising performance to their season's opener although a 67 yard lateral play in the last quarter brought defeat 7-0 at Alva, Okla., against Northwest Oklahoma.

Don Durand's three touchdown passes against Warrensburg Tech were not enough as the Mules trounced C of E 26-21.

Kansas Wesleyan displayed plenty of speed with little deception as Wally Forsberg's Coyotes were downed 27-13 by Southwestern. Hank Doering and Joe Walsh, who played for Forsberg at Ottawa in 1947 and 1948, stood out in defeat. Walsh powered the defense, and Doering returned a kickoff 93 yards for the Coyotes first touchdown.

B-Team Defeats Bethel B's 25-0

Perhaps taking a cue from the season's opener against Bethel, the Bulldog reserves showed great first half punch to defeat the Bethel reserves 25-0 here Monday. All the scoring was in the first half.

Bob Bean, low slung freshman halfback from Lorraine, Ks., was the big ground gainer for the Bulldog B's. His return of an intercepted forward pass brought the game's first touchdown.

Howard Mehlinder and Clive Sharpe were an effective passing combination.

We don't know just what it proves—if anything—but Norris A. Patterson is the new head coach at William Jewell College, and behind it—we think—may lie a story.

The Cardinals did not have a successful season in 1949. Coach J. E. (Pat) Bradshaw believed he had the answer. "I have investigated most of the colleges which we play this season, and there are five of them that won't be on our schedule next year if they don't learn a little ethics and clean up professionalism in their athletics," he said last year.

Bradshaw did not name any schools, but included on the William Jewell schedule in 1949 were three Kansas Conference schools—Ottawa, Baker, and College of Emporia.

We are not trying to tell you who was dropped from the schedule. As a matter of fact, no team was dropped. Bradshaw was dropped as head coach and director of athletics instead. If you can't beat 'em, join 'em.

Wayne Blickenstaff wrote his name in the record book in his first game of collegiate football. Blick's scoring pitches to Bob Kerr and Gene Smith tied a record at McPherson for most touchdown passes thrown in one game. Other record holders are Carl (Tok) Carter, 1921; Melvin Miller, 1929; Harold Zuhars, 1936; Jake Kramer, 1946; Delbert Crabb, 1938; and Russell Carpenter, 1932. Carter's record must take precedence as he twice achieved the feat in 1921.

Two touchdowns via passes in one game by one thrower is not a terribly outstanding record. The pro record is seven by Sid Luckman of the Chicago Bears in 1943, and the collegiate record is six by Jackie Fellows of San Jose State in 1942.

However, getting into the record books in one game is something unusual. McPherson College has never really had an outstanding passer although some of their linemen; runners, and kickers have been tops. The McPherson team record for most touchdown passes in a season is seven in 1936.

Time Halts Late Bethel Spree; 'Dogs Win 20-19

The McPherson College Bulldogs weathered a last ditch passing spree by the Bethel Gray Maroons and won by the grace of an extra point 20-19 in the season's opener at Newton last Friday.

The victory strangled a 19-game Kansas Conference losing streak by the Bulldogs and put a mark in the win column for coach Chalmer E. Woodard's collegiate debut.

Trailing 20-0 at the outset of the final quarter, Millard Fretz's Kraatz hit back thru the air and net three touchdowns in the final fifteen minutes. Tony Krehbiel's two missed conversions spelled defeat for Bethel.

The Bulldogs displayed opening game class the first half. They held off an early Bethel threat that had reached the 12 yard line but when Wayne Blickenstaff's first pass had been intercepted.

A Bethel fumble on a double lateral set up the first Bulldog marker. Dave Metzler recovered on the 10. This time the Bulldogs held for four down but immediately fumbled the ball with Gene Kaufman recovering it on the 15.

Bethel recovered on the ground for the final six points with Merle Seiberling barging across from the four. Krehbiel's low kick doomed the Gray Maroons as there was just time for Robison's 18 yard runback and a quarterback sneak.

Fired by their sudden success, Bethel rallied back to block a Smith punt on the 15 yard line. Ike Harshberger recovered it on the 10. This time the Bulldogs held for four down but immediately fumbled the ball with Gene Kaufman recovering it on the 15.
