E-town To Select Teachers For West African Schools

Elizabethtown College, under a grant from the Hershey Chocolate Corporation, will select a limited number of applicants for teaching posts in secondary schools of Ghana and Nigeria, West Africa.

This grant is an expression of interest in bettering relations between the people of Africa and the United States through an educational program.

Elizabethtown College will select teachers for the Teachers-for-West-Africa-Program from the seniors and alumni of colleges and universities of high academic standing.

Applicants must have a degree in one of the following subjects: biology, physics, chemistry, mathematics, English, French, industrial arts, business education or business administration.

Each teacher selected will enter into a contract with the employing African government, political subdivision, Ministry of Education, or individual school; salary and terms of service will be specified therein.

Completed application forms must be submitted to the Teachers-for-West-Africa-Program, 348 College Avenue, Elizabethtown, Pa., no later than April 15, 1963.

Dr. James Berkebile, director of the Teachers for West Africa Program, will be on our campus early in the spring for interviewing purposes.

Additional information about the program may be obtained from the Placement Bureau.

Dean Will Attend Two Meetings In Atlantic City

Dr. Wayne F. Geisert, dean of the college, will represent McPherson College at the Annual meeting of the American Association of Colleges in Atlantic City, N. J., Jan. 14 through Jan. 18.

At this meeting will be representatives of most of the colleges and universities in the United States.

During the same week, Dr. Geisert will also represent McPherson at the annual meeting of the Commission of Higher Education of the Church of the Brethren.

Also being held at Atlantic City, this meeting includes all the Brethren colleges.

Council Will Publicize Decisions In Spectator

The Student Council in its regular meeting, December 12, decided to publicize its proceedings to a greater extent. It was felt that this could best be done by the periodic placing of Student Council decision and actions in the Spectator.

Exchange chapel programs have been set up by the Student Council with Sterling College and Kansas Wesleyan University. Sterling College will be here on Friday, Feb. 22, and Kansas Wesleyan will present their program on Friday, March 1.

A McPherson College group or groups will present programs at Sterling on Wednesday, Feb. 13, and at Kansas Wesleyan on Friday, March 15.

The Student Council had decided to send the Spectator to the other Student Councils in the conference. This was discussed at the recent KCSA meeting. It is hoped that the communication between schools can be broadened in this way.

Those papers received by our Student Council will be placed in the Student Union so the whole student body may have a chance to see them.

The MCA presented plans for a paperback book sale in the spring. The Council voted to permit and encourage the MCA to go ahead with plans for this book sale.

Group Selects Brooks To Present Monograph

William Brooks, associate professor of speech and debate, has been selected as one of five college speech instructors to present a paper at a national speech meeting in December.

Professor Brooks will present his paper during the convention of the Speech Association of America Dec. 27-30 at Cleveland, Ohio.

An afternoon session, entitled "Research Theory and Practice of Speech," will feature five papers concerned with experimental research in speech.

Professor Brooks will appear with speech professors from Cornell University, the University of Maryland, and Northwestern University.

His paper is based on an experimental study he made of two designs for measuring change of attitude in an audience. The title of the paper is "An Experimental Study of the Offset Before-After Design As Compared to the Traditional Pretest-Posttest Design as Used in the Measurement of Attitudes."

Professor Brooks is in his second year as a member of the McPherson College faculty. Prior to coming to McPherson, he taught seven years at Garden City, Kans., Junior College. Currently he is secretary-treasurer of the Kansas Speech Association.

He is a past president of Phi Rho Pi and has directed the National Junior College Debate and Forensic Tournament.

Professor Brooks is a graduate of Southwestern College in Kansas and has served as president of the Southwestern Kansas Alumni Association. In addition to his undergraduate degree, Brooks holds the master's degree from the University of Colorado.

Players Will Present
'Papa Is All' Next March
"Papa Is All," a comedy about the Pennsylvania Dutch, will be presented March 8th and 9th, 1963.

Having finished the production of "The Miracle Worker," the McPherson College Players are working on a second production.

Drunk Santa Visits Campus In 'The Night Of The Meek'

A drunk Santa Claus is rare indeed, but that's exactly who visited McPherson College this morning as "The Night of the Meek" was presented in assembly.

The play, directed by Mike Begole, concerned a drunk, department store Santa Claus who found a magic trash bag which gave out the exact Christmas presents people wanted.

Santa encountered policemen, but they could not hold him since all they could find was trash.

All ended well however, when Santa and his elf took a sleigh ride to the North Pole to prepare for the next year.

David Ankenman starred as the bartender and Henry Corwin was played by Edwin Mohler. Portraying Mr. Dundee was Kenneth Smucker. Judy Knelson played 'Miss Wilsie, and Willie was enacted by Scott Heitschmidt.

Willie's mother was Sue Stauffer and Alex was played by Jim Weaver. Mike Begole took on the role of Johnny and Sammy was portrayed by Bob Slater.

Janette McBride was Sister Florence and Officer Flaherty was played by John Harrison. The elf was Dell Ann Larsen.

The play was first presented in December of 1960 on the "Twilight Zone." Art Carney played the leading role.

The Players Club is presenting the play at the request of the Chapel Committee.

In commenting on the play, Mike Begole stated, "The Student Body can probably consider this as an example of things to come in chapel."

Council Appoints Anders To Campus Editor Position

David Anders, junior from McPherson, has been chosen by the Board of Publications and the Student Council of MacCollege to become the campus editor of the Spectator next semester.

David is the son of Mrs. Mary Ann Anders. He was graduated from McPherson High School in 1960.

At present, he is majoring in history at MacCollege, and plans to teach in secondary schools, or possibly at the college level. In June, David is planning to marry Myrtle Dokken, sophomore at Central College, McPherson.

David has played cornet in the MacCollege band, is a reporter for the Spectator, and is a member of SNEA. His pet peeve is student apathy on McPherson College campus.

As Campus Editor, David will be responsible for the assigning of stories to reporters, and making certain they are turned in.

Weyland Beeghly, sophomore from Pierson, Iowa, will be editor-in-chief of the Spectator next semester. Muriel Gibson, junior from Keota, Iowa, is retiring as editor-in-chief.

David Anders

Wilson Will Address 1963 Youth Conference

The Rev. Thomas Wilson, associate pastor of the First Church of the Brethren in Chicago, Ill., is to be the guest speaker for the Brethren Regional Youth Conference which will be held on the McPherson College campus March 7-10, 1963.

Theme of the conference is "He Who Loses His Life For My Sake." The Regional Youth Executive Committee is working on the program details which will be released later.

In an earlier meeting, the Student Council recommended that a jukebox not be placed in the Student Union. The Council felt that it did not have the power to say yes or no on the issue, but rather, had only the power to make a recommendation. It was felt that in the best interests of the student body, we should recommend that a jukebox not be placed in the Student Union.

The Student Council wants to take this opportunity to thank all those who helped to make the Bloodmobile visit a success. A special thanks should go to the Men's and Women's Councils who helped organize this project.

'62 Filled With Conflict, Crises; Cuba Tension Top News Story

Conflict was the keynote again in 1962—conflict between democracy and totalitarianism, between colonialism and nationalism, between the white race and the Negro.

The Review of 1962, as prepared for the University Daily Kansas named the Cuban Crises as the top story, followed by the University of Mississippi incident, India, and Red China's undeclared border war, the European Common Market, and fifth, the space race and the astronauts.

1962 tells the stories of strife and tension. Sometimes weapons were missiles and bombers, sometimes sticks and stones.

Headlines also flashed news of elections, telstar, the Russia-Red China rift, the Ecumenical Council and the Berlin Push.

Repercussions of conflict, continued political upheaval, struggle and constant tension in every quarter of the globe provided 1962 with a portrait of world fraught with danger and crises.

It seems the year posed more questions than were answered. Was the Russian retreat from Cuba really a sign of possible peaceful co-existence? Will it ever be possible to have complete academic freedom without riots, murders?

The answers to these questions may come today, tomorrow, or in a decade. But it was 1962 in which these headlines had their origin and the intense tension was created. meg

Diner Expresses Appreciation For Friday's Dinner

Dear Editor,
I wish to offer appreciation and thanks to Mr. Clink and the Foods Committee for the fine dinner and service which they gave us last Friday.

The evening's meal and service was surely worth the trouble taken in getting ready for it.

Dedication, Love Mark True Christmas Spirit

By Jay D. Cannon

As the Christmas vacation approaches, much excitement and great anticipation are mounting on the Macollege Campus.

Students as well as faculty members are making many plans for this vacation.

In the hustling of campus life, one can see the seriousness of the Christmas spirit glowing in the eyes of many students. Christmas, to the young and old alike, is more than the hustling of people buying their late Christmas gifts or the gayly lighted stores of the city.

The true message of Christmas can be found flowing in the melody of a familiar Christmas carol, in a church service, or in the joy which comes from sharing with others.

In giving gifts and sharing our love with others, we receive joy and a sense of accomplishing a good deed. When we give, we give a part of ourself in love to the recipient. Our heavenly Father had a similar feeling about 2000 years ago when He gave to the world His Son.

God expressed His love to all mankind in the life and teachings of His Son, Jesus Christ. Jesus' birth brought joy, not only to His own home, but to all homes where the Christ child was accepted.

Jesus' death and resurrection are definite and established facts which prove to the world that

But if you dig Jo Bonnier's beard or Maston Gregory's glasses you may go ahead. Don't say you weren't warned.

Sports car races are, according to Road and Track figures, attended by more people than any other international sport, making auto races the world's largest spectator sport. Also, according to the same source, this is an excellent release for pent up emotions and frustrations. How about that. Unfortunately, our college does not have a very active Grand Prix racing team.

It is surprising that the public relations department is not pushing this thing. Grand Prix teams get a tremendous press, and a good press is eagerly sought by public relations.

Unfortunately vacations start this afternoon and "thus the native hue of resolution is sicklied o'er with the pale cast of thought and enterprises of great pitch and moment . . . their currents turn awry, and loose the name of action."

Enough of this, perhaps all that should be said is "Season's Greetings." By mentioning neither Christmas nor Hanukkah a potential problem is solved by simply refusing to recognize it.

Reader Attacks Inconsistency In Pacifist Behavior

Dear Editor,

I overheard a conversation the other day that went something like this, "Man, did you see the picture in the — magazine?" "Which one?" "The one with the towel partly around her."

"That's one towel too many." "I know that I'm not perfect and maybe I do not have a right to sound off like this, but here is my two-bits worth."

Both fellows involved in the conversation are pacifists and registered as CO's for religious purposes. Still they talk like this and feel no guilt about it.

If one were to ask them why they are pacifists, as I did, the reply would be that they base their pacifism on the Sermon on the Mount.

This is well and good, but have they read the rest of the Sermon on the Mount? Jesus also said that he who lusts after a woman in his mind has already committed adultery. This is in the Sermon on the Mount also. Most pacifists believe that they are following the commands of Jesus when they register, as CO's.

So many people are willing to yield part of their lives to Christ when they refuse to take up arms, but they are not willing to follow the rest of the Sermon on the Mount and make Christ the Lord of every part of their life.

I realize that Christians who are not pacifists are also hypocritical in many of the things they do and say, and I include myself among them.

Not all pacifists are like this. I have known several who lead, it seems to me, almost faultless lives. These people are upholding the teachings of Christ in all that they do.

Some pacifists register as CO's, serve their two years and forget about upholding Christ in the other areas of their lives.

They don't have the guts to live the teachings of Jesus in front of their fellow men, but yet they'll tell the government they can't take up arms for religious reasons and act like they're really suffering because of it.

Something is inconsistent here. Christians are supposed to be either hot or cold. It looks to me like we have a lot of nambypamby luke warm Christians(?) running around the campus of McPherson College.

This applies to both pacifists and nonpacifists, but the pacifists are supposed to be examples to us wayward Christians who are not pacifists.

If pacifists are so all fired up about following the teachings of Jesus, they'd better start making him the Lord of every part of their life.

Sincerely Yours,
A Non-Brethren

One Million Destitute Refugees Need Food, Blankets In Algeria

Do you care? Will you help? Will they be warm because you cared?

Do you care that there are over one million refugees in Algeria facing hunger and cold in that war-devastated country?

If you care, you can help.

Blankets and food for refugees in Algeria are being collected by the Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP) of Church World Service to meet a plea for 650,000 blankets and emergency food to help care for these refugees.

The Kansas goal is 50,000 blankets. Churches of McPherson County are working with the McPherson County CROP Committee in meeting this urgent appeal for donations of blankets and money.

The collection center for the McPherson County Church World Service is in the southeast basement room of the McPherson Church of the Brethren. Used or new blankets, labeled "Blankets for CROP" with 25 cents each in an envelope pinned to them may be taken to the collection center.

Clifford Dresher, a member of the state clothing committee of Church World Service and instructor in Algebra at McPherson College, reports that because blankets are so badly needed they should be sent to a material aids collection center immediately and not be kept with other clothing for the January collection by the Church World Service truck. Because blankets can be purchased at a reduced cost by the Church World Service, contribution for blankets can be sent to Mr. Dresher, McPherson; to Paul Sargent, CROP treasurer, People's State Bank, McPherson; or to Virgil Fieckinger, CROP chairman, Immanuel.

Clothing is also desperately needed for thousands and thousands of people, not only in Algeria, but in Europe, the Middle East, Asia, Africa, and Latin America. They suffer for lack of clothing, the clothing that you can give.

Will you help?

Fifteen million pounds are needed now.

These people are desperately needy, they are homeless refugees, torn and pushed from their only homes by cruel wars, floods and famines, they are the old, the ill, the jobless who can find no work, they are needy widows, babies, and orphaned boys and girls.

They want to stand on their own feet and care for their dependents, and would if they could. There are boys and girls and young men and women who want to train for better jobs. But, they are hindered and handicapped by the few rags they wear.

And at night, only a fortunate few have blankets to ward off the creeping chill of the night.

Do you care?

From Americans like you must come almost all the clothing these people can hope to receive.

What can be used?

By men and teen-aged boys, suits, overcoats, trousers, overalls, work shoes, socks, mufflers, caps, and gloves.

By women and teen-aged girls, dresses, blouses, shirts, sweaters, coats, stockings, underwear, gloves, and scarves.

By children and infants—every kind of children's and infant's clothing and layettes.

For refugee families—blankets, bed linens, cloth remnants for sewing and sewing kits. Special opportunities - yard goods and yarn are needed to help refugees find self-sufficiency. Soap, also, is an urgent item in many needy areas overseas.

Men's and boys' shoes are especially needed, and children's shoes of all sizes. Women's shoes in size five and up can be used, but do not send open toed shoes, high heels or backless shoes. Tie all shoes together in pairs.

Articles which cannot be used are hats, neckties, bathing suits, formal garments, pillows and mattresses.

Students, will you help?

You could send that good overcoat with worn cuffs, or that warm suit you have outgrown. How about that dress stuffed in the back of the closet because it is no longer in season, or those light summer clothes with colors dimmed by washing?

If at all possible, include eight cents a pound, for processing the clothes, in a separate envelope.

Mac Will Seek Revenge Jan. 9

The McPherson Bulldogs will open competition after the Christmas vacation by playing Bethany at Lindsborg, Jan. 9. The Bulldogs will return home Jan. 12 to engage the Friends Falcons and Jan. 15 will play a non-league game against Tabor at Hillsboro.

Bethany College was the preseason pick by most to win the conference title, but the Swedes have lost two games already in the young season. Bethany will attempt to right itself in the league race in this game against McPherson.

Friends is presently in last place in the Kansas Conference having lost all their league encounters. The Falcons are also winless in non-league play.

Tabor does not play in the Kansas Conference but plays as an independent around the state. Tabor usually fields a strong team and always provides top competition.

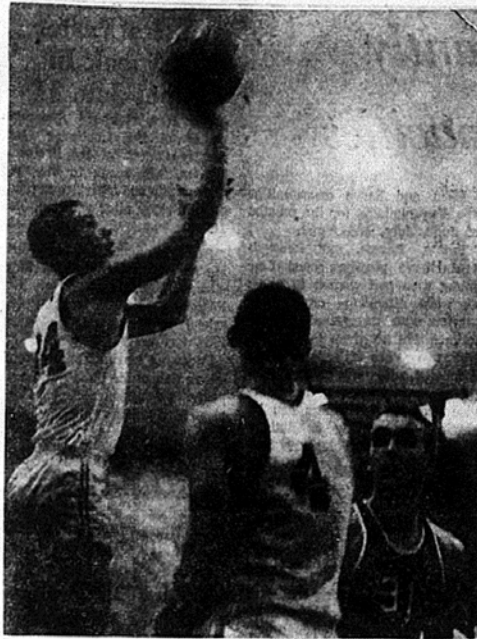

Bethany is a young but experienced team that finished in fourth place in league play last year. The Swedes are led by all-conference forward Doug Ade, who has been their top scorer this year. Tom Train, Bob Johnson, Erik Rasmussen and Bob Ahlstedt round out Bethany's starting five.

So far Bethany's 2-2 in conference play and 4-2 overall. The Swedes defeated McPherson in the opener of the Moundridge Tournament 74-61 in overtime. The Swedes seem to show improvement with every game and will field a tough outfit against McPherson.

Although Friends has not won a game yet this year, The Falcons have pushed the top teams in the league to scramble to the last to win. The Falcons are led by Clark Hay, an excellent shot, and Steve Buxton, an all around fine player.

Tabor fields a team sparked by their high scorer Le Roy Dick. Dick has been one of the outstanding players in the state for the past two years. Fleming, a smooth scoring forward, adds more drive to the Tabor attack.

John Tegler leaps high to score another field goal for the Bulldogs in the Dec. 11 game with the Sterling Warriors. With his back to the camera is Marion Enke, Mac forward.

Upsets Dominate 62-63 KCAC Cage Season

Upsets dominated the second week of play in the Kansas Conference, as now all teams have at least one loss. Southwestern, Sterling, Baker and Bethel lead the conference as of Dec. 16 with 3-1 records.

C. of E., which entered the week undefeated, fell twice. KWU whipped them 77-75 and Bethel won 62-60. The Presbies trailed KWU all the way in spite of Harold Smallwood's 38 points. Bethel rallied in the final half to win over C. of E.

Besides winning over C. of E., Bethel also handed Ottawa a 65-63 loss on a last second shot. Kinder topped scorers in the game with 21 points.

Earlier in the week Southwestern had trampled Friends 75-42 with Turner scoring 21 points.

Sterling then in turn handed Southwestern its first loss, defeating the Bulldogs 71-66 at Sterling. The Warriors won the game on free throws, hitting 27 points at the free stripe. Turner had 36 points for Southwestern in the loss.

Baker in the week Southwestern had upset preseason favorite Bethany, 63-63, in an overtime. Ade led the scorers in this game.

Friends pushed Baker to the final seconds before submitting 61-60. Baker trailed 60-59 and played for the final shot, which they hit to win.

Bethany evened its conference record at 2-2 by defeating KWU at Bethany 78-52. The Swedes, who are near unbeatable at Lindsborg, were never headed.

Failure to hit from the free throw line cost College of Emporia a Kansas Conference victory last night as the McPherson Bulldogs rolled over the Presbies 68 to 61.

Each team hit 25 field goals, but McPherson made 18 points at the free throw line and Emporia made only 11. Emporia hit only 47 per cent of its free throws while the Bulldogs hit 69 per cent. One Emporia player, Don Simecka, missed eight chances in a row at the free throw line.

Braves Nail Bulldogs 82-66, Continue Home Court Jinx

Ottawa continued its home court jinx over McPherson by upsetting the Bulldogs 82-66 at Ottawa last Saturday. The win evened the Braves' record in league play at 2-2 and moved Ottawa into a second place tie in the conference.

The Bulldogs were a completely different ball club than the one that defeated Sterling. The McPherson offense featured bad passes and sloppy play. Deryl Elmore led the Bulldog scorers with 19 points, while Marion Enke added 15 points.

Tom Kinder, Ottawa's all-conference forward, provided the bulk of the Braves' scoring attack, tallying 33 points. Kinder also rebounded well all night for the Braves. Harshaw tallied 12 points for Ottawa, mostly on set-ups through the Bulldog press.

The McPherson offensive attack was blunted by the superior height of Ottawa which forced the Bulldogs to hurry their shots. The Braves' superior height also restricted the number of shots by Mac, since Ottawa controlled most of the rebounds.

Individual statistics for the first six games are as follows.

Player	Ga.	Fg.	Ft.	Ave.
Enke	6	33	30	16.0
Elmore	6	33	28	15.7

From The Locker Room

By Larry Morlan

What gives in the Kansas Conference? That is the question that many sports fans are asking. So far this year, Kansas Conference teams have been losing to teams they should beat and beating teams they should lose to.

Bethel is a good example. How many people would have figured on Bethel beating McPherson, Ottawa and C. of E.? But they did, and are now in a tie for the conference lead.

Yes, this is going to be a very exciting and frustrating year for Kansas Conference teams.

What to say about the Bulldogs? Well, nobody knows that for sure either. One night they look like world beaters and the next night they look like they have been eaten by the world.

What causes this abrupt change in the Bulldogs? Is it training, mental attitude, desire — only time will tell for sure.

Also let's continue to give the Bulldogs support at home games as well as on the road. The upcoming tournament will provide some top-notch games that will be worth watching. If you are not returning home for the vacation, support the Bulldogs.

I would like first of all to put out a call for a new crystal ball, seems the one I've been using doesn't work too well.

In the Holiday Tournament I predict Phillips to upset C. of E., Tabor over Northwest Oklahoma, McPherson to upset Bethel and Sterling over KWU.

After vacation I predict the Bethany Swedes to beat the Bulldogs.

The Swedes are tough and even tougher at home. Also, the Swedes are out to avenge last year's home court loss to Mac.

McPherson over Friends and Tabor.

The Bulldogs start an upward surge which might prove troublesome to league opponents.

Students Serve Significantly In Summer Service Capacities

Summer service opportunities for 1962 include work camps, hospital projects, community service work, seminars, and tours.

Most projects involve physical labor that makes a significant contribution to a particular situation and community. Work camps, which also include field trips, study, and discussions, are built on the principle of the individual "paying for the opportunity to serve."

Work camps in the United States are scheduled for Maryland, California, and New Mexico.

The Maryland project involves work in an inner-city urban renewal project in a negro community. This service opportunity, cost of which is $50, will last for six weeks, from mid-July through August. The project includes recreation, crafts, and house repair work. The age limit is 18-30.

Beginning in July one could work in the processment of food and clothing in an ecumenical center for the United States and overseas service programs. The work will last six weeks and costs $50. It is open to anyone between the ages of 18 and 30.

Three three-week camps will be held in New Mexico beginning June 7 and continuing through Aug. 9. The workers will work with Navajo Indians in constructing a stone chapel. Preference will be given to youth 20 years old and older. Cost for this work camp will be a $10 unit fee; maintenance will be provided.

International work camps scheduled so far will be held in Ecuador, Mexico, Morocco, and Puerto Rico during July and August.

The Ecuador project involves construction work in the Calderon area. Workers will work with the local community and church. Previous work camp experience and a knowledge of the Spanish language is desirable. The age limit is 19-30. The cost of $350 includes camp fees, tour in Ecuador, and round trip from Miami to Quito.

The Mexico and Morocco projects involve community rehabilitation and development. The age limit for these projects is 18-30.

A community project related to the Church of the Brethren program will be held in Puerto Rico. Age limit is 18-30.

Earn and Serve opportunities are also available for the months of June, July, and August.

Indian, Illinois, and Pennsylvania have positions open for young men and women to serve as ward attendants or aids in service with the retarded. Preference will be given to students with two years of college work. A modest salary will be available.

More information on these service projects and others can be obtained by writing to Rodney Davis, Brethren Volunteer Service, Church of the Brethren General Offices, Elgin, Ill.

Pastor To Talk On Incarnation

Next Sunday morning the Rev. Harold Bomberger will speak on the subject, "Incarnation and Our Religion."

The Church School Children's Christmas Program will be given in the evening.

For those who are staying in McPherson during the Christmas vacation, here are the sermon topics for the services during December. Dec. 30, Mr. Bomberger will speak in the morning worship service on "Armor for the New Year."

The overall theme for the Sunday evening worship on Dec. 30 is "The Old Year—The New Year." Included in the service will be a fifteen minute organ concert by Vance Yoder, a former McPherson College student. Messages for the evening will be brought by Mrs. Stanley Sargent, who will speak on "The Old Year That is Passing." Richard King will speak on the subject, "The New Year Before Us," and Gifford Ikenberry will bring the message, "Resources for the New Year."

Topeka Pastor Will Speak In Chapel Jan. 11

The Rev. Richard Bollinger, pastor of the Rochester Community Church of the Brethren, Topeka, will speak in the area of courtship and marriage in Chapel the Friday after vacation, Jan. 11.

After graduating from North Manchester College, North Manchester, Ind., in 1949, Rev. Bollinger taught music in the public school system of Fort Wayne, Ind., for two years.

Following teaching at the Woodstock School in India for four years, he attended Union Theological Seminary in New York City until 1958.

At this time he obtained his present position in Topeka. Since July he has been associate of pastoral care and counseling at the Menninger Foundation in Topeka.

Church Will Conduct School Of Missions

School of Missions at the Church of the Brethren will begin Jan. 13 and meet each Sunday evening through Feb. 10. The classes will meet at 6:30 p.m. and last till 7:30. The Rev. Harold Bomberger will be the teacher for the college class.

"The Rim of Asia" is the topic for the School of Missions. In the 7:30 services, special speakers will be featured.

Mac Students Will Receive Type II Vaccine Jan. 13

Mac Students will receive the second type of the Oral Polio Immunization of the Sabin vaccine, Jan. 13. Students who did not receive the Type I immunization administered Dec. 2 in the Student Union, may receive the Type II providing they have a parent permission slip signed by their parents.

Those students who received Type I will also be given Type II on Jan. 13. Time and place of the immunization program will be announced at a later date in chapel.

The Type II vaccine will be given by putting three drops on a cube of sugar, placed in a small paper cup and taken orally.

Unlike Salk vaccine, each dose of Sabin vaccine is for a different virus, so a dose of one type of vaccine does not boost the immunity for another type.

Mac Women Clobber Thresher Team 37-32

McPherson's Womens' Basketball team scored a win over Bethel last Saturday, 37-32, at Newton. The score at half time was 16-15.

Anne Kruse scored 21 points for Mac. Other scorers were Nancy Erritt, 9 points, Judy Penny, 4 points, and Roberta Vandereau, 3 points.

High scorer for Bethel was Dirks, who made 19 points.
