

Thanks, It's Been Fun

In my first editorial which was published in the Sept. 12 issue of the Spectator, I asked the student and faculty body for their cooperation in producing a good newspaper. Now it is time for me to say thank you to all of you who responded so readily.

I think we have met our goal of having an interesting and timely newspaper which, I hope, is representative of McPherson. Please take special note of persons listed on the masthead below who have worked many hours each week so that you might enjoy fifteen issues of the Spectator.

Since we have had cooperation between our staff and readers, we have been able to release all Spectators on Friday noon with the exception of one publication date which was pushed back to Saturday so that we could publish the story on the All-Conference football team.

Special thanks are extended to faculty advisors, Sarah May Vancil and Gordon Yoder, who were always willing to lend a helping hand when the going got a little rough. Also special thanks to Dr. D. W. Bittinger, who in spite of an extremely busy schedule, always had his column ready for us. Thanks also to the entire staff of the McPherson Daily Republican who always gave us their full cooperation and helped us out of some tight spots.

It has been a lot of fun for me to be editor of the Spectator. It's always an enjoyable experience to watch the expressions on your faces as you read the Spectator every Friday noon, but you know, it's sometimes a little embarrassing to hear you find mistakes we missed.—L. M.

What's Wrong With McPherson College

Letter To The Editor

Are we speaking of you? Yes, because you the students and faculty are McPherson College.

What's happened to our pep and enthusiasm? In the past two years McPherson College has become known throughout this section of the country and even beyond, for its achievements in athletics, music, debate, science, and many other fields of study. This is the result of hard work by the student body and faculty of the school.

Whenever we entered into something regardless of its nature, we gave it everything we had to offer. We were a challenge to others. Everywhere people commented on the new spirit that had sprung forth on our campus.

Now we find that our spirit seems to have lost its punch. This is not due to the fact that our leaders have lost their enthusiasm nor their desire to make McPherson College something for all of us to be proud of, but because we as members of our college family, have ceased to reflect and magnify this spirit. Do you feel that McPherson college has attained the goal for which it was intended? If you do then there is no need to push on to higher accomplishments. We can all sit back and watch our college become just another church school. Or, we can really get pepped up and keep going in the way we started.

Now you ask, what can we all do to help keep McPherson on the map? For one thing whenever we enter into something, let's give it all we've got, regardless of what it is. Be it music, athletics, a chapel program, or what have you, let's strive constantly to make it the best ever.

Let's make McPherson College the "Best In The West."

You must remember it takes more than one to do this. Won't you join us?—Unsigned.

These Are New At Mac's Library

History books lead the number of new additions to the college library to be reviewed this week.

A History of the League of Nations by F. P. Walters was published by the Oxford University Press under the auspices of The Royal Institute of International Affairs.

The aim of the book is to set forth in consecutive narrative the origins and the history of the League of Nations.

Mr. Walters was closely connected with the League throughout its existence.

The United States in International Banking by Siegfried Stern is the inner story of the determining role that banks have played in the expansion of the foreign commerce of the United States.

The author has been engaged in international finance since 1899. From 1916 to 1945 he was connected with several leading New York banks.

The Road to Reunlon by Paul H. Buck treats the subject of reconciliation between the North and the South, 1865-1960. It interprets the social rather than the economic readjustment.

The Anatomy of Revolution by Crane Brinton is a new and completely revised volume with the addition of a section dealing with the Russian Revolution during and after the Second World War.

Brinton has explored the historical facts behind the great revolutions of the western world to see the cause and effect patterns, and results of revolutions.

The author is professor of ancient and modern history at Harvard.

The Evolution of Modern Latin America by R. A. Humphreys is an introduction to the modern history of Latin America.

The book emphasizes social, political, and economic developments.

What People Wore by Douglas Gorsline is a visual history of dress from ancient times to twentieth century America. Nearly 1800 detailed illustrations and 12 plates in color appear on chronologically dated pages.

Beginning Electricity by J. R. Eaton takes the mystery out of electricity for the layman.

Wild Life Beyond the North by Frank Hingworth, illustrated by many photographs of animals in their natural homes, is an account of the rich animal and plant life north of the Arctic circle in a land most people consider desolate.

Birds by C. Russell Mason of the Massachusetts Audubon Society covers in detail the hobby of bird-attracting and gives rules for bird identification.

How to Paint for Pleasure by R. O. Dunlop gives practical hints and tips for the amateur painter.

How to Understand Propaganda by Alfred McClung Lee attempts to give a sane method of dealing with the high level of pressure in society today.

McPherson Makes News In December Issue Of Time

The December 29 issue of Time magazine contained an article concerning the six McPherson Nigerian students and the reaction of McPherson's citizens to these students in relation to the race problem in McPherson.

The editor of the Hutchinson Herald, John McCormally, also a reporter for Time magazine wrote the article as Time's Christmas story for 1952. Similar articles of different length were also found in the Emporia Gazette and the Salina Journal.

Word quickly got around town about the article in Time, and Abel's Stationery store in downtown McPherson sold its supply of Time Magazines in twenty minutes.

The Nigerian students themselves, consisting of Joseph Obi, James Craig, Isaac Grillo, Daniel Oyenem, Emmanuel Thompson, Elijah Odokara, and Augustine Njoku - Obi (the latter coming from Central College) said that the article in Time at certain points was not completely accurate.

The phrase in Time about Nigerian Communists coming home with plenty of money for political activity may have been overstressed. Although the article implied that all seven of the students received a new suit, overcoat, and gloves, only four boys actually received any sort of clothing.

Rozella Switzer, McPherson's postmistress, has done a wonderful job waging a campaign for equality for the African students in downtown establishments, but unfortunately, she has only touched the surface.

Actually as far as the townspeople have been concerned for the last few decades, at least, there has been no race problem here because of the almost complete absence of Negroes in the city. The arrival of these seven Nigerian students has brought matters more out in the open, especially with the printing of the Time article.

Although McPherson College in the article did not receive as much credit as it rightfully deserved, the prestige of the college has no doubt been greatly enhanced by achieving national prominence in a widely-circulated magazine.

A few days after the article came out in Time, Elijah Odokara, was picked up by one of McPherson's citizens as he was walking down Euclid avenue on his way to town. The man was very friendly and offered Elijah a job at one of the local used car lots cleaning and polishing automobiles.

Elijah accepted and on his first day of employment he was given a $3 bonus! He stated that he had walked down Euclid many times, and previous to the appearance of the Time article, only college students picked him up. Evidently the arrival of these Nigerians has a far reaching influence on at least one good citizen.

Time magazine says "In a short twelve months' McPherson has cast aside its old measurements of comfortable solidarity."

In essence this is not yet completely true. McPherson College students can help in making it come true by simply "acting like Christians," which is the good advice offered by Rozella Switzer. This should be done off campus as well as on campus. Let's try to teach McPherson's citizens that its motto, "The Friendliest City in Kansas" should extend to all races.

Ode To A. F.

Have you ever had the fear at church
As you pass the offering plate,
That those coins within its wooden walls
Would be something that you'd hate.

Even though you're careful
When you pass that plate next door,
You have the strangest feeling
When the treasury hits the floor.

To hear the coins go rolling
Missing everybody's feet,
And their eyes are placed upon you
That is when you admit defeat.

"Better luck the next time."
Some one to you tries to say,
But don't you get discouraged,
There will be a brighter day.

Christmas vacation started out with icy roads and snow piled into drifts by the road side. However, everyone that started for home got there sooner or later. Students found their parents anxiously awaiting their arrivals since Pop whose ear had been glued to the radio, heard about storms and icy wind blasts.

Speaking about ice—three Macollege coeds each came back with a chunk of it on the third finger of her left hand. Janet Ruehlen said "Yes" to Bob Schmitt the Sunday before Christmas on his grandparents' 50th wedding anniversary.

Martha McClung gave her answer to John Robison and Shirley Meyers agreed whole - heartedly when Sherman Blocher popped the question.

Also, several couples are soon taking the fatal final step. Dick King and Carole Davis are planning theirs between semesters at her home in Nacona, Texas.

Bob Wilson and Rowena Markey will take vows just before Easter vacation and Elsa Kurtz will walk down the aisle to Herb Edmonds in Las Vegas, Nev. this coming June.

Ah, yes, extra - curricular activities have a great deal of influence on college life.

Bill Goering spent part of his vacation with Shirley McDaniel at her home in Portis, Kans.

Bob Wilson spent some of the Christmas holidays at Rowena Markey's home, then she in turn went to his place in Conway Springs, Kans.

Marvin Ferguson got one day off at Christmas to see Shirley Alexander, who has a car of her own now.

The basketball guys had to come back early for practice for tournaments at Hutchinson. Wayne Blickenstaff was one who didn't even get to go home, but he didn't seem to mind too much since Beverly Turner lives here.

Kathy Russell stayed here with Jerry Goering and working during the holidays—also, to help pass the time she saw Eddie Ball a few times.

Wayne Jones spent part of his time with Jean Walker in Pampa, Texas, and Margaret Baile visited Bob Hoeft at his home in Marshalltown, Iowa.

Ruehlen, Schmitt Are Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Ruehlen of McPherson announce the engagement of their daughter, Janet, to Robert Schmitt, son of Dr. and Mrs. John Schmitt of Wichita.

Both Janet and Bob are sophomores at Macollege.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Betty Lou Hershberger Has Appendectomy

Miss Betty Lou Hershberger, Regional Youth Worker, underwent an appendectomy at the McPherson County Hospital Monday evening, Jan. 5. Her condition is reported as good. She is in room 306.

Students Will Not Take Bus To Washington

This year the Youth Political Seminar is being held again in Washington, D. C., Feb. 25. Plans for the Macollege students have not been definitely set. However, at a meeting on Tuesday, they did decide that no bus was to be taken for the trip.

Estimated cost will be approximately $45. However that is in the case that a decision was reached to take a bus. There will be a $3.50 registration fee for those who plan to take the trip to the United Nation Assembly in New York City. Otherwise, the registration fee will be $2.50.

For all who are planning to attend, there will be a meeting next Tuesday, Jan. 13. At this meeting the registration fee will be taken so that it may be sent in early to get reservations.

At this meeting definite plans are hoped to be obtained so that those who are definitely planning to go can make their necessary arrangements.

Ed Frantz went home with Lu and Ann Carpenter to Las Vegas, Nev. Somewhere near Tucumcari, New Mexico, the '40 Pontiac uttered its last wheezy rattle and was traded in for a '47 Olds.

Dale Carpenter is the proud father of a baby girl. She was a stubborn little thing and decided to wait until 1953 rolled in to arrive—now she isn't deductible from the income tax of 1952, but anyways the Carpenters are still proud parents of their six - pound bundle of heaven.

Now that another year has come and gone the usual celebrations and the new year is in, we students turn over again to the brighter side of life—dull studies. With semester exams and term papers due in the near future, things will be popping on this campus.

Meyers, Blocher Are Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Meyers of Norton, Kan. announce the engagement of their daughter, Shirley, to Sherman Blocher of McPherson.

Bulldogs Defeat Friends 81 - 44

The McPherson College Bulldogs routed the Friends 'U. Quakers 81-44 in a non-league game played last Tuesday night. "Chief" Hanagan made a shot from out front to give the Bulldogs a 3-2 lead and they were never headed after that.

Wayne Blickenstaff and Gene Smith sparked the team to a 16-10 first quarter lead, scoring 14 points between them.

The second quarter was almost an exact replica of the first quarter with Wayne adding 10 points this quarter to give the Bulldogs a 48-22 halftime margin.

Neither team was able to find the basket during the third quarter, except for Carl Metzker who tallied three field goals. The third quarter ended with McPherson out in front 65-33.

The Bulldogs added 19 insurance points in the final quarter, eight of which were contributed by Bernard Whirley. "Woody" cleaned the bench in the final quarter and everybody that made the trip got to see some action.

Wayne Blickenstaff was high for McPherson with 20 points followed by Gene Smith and Carl Metzker who each added 13 points. Cox was high for Friends with 13 points.

McPherson Defeats Bethel In First Conference Game

The McPherson College Bulldogs started their quest of the conference basketball title by defeating Bethel in the opening conference game for each team by the score of 65-49.

The game was played before a small crowd because of the fact the Christmas vacation had already begun.

The game was close right up to the closing minutes when McPherson was finally able to break into a fairly substantial lead. The score was tied ten times and the lead changed hands six.

Bethel moved to an early lead and was never headed all during the first quarter. The closest the Bulldogs could come was to tie the score at 10 all with about two minutes left to play in the quarter. The quarter ended with Bethel in the lead 16-14.

"Chief" Hanagan added eight points in the second quarter and coupled with two of Bernard Whirley's set shots, McPherson moved to a 33-30 halftime score.

The third quarter found the lead see-sawing back and forth with Don Harder sparking Bethel with a nine-point spurge. This was enough to give Bethel a 49-47 lead at the three quarter mark.

Maccollege Loses Twice Wins Once In CIC Tourney

Washburn University rallied late in the game to come from behind and defeat the McPherson College Bulldogs 79 to 68 in a first round game in the Central Conference Invitational tournament at Hutchinson's Sports Arena.

The two teams played an even terms the first quarter with the period closing 17-17, but in the second period the Bulldogs outscored Washburn and brought the halftime score to 37-33. McPherson held leads of four and six points until midway through the third period when Washburn pulled up to tie the score at 49-all. The period ended with Washburn ahead 51-51.

Early in the last half Washburn gained a 60-52 lead after a few bad passes on the part of the Bulldogs and from then on the team from Topeka maintained the advantage.

McPherson played a good brand of ball for three quarters of the game and the Bulldogs had difficulty with a few bad passes and a stiffer Washburn defense. Coach Woodard's Bulldogs again had difficulty in hitting the basket, hitting only 31 percent the first half and a game percentage of only 29 percent. The first half Washburn hit 38 percent and ended with a 41 percent for the game.

Washburn's height advantage was a great asset for the Topeka team, but despite this disadvantage the Bulldogs played a good defensive game except for the last period.

Wayne Blickenstaff was high scorer with 17 points to his credit. "Chief" Hanagan was second for the Bulldogs with 13. Yearsear of Washburn had 16 points to his credit.

Southwestern Makes Mac Kneel With 65-55 Score

Played January 2, 1953
McPherson College bowed to a determined and well balanced Southwestern College crew in their second basketball contest in the Central Conference tournament by a 65 to 55 score.

The Bulldogs built up an eight point lead at the first quarter but failed to maintain it and Southwestern managed to nose ahead 22 to 31 at the half. Both teams used reserve strength in the second period.

The first strings started the second half but the Bulldogs had cooled off and couldn't hit the basket as effectively as they did the first quarter. The third period ended with Southwestern ahead 48 to 46. Seven fouls in the last quarter proved costly to the Bulldogs, for on 11 attempts from the free throw line Southwestern made seven of them good besides scoring five field goals for a total of 17 points. In the same period McPherson scored only nine points, including three fielders and four points from the foul line.

Farney of Southwestern was high point man for the contest with 14 points while Gene Smith dumped in 13 points for the Bulldogs.

Dogs Triumph Over Swede 85-40 In Last CIC Game

McPherson College chagrined after successive defeats in the Central Conference tournament, came back to swamp the Bethany College Swedes 85 to 40 in their third round game at Hutchinson's Sports Arena.

McPherson displayed the best brand of ball they've played this season. Good floorwork and good rebounding combined with excellent shooting accuracy to hand the Swedes a defeat they will long remember. The Bulldogs' shooting percentage was a little over 50 percent.

The Bulldogs got off to a fast start with two quick baskets by Bechtel and a free throw by Gayer. From there on the McPherson score kept mounting and the lead was never threatened by the Bethany five.

The score at the end of the first quarter was 22 to nine with the Bulldogs going ahead to score six more points in the second quarter before the Swedes were again able to score.

At half time the score was 40 to 25 with most of the McPherson scoring being done by Gayer, Whirley, Bechtel, and Gene Smith. McPherson's half time shooting percentage was 47 percent as against 28 percent for Bethany.

The last half was a repetition of the first half only more so with McPherson pouring 45 points through the basket while Bethany hit for only 15. McPherson reserves played almost the entire fourth quarter and outscored a weary Bethany five 24 to seven; Bethany had a lot of difficulty hitting the basket and hit for only 8 percent the last half.

High point man for the game was Whirley, who made eight baskets out of 10 attempts for 16 points. Gayer followed with 14 points and Gene Smith hit for 13. High for Bethany was Kliever with nine points.
