

Regional Conference Opens Sunday

"The Church At Work" In Its Community

Dean Paul Roberts

The Very Reverend Dean Paul Roberts, St. John's Episcopal Cathedral, Denver, Colorado, is to be the main speaker at the Church of the Brethren Regional Conference, Nov. 15-20.

Dr. Roberts has been at St. John's since 1936. He obtained his A. B. at Trinity College in Hartford, Conn., his A. M. at Berkeley Divinity School, and his D. D. at Colorado College, Colorado Springs.

Addresses given by Dr. Roberts will be based on the general conference theme, "The Church at Work in its Community."

be presented twice on Monday night, Nov. 17, in the college Chapel by the McPherson College Players' Club. This is a play in which one catches a glimpse of the results of a Christian good neighbor policy at work. The first showing will be particularly for Conference guests; the second will be for college students.

On Wednesday night, Nov. 19, a two-act opera, "The Mikado," by Gilbert and Sullivan, will be presented at the Community Building downtown, by the Music Department. The Dramatics Department of McPherson College will assist.

Thursday will be the last day of the conference. The last session at 11:25 will feature an address, "Your Place" by Dean Paul Roberts.

Paul Miller

James Elrod

Those serving as chairman for each day will be Vernon Powell, H. M. Coppock, Lawrence E. Lehman, and G. A. Zook.

Sectional conferences for local districts of children's work and all district and local officers of women's work will be held Saturday, November 15. Business sessions of the women's and men's organizations will be held Monday morning following chapel.

All meeting will be held in the McPherson Church of the Brethren unless otherwise stated on the conference program.

All conference guests will eat in the College Cafeteria or the Dog House. Lodging will be furnished by McPherson residents.

Conference sessions are open to all, including all guests and students, stated Bro. James Elrod.

Dell Attends Industrial Conference In Chicago

Prof. S. M. Dell is attending the Industrial Arts Conference of the Mississippi Valley being held in Chicago, Nov. 13, 14 and 15. Professor Dell was assigned to the committee for research into the problem of accepting shop work for credit in graduate school, and he will report on this at the conference.

First Movie Shown Tomorrow

Coming to our campus Saturday, Nov. 15, is the first movie of the year, "Miracle on Thirty - Fourth Street."

This movie centers around the gentle department store Santa Claus and the happiness which he brings into others' lives.

The film has been awarded both the "Ten Best" and Academy Award Winners awards.

Maureen O'Hara, John Payne, and Edmund Gwenn play in this 90-minute, 20th Century - Fox film.

The movie will be shown in the chemistry lecture room at 7 p. m. and again at 9 p. m.

An offering will be taken to cover expenses. The Social Committee, who sponsors the movies, suggests 25c a piece. By taking an offering instead of charging admission, the Social Committee is able to get the movies at less cost.

The next movie will be shown Dec. 6.

Girl Bites Dust

Once again the fatal fall has fell - fallen - failed, well, at least, another girl on Macampus has "bit the dust."

Have you noticed who it is? She is well marked by a large red spot on her chin and a bandage around her wrist.

It seems that the fatal night was the night of the burning of the Swede. And that the heroine of this epitaph was gayly tripping (using the word loosely) near the fire. For trip she did.

The fall could have been fatal, but fortunately fate failed for the female lives to face the facts of the future.

Now some think she had one too many and tripped over the "Silver Rail". Still others think she was chasing a man and that she "fell" too hard for him.

But this is not true in her case, though one must admit that she does have a peculiarity, that is, courting the trees on Euclid Street.

At least, she proved that there are now two reasons for the pipes in the parking lot—one to stop cars and the other to stop people.

Could it be that she is getting her spring plowing done early this year? It seems that one other girl has tried that already. But be assured girls, that plowing must be done in the spring of the year as well as doing it in the "fall".

Players Present 'Brazilian Gold' Monday Night

"Brazilian Gold," an hour - long one - act play by Elliott Field, will be presented by the Players Club Nov. 17 at 7:15 and 8:30 p. m. The plays shows the results of Christian good policy at work. The story, in a South American setting, tells of the influence of a church school which remains in the lives of two young people after they become a nurse and an engineer. Betty Baerg and Dale Delauter play these parts.

The role of a diamond buyer who nearly leads the young man astray is taken by John Vance, and the part of the missionary who stands steadfastly by is played by Marilyn Walters. A matchmaker who helps the plot along is Lyla Whitman, and her servant is acted by Myron Krebber.

South American scenery is being painted by Virginia Bowers, Macollege freshman from Wichita. The scenery will be seen through the door, in the background.

Phyllis Kingery is in charge of props and makeup; Ted Vance, Lightning Margaret Yost, ushers, and Al Zunkel, posters. Mrs. Una Yoder is directing the play.

The play, presented during Regional Conference, will be taken on tour.

M Club Carnival Is November 22

The M Club is planning to hold its annual penny carnival Saturday, Nov. 22, starting at 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

This year the M Club has a membership of 38, and under the direction of its president, Howard Mehlberg, senior from McPherson, the M Club hopes to put up a better carnival than has ever been put up.

On the program this year are numerous forms of entertainment, bingo, cake, walk, snuffing-loss on live ducks, marksmanship games.

New Equipment Purchased

The dramatics department received about $40 worth of new equipment last week, according to Mrs. Una Yoder, head of the department. The equipment includes a large metal box for carrying make-up and new make - up-grease paint, lipstick, eye brow pencil, liners, hair rinses, and crepe hair for beards, mustaches, etc.

Five Trustees Are Elected

Five new members have been elected to the trustee board. They are: George Grove, Dayton Rothrock, Harvey Lehman, Harold Mohler, and Glenn Swinger.

Two of the men fill in unexpired terms of previous trustees. Glenn Swinger succeeds P. L. Fike as representative of Southern Missouri and Arkansas District. Swinger's term will expire in 1953. Dayton Rothrock was elected by the Nebraska District after the resignation of Harvey Rasp. Rothrock's term will expire in 1957.

The other three trustees were elected to full terms which will expire in 1958.

George Grove, South English, Iowa, succeeds Charles Albin as representative of the Southern Iowa district. Grove is a graduate of Mt. Morris College, and is now farming near South English. His daughter, Marilee, is a Macollege senior.

Elected by the Southwest District of Kansas to succeed Roy Frantz is Harvey Lehman of Nickerson, Kan. Lehman graduated from McPherson College Academy in 1923 and received his A. B. from McPherson College in 1927. After taking graduate work he taught in high schools and since then has served as pastor of various churches.

His daughter Joann attended McPherson College and is now doing graduate work in Gottinger University in Germany.

Harold Mohler replaces R. J. Gibbs as representative of the Middle District of Missouri. He also is a graduate of McPherson College, having received his degree in 1938. He is presently employed by Johnson County Mutual Insurance Company in Warrensburg, Mo.

Both Rothrock and Swinger are graduates of McPherson College. Rothrock is now superintendent of schools at Gresham, Neb., and Swinger is pastor at Cabool, Mo.

New York Trip May Follow BSCM Conference

Plans are being made by students to attend the Brethren Student Christian Movement (BSCM) Conference to be held at Juniata College in Huntingdon, Pa., Nov. 27-30.

A tentative trip to New York City is being planned following the conference. The estimated cost for the trip including the trip to New York is approximately fifty dollars.

Outstanding leaders speaking and directing the activities of the Conference will be:

Al Brightbill, former director of music at Bethany Biblical Seminary in Chicago; Bob Byerly, who is on the faculty at Elizabethtown College; and Ed Crill, National Youth Director.

Vernard Eller, editor of youth publications; C. C. Ellis, president of Juniata; and Burton Metzler, Professor of Bible at McPherson.

T. Wayne Riemann, director of religious activities at Manchester; Bob Richards, who is with the faculty at LaVerne College; and Harold Row, secretary of Brethren Service.

Don Royer, who is on the Manchester College faculty list; Don Smucker, associate professor of Biblical Theology at Bethany Seminary; Bill Willoughby, Professor of sociology at Bridgewater, and adult advisor of the southeastern regional youth; and John Oliver Nelson of Yale Divinity School and author of "Young Laymen—Young Church".

Each region is represented by a leader at the Conference.

College Receives Athletic Holiday

Thanksgiving recess will begin on Wednesday, Nov. 26, at 4:00 p. m., and will end Tuesday, Dec. 2, at 8:00 a. m., according to a faculty announcement issued Nov. 7.

The statement in its entirety, reads as follows: "Because of the excellent way in which the football squad have played throughout the entire season, and because of the spirit of the entire school in support of and participation in the athletic program, and all other phases of the school program, we declare that the Monday following our regular Thanksgiving be also a school holiday. This will hold true whether we win, tie or lose our remaining games."

Trustees Will Discuss 'Ten Year Plan'

The "Ten Year Dream" which Dr. D. W. Bittinger discussed in Chapel Wednesday, Nov. 5, is the main topic of discussion for a special Trustee Meeting on Nov. 18. The trustees will discuss the various advantages and disadvantages of the proposed ten year plan.

"The Mikado," a comic opera in two acts by Gilbert and Sullivan, will be presented by Macollege Nov. 19 at 8:00 p. m. in the civic auditorium. The story, in a Japanese setting, is of the love affair between Nanki-Poo, the son of the Mikado, and Yum-Yum, who is already betrothed to her guardian, Ko-Ko. Nanki-Poo conceals his identity by wearing the disguise of a wandering minstrel.

When Ko-Ko hears that one person in his province must be beheaded he persuades Nanki-Poo to be that one. Nanki-Poo agrees if he can marry Yum-Yum and live with her until the time of "decapitation." The Mikado appears and all works out well when Ko-Ko marries the ancient Katisha, who was supposed to marry Nanki-Poo in the first place, thus leaving Nanki-Poo and Yum-Yum together.

The cast includes: Keith Allison as Nanki-Poo; Joe Kennedy as Ko-Ko; Don West, Poo - Bah, Don Thralls, Fish-Tush, Elsie Kiedley, Katisha; Anita Roger, Pitti-Sing; Florence Hale, Yum-Yum; Peggy Sargent, Peep-Bo; Bill Mollhagen, Mikado.

The understudies are: Herb Edmonds as Nanki-Poo; Curtis Leicht, Ko-Ko; Leon Albert, Poo-Bah; Myron Krebber, Fish-Tush; Velva Wagoner, Katisha; Margaret Baile, Pitti-Sing; Donna Wagoner, Yum-Yum; Elsa Kurtz, Peep-Bo; Leon Neher, Mikado.

Prof. Donald R. Frederick of the music department is the director of music. Mrs. Una Yoder, is stage director. Prof. Paul A. Solenberger is concertmaster.

The chorus, accompanied by the orchestra, is made up of Chapel and La Verne choir members. They are: Donna Wagoner, Margaret Baile, Barbara Berry, La-Faugh Hubbard, Lorene Marshall, Kathy McLeod, LaVerne Burger, Angie Flora, Dolores Sigle, Donna Ford, Norann Royer, Barbara Bowman.

Herb Edmonds, Gordon Fishburn, Laurence Brooks, John Nettleton, Norman Leng, Don Wagoner, Al Zunkel, Wesley Kenberry, Myron Krebber, Karl Boldner, Garth Ellwood, Berys Oltman, Don Fike, Dale Royer, Paul Stern, Eugene Neff.

Committees selected from the Players Club to assist in staging and make up are: staging - Ted Vance, Eugene Neff, and Jerry Miller. Make up is divided into four groups and will be done assembly line style. On base make up are Phyllis Kingery, Martha Switzer, and Lyla Whitman; eye makeup are Maxine Hanley, Evelyn Williams, LaVon Widgren, and Jean Slaubaugh; powder - Wayne Hutchinson, Margaret Yost, and Jack Harter; rouge and lipstick - La-Faugh Hubbard, Lois Slinnette and Betty Baerg.

Dean Neher, Gordon Yoder, and Barbara Berry are on the business committee: Garth Ellwood, La-Faugh Hubbard, and Lorene Marshall on publicity; Al Zunkel, LaVon Widgren, Peggy Sargent, Kathy McLeod, and John Nettleton on ticket sales.

A. Blair Helman

Other outside speakers in the conference will include Norman J. Baugher, newly appointed Secretary of the Brotherhood Board; A. Blair Helman, Pastor, Ottawa Church of the Brethren; and Charles E. Zunkel, Secretary Ministry and Home Missions.

Kenneth Morse and C. Ernest Davis will also appear in the conference. Since Ruth Shriver and Desie Miller will be unable to attend, Mrs. Charles Zunkel and Miss Hazel Kennedy will serve in their places.

Sectional conferences and other sessions will be held for District, Local, and Regional workers. Leaders of these groups are pastors of the Western Region and members of the McPherson College faculty.

The Executive Committee and the Board of Trustees will have meetings on Saturday, Nov. 15.

The sermon, "On Being at One's Wits End," will be delivered by Rev. Harry K. Zeller, Jr., Pastor of the McPherson Church of the Brethren, on Sunday, Nov. 16.

A Bible Hour, led by Charles E. Zunkel and Kenneth Morse will be held each morning at 8:55, and Chapel programs will follow.

The play, "Brazilian Gold," will

All characters are shown on stage as the cast rehear "Brazilian Gold," a one-act play which will be presented Nov. 17. Mrs. Una Yoder is director.

Macollege's Future

Seniors can be especially proud to graduate from McPherson College this spring. They can graduate knowing that their alma mater has a great future. They can reasonably be assured that Macollege will be an even greater school to which to send their children.

The gift from the Dotzours brought part of the dream of the future into focus—a new girls' dormitory. Now, the dream of the ten-year expansion program is being unveiled and definite plans are being made.

Our international student program is growing and the phrase "McPherson College family" is becoming more than just words. No longer do international students walk alone, eat alone.

Last weekend our college experienced another triumph when the Bulldogs became champions of the Kansas Conference. This event has given us more prestige and popularity than we have had in many years.

Improvements are being made in all college departments, and there is more unity between the faculty and students.

Yes, Macollege is a great college and we'll be proud to name her as our alma mater.—L. M.

Orchids And Thorns

Orchids to Carl Lecht and the Pep band for playing so mournfully at the funeral Thursday night, Nov. 6, 1952.

Orchids to the Pep Club for publishing the Swede funeral.

Orchids to the various merchants of McPherson for furnishing the wood that burned so brightly on the sad occasion.

Orchids, individually, to every person who attended the ceremony.

Orchids to Kathy Russell and all who helped prepare the body for cremation.

Orchids to Coach "Woody" Woodard and his football team for winning the Kansas Conference Championship for this first time since Richard Keim and Paul Sargent were members of the squad. (Some time ago, I'd say.)

Orchids to the students who yelled so faithfully Friday night, especially to those who remained to give fifteen rah's for the "Conference Champs."

Thorns to the few who were heard booing at various times during the Bethany-McPherson game.

Thorns to the students who have failed to attend pep assemblies this fall.

And incidentally—Orchids to my instructors for passing me this nine weeks. D. M. W.

Thinking With The President

Here's How My Money Goes

Last year the average earning for every man, woman, and child in the United States was $1,594.00 according to the United States Department of Commerce. This was an increase of $145.90 or about 10 percent over the year before. The total personal income for the people of the United States was $254,075,000,000.

How did we spend this money?

The largest single expenditure was for food; next to that was housing. These two required 22.3 percent and 19 percent respectively of our income. The third item in total expenditure was for taxes which amounted to 15 percent of the average income.

Several comparative values in spending are interesting.

We spent for recreation—$11,308,000,000

We spent for personal care (haircuts, etc.)—$2,415,000,000

We spent for cosmetics—$1,312,000,000

We spent for tobacco—$4,703,000,000

We spent for alcoholic liquors—$9,130,000,000

In contrast to these expenditures we spent only $75,000,000 for higher education. This was considerably less than we had spent the year previously.

For our total welfare and religious activities in the United States we spent $2,000,000,000.

A comparison of some of the figures is interesting. For instance, we spent nearly 15 times as much for recreation as we spent for higher education and about five times as much for recreation as we spent for religion and humanitarian activities. We spent about 12 times as much for alcohol as we spent for higher education and about 5 times as much for tobacco as we spent for religious activities. We spent more for cosmetics than we spent for higher education and we spent about 2-3 as much for cosmetics as we spent for religion.

On the favorable side it should be said that we increased our expenditures for religion by about 5 percent over the year previously. For some unknown reason we reduced our expenditures for college education by $10,000,000.

If each of us had given 10 percent of his income to the work of the Lord we would have averaged $158.40. Actually we averaged $25.14 last year for the work of the church. This was about fifty cents per week. Some gave much more, of course. Some gave nothing.

We can do better, in the way we spend our money.—D. W. B.

Team Continues Fine Record

Looking at the thirteen football letters for McPherson in 1952 we find that they have continued to make fine records for themselves as they did on the college gridiron. Starting with right end, we find Paul "Si" Sargent. He is now president of the Peoples State Bank here in McPherson.

At right tackle was Stanley Keim. He is now in the meat packing industry in Nampa, Idaho, with his brother, Richard, who played guard and was captain of the 1952 conference winning team.

At the center post was Paul Kurtz. He now lives in Modesto, California, and has taken up the teaching profession. John Longel and Leon "Peanuts" Morine both saw action from the left guard spot. Longel is now farming at Englewood, Colorado, and Morine is an officer of the U. S. Coast Guard and is serving with the public relations department at Washington, D. C.

Bill Mudra played left tackle and when last heard of was a captain in Uncle Sam's Air Force.

Playing left end was Frank Barton. No information as to his present location has been found.

In the backfield was Gordon "Joe" Houston at quarterback. "Joe" now owns an oil company and is also an automobile dealer in Albuquerque, New Mexico. The halfbacks were Cleo Hill, Henry "Heinie" Hahn, and Carl "Tok" Carter. Cleo Hill is now a resident of McPherson, owning farming interests in McPherson County. He is also associated with the Morris and Son clothing store here. "Heinie" Hahn is superintendent of schools at Ellsworth, Kansas. No information can be found on "Tok" Carter.

Harold "Hal" Barton was fullback on the '52 Bulldog team. He is now teaching at Vashon, Washington.

THANKS

I want to express my sincere appreciation to the entire Spectator staff for making this six-page issue possible. Special thanks go to Manly Draper and Garth Ellwood who wrote the sports and did research work on the 1952 team and to Kenneth Brown who took pictures which were needed for the issue.—Editor.

Conference Has Been Held Yearly Since '36

The Conference of the Western Region of the Church of the Brethren has been held annually since 1936, according to Bro. James H. Elrod, Executive Secretary of the Western Region.

At the time when Brethren Schools were being organized, the annual conference of the church authorized that the regions send visitors to these schools to spend one week giving lectures and teaching about the Bible. This practice grew into the Bible Normal.

About 1927 this became the Minister's Conference. It was not until 1936, when the Region was organized, that Regional Conferences began. W. H. Yoder, who, at the time, was the Representative of the region on the Brotherhood Ministerial Board, was made chairman. Dr. Burton Meisler was vice chairman, and James H. Elrod, secretary.

In 1942, Bro. Elrod was made a full-time employee of the Western Region as Executive Secretary.

Sargent Tells Of 1923 Thrills

Paul "Si" Sargent, former end on the 1923 championship Bulldogs stated in an interview that there were many thrills for the players and student body alike in '23. While recalling back fond memories he said that perhaps the two biggest thrills came when the Bulldogs defeated Bethany and Washburn.

In the Bethany game the Bulldogs rolled up over four hundred yards from scrimmage while the Swedes lost more than they gained. McPherson made twenty first downs to Bethany's 9, yet the game ended with the score 13-3. This was the first time McPherson had defeated Bethany. The reason for the seeming low score is that when the Bulldogs made a touchdown they played defensive ball until the opposition scored again. Then McPherson would go back to offense.

The second biggest thrill was defeating Washburn. The coach of the Washburn eleven was "Dutch" Longberg who had been head coach here the year before. Washburn had spent much money on a rejuvenation of their athletic department and the Bulldogs were quite happy when they obliged their former coach by beating his highly touted team 14-7.

In McPherson Since 1896

Coach Chalmers E. Woodard set his football boys on top of the Kansas Conference this season. His team is also the only undefeated football squad in Kansas. Thanks to Woody's efforts and the loyal support of the entire Macollege team, our football team has been changed from pushover to power.

Leading the Conference Champions are George Keim, a rough and rugged tackle, and Dwight McSpadden, a hard-running and hitting half back. George Keim, Nampa, Idaho, is a junior as is Dwight McSpadden, who is from Wiley, Colo. This season, both boys saw much action offensively as well as defensively.

Mac Is Football Champion After Twenty-Nine Years

This is a shot of the 1923 team in the Bethany game which they won 7-3. The game was held at Lindsborg. The McPherson players are in the dark jerseys.

Assistant Coach Guy Hayes has the job of helping Woody get together a top offensive and defensive team for each game. His help with the linemen has been a blessing to the team, but not a too healthy situation for Bulldog opponents.

Top analsieic, tape and band-aid man in the athletic system is Dick Wareham. Dick's major job is trainer of the squad and also as assistant coach with Guy Hayes. Dick is also assistant basketball coach for Woody.

Floyd Mishler, a McPherson College graduate, coached the 1923 champion team. Mishler is now head of Department of Athletics in a high school in Santa Monica, California.

Gene Smith is at the moment the leading Kansas Conference and McPherson College scorer with 81 points.

Eddie Ball, one of the five juniors or members of the backfield, has already this in his first three years of college year thrown 11 touchdown passes, football scored over 160 points which far surpasses the total for for McPherson College.

Wayne Bickenstaff, junior, has already this in his first three years of college year thrown 11 touchdown passes, football scored over 160 points which far surpasses the total for for McPherson College.

Half Is Better Than None

It was the custom in 1923 for each football game to be played with a new ball. The winner of the game would then get to take the ball home with them to be displayed in a prominent place.

This presented a problem when the Bulldogs played the Baker Wildcats to a 3 to 3 tie in the first game of the '23 season. Deciding that half a football was better than none, Richard "Dick" Keim, captain of the Bulldogs, elected to cut it in two and bring the half football home for our showcase.

Like Father, Like Son

George Keim 1952 Co-Captain.

It was many years ago that McPherson College's Bulldogs won their last conference championship. We are all painfully aware that it was 29 years ago, to be exact—one generation. This one generation must have brought back to McPherson some of the determined aggressiveness that marked the play of the 1923 Bulldogs.

Looking back we see that the Bulldogs of 1923 were captained by a rugged and determined guard by the name of Richard Keim. "Dick" led his team to seven conference victories, one defeat, and one tie in his Junior year here at McPherson College.

Through the lean years that followed for the Bulldogs, "Dick's" son, George, grew up and, following his father's footsteps, came to McPherson College. Now Big George is a Junior and was chosen a co-captain of this year's football team. A rugged tackle, George played an invaluable part in leading the 1952 Bulldogs to a very decisive championship in the Kansas Conference. Their record of six wins, no losses, and no ties in conference play, is the best in the history of McPherson College.

It would almost seem that there is magic in the name. Keim, and that McPherson can't have a winning football team without a Keim in the lineup. If so, the Bulldogs should have a successful season again next year since Big George Keim will again be at his tackle spot making life miserable for the opposition.

By Manly Draper

McPherson's winning of the conference championship last Friday night led this reporter to start checking back to see what kind of team made up the last previous championship team. Twenty-nine years ago McPherson got a new coach by the name of Floyd Mishler. Along with this new coach they had a team that was probably the best that McPherson had put out until this year.

At the time McPherson was in the old Kansas Conference which was made up of 17 teams. They were Emporia St., Fort Hays, Pitts, Teachers, Southwestern, and Washburn of the present CIC conference; all of the present members of the present Kansas Conference years ago and Friends U., Sterling, St. Mary's, and Fairmount.

The Bulldogs played nine games in 1923, all of them conference tilts. Their season's record was seven wins one loss and one tie.

The first game of the season was against Baker and McPherson tied them 3-3 with a 27-yard field goal by Frank Barton. St. Mary's was the next game on the schedule and resulted in the only loss of the season for the Bulldogs by a 6-0 score.

McPherson then defeated Fort Hays Teachers by a 7-0 score. The scoring play was set up when Munde blocked a punt and it was fall on by Si Sargent on the Teachers two-yard line. "Tok" Carter scored on the next play.

Washburn also fell by the wayside against this McPherson juggernaut. The final score was 14-7. The first Mac score was made by a pass from Hal Barton to his brother Frank Barton. Later in the game Cleo Hill scooted around end for the final tally.

McPherson's defeat of KWU by 8-0 featured a 72 yard TD run by "Tok" Carter. In the Bethel game which was won by McPherson 15-0 there was a 30-yard TD run by Sam Kurtz along with a field goal by F. Barton. Hal Barton scored the other TD in this game.

Eddie Ball carried the ball around end for eight yards on this play. On the ground after throwing a block is Roland Delay. In the background are the two ends; Bob Bechtel and Bob Peel.

SENIORS—HOWARD MEHLINGER, PAUL HEIDEBRECHT, BOB BECHTEL AND ROLAND DELAY—will play their last college football tonight. However, Paul will be cheated out of this last chance since his injury a few weeks ago puts him out of the game for the season.

Conference Champs—just look at those words. They spell victory right out loud. The last time we were conference champs, George Keim's dad was a junior and captain of the team in the year 1923. And now this year, 1952, George is one of the co-captains and a junior. Maybe in years to come a dividend of his will carry on the seemingly family tradition.

Thanks to our wholehearted support to Woody for all his headaches, strained vocal chords and extra gray hairs.

The whole season has been a good one, and it's been close all the way through. It would have to be, because Woody is our coach. Take last Friday for example. We could have hit the 100 to 0 mark if he'd left in all the A string team, but he didn't. He gave the whole team a chance to play, and there's going to be a lot of good players coming up.

The Sadie Hawkins' party went over with a bang. Some of the crazy numbers that showed up there, Don Hoch and Norma Kay or switched genders for the evening when he came as Dolly May and she dressed as a "kick from the sticks." Don would make a cute looking gal, but have you ever seen a girl with a burr haircut?

Costumes ranging from baby dippers and teething rings to hoboes and L.I. Abners were there. Various designs descriptive of "Dog-patch" were around the walls. Games were played and contests won, refreshments served, and feet ached, but all seemed to have a good time.

Last weekend around this time, some kids had salty tears splashing down their cheeks and others were all smiles—some guess why—nine weeks' grade cards. Anyway, you can be sure when they come out, vacation is just around the corner.

Monday night at 10 o'clock, two girls were surprised when Second Floor Arnold gave Carol Trostle a party and Fourth Floor gave Shirley McDonald one. They grewed themselves in the hall and had a song fest of popular songs, Christmas carols, hill-billy songs and "Grandma's Lye Soap." (don't know what category that one takes.)

Several Kline Hall gals got together for a party at Mrs. Hamilton's apartment just across the street from campus. Shirley Hamilton and Leanne Legett, Eleanor Leutman and Arlie Thibault, Verlee Reist and Tommy Taylor, and Colleen Martin and Bob Wise were the couples. They played monopoly and various other games. They had their fill of food, too.

Rowena Merkey and Bob Wilson went to Conway Springs last Sunday for his grandparents' 50th wedding anniversary. Generations of relation were there to congratulate the two.

Ermalee Phillips stayed overnight in the dorm with Donna Lou Sooby Monday night.

weekend for a visit. He's working in some Kansas oil field now.

Friday night, after the game a number of couples went to Donna Fink's home for sloppy Joes, coleslaw and a good talk carried on by the boys about the ins and outs of the game. Everyone—from marrieds to engaged to singles—expected something that didn't take place. Is it now, Bob?

Hershberger Is New Youth Fieldworker

Miss Betty Lou Hershberger is the new youth fieldworker for the Western Region CBYF. She takes the place of Virginia Royer who left the job in September.

Betty Lou is being initiated into the regional work by attending sessions of the Regional Conference. This gives her a chance to become acquainted with ministers and youth advisers in the region.

Cynthio Falls, Garfield, is the home of Miss Hershberger. She is a graduate of Manchester College and has taught school one year. She cannot trace any relationship to Prof. E. S. Hershberger, although she was an art major in college.

The work of youth fieldworker includes leading at youth rallies and conferences, promoting youth gatherings, handling correspondence, and leading at camps. The work is a project of the Brethren Volunteer Service financed by the youth of the Western Region. Betty Lou completed her training at New Windsor with the September unit.

The new fieldworker attended the meeting of the National Youth Cabinet and Fieldworkers at Camp Mack in Indiana Oct. 30-Nov. 3. There she had a chance to confer with Berwyn Oltman, Western Region youth president; Glenn Swinger, adult adviser, and Virginia Royer, retiring fieldworker. Ten days in the National Youth Office at Elgin, Ill., completed her orientation sessions.

Betty Lou will have her headquarters in the Western Region office on the first floor of Sharp Hall. Youth leaders may consult her at any time.

Members of the Regional Youth Cabinet with whom the fieldworker works are Berwyn Oltman, Bob Powell, LaVon Widgren, Curtis Leicht and Lorene Clark.

Betty Lou has a great interest in dramatics. She was a member of a cast which presented a play at the Christian Youth Conference of North America in August.

Stern, Ilaoa Are Engaged

Rev. Ray Stern, Fredericksburg, Iowa, announces the engagement of his daughter, Lois, to Kuki Ilaoa of American Samoa.

Lois is a Macollege sophomore and Kuki is a senior. December 28 has been set for the date of the wedding.

Inflation is everywhere. Prices are up and so are football scores. The 1952 Bulldogs made twelve more points in last week's game with Bethany than the 1953 team did in their entire season when they scored 60 points.

Four Girls And A Man Complete 3400 Mile Trip

By the Ladies' Quartet

Have you wondered what was the matter with Bob Mays recently? Anything he says or does should not be held against him for he has just survived a 3400-mile trip with the college Ladies' Quartet.

A few extra miles were added to the regularly scheduled trip perhaps because Bob thought it was too soon after Halloween and practical jokesters had been at work on the highway signs. It was 40 miles later when Bob finally realized that 5's in front of the 90's were supposed to be there and was travelling, not highway 20 as he supposed, but highway 550.

They stayed in the home of Bob Mays' parents in Denver the first night and had a weiner roast the next day going through Wyoming. That night in Montpelier, Idaho they were invited by a new found friend to a square dance club. It was interesting observing.

In Nampa they ate in the Blickenstaff home and stayed with the Bloughs, Eshelmanns and Keims. And did you see those pumpkins they brought back? Well, those were really apples that Prof. Wesley DeCoursey's mother gave them.

Four programs in four different churches on Sunday kept them all so busy that LaVon forgot it was her birthday until the others remembered and sang "happy birthday" to her. That night the Fruitland young people had a party for the girls so they added to LaVon's tray a candle on a vanilla wafer.

Speaking of Fruitland, that's where "Si Sargent" grew up, so they met a lot of Peggy's relatives. There were quite a few, but Bob was probably overestimating when he told the congregation at Weiser that the last count on her relatives was 1,266. They stayed in the Youth home at Payette and the McKellip home at Melba and even met another Vance brother at Twin Falls.

One afternoon they gave a 1/2 hour radio program on KSRV-Otario, Ore. Peggy had a little trouble with intestinal flu but she came through gallantly on every program in spite of it. Elsie held her up right so all Peggy had to do was sing.

On their way back they spent an afternoon and evening in Salt Lake City. They sang in the Mormon tabernacle (Bob and the caretaker were the sole listeners), saw the movie, "The Mikado," and listened to the University of Utah Symphony rehearse for their concert the following night.

Also on an excursion out to the great Salt Lake, Bob, Elsie, and LaVon arrived on the scene just in time to get the greatest effect of the fumes arising from a nearby smelting plant that was being cleaned out for the day. Mac's Bay Refinery doesn't even make a showing when it comes to odors. Those three just barely escaped before they stopped breathing permanently.

There was extremely beautiful scenery for the trip. The trees were at their prettiest and the mountains were arrayed with a mass of color. Scenes that were new to all of them accounted for many thrilling experiences. One evening as they drove toward the west, the sky was aglow with the vivid colors of an Idaho sunset. So impressive.

pressed were they all that they had a spontaneous vesper service, singing hymns and quoting psalms as they rode along. There were many serious and enlightening discussions that accompanied the inspirations of the days.

The last lap of the trip was Western Colorado. Saturday afternoon and Sunday was spent in the Widgren home near Grand Junction. Some of them at their first venison, elk, and trout that weekend. Sunday the quartet gave 5 programs—a total of 51 songs for the day.

They did some sight seeing in the mountains near Grand Junction. At one place they stood on what is known as "Cold Springs' Point" and sang into the deep canyon below as the sounds echoed back to them twice with the force of choir. Interesting things happened every day. One day as they went through Keim's meat packing plant in Nampa, they were watching the butchering of sheep. Suddenly—splish!! a big clot of blood lit in Peggy's eye. "Here's blood in yer eye!" Later in the week on a cook out at Bob and LaVon built the fire, Elsie and Peggy peeled the apples for baked apples and Florence got the biscuits ready. The pressure in the can had built up too much so when Florence opened it up the biscuits really shot out. It so happened the can was pointed toward Peggy so they had to scrape the dough from her shoulder before they could have any biscuits with their baked apples. Another day they had a snow ball fight on the Continental Divide on Monarch Pass.

You can't beat Bob Mays for introductions. You never know who's coming next. One night he introduced Florence as the soprano who made the rafters tremble, Elsie as the alto who made the floor tremble, and Peggy—who made the boys tremble.

Several times Peggy was asked to talk to the congregation following the regular services about her work camp experiences. One night LaVon got carried away when she was telling about that beautiful sunset they saw so how they call her preacher Widgren. For reasons needless to mention Peggy was the sleepiness, Elsie the earnest, LaVon the prechmiest, and Florence the silliest.

It might be noted that Bob and the girls couldn't wait for hews of the football games played while they were gone so they had a telegram sent to Nampa one week and Grand Junction the next.

Teacher: Now, Bobby, tell me where the elephant is found. Bobby: (After a moment's hesitation) The elephant, teacher, is such a large animal it is scarcely ever lost.

Sky Is Limit On Sadie Hawkins Day

"Up in the air Junior Birdmen." "Up in the air sky-which-way! The sky seemed to be the limit this year. Some took to trees and fire-escapes, but for the most part, the fellas look refuge on top of buildings Sadie Hawkins Day.

Harnly Hall was the most heavily populated, the gym seemed next in popularity, and the rest were scattered over the remaining buildings of the campus.

Leon Albert and Wilbur Bastin clambered up the Industrial Arts building roof with girls in hot pursuit. Kenny Brown and Alvin Fishburn parked themselves on the roof of "Fanny's" porch and wouldn't budge even though they were threatened by some girls with a ladder.

At the scene of the start of the race on the football field, girls outnumbered boys three to one, and prospects looked gloomy.

Donna Sooby fired the fatal shot, and it was fatal to some poor hapless souls who weren't quite ready.

It was then that a dozen or more heads popped themselves over the edge of Harnly's flat top and shouted down taunts of glee.

Of course, female ire arose and plans of vengeance went into action as some of the more wrathful armed with a key, clambered up, as far as they were able, to their goal.

Dean put up quite a fight for Betty Young. He wouldn't even get "Nubes" but he finally caught him Friday morning following breakfast, having missed him earlier as he fled, after being unexpectedly pounced upon outside his door before breakfast.

Norman Long's legs aren't so very long, but it sure took a long time for Lois Stinnette to catch up with him.

Bob Wilson vowed he wouldn't get caught, but was finally tackled Friday morning by his "sister-in-law", Arlene Merkey.

McPherson Winds Up Victorious Season

Tonight, November 14, McPherson College Bulldogs wind up what has proved to be the greatest season ever had by a Bulldog team. Starting out fast against two opponents that should not have been on the same field with them, they held them scoreless. Then they returned home for their second conference game of the season. Baker found the road to defeat broad and wide as they crumpled to defeat 52-13.

Then came the real test for the Mac Bulldogs. For four weeks in a row they played in homecoming battles, and if ever a team is "up" for a game it is their homecoming. They more than proved their mettle in these games winning three and tying William Jewell in a game that was publicized over a large portion of the mid-west.

Then last Friday night they came home and returned the tounding that Bethany had administered to McPherson only three short years ago with an almost identical score. Tonight they face a non-conference opponent that would like nothing better than to defeat Mac. Friends University perennially tries to become the eighth member of the conference only to be told that they do not play a quality of sports that is the equal of the Kansas Conference.

They believed that they partially disproved that last week when they upset the "dope store" and deli Baker a 12-7 defeat. To prove that it was no fluke the Friends' team is working overtime for Coach Earl Craven this week in preparation for the game with McPherson. For example, school was excused at Friends last Monday because of the Baker victory, but the football team voted to practice anyway.

Friends have been operating out of the T formation until the game last Friday night when they switched to the old double wing formation and defeated Baker with it. They plan to use this formation against McPherson.

The Bulldogs are in top physical condition for this game. Nobody was injured in the Bethany game and the players are in top condition for tonight. Coach Woodward has not worked the players too hard this week, but the players know that a win tonight will give them an undefeated season and they are not planning on letting Friends ruin that.

Bulldogs Defeat Swedes In Last Conference Game

McPherson received the ball on the opening kickoff and in seven plays drove 72 yards for a touchdown. That just about describes what happened as McPherson humbled Bethany last Friday night 52-13. Not once during the game did McPherson punt and except for a pass interception every time they had their hands on the ball they scored until midway in the third quarter when the reserves were in.

A capacity crowd estimated to be over 4000 was present to witness McPherson capture the Kansas Conference crown for the first time in 29 years. It looked more like homecoming than homecoming itself as there were many teachers that forgot to attend the evening state teachers session at Salina and somehow wound up at the football field sometime before eight o'clock.

The crowd was in a holiday mood and their enthusiasm never dampened. Even after Woody had swept the bench clean and there were players playing that the crowd didn't even know were out for football they were yelling just as loud for just "one more touchdown."

The score represented the greatest margin of defeat ever handed to a Bethany team by the Bulldogs. Many of the teachers and students in the stands remembered a short three years ago when Coach Ray Hahn let the Bethany's first team remain in the contest until the closing minutes to run up a score against McPherson and the revenge was doubly sweet when Mac was able to defeat them by the almost identical score and still left everybody on the bench see action.

McPherson received the opening kickoff and immediately marched the length of the field, going the last 21 yards on that famous touchdown pass from Wayne Blickenstaff to Dwight McSpadden. The try for the extra point failed.

The Bulldogs kicked off and then the defensive unit held for three straight downs, forcing Bethany to kick on the fourth down. They got off a good one that settled into Eddie Ball's arms on McPherson's 20 yard line.

Receiving good blocking all the way, a huge hole opened up and Ball sped through it. It looked for a moment as though he might be gone, but the referee ruled that he stepped out of bounds on the five-yard line so the ball was handed to Smith the next play and he was off. Score now 12-0. Smith also made the extra point and with only five minutes gone in the quarter the score was 13-0. After Bethany picked up a first down the tough-as-nails McPherson line again stiffened and forced Bethany to punt. They did, and McPherson was again on the touchdown trail. Several times the runners almost broke loose only to be stopped by just one man. Finally Ball went over from the eight-yard line and Gene Smith made the extra point to end the scoring for the first quarter and McPherson was in the lead 20-0.

Early in the second quarter Robison intercepted a Bethany pass to set up another McPherson score. Gene Smith did the honors this time from 37 yards out as the McPherson line opened a hole in the line big enough to drive a truck through. This time the extra point was made by a pass completion from Blickenstaff to Clive Sharpe. Score now 27-0.

Same old story again. Mac's defense holds, Bethany kicks and McPherson starts a touchdown march. The final five yards were covered by Gene Smith. This time Robison carried the ball over for the extra point.

McPherson got possession of the ball next time a little differently. Jerry Green broke through the Bethany line and hit the QB before he had a chance to hand the ball off. He fumbled and Bob Wise recovered to set up another TD. Gene Smith, who ran rampart all night long broke loose this time for a 39-yard run and another TD. Dwight McSpadden carried for the extra point and the score in this football game, that was beginning to resemble a track meet with McPherson doing all the running, was 41-0 at halftime, with McPherson safely in the lead.

The second half was almost an exact replica of the first half with McPherson scoring at will until Woody started substituting at will. Bethany received the kickoff and immediately and conveniently fumbled. Three plays later McPherson had their score, this time for variety through the air as Blickenstaff hit McSpadden for a 14-yard touchdown pass. McPherson missed their extra point.

On the first series of downs Bethany made the mistake of believing that they did not have to kick and so the impregnable McPherson defense just held for four downs. Three plays later McSpadden found the necessary hole in the line and covered the last seven yards and the double stripes again felt the pounding of Bulldog feet. For some reason or other the try for the extra point failed and the score remained 53-0.

Bethany punted out on McPherson one yard line several minutes later. With a partially new lineup in McPherson again headed for the double stripes. Don Goodfellow carried for 17 yards to the Mac 32 and several more plays say the ball advanced to the Mac 39. From here John Robison carried around end and headed for the goal post. At the 50 he was in the clear and nobody even came close to him. Goering made the point after touchdown and for you who are keeping a running score of the game that made it 60-0.

At this point Woody poured reserves into the battle. There were so many new faces that even the coaches were slightly confused and twice only 10 McPherson players were on the field, but both times they held for no gain. With 22 seconds left in the third quarter Mac threw a one yard pass to Lundgren that gave Bethany their first score. They also converted and the score at the end of the quarter was 60-7.

Just before the quarter ended, Bill Goering took Bethany's kickoff and returned it 65 yards before being brought down on Bethany's 20-yard line. On the first play after the quarter, Eddie Ball scooted those last 20 yards, thanks to a key block by Howard Todd, and since Mac missed their extra point the score was 66-7.

Keim Nominated For Little All-American

McPherson received a boost Nov. 11, for the enviable position of having one of its players selected for the Little All-American Team. To receive this selection requires a terrific combination of good luck coupled with good playing.

The good luck consists of being on a team that is conference champs and if at all possible, undefeated. Besides this it takes publicity and plenty of it. Here is where the "Topeka Daily Capital" came through with a valuable boost Tuesday.

They sent to the Associated Press the nomination of Big George Keim, McPherson tackle, to be considered for Little All-American honors. While this does not mean that he will be chosen, it is a considerable help to be nominated by the paper that is recognized all over Kansas as the authority on small college football in Kansas.

Season's record: Right 137; Wrong 45; Ties 11 Pct. .753.

I continued in my slump last week. As the returns started coming from all over the country, my blood pressure started to drop and I started to feel faint. The Solid South again confounded the experts. No, this isn't a report on the election returns, but on the football scores. Such teams as Georgia, Kentucky, and Virginia won games that were supposed to be in the bag for the opponents. In other parts of the country Washington, Notre Dame, Nebraska, Pittsburgh, and Friends U. also pulled upsets.

However, the Michigan S. powerhouse kept rolling right along. After a slow first quarter they got angry, six Indiana players and two Michigan S. players were thrown out of the game, and Michigan S. won the game 41-14.

Woody Announces Tentative Schedule For Basketball

Coach Chalmer Woodward today announced the tentative schedule of games that the McPherson College Bulldogs will play this year. There is a possibility of several more games because of open dates remaining on the schedule.

At the moment 16 regular games, one high school clinic and two tournaments round out the schedule. Contrary to the last two years, no extensive Christmas tournament is planned. However the Bulldogs are planning on participating in a tournament at Hutchinson just before school reconvenes.

On the schedule are four of the non-conference opponents that we played last year. They are St. Benedicts and Southwestern from the Central Intercollegiate Conference and Phillips U. of Enid, Okla. and Colorado State at Greeley, Colo.

The first chance local fans will get to see the Bulldogs perform on the home court will be the game with Southwestern Dec. 15. Probably many fans will travel to the tournament at Moundridge the 10th and 11th to see the Bulldogs when they are playing within a reasonable traveling distance.

Already Coach Woodward has started the boys who are not out for football working on such things as getting themselves into condition. The practices will include all the members starting next week after the football season.

The basketball schedule:
St. Benedicts, there Dec. 6.
Moundridge Invitational, there Dec. 10-11.
H. S. Clinic at Ness City, Dec. 13.

Southwestern, here Dec. 15.
Bethel, here Dec. 19.
Central Conference Tournament at Hutchinson Jan. 1-3.
Colorado State at Greeley, there Jan. 10.

Ottawa, there Jan. 16.
Baker, there Jan. 17.
C. of E., here Jan. 24.
Bethany, there Jan. 26.
Bethel, there Jan. 30.
Phillips U., there Jan. 31.
KWU, here Feb. 4.
C. of E., here Feb. 6.
Bethany, here Feb. 9.

Volleyball Leagues Finish Season

The volleyball leagues finished their last games of the season last night. The winner in each league will meet in a play-off game to decide the champion volleyball team.

This year 31 teams competed in volleyball play. This was the highest number ever to play in McPherson's intramural program. About 220 players were on the various teams. The boys outnumbered the girls as several of the teams were made up entirely of boys.

With the end of the volleyball season, the weather is beginning to point to the start of the intramural basketball season. Dick Wareham, director of intramural athletics, announces that it will be of no avail to start forming teams yet. There will be an announcement in a later Spectator as to the exact method of forming teams this year and when it can be started.
