Richards, Pole-Vaulting Olympic Winner To Speak At Booster Banquet May 22

By Wendell Lentz

Pole-vaulting parson, Bob Richards, one of the world's most versatile Olympic athletes, will be the main speaker at this year's Booster Banquet to be held May 22 in the City Auditorium.

Rev. Richards is a professor of philosophy at La Verne College, La Verne, Calif., operated by the Church of the Brethren. At present he is the world's number one pole-vaulter, having jumped 15 ft. 4 1/2 inches, having been exceeded only by world record-holder Cornelius Warmerdam's record jump of 15 ft. 8 1/2 inches set in 1942.

Lean, spring-muscled Richards visited Macampus last spring, when he gave a chapel speech and displayed his pole-vaulting technique by jumping 14 ft. In recent years, he has been undefeated in forty-six meets.

Before his conversion when he was sixteen years old, Richards was considered a tough city boy in his home town of Champaign, Ill. His family came from the "wrong side of the tracks," and it wasn't until he met a girl who wanted him "to be a Christian boy" did he experience his conversion.

Richards says that his athletic power comes from his faith in God that helps him surmount his goal, which is at present, to top sixteen feet in the pole-vault. His faith is humble, although some say that he is a bragger because of his cockiness, but he has always backed up his statements with his athletic achievements.

He wants to be a top athlete, and exercises his body with heavy workouts of three hours or more, four or five days a week. He also wants to be a top minister, and exercises his mind with heavy reading in religion, philosophy, sociology, psychology and anthropology. He delivers about 300 sermons and speeches a year.

Many other athletes note with dismay Richards' constant effervescence, which particularly is noticeable on the athletic field. After a particularly good jump, all will jump up and down, will shout, and will thank the Lord for the strength for his achievement.

He brings alive the little-appreciated sweat and toil and drama of his sport; how the top athletes punish themselves in going all out to win. "You learn in sports to set high goals for yourself," he declares.

In the 1948 Olympics, Richards was defeated, but in 1952, he was crowned Olympic champion pole-vaulter. As a freshman at Bridge-water College in 1944, he excelled in every event he tried. He was champion javelin thrower after a few tryouts, and he likewise displayed his prowess in running sprints.

Whatever Bob Richards does or wherever he goes, he always displays his humble faith in God, and ties in this faith in everything he does, whether on the athletic field or in his daily living.

Campers Have Enjoyable Weekend At Wichita

Of the thirty-eight students attending the CBYF workcamp near Wichita last weekend, many came back sunburned and tired, but all had a feeling that it had been a good weekend and that they had gained a lot from it.

The Salvation Army Camp, which is sponsored for needy families of Wichita, had been collecting dust all winter which was hurriedly whisked away by the work-campers who made a vigorous effort to make the camp presentable for summer visitors.

Many worked at cleaning the dining hall. They swept, mopped and waxed the floor, dusted tables and chairs, and washed windows till the room looked like new. Others cleaned barracks where the families will be staying this summer. Several girls attacked stacks of dirty dishes and left the cupboards clean. The fellows were scrubbing barracks, the recreation hall, wash houses, and cleaning and painting the swimming pool.

The program will be as follows: Mrs. Hale: Roses of Isphahan by Faure; Impatience by Schubert; I Wept Beloved by Hue; and Maids of Cadiz by Di Lieber. Mr. Allison: Forest Thy Green Arbor by Rosa; Victorious by Carissimi; Serenade by Schubert; and Open Thy Blue Eyes by Massenet. Mrs. Hale: My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice from "Sampson and Delilah" by Saint-Saens; and Held Within My Inmost Heart from "Rigoletto" by Verdi. Mr. Allison: Dawn With Her Rosy Mantle from "The Barber of Seville" by Rossini; and Like a Dream from "Martha" by Von Flotow.

The Ladies' Quartet will then sing, followed by Mrs. Hale singing A Memory by R. Gans; Spirit Flower by Campbell-Tipton; and Summertime by Gershwin. Mr. Allison will sing Where My Caravan Has Rested by H. Lohr; Go, Lovely Rose by Quilter; and As Ever I Saw by Peter Warlock.

The final part of the program will consist of excerpts from Act III of the opera, "Martha" by Von Flotow. Mrs. Hale will sing the part of "Martha." Anita Rogers will portray "Betsey Ann." The tenor role "Lionel" will be sung by Keith Allison. "Plunkett," the bass role, will be taken by Don West.

Church Council Meets At Newton

The Council Meeting of the Kansas Council of Churches met at the First Methodist Church in Newton, Kans., last Tuesday, May 12, to discuss plans for the churches' activities for the following year, and to hear reports on the past year's activities.

Attending this meeting from Macollege were Dr. and Mrs. James Elrod, Betty Lou Hersberger, Regional Youth Fieldworker, and Leon Neher.

The various committees and sub-committees presented their reports on the work done during the last year. Discussions were held later on how the various churches represented in the Council could work together, and especially on how the smaller churches could consolidate in into one strong church. Several projects were brought up and discussed.

All together, about 19 different protestant churches were represented at the meeting.

At the close of the meeting new officers were elected to the various committees for the coming year. Dr. James Elrod was elected to chairman of the Department of Christian Social Education and Action.

It's Been Fun!

Only a few more weeks of school! Didn't this school year go fast?

As we stop and think back over what all we have accomplished this year, we find it hard to really put it into a few words.

As for our academic studies, we have gained more insight, knowledge and understanding of things around us, and ways to help better our society.

We also have acquired new friends and become closer friends to those we already knew.

Each spring at the end of another college year, we pause for a minute and think of the inspirations and benefits of that year.

I believe we can be proud to attend a college that is so united—each student or teacher takes an interest in our welfare.

We can be proud of a fine athletic department, which was well-supported by the whole student body. I think we can be proud of the music of the choirs and band, and the concerts and operas given by them.

We can be proud of a school that recognizes each person, and gives him a chance to excel and develop his interests—be it debate, athletics, journalism, dramatics, music, and many others.

We should consider ourselves fortunate in attending a school where religion is stressed and put on a high basis. It is well emphasized by our chapel programs, the college church and our religious organizations, and the teachers who uphold these ideals.

Just a few more busy and crammed packed-full weeks of school! The conclusion to a happy and prosperous year at McCollege!—R. P.

We Too, Should Pray

In the record we read that Jesus often got up a great while before day and went out to pray, and that sometimes he spent the whole night in prayer. Why so early, why so long?

Surely the answer is, because he enjoyed God and because he needed God. From the moment of birth, he was surrounded by the spirit of worship and had partaken of prayer with his mother's milk. As a child, he had wandered across the hills, becoming saturated with the beauty of God's earth and feeding his soul upon its glories.

No certainty was so sure as the presence of God, and to converse with his Father was as natural as breathing. Through the years, Jesus came to know the life of God as no man before had ever experienced it. God was more real than any human friend and real companionship with the Father was the supreme joy of his life.

From these hours of glorious friendship, Jesus earned the right to speak of the joy which he longed to share with his disciples.

Jesus went early and stayed late also because he needed God; he required insight and vision, faith and courage, hope and fortitude. Compassion brought upon his shoulders the burdens of the people, and love caused him to weep over the city. No man was ever so sensitive to pain in others, so responsive to another's sorrow, so grieved, over human sinning.

But everywhere he found men encrusted in tradition, dominated by appetite and passion, separated from God and their fellows. Indifference and inertia and despair had settled as a pall of doom upon the people. How to awaken them, instruct them, nurture them, redeem them, how, how, how?

So he sought companionship with his Father in order to be guided and empowered. Thus he arose early to pray, and sometimes he prayed all night.—K. P.

Students Give Views

On Favorite Commentator

The Brescia Broadcast, Brescia College, Kentucky, asked 20 students recently who their favorite commentator was.

Fulton Lewis came up with eight votes and John T. Flynn with 6. The rest were scattered for Walter Winchell, Cecil Brown and Robert Hurley.

Said one student, "Fulton Lewis is my favorite commentator because of his fearless attacks on corrupt politicians."

Said another, "John T. Flynn. This man reports the news as it happens, and does not give implied interpretation."

How True!

The typographical error is a slippery thing, and sly. You can't tell until you are dizzy, but it somehow will get by till the forms are off the presses—it is strange how still it keeps!

It shrinks down into a corner, and it never stirs or peeps—that typographical error, too small for human eyes, till the ink is on the paper—then it grows to mountain size!

The boss he stares with horror, then he grabs his hair and groans; the copy reader drops his head upon his hands, and moans. The remainder of the issue may be clean as clean can be, but the typographical error is the only thing you see!

ACP Holds Conference In Ohio University

The Associated Collegiate Press is holding a Collegiate Editors Conference during the first three days of the Sixth Annual National Student Congress. The dates are August 24, 25, 26. The place is Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio.

The Conference will help editors with problems, and they will have their questions discussed and answered by experts in the various fields.

In the event, that President Dwight Eisenhower addresses the NSA Congress, a special interview by the collegiate press will be arranged. Panel and group discussions will be held as well as lectures and special interviews.

What Will Happen Next?

A modern Cinderella at the University of Colorado lost more than her glass slippers last week after her boy friend was jailed for trying to help his late date up the fire escape. Upon arriving at the scene, police caught the couple in their spotlight as they reached the top of the fire escape.

Instead of retreating down the ladder into the arms of the law, the boy sought refuge inside "the boarding house." Police searched the house and found the distraught Romeo hiding in a closet "guarded" by seven girls. His late date tried to explain, but the boy was quickly ushered to the jail. He was soon released on bond pending a police court hearing. (ACP)

Thinking With The President

McPherson College and Me

The other day a student came into my office and said, "I have been a student at McPherson College for some time now. School will be over and I will be back home. I was wondering what I can do for McPherson while I am home. I have enjoyed my stay here and profited from it and would like to do what I can."

This set me to thinking that there might be others who would feel similarly concerning McPherson. We have had a good time here. There may have been some unpleasantness but some of these would have occurred even if we had remained at home, or in any other college to which we might have gone. For there is nowhere in the world where everything is always easy and where no clouds come or rains fall.

Most of us, therefore, feel like doing something for McPherson if we can. What can we do? I offer the following suggestions.

1. Tell others about McPherson.

The Christian colleges are handicapped somewhat as compared with state colleges, for they receive less publicity and have less money with which to make themselves known. Their best publicity agents are their own students. If you are willing to tell others about McPherson College you will be rendering your school a great favor. The kind of people you will be talking to will likely be just the kind of people McPherson College would like to have among its students.

ent body. If each one of you could bring one more, the future of our school would be a growing future.

2. Do somebody some good.

As you go home from college, or go from college into any other community, people will think of you as a college student. If your life is exemplary and leans in the direction of service, your daily life will speak well for your college. Others will feel that if they can learn to do the things which you are doing they would like to go to the place where you learned to do them. Or, if they can have the ideals which you uphold they would like to go to the place where such ideals are upheld. Your exemplary living, your cheerfulness, friendliness, and service for others, may speak very clearly and enthusiastically for your college.

3. Come back.

If you have not graduated, come back and finish your work here. We would like to have you. Each year your appreciation for McPherson and your valuations to McPherson should grow. If you have finished, come back anyhow. Come back for Homecomings, for Regional Conference, for Commencements, for dedications of new buildings; come back on every occasion you have an opportunity. We like to see you here. We want to grow and we want you to be a part of our growth.

In these ways, and in other ways of which you will think, you can help your college.—D. W. B.

The College Student Has Right To Think

The purpose of a college education is to teach students how to think, not what to think.

Education should not equip one with a set of ready-made conclusions, but should equip one with the skill to collect evidence, organize it and evaluate it for himself, to reach sound conclusions.

To interpret education as teaching the student what to think not only violates the student's right as a free human being to think for himself, it also assumes that the teacher already has the final truth.

Hence, within the classroom situation, students, teachers, and the public outside the classroom must maintain a careful distinction between advocating support for a position and examining the facts about a position.

This means that the student must be confronted in books and by the teacher with the total range of data and ideas which must be coped with in reaching conclusion.

Perhaps nowhere in the college curriculum is this distinction between propaganda and informing more crucial than in religion and philosophy, because the concepts dealt with in these courses reach to the fundamental articles of faith upon which individuals and nations build their lives.

There is no realm of human activity where it is more dangerous to be ignorant or prejudiced. We must not let fear of free minds condemn our students to the sin of ignorance. (By Dr. Emerson Schilder, Dept. of Religious Education, Iowa State University.)

Walk With God

Mystery engulfs us. Our knowledge is but a tiny island surrounded by the illimitable seas of ignorance. We are infants crying incoherently in the night, and when we begin to talk we babble words which have little meaning for us. We are as the children of a scientist listening to a conversation about the intricacies of higher mathematics.

Truly, we are enveloped in mystery. We are handicapped by our limitations as animals, but we are endowed with the possibilities of children of God and it does not appear what we shall be. By nature, we are equipped for life in the invisible world of the spirit. We can learn progressively to be at home in the world of music and art, at home in the realm of great literature, at home in the orderly domain of science, at home in the experience of fellowship with friends, at home in the ministry of living kindness, at home in the life of prayer with God.

Growth is the law of life, all living things grow. It is possible for us to move slowly by day toward maturity. The way we use our time is decisive, hours spent in one way are hours taken away from something else. It is the glory of our Lord that he concentrated upon the will of God in the service of God, day by day, and last and continuously he paid attention to God, early in the morning and late at night and throughout the day. Deeper than anyone else, he penetrated into the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven. In time with the infinite, we may become day by day. Through inattentiveness of attention, we may hear inaudible sounds. Through absorption in the things of the spirit, we may see the invisible. Through the disciplines of prayer and fellowship we may travel beyond the limits of mere animal life and walk with God. K. P.

The Kansas weather held good for the May Day festivities. Last Thursday and Friday were the vacation days and it looked like the student body took advantage of them. The M Club members had a stand set up in the carnival grounds and were selling poor, sloppy joes, hot dogs, coffee, candy bars, and gum. They came out on the top side, too.

Some of the boys tried their luck to win a large tiger-skin puppy dog, or a panda bear. Some won, others definitely lost. A number of them got sick on rides too.

Princess Charming this year was Gale Stucky, son of Mrs. Marjorie Stucky who is going to school here and plans on teaching next year.

Joan McRoberts was the guest of Marlona Wine this past weekend at her home in Kingman, Kansas. They spent part of Saturday in Hutch shopping, and then went on to Kingman, where they passed their time by visiting, resting, and playing bridge.

Al Fishburn went with Angie Flora to her home in Quinter, Kansas, and from there they went to Burlington, Colorado to visit her sister. Al is going to school acquainted with his future in-laws.

A group of couples spent last Sunday at Lake Marion. Herb Edmonds, Elsa Kurtz, Adrian Saylor, Elaine Burkholder, the Bob Wilsons, and the Dick Kings, were the ones who went to enjoy the day by swimming in the lake and having two picnics. One was breakfast and the other was supper. Burkholders own a cabin there and they spent some of the time playing games and just enjoying life in general.

Leon Albert, Lois Silanette, Bill Gripe, Ruth Grossnickle, Max Parnley, Evelyn Williams, Don Ullom, and Virginia Bowers went to Joyland in Wichita last weekend. They were cashing in on the picnic the guys had bought from the gals at the WSSF auction. They took their picnic things to the grounds there and afterwards, they went on the roller-coaster six times. Four of them ended up with stomach trouble.

Metzlers were the host and hostess to a number of the students from Eldora, Iowa. Previously, Dr. Metzler has been the preacher there for two summers and he decided to get the group together. Don and Donna Wayson, Lee Hoyle, Virginia Reist, Glendon Button, Don Butler, Manly Draper, and Galen Slifer were the ones who made up the group for a buffet luncheon last Monday.

Betty Brammell and Dwight McSpadden went with Don Hoch and Rita Raleigh, who goes to K-State, to Manhattan last Sunday. They also went to Don's home town, Dwight, Kansas for graduation ceremonies because his younger brother was graduating. Then, in the afternoon, they went to Manhattan and toured the town.

The Kline Hall girls are going to have a hay ride on the 24th of May. Each one is inviting a guest. They plan to go to Black Canyon.

Election returns are coming in fast and furious these past few days. The sophomore class has elected Kenny Brown for president; Al Blocher, vice-president; Kathy Russell for secretary; and Ruth Strickler for treasurer. Don Goodfellow was voted to take Ed Franck's place for student council representative, since Ed has been elected as student body secretary-treasurer.

Last Friday and Saturday, thirty-nine students from McPherson College spent their time in a Salvation Army Camp eight miles on the north side of Wichita. They cleaned out the swimming pool and painted it. They polished all the cabins and washed the windows. They got their fill of washing dishes, too, because they washed all the dishes in the camps.

Friday night, Jack Kough gave an inspiring talk at the campfire. They worked all day Saturday until 5 o'clock. This was a work camp for them to get ready for the underprivileged children and their mothers. The Salvation Army is going to pay for one week of summer vacation for these people.

Last night, Thursday at the home of Rowena Wilson, she and Maxine Hanley were the hostesses to a shower for June Blough, who will be married to Jake Shaeffer, here May 23. June received many nice gifts. The hostesses served a lunch. Jean Slauhaugh, Don Greene, and Bob Wise spent Saturday in Topeka, at Betty Francis' home. They caught up on good old home-cooking.

Last Tuesday evening, was the M Club Banquet. The formally dressed couples entered the blue room of the Warren Hotel, which had tables decorated with large M in the middle and M Club paddles at the various places. At the end of the room, hung the traditional M Club blanket.

Leon Albert gave his five interludes of "I've Got Rhythm." The guest speaker was "Dutch" Lomborg, the first full-time coach Macollege ever had. Sid Smith, our new coach was also introduced, and was given a warm round of applause. Smith proves that Macollege is behind him.

CBYF Evaluates Workcamp

An evaluation of work camp was held at CBYF Sunday evening, May 10. The work camp was held at a Salvation Army camp near Wichita on Friday afternoon and Saturday, May 8 and 9.

The general opinion of those who attended the camp was that it was a definite success. Many felt that the day and night which they gave of their time to help others was one of the most inspiring events of their lifetime.

Other favorable comments concerning the work camp were: it was well organized; all members of the group worked together; fellowship was formed; it was a worthwhile project; and the work was inspiring.

A few points were brought up as to improvements which might have been made. It was suggested that it would have been better if evaluation had been held while the group was still at camp; if all people had been required to stay at the camp the entire time; if there had been planned recreation; and if more people had been there.

Quartet Has Busy Summer Scheduled For Them

The Ladies' Quartet, which just completed a five-state tour, will be on the road again this summer. All plans are not definite, as yet, but the tentative schedule will be something like this:

For the first two weeks in June, the quartet will tour in Northern Missouri, part of middle Iowa, all churches in Nebraska, and parts of Colorado. Dick Wareham will be with the girls the first week, and Bob Mays will probably be with them the second week.

From June 17 to the 21, the quartet, accompanied by Bob Mays will be at the Annual Conference in Colorado. Following the Conference, they will complete their tour in Colorado.

The group will be home for a few days, and then they will start out again and go to some churches in Southern Missouri.

From there, they will travel through Arkansas to Louisiana and will be in the Louisiana and Texas camp at Lake Arthur, which is by the ocean, July 1-5. Dick Wareham will probably accompany the girls on this trip.

The next stop will probably be at the Nocona Church in Texas. They will come back to McPherson, and from there they will go up to North Dakota to the District Meeting and Youth Camp, July 9-17.

They will return to McPherson, where Dr. D. W. Bittinger will accompany them to the Missouri Youth Camp, July 19-25.

From August 3-9, they will be in the Kansas Youth Camp, and from August 10-15, S. M. Dell, will go with the quartet to the Iowa Youth Camp.

40 Students Will Work In Oregon Pea Canneries For The Summer

Nearly forty Macollege students have signed up for summer work in Oregon, with either the Utah Canning Co., at Milton-Freewater, or the Pendleton Canning and Frozen Foods Co., at Pendleton. The season will start June 5.

The two canning companies are headed by Edward Martin, who recently visited Macampus to sign up interested students. This is the third year that McPherson College students have worked in these canneries.

Four Macollege married couples will work in Oregon. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Dick King and Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Coffman will work at Milton-Freewater and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Obi will work at Pendleton. Mrs. Obi is expected to arrive in the United States from Nigeria this week.

Miss Della Lehman, Macollege literature teacher, will work at Milton-Freewater this summer. Last year Miss Lehman toured Europe on a motor-bike.

Men students working at Milton-Freewater will be stacking boxes of canned peas on a piece-work basis. The women will be working on canning machines. Small

Mexico Has Difficulties
The new University of Mexico, which was dedicated last year, is still empty and unused; there isn't enough money to transport materials from the old school to the new.

Other Mexican universities are reported to be having the same difficulties, with the lack of money undermining a number of research projects. Professors at the University of Yucatan haven't been paid for months.

India Student Visits Murrey's; Will Study Farm

Malchand Bhadravala recently came to the United States from India. He is visiting in the home of Chester Murrey of Conway, Kansas. Chester is Eula Mae Murrey's father.

Malchand was accompanied to the United States by 29 young men like himself. Five of the thirty to arrive are in homes in Kansas. They will be in Kansas for three months, and then they will spend three months in Iowa.

They were brought over on the International Farm Youth Exchange Program, and sponsored by the Extension. The purpose of their visit is to study the American farm, and they are to learn by doing.

Of the five young men that came to Kansas, three are located in McPherson County, one in Marion County, and one in Rice county.

Woodworking Lab Is Scene Of Boat-Building, Tables

As one walks into the woodworking lab room of the Industrial Arts Building, the first thing that you see is a huge motor boat. Upon inquiring, I found that this is a woodworking project. Close inspection finds Eddie Hall and Gene Smith working on the boat. When the boat is finished, Eddie and Gene will be co-owners. They started their project between the first and the second semester, and Eddie says that it is a bigger project than they thought it would be.

The boat is made from a Chris Craft Kit, and has a 95 horse power Ford 6 cylinder motor - in it. It is 16 feet 10 and 3/4 inches long and 6 feet wide. When the boat is finished, they plan to take it to Kanopolis. They hope to have it finished by the time school is out. The boat has 2 gears, reverse and forward. It will go 35-40 miles an hour and it will hold 6-8 people.

Some of the other woodworking projects are: a mahogany table and a modernistic end table made by Bob Peel, and an end table in which the finish is many different colors by Jack Mason. These end tables were designed by the boys themselves. Jack Harter is making a radio phonograph combination cabinet, Don Thralls, a built in cabinet for his sister, and Glendon Button is making a desk.

All are working hard to have their projects finished by the end of the semester.—B. H.

Thoughts For The Wise
If fear is cultivated it will become stronger. If faith is cultivated it will achieve the mastery. We have a right to believe that faith is the stronger emotion because it is positive whereas fear is negative.—Rev. John Paul Jones.

It takes a lot of time to get experience, and once you have it you ought to go on using it. Benjamin M. Dugger.

Fort Hays Takes Triangular Meet

The Fort Hays State Tigers lived up to expectations last Friday, May 8, when they swept the triangular track meet held here, by winning 13 of the 15 firsts and piling up a total of 89 points. McPherson was second with 33 points, and Bethel finished third with 12. The Bulldogs picked up two firsts and the Bethel Graymaroons failed to win a single first.

McPherson's two firsts were won by relative newcomers to the field of track for McPherson. Tommy O'Dell won first in the broad jump, leaping 20 feet and 7 inches. In this the first time that he had participated in a McPherson College track meet. The other first was won by freshman, Bill Smith with a win in the discus event. To win this event he threw the platter better than 125 feet.

McPherson's Bob Bechtel went down to defeat for the first time this year, and it happened in both the mile and two mile. The man that turned this trick was Alan Feist, from Fort Hays. Both races were battles the whole way, but Bob just was not able to keep up with the kick that Feist had on the sun lap.

For those of you that are interested in good track, McPherson's next track meet is the conference meet being held this afternoon and evening on Emporia State's track field. The Kansas and CIC conference will hold their meets simultaneously with the event being run alternately. The preliminaries will be held in the afternoon and the finals in the evening. Three Seniors Play Last Season For Bulldogs

Three seniors on the Bulldog tennis team playing their last year are Bill Frantz, Lloyd Hummer, and Don West.

These three boys have been the mainstay for the tennis team for the last two years. Bill Frantz and Lloyd Hummer went to the final round of the western division doubles held May 2, defeating competitors from Friends U., and Bethany College, only to be defeated by Friends in the finals.

Don West hails from Wiley, Colo. He is majoring in philosophy. Lloyd Hummer comes from Booker, Texas. He was recently accepted by the Oklahoma City University Medical School. Bill Frantz comes from McPherson.

Other members of the tennis team are Ralph Royer and Jim Berglund. The team rounded out a fairly successful season.

Bittinger, Quartet Tell Story Of Bells

The Chapel program for Monday, May 11, was in charge of Mrs. D. W. Bittinger. With the assistance of Miss Anne Krehbiel at the piano and the Ladies' Quartet, Mrs. Bittinger told a story of bells.

A display of bells was on a table at the front of the chapel, and in the story she included wedding bells, dinner bells, rising bells, and others.

College Coaches Meet At Emporia

Coaches of the colleges competing in the Kansas Conference will meet today, May 15, at Emporia, Kan., to discuss plans of the Conference Track Meet.

Bulldogs Defeat Friends U., 19-3

The McPherson College Bulldogs put together 18 hits and two errors by Friends to score 19 runs in a runaway game at Wichita last Saturday, May 9, that saw the Bulldogs defeat Friends University by the score of 19-3.

This was the sixth conference victory against only one defeat for Coach Dick Wareham's baseball team.

McPherson pushed across four runs in the opening inning, two in the fourth, four more in the fifth, three in the sixth and six in a big ninth inning spree.

Wayne Blickenstaff was McPherson's winning pitcher, although he only hurled five innings. When he left the mound, the Bulldogs were ahead 16-2. In five innings Blickenstaff gave up only two hits, two runs, walked one and struck out five.

Replacing Blickenstaff was Glenn Gayer, who hurled the remainder of the game, while Wayne finished the game at short stop. Gayer gave up six hits, one run, walked one, and struck out two.

Dwight McSpadden and Wayne Blickenstaff each hit home runs for McPherson. McSpadden with one on and Blickenstaff with two on. Eddie Ball got four hits in six times at bat.

Dick Wareham cleaned the bench during the game as he used all 15 players available for the game. At one time during the game, he had a pitcher playing second base, one in the outfield, and a catcher playing first. The box score:

Five Students Will Participate In Youth Caravan

Esther Merkey, LaVerne Burger, Ruth Strickler, and Dick and Carole King will be among the twenty Church of the Brethren youth who will participate in an Abundant Life Caravan July 15 to September 6, 1953.

The Caravanners will have nine days of training, probably at New Windsor. They will then go out in teams of two. Each team will go to one church and live and work there for six weeks. The team will visit, take a church census, guide youth into the Christian life, and help in many other ways.

Campfire Will End SCA Meetings

A discussion was led by Dr. Metzler at SCA Thursday evening, May 14. The topic was "How Can We Best Pray to God?"

Next Thursday evening, a campfire will be held. This will be the last SCA meeting of this school year.

Brown U. Has An Idea

A new idea is in the wind at Brown University and if it catches on there may yet be hope that this country will some day have a true "educational" program.

Calling college "not only dull, but often spurious," Henry W. Winston, president, announced an experimental curriculum for freshman and sophomores to be launched next fall.

Students will have no regular lectures and will not use text books. They will spend their time "tracking down ideas. Most text books are hardly worth reading. If they are not barren of ideas, they are impoverished," President Winston said.

The experiment, which is to place emphasis on discussion will be open only to volunteers from the top half of the freshman and sophomore classes.
