Chapel Choir Has Spaghetti Feed

Because of rain, the Chapel Choir Picnic that was planned for Black Canyon was held in the Boy Scout Cabin in the park on May 5.

The general committee was composed of Galen Slifer, Ruth Stricker, and Esther Ikenberry. The food committee included Joan McRoberts, Shirley Hamilton and Dorothy Nicholas. Recreation committee was composed of Betty Brammel, and Leon Neher. The worship committee was Max Parmley, and Adalur Carpenter.

A camp fire had been planned, but because of the weather it was decided to have a skating party after the meal.

The picnic turned into a spaghetti supper which was a surprise to all.

Church School Class Visits Wichita Churches In Field Trip

On Tuesday May 5, the Church School Class took a field trip to Wichita to visit the educational plants of the Methodist, Christian, Baptist, Presbyterian, and Church of the Brethren.

In one of the churches that was visited, there were 22 members on the staff of the church who receive a salary. This church also had seven ministers and is adding two more this spring.

One of the things that interested the class was a bridal suite, for the use of the bride before the wedding. Carole King said that she would almost have to get married all over again. Dick said that it would be to someone else then.

As the class went into a church, one could tell where the interest of each student was. Karl Baldwin always headed for the pulpit. John Thomas, who is drawing up plans for a church could be found sitting in one of the seats in the sanctuary, measuring the distance between the pews. Carole King was always found at the organ, and the rest of the class stood around with their mouths open and a look of awe upon their faces because of the vastness of the church. There was an exception, though. Paul Myers could be found anywhere and every where. "Just exploring."

Floors On Dorm To Be Raised Soon

Dr. James Berkebile has announced that the raising of the floors on Dotzour Hall, new women's dormitory, will be done sometime during the third week of May.

Progress on Dotzour Hall has been very rapid, due to the kind weather. Everything is reported to be on schedule. Four of the floors have already been poured.

These floors are very elastic, as one part of the floor can be lifted 18 inches off the ground and the rest of the floor will lay flat without any strain on it. They will be lifted by a hydraulic process.

The two will travel together both ways, so they may together will tour mainland for seven days and the British Isles for three days.

They will leave Quebec, Canada on June 9 and will arrive in Le Havre, France June 18.

They will sail from Southampton, England August 24 to return.

Wayne Blickenstaff, head of student campaign solicitations stated that all persons planning to attend the Booster Banquet May 22 should have their minimum $10 payment in by May 18.

Biggest increase from last week has been that additional pledges of the senior students, who made a 28 percent increase. Esther Ikenberry is in charge of special student contributors.

Over 250 students have so far contributed with pledges ranging from one dollar to $250. In the sophomore, junior and senior classes, only seven or eight persons in each class have not contributed to the drive.

Wayne Blickenstaff wishes to thank all of the captains and workers who have taken part in soliciting in this drive.

Professor Wesley DeCoursey, head of the MacCollege chemistry department was seized with an appendicitis attack on May 2.

He said earlier in the day that he "had the strangest feeling he had ever had before." He was rushed to the McPherson County Hospital that evening.

The banquet will bring the $150,000 drive for McPherson College to a close.

Mrs. Paul Sherby is chairman of the Foods Committee with Prof. Mildred Siek, Mrs. J. F. Sifer, R. Gordon Yoder, Prof. Dick Wetherham, and Prof. Donald Frederick helping.

His home is in Wichita.

SCA Sponsors Many Projects During School Year

Have you often wondered just what the Student Christian Association does during the school year? This year it has been a busy organization, and under the capable leadership of LaVon Widigren and Don Fike, it has operated behind the scenes in many activities.

The S. C. A. sponsors the meditations each Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday evening from 6:45 to 7:00 in the memory chapel of the college church. It also presents varied programs consisting of movies, slides, worship, singing, discussions, and talks of local, national, and international interest each Thursday evening.

During the first week of school, the S. C. A. had charge of the Freshmen Talent Show and cooperated with the M Club for the all-school watermelon feed. It was responsible for the all - school picnic held at Marion Lake, and for a chapel service early in the fall. It helped in the homecoming cleanup and had a float in the parade.

A popular feature on the S. C. A. agenda is the annual Sadie Hawkins race and party, which was held this year in early November. W. P. A. Week (Women Pay All) reigned for two weeks following the party.

At Thanksgiving time, the S. C. A. planned to send a group to the

All-School's Day Honors Students In 40th Celebration

Floats from almost every school in McPherson County were entered yesterday, May 8, in the forty-first All-School's day parade and celebration held on Main Street in downtown McPherson.

McPherson College, Central College, and Bethany College at Lindsborg entered floats for the college division. "The Key To Success" was the general theme of MacCollege's float, built by the sophomore class, who traditionally are supposed to build it every year for this event.

The parade was more than an hour long. It started on North Main Street and proceeded down Main Street again and went up Main Street again. Proceedings started at 11 a. m.

The purpose of All - School's Day is to honor the eighth grade students who are graduating to high school. The idea was first thought of in 1914 by a group of local business men. It is supposed to be the biggest event of its kind in the United States today.

The traditional dance around the Maypole was held Thursday evening at Lakeside Park, and Friday morning. Several commercial establishments displayed floats in addition to the county schools and college floats. "Toyland" was the theme of this year's All - School's Day.

The roping off of streets was handled by a college committee consisting of Guy Hayes, Prof. Dell, and Alvin Willems. Several college students helped with keeping roads closed.

Barbara Bowman, MacCollege freshman, was May Day Queen for the celebration last year. This year, Galen Stucky, son of Mrs. Marjorie Stucky, MacCollege sophomore, is prince charming.

Dr. and Mrs. Bittinger, Dick, and Mary Ann spent the weekend May 2, 3, in the Big Creek Church in Cushing, Oklahoma.

Dr. Bittinger held a Family Life Institute for the young married couples of the church.

There were representatives from the Oklahoma City and the Guthrie churches also.

A basket dinner was held after the morning service. After dinner, Dr. Bittinger held a short session with the young people of the church.

These people were elected by ballot at chapel on Wednesday, April 29.

Quartet Returns From Tour Of Singing In 5 States

The ladies' quartet - Elsie Kindley, Florence Hale, Peggy Sargent, LaVon Widigren—and accompanied by Bob Mays, alumni secretary returned Monday, May 4 from a five-state deportation tour.

On April 23, Bob Mays and the other three members of the quartet met Elsie at Lincoln, Neb., after she had been to a Recreation Workcamp in Minnesota. They had dinner at "Squeak" Louthan's home. They sang a number for her father, Jack, who then arranged for a TV audition for the girls on May 4. If all goes well, they will appear on TV June 9 in Lincoln.

The quartet reports that the weather was "terrific." It rained everyday, quite cool, windy, snowy and sleet.

At Reading, Minn., the group met the parents of Bev Scheeter, Evelyn Williams, and Norman Long. On April 26, they gave the Sunday morning service at Reading.

At Cloquet, Minn., the quartet and Bob toured a "match" and clothespin factory—sorry, but the three available girls still remain unmatched!

The next stop was Barnum, Minn., where they sang for some of the shuns of that community.

The girls even got to test their cooking ability by having a cook-out meal in the North Dakota State Park—the menu of sliced carrots, onions, potatoes, hamburgers, rolls, pineapple and bananas was fixed in aluminum foil. It turned out "luscious," and even Bob was "studef."

The girls visited the "Head Waters" of the Mississippi River. It was so narrow across, that with a little practice, LaVon could easily jump across it!

For awhile, Bob thought the girls had rocks in their heads, until he joined in the gathering of rocks, too, for the benefit of the geology class.

The girls gave several high school programs besides their regular scheduled church programs. A trip was taken over to Poplar, Montana, to see Eunice Swank.

The group was the dinner guests of George Boyd's parents. It was at this time that Elsie had the misfortune of having to wade through mud in stocking feet—because she sank!

Peggy and LaVon were regular "oversleepers" and thus always delayed the group in getting to their destinations.

At Cando, N. D., the girls sang for the Dedication program for the new church, and then gave their own program on Sunday evening.

The quartet also sang at Octavia, Nebr., Kingsley, Ia., Minneapolis, Minn., Guthrie, Minn., Surre, N. D., and Carrington, N. D.

The group all seemed to enjoy the trip, but just imagine all the studying they have to catch up on now!

Florence Hale, LaVon Widigren, Peg Sargent, and Elsie Kindley have just returned from a tour in Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, North Dakota, and Montana. They were accompanied by Bob Mays, Alumni Secretary.

Be In Silence--

"There are ever so many languages in the world," Paul wrote to the Corinthians, "and none of them without meaning."

Yes, in this great big world, there are many kinds of voices, but not a one is without significance.

But all in all, we have too many things pressing upon our ears and our minds, and we can't seem to find time just to sit back and think in quietness.

Walter Bagehot said, "An inability to stay quiet is one of the most conspicuous failings of mankind."

If we would remember that there is a time to speak and a time to keep silent, we would be much better off.

We should not ponder over troubles, and worry about them, but instead, open our windows to all the good and beautiful things in this world.

The month of May is a never-giving-up pleader for a daily retreat from all the noise and hurry. "Slow up," says May, "wait a little." Look up at the night sky and be still—Sit beside a slow, moving brook and learn its song. Find the rhythm in the early morning wind.

"Take this quietness and rest, it is the gift of God, who set the pace of the seasons, and made the human heart to rest after every beat."

Take time out to listen and think.

Based Upon Thinking

Democracy is that way of life which produces the greatest amount of good to the greatest number of people. It gives importance to the individual in three ways: to himself, to his area, to the whole of mankind. This way of life should provide equality of opportunity to all, and allow each to reach his highest potential value.

This way of life that must come first to each individual then be incorporated in a government. The four freedoms are its foundation, but they must be based on a fifth freedom, that of being free and having freedom to think openly. It must be flexible enough to change the man and to use new beliefs and ideas as well as some much older.

Democracy can survive only as long as the individual is free to think and do as he sees fit, limited only by the effect of this upon the group—not the group upon him.

It is a way of peace; therefore there is little hope for this word in a study of war. Democracy is a way of life based upon thinking, upon knowledge, and upon understanding. Only in a combination of these three great qualities can it be important and effective.

Magazine Index Modernizes List Of Periodicals

The list of magazines indexed in the Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature has been revised by the H. W. Wilson Company, publisher of the index.

Students using the Guide for library research will find that some new magazines are among those indexed while some others have been discontinued from the Guide or transferred to another index.

Thirty-four periodicals not previously indexed will be included in the Guide. About a dozen publications will be dropped from the list, and a group of 15 titles will be transferred to the International Index.

This revision was the result of a survey of the subscribers made by the American Library Association. The purpose of the study was to see whether the subject fields of current general reference interest were adequately covered.

McPherson College Library currently subscribes to the following magazines to be included in the Guide as a result of the revision: American Artist, Country Gentleman, Mademoiselle, National Council Outlook, Practical Home Economics, and The Reporter.

Among the periodicals dropped from the index, the library has Current Biography, Education, Elementary School Journal, English Journal, Publishers' Weekly, and School Review.

Titles transferred to the International Index include: American Economic Review, American Historical Review, American Journal of Public Health, American Journal of Sociology, Journal of Home Economics, and Quarterly Journal of Economics.

A total of 118 periodicals will be indexed in the Readers' Guide beginning with volume 53, the current volume.

Subject areas which were weak or lacking previously and are broadened by the revision include: agriculture, gardening, the popular arts, child study, outdoor life, current events, business and politics, fashion, hobbies, vocations, minorities, religion, and travel.

More magazines of the broad, general, and popular character have been included while magazines of interest primarily to subject specialists are excluded.

Freshman Haye Class Picnic

The freshman class picnic was held at Coronado Heights near Lindsborg on Sunday, May 3.

The committee in charge planned for games and recreation before the picnic, which was held in the late afternoon. A vespers service was held after the picnic which brought the day's activities to a climax.

The planning committee for the picnic was composed of Arlene Merkey, Betty Lou Christensen, Loren Cline, Don Ullom, and Lewis McKellip.

Find Comfort In Silence And Beauty

By Kirby Page

Silence and beauty together make a powerful impact upon the human soul. Half animal and half spirit, man can respond to the brutal or the angelic in his nature. Comparative stimuli are decisive.

Covetousness, pride and lust are powerfully stimulated by conditions of modern life. Keeping up with the Joneses is utterly consuming for many a family. Seductive advertising is continuously inflaming desire for things and ever more things. The competitive struggle is producing weariness and sheer exhaustion of body and mind and soul.

Silence and beauty are urgently needed by this generation. Enter into the mood of John Muir: "Never again let me see the solemn, silent evening. Long, blue, spiky shadows crept out across the snow-field, while a rosy glow, at first scarce discernible, gradually deepened and suffused every mountain-top, flushing the glaciers and the harsh crags above them."

This was the alpenglow to me one of the most impressive of all the terrestrial manifestations of God. At the touch of this divine light, the mountains seemed to kindle to a rapt, religious consciousness, and stood hushed and waiting like devout worshippers. Just before the alpenglow began to fade, two crimson clouds came streaming across the summit like wings of flame, rendering the sublime scene yet more impressive.

"How glorious a greeting the sun gives the mountains! To behold this alone is worth the pains of any excursion a thousand times over. The highest peaks burned like islands in a sea of liquid shade. Then the lower peaks and spires caught the glow, and long lances of light, streaking through many a notch and pass, fell thick on the frozen meadows."

Take thyself to beautiful places, and be quiet!

Husbandry Class Takes Field Trip To Wichita

The Animal Husbandry class under Guy Hayes, Associate Professor of Rural Life, took a field trip Thursday afternoon, May 7, to Wichita. While in Wichita, the class carried an inspection tour to the Cudahy Meat Packing Plant, and saw some of the most modern means of meat packing.

From the Cudahy Plant, the class went over to the Exchange Building and the Commission House where they learned more about livestock marketing.

Next place visited was the Excel Packing plant. The class spent about an hour there seeing how meat was packed in the plant.

Most people have two views of a secret. Either it is not worth keeping, or it's too good to keep.

Thinking With The President

Did You Know?

1. Did you know that for what it costs during only three hours of flying one bomber across McPherson, such as we see every day, any one of you could finance his entire college education not only for one year but for all four years?

2. Did you know that for what it costs to build one of those bombers, which we see above us, we could build three hundred and sixty-six $15,000 homes in McPherson?

3. Did you know that for the cost of one of those bombers we could build about eighteen dormitories the size and cost of the girls' dormitory now under construction?

4. Did you know that for the cost of one of those bombers we could maintain the total operating budget of McPherson College for more than twenty years?

5. Did you know that for the cost of one of those bombers we could operate the entire general program for the Church of the Brethren, or any similar size church, for about four to five years?

6. Did you know that for one of those bombers we could operate the entire Church of the Brethren mission work in Africa for about

A useful definition of liberty is obtained only by seeking the principle of liberty in the main business of human life, that is to say, in the process by which men educate their responses and learn to control their environment.

7. Did you know that for the cost of maintaining our defense program in America alone for one year we could do so much good by way of college expansion, home building, elementary and high school expansion, the point program around the world, road building, and so on that we would have more money than we would know how to use?

The problems of solving some of the problems indicated above reside in the youth who are now becoming men and women. You are those youth. Keep on thinking!

Faculty Discuss Liberal Arts Program

"The Relation of the Sciences to the Liberal Arts College" was the topic of discussion in the faculty meeting May 1.

Prof. Wesley DeCoursey of the Chemistry Department and Prof. John Burkholder of the Biology Department presented information on the definition of a liberal arts program and the distribution of liberal arts courses as shown by a sampling from the senior class.

The topic will be discussed further at a later faculty meeting.

Bulldog Barks

Cupid is overworking himself. That's all there is to it. Last Saturday Angie Flora came upstairs with a ring on from Al Fishburne, and then that evening the students who didn't get to go on the Junior Senior Retreat had the announcement. Pat Ford and Al Zunkel. They had written a new book on "Campusology" and the sequel was "Wedding Bells in August." —they had red covers and were tacked to the bulletin boards.

Wilbur Baston has been engaged since the first of April to a girl from Kansas City, Mo.

And Martha McClung and John Robison left Saturday afternoon to head toward Arkansas to tie the final knot. They're back at Mac, now and plan to stay here until Rob leaves for the Army.

The Thursday before the Saturday of the wedding, Virginia Reist and Lucy Batson gave a shower for Marti at the Batson home here in town. Approximately eighteen students were there. They played several games, caught up on gossip and had refreshments of cakes and iced tea.

Wesley DeCoursey, one of our pros, went to the hospital last Saturday night and had an appendectomy.

Anne Krehbiel, Vernie Berger, Barbara Beery, and Donna Soby took the guest of honor, Anita Roggers who had a birthday to which for a chicken dinner, and then to Joyland where they rode the roller coaster bumper-cars or in other words worked up indigestion.

Speaking about birthdays, three of the Arnold Hall girls had theirs on the same day, so in the evening, 4th floor killed three birds with one stone and had a party for all of them. Angie Flora, Lu Carpenter, and Betty Jo Baker were the honorees. Chocolate coconut cookies and ginger ale were the refreshments. They sang songs and made a general uproar.

Kenny Brown's dad had an anniversary sale at his grocery store and gave away free baby orchids. He brought back an orchid for each one of the newly-engaged gals.

Marionna Wine went home to Kingman this last weekend to visit with her parents.

Bryce and Francis Miller visited with the Freddy Goennerers Saturday and Sunday in Zenda, Kansas.

Louis Knackstedt has her car back now and anyone who wants a free ride to town or anywhere should just ask her and she will gladly oblige.

The Junior - Senior Retreat sounded like it turned out to be a rather wet weekend for about ten of the students. They went to Lake Afton last Saturday and Sunday, and spent most of their time rowing in boats and falling out of them. Tom O'Dell and Dwight McSpadden got over - anxious to turn around and capsized.

Ford, Zunkel Plan August Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Ford of Atlanta, Okla., announce the engagement of their daughter, Pat, to Al Zunkel, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Zunkel of Denver, Colo.

Both are Maccollege seniors and will graduate this spring. Pat is a biology major and Al is a Philosophy and Religion major.

August wedding is being planned.

CBYF Cabinet Selects Officers

New members of the College CBYF cabinet are Donna Wagner, Maxine Hanley, Max Parmye, and Paul Coffman. These people were elected Sunday evening, May 3.

Each year four officers are elected for a CBYF Steering Committee. They may then divide their duties as they choose. This year the cabinet members were Velva Wagner, Shirley Cockopp, Dean Neher, and Bob Powell.

This Is No Way To Get Rich

Nobody in his right mind looks upon a college newspaper job as a way to wealth—nobody, that is, who has ever worked on a college newspaper.

Just to make sure, though, ACP last month sent out questionnaires to member papers asking for information on salaries paid to students in the highest editorial and business positions. The results, for the most part, prove that college journalism is a labor of love.

But if the salaries are uniformly low, and in some cases nonexistent, the systems of payment are legion. Every paper seems to have a different method of allotting funds.

Some staffs are paid by the week, others by the month and still others by the year. A few editors and business managers get their salaries by the issue, and there's one editor who gets paid only if he can keep his paper out of the red.

There appears to be no correlation between the wealth of a school and the salaries it pays its newspaper staff. Some of the most heavily endowed schools give their editors and business managers a pittance—or nothing at all. And then some of the more poorly blessed colleges go out of the way to make a college newspaper career financially pleasant.

As for the Spectator, the editor-in-chief of each semester, receives $\frac{1}{2}$ of the profit, and the business manager receives $\frac{1}{4}$, and the Student Council $\frac{1}{4}$.

Fahnestock Men Attend Kough Farewell Meal

Prof. Jack Kough, psychology professor and head resident at Fahnestock Hall, who is taking a leave of absence, gave farewell breakfasts to the Fahnestock men students this week.

Each morning beginning May 4, two residents were invited to breakfast in the Kough home. An added attraction was the opportunity to see Fahnestocks' newest arrival, Ann Kough, eat her breakfast of plumbum and a strange concoction that looked like chocolate milk, but defied scientific description.

Dick McGuire, Kenneth Wahl, Paul Heidebrecht, and Clive Sharpe received firsts in the Mile relay. Don Goodfellow, Dick McGuire, Gene Smith, and Bob Bechtel placed fifth in the sprint medley and Bill Smith received a sixth in the discus.

McPherson College teams of previous years hold several of the Doane College Relay records that are on the books. No significant records were broken this year because of a slow track due to rain.

Athletic Season Will End Within The Next Week

Within the next week, practically all of the spring sports will wind up the season. Friday May 15 the doubles team of Lloyd Hummer and Bill Frantz journeys to College of Emporia, where they will take part in the playoff to determine the champion doubles team of the Kansas conference.

Next week the baseball team will play to play the game with Tabor that was rained out on May the fifth. If the weather behaves it will be played on the local diamond May 12. Because as of this writing not all of the games have yet been played in the conference baseball schedule, the writing of this fact may be somewhat premature, but Coach Dick Warcham stated last Tuesday that if the Conference baseball title ended in a tie between McPherson and Colgate of Emporia, that there would be a playoff for the conference title.

Where and when this playoff will be held has not yet been decided, but several neutral sites have been mentioned as well as the possibility of holding it underneath the lights either here or at Emporia.

Of course the big event coming up as far as the track team is concerned, is the Conference track meet which will be held next weekend, May 15, at Emporia. Plans now call for a combined CIC and Kansas Conference meet to be held in the afternoon and evening. The two conferences will not be competing against each other but will be run off alternately. For those of you interested in track it will be a chance to see the best that the small colleges in the state have to offer.

High Standards

You have to know how to write if you want to graduate from Michigan State college. A recent ruling states that seniors can't graduate until their "writing technique is improved to a point where they can write legibly."

Currently 418 students are enrolled in a non-credit writing course, designed to improve literacy among future degree holders. MSC officials have said nothing thus far about any reading requirements.

Western Division Finals Are Won By Quakers

To Teachers Learn?

Teachers' colleges — sometimes called education's stepchildren — are again in the fire, according to the New York Times.

Students preparing to teach, say the Times, did worse on the draft deferment test than that other group. More than 400,000 students have taken this test.

Students in engineering, the physical sciences and mathematics were in top positions. Business and agriculture were just above education, at the bottom of the list.

On the verbal part of the test, where education students would be expected to shine, the engineers were still first, the teachers last.

Comments the Times, "The educational world has reason to be greatly disturbed at conclusion contained in the report. No matter how one looks at the data, the performance of the education group is conspicuously poor."
